The Ocean Terror of the Kraken

I was in a nearby meadow and I was enjoying the sights and sounds of nature. It was beautiful.

Me: (Inhales) Ahh! What a beautiful day.

I then came across a small stream.

Me: I'll just walk through it.

I walked through the water and then I saw something shining in the water.

Me: Huh?

I picked it up and saw that it looked like a gold nugget.

Me: Is this gold? Wait.

I sniffed it and took a bite out of it and it was really a delicious chicken nugget!

Me: Wow! That is delicious! Wait a second. I didn't know chicken nuggets could be found in streams like this.

I saw another nugget and then an old west style prospector kid came. It was Chicken Pete.

Chicken Pete: YEE! (Takes a bite of one of the nuggets) HAW! That there is 100% Gen-u-ine Chicken! The guy has found the Chicken Nugget Motherlode!

But then a rumbling was felt and then hundreds of kids came from over the hills and set up their camps and a huge 1849 Gold Rush style prospecting operation began!

Me: Whoa! This looks like a true gold rush from the 1800s.

Chicken Pete: (Laughs) That it does. But it looks like we got ourselves a chicken rush on our hands here partner. You just discovered a big old deposit of chicken nuggets. Biggest dern one I ever did see I don't mind telling ya. And if'n you don't believe me then my name ain't Chicken Pete! (Finishes the nugget) Now if'n you'll excuse me I got a fortune to find before it's too late. They don't call it fast food for nothing! WA-HOO! (Leaves)

Me: Wow! Who would've thought I would discover that Chicken Nuggets can be worth their weight in gold? I think I'll join in the fun myself.

I then pulled out a prospector grate and scooped up some dirt from the stream and it and it was full of Chicken Nuggets. Some of the chicken nuggets were as big as soccer balls and I got a lot of them and more. They were perfect for Nico's wedding in a few hours.

I got wheelbarrows full of chicken nuggets by the truckload and more. They were perfect.

Me: Perfect. What a haul.

I looked at my watch and saw that there was only 5 hours left till the wedding.

Me: Better get over to Hawaii with my haul.

I put the nuggets in a scroll and teleported to Hawaii.

---

On the beaches of Hawaii we were getting ready for the awesome wedding of Nico Chan and May. It was the day that everyone has been waiting for and it was gonna be so awesome! I was dressed in a beautiful Hawaiian style collared shirt and black khaki's with red sandals. We were all dressed in Hawaiian Style clothes and it was gonna be a beautiful wedding. The Masters of Evil were there to attend the wedding as well.

On the altar, Nico was dressed in a blue Hawaiian Style Shirt with blue khakis and blue sandals.

Nico: I'm really nervous here man.

Me: Don't be dude. You have me to support you and you did make me your man of the hour.

Nico: True. Besides this is the first ever wedding we've had in Hawaii.

Me: I know. It's gonna be awesome.

Power Girl: I can't believe that today's the day.

Me: I know.

Myotismon: I'm so happy for Nico and May.

Loki (Power Rangers): Me too.

Lincoln: You ready for this, buddy?

Nico: I sure am Lincoln.

Shockwave: Do we have someone to marry Nico and May?

Me: We sure do. Lady Tsunade agreed to do this. She makes a great minister.

The organ played the Wedding March and Lola and Lila Loud and Mushi Sanban were the flower girls and they were spreading flowers along the isle and we saw May came down the isle and Max was escorting her. She was dressed in an amazingly beautiful red wedding dress with lots of beautiful flowers and she was really beautiful.

Nico: Wow. May is so beautiful.

Me: She is like an angel from heaven.

May's mother and father and Nico's mother and father and sisters and brother were so proud.

Lady Tsunade came out.

Lady Tsunade: Good afternoon everyone. Dearly beloved, we are gathered here today in the sight of God to join this man, and this woman in holy matrimony. Not to be entered into lightly, holy matrimony should be entered into solemnly and with reverence and honor. Into this holy agreement these two persons come together to be joined. If any person here can show cause why these two people should not be joined in holy matrimony, speak now or forever hold your peace.

No objections were made.

Lady Tsunade: Marriage is a sacred union between husband and wife and shall remain unbroken. It is the basis of a stable and loving relationship and is a joining of two hearts, bodies and souls. The husband and wife are there to support one another and provide love and care in times of joy and times of adversity. We are all here today to witness the joining in wedded bliss of Bokrua "Nicolas" Chan and May Maxwell. This joyous day celebrates the commitment and love with which (Groom's Name) and (Bride's Name) start their lives together. Through God, you are joined together in the most holy of bonds. Who gives this woman in holy matrimony to this man?

Caroline and Norman: We do.

Lady Tsunade: Do you, Nico Chan take May Maxwell to be your lawfully wedded wife and live together forever in the estate of holy matrimony? Do you love, comfort, honor and keep her, in sickness and in health, for richer or for poorer, for better or for worse for as long as you both shall live?

Nico: I do.

Lady Tsunade: Do you, May Maxwell take Nico Chan to be your lawfully wedded wife and live together forever in the estate of holy matrimony? Do you love, comfort, honor and keep her, in sickness and in health, for richer or for poorer, for better or for worse for as long as you both shall live?

May: I do.

Now came the Ring Exchange.

Lady Tsunade: The wedding ring is an unbroken symbol of the everlasting love and commitment between man and wife. (Hands ring to groom.) Repeat after me: With this ring, I thee wed.

Nico: With this ring, I thee wed. (Nico places ring on May's finger.)

May: With this ring, I thee wed. (May places ring on Nico's finger.)

Lady Tsunade: What God has joined together, let no man put asunder. With the power vested in me by God and the state of Michigan and Hawaii, I now pronounce you man and wife. You may kiss the bride.

They kissed and it was beautiful. We cheered wildly for them. Nico's and May's parents were having tears of joy stream down their faces and they were so happy.

Later we had an awesome reception and it was an awesome feast and more. The cake was beautiful.

Wheeljack: I'm really happy for you two!

Me: I am too man.

Nico: Thanks guys. This was the best day ever for me.

Me: I'm happy for you buddy.

Lincoln: How does it feel to be married?

Nico: Amazing Lincoln. You all made me so happy.

Naruto: Aw think nothing of it man.

Myotismon: I'm so proud of you Nico. You are not only a very formidable adversary but now you are a great married man.

Loki: I agree. May and you are made for each other.

Nico: Thanks Loki.

Vypra: I agree with Loki. Congratulations to you and May, Nico. We are so happy for you.

Nico: Thanks Vypra.

Me: The next wedding is for Jack Atlas and Carly and we're gonna have that one in Colorado. It's gonna be awesome seeing them wed in my old neck of the woods.

Vypra: Looking forward to it.

We had an awesome reception with lots of food and more. The kids were very happy to have Chicken Nuggets.

Lola: So J.D. found all these chicken nuggets?

Lincoln: He sure did. He found them in a stream and it turned into an 1849 style gold rush.

Laney: That's amazing. I didn't know fast food was worth its weight in gold.

Lana: That's amazing.

Lucy Loud: It would be cool if Hamburgers came from mines.

Lily: That would be something.

Mushi Sanban: I'm amazed that J.D. found these Chicken Nuggets. Numbuh 4 said that he found a bunch of Chicken Nuggets like that too.

Numbuh 3: It's true guys.

Lucy Loud: Wow.

I came up to them.

Me: Hey guys. Liking those chicken nuggets I found?

Lily: Some of the best ever.

Lola: It's amazing that there was a stream full of them on the outskirts of the city.

Me: It sure was amazing. It quickly escalated into an 1849 style gold rush in seconds.

Laney: It's amazing.

Lincoln: But these are the best I've ever had.

Me: Well have all you want. There's more than enough.

Linka: True.

We had an awesome reception. Nico put some frosting from the cake on May's nose and May shoved Nico's piece of cake into his face and we laughed and it was funny.

BEST WEDDING EVER FOR HIM.

Later we were in the Skyship with the Secret Saturday's. We were on a mission to find the legendary Kraken, a terrifying sea monster that is said to have terrorized the oceans for centuries.

Nico: This is gonna be awesome!

Me: It sure is guys. The Kraken has been a major sea legend for centuries.

Laney was reading a book all on the Kraken.

Laney: It sure is.

Laney told us all about the Kraken.

* * *

The kraken is a legendary cephalopod-like sea monster of gigantic size in Scandinavian folklore. According to the Norse sagas, the kraken dwells off the coasts of Norway and Greenland and terrorizes nearby sailors. Authors over the years have postulated that the legend may have originated from sightings of giant squids that may grow to 13-15 meters (40-50 feet) in length. The sheer size and fearsome appearance attributed to the kraken have made it a common ocean-dwelling monster in various fictional works. The kraken has been the focus of many superstitious sailors passing the North Atlantic and especially sailors from the Nordic countries due to their proximity and its Scandinavian origin. Throughout the centuries the kraken has been a staple part of sailors' superstitions and mythos being heavily linked to sailors' ability of telling a tall tale.

The English word kraken is taken from the modern Scandinavian languages, originating from the Old Norse word kraki. In both Norwegian and Swedish Kraken is the definite form of krake, a word designating an unhealthy animal or something twisted (cognate with the English crook and crank). In modern German, Krake (plural and declined singular: Kraken) means octopus, but can also refer to the legendary kraken. Kraken is also an old Norwegian word for octopus and an old euphemism in Swedish for whales, used when the original word became taboo as it was believed it could summon the creatures.

History

An illustration from the original 1870 edition of Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea by Jules Verne

After returning from Greenland, the anonymous author of the Old Norwegian natural history work Konungs skuggsjá (circa 1250) described in detail the physical characteristics and feeding behavior of these beasts. The narrator proposed there must be only two in existence, stemming from the observation that the beasts have always been sighted in the same parts of the Greenland Sea, and that each seemed incapable of reproduction, as there was no increase in their numbers.

There is a fish that is still unmentioned, which it is scarcely advisable to speak about on account of its size, because it will seem to most people incredible. There are only a very few who can speak upon it clearly, because it is seldom near land nor appears where it may be seen by fishermen, and I suppose there are not many of this sort of fish in the sea. Most often in our tongue we call it hafgufa ("kraken" in e.g. Laurence M. Larson's translation). Nor can I conclusively speak about its length in ells, because the times he has shown before men, he has appeared more like land than like a fish. Neither have I heard that one had been caught or found dead; and it seems to me as though there must be no more than two in the oceans, and I deem that each is unable to reproduce itself, for I believe that they are always the same ones. Then too, neither would it do for other fish if the hafgufa were of such a number as other whales, on account of their vastness, and how much subsistence that they need. It is said to be the nature of these fish that when one shall desire to eat, then it stretches up its neck with a great belching, and following this belching comes forth much food, so that all kinds of fish that are near to hand will come to present location, then will gather together, both small and large, believing they shall obtain their food and good eating; but this great fish lets its mouth stand open the while, and the gap is no less wide than that of a great sound or bight, And nor the fish avoid running together there in their great numbers. But as soon as its stomach and mouth is full, then it locks together its jaws and has the fish all caught and enclosed, that before greedily came there looking for food.

In the late-13th-century version of the Old Icelandic saga Örvar-Oddr is an inserted episode of a journey bound for Helluland (Baffin Island) which takes the protagonists through the Greenland Sea, and here they spot two massive sea-monsters called Hafgufa ("sea mist") and Lyngbakr ("heather-back"). The hafgufa is believed to be a reference to the kraken.

First detailed map of the Nordic countries the Carta marina by Swedish ecclesiastic Olaus Magnus from 1539 shows a series of sea creatures in the waters between Norway and Iceland.

Now I will tell you that there are two sea-monsters. One is called the hafgufa, another lyngbakr. It is the largest whale in the world, but the hafgufa is the largest monster in the sea. It is the nature of this creature to swallow men and ships, and even whales and everything else within reach. It stays submerged for days, then rears its head and nostrils above surface and stays that way at least until the change of tide. Now, that sound we just sailed through was the space between its jaws, and its nostrils and lower jaw were those rocks that appeared in the sea, while the lyngbakr was the island we saw sinking down. However, Ogmund Tussock has sent these creatures to you by means of his magic to cause the death of you and all your men. He thought more men would have gone the same way as those that had already drowned, and he expected that the hafgufa would have swallowed us all. Today I sailed through its mouth because I knew that it had recently surfaced.

The famous Swedish 18th century naturalist Carl von Linné included the kraken in the first edition of its systematic natural catalog Systema Naturae from 1735. There he gave the animal the scientific name Microcosmus, but omitted it in later editions.

Kraken were extensively described by Erik Pontoppidan, bishop of Bergen, in his Det første Forsøg paa Norges naturlige Historie "The First Attempt at a Natural History of Norway" (Copenhagen, 1752). Pontoppidan made several claims regarding kraken, including the notion that the creature was sometimes mistaken for an island and that the real danger to sailors was not the creature itself but rather the whirlpool left in its wake. However, Pontoppidan also described the destructive potential of the giant beast: "it is said that if [the creature's arms] were to lay hold of the largest man-of-war, they would pull it down to the bottom". According to Pontoppidan, Norwegian fishermen often took the risk of trying to fish over kraken, since the catch was so plentiful (hence the saying "You must have fished on Kraken"). Pontoppidan also proposed that a specimen of the monster, "perhaps a young and careless one", was washed ashore and died at Alstahaug in 1680. By 1755, Pontoppidan's description of the kraken had been translated into English.

Swedish author Jacob Wallenberg described the kraken in the 1781 work Min son på galejan ("My son on the galley"):

Kraken, also called the Crab-fish, which is not that huge, for heads and tails counted, he is no larger than our Öland is wide [i.e., less than 16 km]… He stays at the sea floor, constantly surrounded by innumerable small fishes, who serve as his food and are fed by him in return: for his meal, (if I remember correctly what E. Pontoppidan writes,) lasts no longer than three months, and another three are then needed to digest it. His excrements nurture in the following an army of lesser fish, and for this reason, fishermen plumb after his resting place… Gradually, Kraken ascends to the surface, and when he is at ten to twelve fathoms, the boats had better move out of his vicinity, as he will shortly thereafter burst up, like a floating island, spurting water from his dreadful nostrils and making ring waves around him, which can reach many miles. Could one doubt that this is the Leviathan of Job?

In 1802, the French malacologist Pierre Dénys de Montfort recognized the existence of two kinds of giant octopus in Histoire Naturelle Générale et Particulière des Mollusques, an encyclopedic description of mollusks. Montfort claimed that the first type, the kraken octopus, had been described by Norwegian sailors and American whalers, as well as ancient writers such as Pliny the Elder. The much larger second type, the colossal octopus, was reported to have attacked a sailing vessel from Saint-Malo, off the coast of Angola.

Montfort later dared more sensational claims. He proposed that ten British warships, including the captured French ship of the line Ville de Paris, which had mysteriously disappeared one night in 1782, must have been attacked and sunk by giant octopuses. The British, however, knew-courtesy of a survivor from Ville de Paris- that the ships had been lost in a hurricane off the coast of Newfoundland in September 1782, resulting in a disgraceful revelation for Montfort.

Appearance and origins

Since the late 18th century, kraken have been depicted in a number of ways, primarily as large octopus-like creatures, and it has often been alleged that Pontoppidan's kraken might have been based on sailors' observations of the giant squid. The kraken is also depicted to have spikes on its suckers. In the earliest descriptions, however, the creatures were more crab-like than octopus-like, and generally possessed traits that are associated with large whales rather than with giant squid. Some traits of kraken resemble undersea volcanic activity occurring in the Iceland region, including bubbles of water; sudden, dangerous currents; and appearance of new islets.

In 1830 Alfred Tennyson published the irregular sonnet The Kraken, which described a massive creature that dwells at the bottom of the sea:

Below the thunders of the upper deep;

Far far beneath in the abysmal sea,

His ancient, dreamless, uninvaded sleep

The Kraken sleepeth: faintest sunlights flee

About his shadowy sides; above him swell

Huge sponges of millennial growth and height;

And far away into the sickly light,

From many a wondrous grot and secret cell

Unnumber'd and enormous polypi

Winnow with giant arms the slumbering green.

There hath he lain for ages, and will lie

Battening upon huge seaworms in his sleep,

Until the latter fire shall heat the deep;

Then once by man and angels to be seen,

In roaring he shall rise and on the surface die.

In Herman Melville's 1851 novel Moby-Dick (Chapter 59. Squid.) the Pequod encounters what chief mate Starbuck identifies as: "The great live squid, which, they say, few whale-ships ever beheld, and returned to their ports to tell of it." Narrator Ishmael adds: "There seems some ground to imagine that the great Kraken of Bishop Pontoppodan may ultimately resolve itself into Squid." He concludes the chapter by adding: "By some naturalists who have vaguely heard rumors of the mysterious creature, here spoken of, it is included among the class of cuttle-fish, to which, indeed, in certain external respects it would seem to belong, but only as the Anak of the tribe." Pontoppidan's description influenced Jules Verne's depiction of the famous giant squid in Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea from 1870.

Laney: It says here that the Kraken is a terrifying giant octopus that has been believed to have destroyed numerous ships from over the centuries. It is also said that it destroyed them by pulling them underwater.

Lana: Wow.

Lola: That's terrifying.

Lily: No kidding.

Me: And it is also said to be the terrifying monster that the mighty hero Perseus in Greek Myth defeated by using the power of the head of Medusa.

Nico: Wow.

Lana: That's amazing.

Lucy Loud: Wicked.

Lucy Heartfilia: That sure is amazing.

Nico: It sure is.

Troy Burrows: J.D. I have a massive blip on radar.

Me: What is it Troy?

Troy Burrows: I don't know but whatever it is it's huge.

I looked and saw that it was a massive blip and it measured that it was over 5,000 feet long and it was as big as a huge ship.

Me: WHOA! Lets climb higher just in case.

Troy Burrows: Right.

We climbed high and then we saw a huge and massively long tentacle come out and it tried to grab us and then we saw the biggest octopus we had ever seen! It was the Legendary KRAKEN!

Me: WHOA! There it is!

Laney: Unbelievable! That is one giant octopus!

Lana: It's the Kraken! It's massive!

Lola: That is the biggest octopus ever!

Lily: Wow! What an awesome sight!

Doc Saturday: It sure is massive huh?

Dru Saturday: But this is the legendary Kraken.

Laney: It's huge!

Laney snapped some photos of it and it was huge!

Zak Saturday: Sailors have been really terrified of this creature for centuries and it is a creature of terror.

Me: Since the time of the vikings.

But then a figure came and jumped onto the ship and it was escaped convict SHOJI FUZEN!

---

Shoji Fuzen is the Waka-Gashir who posed as a philanthropist to get access to Professor Mizuki's mind-swapping headgear. His first appearance was in The Vengeance of Hibagon. He was voiced by James Sie.

Biography

Fuzen planned to use the device to expand his criminal empire by swapping the mind of a trained fighter into the body of a Hibagon. But the professor used his invention to swap his own mind into the Hibagon and fight his way to freedom, but not before the device was accidentally destroyed during the battle. This caused Shoji to pursue the Mizuki-Hibagon in an attempt to recapture him and the knowledge of his invention, however, Shoji ended up a target of the professor's vengeance. Doc convinced Mizuki that although Shoji was the one that trapped him in the monstrous body, only he could decide if he would act like a monster and Shoji was handed over to the police.

He later returned in the Curse of the Stolen Tiger, capturing a Blue tiger that could grant good luck to those around it. He captures the Saturdays and Wadi when they tried to free it, revealing his men had developed advanced tech weaponry using the tiger's good luck. In the end, Zak uses his cryptid powers to temporally reverse the Tiger's luck, causing all of Shoji's minions to have bad luck. He attacks the Saturdays himself with a samurai-like suit of high tech armor but is defeated when Wadi steals a piece of equipment from his suit, causing its flight boosters to fail, sending the crime lord falling to the valley far below before Wadi comically "returned" it to him. Giving how high he was, Shoji Fuzen most likely died.

Shoji Fuzen: Hello, Saturdays. Did you miss me?

Doc Saturday: Shoji Fuzen!

Dru Saturday: We thought you died!

Shoji Fuzen: Now I'm back.

Me: I remember seeing you in a bunch of newspapers! You were after the legendary Japanese version of Bigfoot, the Hibagon.

Shoji Fuzen: That's right J.D.

Nico: It's weird seeing you here and after the Kraken.

Shoji Fuzen: I know.

Troy Burrows and Jack Landors: Shoji, you're under arrest!

Megaforce Rangeers: Legendary Ranger Mode: S.P.D.!

S.P.D. Rangers: S.P.D. EMERGENCY!

The Megaforce Rangers transformed into the S.P.D. Rangers and the S.P.D. Rangers transformed as well.

Shoji Fuzen: Two teams of S.P.D. Rangers!?

Me: That's right!

Then Waffle Woman, Shiv and Vexen appeared.

Me: Waffle Woman, Shiv and Vexen.

Vexen: That's right.

Shiv: Way to go on getting hitched Nico.

Waffle Woman: Congratulations on getting married, Nico!

Nico: Thanks guys. That really means a lot.

Vexen: You should feel proud. It's been two years since you two met each other.

Me: It sure has and it was love at first sight when you moved in.

Nico: That's true.

But then a figure came out and it was BOXY THE VULTURE!

---

He was trapped inside the orange Rainbow Crystal and reborn inside a priest. In episode 22, Zoisite extracted the Rainbow Crystal from the priest and transformed him into Boxy, Champion of the Dark Kingdom. He attacked Naru Osaka, but she was saved by Umino. Boxy also attacked Sailor Moon, but once again she was saved by Tuxedo Mask. Zoisite told him to attack Tuxedo Mask, but Sailor Jupiter destroyed his glove with Supreme Thunder, and then Sailor Moon used Moon Healing Escalation to heal the priest, destroying the Shadow within him.

Unlike many of the other members of the Seven Great Youma, Boxy's attacks do not relate to his real-life persona as a priest. He does, however, retain the hairstyle of his human form.

The villain cameos in episode 50 as a monster in the virtual reality theater.

Shanan: Boxy the Vulture.

Boxy: It's been a while Shanan.

Qin: Who and what is he?

Shanan: That's Boxy the Vulture and he's what's called a Pummelaan. They come from the planet Pumm V and they are considered the most dangerous fighters in the galaxy. Pumm V is a ruined city planet located 23,000 light-years away from Earth and it serves as their ultimate boxing ground. They have the ability to fire their boxing gloves like rockets and they explode on contact with the power of 2 sticks of dynamite.

Qin: Whoa!

Laney: I remember that. That was powerful!

Boxy: It was. I was amazed that you know so much about my kind when we fought the last time.

Shanan: That's true.

Devon: You're name's Boxy, right? Does that mean you can punch hard?

Boxy: Why don't you come closer and find out?

Shanan: Devon no. His punches with blow your body to smithereens.

Devon: Whoa!

?: And I will be glad to help kill them for you!

Joey Wheeler: Oh man not that voice again!

Tea Gardner: This guy needs to get a better life.

A figure came out and it was WEEVIL UNDERWOOD!

---

Insector Haga (or Weevil Underwood in the 4Kids dub) is a minor recurring antagonist in Yu-Gi-Oh!. He is a duelist whose deck is based on Insect monsters, as well as an unrepentant cheater ready for the worst in order to stand on the top. In fact he never cheats DURING duels though beforehand such as throwing his opponent's Exodia cards, sneaking cards into his opponents decks and likely stacking his deck etc.

He was voiced by Jimmy Zoppi in the 4Kids dub.

Haga was the regional champ, defeating Dinosaur Ryuzaki in the finals.

Duelist Kingdom

He entered Pegasus J. Crawford's Duelist Kingdom tournament. In his first interaction with Yugi Muto, he acted polite and friendly in order to gain his trust and was given his Exodia cards.

He then immediately threw the cards over the edge of the boat into the sea to prevent him from using them. (This pretense of politeness is much more believable in the original Japanese version than in the dub, when he sounds downright sarcastic and untrustworthy). Katsuya Jonouchi was only able to recover two of them. Yugi immediately decided to duel Haga first, risking his one Star Chip as well as his deck against Haga's two Star Chips. (In the manga, Yugi bets his life.) Yugi defeated Haga when he destroyed his Great Moth with his Demon's Summon, and the Japan regional champion was eliminated from the tournament and kicked off the island. Jonouchi took his dueling glove.

Battle City

Haga entered Kaiba's Battle City tournament in Season 2, with a new card, Insect Queen, more powerful than his Great Moth. He promised a kid a rare card if he put a parasite card in Jonouchi's deck, but double-crossed him and sprayed him with arachno slime.

Jonouchi dueled him, believing that he had stolen the kid's cards, and was unaware that the kid was working for him until he discovered the parasite card, which turned all his monsters into insects and prevented them from attacking (due to his Insect-Repellent Barrier), but his metal warrior was unaffected, and Jonouchi defeated Haga, taking his two Locator Cards and kicking him out of the tournament.

Waking the Dragons

In Season 4, Waking the Dragons, Haga and Ryuzaki attempted to steal Yugi and Jonouchi's rare cards, but were challenged to a duel by Gurimo, who beat them and took their souls. They were released after Yugi defeated Gurimo. Haga and Ryuzaki snuck aboard during Yugi's trip over to Pegasus' castle in the hopes of finding rare cards and tried to get an Orichalcos card from Rafael, becoming two of Dartz's henchmen after hitchhiking aboard Rafael's helicopter. Haga dueled Yami Yugi on top of a train, where he crossed the Moral Event Horizon by tearing up a card and claiming that Yugi's soul had been trapped inside it (thereby killing him), then sadistically revealed that he had been joking; the card was a merely a common Insect monster card. Enraged, Yami eventually defeated him by overkill. His soul was taken by the Orichalcos, and was released when Dartz and the Orichalcos God were defeated.

Grand Championship

In the first half of Season 5, Grand Championship, Haga and Ryuzaki entered Kaiba's tournament as one duelist, and dueled Zigfried von Schroeder, who easily defeated them with his Valkyries.

Dawn of the Duel

In the second half of Season 5, Dawn of the Duel, Haga and Ryuzaki stole Yugi's Millennium Items and Egyptian God Cards (only going after the latter), but ran into Dark Bakura, who knocked them out (sent them to the Shadow Realm in the 4Kids version) and returned the cards and items to Yugi. They suffered a lot of the consequences of Zorc ravaging the past, but survived it all.

Yugi: Weevil Underwood!

Joey Wheeler: Oh no not Bug Boy!

Boxy: Sounds like you all have trouble with this kid.

Joey Wheeler: You don't know the half of it.

Tea Gardner: He has caused a tremendous number of problems for us over the years.

Laney: Wow. What did he do to you guys?

Seto Kaiba: A better question is What hasn't he done.

Joey went over his history and we were horrified.

Me: So he has a really bad reputation of pissing you off to no end.

Lana: What a weasel!

Lola: Yeah!

Me: I'll face Weevil. It's time I put this cheater in his place.

Kalin then appeared.

Kalin: J.D. let me help you take down Weevil.

Me: Thanks Kalin. Oh Yugi.

I pulled out five cards and I showed them to Yugi and they were his lost 5 Pieces of Exodia!

Yugi: Wow! It's my pieces of Exodia.

Me: I found those washed up on the beach after I killed Marik and figured they were yours.

Yugi: Thanks J.D.

He took them and put them back in his deck.

Me: You're welcome Yugi.

Waffle Woman: I have just the planet for us to fight on.

She snapped her fingers and we were then on a huge ocean planet! It was the planet that was home to Ripjaws and his kind, PISCCISS!

Piscciss is an artificial planet. The Piscciss Volann and the Piscciss Premann originated here.

Landscape

It is a large ocean with the only land being the core, which makes up less than 2% of the planet. Piscciss's ocean is held together by an artificial gravity multiplier at the centre of the core.

Ultimate Alien

Piscciss first appeared in Deep when Ultimate Aggregor went to get the second piece of the Map of Infinity, which was disguised as the planet's artificial gravity multiplier. After it was taken, Piscciss started to break apart, but Ben transformed into Goop, gave the planet his Anti-Gravity Projector, causing him to be atomized and reform the planet.

---

We were standing on the water's surface with magic.

Me: Wow! Look at this planet.

Nico: Where are we?

Vexen: Ben and his team know this world. It's the planet Piscciss, home of Ripjaws species the Piscciss Volann.

Me: WHOA! So this is the planet Piscciss.

Nico: It's a massive ocean planet.

Laney: I don't see any land anywhere.

Me: Hmm.

I pulled up the planet's info and a holographic image of the planet revealed a very weird and absolutely astonishing sight. The planet was composed of 98% water and the only 2% was the core that was holding the planet together.

Me: Wow! Look at this planet!

Nico: Mega unusual. The whole planet is almost completely made of water.

Gwen Tennyson: And the only thing that's holding it together is the core of the planet. It uses an artificial gravity multiplier to hold the planet together.

Naruto: That is so cool!

Laney: It sure is.

Lana: Yeah.

Me: It's like a giant ball of water floating in the endless void of space.

Varie: But this would make a perfect base for the Neptune Crusaders.

Luna Loud: It sure would dude.

Lily: Yeah.

Me: Lets get back to the fight at hand. I'll face Weevil and everyone else will face their archenemies like always.

Laney: Right!

We went at them.

Battle 1: Vexen

Lana was facing Vexen.

Lana: Lets make this battle a cold one.

Vexen: With pleasure.

Lana: Yeah!

Lana went at him and kicked him in the face and fired a wave of ice lightning at him and froze him solid.

Lana: Yeah.

Battle 2: Shiv

Lynn was facing Shiv.

Lynn: This is gonna be good. But instead of a sword I'll use this.

She formed a powerful scythe of lava.

Shiv: A Lava Scythe. That's a new one.

Lynn: Figured I better diversify which weapons to use.

Shiv: Good point. I'll do so too.

He formed a staff of light.

Lynn: Nice.

Shiv: Thank you.

Lynn: Lets do it.

They went at each other and clashed with incredible fury and sparks were flying everywhere as they clashed violently and Lynn kicked him in the face and slashed him in the face and kicked him and knocked him down.

Lynn: Good fight.

---

Battle 3: Waffle Woman

---

Tara was facing Waffle Woman.

Waffle Woman: I heard that Beast Boy proposed to you a while back.

Tara: He sure did. We're having our wedding on the planet Tamaran. It'll be the first ever interstellar wedding we've ever done.

Waffle Woman: Can't wait for it.

Tara: Me too. Lets do it.

Tara fired a wave of fire and it slammed into Waffle Woman and burned her and knocked her down.

Tara: Yeah!

Battle 4: Boxy

---

Shanan was facing Boxy the Vulture.

Shanan: Lets see who has the strongest power.

Boxy: LETS GET READY TO RUMBLE!

He rang his bell and Boxy went at her and fired his punching glove bomb and Shanan dodged it and it exploded when it hit the water.

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Shanan fired a wave of lightning and energy and it destroyed his

Boxing Gloves and Shanan fired a wave of fire and incinerated him in an instant.

Shanan: Shanan Abigail Knudson 2, Boxy the Vulture 0.

Battle 5: Weevil Underwood

---

Me and Kalin were facing Weevil and it was gonna be a crazy battle. Heidi, Varie, Nico, Yugi, Joey, Mai, Valon, Tristan, Tea and Kaiba,

Me: You really have a reputation of pissing people off Weevil and I will never forgive you for your crimes.

Weevil: And what are you gonna do about it?

Me: Give you the worst beatdown ever.

Kalin: I'll show you a new transformation I learned as well.

Me: You go first then Kalin.

Kalin: Thank you J.D. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL CCAPAC APU!

He summoned the Giant Earthbound Immortal Ccapac Apu!

Kalin: And check this one out. I activate the spell card EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL GIANT MECHSUIT TRANSFORMATION!

He activated said Spell Card and it had Earthbound Immortal Ccapac Apu transform into an awesome Gundam Size mechsuit and it was the coolest I've ever seen. It turned into a new monster called EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL MECHSUIT CCAPAC APU!

Kalin got in it and it was awesome!

Me: WHOA! Kalin that is so cool!

Kalin: Glad you like it J.D.

Me: Misty showed us her awesome new suit of armor with Ccarayhua. It's awesome. Now it's time for me to give a beatdown of incredible mercilessness. I didn't want to have to do this but he left me no option because he pissed me off. I activate THE SEAL OF ORICHALCOS!

Nico, and Yugi and his friends gasped in shock!

I activated the Seal of Orichalcos and I was enveloped in pillar of green light as Enochian Runes formed around me and the seal appeared and formed around all three of us and we were in the seal!

Nico: J.D.! You don't have any idea what you're doing!

Me: Trust me Nico. I do know what I'm doing.

I had an aura of pitch black darkness form around me and when I lifted my head, The Seal of Orichalcos was glowing in the middle of my forehead and I opened my eyes and looked at Weevel and my eyes were glowing red with pure evil! The level of rage and hatred burning in my eyes was unbelievable! If looks could kill, Weevil would be dead in an instant.

Me: YOU HAVE PISSED OFF THE WRONG ASSHOLE YOU SHITSTAINED MOTHERFUCKER!

Nico: OH SHIT!

Yugi: J.D. you don't know what you're doing!

Tea: You're going to kill Weevil!

Joey Wheeler: Let him do it guys. I've had it with that cheating punk! He deserves to die.

Tristan: I can't argue with that.

Seto Kaiba: He deserves it too.

Valon: (Australian Accent) I never liked Weevil either and I thought he was going to kill Yugi all for just revenge.

Joey Wheeler: That's what he was gonna do.

Heidi: Be careful grandpa.

Varie: Oh man.

Me: I will make you suffer a hundred horrible deaths you shitfucker! I equip myself with SWORD OF DEEP-SEATED!

I equipped myself with said card.

Me and Kalin went at him and viciously smashed and slashed Weevil all over the place and it was a brutal and vicious fight! I punched Weevil and smashed his glasses and kicked him in the face and slashed him in the stomach and Kalin smashed him on his head with a powerful fist punch and I fired energy blasts and they hit Weevil and exploded!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

We backed away and saw the seal take Weevil and this time Heidi had the seal imprison his soul and his body into the card for all eternity!

I fell to the ground and I was exhausted. But I got up and was back to normal.

Me: Whoa! What a rush.

Kalin: That was intense!

Nico: You all right man?

Me: I think so. But man the Negative Energy powerup I felt from that was intense. It was like absorbing the Negative Energy of 100 trillion Voldemort's all at once.

Heidi: But Weevil is gone.

Heidi picked up the card that trapped Weevil and I saw that he was in there all right. But his deck was not.

I picked up his deck and kept it as a trophy.

Nico: Good riddance to that cheater. But J.D. you were vicious to him. You really let him have it.

Me: I'm sorry. But he had it coming.

Varie: I would hate to use the Seal of Orichalcos on someone I hate.

Valon: I know that feeling mate. It was horrible.

Mai Valentine: It was awful.

Me: Yeah. But Kalin that Earthbound Immortal Mechsuit was awesome!

Kalin: Thanks J.D. It was cool trying that out.

Me: It sure was.

---

Battle 6: Shoji and the Kraken

---

We regrouped and we were facing Shoji Fuzen and The Kraken.

Me: It's over for you Shoji!

Ben turned into Ampfibian.

Ampfibian: Any ideas on how we bring this Kraken down?

Me: We'll use our full power and take down the Kraken and turn it into fried Calamari. Lets get him!

We went at them and I punched Shoji off the Kraken and knocked him out and sent him onto the Skyship and the S.P.D. Rangers tied him up.

I blasted the Kraken with powerful blasts of fire and burned it and Vince and Nico fired blasts of energy and burned some of its tentacles and Lincoln, Linka, Fiona, Ampfibian, and Sasuke fired blasts of lightning at the Kraken and electrocuted it all over the place with 500 billion volts of electricity. Vinta, Kughar, Frafdo, and Dheena fired blasts of fire, energy and light and they hit the Kraken all over and exploded!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

Lincoln: Lets do it! VOID STYLE NINJA ART: SHADOW VOID DRAGON BLAST!

Lincoln fired a wave of dark energy and it formed into a dragon of darkness.

Ronnie Anne: HEAT STYLE NINJA ART: LIZARDMEN EMPIRE!

Ronnie Anne fired a wave of fire and it formed into the armies of the Lizardmen Empire from Warhammer.

---

The Lizardmen, sometimes known as the Cold Ones or the Children of the Gods, are an ancient, savage, intelligent race of cold-blooded, reptilian humanoids that were at one time the first and oldest civilisation of the Warhammer World. Long before the rise of Men, Elf or Dwarf, the empire of the Lizardmen ruled supreme.

Alien, enigmatic, and without mercy, the Lizardmen were there when it all began and will be there when the world draws its last dying breath, never tiring nor relenting until order is finally restored to this uncaring, chaotic world. Such is what they were made to do, for they are the ancient servants of the Old Ones, the one true protectors of this very world.

Once, in a long and forgotten age, the Lizardmen ruled over it all, dominating this ancient world during an age of primeval monsters. Although their realm is now partly in ruins and overgrown, they seek once more to rise up and reclaim that which they have lost many millennia ago. While the task at hand remains near impossible, the empire of the Lizardmen still fights on - unleashing their cold-blooded savagery upon any who would stand in the way of their sacred mission.

From the lush jungles they come, beneath totems of gold, the Lizardmen march to war, the ground trembling from the approach of their large and mighty reptilian armies. They go to battle for reasons indecipherable to others, an ancient plan known only to themselves.

None can ever understand their motives nor their ceaseless drive, for none truly understand that they are the rightful inheritors of the world. It is their sacred, if inscrutable, duty to restore order across the planet. If this means the wholesale eradication of the lesser upstart races outside of the Great Plan, then the Lizardmen empire shall enact this world-spanning genocide once more.

Clyde: DIMENSION STYLE NINJA ART: TERRAN EMPIRE!

Clyde fired a wave of energy and it formed into the armies of the Terran Empire from the Star Trek Episode Mirror Mirror.

Stella: SCORCH STYLE NINJA ART: SAHARA SCORCH FLARE RASENSHURIKEN!

Stella formed a ball of fire and it formed into a Rasenshuriken and she threw it.

Girl Jordan: SOLAR STYLE NINJA ART: ARCHANGEL OF SOLARIS!

Girl Jordan grew wings of solar fire and fired waves of fire from them.

Paige: PHOENIX STYLE NINJA ART: SANGUINIUS!

Paige fired a wave of fire and it formed into the awesome hero of Warhammer 40K, Sanguinius.

---

Sanguinius, also known as the "Great Angel" and the "Brightest One" during his lifetime, was the Primarch of the Blood Angels Legion of Space Marines. He was killed during the climax of the Horus Heresy at the Battle of Terra defending the Emperor of Mankind from the Warmaster Horus aboard his flagship, the Battle Barge Vengeful Spirit.

Though Horus slew Sanguinius, who had once been his closest and greatest friend amongst the other Primarchs, Imperial legend holds that it was the chink in Horus' armour created by the Angel that allowed the Emperor to slay the Arch-heretic and thus prevent Mankind from falling to the corruption of the Ruinous Powers of Chaos.

The blasts all went at the Kraken and slammed into it and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Wheeljack: Lets do it!

Lincoln: Yeah!

Wheeljack used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Lincoln used the Loud House Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Lincoln's lightning powers and Wheeljack's photon rifle 100-fold.

Shockwave used the Decepticon Cyber Planet Key and Power Girl used the Krypton Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Shockwave's Gamma Ray blasts and Power Girls powers 100-fold.

Wheeljack and Lincoln: LIGHTNING PHOTON MEGABLAST!

Wheeljack fired a powerful photon blast and Lincoln fired a massive blast of lightning.

Shockwave and Power Girl: KRYPTON GAMMA RAY MEGABLAST!

Shockwave fired a wave of Gamma Ray energy and Power Girl fired a blast of laser energy.

Jack Landors and Devon Michaels: RED CHEETAH SPEEDBLAST!

Jack and Devon fired waves of red energy.

Sky Tate and Ravi Shaw: BLUE GORILLA MEGAPUNCH BLAST!

Sky and Ravi fired waves of blue energy.

Z Delgado and Zoey Reeves: YELLOW JACKRABBIT SPEARBLAST!

Z and Zoey fired waves of yellow energy.

Bridge Carson and Nate Silva: GREEN MANTIS CLAWSLASH!

Bridge and Nate fired blasts of gold and green energy.

Sydney Drew and Steel: PINK SCARAB SWARM MAUL!

Sydney Drew and Steel fired blasts of pink and silver energy.

Sam (SPD) and Stella (Loud House): OMEGA FLARE BURNBLAST!

Sam and Stella fired blasts of fire and lightning.

The blasts combined and they slammed into the Kraken and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Varie: Time for some power of water!

Lana: Yeah!

Neptune Crusaders: NEPTUNE TSUNAMI MEGABLAST!

The Neptune Crusaders fired a massive tsunami of water.

Ampfibian: AMPERI LIGHTNING MEGABLAST!

Ampfibian fired a massive blast of lightning and the final smashes hit the kraken and it exploded into a million pieces and we were gonna have fried calamari for dinner!

We gathered all the pieces of the kraken and it was gonna be a good dinner.

Back on Earth the Masters of Evil came.

Me: Awesome battle.

Waffle Woman: Has May gotten pregnant yet?

Maria: Actually, she hasn't.

Shiv: You know it's only a matter of time before she does, right?

Nico: Oh, I know. And I'll stay by her side when she does.

Vexen: We'll inform Loki and Myotismon of that.

William: Make sure you do.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Shoji was taken to prison where he belongs. He was put into the Neptune Prison forever.

Maria: (To the viewers) This was an awesome adventure of Cryptozoology and it was an unforgettable sight to see the Kraken. Better than the last one.

Me: It sure was but this was unforgettable.

Lana: Yep.

We went back home. It was the start of an awesome life for Nico and May.

THE END

---

Another awesome chapter done.

The Kraken has been one of the most terrifying ocean legends for centuries and we got to see the giant creature in action. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. I'm gonna be on a break till Thursday. The reason is because my sister, brother-in-law, niece and nephew are in town and we're gonna spend most of the day with them. It's gonna be fun. But the next chapter is for the Scooby Doo movie Scooby Doo and the Curse of the 13th Ghost. It's gonna also be a tribute to the late Vincent Price and also we're going to finish what the 13 Ghosts of Scooby Doo didn't show.

See you all on Thursday.

Unfinished Business With the 13th Ghost

The first scene shows a terrifying chest with a demonic skull on it.

Vincent Van Ghoul: THIS IS A WARNING TO ALL LIVING MORTALS. THAT WHOMSOEVER OPENS THIS CHEST OF DEMONS WILL RELEASE 13 OF THE MOST TERRIFYING GHOSTS UPON THE FACE OF THE EARTH.

Scooby Doo opened the chest and 13 malevolent spirits came out and Shaggy carries Scrappy and Scooby Doo ran with him as they were chased by the evil Zomba and it shows Daphne Blake, a young me and a young Flim Flam being chased by Maldor the Malevolent and then we see two dumb ghosts out to kill us.

Weerd: Lets get them Bogel!

Bogel: I'm with you Weerd!

They were run over by a ghost steamroller. We then saw on a crystal ball the world famous sorcerer Vincent Van Ghoul.

Vincent Van Ghoul: Only YOU can return the demons to the chest.

Shaggy and Scooby: Why us!?

Vincent Van Ghoul: BECAUSE YOU LET THEM OUT!

The demons were looking at us and laughing malevolently with incredibly pure evil.

I looked at the demons with eyes glowing red and Daphne gasped.

Scooby Doo: REEEEEELLLPPPPP!

They attempted to grab him but we pushed the demons into the chest.

Scooby Doo: WHEW!

Young Me: Close.

(EVIL LAUGHTER)

THE 13 GHOSTS OF SCOOBY DOO!

---

At the crack of dawn at the estate, William was waking up in his bed and he found a rather unpleasant surprise in his bed. He saw what looked like a Troll doll from those popular toys.

He had his eyes bug out and he screamed in fright!

AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHH!

Zarya: Looks like William's up.

Laney: And I think he had one of these in his bed.

Arkayna: Guys, what did William just find?

Turbo Man: It's a Troll Doll. It's a toy originally created in Denmark in 1959 and very popular in America during the latter part of the twentieth century

Nico: They are very popular and very cute.

Laney: For Lola maybe but not for people like William and Lana.

Over the next couple of days, William was being plagued by Troll Dolls all over the estate and headquarters and every time he saw them he would scream in fright. What he didn't know however is that Francis and Lea were doing pranks on him. Who knew they had a mischievous side to them?

Later in the early morning hours everyone was sleeping. William then sounded the meeting alarm.

William: This ends now! (holds up the troll doll to us) I don't know where these things came from. I don't know who has been placing them around the Estate, but as of now, they're no longer allowed in here.

Tetrax: (in disbelief) You got us out of bed for this?

Ed: (holds up a hand) What about…

William: No more trolls! I'm making a new rule. I don't want to see another one of these demonic creatures ever again. Understood?

Me: I didn't even do this.

William: I know you didn't J.D.

Later we went back to sleep after the Trolls were put into a box William brought.

Later the following morning, William woke up to see TROLL DOLLS ALL OVER HIS ROOM!

He screamed in fright.

He came down in a rage.

William: Where are they?!

Brawl: (knows who William's talking about) They're in the kitchen having breakfast.

He went to Lea and Francis.

William: I want those trolls out of here now!

Lea and Francis exchanged looks.

Lea: (amused) What makes you think we have anything to do with them?

William: (rolls his eyes) There's no point in denying it. I know it's you two. As if it could be anyone else.

Lea and Francis exchanged looks again and gave matching shrugs.

Francis: Fair point.

William: Now, I want you two to remove the trolls from my room and anywhere else you might have hidden them, and get rid of them all by the end of the day.

Lea: (raises his eyebrows) Or what?

William: (folds his arms across his chest) You know Soundwave has quite an extensive music library in his database including thirty-seven types of polka music. How would you like to hear nothing but polka for twenty-four hours a day?"

Fraqncis: (leans towards William) You wouldn't dare.

Wiliam: Try me.

They stared at each other, gazes unwavering.

Lea: (sighs) Fine. We'll get rid of the stupid trolls. (Francis turns to him in confusion) This has gotten beyond ridiculous. "Besides, I don't really want to hear polka music 24/7.

William: Glad to hear it. Now remember, I expect those trolls gone by the end of the day. Where'd you even get them all? (holds up a hand forestalling any answer) Forget I asked. I don't want to know.

Francis and Lea went and collected the Troll Dolls all over and put them all in a box and then they went to the park.

Later they went to the park and it was busy.

Francis and Lea were holding a box full of the Troll Dolls. They were walking to the park to put the box there.

Francis: I'm not sure this is such a good idea. What if someone gives the troll dolls back to us?

Lea: How else do you suppose we get rid of them?

Francis: We could melt them with my flamethrower and your Keyblade.

Lea: Do you really want the whole estate smelling like melted plastic?

Francis: Good point.

Lea: Then there you go. This looks like a good spot to put them.

Francis: Bye bye, trolls.

They dropped them off by a park bench and left.

45 minutes earlier Sissi Delmas was with us. She moved to Gotham Royal York a few days ago and she was excited to join us.

Sissi: Thanks for letting me join you J.D.

Me: No problem Sissi. We haven't seen you since the first time we destroyed X.A.N.A.

Sissi: I know. It feels like forever ago.

Prowl: That sure does feel like forever.

We went in and saw that it was hectic. We saw William scolding Francis and Lea for the Troll Dolls.

Sissi: Is this normal around here?

Prowl: As normal as our lives can get. Though this is the first time we've seen a troll doll.

Me: Yeah.

Numbuh 4: (Australian Accent) At least it's better than Rainbow Monkeys.

---

Later we were sitting by the TV and playing cards.

Jeremie: Its been a while Sissi but we're so happy to have you here with all of us.

Sissi: It's a pleasure to be here with you Jeremie. The time I was possessed by X.A.N.A. gave me the time I needed to reflect on my actions in the past. I can't believe I was that snobby and snot-nosed.

Chloe Bourgeois: I know just how you feel Sissi. I used to be just like you. But it was my father getting shot that gave me the ultimate wake up call.

Sissi: I can tell. We both did huge 180s.

Chloe Bourgeois: We sure did.

Laney: I'm glad.

Marinette: I know. When I first met Chloe she was so snobby and arrogant and she claimed that she could get away with anything because she was the daughter of the Mayor of Paris.

Laney: That power went to her head.

Me: Until we came along.

Then I got a call on my cell phone.

Me: I'll get that.

I answered it and it was Shaggy.

Me: Hello?

Shaggy: Like, Hey J.D.

Me: Oh hey Shaggy what's shaking?

Shaggy: We have another mystery and we have some unfinished business.

Me: What kind of unfinished business?

Shaggy: We're going after the 13th Ghost.

Me: (Gasp) We're on our way Shaggy!

I hung up and we were off to Shaggy's location. We were at the famous castle estate of the world famous sorcerer Vincent Van Ghoul.

Me: It's the castle estate of Vincent Van Ghoul.

Lucy Loud: Gasp! I've heard so much about Vincent Van Ghoul.

Laney: Me too. Really well known in the worlds of magic.

Nico: So how do you know the famous Vincent Van Ghoul?

Me: It's a really funny story and he helped us track down and face 12 of the evil 13 Ghosts of the Chest of Demons. They are 13 of the most terrifying and most evil ghosts ever to terrorize the Earth. We only caught 12 of them out of 13.

I went over each of the 13 Ghosts.

MALDOR THE MALEVOLENT

Maldor has yellow skin. However, his face is entirely black and only shows his eyes - whose yellow sclera turns red when he casts the sleeping curse. He has long gray hair with two long, protruding demon-like horns. He wears a long purple and black robes.

While in Temple Village, within the Himalayas, Scooby-Doo and Shaggy Rogers were tricked into opening the Chest of Demons by Bogel and Weerd, releasing Maldor and the other ghosts trapped across the globe.

Maldor was the first of the thirteen ghosts to be encountered by the gang and was attempting to find a powerful magic wand that would grant him extreme power. He had captured the owner of the wand and had trapped a princess in an enchanted sleep. As the gang arrived to seize him, he performed a series of spells to create traps and then placed Daphne Blake in an enchanted sleep. He discovers that Scooby has found the Wonder Wand, and tries to take it, but Scooby flees with the wand. He engages Scooby in a battle of magic, with the latter using the wand to protect himself. He was eventually caught after transforming himself into a frog to devour

Scooby after he turned himself into a fly, leading to the group locking him in the chest once again.

QUEEN MORBIDIA

Queen Morbidia is (presumably) a vampire, who appears as a beautiful middle-aged woman. She has black hair with a white streak down the middle, and wears a tight red dress which accentuates her shapely figure. The sleeves of the dress are tattered to resemble the wings of a bat.

She resembles Lilly Munster, the matriarch of the Munster clan in the TV series "The Munsters."

She summoned a large group of monsters to destroy the Chest, but it was stolen and hidden from her by Byron Befuddle and his Shadow Demon.

Queen Morbidia led all of the convention attendee monsters in pursuit of the gang when they retrieved the chest, and the chase lasted all night. When the gang was cornered outside, the gang sang their "last words" in a projected, overlong song to kill time. The ruse worked and the sun arised, which caused Queen Morbidia to turn into a pile of ash, which Flim-Flam then scooped up and dumped into the Chest of Demons.

REFLECTOR SPECTER

The Reflector Specter is a large demonic being with green skin, huge red eyes in cavernous black sockets, a fanged mouth, a long ribbon-like tongue and large bat-like ears. The length of his body stretches as he reaches out of his mirror.

While contained in his mirror, he can appear not at all, or his face can appear, or he can make the entire mirror shine with ghostly energy.

He trapped the gang in a mirror in Marrakesh, but fortunately they had an amulet that let them escape and capture him.

ZOMBA

Zomba has red skin mottled with orange spots, huge yellow eyes, a mouthful of large teeth and a tangled mane of purple hair. She wears a tattered pink dress. She also wears miniature bones as hanging earrings.

Prior to the events of The 13 Ghosts of Scooby-Doo, Zomba and the rest of the 13 ghosts were imprisoned in the Chest of Demons, which eventually found its way at Vincent Van Ghoul's temple in the Himalayas. (To All the Ghouls I've Loved Before)

Zomba and the rest of the demons were freed when Bogel and Weerd tricked Shaggy and Scooby into opening the Chest of Demons. (To All the Ghouls I've Loved Before)

Zomba teleported the gang into an old gothic horror movie (The Son of the Bride of the Ghost of Frankenstein) as a way to get them out of the way while she stole and opened the Chest of Demons from the security room in Daphne's house. However, when it was revealed that Flim-Flam planted a decoy in the security room and was in possession of the real chest, Zomba simply joined them by teleporting into the movie. In person, Zomba was rather ineffectual, simply giving chase after the member with the chest and never capturing them. During one such chase she was thrown off a blade from the windmill generator on Frankenstein's castle, and fell directly into the waiting Chest of Demons-joining the evil spirits she was questing to liberate.

With Zomba removed from the mortal plane, the spell was broken and the gang returned home (That's Monstertainment).

When the Chest of Demons was forced open by the Queen Myrtle sailing into the Bermuda Triangle, Zomba was released from the Chest alongside Maldor the Malevolent, Queen Morbidia, and the Reflector Specter in the form of a cyclops cyclone gestalt, which turns on the ghostly crew of the Queen Myrtle before eventually being forced back into the Chest of Demons. (Ship Of Ghouls)

While Scooby was traveling back to his time using Time Slime's Time scepter, he's shown many ghouls he encountered in the past, Zomba was one of them. (It's A Wonderful Scoob)

BERMUDA TRIANGLE GHOSTS

The ghosts appear as adults from both the ship's crew (in seaman attire) and passengers (in formal evening wear) who died when the ship was lost. They are partially transparent, unlike other ghosts encountered. They can also appear in a more decayed, horrific form for the purpose of scaring mortals.

The ghosts lured the gang onto the ghost ship as a cruise vacation, then attacked them in order to free the demons they had recaptured in the Chest of Demons. At least four of them (including the captain) were absorbed into the Cyclops Cyclone Demon in the resulting fray… however there were at least ten of them in the ship's dining hall. The fate of the remaining ghosts was unknown, but it was most likely that they were sucked by the Cyclops Cyclone as well, since Vincent comments that since the ghosts were defeated, their ghost ship would be as well.

NEKARA

The demon had the appearance of a beautiful and shapely blonde woman with blue eyes, her hair was styled so only one eye was shown. While draining the power of a warlock her hairs turns into a swarm of snakes.

She cast a love spell on Vincent Van Ghoul.

MARCELLA

She appears to the Brewski Sisters as mist. However, she can also take on a more tangible form. In the latter form, she wears a red and purple outfit, has gray and black hair, and a medallion around her neck.

She gave a powerful spell-book, the Black Book of Spells, to the Brewski Sisters, and asked them to recite spell number 13 at midnight at Stonehenge.

TIME SLIME

Time Slime is a tall, cadaverous man with pale green skin, bald head, elongated chin and blue goggles. He also wears a blue cassock with a broad collar and a clock insignia on the chest.

Scooby got a view of the future that would happen if he quit and let Time Slime win. As Vincent Van Ghoul said, "Everything went wrong." This is an understatement - the world in the future is a post-apocalyptic junkyard, with very few people left (or at least wandering around). Time Slime seems to now rule the world, but he doesn't seem to be doing much with it but defiling it. Flim-Flam (now called Slime-X) and Scrappy have become disciples of Time Slime and wander the wasteland on motorcycles looking for victims to torment. Daphne has been enslaved and is forced into endless pointless labor (cleaning a dungeon). Oddly, she says that she enjoys working for Time Slime, but it is also apparent her sanity is severely eroded. On the other hand, Shaggy has gone completely insane, believing fervently his old friend Scooby will come back and somehow turn this horrible world around - in fact, this seems to be the only coherent thought his mind can contain at this point.

How far this alternate reality is in the future is never made clear. Scrappy and Flim Flam still seem to be pre-teens, but Daphne and Shaggy both look 20 years older (this of course could be due to this nightmare existence causing them to age prematurely).

DEMONDO

Demondo is a demon from the Chest of Demons. He had the power to trap people in comic strips brought to life.

He imprisoned Daphne Blake, Scooby-Doo, Scrappy-Doo, Flim-Flam, and Shaggy Rogers in the comics section of a newspaper using a magic pen. Using the pen filled with a spectral elixir that might bring the newspaper monsters to life and rise out the comic book and live into the real world.

RANKOR

He wanted to join a ghost organization. In order to do this, he had to complete his assigned mission of turning Vincent Van Ghoul to stone using a jewel called the Eye of Eternity.

PROFESSOR PHANTASMO

He sets up a free circus near Dooville (where Scooby-Doo's parents live) and then lures its populace into it. In order to hide the true horrors of the circus, he plays hypnotic music throughout the entire area of the circus. It is eventually revealed that he was one of the demons from the Chest of Demons, and he hypnotized Flim-Flam into joining his demonic circus for a short time. When he saw his Enchanted Calliope destroyed, he eventually turned himself into a grotesque, wrinkly, twisted, old man. Not long after, he was sent back into the Chest of Demons.

ZIMBULU

He appeared in human form on a TV show where the Chest was stolen. The real culprit was Boris Kreepoff, the TV host, who used a trick rotating stage. He later used the disguise of a certain medium to seize the opportunity from Boris Kreepoff's show to finally seize the Chest of Demons to gain all the power in the universe during the night of the Winter Solstice and eventually he succeeded. But just when all seemed lost Flim-Flam arrived just in time with the Vacuu-Spook 2000 and he vacuumed all the ghosts and Zimbulu himself and now trapped in the Vacuu-Spook and are put into the Chest of Demons by Flim-Flam, saving the day in the process.

Everyone gasped!

Laney: Those ghosts sound like they are the ghosts of your worst nightmares!

Me: They were. And it was because of those idiotic conartist fuckup ghosts Bogel and Weerd that we released them into the world.

Lola: So you have some unfinished business to take care of.

Me: Bingo.

Nico: Lets go.

We saw a red van there and it was now Mystery Inc.'s new van.

Me: Looks like Mystery Inc. got a new van.

Lana: Wonder what happened to the Mystery Machine.

We went down and saw the gang.

Fred Jones: Hey guys!

Me: Glad to see you all here.

Daphne Blake: I take it you heard about what Shaggy said?

Nico: We sure did Daphne.

Velma: I take it you are here to unmask the ghost here.

Me: Velma these ghosts are no laughing matter. Me, Daphne, Shaggy, Scooby, Scrappy and a boy named Flim Flam know these ghosts and they are the real deal.

Scrappy: That's right Velma. We have dealt with these ghosts before and they are the most dangerous ghosts ever known.

Lucy Loud: I can feel their evil energy close.

Me: What happened to the Mystery Machine?

Fred Jones: We had to sell it.

Maria: What do you mean you guys sold the Mystery Machine?!

Me: Let me guess, you were running low on money.

Shaggy: Like yeah.

Crystal: We had to get rid of it.

Me: We can buy it back later. Right now we have a mystery to solve.

We went into the castle of Vincent Van Ghoul and it was a creepy place and it was strange.

Dr. Strange: This is an amazing place.

Laney: It sure is. I've read so much about Vincent Van Ghoul and it's amazing at what he does.

Lana: I'll say.

Me: I sense he's below us. Lets go.

We went down to a crypt and we found a bunch of coffins and I opened one and inside it all tied up was Vincent Van Ghoul!

Me: Mr. Van Ghoul!

We went up to him and untied him.

Vincent Van Ghoul: Thank goodness you're all safe.

Me: Same to you.

Vincent Van Ghoul: You sure have grown the last time we saw each other J.D.

Me: I've had a huge growth spurt.

Shaggy: Like it's been a while.

Daphne Blake: Sure has.

Scooby Doo: Reah.

Scrappy Doo: What happened?

Vincent Van Ghoul: The 13th Ghost captured me.

Me: And I have a strong idea I know where he's heading. We need to head over to the Himalayan Mountains and fast.

We agreed and we were off to Nepal.

---

We arrived in Nepal and we were at a temple in the Kathmandu Region and we went in. But upon arriving we saw a familiar face.

Flim Flam: Guys!?

Me: Flim Flam!

We went over and I hugged him for the first time in a while.

Me: It's great to see you again.

Flim Flam: Same here.

Me: Wow! You sure have grown from that little boy I remember all those years ago.

Flim Flam: I was long overdue for a growth spurt.

Scrappy Doo: It's great to see you again Flim Flam.

Scooby Doo: Reah!

Daphne Blake: How have you been?

Flim Flam: Great Daphne. Your hair is different and Shaggy it's the first time I've seen you in a shirt that isn't red.

Shaggy: Like yeah.

Laney: It's a pleasure to meet you Flim Flam.

Flim Flam: You too Laney. Wow. I didn't you all were now Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Me: We've expanded quite a bit since we last saw each other.

Vincent Van Ghoul: They sure have. It's great to see you again Flim Flam.

Flim Flam: You too Mr. Van Ghoul.

Me: The gang is all back together after 10 years.

Nico: Yep. Wow.

Fred Jones: We have so much to catch up on.

Me: I take it you heard about the 13th Ghost on the loose right?

Flim Flam: I sure did.

Me: Good. Now we have to find it and catch it and we're gonna send the Chest of Demons with the Ghosts inside it into the Dark Dimension for all eternity.

Flim Flam: Good.

A roar was heard and flying in was the 13th Ghost ASMODEUS!

Vert: That must be the 13th ghost!

Me: It's ugly!

Nico: No kidding!

Then Whiteout, Evil Green Ranger and Ebon appeared!

Me: Whiteout, Evil Green Ranger and Ebon.

Ebon: Fancy seeing all of you here.

Whiteout: We heard you guys had some issues with some troll dolls.

William: We did. But thankfully, they're gone now.

Evil Green Ranger: Yeah, about that.

A figure came out and it was BUGGLESWORTH from episodes 7 and 8 of S.P.D.!

Bugglesworth is a Cthulhu-like monster drawing of Mora's, which is brought to life to trick Sam, a boy with the power to teleport - into using them for evil. Bugglesworth has the ability to turn humans into dolls. He is brought down by the Red Ranger who confines him for life in a containment card, after he pilots a giant robot, which is destroyed by the Delta Squad Megazord. Bugglesworth is later cloned by Slate and Morgana, but is destroyed by the S.P.D. Battlizer.

Jack Landors: Bugglesworth!

Sam (SPD): Not him again!

Me: I remember you! You were brought to life to trick Sam and use him for evil! You have that crazy ability to turn people into dolls.

Lola: That is so cool!

Nico: It sure was.

Bugglesworth: It sure is. Mistress Vypra told me all about how you all like watching us on TV and how you know so much about us.

Me: Never missed an episode and little girls all over the world would love your dolls of people.

Bugglesworth: Oohoho stop you're making me blush.

Me: If you weren't a criminal you would make an awesome doll maker.

Bugglesworth: True.

Sam: Been a while Bugglesworth.

Bugglesworth: Have we met?

Sam: I was a little boy when you found me. I was testing out my powers and you tried to turn me evil.

Bugglesworth then remembered that!

Bugglesworth: WHAT!? You're that little brat!?

Sam then took off his helmet and revealed himself!

Sam: That's right! I am the Omega Ranger!

Bugglesworth: You've had quite a growth spurt kid.

Sam: So I have heard.

Bugglesworth then fired a blast of energy and it hit Lana. Bugglesworth just turn Lana into a doll.

Lincoln: Lana!

Bugglesworth: (to Lola) I was going to turn you into a doll. But then, I figured that this can be an opportunity for your sister to appreciate one of the things that you like.

Lola picked up the doll Lana and cuddled her all over the place.

Lola: Lana you are so cute this way!

Bugglesworth: That was just part one of my return. Come to me, my troll doll minions!

To our surprise, Bugglesworth's minions were actually the troll dolls from before!

Wililam: (to Francis and Lea) I thought you two got rid of those dolls!

Francis: We did!

Me: Bugglesworth must've found them!

Noah: Let's solve this mystery for good!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Star Earth Five!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Fiveman Rangers!

?: I hope I'm not too late to join.

Joey Wheeler: Oh man! I thought I was rid of that voice forever.

A figure came out and it was Joey Wheeler's nemesis - REX RAPTOR!

---

Dinosaur Ryuzaki (Rex Raptor in the 4Kids dub) is a minor recurring antagonist in the Yu-Gi-Oh! anime series.

Dinosaur Ryuzaki plays a deck focusing on dinosaur type monsters, although his mightiest monsters are dragon type. He is the runner-up in the regional championship, losing the final round to Insector Haga. He is not a cheater like Haga but is a jerk all the same.

However, the last seasons of the anime adaptation portray him as a joke easily dispatched by the villains, and willing to sell his soul to get revenge on Katsuya Jonouchi. They also portray him as Haga's best friend and partner in crime, something much less apparent in the manga.

Waking the Dragons

In Season 4, Waking the Dragons, Ryuzaki and Haga attempted to steal Yugi and Jonouchi's rare cards, but were challenged to a duel by Gurimo, who beat them and took their souls. They were released after Yugi defeated Gurimo. Ryuzaki and Haga snuck aboard during Yugi's trip over to Pegasus' castle in the hopes of finding rare cards and tried to get an Orichalcos card from Rafael, becoming two of Dartz's henchmen after hitchhiking aboard Rafael's helicopter. Ryuzaki dueled Jonouchi in a train station as revenge for taking his Red-Eyes, and was defeated. His soul was taken by the Orichalcos, and was released when Dartz and the Orichalcos God were defeated.

Grand Championship

In the first half of Season 5, Grand Championship, Ryuzaki and Haga entered Kaiba's tournament as one duelist, and dueled Zigfried von Schroeder, who easily defeated them with his Valkyries.

Dawn of the Duel

In the second half of Season 5, Dawn of the Duel, Ryuzaki and Haga stole Yugi's Millennium Items and Egyptian God Cards (only going after the latter), but ran into Dark Bakura, who knocked them out (temporarily trapped their souls in the Shadow Realm in the 4Kids dub) and returned the cards and items to Yugi. They suffered a lot of the consequences of Zorc ravaging the past, but survived it all.

Me: Rex Raptor!

Rex Raptor: Its been a while J.D.

Joey Wheeler: I thought you learned your lesson the last time we fought.

Rex Raptor: Now I'm here for revenge on you Joey!

Nico: Not if I have anything to say about it!

Me: That's right and your friend Weevil is not here to save you this time. I killed him with the power of the Seal of Orichalcos.

Rex Raptor was shocked!

Rex Raptor: You killed Weevil Underwood!

Me: He had it coming because he pissed off so many people.

Rex Raptor then growled and screamed and then he roared like a million Deadly Tyrannosauruses all at once!

Devack then appeared.

Devack: And I won't let this little ingrate live any longer.

Me: Lets get them guys!

We powered up and went at them.

Battle 1: Whiteout

Squirrel Girl was facing Whiteout!

Squirrel Girl: Lets dance with a scurry of squirrels.

Whiteout: With pleasure.

Squirrel Girl called forth her squirrels and they pelted Whiteout with numerous nuts and they hit her all over and Squirrel Girl kicked her in the face and knocked her out.

Squirrel Girl: Yeah.

---

Battle 2: Evil Green Ranger

---

Mary Jane Watson as the Ultimate Spider Woman was facing the Evil Green Ranger.

Evil Green Ranger: This is gonna be good.

Mary Jane: You said it. Lets dance.

She went at him and formed her arm into a sword and slashed him all over and kicked him in the face and knocked his helmet off and knocked him out.

Mary Jane: Yeah!

Battle 3: Ebon

---

Lily was facing Ebon.

Ebon: Tell Nico that I said congratulations to him and May.

Lily: I'll be sure to relay the message to them.

Ebon: Thank you. Lets dance.

Lily spread her wings and went at him and fired blasts of water at him and drenched him and kicked him in the face and kicked him in the stomach and knocked him out.

Lily: How's that?

Battle 4: Rex Raptor

---

Nico, Devack and Joey were facing Rex Raptor. May, Heidi, Serenity and Laney were watching.

Joey Wheeler: I've had it with you Rex Raptor. You are no better than that little bug breath freak Weevil Underwood.

Rex Raptor: You will die when I'm through with you! I activate THE SEAL OF ORICHALCOS!

He activated the SEAL OF ORICHALCOS and a green circle appeared above them and landed on the ground and a unicursal hexagram formed in the middle and it was activated. Rex then had an aura of evil flow around him and the Seal of Orichalcos was glowing in the middle of his forehead and his eyes were red and glowing with pure evil! The level of hatred, rage and evil he had burning in them was unbelievable!

Nico: This is gonna get rough guys!

Devack: I'm ready for anything!

Joey: Me too.

Rex Raptor: I summon my army of dinosaurs! I summon BLACK TYRANNO, GILASAURUS, MAMMOTH GRAVEYARD, SAUROPOD BRACHION, GIANT REX, MEGAZOWLER, URABY, SWORD ARM OF DRAGON, MEGAZOWLER, HORNED SAURUS, CHITOPTERA, TYRANT DRAGON, SERPENT NIGHT DRAGON, TRAKODON, TWO-HEADED KING REX, CRAWLING DRAGON #2 and FROSTOSAURUS!

He summoned said monsters and it was gonna be a battle of prehistoric times.

Nico: My turn. I'm glad J.D. gave me this. I summon NINE-HEADED DRAGON, DRAGON MASTER KNIGHT and MALEFIC TRUTH DRAGON!

He summoned said monsters.

Nico: I activate my spell card DRAGON ARMOR TRANSMIGRATION!

Nine-Headed Dragon Merged with Nico and it formed into a brand new monster for him. It was a level 13 Dragon monster with 12000 ATK and 11000 DEF and he had the heads of the 9 dragons on his back and he had wings that were wicked cool! He was now called THE ARMORED 9 DRAGON WARRIOR OF VIRTUE!

Joey: I summon RED-EYES BLACK DRAGON, GEARFRIED THE SWORDMASTER, ROCKET WARRIOR, BABY DRAGON, LITTLE WINGUARD, GILFORD THE LIGHTNING, PANTHER WARRIOR, FLAME SWORDSMAN, and I'll become LORD OF THE RED!

Joey summoned said monsters and he turned into the Lord of The Red!

Devack: I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL CUSILLU!

He summoned the Monkey Earthbound Immortal Cusillu.

Devack: And I activate my spell card EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL WEAPON CRAFT!

He activated said spell and Cusillu turned into an awesome bo staff and it was wicked awesome!

Nico: That is cool!

Joey: Wow! Nico you look awesome in that armor.

Nico: Same to you Joey. You look awesome in that armor as well.

Devack: I agree. You both look amazing. Lets get them.

Nico: With pleasure.

They went at Rex and fired energy blasts and bashed all his dinosaur monsters and they also fired blasts of elemental energy and obliterated all of his monsters in an instant and they won! The Seal of Orichalcos closed around him and he screamed in excruciating pain as they watched in horror as his soul was sucked out of him and taken into the darkness of Hell for all eternity. His body too. All that was left of Rex Raptor was his Duel Disk and his cards.

Nico picked them up and he decided to give them to me as a trophy.

Nico: Rex Raptor you have failed this world.

Devack: He and Weevil both have.

Joey: Yeah. They deserved it.

Laney: Dishonorable duelists.

May: What a waste of life.

Nico: You said it May.

---

Battle 5: Bugglesworth

---

Lola and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Bugglesworth.

Lola: You will pay for turning Lana into a doll!

Bugglesworth: I just made her into a doll for you.

Lola: I will introduce her to dolls slowly not right away!

Lola flew at him and punched him in the face and knocked his face in!

Lola: TAKE THIS!

She fired blasts of fire and burned him all over and the Megaforce

Rangers fired energy blasts at the Trolls minions and blew them apart.

Lola: Try these on! FIRESTORM STYLE NINJA ART: ETHIOPIAN-ITALIAN WAR, ANCIENT KINGDOM OF EGYPT, CARTHAGE, ZULU WAR, SONGHAI EMPIRE, BENIN KINGDOM, KINGDOM OF NDONGO, ETHIOPIAN EMPIRE, KONG EMPIRE, and KINGDOM OF NRI!

Lola fired massive blasts of fire and they turned into a bunch of armies from events of history from all over Africa. The first was from the Ethiopian-Italian Wars.

The First Italo-Ethiopian War was fought between Italy and Ethiopia from 1895 to 1896. It originated from the disputed Treaty of Wuchale, which the Italians claimed turned Ethiopia into an Italian protectorate. Full-scale war broke out in 1895, with Italian troops from Italian Eritrea having initial success until Ethiopian troops counterattacked Italian positions and besieged the Italian fort of Mekele, forcing its surrender.

Italian defeat came about after the Battle of Adwa, where the Ethiopian army dealt the heavily outnumbered Italian soldiers and Eritrean askaris a decisive blow and forced their retreat back into Eritrea. Some Eritreans, regarded as traitors by the Ethiopians, were also captured and mutilated. The war concluded with the Treaty of Addis Ababa. Because this was one of the first decisive victories by African forces over a European colonial power, this war became a preeminent symbol of the pan-Africanism and secured Ethiopia's sovereignty until 1936.

The second blast formed into the armies of Ancient Egypt.

---

Ancient Egypt was a civilization of ancient North Africa, concentrated along the lower reaches of the Nile River, situated in the place that is now the country Egypt. Ancient Egyptian civilization followed prehistoric Egypt and coalesced around 3100 BC (according to conventional Egyptian chronology) with the political unification of Upper and Lower Egypt under Menes (often identified with Narmer). The history of ancient Egypt occurred as a series of stable kingdoms, separated by periods of relative instability known as Intermediate Periods: the Old Kingdom of the Early Bronze Age, the Middle Kingdom of the Middle Bronze Age and the New Kingdom of the Late Bronze Age.

Egypt reached the pinnacle of its power in the New Kingdom, ruling much of Nubia and a sizable portion of the Near East, after which it entered a period of slow decline. During the course of its history Egypt was invaded or conquered by a number of foreign powers, including the Hyksos, the Libyans, the Nubians, the Assyrians, the Achaemenid Persians, and the Macedonians under the command of Alexander the Great. The Greek Ptolemaic Kingdom, formed in the aftermath of Alexander's death, ruled Egypt until 30 BC, when, under Cleopatra, it fell to the Roman Empire and became a Roman province.

The success of ancient Egyptian civilization came partly from its ability to adapt to the conditions of the Nile River valley for agriculture. The predictable flooding and controlled irrigation of the fertile valley produced surplus crops, which supported a more dense population, and social development and culture. With resources to spare, the administration sponsored mineral exploitation of the valley and surrounding desert regions, the early development of an independent writing system, the organization of collective construction and agricultural projects, trade with surrounding regions, and a military intended to assert Egyptian dominance. Motivating and organizing these activities was a bureaucracy of elite scribes, religious leaders, and administrators under the control of a pharaoh, who ensured the cooperation and unity of the Egyptian people in the context of an elaborate system of religious beliefs.

The many achievements of the ancient Egyptians include the quarrying, surveying and construction techniques that supported the building of monumental pyramids, temples, and obelisks; a system of mathematics, a practical and effective system of medicine, irrigation systems and agricultural production techniques, the first known planked boats, Egyptian faience and glass technology, new forms of literature, and the earliest known peace treaty, made with the Hittites. Ancient Egypt has left a lasting legacy. Its art and architecture were widely copied, and its antiquities carried off to far corners of the world. Its monumental ruins have inspired the imaginations of travelers and writers for centuries. A new-found respect for antiquities and excavations in the early modern period by Europeans and Egyptians led to the scientific investigation of Egyptian civilization and a greater appreciation of its cultural legacy.

The third blast formed into the armies of Carthage in Tunisia from 146 BC to 1984.

Carthage was the center or capital city of the ancient Carthaginian civilization, on the eastern side of the Lake of Tunis in what is now the Tunis Governorate in Tunisia. Carthage was widely considered the most important trading hub of the Ancient Mediterranean and was arguably one of the most affluent cities of the classical world.

The city developed from a Phoenician colony into the capital of a Punic empire which dominated large parts of the Southwest Mediterranean during the first millennium BC. The legendary Queen Alyssa or Dido is regarded as the founder of the city, though her historicity has been questioned. According to accounts by Timaeus of Tauromenium, she purchased from a local tribe the amount of land that could be covered by an oxhide. Cutting the skin into strips, she laid out her claim and founded an empire that would become, through the Punic Wars, the only existential threat to Rome until the coming of the Vandals several centuries later.

The ancient city was destroyed by the Roman Republic in the Third Punic War in 146 BC and then re-developed as Roman Carthage, which became the major city of the Roman Empire in the province of Africa. The city was sacked and destroyed by Umayyad forces after the Battle of Carthage in 698 to prevent it from being reconquered by the Byzantine Empire. It remained occupied during the Muslim period and was used as a fort by the Muslims until the Hafsid period when it was taken by the Crusaders with its inhabitants massacred during the Eighth Crusade. The Hafsids decided to destroy its defenses so it could not be used as a base by a hostile power again. It also continued to function as an episcopal see.

The regional power had shifted to Kairouan and the Medina of Tunis in the medieval period, until the early 20th century, when it began to develop into a coastal suburb of Tunis, incorporated as Carthage municipality in 1919. The archaeological site was first surveyed in 1830, by Danish consul Christian Tuxen Falbe. Excavations were performed in the second half of the 19th century by Charles Ernest Beulé and by Alfred Louis Delattre. The Carthage National Museum was founded in 1875 by Cardinal Charles Lavigerie. Excavations performed by French archaeologists in the 1920s first attracted an extraordinary amount of attention because of the evidence they produced for child sacrifice. There has been considerable disagreement among scholars concerning whether child sacrifice was practiced by ancient Carthage. The open-air Carthage Paleo-Christian Museum has exhibits excavated under the auspices of UNESCO from 1975 to 1984.

The fourth blast formed into the armies of the Zulu War from South Africa in 1879.

The Anglo-Zulu War was fought in 1879 between the British Empire and the Zulu Kingdom. Following the Constitution Act, 1867 for the federation in Canada, by Lord Carnarvon, it was thought that similar political effort, coupled with military campaigns, might succeed with the African kingdoms, tribal areas and Boer republics in South Africa. In 1874, Sir Bartle Frere was sent to South Africa as High Commissioner for the British Empire to bring such plans into being. Among the obstacles were the presence of the independent states of the South African Republic and the Kingdom of Zululand and its army.

Frere, on his own initiative and with the intent of instigating a war with the Zulu, had presented an ultimatum on 11 December 1878, to the Zulu king Cetshwayo with which the Zulu king could not comply, including disbanding his army and abandoning key cultural traditions. Bartle Frere then sent Lord Chelmsford to invade Zululand after this ultimatum was not met. The war is notable for several particularly bloody battles, including an opening victory of the Zulu at the Battle of Isandlwana, followed by the defeat of a large Zulu army at Rorke's Drift by a small force of British troops. The war eventually resulted in a British victory and the end of the Zulu nation's dominance of the region.

The fifth blast formed into the armies of the Songhai Empire from 1464 to 1591.

---

The Songhai Empire (also transliterated as Songhay) was a state that dominated the western Sahel in the 15th and 16th century. At its peak, it was one of the largest states in African history. The state is known by its historiographical name, derived from its leading ethnic group and ruling elite, the Songhai. Sonni Ali established Gao as the capital of the empire, although a Songhai state had existed in and around Gao since the 11th century. Other important cities in the empire were Timbuktu and Djenné, conquered in 1468 and 1475 respectively, where urban-centered trade flourished. Initially, the empire was ruled by the Sonni dynasty (c. 1464-1493), but it was later replaced by the Askia dynasty (1493-1591).

During the second half of the 13th century, Gao and the surrounding region had grown into an important trading center and attracted the interest of the expanding Mali Empire. Mali conquered Gao towards the end of the 13th century. Gao would remain under Malian hegemony until the late 14th century. As the Mali Empire started to disintegrate, the Songhai reasserted control of Gao. Songhai rulers subsequently took advantage of the weakened Mali Empire to expand Songhai rule.

Under the rule of Sonni Ali, the Songhai surpassed the Malian Empire in area, wealth, and power, absorbing vast areas of the Mali

Empire and reached its greatest extent. His son and successor, Sonni Bāru (1492-1493), was a less successful ruler of the empire, and as such was overthrown by Muhammad Ture (1493-1528; called Askia), one of his father's generals, who instituted political and economic reforms throughout the empire.

A series of plots and coups by Askia's successors forced the empire into a period of decline and instability. Askia's relatives attempted to govern the empire, but political chaos and several civil wars within the empire ensured the empire's continued decline, particularly during the brutal rule of Askia Ishaq I (1539-1549). The empire experienced a period of stability and a string of military successes during the reign of Askia Daoud (1549-1582/1583). Ahmad al-Mansur, the Moroccan sultan at the time, demanded tax revenues from the empire's salt mines.

Askia Daoud responded by sending a large quantity of gold as a gift in an attempt to appease the sultan. Askia Ishaq II (1588-1591) ascended to power in a long dynastic struggle following the death of Askia Daoud. He would be the last ruler of the empire. In 1590, al-Mansur took advantage of the recent civil strife in the empire and sent an army under the command of Judar Pasha to conquer the Songhai and to gain control of the Trans-Saharan trade routes. After the disastrous defeat at the Battle of Tondibi (1591), the Songhai Empire collapsed. The Dendi Kingdom succeeded the empire as the continuation of Songhai culture and society.

The 6th blast formed into the armies of the Benin Kingdom from 1180 to 1897.

---

The Kingdom of Benin, also known as the Benin Kingdom, was a pre-colonial kingdom in what is now southern Nigeria. It is not to be confused with Benin, the post-colonial nation state. The Kingdom of Benin's capital was Edo, now known as Benin City in Edo state. The Benin Kingdom was "one of the oldest and most highly developed states in the coastal hinterland of West Africa", it was formed around the 11th century AD", until it was annexed by the British Empire in 1897.

The 7th Blast formed into the armies of the Kingdom of Ndongo from what is now Angola.

---

The Kingdom of Ndongo, formerly known as Dongo or Angola, was an early-modern African state located in what is now Angola.

The Kingdom of Ndongo is first recorded in the sixteenth century. It was one of a number of vassal states to Kongo, though Ndongo was the most powerful of these with a king called the Ngola.

Little is known of the kingdom in the early sixteenth century. "Angola" was listed among the titles of the King of Kongo in 1535, so it is likely that it was in somewhat subordinate to Kongo. Its own oral traditions, collected in the late sixteenth century, particularly by the Jesuit Baltasar Barreira, described the founder of the kingdom, Ngola Kiluanje, also known as Ngola Inene, as a migrant from Kongo, chief of a Kimbundu-speaking ethnic group.

The 8th blast formed into the armies of the Ethiopian Empire from 1270 to 1974.

The Ethiopian Empire (Tigrinya: ንጉሠ ነገሥት መንግሥቲ ዘ ኢትዮጵያ, Amharic: የኢትዮጵያ ንጉሠ ነገሥት መንግሥት, Mängəstä Ityop'p'ya), also known by the exonym Abyssinia (derived from the Arabic al-Habash), or just simply Ethiopia (/ˌiːθi'oʊpiə/; Ge'ez: ኢትዮጵያ, Amharic: ኢትዮጵያ, Ītyōṗṗyā, About this soundlisten (help·info), Tigrinya: ኢትዮጵያ, Oromo: Itoophiyaa, Somali: Itoobiya, Afar: Itiyoophiyaa), was a monarchy that spanned a geographical area in the current states of Ethiopia and Eritrea. It began with the establishment of the Solomonic dynasty by Yekuno Amlak from approximately 1270 and lasted until 1974, when Emperor Haile Selassie was overthrown in a coup d'état by the communist Derg. It was throughout much of its existence surrounded by hostile forces in the African Horn however it managed to preserve and develop its ancient form of Christianity based kingdom.

Founded in 1270 by the Amhara nobleman Yekuno Amlak, who claimed to descend from the last Aksumite king and ultimately the Biblical Menelik I and the Queen of Sheba, it replaced the Agaw kingdom of the Zagwe. While initially a rather small and politically unstable entity, the Empire managed to expand significantly under the crusades of Amda Seyon I (1314-1344) and Yeshaq I (1414-1429), temporarily becoming the dominant force of the African Horn. Yeshaq's reign was however challenged by Sultan Jamal ad-Din II which led to Yeshaq's death. Under the rule of Zara Yaqob (1434-1468), the Hadiya Sultanate was invaded by Ethiopia and the captured Hadiya princess Eleni converted to Christianity leading to her marriage to Zara Yacob. Muslims in the region as well as Adal Sultanate rejected the marriage alliance and began launching several invasion attempts into Ethiopia finally succeeding under Imam Mahfuz. Mahfuz's ambush and defeat by Emperor Lebna Dengel brought about the early 16th century Jihad of the Adalese Imam Ahmed Gran, who was only defeated in 1543 with the help of the Portuguese. Greatly weakened, much of the Empire's southern territory and vassals were lost due to the Oromo migrations. In the north, in what is now Eritrea, Ethiopia managed to repulse Ottoman invasion attempts, although losing its access to the Red Sea to them.

Reacting to these challenges, Ethiopia started to expand westwards, conquering the Lake Tana area and much of Beta Israel territory in Begemder. In the 1630s Emperor Fasilides founded the new capital of Gondar, marking the start for a new golden age known as "Gondarine period". It saw a relative peace, the successful integration of the Oromo and a flourishing of culture. With the deaths of Emperor Iyasu II (1755) and especially Iyoas I (1769) the realm eventually entered a period of decentralization, known as "Era of the Princes". The Shewa region factually seceded and constituted a kingdom of its own, while within the Empire, regional warlords contested for power, with the emperor being barely more than a mere puppet.

Emperor Tewodros II (r. 1855-1868) put an end to that state, reunified the Empire and led it into the modern period before dying during the British Expedition to Abyssinia. His successor Yohannes IV engaged primarily in war and successfully fought the Egyptians and the Mahdists before dying against the latter in the Battle of Gallabat in 1889. Emperor Menelik II, now residing in the recently founded town of Addis Abeba, continued and concluded the policy of expansion of his predecessor, subjugating many people and kingdoms in what is now western, southern and eastern Ethiopia, like Kaffa, Wolaytta or Aussa. Thus, he gave Ethiopia the geographical extent it has today. In the north he was confronted with an expanding Italy. Decisively defeating it at the Battle of Adwa in 1896 with the aid of Russia and France, Menelik ensured Ethiopia's independence and confined Italy to Eritrea.

Later, after the Second Italo-Ethiopian War, the Italian Empire occupied Ethiopia and established the Italian East Africa colony in the region. After World War II, the Italians were driven out with the help of the British army. The country was one of the founding members of the United Nations, and in 1962 annexed Eritrea. However, the Ethiopian Civil War led to the independence of Eritrea and fall of the Empire in 1974.

By 1974, Ethiopia was one of only three countries in the world to have the English title of Emperor for its head of state, together with Japan and Iran under the Pahlavi dynasty. It was the second-to-last country in Africa to use the title of Emperor; the only one later was the Central African Empire, which was implemented between 1976 and 1979 by Emperor Bokassa I.

The 9th blast formed into the armies of the Kong Empire from 1710 to 1898.

---

The Kong Empire (1710-1898), also known as the Wattara Empire or Ouattara Empire for its founder, was a pre-colonial African Muslim state centered in north eastern Ivory Coast that also encompassed much of present-day Burkina Faso. It was founded by Dyula immigrants from the declining Mali Empire. It established a largely decentralized commercial empire based upon linkages by merchant houses protecting trade routes throughout the region. Kong rose to prominence in the 1800s as a key commercial center and center of Islamic studies. In 1898, Samori Ture attacked the city and burnt it down. Although the city was rebuilt, the Kong empire had dissipated and the French took control over the area.

And the 10th blast formed into the armies of the Kingdom of Nri in Nigeria from the 10th Century to 1911.

The Kingdom of Nri (Igbo: Ọ̀ràézè Ǹrì) was a medieval polity located in what is now Nigeria. The kingdom existed as a sphere of religious and political influence over a third of Igboland, and was administered by a priest-king called an Eze Nri. The Eze Nri managed trade and diplomacy on behalf of the Nri people, a subgroup of the Igbo-speaking people, and possessed divine authority in religious matters.

The kingdom was a haven for all those who had been rejected in their communities and also a place where slaves were set free from their bondage. Nri expanded through converts gaining neighboring communities' allegiance, not by force. Nri's royal founder, Eri, is said to be a 'sky being' that came down to earth and then established civilization. One of the better-known remnants of the Nri civilization is manifested in the igbo ukwu artifacts. Nri's culture permanently influenced the Northern and Western Igbo, especially through religion and taboos.

The kingdom appears to have passed its peak in the 18th century, encroached upon by the rise of the Benin and Igala kingdom, and later the Atlantic slave trade, but it appears to have maintained its authority well into the 16th century, and remnants of the eze hierarchy persisted until the establishment of Colonial Nigeria in 1911 and represents one of the traditional states within modern Nigeria.

The armies all destroyed the Troll Dolls in an instant in a massive fiery explosion!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Lola: Now you are next! (Pulls out her morpher) JUDGEMENT MODE!

She activated it and one minute later a red X lit up!

Lola: GUILTY!

Lola: Capture!

She fired a beam of energy and it trapped Bugglesworth in a card.

Bugglesworth: Let me outta here!

Lana then popped out.

Lana: Whoa! Awesome job Lols.

Lola: Glad you're back Lana.

---

Battle 6: ASMODEUS!

---

We then regrouped and set our sights on Asmodeus.

Me: It's over for you Asmodeus!

I fired waves of fire and they slammed into him and exploded all over and Nico punched him in the face and kicked him in the stomach and fired waves of fire and burned him and Lincoln, Lana, Lola and Lily fired blasts of lightning, ice, fire and water and burned and electrocuted and froze him all over the place and more. We fired blasts of energy and more and knocked him all over the place in massive fiery explosions. Quadore, Ere, and Blazvatan fired blasts of fire, water and earth and smashed and burned him all over the place and more.

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Tetrax: Lets do it!

Prowl: Yeah!

Tetrax used the Petropia Cyber Planet Key and Prowl used the Autobot Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Tetrax's Crystal Powers and Prowl's missile launcher 100-fold.

Brawl and Turbo Man both used the Earth Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Brawl's tank powers and Turbo Man's powers 100-fold.

Tetrax and Prowl: CRYSTAL MISSILE MEGABARRAGE!

Tetrax and Prowl fired crystals and missiles.

Brawl and Turbo Man: FLAMING WHEEL TANKSTORM!

Brawl and Turbo Man fired tank blasts and deadly wheels made of fire.

Will Vandom and Devon Michaels: LIGHTNING CHEETAH SPEED QUINTESSENCE!

Will fired a massive blast of lightning and Devon fired a wave of red energy.

Irma Lair and Ravi Shaw: WATER GORILLA FISTSTORM!

Irma fired a wave of water and Rave fired a barrage of energy fists.

Taranee Cook and Zoey Reeves: FIRE JACKRABBIT HOP BURN!

Taranee fired a wave of fire and Zoey fired waves of energy.

Cornelia Hale and Nate Silva: EARTH MANTIS SMASH CLAW!

Cornelia fired waves of earth and Nate fired waves of mantis energy.

Hay Lin and Steel: WIND SCARAB HURRICANE SWARM!

Hay Lin fired waves of wind and Steel fired waves of scarabs.

The blasts all combined and they slammed into Asmodeus and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Now for some Final Smash power. This is for eluding us for so long!

Shaggy: Lets get him!

Scrappy Doo: Lemme at him! Lemme at him! I'm gonna splat him!

Vincent Van Ghoul, Flim Flam, Scrappy, Daphne Blake, Shaggy and Scooby and Me: GHOST IMPRISONMENT MEGABLAST!

We fired massive blasts of energy and they slammed into the ghost of Asmodeus and exploded and we opened the Chest of Demons and he was sucked into it and at long last we had all 13 Ghosts back in the chest where they belong.

Me: Yeah!

Daphne Blake: The demons are sealed.

?: NO! MY PLAN IS RUINED!

A figure came out and we arrested him. It was Vincent Van Ghoul's old friend that was still alive after all this time: Mortifer!

Mortifer wanted to get the Chest of Demons so he could sell it for $10,000,000.00. But the man he was trying to sell it to was really an INTERPOL agent and Mortifer was arrested after I stripped him of his magic and powers.

Mortifer: I would've gotten away with it if it weren't for you meddling kids!

Vincent Van Ghoul: Don't forget me!

Me: And to make sure that this chest never torments anyone ever again.

I chained up the Chest of Demons with magical chains to make sure that no one ever opens it ever again. Dr. Strange opened a portal to the Dark Dimension and I threw it in and the portal close. The Chest of Demons was gone for good. Turns out Bogel and Weerd were sealed into the chest as well and now we will never see the chest again.

Me: Good riddance.

Vincent Van Ghoul: Thank you all so much J.D.

Me: It was our pleasure Mr. Van Ghoul.

Nico: Those demons will never bother us ever again.

Laney: Yep.

The Masters of Evil came.

William: Ok. New rule. If you want to get rid of something, no leaving it out in the open for someone to find.

Ebon: I guess you guys are sick of troll dolls, huh?

Flim Flam: I only just saw them today and I'm already fed up with them!

Whiteout: Well, some of us don't mind troll dolls.

Maria: We respect your opinion.

Evil Green Ranger: Glad to hear it.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: This was awesome!

Laney: It sure was.

Lola: Yeah.

Vincent Van Ghoul: (To the viewers) Never open chests that possess creatures too dangerous for anyone to even fully comprehend.

Me: Yep.

We went back home and Vincent Van Ghoul and Flim Flam joined the Mystery Inc. crew. We bought the Mystery Machine back and made a lot of modifications to it.

THE END

Another Awesome Scooby Doo movie done.

The Curse of the 13th Ghost is the movie from where the series called The 13 Ghosts of Scooby Doo left off. It was an awesome series that aired from September 7th to December 7th, 1985. It was awesome and Vincent Price did a great job playing as Vincent Van Ghoul. This chapter was also made as a tribute to the late Vincent Price who did a lot of terrifying works in his career. It was awesome that he did all that and his most famous works were in the movies based on the Edgar Allen Poe books.

R.I.P. Vincent Price - May 27, 1911 to October 25, 1993

Dance of the Boogeyman

In New York City we were over at the Old Abandoned Treehouse. It was really the abandoned treehouse of Sector Z and it was abandoned shortly after Sector Z "Disappeared." It was because of their Delightfulization into the Delightful Children From Down The Lane that the treehouse was abandoned.

---

The Abandoned Treehouse is an old treehouse formerly used by an unknown KND sector. It was later used to interrogate Bobby, a kid who wished to join the Kids Next Door.

Appearance

The treehouse appears to be located in a downtown area, with the tree growing up from between two buildings and through the pavement. The treehouse was built with several observatories, a hangar, an airship on the side, several apartment buildings, a large angel statue and a skyscraper on top.

The interior of the treehouse is filthy and full of holes. Windows are barred with pieces of wood, walls are cracked, litter can be found on the floors and lighting can only be found in selected rooms.

History

Bobby was given a map to find the old treehouse and meet Sector V, who scanned and frisked him upon entry. They brought him before Numbuh 1, who presented him with a choice between forgetting the events of the day, or learn about the evil adult world. Bobby returned to the treehouse after breaking into the Crazy Old Cat Lady's House and Mr. Wink and Mr. Fibb's House, but was sent out to Gallagher Elementary School for the final part of the mission. After completing the mission, but getting stuck in the dish washer, he washed up into the treehouse through a water pipe. Angry over the amount of work required to join the Kids Next Door, Bobby revealed himself to be the Interesting Twins From Beneath The

We saw the treehouse and it was an old and dilapidated place.

Me: Wow. Looks like no one has been to this treehouse in years.

Laney: No kidding.

Nico: Is this where we're gonna meet Lizzie?

Me: Yep.

Demolishor: You sure it's a good idea to recruit Lizzie? She does have a tendency to get in the way of missions.

Me: I know but she did help the Kids Next Door on several occasions in the past.

Numbuh 1: That's true. She did.

Lola: I remember that.

Lana: Lets head into the treehouse.

We did so and went into it and we saw that it was run down and old.

Me: Boy no one HAS been in here for years.

Ashley: I can't believe our treehouse became like this.

Lola: This is Sector Z's treehouse?

Bruce: It sure is.

Constance: When we became the Delightful Children our treehouse became abandoned.

Lenny: Yeah.

Me: Wow.

We went into the briefing room and it was still intact.

Laney: It's still intact.

Nico: Wow. Maybe the computers will show the last mission that Sector Z was on.

Lincoln: Lets get the power back on first.

Me: Good idea.

We went to the central power core and we saw that the power core was run by hamsters like in Sector V and the hamsters were all gone.

Me: The hamsters are all gone. They must've run away.

Numbuh 3: Poor things.

Lincoln: Yeah.

Lincoln formed a ball of lightning and powered the core with it by having it channel electricity into the treehouse power grid.

Me: We're online.

We went to the computers and we checked what happened.

Me: Lets see here.

I typed in a code and it showed a logbook.

Me: "KND Mission 7659348723Ω:

Kids Next Door Global Command spies have confirmed that Father is working on an evil Delightfulization Chamber. Purpose: Unknown. Destruction of device is highly recommended"

Numbuh 362: I remember that mission.

Me: And it obviously ended in failure because of Father getting the drop on Sector Z and turning them into the Delightful Children.

Bruce: Yeah it did.

Ashley: It was awful.

Me: But at least Lola and Yuko cured you and reduced the Delightful Mansion to nothing more than a huge crater in the ground.

Laney: Good riddance.

Lola: Yeah.

Scorponok: That must've been really awful for you guys.

Numbuh 5: Yeah.

Nico: But Father brought all that on himself when he tried to destroy the entire human race.

Me: Yeah. When you kill all the kids, you're robbing humanity of its entire future.

Vince: Yep.

Hunter: (German Accent) Ja.

But then the door opened and in came Lizzie Devine!

Kirby: Hi there, Lizzie!

Lizzie Devine: This treehouse is amazing.

Yuko: Nice to know my Flames of Amnesia worked.

Nico: It sure did.

May: Yep.

Me: Glad you're here Lizzie. We would like you to join us after we help save you from the monster you became.

I snapped my fingers and Lizzie regained her memories and then she roared and jumped on Yuko!

POW! POW! KROW! BOOF! BLAM!

Cybertron Ransack: (sees Lizzie punching Yuko) Think we should help Yuko?

Maria: Ransack, I think it's best if we let them sort this out between themselves!

POW! BLAM!

Me and Starfire grabbed Lizzie and Varie looked Yuko over.

Lizzie: You'll pay for making me lose Nigie!

Jetfire: (Australian Accent) Lizzie, calm down right now!

Me: Lizzie stop this!

Luan fired a blast of light at Lizzie and removed her dark side from her and Luan sent it into the Book of Vile Darkness.

Lizzie: (Groans) What happened?

Me: It's a very weird story.

We revealed everything and Lizzie gasped in shock and then she broke down crying and Laney comforted her. We moved the treehouse to the TLPS-KND Federation Headquarters and Sector Z had their treehouse back.

---

Back at the estate, I was working on where the sectors of the KND were located.

Me: Lets see here.

I pulled up where the sectors of the Kids Next Door were located and they were located all over the world.

Sector A - Lancaster County, Pennsylvania - the Amish Capital of the World.

---

The members of Sector A are Amish and don't believe in 2x4 technology, violence, or even real numbers. Not much happens to their sector. They live in the country and are the only sector that uses real names due to the earlier mentioned needlessness of "big city numbers". Their only operatives are Numbuh Jebediah, Numbuh Rebecca and Numbuh Ezekiel. In Operation: A.M.I.S.H., Numbuh 2 gets sent to stay with them, where he finds out that they don't have a grown tree house. When Numbuh 2 asks Numbuh Rebecca about why they don't have a tree house, he learns that Sector A wanted to wait for the tree to grow on it's own because speeding up the process would be "lazy". Enraged over how shortsighted they are of how tree houses are made, he brings out a seed that instantly grows them a tree house.

When the Treehouse has fully grown, the "Splinter Cell" attack them. Numbuh 2 runs to get a weapon, but the Splinter Cell block the way. Then, Numbuh Jebediah throws a weapon over to Numbuh 2. He gets ready to fight against the Splinter Cell when he finds out that they were really just nerds that wanted Numbuh 2 and Numbuh Rebecca to come with them and watch a "Doctor Time Space and the Continuums" marathon with them.

Me: The Amish Capital of the World. They must be a very highly devoted Christian Sector.

Nico: Really cool.

Me: And it's amazing that they are named after common Amish names.

Laney: Yeah.

Sector B - Rio De Janeiro, Brazil.

---

Sector B is mentioned in Operation: Z.E.R.O., when Numbuh 362 was ordering Numbuh 86 to summon a group of sectors. It is possibly located in Brazil (as Chad mentions a sector in Brazil).

It is also mentioned in Operation: I.T., being under attack by Angry History Teachers.

Also, according to the D.R.O.P.P.U.H.P.O.D.-entry in the Eleventeenth Edition of the Kids Next Door 2x4 Technology Handbook, they were attacked by a cranberry juice flood on a Thanksgiving.

---

Me: Rio De Janeiro, Brazil - The Party Capital of South America.

Nico: And the Carnival.

Laney: Yep.

Sector C - China.

---

Sector C is a KND sector located in China. It holds the largest number of operatives belonging to a single sector, with several 2x4 technology officers and two different sector leaders. The base is built in a gigantic bonsai tree.

---

Me: Wow. China's KND is amazing.

Nico: It sure is. I didn't know they were in a giant bonsai tree.

Laney: That's really cool.

Sector D - Copenhagen, Denmark.

---

Sector D is a KND sector sometimes called by Numbuh 362 to take quick action.

---

Me: Sector D is in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Nico: I love Copenhagen.

Me: And it's the birthplace of Hans Christian Anderson, Author of The Little Mermaid.

Laney: Yep.

Sector E - London, England.

---

After befriending an English boy named Trevor who was carrying a mysterious book, Numbuh 1 was soon met by three different unknown kids who insisted on being given the book. The reason the operatives in Sector E pursued Numbuh 1 through London was because they believed he held the revered Book of KND. They failed to stop him from being "rescued" by the Rowdy Hooligans From Across The Square, whom Numbuh 1 mistook for Sector E.

Sector E attempted to steal the book at The Sugary Belch soda shop but once more failed as Numbuh 1 was escorted outside by the large hooligan and sent down to the Great Library via a sewer tunnel.

A final confrontation between Numbuh 1 and Sector E saw Numbuh 168 reveal to his British-American counterpart that they were chasing him because they wanted the book he was carrying, supposedly the Book of KND. Before he could say anymore, the Rowdy Hooligans burst in, initially on Numbuh 1's side until he revealed that he was a KND operative. Numbuh 513, shocked and irritated, revealed to Nigel that she and her cohorts were Sector E. As Numbuh 1 was knocked aside, Numbuh 168 continued by saying that he was working with Father's English-based team, the delightfulized Rowdy Hooligans From Across The Square.

When the Rowdy Hooligans' leader tore away the covering of the book to reveal its contents, he and the others were surprised to see that the book was, in fact, a copy of Rainbow Monkey's Tea & Crumpets Picnic. Trevor was trying desperately to return the book, but the interference caused by Sector E, Numbuh 1 and the Rowdy Hooligans caused him to miss it's return time. He was subsequently fined 25 pence.

Later Sector E, the Hooligans, Numbuh 1 and his father Monty Uno all went out together to the Sugary Belch to drink soda together (Operation: E.N.G.L.A.N.D.).

---

Me: Sector E is in London, England.

Laney: Luna would like them.

Me: She sure would.

Sector F - Paris, France.

---

The French operatives most likely fought the Great Puttinski when he miniaturized the Eiffel Tower and stole it away to his basement. The tower was later returned after his defeat by Numbuh 2 (Operation: M.I.N.I.-G.O.L.F.).

Sector F was first seen in Operation: C.H.A.D., when Mega Mom & Destructo Dad were neutralizing all KND operatives in the world. They were attacked and defeated close to the Eiffel Tower, where they later were unfrozen after Mega Mom & Destructo Dad's defeat at the hands of Numbuh 274.

They attended the global meeting held by Numbuh 362 at the Kids Next Door Super Convention Center in Operation: I.T.. None of the French operatives were tagged during the game.

Some of the French operatives was briefly seen at the end of Operation: Z.E.R.O., along with all other KND operatives.

In Operation: T.R.I.C.Y.C.L.E., Sector F was the only other sector than Sector V to have all their members at the Central Bike Hub, where they appear to frequent. They stayed during the Hoagiemobile's attack and fought against it.

In Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E., their 2x4 Technology Officers came to the "2x4 Technology Convention" to display their new invention, "Le Filthe"; a spray which creates a water proof coating on the skin so kids don't have to become clean when their mothers make them take a bath. They ended up winning first prize and was carried victorious on the shoulders of the other French operatives (Operation: A.M.I.S.H.).

A few from Sector F was seen on the KND Gihugeacarrier in Operation: T.R.E.A.T.Y., fighting against the Teen Ninjas after the teens' betrayal.

---

Me: Sector F is in Paris, France.

Marinette: I think I remember seeing a huge treehouse near the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

Me: That's the French Kids Next Door.

Adrien: I remember them. They helped us take down some of the akumatized villains before.

Laney: That's nice of our friends over in France to help you guys before we got there.

Sector G - Berlin, Germany.

---

They are the producers of the Cheek Tazer, which their 2x4 Technology Officer Numbuh 202 showcased in Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E.. It was well received by Numbuh 2x4 and the other judges, but did not win first place.

---

Me: Sector G is in Berlin, Germany.

Hunter: I think I remember seeing a huge treehouse located on top of the Brandenburg Gate.

Me: I think I remember seeing that.

Vince: Me too.

Sector H - Honolulu, Hawaii.

---

The sector participated in the big Kids Next Door 2x4 Technology Convention in which they displayed a video they made about how to make snowballs during the summer. There was obvious disagreement among the members on how the machine was to be shown, with Numbuh 30c taking control and throwing snowballs at his co-operatives.

---

Me: Sector H is in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Nico: Paradise has a Kids Next Door.

Me: Beautiful. I think I remember seeing a KND treehouse when we were there for Nico's wedding.

Nico: I think so too.

Sector HH - Haircut Headquarters, Moonbase.

---

The KND Haircut Headquarters or Sector HH is where some of the KND's greatest hair surgeons work to save the hairdos of KND operatives everywhere. Thousands of kids end up here every year because of their fathers who cut their hair and turned them into freak shows. They also perform hair-related experiments, like when they wanted to test if dog poop could help grow Numbuh 1's hair back.

Sector HH was first introduced in Operation: D.A.D.D.Y. after Mr. Boss had given his son, Numbuh 85, a horrible haircut. Numbuh VO5 tried his best to save Numbuh 85's hair, but to no avail. Numbuh 83 and 84 came to visit their teammate and met Numbuh 1 there as well.

---

Me: I know Haircut Headquarters. We were there when Paddy was bawling his eyes out after getting a really bad hairdo.

Nico: That was more like a Hair-Don't.

We laughed.

Laney: (Laughs) Good one Nico!

Numbuh 1: (Laughs) That was funny.

Sector I - Calcutta, India.

---

The Indian KND likely fought the Great Puttinski when he miniaturized and stole the Taj Mahal for his collection of mini golf courses in his basement. After his defeat at the hands of Numbuh 2, the Taj Mahal was most likely returned to its home in India (Operation: M.I.N.I.-G.O.L.F.).

It appeared in Operation: I.T., where it was one of the locations of the KND tagging each other. Their treehouse was later infested by Father's broccoli virus, turning much of their treehouse into broccoli and trapping them inside.

In Operation: Z.E.R.O., it was turned into a tapioca factory by Grandfather and all its operatives turned into Senior Citi-zombies.

In Operation: W.H.I.T.E.-H.O.U.S.E., when Numbuh 5 quizzes Nigel to prove his identity, Nigel states that Sector I is located in India.

---

Me: Sector I is in Calcutta, India.

Nico: Love India.

Apu: (India Accent) I think I remember seeing a giant treehouse in a house near the Taj Mahal.

Me: Really?

Apu: Yes. Really big piece of work they put into that.

Me: Wow.

Sector J - Kingston, Jamaica.

---

Sector J is set in Jamaica and hosts the annual "Hamster Holiday". The treehouse has 52 swimming pools, 24-hour all-you-can-eat ice cream buffet and 365 miles of water slides.

Appearances

They were first seen in Operation: H.O.L.I.D.A.Y., where they hosted the hamster holiday. Numbuh 1 was also vacationing there with Numbuh 10 at that year's "Kids Next Door Senior Command Super Relaxing Retreat and Ice Cream Social", along with all the other sector leaders. After its ending, Nigel was summoned to the radio tower to answer Lizzie's calls. This soon led to Nigel guiding Lizzie on how to fly the KND plane after Numbuh 2 and Numbuh 3 were poisoned by her pie.

The Jamaican operatives were next seen in Operation: I.T. when Numbuh 44 and 44 crashed on their island and tagged one of their members.

The operatives were also seen at the end of Operation: Z.E.R.O., when all of KND were gathered at the end.

Sector J is last seen in Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S., capturing a 900-point Wedgiesaurus Rex, where they revealed that the Jamaican KND does not wear underwear.

---

Me: Sector J is located in Kingston, Jamaica.

Nico: Kingston, Jamaica is awesome.

Laney: It sure is.

Me: Yep. I hope they are prepared for hurricanes.

Laney: Me too.

Sector K - Topeka, Kansas.

---

Before the beginning of the seventh age of Kids Next Door (started by Numbuh 0), Sector K was involved in a horrible event which possibly led to its closing at the time. A photo can be seen in the end credits of Operation: Z.E.R.O. with the words "Sector K dedication".

---

Me: Sector K is in Topeka, Kansas.

Nico: In the middle of America's Heartland.

Laney: Yep. I hope they can deal with tornadoes.

Me: Yep.

Sector L - Lansing, Michigan.

---

Sector L hosts the KND News channel, which is often watched by the members of Sector V. On one evening they reported on Sector Q battle against Common Cold before announcing the KND operatives turning 13 that day (Operation: C.O.U.C.H.).

The sector is also mentioned by Numbuh 3 when she described Numbuh 10 to Lizzie, before they took off towards Sector J to pick up Numbuh 1 and deliver Sector V's hamsters for their annual hamster holiday (Operation: H.O.L.I.D.A.Y.).

---

Me: Sector L is located in Lansing, Michigan.

Nico: That's not far from here.

Me: And it's the hub of the KND News Channel.

Laney: Cool.

Me: I think I remember seeing a giant KND treehouse located on top of a radio station in the middle of the city.

Nico: I think I remember seeing that too.

Sector M - Pinewood, Minnesota.

---

Sector M is a sector that attended the 2x4 Technology Convention in Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E., where their invention seemed to be a new version of the S.P.R.A.Y.S.H.I.P. in purple.

---

Me: Sector M is in Pinewood, Minnesota.

Riley: That's not far from where I used to live.

Laney: Wow.

Me: This is gonna be interesting.

Sector N - Nashville, Tennessee

---

They first appeared in Operation: M.A.C.A.R.R.O.N.I. where Sector V had traded the Toiletnator with adult-captured Numbuh 13. None of the members of this Sector seem to like Numbuh 13. When Sector V had a transmission to Sector N, they were happy as ever without Numbuh 13, who supposedly has bad luck. It's also interesting to note that this sector seemed to want to go to any length to make it so that Numbuh 13 wouldn't be returned to them, even faking emergencies to prevent it.

The different operatives were seen seated at the Kids Next Door

Super Convention Center in Operation: I.T. before and after the game of tag was played.

In Operation: Z.E.R.O., they appeared at the end with all of Kids Next Door operatives.

This sector also attended the 2x4 Technology Convention (Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E.), but their project was not shown in the episode. Numbuh 13 can be assumed to not have attended, but left behind for safety reasons.

Sector N is also seen in Operation: M.O.O.N. where they helped stage the fake moon landing on Kids Next Door Fake Moon Set.

In The Grim Adventures of the KND, the Sector N treehouse was attacked by the Delightful Reaper and at least Numbuh 14 was merged into the being.

The last time Sector N is seen is in Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S. where they participated in the scavenging hunt. Numbuh 13 stole a box of cookies from Laura Limpin, prompting her to transform into The Big Badolescent.

---

Me: We saw Sector N in Nashville, Tennessee.

Nico: We sure did.

Sector O - Salem, Oregon.

---

Nothing is known about Sector O; however, they did attend the 2x4 Technology Convention in Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E.. Their stand contained a lot of TV screens, hinting to their invention being visually shown on the TVs or just used to draw more attention. They were not approached by the judges during the episode.

---

Me: Sector O is in Salem, Oregon.

Nico: Love Oregon and the Marionberry Cobbler is out of this world.

Me: You and my mom are alike Nico. She loves Oregon Marionberry Cobbler.

Laney: (Drools)

Sector P - Pompeii, Italy.

---

Sector P is first mentioned in Operation: H.O.T.S.T.U.F.F. when Numbuh 362 suggested to call in this sector to deal with the volcano that Numbuh 3's house had turned into.

During the events of Operation: Z.E.R.O.; Numbuh 362 ordered Numbuh 86 to call sectors P, D and Q when the Moonbase was attacked by Stickybeard and his Candy Pirates.

They attended the annual 2x4 Technology Convention in Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E. and used a very large Rainbow Monkey, with a "P" on its belly, as their stand sign. Their invention was not shown during the episode.

They were last mentioned in Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S. where they participated in the scavenging hunt and ranked above several other sectors on a scoreboard.

---

Me: Sector P is in Pompeii, Italy. I think I remember seeing their treehouse right on Top of Mount Vesuvius.

Laney: Me too. Really cool placing a treehouse on top of a volcano widely known all over the world.

Nico: Yeah.

Sector P.D.Q. (Pretty Damn Quick) - Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

---

Sector PDQ is a sector only mentioned by Supreme Leader Numbuh 362 at the beginning of Operation: I.T.. They were ordered to shut down a broccoli farm as fast as possible.

---

Me: Sector P.D.Q. is in Abu Dhabi.

Nico: Sector Pretty Damn Quick?

Me: Weird name but cool.

Laney: Yeah.

Numbuh 1: They are the fastest members of the KND.

Me: Wow.

Sector P.h.D. - Oxford University, England.

---

Sector P.h.d. is a sector of an unknown location with one known operative. Judging from the sector name, it can be assumed the sector's primary functions are within research and academia.

Bio

Numbuh 11-Teen, the only known operative, was sent to Le Sissie to study the Poorly Dressed.

---

Me: Sector P.h.D. is located right underneath Oxford University in England.

Nico: That's one of the most prestigious universities in the world.

Laney: Very expensive to get into.

Me: Yep.

Sector Q - Queenstown, Maryland.

---

Sector Q is a sector most likely located in America, as they fought the Common Cold. They have never appeared in an episode, having only been mentioned by several operatives. They used to be good friends with Numbuh 274, as they were sent invitations to his 13th birthday party by his parents.

Bio

Operation: E.N.D.-Chad realizes that there are birthday invitations in Sectors V and Q, and tries to get them decommissioned because of that.

Operation: C.O.U.C.H.-a reporter on the KND Nightly News says that Sector Q defeated the Common Cold. They appear to have quite good 2x4 technology.

Operation: Z.E.R.O.-Numbuh 362 tells Numbuh 86 to hail Sector Q, along with Sectors D and P.

Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E. and Operation: A.M.I.S.H. -they appeared at the big 2x4 Technology Fair. Their stand was a dome with knobs on the sides, with their invention presumably either being inside the dome, or the dome itself. They did not win the award for best 2x4 tech invention.

---

Me: Sector Q is in Queenstown, Maryland.

Laney: Interesting place and the clam chowder is really good.

Nico: Maryland Clam Chowder is the best.

Me: It sure is.

Sector R - Moscow, Russia.

---

Sector R is a sector located in Russia. It was turned into a tapioca factory in Operation: Z.E.R.O..

Sector R first appeared in Operation: I.T. when their treehouse was turned into broccoli by Father. By the end of the episode their treehouse returned to normal.

Their treehouse was again transformed in Operation: Z.E.R.O., when Grandfather turned their treehouse into a tapioca factory and all the KND operatives into Senior Citi-zombies. After Grandfather was defeated, their treehouse was then again back to normal.

They participated in the annual 2x4 Technology Convention in Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E.. Their booth appeared to be an old caravan.

Lastly, they took part in the scavenging hunt in Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S., ranking among the bottom sectors.

Geography

It is located inside the Moscow Kremlin, on top of the Grand Kremlin Palace. On the top there is an antenna, highly resembling the real-life Soviet Sputnik satellite and the rest of the treehouse seems to have been made out of numerous Soviet-era artifacts, including what looks like a nuclear reactor. It even has what appears to be part of Saint Basil's cathedral, to further complement its Russian appearance.

Real Life to Fiction plot holes

Although Kids Next Door is indeed a fictitious show that isn't based on reality (politics/media that is) or tries to be, here is a list of plot holes that would interfere with the Russian KND/Sector R if it was attempted to fit in the real world.

Considering it would be nearly impossible to set up a treehouse and a full-blown headquarters of the Kids Next Door straight in the Kremlin, it can be assumed whoever founded Sector R took over the government. Although it could be the Government didn't care and let them set it up (although unlikely considering the KND is an organization of rebellious children, but not that much considering how many non-villainous adults seen to be completely oblivious to KND operations and simply take it as pretending).

Assuming Sector R existed during times of Communist Oppression (i.e. Stalin) or Nazi Occupation (World War II) it would make sense for the sector to consider that a form of Adult Tyranny. Theoretically, Sector R must have fought them at least once, or at least tried.

---

Me: We met Russia's Kids Next Door.

Nico: We sure did. They helped us take down Butch and Woim.

Me: Yep it was during the Cave Race.

Qin: Wow.

Sector S - Madrid, Spain.

---

Sector S only appeared at the 2x4 Technology Convention to showcase their new inventions. These inventions were not shown in the episode, meaning they were not significant enough and did not compare to the other inventions. Their stand had a large purple sign with the letter "S" written on it.

---

Me: Sector S is in Madrid, Spain.

Nico: Spain is amazing. Home to amazing culture and awesome history.

Me: Yep.

Sector T - Dallas, Texas.

---

Sector T has previously been victim to the Mullet Epidemic which swept through the southwest United States. One kid in three between Texas and Utah was infected with the "BFPB Virus" (Business in the Front, Party in the Back) and the C.H.O.P.S.H.O.P. was invented to perform emergency dehairification.

In Operation: S.H.A.V.E., Numbuhs 143, 149 and 161 had been infected by Mustaches and Sector V came to their rescue. Operating the C.H.O.P.S.H.O.P, Numbuh 3 shaved off all their mustaches and turned them back to normal. Numbuh 142 had not yet grown a mustache and was able to explain the cause of the infection to Sector V before his own mustache grew out and subsequently shaved off.

In Operation: I.T.; the members of Sector T were hiding in their treehouse from the game of tag, but a scientist from the Deep Sea Science Lab crashed into them and managed to tag one of them. They also reported at the beginning of the episode that their toilets were overflowing.

In Operation: A.W.A.R.D.S., Sector T is mentioned to still be working on removing rubber cement from their hair after a failed mission by Sector V.

In Operation: Z.E.R.O., their treehouse was one of the earlier sectors to be turned into tapioca factories by Grandfather, and the operatives into Senior Citi-zombies.

Sector T brought a small stand to the annual 2x4 Technology Convention in Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E., where Numbuh 149 most likely was the representative from the sector.

The Sector T treehouse was one part of the grand Caramelization Circle created by Heinrich Von Marzipan in Operation: C.A.R.A.M.E.L., and thus the Texan operatives had their most priced qualities made into Golden Caramels. After Sector V defeated Heinrich, they sent word to Sector T on how to reverse the effects of the caramelization and were presumably turned back to normal.

---

Me: Sector T is near Dallas, Texas.

Nico: Wow. And its treehouse is a gigantic cactus.

Laney: Amazing. I hope it wasn't destroyed when that asteroid slammed into it.

Numbuh 1: Sector T has a very strong defense array. When word of that asteroid got out, they activated a powerful force field to prevent the explosion from destroying it.

Me: Good.

Sector U - Guatemala.

---

Years ago, Henrietta Von Marzipan discovered a way to create ancient golden caramels and to do so was to use a magic ritual that can only happen on the fifth night of the fifth month of the fifth year that sacrifices the most valued quality of a human victim and once done, it turns their greatest quality into five pieces of delicious caramel sweets with the flavor depending on the unique quality of the victim. Using her own qualities she created the caramels, and Numbuh 5, knowing Heirich couldn't control his greed, left him behind, and after Heinrich ate all his candy he assumed there was no way to restore his true self and blamed Abigail for it.

5 years later, Heinrich von Marzipan attacked the treehouse in Operation: C.A.R.A.M.E.L.. Heinrich planned to use the treehouse's large storage of candy to fuel the magic pyramid. Numbuh 5 helped the Guatemalan operatives escape before Heinrich turned her greatest qualities into pieces of caramel.

Sector V later picked up a distress signal to stay away from the treehouse, but decides to go anyway. Henrich succeeds in turning their greatest qualities to caramel before starting up the process to link KND treehouses around the caribbean to fuel the pyramid and create even more caramel from more KND operatives.

---

Me: Sector U is located in Guatemala.

Nico: Wow. All the way over there huh?

Laney: Looks like it. I don't think we saw that one when we were over there to kill La Sombra.

Me: Yeah.

Sector V - Virginia.

---

Sector V is a KND sector consisting of Numbuhs 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. They live in a suburban area presumably in the United States, where their treehouse is also stationed; most likely the state of Virginia (as the letter "V" may relate to.). The name "Sector V" is also a reference to the Roman numeral for the number five. The members of Sector V are the main characters of the Codename: Kids Next Door series. (See Location below for information about where Sector V is stationed.)

Aside from the now lost Sector Z, they are regarded as the greatest team within the KND organization, having had more experience fighting the organization's greatest enemies than any other sector. Many operatives collect their autographs and memorabilia, much of which is located within the Kids Next Door Seriously Cool Museum of Artifacts and Stuff.

Me: We know Sector V's treehouse. It was from Virginia.

Nico: Yep.

Sector W - Seattle, Washington.

---

During one of the many graduation ceremonies performed by Global Command, Sector W gained at least two new members: graduates Sonia and Lee (Operation: G.R.A.D.U.A.T.E.S.). The two would choose the codenames Numbuh 83 and Numbuh 84, respectively (Operation: D.A.D.D.Y.).

Avenging Numbuh 85

When Numbuh 85's father gave him a terrible haircut, his teammates Numbuhs 83 and 84 brought him to KND Hairstyle Headquarters to see if Numbuh VO5 and his fellow stylists could fix the haircut. Alas, they were unable to do so, and Numbuh 85 temporarily became the "Freakshow of Sector W."

Numbuh 1, who was at Hairstyle Headquarters for unrelated matters, encountered the three operatives and agreed to assist Numbuhs 83 and 84 in rescuing Numbuh 85's little brother Shaunie from receiving the same treatment. The three operatives almost got Shaunie out of the house when the dad, revealed to be Sector V's arch-nemesis Mr. Boss, woke up and confronted the four. A fight ensued but ended upon Numbuh 85's temperamental sister waking up and seeing the fight. In the end, Mr. Boss resolved to make his kids an early breakfast and not give Shaunie a terrible haircut before angrily telling Sector W and Numbuh 1 that if they wanted breakfast they could "go to a diner" (Operation: D.A.D.D.Y.).

The Museum

One day, members of Sector W and others made a visit to the Kids Next Door Seriously Cool Museum of Artifacts and Stuff. While touring, they encountered many significant items of interest such as the Recommissioning Module and the KNDNA Tracker. Numbuh 363, the leader of Sector W, expressed extreme skepticism in regards to Numbuh 101's belief that Numbuh 0 was real, stating that he was as real as a earwax statue of Knightbrace nearby.

To his and everyone else's shock, the statue of Knightbrace was real, as he and other villains in disguise emerged to fight the KND. A massive battle inside the museum ensued and ended when the villain entourage fled the site with the Recommissioning Module in tow (Operation: Z.E.R.O.).

Rising Through the Ranks

Over time, Sector W was able to boast the highest mission success rate among all Kids Next Door sectors, a fact noted by Supreme Leader and older sister of Numbuh 363, Numbuh 362. With this knowledge in mind and in light of Sector V being unable to stop the Delightful Children From Down the Lane from eating their cake, 362 made the executive decision to remove Sector V from all future cake retrieval missions and instead permitted Sector W to take over.

The next day, Sector W followed instructions sent to them by Numbuh 74.239 to meet him at an abandoned, toilet-themed Rainbow Monkey amusement park so that they could get the Delightful Children's cake. Upon seeing Sector V there for the same reason, Numbuh 363 immediately began chastising the veteran operatives for not following his big sister's orders at staying away from cake missions. This turned into a bitter rivalry between the two parties as they competed in the ensuing scavenger hunt set up by 74.239.

Sector W would end up being in the lead for the majority of the day, acquiring item after item (including stealing Count Spankulot's medallion from under Sector V's noses). This wasn't enough to satisfy the extremely competitive Numbuh 363, as he set his eyes on getting the item worth the most points: Father's pipe.

Despite Numbuh 83 and 84 showing hesitance, the three operatives ventured into the Delightful Mansion From Down The Lane to stole the pipe while Father was taking a nap. Inside, they encountered Sector V, who were trying to dissuade the inexperienced operatives from tangling with Father, whom 83 and 84 knew was a tough opponent from a previous encounter. 363 ignored Numbuh 1's words and began to argue with him, waking up Father who immediately flew into a rage upon noticing his pipe missing. Father would likely have killed Numbuh 363 had Sector V not incapacitated him. 363, however, was ungrateful at their help, and still wanted to take the pipe for the contest despite Numbuh 83's objections. Both 83 and 84, fed up with their leader's overly competitive nature, gave the pipe to Numbuh 1 and the keys to their S.C.A.M.P.E.R. that had their items inside as a show of gratitude (Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S.).

Harvey's Decommissioning

When Numbuh 5 became Supreme Leader of the KND, one of the first things she did was order the decommissioning of Numbuh 363.

She did this not because he was over the age of 13 but because he "freaked out" whenever somebody touched him (Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S.).

It is not known how Numbuhs 83, 84 and 85 reacted to their leader being decommissioned.

---

Me: Sector W is located in Seattle, Washington.

Nico: Love all the fish there.

Laney: Yeah. But I hate that brat Numbuh 363.

Me: Me too. I'm sorry to say this Rachel but your brother is a total asshole.

Numbuh 362: I understand J.D. I hate my brother too. He drives me crazy all the time because I've always been better than him.

Nico: He deserved to be decommissioned.

Numbuh 362: But we haven't found him yet.

Laney: We'll have to have Sector W moved with Sector V when we defeat him in the future.

Numbuh 1: That's a good idea Laney.

Numbuh 362: I agree.

Me: Good.

Sector X - Louisiana.

---

In Operation: U.N.C.O.O.L., Sector X was attacked by Nerd Zombies after Numbuh 42 had stolen a rare Yipper Card from a group of nerds. They invaded their treehouse and took both Numbuh 78 and Numbuh 34 prisoners.

The members of Sector X attended the great annual celebration at the Grand Canyon in Operation: C.A.N.Y.O.N.. Numbuh 78 was standing guard by the highway, Numbuh 34 cleaning out the canyon and Numbuh 42 came for the food.

They all went to the global gathering at the Kids Next Door Super Convention Center in Operation: I.T. and fled when the game of tag was started by Numbuh 362.

Their sector was represented by Numbuh 42 at the annual 2x4 Technology convention in Operation: S.C.I.E.N.C.E.. In Operation: A.M.I.S.H., he showed his invention, giant treehouse seeds, to Numbuh 2 before the convention was attacked by Caterpillar Robots.

The Sector X treehouse was in Operation: C.A.R.A.M.E.L. used by Heinrich Von Marzipan to create the Caramelization Circle, and turned all the inhabiting operatives' most valuable qualities into Golden Caramels. After Heinrich's defeat, they were sent word by Sector V on how to reverse the effects of the Caramelization.

Me: Sector X is located in the Louisiana Bayou.

Laney: I think we saw that Treehouse when we went there to help cure Muriel.

Me: Wow.

I checked out the other sectors.

---

Canadian Sector - Alberta, Canada

The Canadian Sector is the only known treehouse and KND base in Canada. Its operatives are shown to wear things that are associated with Canada. In the two brief showing in Operation: I.T., you hear and see two things: one the Canadian sectors announcing they tagged someone and yelling "EH", and in the next viewing you see the operatives running to escape broccoli, they are seen wearing Canadian mounted Police uniforms and hockey equipment.

In Operation: I.T., it was one of the locations where operatives were tagging one another. None of the members' codenames were revealed. Their treehouse was later turned into broccoli by Father, but luckily returned to normal after Numbuh 362 regained her position as Supreme Leader.

Egyptian Sector - Giza, Egypt

The Egyptian Sector is located in a palm tree on the top of a pyramid in Giza, Egypt.

The Egyptian operatives dress in baggy white linen clothing with an orange belt, wear a blue collar-like clothing with symbols painted in gold on their upper body, green sandals, golden bracelets on each arm and they all wear white hedjets on their heads.

The Egyptian KND most likely had a run-in with the Great Puttinski, as he had at some point miniaturized and stolen the Giza pyramids (Operation: M.I.N.I.-G.O.L.F.).

During a visit by Numbuh 274, the Egyptian operatives were attacked by Mega Mom & Destructo Dad. Two operatives were frozen on the run, while the remaining three were cornered up against a pyramid and frozen on the spot. They were later freed after Numbuh 274 finally defeated his evil parents (Operation: C.H.A.D.).

All of the Egyptian operatives made an appearance at the Kids Next Door Super Convention Center after supreme leader, Numbuh 362, called a global meeting with all KND operatives. Once the game of tag was initiated, the Egyptian operatives successfully avoided being tagged throughout the game (Operation: I.T.).

At least one operative of the Egyptian KND was at the KND

Moonbase when a coalition of the Kids Next Door's main villains attack the base. After Grandfather was recommissioned by Father, the treehouse in Giza was transformed into a tapioca factory, presumably along with the operatives. They were all returned to normal following Grandfather's defeat, and came to the global gathering led by Numbuh 1 (Operation: Z.E.R.O.).

Florida Sector - Miami, Florida

Their treehouse was seen in the movie, Operation: Z.E.R.O. as the first treehouse that Grandfather transformed into a tapioca factory. This sector is said to be in Florida (most likely Orlando in particular) because of the fact that it's located in an orange orchard, and has many theme park attractions attatched to it such as a roller coaster. The base housed multiple operatives, including, but not limited to, operatives wearing sports clothing, an alligator/crocodile suit, sunglasses identical to Numbuh 1's, and at least one operative wearing a helmet similar to Lenny.

This treehouse has the unfortunate honor of being the first treehouse to be turned into a tapioca factory by Grandfather.

The operatives zombified at this treehouse were seen battling non-zombie KND operatives on the moon base, the crocodile suit operative is seen walking around aimlessly before Zombie Numbuh 60 makes his entrance. The operative in the sports clothing is seen as one of many swarming an unnamed female operative on the stairs.

At the end of the movie, the treehouse was the first one to be seen returning to it's normal state, and it is shown the operatives there were also returned to their normal states, who are subsequently seen chasing around some fleeing villians, in retaliation for their zombification.

Their treehouse would later be used by another villain, Heinrich Von Marzipan. In Operation: C.A.R.A.M.E.L., he linked up a number of KND treehouses to create the Caramelization Circle, turning all the operatives' most valuable qualities into Golden Caramels. After Heinrich was defeated, they received instructions by Sector V on how to reverse the Caramelization.

The treehouse seemed to have multiple cars equipped with orange juice firing cannons, and had a blast door leading to the interior of the base as well. Said defenses were almost entirely useless in stopping the Zombies, even if some of the zombies were taken down.

German Sector - Bavaria, Germany

The German Sector is the only known sector located in Germany.

History

Numbuh 274 visited this sector, along with the French Sector, Egyptian Sector and others, while unknowingly being pursued by Mega Mom & Destructo Dad. This couple froze all operatives in the German sector before moving on to the next one. The German operatives were presumably unfrozen after Numbuh 274 defeated the villainous couple that turned out to be his parents (Operation: C.H.A.D.).

Greek Sector - Santorini, Greece

The Greek sector is an unnamed sector located somewhere in Greece. Its treehouse is decorated with boats and old monuments.

The Greek sector was seen in Operation: Z.E.R.O. where it was turned into a tapioca factory by Grandfather, and its opratives turned into Senior Citi-zombies.

At the end of episode, the treehouse and the operatives within were turned back to normal again.

Japanese Sector - Tokyo, Japan

The Japanese KND are secretive operatives that often work undercover with various disguises. They are the only known KND sector located in Japan.

The Japanese KND are very skilled as undercover agents, being that they took on various disguises (e.g. a dog and elderly woman) that fooled the Interesting Twins until they revealed themselves on purpose.

Numbuh 3 of Sector V flew to Japan to visit the Japanese KND, while being followed by the Interesting Twins From Beneath The Mountain, whom Father had commissioned to find the Japanese operatives and destroy them. After a lenghty pursuit through Japan, the Twins fell out of Numbuh 3's "grandma's" house, the Japanese KND revealed they had been protecting Numbuh 3 from the twins the whole time and then beat up the Interesting Twins (Operation: T.R.I.P.).

Numbuh 3 later returned to Japan and was greeted by a Japanese operative at the airport.[1] She revealed to the operative the Rainbow Monkey she smuggled to Japan, which confused the operative as Rainbow Monkeys are not illegal to bring to the country. She was well aware of that, but found smuggling it to be more fun (Operation: SMUGGLE).

Mexican Sector - Mexico City, Mexico

The Mexican sector was seen in Operation: C.A.R.A.M.E.L. when Heinrich Von Marzipan turned their most valuable qualities into ancient Golden Caramels through a magic ritual. He disliked the caramels made from this sector for being too spicy, but Numbuh 5 took them before he could eat them all. And after Heinrich learned to share his candy, all the KND operatives here returned to normal.

They returned in Operation: Z.E.R.O. where their treehouse, along with other sectors around the world, was turned into a tapioca factory by Grandfather. None of the members and their codenames were revealed. It seems to be Mayan themed.

Peruvian Sector - Cuzco, Peru

The Peruvian Sector is a Kids Next Door sector located somewhere in the Amazons.

In Operation: Z.E.R.O., its treehouse was turned into a tapioca factory by Grandfather. Being located on the side of a cliff, the new factory was considerably heavier than the tree branch foundation and started skidding down towards the ground.

It appears to be located somewhere close to the Amazon river.

Swiss Sector - Zurich, Switzerland

The Swiss Sector is the only known sector in Switzerland. It has a ski lift connected to the treehouse and a very large cuckoo clock mounted on the side.

It was one of the many sectors that were turned into broccoli by Father in Operation: I.T., after he was accidentally made Supreme Leader. It was later returned to normal after Numbuh 362 became supreme leader once again.

It appeared in Operation: Z.E.R.O., where it was turned into a tapioca factory, and all its members turned into Senior Citi-zombies. The treehouse and the operatives turned to normal after Numbuh 1 and Numbuh 0 managed to defeat Grandfather.

Tunisian Sector - Carthage, Tunisia

The Tunisian Sector is only sector known in Tunisia.

This sector was one of many visited by supreme leader Numbuh 274, before being frozen by a mysterious villainous couple. Once Numbuh 274 encountered Sector V, he listed this sector as one of the places he went to and later got frozen. The Tunisian KND were presumably unfrozen after he defeated Mega Mom & Destructo Dad (Operation: C.H.A.D.).

Me: Wow! There are Kids Next Door sectors all over the planet in every state and country.

Laney: There sure are.

Lana: No kidding.

Lola: Wow! Who knew the Kids Next Door was so massive.

Lincoln: Yeah.

Numbuh 1: I wish my friend Katie could be here to help us.

Nico: Katie?

Numbuh 1: It's a very strange story guys.

Numbuh 1 revealed everything about what happened during the events of Operation U.T.O.P.I.A. and what happened with Katie.

* * *

Katie is a playful girl with brown hair and vivid green eyes. She lives in a paradise where kids eat candy for meals and watch cartoons all day. She and Numbuh 1 have a great time in Operation: U.T.O.P.I.A., but when he finds the loophole in Chester's world, the fun stops cold. Katie's head turns into Chester and becomes vicious and attacks him, but then Nigel activates his J.E.T.A.B.O.O.T.S. and flies away from Katie and her illusions.

* * *

Me: Wow. That world must've been perfect and so much more.

Numbuh 1: It was paradise.

Me: Let me take a look.

I went into Numbuh 1's mind and saw the beautiful Utopia that Chester made for Numbuh 1 and it was an amazing and breathtaking place where kids can do anything they want and have all kinds of fun and eat candy and watch cartoons and play video games all day. I saw Katie and she was awesome.

Me: Wow. That world is incredible! I can make that place and Katie a reality. I have the power to do so.

Numbuh 1: You can do that?

Me: I sure can. Lets head to the courtyard and I'll show you.

We went to the TLPS-KND Federation Superheadquarters Courtyard and it was a playground set for a future date of construction.

Me: This is the perfect spot for it. Here we go.

I snapped my fingers and then the ground rumbled and in a matter of seconds the utopia world that Numbuh 1 saw from Chester came into being and it was breathtaking! It was a tropical paradise and it was an amazing place loaded with everything where kids can be free! It was loaded with Soda lagoons, giant TVs for video games and cartoons, bike path trails, beaches, candy trees, mattress bouncing canyons and so much more.

Nico: WOW!

Laney: THIS IS INCREDIBLE!

Lana: AWESOME!

Lola: WOW!

Lily: THIS IS AMAZING!

Lisa Loud: This is a paradise!

Numbuh 1: It's perfect!

Katie then came.

Katie: Nigel!

Numbuh 1: Katie!

Katie hugged him and cried hard.

Katie: (Crying) I'm so sorry! Chester, he.

Numbuh 1: I understand Katie. It wasn't your fault.

Me: That's right Katie. Chester will pay for ruining everything for kids.

Laney: That's right.

Me: Lets have fun!

We cheered and we went and had so much fun!

Later it cuts to the City in the late night.

Narrator: The Plant city of Gotham Royal York. (Pan across the city as he continues.) And like most cities, Townsville prepares its young for bed as evening approaches.

(In the windows of one building, we see parents dressing their children in pajamas, helping them brush their teeth, and tucking them into bed.)

Narrator: The same is true in the home of the mighty Team Loud Phoenix Storm where everyone is getting ready for bed including Townsville's awesome heroes, the Powerpuff Girls. (Camera stops on our house and zooms in.)

(Inside their room, the young Powerpuff Girls are dressed for bed, but not quite ready for sleep. Young Blossom is sitting up in bed, Young Buttercup is jumping on it in anger, and Young Bubbles is surveying a pile of stuffed animals worriedly and Young Bunny was reading is a book.)

Young Buttercup: Man, I'm not ready for bed yet! (Zoom in slowly on Young Blossom as Young Bubbles grabs some stuffed animals.)

Young Blossom: Now, girls, you know we need to get plenty of sleep. It's our responsibility as superheroines to be well-rested so that we'll be at peak crime-fighting performance whenever evil rears its ugly head.

Young Bunny: I agree Blossom. We have to be ready for evil when we get our sleep.

(As Young Blossom continues, a large lump moves into view and makes its way up Bubbles' section of the bed, in the center.)

Young Blossom: And, like Ben Franklin always said- (The lump emerges; it is the pile of stuffed animals, followed by Young Bubbles' arms.) "Early to bed, early to wake, makes a lady smart, pretty, and great."

(Bubbles remains under the covers, only her arms in view. Cut to Buttercup's side of the bed.)

Young Buttercup: Yeah, yeah- (Young Bubbles peeks out.) -but all the fun stuff happens at night. Parties, dancing, nightclubs and stuff. (snapping her fingers) Girl, it'll be awesome once we're old enough to go out after dark. Right, Bubbles?

Young Bubbles: Uh… no. (She is terrified.)

Young Buttercup: What do you mean, no?

Young Bubbles: I don't know. (Pull back.)

Young Buttercup: You're not afraid of the dark, are you?

Young Bubbles: No.

Young Buttercup: You ain't scared of monsters under the bed, are you?

(Young Blossom looks nervously over the edge of the bed; Young Bubbles cries out and pulls the covers back up.)

Young Bubbles: (shaking) No.

Young Buttercup: Well, then. I guess you wouldn't be afraid of the Boogie Man, either.

Young Blossom, Young Bubbles: (Young Bubbles pulling covers down a bit) Who?

(Young Buttercup leans over Young Bubbles menacingly; as she speaks, her sister becomes increasingly fearful.)

Young Buttercup: Boogie Man! The creepiest, scariest, nastiest, long-finger-and-pointy-teeth-havingest, little-kid-gettingest monster in the WORLD! (backing off) But don't worry. He only comes out…

(She turns off the light and leans forward again. Now we see her only as a silhouette, with the sides of her lip curling up like horns and her eyes shining in the darkness. She cuts a fearsome little figure.)

Young Buttercup:… after dark!

(Young Bubbles screams. The Professor bursts into the room, silhouetted in the light from the hall.)

Professor: Wha-?!

(Now Young Bubbles and Young Blossom both scream, and he yells out in surprise.)

Young Blossom and Young Bubbles: IT'S THE BOOGIE MAN!

Professor: What? (turning lights on) Boogie Man? What's going on in here?!

Professor: (stepping into view, picking up Buttercup) Buttercup-are you teasing your sisters again?!

Young Blossom: Yes.

Young Bunny: Yeah! (He sits down next to Bubbles and puts an arm around her. She stops crying.)

Professor: Okay, Bubbles, calm down. Everything's all right now.

Young Blossom: (goody-goody mode) Professor, I was trying to sleep, but Bubbles was afraid of the dark, and-and Buttercup was telling scary stories, and then-

Professor: (wearily) Yes, Blossom, I know. Buttercup likes to be an instigator.

Young Bubbles: A what?

Young Blossom: That means she was trying to get your goat.

Young Bubbles: (pulling a stuffed goat to herself) No!

Young Buttercup: Well, it's not my fault she's a baby scared of the dark.

Young Bubbles: I'm sorry. I wish I were brave.

Professor: Now, girls, being scared doesn't make you a baby. I was scared when I heard my girls screaming. But did I hide under the covers? (Close-up of Blossom.)

Young Blossom: (righteously) No. You ran in to check on us very brave-like.

Professor: (from o.s., sighing) Thank you, Blossom. (Pull back.) You see, bravery doesn't mean you're not scared. (Zoom in on him and Bubbles.) Bravery is doing what you're afraid to do. (patting her head) If you can just face your fears, then I know you can find the courage to beat 'em.

Young Bunny: Cool.

(She sniffles and smiles, and he tucks Buttercup into bed next to her.)

Professor: Now, then, everyone, into bed. It's time for sleeping.

(He kisses Blossom and Bubbles on the forehead, and they close their eyes. He pauses over Buttercup.)

Professor: And no more monkey business!

(He kisses her; she closes her eyes. Now he walks o.c., and the lights snap off.)

Young Bubbles: But- (Cut to him at the door, hand on the light switch.)

Professor: Don't worry, Bubbles, the hall light will take care of any Boogie Men that might show up.

(Back to the bed. Bubbles sighs contentedly and settles down to sleep as the light from the hall narrows to a shaft that falls across her.)

Narrator: Ahh, that's better. (Buttercup swipes an alligator from Bubbles' pile and snuggles with it without her noticing the theft.) Now that things have quieted down-

(A thumping backbeat stats up.)

Narrator: (yawning) -we can all get some… (awake again) Say, do you hear something?

(Turn down to the foot of the bed and zoom in at ground level. Now the bass line kicks in.)

Narrator: (curious) Some kind of crazy beat?

(When the view shows only the darkness under the bed, the interior of a vertical shaft becomes visible. The camera moves down this; we hear the sound of tools being used and see part of a large spherical structure come into view.)

Narrator: Who could still be awake at this time of night?

(Pan over to a door. A short creature with two stubby horns, wearing sunglasses and a leisure suit, stands next to it. Now we see the shadow of the speaker-very tall and imposing, with two long horns growing to the sides. The short one, Jerome, snaps a salute after hearing his name spoken.)

(Cut to a 1970s-era lounge and pan slowly across the room. Creatures and monstrosities of all sorts are sitting at the bar, arm-wrestling, drinking, and joking; disco music plays in the background. Stop at the other end of the lounge, with a door at the back wall. Jerome walks into view and stands in front of this to address the crowd. The music stops for him. When he speaks, he sounds a bit like George Jefferson from "All in the Family".)

Jerome: Listen up, all you freaks and disasters, and chill the frag out! 'Cause here comes the master! So give it up for the beast with the plan! (stepping back o.c. as the door opens) The one, the only, B-B-B-Boogie Man!

(From the shadows, the figure in the white platform shoes emerges. The Boogie Man is a huge, muscular humanoid creature with lumpy blue flesh. He wears shades with flames painted on them, and a black muscle shirt and tights.)

It was THE BOOGIE MAN!

---

The Boogie Man is the main antagonist of The Powerpuff Girls episode "Boogie Frights". He is a scary monster who loves to dance to 70s disco music. He only really appeared in the one episode of the series, but he is still very prominent in other Powerpuff Girls media, such as comic books, video games, and songs, making him somewhat of a lesser-known "icon" to the franchise.

He was voiced by Kevin Michael Richardson, who also played Captain Gantu in Disney's Lilo & Stitch franchise.

The Boogie Man made his first and only major appearance in "Boogie Frights", where he constructed a giant disco ball, during a huge party he was holding underground, where a bunch of other monsters of the night were partying the night away. The Boogie Man came out into the party floors and announced to everyone that he has a master plan on how he is going to make the night last forever, so they do not have to deal with the sun anymore. got Jerome to hand him his phone, so he could call Scissors and tell him to disable the power to Townsville, shutting off all the lights in the city.

The Boogie Man led all of the other monsters of the darkness out into the city and they terrorized all of the kids and even the adults in Townsville and had a huge party at night. The sun came up very soon and Maggot warned everyone to go back to the underworld. Boogie Man reminded the other monsters about his "master plan". The Boogie Man launched his giant disco ball out of the old abandoned roller rink and this disco ball flew into outer space and eclipsed the rising sun so that there would be no more light harshing on their fun.

Despite being the middle of the day, The Powerpuff Girls were still trying to sleep, so when all that partying drove them nuts, they had to fly out into the middle of the town to see what all the hubbub was about. They enjoyed the music and started dancing with the monsters, before one of them scared Buttercup. The Powerpuff Girls tried to attack the monsters for scaring them but the monsters beat them up for it.

The Boogie Man confronted the girls and told them that they were powerless to stop him. Blossom spotted the disco ball blocking the sun and she flew up to it to blow it up, with Bubbles and Buttercup following hot on her trail. The Boogie Man did not like this one bit, so he got into his flying limousine and drove after them.

The Powerpuff Girls flew to the disco ball and looked for the weak spot, to attack it. The Boogie man fired lasers behind them and knocked Blossom and Buttercup out of the sky. Bubbles cried and cowered in fear, thinking she was powerless, but she remembered what Professor Utonium told her earlier about facing her fear and so she powered through her terror and blew up the disco ball all by herself.

The Powerpuff Girls flew to safety after destroying the disco ball, while The Boogie Man got launched into the sun and all of the other monsters were burned to a crisp by the daylight. Then, The Powerpuff Girls went to sleep, even though it was broad daylight outside and the episode was over.

Appearance

The Boogie Man is a dark blue-skinned monster with long, white, twisted up demon horns. He wears a snazzy white disco jumpsuit, matching pants, and matching shoes and orange sunglasses.

Personality

The Boogie Man is a monster of darkness, who acts like a stereotypical 70's disco dancing guy. He lives underground in the darkness and only comes out at night. He fears the sun, especially it's light and he wishes the world would be shrouded in darkness so that he can party on land all day and all night, terrorize and haunt kids, and never have to worry about hiding from the sun again.

Associates

Jerome: Supposedly his right-hand man, a small green monster wearing orange shades and a yellow jacket. Also appearing in the Gameboy Advance game as a bouncer who won't let the girls in unless they had a password.

Scissors: A bird-like monster, phoned up by Jerome as the Boogie Man requests he cut the power, as it being a step in his "grand master plan."

Maggot: No real name given, some sort of maggot or slime monster wearing a hat who warns the Boogie Man about the sun coming up, appears in the opening screen of the show, in the background of the disco club in Him-and-Seek, and even alongside the Boogie Man as he cameos in The Powerpuff Girls Rule.

(The crowd cheers wildly.)

Boogie Man: Creatures of darkness… DIG IT! Too long have we been at the mercy of light. (The crowd cheers.) Night lights, streetlights, hall lights with the door cracked. And deeper still… the sun. (The crowd hisses.) I know, I know. But I, your Boogie Man, have just completed Step One of my grand master plan that will ensure an end to this problem once and for all. So prepare to hit the streets-'cause we are gonna party ALL NIGHT LONG!

The crowd cheers

Boogie Man: (reaching for his shades, now raised to show his eyes) So tell me. When things get creepy…

Crowd: Blame it on the boogie!

Boogie Man: (holding shades in hand) When things get spooky…

Crowd: Blame it on the boogie!

Boogie Man: And when things get freaky, funky, and nasty… (Stay on him as he encourages the crowd and soaks up the fame from his fellow night creatures, grinning proudly.)

Crowd: (from o.c.) BLAME IT ON THE BOOGIE! (They cheer him.)

(Pan right to bring Jerome into view.)

Boogie Man: (to Jerome) Get Scissors on the horn.

(Jerome reaches into his jacket and pulls out a cell phone. He dials a number and hands off to the Boogie Man, who puts it to his ear. We hear the phone ringing on the other end. Dissolve to a building with a sign in front of it: "Townsville Power Plant." A phone is heard ringing as the camera zooms in.)

Narrator: Uh-oh! What's he got cooking at the Gotham Royal York Power Plant?

(Inside, a vulture-like beast stands by a thick cable labeled "Main Power." It has a serrated beak and wears a dark shirt and cap. A phone is in its hand-this is Scissors, Boogie Man's agent assigned to carry out the next step of his master plan.)

Scissors: Yeah, Boss?

Boogie Man: (over the phone) Proceed with Step Two.

(Scissors looks down at the main power cable, opens wide, and bites down on the cable, snapping it in two. Cut to the exterior of the plant and pan across town as the Narrator speaks. Lights flicker out everywhere thanks to Scissors' sabotage of the power plant.)

Narrator: (increasingly panicked) Oh, my gosh! They've cut off all power to Gotham Royal York! That means no more streetlights, no more hall lights with the door cracked, and definitely no more nightlights!

(Stop in the room of a sleeping boy, a nightlight glowing by his bed. It goes out thanks to the power being cut; a moment later, a section of his blanket rises from the floor and a monster's eyes peek out.)

A monster under the bed: (laughing softly) Heh, heh, heh! The coast is clear. Come on!

(A host of creatures emerges from under the bed. They walk right o.c. as the boy screams, having been awoken upon hearing the first monster speak. The last one to leave, appearing some moments after the others, is an oversized sweat sock. In another house, a father holds his crying baby in one hand while fumbling sleepily for the refrigerator door handle with the other. He opens the door, revealing a large monster stuffed inside and staring back out at him. He screams in fear, but the child smiles.)

(A boy sleeps in a race-car bed. Next, to him, a mummy's head pokes out from under the covers, which are thrown off after a moment to reveal a steering wheel. The kid screams and the mummy laughs at him and guns the engine. The bed roars off down the street through a monster party in full swing. A low-riding stretch limousine rolls up; the passenger door opens and out steps the Boogie Man. He now wears a white leisure suit with a pink shirt, along with non-spiked platform shoes, and carries a cane. The crowd greets and cheers him as he makes his way to the scene; the camera follows him. He stops by a giant slug wearing a broad-brimmed pimp hat with a huge feather.)

Slug: Fashionably late again, I see! So fashionable you missed the party!

(It looks up at the sky; the sun starts to come up beyond the buildings. So much for their little night rave.)

Slug : Baby, the sun's already rising! We're gonna have to blow this joint!

(Cut to a building labeled "BEVCO." One monster sits in front of it, holding a drink; another one stands behind it, with a storage tank in its hand for a cocktail shaker-a bartender.)

Bartender: LAST CALL! (Back to the crowd.)

Jerome: Let's wrap it up, people. The sun's coming up!

Boogie Man: Oh, now, hold up. Did you-all forget about my grand master plan? The sun will no longer be an issue once I initiate the 3rd and final step.

Slug: Is Step 3 really all that?

Boogie Man: Shwe! It ain't no step for a stepper.

(Close-up of the head of his cane, shaped like a skull. He flips it open to expose a red button, which he presses. Sparks fly from it; cut to the Starlight Rollerway, where more sparks crackle from the roof.)

Narrator: Uh-oh! What's happening at the old abandoned roller rink?

(The roof flips open, and a huge sphere rises into view and flies o.c.)

Narrator: He's launched some kind of missile!

(From outer space, we see the projectile rise up from Earth and sail across the cosmos. The camera follows it.)

Narrator: IT'S A GIANT DISCO BALL!

(This, then, is what the Boogie Man was constructing earlier. It flies toward the sun; cut back to Gotham Royal York, the camera pointing up to the sky. The ball positions itself in front of the sun, blocking the light and throwing sparkles everywhere, turning the sky a sinister dark red thanks to the unnatural solar eclipse.)

Narrator: And it's eclipsing the sun! Oh, no! Now morning will never come to Gotham Royal York,

(Turn down to the monster-infested street, the Boogie Man and Jerome at the center of the crowd.)

Narrator: and these nocturnal nightmares will be free to haunt the darkness forever!

Crowd: Leave IT ALL THE BOOGIE! (They cheer and shout.)

(Cut to two boys asleep in bunk beds; they are seized and used as maracas by a fat, green, one-eyed creature in a Carmen Miranda getup as it laughs wildly. A dude with a lot of fluffy hair and wearing a leisure suit jumps onto a girl's bed; another girl finds three spirits dancing next to hers. We see an invisible pimp walking an equally invisible dog down the street. At an automobile dealership, two feet smash down through the roofs of a couple of cars. Pull back and follow the owner of the feet-a freak dressed for Roller Derby-as it skates down the street.)

(Cut to a nuclear power plant, where a monster is drinking the radioactive waste. It belches out a blast of fire; pan quickly to a nearby apartment building as it is torched. The residents scream. A go-go dancer swings her hips back and forth, knocking away buildings on either side of her. Cut to the Mayor asleep at home. His blankets are thrown off by a snake with a great deal of curly red hair, and he screams in terror. Jumping out of bed, he turns and finds himself facing a seedy-looking creature with a small derby hat and a cigarette in a long holder. He screams again. Now he runs down the hall and stops in front of his wife-her hair in curlers and a beauty-mask treatment on her face. She sounds very much like him and wears her monocle even now.)

Mayor's wife: Barney, what is it?

(The Mayor turns toward the camera and screams. Zoom in on his open mouth, then pull back on Blossom. We are in the girls' bedroom again, and she too is screaming.)

Young Blossom: I CAN'T GET ANY SLEEP (Pull back again; her sisters are also awake.) with all that racket out there! (flying to the window) Something funky's going on downtown.

Me and everyone came in.

Me: Girls are you hearing all that?

Young Bunny: Yeah something is going on.

Young Buttercup: Something funky.

Young Bunny: This is not good.

Young Buttercup: (eagerly) I'll say! We better check it out! (She takes off.)

Young Blossom: Yeah. It might be trouble. (She takes off.)

(Cut to Young Bubbles, still in bed and looking very frightened.)

Young Bubbles: Wait for me! (She takes off, scattering stuffed animals and the cover everywhere.)

We take off with them.

(Cut to all of us in flight. The first is spoiling for a fight, while the second wears a look of anticipation. Bubbles flies into view to join them, sucking her thumb nervously. Bunny is eager as well. We all land in front of the crowd of monsters, the disco ball shimmering overhead. The music is cranked up.)

Blossom: Oh, my gosh! Townsville's been turned into a nightmare nightclub!

Me: This is a massive Night Club!

Buttercup: Right on! (nudging Bubbles) Right, Bubbles?

Bubbles: Well, it's got a good beat, and I can dance to it. (They start to get down.)

Me: YEAH!

Buttercup: (singing) ♪Hey!♪

(A cat creature with long claws and wearing leopard-skin tights snarls at the two girls. They scream, and Buttercup ends up in Bubbles' arms.)

Bubbles: Hey, you got scared!

Laney: She sure did.

Cat: Yeah, little girl. I thought you liked to party.

(Young Buttercup jumps out of Young Bubbles' arms and braces for a scrap.)

Buttercup: Let's get down!

Nico: Lets tear these freaks apart!

(She and the cat jump toward each other. She dodges a few swings of the claws and catches it with an uppercut that knocks it away over the buildings. A huge green beast slams its jaws shut around her.)

Bunny, Blossom, Bubbles: Buttercup!

(They have no time to react, though; two huge bruisers jump into view and pin them to the pavement. These are quickly knocked away, and Buttercup smashes her way out through the green beast's teeth. Now we go to work on the partygoers and smash them all into pulp and pieces and smash them all over the place with indiscriminate fury)

Boogie Man: Well, well, well. It's Team Loud Phoenix Storm crashing my party. (On the word "crashing", he clenches his fist, it and the arm attached shaking with rage, deeply upset at the Girls trying to ruin his moment of glory for him and his fellow night creatures.)

Young Bubbles: (hiding behind Blossom, terrified) It's the Boogie Man!

Blossom: So it's you who's been terrorizing Gotham Royal York and keeping us awake!

Boogie Man: (mock sympathy) Aww, I'm sorry, did I wake you? (laughing) Hee, hee! Don't expect to sleep anytime soon, (pointing up o.c.) because now that I've blocked out the accursed sun, (singing) -♪we're gonna make this night last forever♪ (The other monsters cheer.)

William: I figured out why you're called the Boogie Man.

Boogie Man: Because I'm a creature of the night.

Eddy: And you like to dance a lot. (laughs) I get it now! It's a pun!

Boogie Man: (laughs) About time someone figured it out!

But then a swirl of darkness formed and out of it came a heartless! And when it appeared we saw that it was QUEEN NEHELENIA as a Heartless! She was now known as THE DREAM DESTROYER! Dr. Light, Electro, Number 7 and Zs'Skayr appeared as well.

Me: Dr. Light, Electro, Number 7 and Zs'Skayr.

Natilee: Nehelenia!

Sailor Mars: Why the Hell did you bring back Nehelenia as a Heartless?

Dream Destroyer: Because of this reason. (kisses Boogeyman)

Dr. Light: I didn't see that coming.

Electro: Ew! Gross!

Zs'Skayr: I think I'm going to be sick.

Me: I agree. Get a room you two!

A figure came out and it was Tensii!

---

Her essence was implanted into the tennis racquet of Rui Saionji as part of Nephrite's plan to gather energy for the Dark Kingdom Once Rui reached her maximum energy potential, Tesuni appeared from the racquet and drained her of her energy. When Sailor Moon arrived to help the girl, Tesuni trapped her inside a giant tennis ball. Tuxedo Mask arrived and distracted the Youma by striking her with his cane, which allowed Sailor Moon to free herself.

Tesuni attempted to attack again, but Tuxedo Mask threw a rose that struck the Youma in the face. Sailor Moon took advantage of the opportunity and destroyed Tesuni with Moon Tiara Action.

---

Shanan: Tensii!

Tensii: Its been a while Shanan.

Anna: I remember you. I challenged you on the planet Wimbledonia and beat you in the future.

Tensii: I remember that Anna and it has been a while since then.

Anna: That was the best Interstellar Tennis Match ever.

Tesuni: Too bad I didn't bring any tennis rackets with me.

Ravi: In a few minutes, you'll wish you had.

Boogie Man: Before we fight, I challenge you J.D. to a hot sauce drinking contest.

Everyone gasped.

Me: You're on.

Boogie Man got out a table and he had 2 huge German Steins and a monster came out with a cobra shaped bottle and it was glowing neon red.

Nico: Oh boy.

The monster filled our steins and they were emitting a neon red glow and a low radioactive hum.

Boogie Man: This is concentrated Nightmarish 20 Pepper Extract Spice Juice and it's made with 20 of the hottest peppers in all of the universe and the world.

Nico: Oh shit.

Laney: This is really gonna hurt.

Boogie Man: You ready?

Me: Lets do it!

Jerome: Ready?

We held our glasses.

Jerome: Set…

Me: (Growls)

Jerome: GO!

We drank our glasses of hot sauce and I guzzled mine down and it was good. I finished mine first.

Me: Ahh. Good stuff.

But then I suddenly exploded into a massive vortex of fire and I was really getting a massive power boost from all of it and it was awesome!

Me: Aahhh. That was delicious.

Boogie Man: Glad you like it. You have one of the most amazing mouths ever.

Me: Thanks. Now lets get this fight going!

Jake: Let's dance, asshole!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: In Space!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the In Space Power Rangers!

Another figure came out and it was ALISTER!

---

Amelda or Alister (4Kids dub) is one of Dartz's three main henchmen along with Rafael and Valon in the anime, Yu-Gi-Oh!. He only appeared in Season 4 (aside from 2 cameos in Season 5) and therefore only appeared in the anime.

He was voiced by Ted Lewis.

Biography

During the war, Alister's younger brother Mikey was killed (captured in the 4Kids dub) by Dartz (disguised as Gozaburo) and he joined Dartz from here (unaware that it was he and not Gozaburo who wronged him). His main target was Seto Kaiba, as he hated him because of what he thought Gozaburo did (despite the fact that Kaiba, though he is quite mean sometimes, is not like Gozaburo and had nothing to do with any crimes he was thought to have committed). He disguised himself as Pegasus J. Crawford and dueled Kaiba eventually revealing his true identity. The theme of his deck was fire. He used the Seal of Orichalcos so that the loser of the duel would lose their soul but both their life points went down to zero and neither duelist lost their soul.

Alister had his rematch with Kaiba on a plane, using an army deck but lost and the Orichalcos took his soul. From where he was, however, he heard Dartz say that he was the responsible for what happened with his brother shortly before Rafael lost his soul. He was released when The Great Leviathan was defeated and was seen in The Grand Championship arc.

He later had another cameo appearance in Season 5 while Pegasus was talking.

---

Seto Jaiba: Alister!

Mokuba: Not him again!

Me: Oh man!

Nico: We have a big battle this time!

Greiger appeared.

Greiger: Looks like we got a big battle this time.

Me: Yeah.

Nico: We sure do.

Me: Lets dance!

Blossom: Block out the sun? (looking overhead. She gets an idea.) That's it. Come on, girls. We've gotta take out that disco ball! (The girls take off.)

(The Boogie Man looks up after them.)

Boogie Man: What? No! THEY CAN'T!

I punched the Boogie Man in the face and the fight to save the morning was on! We were gonna distract the Boogie Man and his goons long enough for the young Powerpuff Girls to destroy the Disco Ball!

---

Natilee: This time, Nehelina, stay dead!

She held her hand to their faces.

Natilee: HAKAI!

They both glowed purple and screamed in excruciating pain as they both were being obliterated. They both were wiped out from existence for all eternity as if they were never born at all.

Battle 6: Tensii

Lynn was facing Tensii.

Lynn: This is gonna be awesome.

Tensii: Indeed. Lets make this an awesome tennis match.

Lynn formed a tennis racket made of lava and Tensii formed a powerful Tennis Racket made of fire.

Lynn: Game on!

Lynn fired a ball of lava and Tensii fired a ball of fire and the balls collided and exploded!

KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

Lynn fired another ball and Tensii swat it and Lynn hit it back and they hit it back and forth until Lynn hit her with it and she won and Lynn fired a massive shower of lava balls and Tensii fired a massive shower of fireballs and they hit each other and exploded all over with incredible power!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!
KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOMMM!
KRABBBOOOOOOOOMMMMM! KRABBOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!

Lynn then kicked her in the face and fired waves of lava and incinerated her.

Lynn: Game. Set. Match!

Battle 7: Alister

Me, Kaiba and Greiger were facing Alister.

Kaiba: It has been a while since we saw each other Dartz.

Alister: It sure has and things are gonna be different. Activating SEAL OF ORICHALCOS!

He activated the Seal of Orichalcos and a Green Circle with Enochian Runes appeared and a Unicursal Hexagram formed. Alister lifted his head and he had the Seal of Orichalcos glowing in the middle of his forehead and his eyes were glowing red with pure evil! The level of rage and hatred burning in them was unbelievable!

Kaiba: Just like I remember.

Me: Alister I heard about what happened to you because of Dartz and you have my sympathies for what happened to your brother and your mother.

Alister: I appreciate that.

Me: But also we have more to tell you. Gozaburo Kaiba was much worse than you could ever imagine.

Alister: What do you mean?

Me: Gozaburo Kaiba was the ultimate personification of pure evil.

I went over the history of Gozaburo Kaiba and what he heard was awful on a grand scale.

Gozaburo Kaiba is the main antagonist of the Virtual World Arc of the third season of Yu-Gi-Oh!. He is the original CEO of Kaiba Corp, the biological father of Noah Kaiba, and the adoptive father of Seto and Mokuba Kaiba.

In Gozaburo's childhood, it is possible that he was abused by his own father in the exact same way that he would treat Seto in the future.

In the English version, he was originally voiced by David Wills and later voiced by Ted Lewis in season 5. In the Japanese version, he was voiced by the late Unshō Ishizuka.

Gozaburo was the original founder and CEO of KaibaCorp and a chess grandmaster. He visited an orphanage, hoping to adopt an heir. Here he met Seto, who challenged him to a game of chess, with the stipulation that he and his brother Mokuba would be adopted by Gozabura if Seto won. Gozaburo laughed at first, but said that Seto was an interesting kid and accepted the challenge, which Seto won through cheating.

Gozaburo forced Seto into an accelerated school program, using corporal punishment as persuasion. He had Seto spend hours every day studying foreign languages, social studies, economics and game strategy.

Gozaburo's abuse of Seto, motivated Seto to overthrow him. Six years after the adoption, Gozaburo, Seto and ten others attended a KaibaCorp meeting. By the end of the meeting, the ten agreed that starting that day, Seto would be the new president of KaibaCorp. Seto smirked and asked "Have I learned what you wanted… 'father'?". Gozaburo replied that he has lost his game with Seto and asked him to burn it into his brain that this is what happens to a loser, before jumping out the window, committing suicide. Kaiba remarked that to lose means to die and thanked Gozaburo for teaching him that.

Anime

His son, Noah, was nearly killed in a car accident, so he uploaded his mind into the virtual world to save him, and adopted Seto Kaiba and his brother Mokuba so Noa could enter Kaiba's body, but soon became more interested in teaching Seto and making him his new heir. They never go into detail about this, but it is implied that he mentally, emotionally and maybe even physically abused Seto during his time with him. There is a possibility that he gave Noa and Mokuba similar, but less severe treatment as well. He gave Kaiba a large amount of money and told him to pay him back in order to truly become a member of Kaiba Corp, with Kogoro Daimon of the Big Five as the only one allowed to help him. He was able to do this, and eventually with the help of Mokuba, took over Kaiba Corp. Gozaburo vanished without a trace after this, uploading his own mind into the virtual world. What happened to him depends on the material. In the original manga, he was so upset about Seto beating him that he committed suicide. However, the original dub of the anime has him commit suicide and upload his mind like he did with Noah and the 4Kids dub has him run away and upload his mind to the virtual world.

Revealing Himself

There, he and Noah attempted revenge on Seto, teaming up with the Big Five once they became trapped in the virtual world. The Big Five were defeated by Yugi and Katsuya Jonouchi and trapped by Noah, and Noah was defeated by Yugi. Gozaburo revealed to Seto that he was the one behind the whole thing, and all his true intentions. His plan is to use the satellite missiles to destroy every major city on Earth before hacking into the world's computer networks, and rule over humanity from within the Virtual World.

Dueling Seto

Gozaburo dueled Seto and, at first, he seemed invincible due to his even more powerful version of Exodia, Exodia Necross, who was invincible, until Seto removed the Exodia cards from the graveyard (where they needed to be for Exodia Necross to be invincible) and defeated Gozaburo. He transformed into a beast of flame and attacked Seto, but Noah, who had previously set the virtual world's fortress to self-destruct, held him in place, and he was deleted along with the virtual world. However, he survived long enough to reappear in the real world as a real beast of flame and attempted to take Seto with him by eating the blimp that Seto and the others were escaping in, but the blimp escaped from Gozaburo's flaming jaws and he vanished for good as the flames died down to regular fire.

Later Appearances

While Gozaburo in person was dead, Gozaburo did appear in Waking the dragons thought to have kidnapped/murdered Alister's brother. However Alister stopped hating Kaiba upon learning Dartz was the true criminal.

---

When I was done Alister was horrified! Gozaburo Kaiba was Antigod Incarnate!

Alister: I didn't know he was that evil!

Me: He makes Mr. Burns look like a total joke.

Seto Kaiba: That's right. He was a monster and he deserved to die.

Greiger: I heard about what Gozaburo Kaiba did and he was a monster.

Me: Yeah and he was also the first ever villain I used Hakai on.

Seto Kaiba: He deserved it.

Me: Yep.

Alister: I see.

Me: Shall we dance?

Alister: Lets. I summon GORLAG!

He summoned the legendary Balrog, GORLAG!

Me: I summon NINE-HEADED DRAGON!

Seto Kaiba: I summon BLUE-EYES ULTIMATE DRAGON!

Greiger: I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL CHACU CHALLHUA!

He summoned the Whale Earthbound Immortal Chacu Challhua!

Me: I activate my spell card! DRAGON SWORD TRANSFORMATION!

I activated said Spell card and it turned Nine-Headed Dragon into a sword with the blade being the 9 Dragons. Kaiba had his Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon transformed into a deadly sword.

Greiger: And I activate my spell card. EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL WEAPON TRANSFORMATION!

He activated said Spell Card and Chacu Challhua transformed into a powerful warhammer!

Me: This is awesome!

Alister: That is impressive how you can turn monsters into weapons.

Me: It sure is. Lets do it!

We went at him and slashed and smashed Alister and Gorlag and more and the Seal of Orichalcos was about to take him when Heidi stopped it.

Me: That was a close one.

Heidi: Alister I'm so sorry about what happened. But I can bring back Mikey and your mother. I have that power just like my grandfather and my family.

She snapped her fingers and brought Mikey and his mother back and Alister gasped when he saw them.

Mikey: Hey big bro.

He went over to them and hugged them for the first time in 7 years!

It was a great reunion.

---

Battle 8: BOOGIE MAN!

---

Later we regrouped and set our sights on the Boogie Man and his monsters and we went at them and blasted them all over the place with energy lasers, blasts, elemental blasts and more as we let all hell loose on them. The Megaforce Rangers were blasting them all over and Aimukk, Blugon, Odu Bathax, Arrthoa, and Cyrenox were blasting and smashing the monsters all over the place and more.

Edwayl: (Breton Accent) Take this one. CELTIC STYLE NINJA ART: ISHA!

Edwayl fired a wave of green energy and it formed into the Aeldari goddess of the Harvest, Isha and she blasted many monsters all over the place.

Natilee: Take this one. WOOD STYLE NINJA ART: THOUSAND FOREST ENTANGLEMENT!

Natilee touched the ground and a massive forest erupted out of the ground and they entangled the monsters all over.

Laney: And try this! CELTIC STYLE NINJA ART: KURNOUS!

Laney fired a wave of green energy and it formed into the Eldar Kurnous of the Hunt and he smashed and slashed and blasted many monsters all over the place.

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Cybertron Ransack: Right!

Demolishor: Lets do it!

Cybertron Ransack and Demolishor used the Velocitron Cyber Planet Keys and they turned Ransack's seat into a blaster and enhanced Demolishor's blasters 100-fold.

Jetfire used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Kirby used the Pop Star Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Jetfire's Photon Rifle and Kirby's abilities 100-fold. Kirby activated his Rainbow Sword power!

Cybertron Ransack and Demolishor: IONIC DEMOLISHING MEGABLAST!

G1 Jetfire and Kirby: PHOTON RAINBOW SWORDBLAST!

Andros and Devon Michaels: STELLAR CHEETAH BLAST!

TJ Johnson and Ravi Shaw: STAR GORILLA BLAST!

Ashley Hammond and Zoey Reeves: NEBULA JACKRABBIT BLAST!

Carlos Vallerte and Nate Silva: GRAVITY MANTIS BLAST!

Cassie Chan and Steel: COMET SCARAB BLAST!

Zhane and Merrick: STELLAR WOLF MEGABLAST!

They fired their blasts and they all combined and slammed into the Boogie Man and his monsters and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: I've had it with these clods!

Adult Blossom: Me too! Final Smash time!

Adult Powerpuff Girls: POWERPUFF MEGABLAST!

Natilee: DREAMSTORM MEGABLAST!

Fuzzy Lumpkins: MEAT LOVERS MEGABLAST!

The Adult Powerpuff girls fired blasts of Pink, Blue, Spring Green and Purple energy, Fuzzy fired blasts of energy from his Meat Gun and Natilee fired a wave of dream energy. The blasts all combined and they slammed into the monsters and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Later the young Powerpuff Girls were flying towards the Disco Ball.

(The girls approach the disco ball.)

Blossom: Accelerate to attack formation and follow me in.

(They begin to skim the surface, flying down a narrow trench.)

Blossom: I can see a small exhaust port at the end of the chasm. If we could just hit it with our laser vision, it should destroy the ball.

Bunny: Roger that.

They were flying through the trench.

(Still flying along the trench, the girls fired a single shot that curves neatly into the exhaust port. Long shot of the disco ball; the girls fly away from it and o.c., Bubbles with a big smile on her face. A moment later, the ball explodes into dust.

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

(On the ground, the monsters try to shield themselves from the restored sunlight.)

Crowd Of Monsters: OH, NO!

(Camera shifts to point up at the sun; the monsters turn black and evaporate as the Narrator speaks.)

Narrator: Oh, yes! The sun is free to shine on Gotham Royal York again. (Pan across a block of blackened monster leftovers.) Sorry, nightmares. Party's over. And don't let the doorknob hit you where the dog shoulda bit you. (The monsters disappear.)

Me: See you all in Hell.

Nico: You monsters have failed this city!

Fuzzy: Well, I'll be. It's morning already.

Number 7: We must've transitioned into morning during the battle.

Maria: I think it's safe to say that none of us got any sleep.

Me: I agree. (Yawns)

Zs'Skayr: You're telling me!

Dr. Light: So, what now?

William: Now, we go to bed for about 8 hours.

Electro: Sounds like a plan.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: (Tiredly) Lets head home.

Natilee: (To the viewers) Sleep is an important part of life. We need 8 hours of sleep or we can't function in the day.

Me: Yep.

(The background for the end shot comes up.)

Narrator: And once again, the day is saved.

(The girls appear and, asleep in bed. L to R: Blossom, Bubbles, Buttercup and Bunny.)

We were sleeping in our beds.

Narrator: Get it? The day is saved? You don't get it. Because it was gonna be perpetual night! (Blossom screws up her eyes.) You know, the daylight. They saved the day, literally! Ha, ha, ha!

(He laughs loudly; after a moment, Blossom opens her eyes and Buttercup glares at the camera out of one eye.)

Blossom: Shh!

(Both girls go back to sleep. Through all this, Bubbles stays out like a light.)

Narrator: (whispering) Oh, sorry. Thanks to Team Loud Phoenix Storm. Good night, everybody.

---

Another Powerpuff Girls Chapter done.

Boogie Frights from the Powerpuff Girls was awesome and it's one of my favorite episodes. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the first ever chapter of the funniest Stephen Spielberg show Freakazoid. Get ready to laugh your heads off as we face the evil Cobra Queen and chop that snakes head off!

See you all tomorrow.

COMEDY OF THE FREAKAZOID!

We were in the capital city of the United States of America, Washington D.C. Home to the president and lots of famous monuments and more from all over history.

Riku: Here we are in Washington DC.

Me: Yep. Our nation's capital and home to lots of famous events in history.

Laney: It's amazing that a lot of things happened here over the course of 250 years.

Lincoln: It's awesome.

Lana: It sure is.

Lola: The presidents are my favorite thing to learn about here.

Lisa Simpson: I hope to one day become one of the Presidents of the United States like in a vision of the future I had. (Season 11 Episode 17.)

Bart: I remember seeing that. You would make an awesome President.

Nico: She sure would.

Me: But that would be so cool. In all of the history of our country we have never had a female president and it would be awesome if we had one.

Lucy Loud: Yeah.

Laney: It was awesome how you got rid of that witch Dolores Umbridge, J.D.

Me: That fucked up bitch deserved it and she deserved much worse than death.

---

In the Comet Lovejoy Prison, I was there to visit the most hated member of the Hogwarts School staff: Dolores Umbridge. I walked down the prison halls and made it to her cell and opened it.

Me: Dolores Umbridge. How nice to see you again. But it'll be for the last time.

Dolores: (British Accent) J.D. Knudson, you have a lot of nerve locking me up in here.

Me: Tell that to all of the thousands of innocent people you falsely sent to Azkaban.

Dolores: I was doing what was right!

Me: Bullshit! You are nothing but a pathological liar and people like you deserve the worst kinds of punishments ever. But in my opinion, Hell is too merciful for you. That's why the wizarding world gave you this.

I pulled out a rolled up document and showed it to her. It was an Order for her Execution.

Me: Your life sentence in here has been amended to Death and I am your executioner.

Dolores was shaking in fear.

Me: Voldemort is dead and we killed all of his followers and Hakaied them out of existence for all eternity. And you are the only one left. Good-bye Dolores (Holds up hand to her face) And give my regards to Voldemort you monster from The Devil.

Dolores: (Frightened) NO! YOU CAN'T!

Me: HAKAI!

Dolores glowed purple and she screamed in excruciating agony as she was being completely obliterated. She was erased from existence forever as if she was never born at all.

Me: Good riddance.

I left the prison.

FLASHBACK ENDS

Nico: Good riddance. Letting her live was a mistake.

Me: Yeah.

KRABBOOOOOMMMM!

An explosion happened at a local bank and we saw 4 robbers firing guns at the bank as they make off with huge bags of money!

Me: Uh oh! Looks like we got a 2-11 in Progress! Lets get them!

We went at the robbers.

Robber 1: Thanks for the loot shitasses! Lets get outta here boys!

Me: You robbers picked a bad day to rob a bank!

I punched a robber in the face and Nico punched the second robber in the back of the head and Lana and Lola bonked the other two robbers heads together and we knocked them out.

Nico: You four have failed this world!

Lana: Big time!

Luan: You sure have Robbed your last cookie. (Laughs) Get it?

We laughed at Luan's joke and it was a good one.

Me: (Laughs) That was a good one!

Varie: (Laughs) That was funny!

?: Awesome job guys!

We turned and we saw a man with blue skin and he had funny black hair and long underwear on and he had an "F!" on his chest. It was the funniest hero in all of the world: FREAKAZOID!

Me: No way! Freakazoid!

Nico: Oh wow! I love you man! You always have a funny side to you and how you always make some of us split our sides!

Lori: You are literally one of our favorite funny superheroes!

Lynn: I love how you crack us up!

Lola: Yeah you make us laugh all the time!

Freakazoid: It's an honor to meet you Team Loud Phoenix Storm. Put her there.

I shook his hand and then…

ZZZZAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPP!

I got zapped with a joy buzzer.

Me: (LAUGHS) You are so funny!

Luan: He sure is.

Antonio Garcia: Nice to meet you, Freakazoid!

Freakazoid: Same to all of you.

Me: It sure is.

Lana: He also put this on your back J.D.

I felt my back and pulled off a kick me sign.

Me: Kick Me! I'm a stupid big dumb idiot. (Laughs) Man that gag is funny.

Nico: Yeah.

Freakazoid: Thank goodness you all came. I'm going after Cobra Queen.

Me: Cobra Queen. Lets see here.

I pulled up her information.

---

Audrey Manatee was a former shoplifter who stole an experimental cosmetic that had been in the sun too long. Upon using it, she was transformed into a half-human/half-snake woman. By the time she was in high school, she could not get dates because of skin problems (i.e., shedding).

Her powers include the ability to command snakes and lizards (but not dogs or plucky game fish), and to spit venom which can melt concrete. She has several giant pet snakes who do her bidding. She made a lair for herself in the sewers, making herself immune from crime fighting forces, who unilaterally hate poo gas and doody water. After a robbery, she enjoys returning to the sewer, putting on something special, and listening to the 1960s group the Ray Conniff Singers. Due to her lisp, she is incapable of saying, "Silly Sally sells sappy silver seashells in Seattle," and passes out when she attempts to do so. She hates being compared to Sylvester the Cat.

Besides Freakazoid, Cobra Queen has another nemesis named Atomic Boy. She occasionally teams up with Freakazoid's other enemies to defeat him, generally when they are all brought together by the Lobe. She eventually enters a romantic relationship with Cave Guy, and they try to steal the Diamond Hat of the Czars. Even after being sent to jail by Freakazoid, the two seem to continue their romantic dalliance, and are seen embracing during the closing musical number in the series finale.

She and Steff bond when they have to repair the Prison Air plane, which crashed on a mysterious island while Freakazoid was transporting all of his enemies to France.

---

We gasped.

Me: So we have a fucked up freak of nature to kill.

Lori: Yeah. I have always hated Cobra Queen.

Freakazoid: I can show you how to fight using my jokes.

Lola: Look, Freakazoid. I like your jokes as much as the next person. But you need to take things more seriously. Your jokes might fly with your bad guys. But not with the more dangerous villains out there.

Freakzoid: Whoa, babe. I know that I have to take things seriously sometimes. But I think that you guys shouldn't take things TOO seriously. You need to learn to lgihten up Every once in a while, it's ok to joke around and have fun while still fighting bad guys.

Lori: We'll literally lighten up when the Cobra Queen is bleeding on the ground!

Swindle: Ok. I think that's a little uncalled for.

Lynn: (growls) You know what's uncalled for? The Cobra Queen's existence!

Me: I agree. The Cobra Queen is a freak of nature and she has to be stopped. But I agree with both sides on this one because I think adding witty banter as well as comedy shenanigans goes great with battle.

Nico: I agree too.

We all agreed.

Freakazoid: Awesome!

Me: Want to go get some lunch with us Freakazoid?

Freakazoid: DO I!?

He went with us.

* * *

We were at an awesome restaurant and it was so cool.

Me: (Eats Spaghetti) Good spaghetti.

Lincoln: You said it.

Nico: It's really good food.

But then our lunch was interrupted when we saw a massive cobra come smashing through the window and it was a huge cobra as big as a tree and just as long as one!

Me: WHOA! That is a huge cobra!

It hissed at us ferociously!

Cobra Queen: Looks like I'm fighting two kinds of heroes today. (to us) The kind that takes things seriously. (to Freakazoid) And the kind that doesn't take things seriously enough!

Me: Says the girl that couldn't say Silly Sally sells sappy Silver seashells in Seattle.

BURN!

Cobra Queen: WHY YOU LITTLE!?

Me: Now we're gonna turn you into a snake skin wallet.

Lana: And I'll keep your cobras as my friends.

Krusty, The Springfield Mafia and Technus came out.

Krusty: Hey hey kiddies! (Goofy laugh)

Me: Hey Krusty.

Freakazoid came up to them.

Freakazoid: It's nice to meet Team Loud Phoenix Storm's frenemies. Here' my way of saying hello! (throws pie at Krusty's face)

SPLAT!

Krusty: Nice one! But I'm the master of comedy!

Fat Tony: Krusty, as someone who's watched your show before Springfield's destruction, I think some of Team Loud Phoenix Storm's comedic members might have to disagree with you.

Luan: That's right.

She threw a bunch of pies and they hit Krusty and the Springfield Mafia in their faces and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!
KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

We laughed hysterically.

Luan: That's one pie that really Blows. (Laughs) Get it?

?: We don't get it.

2 figures came out and the first one was VACKSACKER from Episode 38 of In Space.

---

Vacsacker was a robotic monster that was used to abduct people to Secret City. A little friend of the Rangers, Silvy forced Andros to use his new Battlizer against Vacsacker. Vacsacker was ultimately destroyed by the Mega Voyager.

---

And the second one was an Evil Version of Mai Valentine when she was under the influence of Dartz!

Andros: Vacsacker!

Mai Valentine: And that's me when I was under the influence of Dartz!

Me: I remember you Vacsacker! You were used to abduct people of Secret City and Andros tried out his new Battlizer against you.

Vacsacker: That's right. Good memory on you.

Evil Mai: So you all killed my teammates.

Me: Weevil Underwood and Rex Raptor only got killed.

Valon: (Australian Accent) I can't believe that you became like this Mai.

Mai Valentine: I know. Marik planted the seeds of evil.

Nico: And he paid for it with his life.

Laney: He sure did.

Vacsacker: (to Freakazoid) Go ahead and prank us. And then, you'll meet your end just like Dark Spector!

Evil Mai: And just like Marik.

Me: Should not have provoked him.

Freakazoid threw a bear trap and it snapped onto Vacsacker's face and he gave the evil Mai an atomic wedgie.

Me: OOH! CHIHUAHUA!

Lana: Yeah!

Luan: That one couldn't Bear fruit and that one raises you high! (Laughs to rimshot) Get it?

We laughed hysterically!

Troy: Freakazoid, let us show you a gag of our own.

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Lost Galaxy!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Lost Galaxy Rangers.

Carly Carmine then appeared.

Carly Carmine: Let me help against the Evil Mai.

Jack Atlas: (Australian Accent) Thanks Carly.

Then we heard a horn sound.

Me: Whoa what is that horn?

Freakazoid: That's the Horn of Urgency.

?: INTO ACTION!

A figure came in and it was THE HUNTSMAN!

* * *

The Huntsman is a superhero who seems to do his principle crime-fighting in Washington, D.C. (he fights many of the same villains as Freakazoid, including the Lobe and Cave Guy). As of "The Freakazoid," he has relocated to a new city. Preferring a rural life, he lives in a cave outside of town, but when the police blow the Horn of Urgency located on top of their station, he bolts into action.

The Huntsman is voiced by Jeff Glen Bennett.

The Huntsman's human identity was Marty Feeb. He was a goofy-looking nerdy hunter, poor and hungry, when he had the good fortune of one day coming upon a chunky elf who was being captured by a crow. Feeb saved the elf's life, and the elf rewarded him by giving him a sack of magic corn which gave him super strength and speed, as well as shiny teeth.

The Huntsman is an extraordinary crimefighter, but consistently encounters a drought in criminal activity which leaves him with nothing to do. His euphemism of choice is, "Darn! Darn the luck!"

He has a brother named Hector Feeb. He has a particular fondness for berry water. He enjoys watching the polly fish at the aquarium, which he finds comical. He also acts as umpire for the annual Superheroes-Villains Softball Game.

The Huntsman subsequently moved to a new city, but crime in that city immediately dried up as well. On Freakazoid's birthday, the Huntsman begged him to help him find work, since both heroes (incorrectly) believed that no superhero can refuse a request on his birthday. The Huntsman was doubly unfortunate in that he had lost the address of a superhero conference that was being held on some moon.

He is last seen confronting Freakazoid at the Anaheim sci-fi convention (along with Lord Bravery, Fan Boy and Bo-Ron) regarding his role (or lack thereof) in the second season of Freakazoid! Freakazoid says that the group should have gotten a memo from the producers, then puts them to work washing the Freakmobile on the Warner Bros. Lot.

Me: WOW! The Huntsman!

Huntsman: It's an honor to meet you all J.D.

Me: Same to you. Lets take these monsters down.

We went at them.

---

Battle 1: Technus

---

Cyborg was facing Technus.

Cyborg: Lets do this Technus.

Technus: With pleasure!

Cyborg then grabbed Technus in a headlock and gave him a noogie and it really hurt him.

Technus: OUCH! OOH! OW OW OOH! STOP IT!

Cyborg then gave him a wet willie and punched him in the face all over the place and more. He then blasted his face with his sonic cannon and knocked him down.

Cyborg: This is so funny!

Battle 2: Springfield Mafia

Sora Takenouchi was facing the Springfield Mafia.

Legs: Get in my way and I'll whack you in the Labonza.

Sora Takenouchi: Get in MY way Legs and I'll kick you in the fucking balls.

Legs: WHAT DID YOU SAY TO ME!?

Sora kicked him in the crotch and Legs screamed like a little girl and she punched Louie in the face and kicked him in in the stomach and punched Fat Tony in the face and knocked them down.

Battle 3: Krusty

Jackie was facing Krusty.

Jackie: This is gonna be good.

Krusty: Lets do it.

Jackie pulled out a Limburger Cheese wheel and grabbed Krusty in a headlock and rubbed his face all over with the cheese and then shoved it down his pants and it smelled horrible. Jackie fired waves of fire into his pants and melted the cheese and it smelled really horrible! IT WAS HORRIBLE!

Jackie then gave Krusty a massive burning atomic wedgie and he screamed like a little girl.

Jackie kicked him in the face and knocked him down.

---

Battle 4: Gramma Stuffum

---

Hardcore Rock music was playing as Qin and the Kids Next Door were standing ready.

Qin: Stand ready for anything.

Numbuh 1: Right.

Qin: This is gonna be good.

Drums were heard and then a few seconds later, Gramma Stuffum's food minions appeared ready for a fight!

The music got loud and more hardcore and it was wicked! Then the minions came at them and the music got more intense!

Qin and the KND were fighting the food minions and singing the song was none other than GRAMMA STUFFUM HERSELF!

---

She first appeared in Operation: N.O.-P.O.W.U.H., in which she was interviewed by The Delightful Children From Down The Lane, who wanted to find a villain to bring havoc upon the KND. They convinced her to do so by saying their foes were famished. Gramma Stuffum then attacks Sector V Treehouse with her food army while their power is out. She is able to fatten Numbuh 1, Numbuh 3, Numbuh 4 and Numbuh 5 into a state of helplessness, but Numbuh 2, who has an enormous appetite and is more tolerant of her disgusting dishes, proves much more difficult to subdue. When he is finally full and about to give up, the Hamsters return and eat the rest of her food. Numbuh 2 then fires Gramma Stuffum back to the Delightful Mansion From Down The Lane, where she decides to feed the Delightful Children.

She appeared again in Operation: F.O.O.D.F.I.T.E., She is apparently revealed to be a cafeteria chef at Gallagher Elementary.

During lunch period, the members of Sector V have an extended battle with her and her food, which is implied to be a regular occurrence during lunchtime. Gramma Stuffum then summons the monstrous Slamwich, which overwhelms the children until the super-powered hamster Joaquin appears and eats it. During the battle sequences are lyrically altered versions of the GWAR songs "The Private Pain of Techno Destructo" and "Gor-Gor". GWAR provided the music for this episode under the name "RAWG". After her defeat, she tells them to prepare for lunch the next day and Numbuh 4 throws a chicken leg at her, hitting her in the head as he tells her to get a real cookbook.

---

Grandma Stuffum: I've got pork fat and gravy going through my veins.

I serve dead monkey pudding and platypus brains.

I'm Grandmother Stuffum!

Food: Grandmother Stuffum!

GS: I came to this school to feed you kids

And bake up pies with jellied squids.

(She threw the pies at them and Qin kicked one and one latched onto Numbuh 1 and Numbuh 4 and she threw two more pies and Qin ate one and it was tasty to her and Numbuh 2 ate one and Qin fired blasts of fire at the pies and burned them to a crisp. Numbuh 1 got the pie off and Qin and the Kids Next Door set their sights on killing Gramma Stuffum to put an end to her force feeding torture forever!)

Kids… must eat!

Kids… must eat!

(Summons more of her food minions)

Kids… must eat!

(Summons more food minions)

Kids… must eat!

(The food minions went at them)

Numbuh 1 splattered minions all over with the S.P.L.A.N.K.E.R. and Qin fired blasted minions all over with blasts of fire and burned them to crisps and blew them apart in massive fiery explosions.

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!
KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMMMMM!

Numbuh 3 was being chased my a Jellied Squid and a bunch of food minions and when she was cornered, Numbuhs 362, 4 83, 84, 5 and 1 kicked them away. Numbuh 2 was surrounded and he ate a bunch of food minions all over and Numbuh 5 was crawling all over a food minion and blasting it all over and Qin fired blasts of fire all over it and burned it and ate it.

Kids were not put on this earth to nibble.

Food: No-o!

GS: You all must be helpless and fat.

Food: Yeah-ah!

GS: That way, you can't get yourself in trouble…

Food: No-o!

GS: While Grandma gets to feed you curried rat!

Qin ate some of the curried rat and some of it splattered into Numbuh 1's face and Numbuh 84 got some of it off Numbuh 4's face.

I will… stop you…

with moose… fondue!

Numbuh 2 ate the Moose Fondue off of Numbuh 2 and Numbuh 83 ate the rest off of Numbuh 362. More Curried Rat splattered into Numbuhs 3 and 4 and Lizzie ate the curried rat all over.

You will… chow on…

tuna… meltdown!

Numbuh 2 ate it.

Eat it!

Scarf it!

Bite it!

Cram it!

Down it!

Chow it!

Want it!

Pig out!

I will make you… fatter!

Then the Kids Next Door members and Qin exploded out of a pile of food with their lasers and fire blasts blazing and destroying the food all over the place with incredible fury.

I came to this school with my food

To conquer the young and rude.

I'm Grandmother Stuffum.

Food: Grandmother Stuffum!

GS: You must eat now. Try my deep-fried boar.

But you just never listen, cursed Kids Next Door.

A massive stampede of ham boars charged and Qin was eating them all over the place. Since she was now part Komodo Dragon, her appetite will never be satisfied.

Kids… must eat!

Kids… must eat!

Kids… must eat!

Kids… must eat!

She sent more of her armies of food minions all over the place! Numbuh 2 ate a minion and Qin fired blasts of fire all over and Numbuhs 83, 84, 4, 5, 6, 7, 362 and 1 were blasting and eating the minions all over the place with incredible fury!

Kids were not put on this earth to nibble.

Food: No-o!

GS: You all must be helpless and fat.

Food: Yeah-ah!

GS: That way you can't get yourself in trouble.

Food: No-o!

GS: While Grandma gets to feed you toasted bat!

Then then went to Gramma Stuffum!

You can't… beat me!

They hit her with S.P.L.A.N.K.E.R.'s!

You can't… toast me!

Blasted her with lasers all over.

You won't… grill me!

Blasted her with fire.

You won't… poach me!

They had their weapons and fire powers all pointed at her at point blank range.

Cook me!

SPLAT!

Stew me!

SPLAT!

Boil me!

ZAP!

Fry me!

SPLAT!

Baste me!

WHOOSH!

Broil me!

SPLAT!

Roast me!

SPLAT!

Bake me!

WHOOSH!

You'll just make me…

They then kicked and punched her all over with incredible power!

Numbuh 4 pushed her back into the kitchen.

Numbuh 3: YAY! We won! We won we won!

Qin: We're not out of the woods yet.

Numbuh 4: What do you mean?

They felt rumbling!

Food: Slam Witch… [x6]

Qin: RUN FOR IT!

They ran fast. And then a massive giant sandwich minion exploded out of the restaurant as hardcore rock music played!

Slam Witch! [x6]

The Slam Witch was chasing Qin and The Kids Next Door and it had an enormous appetite for blood!

GS: Slam Witch comes and children scream

Made of brains and sour cream

If kids won't eat his moldy bread,

Then Slam Witch eats you kids instead!

Slam Witch comes and you'll all cry

Swats F-16's from the sky

Admit you crave his drippy spinach

Fall and worship giant sandwich!

Qin fired waves of fire at the Slam Witch and burned it all over the place as it continued to chase them non stop and it was gaining on them!

Food: Slam Witch! [x6]

Qin fired more blasts of fire and more. But that didn't stop the sandwich monster!

GS: Scores of kids he has ate

And shall obliterate

The Kids Next Door and all their brothers

And all the misbehaving others

Who won't eat Gramma Stuffum's food

And now themselves are chomped and chewed!

But he who's made of skunks and dried veal

Comes to make you kids his next meal!

Jump inside his massive jaw

Amid the plaque and old coleslaw!

With giant sandwich's pair of claws

On Kids Next Door, he chomps and gnaws!

Slam-slam Witch!

The sandwich monster grabbed the members of the KND except for Qin.

Qin: Now you pissed me off you old bitch!

Qin snapped her fingers and she grew to the size of the Slam Witch! And she was ready for a fight!

GS: Rotten kids or children monster

Slam Witch eats them all with muenster!

Miserable, verminous, despicable brat

Will now make Slam Witch nice and fat!

Qin: BRING IT!

GS: Slam Witch, charge!

Slam Witch, fight!

The sandwich and Qin engaged in a huge tussle!

Slam Witch, eat!

Slam Witch-ooh!

Qin kicked the huge sandwich and sent it skidding!

How dare you refuse my tasty monster?

Slam Witch will destroy you, Buzzard!

Before you jump into his gizzard,

Have a taste of candied lizard!

Qin swatted the disgusting food away and kicked the sandwich away.

Slam Witch comes and he must eat!

He's made of cheese and puppy feet!

And if you crave to be his dinner,

Fall and worship Slam Witch winner!

But then the monster sandwich was getting electrocuted from the Kids Next Door from the inside by their blasters!

Slam Witch? Why do you twitch?

My giant sandwich! Slam Witch!

Qin gave the giant sandwich a squeeze with the Heimlich Maneuver and made him throw up the Kids Next Door.

Slamwitch!

KND: Go Qin!

GS: Slam Witch! Slam Witch!

Qin was ripping the sandwich monster apart as she was eating it for her dinner and more.

KND: Go QIN!

GS: Slam Witch?

KND: YAY QIN!

Qin fired a wave of fire and incinerated Gramma Stuffum and killed her in an instant!

Qin then Belched.

BBBBBBBUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUURRRR

Numbuh 1: Awesome job Qin!

Katie: You were awesome Qin.

Qin: Aw it was nothing.

Lizzie: You did a great job.

Qin: Lets head back and help everyone out.

Mushi Sanban: Right.

Battle 5: Vacsacker

Varie, Carly and Mai Valentine were facing Mai's evil twin.

Mai Valentine: I can't believe I turned into you when Dartz brainwashed me.

Evil Mai: Lets do it! I activate THE SEAL OF ORICHALCOS!

She activated it and a green circle with Enochian symbols appeared around her and encircled them and the Seal was on the floor. An aura of darkness formed around her and the Seal of Orichalcos glowed in the middle of her forehead and her eyes were glowing red with pure evil! The level of rage and hatred burning burning inside her eyes was unbelievable!

Varie: You have totally lost it!

Carly Carmine: I agree. She needs to be put down like a mad dog!

Mai Valentine: Yeah.

Evil Mai: Lets dance then! I summon 9 HARPIE LADY'S!

She summoned 9 Harpie Lady's and they screeched ferociously!

She equipped herself with said cards.

Carly Carmine: Now for me. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL ASLLA PISCU, FORTUNE LADIES FIRE, WATER, DARK, EARTH, WIND and LIGHT!

She summoned said monsters!

Carly Carmine: And I activate EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL SWORD TRANSFORMATION!

Aslla Piscu glowed and transformed into a deadly hummingbird sword. Its blade was its beak and the hilt was its wings and it had the Hummingbird Nazca Line on it.

Varie: Wow! That sword is awesome Carly.

Carly Carmine: Thanks Varie. It's my first time trying this out.

Mai Valentine: This doppelgänger will pay for ruining my name! I summon HARPIE LADY, HARPIE LADY SISTERS, HARPIE GIRL, HARPIE ORACLE, HARPIE QUEEN, HARPIE PERFUMER, HARPIE'S PET DRAGON and HARPIE LADY 1, 2 & 3!

She summoned said monsters.

Mai Valentine: I equip myself with SILVER WING and SWORD OF SPARKLES!

She equipped herself with said cards and she looked like a true angel from heaven.

Varie: Awesome! Lets get this bitch!

They went at the Evil Mai and slashed and blasted her all over the place with incredible fury and Varie flew into the Air and the Harpie Lady's all went at her and she slashed them with the sword and Mai slashed them too and they went at the evil Mai and slashed and blasted her all over the place and more. They knocked her down and they won. The Seal of Orichalcos then enclosed around the Evil Mai and enveloped her in a massively bright pillar of light and she screamed in excruciating agony as he soul was sucked out of her along with her body and sent off to the darkness of hell forever.

Heidi: Geez!

Valon: I can't believe that you were once like that Mai.

Mai Valentine: I know. It was awful. I was a monster.

Varie: Blame Marik for that.

Mai Valentine: Yeah.

Carly Carmine: Yeah but Marik deserved to die.

Battle 7: COBRA QUEEN!

We regrouped and went at the Cobra Queen.

I punched her in the face and Lana tamed her huge Cobras. But then the snakes glowed red and blue and out of them came two animal crystals. One was a red Coral Snake Zord and the other was a Black Mamba Zord!

Lana: Whoa! Two new Animal Crystals. A Coral Snake and a Black Mamba.

Then said zords appeared and they hissed ferociously.

Nico: WHOA! The two deadliest snakes in the planet.

Me: Lana got them now.

Cole Evans: Wow! Nico you have the King Cobra Zord.

Nico: I sure do. And now Lana has the Coral Snake and Black Mamba Zords.

Laney: Three of the deadliest snakes in the world. One bite from them can kill you in less than 15 minutes.

Lily: Potent.

Kevin (Ed Edd N Eddy): Too bad we don't have a mongoose!

Me: But that would be perfect for this battle.

Beast Boy: Watch this!

Luna Loud: We need your help to destroy the evil Cobra Queen.

Crag: Okay. That must be the one you're all fighting.

Lincoln: That's her.

Slab: Looks like we have a great fight coming.

Crag: Come on guys!

Luna, Lincoln and the Ripping Friends: IT'S RIPPING TIME!

They put their rings together and a massive surge of power flowed through them! THE END

Another Awesome fanfic done and the First Chapter of Freakazoid done.

Freakazoid was one of my favorite cartoons from when I was a kid and it was because of those dumb ratings that it got cancelled. WHAT A RIP! It was on from September 9, 1995 to June 1, 1997 and it was a darn shame that we couldn't see more of it because of those dumb critics! The fight with Gramma Stuffum is based on the Kids Next Door episode Operation: F.O.O.D.F.I.T.E. and that was a hardcore rocking episode! YEAH! NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is a non-combat chapter where we have Johnny Test do a funny version of Johnny Appleseed called Johnny Applesauce and help him give kids applesauce and have the Kids Next Door arrest the lunch lady serving disgusting Brussel Sprouts! YUCK!

See you all tomorrow.

The Story About Johnny Applesauce

We were over at the house of Fanny Fulbright A.K.A. Numbuh 86. She was having a yard sale and trying to sell a lot of stuff that was laying around her house and she was also trying to sell her old Decommissioning Equipment.

Maria: Numbuh 86? What are you doing with that decommissioning equipment?

Numbuh 86: (Scottish Accent) Well, you've gotta face facts. There's no more decommissioning in the KND. So, I'm gonna sell the equipment for it in a yard sale at my house.

William: Out of curiosity, what job in the KND do you have now?

Numbuh 86: I'm now the Soda, Snacks and Treats officer but I am still the Decommissioning Officer.

Me: Well there's still a bunch of rogue Kids Next Door operatives still at large. We have to find Numbuh 12 and a bunch of evil teens that we missed.

Yuko Tani: Yeah. I was shocked when I saw Numbuh 12 go turncoat.

Me: Well when we catch her she'll be the first to be decommissioned.

Nico: Yeah.

Me: We can use the Decommissioning Equipment to build our own Decommissioning Bay just for rogue Kids Next Door operatives.

Numbuh 86: Good idea.

I opened my wallet and bought all the Decommissioning Equipment for $25,000.00.

Laney: That's a lot of money.

Me: It's worth it. I'm going to go talk to Mr. Boss really quick.

I went inside the house and I was talking to Mr. Boss.

---

Mr. Boss is a fat, greedy villain and a major antagonist from the show Codename: Kids Next Door. He is Father's right hand. He is Numbuh 3's arch-nemesis and Numbuh 86's father.

He was voiced by Jeff Bennett.

Despite the fact that he has not fought with any weapons or technology, Mr. Boss is the #2 greatest enemy of the Kids Next Door, and unsurprisingly, it is Father and the Delightful Children From Down the Lane who top the list. He always has a cigar in his mouth. He is the leader of the Villains who are adults, and has no control over the children villains (who Father has control over few of them or they work alone).

As second-in-command of the adult villains, he is also the minor leader of all the common-appearing villains. His three most supportive henchmen are Crazy Old Cat Lady and Mr. Wink and Mr. Fibb. Later, it is revealed in Operation: D.A.D.D.Y. that Numbuh 86 (Fanny Fulbright) is actually his daughter, and that Mr. Boss loves his children, and still cares about them a lot even if they're in the Kids Next Door, including one of his sons Numbuh 85.

His biggest plan before was to transport all girls, then the boys to planet Pluto, but was stopped by Numbuhs 3 and 4. Numbuh 1 calls him Sector V's most biggest enemy, but he was fought only four times. He is a "boss" because Numbuh 3's mother and Numbuh 4's father work for him as boss.

Personality

Mr. Boss is a greedy, corrupt, obnoxious, argumentative, and child-hating executive who is president and CEO of a company and acts as the de-facto leader of the KND's rogue's gallery. He loves money and likes adults running things (especially profitable ones). Mr. Boss prefers to have smart and very competent allies to accompany him in his plans as; he disapproves of Toiletnator's help because of how gullible and reckless he is. Mr. Boss likes making children's lives miserable and has a huge dislike towards Sector V (especially Numbuh's 3 and 1) for ruining most of his evil plans. Despite his vituperative and hateful nature, he loves his own children very much and doesn't mind if they are in the Kids Next Door. He shows concern if his children are endangered and will do anything to protect them. He even shows remorse if he goes too far when he realises his actions has emotionally hurt his children.

---

When I first saw Mr. Boss and heard about everything he did, I wanted him to burn in Seven Hells for his crimes against children. But after Yuko told me about him being Numbuh 85 and 86's father, I realized that killing him would ruin his kids. Especially Numbuh 86 & 85. I made another part of our code saying that we will never kill the parents of the Kids Next Door operatives even if they are evil adult villains.

Mr. Boss: Hey J.D.

Me: Hello Mr. Boss. I'm sorry we wanted to kill you Mr. Boss. After seeing how you love Numbuh's 85 & 86 we can never bring ourselves to kill a loving parent.

Mr. Boss: I appreciate that and I kinda knew that was the reason you spared me. I also thought that you simply didn't have time to fight ALL of my former adult buddies.

Me: No we have plenty of time now to deal with them. But that's the reason why I came to talk to you. I came to tell you about the kind of monster that Father was.

Mr. Boss: I'm all ears.

Me: Well it's not pretty. He was a genocidal parent that was out to kill the entire human race.

I went over Father's entire history.

---

Benedict "Father" Uno is the archnemesis of the KND and the main antagonist of the series. His ultimate goal is to destroy the Kids Next Door so that adults can rule the world unopposed.

Father resides at the Delightful Mansion From Down The Lane with his brainwashed children, the Delightful Children From Down the Lane. Father usually sends other villains to carry out his work and rarely attacks the KND himself, and is thus much less often seen than the Delightful Children, though he appears in a few episodes without the Delightful Children appearing. He was first seen in Operation: G.R.O.W.-U.P., the Season 1 finale and the first 30 minute episode of the series.

It is revealed in Operation: Z.E.R.O. that Father's true identity is Benedict Uno (also called Ben for short), the brother of Monty Uno and thus the uncle of Numbuh 1.

Pre-Series

As a child in Great Britain, Benedict Uno was terrified of his own father, being extremely obedient despite his dislike for the man. When Monty Uno decided to rebel against Grandfather, Benedict insisted that they would stand no chance against him, and, as a result of his cowardice, he did not join Monty in the uprising, which ultimately did prove successful.

Sometime between this incident and the present day of the series, Benedict took up his father's mantle as the king of evil and ultimate oppressor of children, became a demonic being similar to Grandfather, and vowed to destroy the Kids Next Door. He also moved to the United States.

Ultimate Evil

At one point, Father created the Delightfulization Chamber, a device designed to turn any kid into a mindlessly obedient and perfectly behaved child (most likely as a precaution for what happened between Monty and Grandfather, from happening to him). The first working Delightfulization Chamber was used on Sector Z. During the Delightfulization Process, the machine blew a fuse for reasons unknown, caused it to explode, and amplified its effects "eleventy billion-fold", which created the Delightful Children From Down The Lane, who from then on, would be Father's "children" and most powerful allies.

Other notable minions of Father include the Ice Cream Men, Six-Gum Gang and the Teen Ninjas, including his apprentice, Cree Lincoln and his captain, Chad Dickson. Father does not directly control the majority of the KND's rogues gallery, but frequently employs the services of other villains who, while otherwise operating independently, are readily willing to serve him.

Even the Delightful Children frequently appear without Father. Father is occasionally seen attending the villain meetings of Mr. Boss, who regularly functions as a leader of the series' lesser villains or as a second-in-command. In Operation: C.A.K.E.D.-F.O.U.R. and the comic story Operation: H.I.S.T.O.R.I.E., Father is said to be the head of a company called "Evil Adult Industries Inc."

It is also implied that Father employs several children similar to the DCFDTL throughout the world, as shown in the Interesting Twins From Beneath the Mountain and Rowdy Hooligans From Across the Square.

Battling the Kids Next Door

Father was first encountered by Sector V in Operation: G.R.O.W.-U.P., in which he admonishes the DCFDTL for their repeated failures against the KND. He allows his children to use the "Really Really Incredibly Destructive Machine" to destroy the Sector V Treehouse; in the process, the Delightful Children also manage to transform Numbuh 1 into an adult with the Age Cigar. The remaining members of Sector V infiltrate the Delightful Mansion From Down The Lane to retrieve the cigar, with Numbuh 1 (now "Mr. Uno" the ice cream man) joining them to defeat the Delightful Children.

Sarcastically applauding Uno's success at defeating "a bunch of little kids", Father attacked with his devastating fire powers, but Sector V was able to triumph by covering him with all the ice cream in Mr. Uno's truck. As Numbuh 1 de-aged himself back to his old self and escaped with his team, Father could only lie on the floor, weakly ordering the DCFDTL to get his sweater.

His second major appearance was in Operation: G.R.A.D.U.A.T.E.S., the culmination of a story arc consisting of several loosely-related episodes. Here, he activates a device which creates a rapidly-expanding energy field that turns all KND operatives caught in it into animals. However, the field's reliance on the KND Code Module for its targets backfires when Tommy Gilligan decommissions himself, gaining immunity to the energy field. He proceeds to upload the DNA of the DCFDTL - and Father himself - into the KND Code Module, making them viable targets for their own weapon. Transformed into a panther, Father was locked in his own mansion's cages, allowing Tommy to free his trapped comrades and destroy the device producing the energy field. With the energy field gone, Father returned to normal, but the KND were long gone by the time he escaped his own prison.

Although Tommy's actions defeated him at the time, Father's failed scheme would bear surprising fruit in Operation: I.T. With his DNA in the Code Module, he was technically a KND operative; thus, he was able to infiltrate their Moon Base. Coincidentally, he arrived during the annual competition for leadership (a worldwide game of Tag, since nobody actually wanted the job), and Numbuh 2 was using the Code Module to track his fellow operatives. Currently "It", with ten seconds left to get rid of the status, Numbuh 2 threw open a door and blindly tagged the person behind it - unfortunately for him, Father was that person. As the villain gloated, the clock struck noon, officially making Father the Supreme Leader of the KND.

Convening the irate Operatives in the KND Super Convention Center, Father explained how his DNA was loaded into the Code Module by Tommy, thereby making him a member despite his age and decidedly anti-kid sympathies. Numbuh 86 and her team attempted to decommission him on the spot, but Father invented a new rule on the spot that prevented her from doing so. After the Decommissioning Squad stood down, Father claimed that he had turned over a new leaf; thus, he declared his intent to destroy all broccoli in the world. This action won most of the Operatives' trust, allowing him to dismiss them to their treehouses with minimal resistance. However, it was a ploy to put his foes in the way of his real aim: by infecting the KND Treehouse Central Root System with a "patent pending broccoli virus", Father planned to transform all treehouses into broccoli farms, thereby weakening the KND Operatives and providing enough broccoli to feed every kid in the world.

Numbuh 1 and Numbuh 362 attempted to trick Father into making them Supreme Leader - by complimenting him and offering advice on being Supreme Leader, respectively - but the villain was not fooled, that is, until he bragged about how he was carelessly tagged by Numbuh 2 and demonstrated on Numbuh 362, at which point 362 panicked and tagged the DCFDTL, who then panicked and tagged Father again, but in the process successfully started another game of tag. Father then created an army of clones to attack and confuse them until his status became permanent at noon.

However, his statement that no one liked broccoli proved to be his undoing: no happier about Father's plan than the KND, the Delightful Children returned the Code Module to the Operatives, who used it to track the real Father and eliminate his clones. For his last defense, Father attempted to protect himself with a solid wall of broccoli, only for Numbuh 362 to heroically chew through the mass, pin down Father, and threaten him with a piece of broccoli unless he relinquished his authority by tagging her. After Father and the Delightful Children were removed from the base, their DNA was extracted from the Code Module to prevent a repeat of the incident.

Grandfather Reborn

As the secondary antagonist in Operation: Z.E.R.O., Father employs the help of nearly every villain in the universe and organizes a massive attack on the Kids Next Door Seriously Cool Museum of Artifacts and Stuff, which appears to be a diversion for Stickybeard's armada to attack the Moon Base. However, the museum is Father's true target; more specifically, the seemingly-broken Recommissioning Module.

Back at the Convention Center, Father reveals that the Module is actually fully functional (having been repaired by Numbuh 86 to restore the memories of Sector V in the aftermath of Operation: E.N.D.), but requires the DNA of a current KND Operative to activate. Fortunately, Numbuh 1 arrives to reclaim the device, allowing Father to extract one of his boogers after Cree immobilizes him. As another Teen Ninja traps the rest of Sector V, Father taunts Numbuh 1 with the fact that he was counting on his attempt to retrieve the module, gleefully declaring that his failure will spell the end of the Kids Next Door.

With the Recommissioning Module activated, Father uses it to restore the Grandfather's memories, intending to rule the world alongside him. Instead, Grandfather calls his son a failure and orders him to leave, correctly pointing out that Father only restored him because he couldn't beat the KND himself. Dejected, Father tosses the Recommissioning Module in the trash and heads back home to wallow in self-loathing. Consequently, he is not transformed into a Senior Citizombie, and his home becomes one of the only places in the world left unchanged by Grandfather's powers.

Towards the end of the movie, the newly-reawakened Numbuh 0 goes to his brother for help and offers him a second chance to stand up to their father alongside him. Father ultimately accepts the offer, and during the confrontation with Grandfather, goes into a violent rage against his abusive father, only to immediately and abruptly abandon the fight due to a lack of willpower, saying that he no longer cares about anyone or anything else in the world at this point. At the end of the film, after the Kids Next Door Moonbase is launched at Grandfather, Father is seen in the kitchen of his partially-destroyed mansion. Looking over his shoulder at the carnage, the villain declares that he hates everyone, before returning his attention to his table.

Later Confrontations

In Operation: M.U.N.C.H.I.E.S., Father appears as one of the many villains shopping at the Supervillains Supermarket & Deli. He is the first character to claim the last box of Rainbow Munchies, only to be interrupted by Mr. Boss, Count Spankulot, and Sector V in rapid succession. This leads to a massive free-for-all as everyone in the store scrambles to buy the cereal, with Father being taken out early on when the kids trap him in a barbecue. However, Father frees himself in time to cut off the kids' escape, incinerating their ship (stolen from Stickybeard). After being briefly distracted by a sea of popcorn - popped by proximity to his flames - Father demanded the cereal from Numbuh 5, only to realize that Knightbrace had purchased it in the confusion. He insisted that Knightbrace share the Rainbow Munchies with him, only to learn that the dental-themed fiend actually planned to destroy the cereal. Infuriated at this callous disregard for Rainbow Munchies, Father formed a brief truce with Sector V and the other villains in order to beat up Knightbrace; afterwards, he was seen contentedly eating a bowl of Rainbow Munchies with the other characters.

Father was also involved in some of the later and more elaborate "C.A.K.E.D." episodes, namely Operation: C.A.K.E.D.-F.O.U.R. and Operation: C.A.K.E.D.-F.I.V.E.. In the latter, his ancestors, the Annoyingly Cute Triplets Who Lived Upon the Hill and their mother, who is Father's great-grandmother, are mentioned.

In Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S. (the series finale), Father turns into a Dragon after losing his pipe during the episode's climax. At the end of the story, it is revealed that he is the person interviewing the now-grown up members of Sector V in the present day, but it's revealed that Numbuhs 2 thru 5 had simply tricked Father into thinking that Numbuh 1 was still off in outer space somewhere as part of the Galactic KND, because through a phone call between Numbuhs 5 and 1 reveals that by this point, Numbuh 1 (now an adult) has returned to Earth, and was implied to be waiting for his old teammates on the KND-Moonbase. The whole setup was done most likely to get rid of Father by having go into space after his nephew to finally retrieve his missing pipe after all these years.

Mr. Boss gasped in shock and horror.

Mr. Boss: Father was trying to destroy the entire human race!?

Me: Yeah. He was going to wipe out all the kids and exterminate the entire Human Race. He was the ultimate evil and he made even the Devil himself cringe in fear. He made all the evil villains that we killed over the years look like child's play. When you wipe out all the kids, you're wiping out all of mankind's future. That's what Father was gonna do: The Extinction of the Entire Human Race.

Mr. Boss was shocked. He never even knew about Father being Evil

Incarnate 100-fold. He was the ultimate monster.

Mr. Boss: I can't believe it! Father is the ultimate evil!

Me: He was. Father was Evil Personified.

Mr. Boss: I've been working for a monster!

Me: That's why we had to kill him. To make him pay for his crimes against the world and all of Humanity.

Mr. Boss then got a look of determination on his face.

Mr. Boss: I appreciate you telling me all this J.D. Now I want to help the kids instead of killing them.

Me: That's what I like to hear.

We later went outside and saw that almost all the stuff in the Yard Sale was almost sold. Numbuh 3 bought almost all of Fanny's old rainbow monkeys and Numbuh 4 and Numbuh 2 bought some of Shaunie's old comics and some of Paddy's old video games.

Nico: Wow. We bought a lot of stuff.

Vince: We sure did.

But then we got a visit from Dark Spicer, The Common Cold and Cheese Shogun Roquefort.

Mr. Boss: Common Cold! Roquefort! Good to see you two!

Common Cold: Hey, Mr. Boss. We're here to buy some of this stuff.

Common Cold and Cheese Shogun Roquefort looked around.

Nico: (Drools) No cheese ninjas with you this time Roquefort?

Cheese Shogun Roquefort: Not this time Nico. It's not my turn yet.

Raven: That's all right.

Dark Spicer then squirted Freakazoid with Fart Gas from behind him.

FAAAAAAAARRRRRRRRRTTTTTTTTTTT!

Freakazoid: Oh you are gonna get it!

They were having a prank war!

Numbuh 86: Oh no! You two are not doing a prank war on my yard!

Dark Spicer: Toots, do not give me that look! Freakazoid's the one who started it!

Numbuh 86: (ENRAGED SCREAMING WITH FIRE IN HER RED EYES AND SMOKE COMING OUT OF HER NOSE!) TTTTTTTOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOTTTTTTTTSSSSSSS

Numbuh 2: He should not have called her that.

Laney: Uh oh.

Lincoln: Not good.

Numbuh 86 then beat the living shit out of Dark Spicer and it was not pretty! We cringed and winced as Dark Spicer was getting beaten up really badly! When it was done 20 seconds later Dark Spicer was beaten up and shoved into the trash can and he had a black eye and a bleeding nose and a bunch of cuts and bruises.

Me: Holy shit!

Nico: WHOA! She wailed on him like a wild animal!

Mr. Boss: That's my Fanny.

I pulled out my Taboo Notepad.

Me: Now I know what not to say around her.

I wrote down "Fanny Fulbright A.K.A. Numbuh 86 - Toots."

We later went back to the estate and we found an empty room and turned it into our new Decommissioning Bay and it was just like the KND Moonbase Decommissioning bay but 1,000 times more advanced.

---

Later in the school cafeteria, we were having an awesome lunch. Dark Spicer was with us and he was having Chicken Wings drenched in Carolina Reaper Hot Sauce and a buffalo chicken sandwich.

Dark Spicer: Well, after all that pranking, I could use some lunch.

Toby: Can I eat with you, Dark?

Dark Spicer: Sure, kiddo.

Toby sat with him.

Me: Hey guys.

Misty Tredwell: Hey J.D.

Me: Hey Misty.

We sat with them.

Eddy: So, who's on break right now?

Vanitas: Everyone except Leonard, Shiv, Bane, Myotismon, Saïx, King Hiss, Vypra, Ebon, Russ Cargill, Koragg, Firefly, Jimbo, Dolph & Kearney, the Springfield Mafia, Vexen, Hydro Man, and Lord Drakkon.

Me: This is gonna be interesting.

But then Johnny Test came through the air vents and he was dressed in an awesome apple helmet and he had a green shirt and a blaster hooked up to a tank full of applesauce.

Me: Wow. What's with the Apple getup for Johnny?

Nico: His class is having a special project on Tall Tales of American Folklore and he wanted to become like them. He found out that the evil lunch lady in here is feeding everyone Brussel Sprouts and she is never gonna give anyone applesauce. Ever. When he asked for some, he was enraged and it turns out the Test girls went through the same thing years ago. So Johnny set out to stop the Lunch Lady from ruining kids with disgusting Brussel Sprouts.

Me: This is gonna be interesting.

Misty Tredwell: Oh boy. This isn't going to end well.

Dark Spicer: I'm not getting involved. I just want to eat my lunch in peace.

Me: Okay.

Banjo playing was heard.

Dukey: (Singing)

Let me tell you all a story about Johnny Applesauce.

(Johnny fired blasts of applesauce onto everyone's plates and the kids cheered.)

Saving school lunches from tasting like moss.

(Lady Lunch got mad and she threw a giant Brussel Sprout at Johnny.)

Lunch lady tried to stop him, but she couldn't get it done.

(Johnny fired apple sauce at the giant sprout and grind it down to the size of a tennis ball)

Kids was eating applesauce and having lots of fun.

(The kids were eating applesauce as Johnny was firing applesauce all over)

Johnny, Johnny Applesauce. The Best Pal a lunch ever had.

Johnny, Johnny Applesauce. The Best Pal a lunch ever had.

Johnny Test: OH YEAH!

Lunch Lady threw a huge bucket of Brussel Sprouts at Johnny Applesauce.

Dukey: Well she threw the veggies at him and she tried to ruin his day.

But Johnny Applesauce simply had a witting way.

(Johnny screamed and used his applesauce blaster like a jet pack to get out of the way.)

Johnny Test: WOO-HOO!

The kids cheered.

Dukey: Well she tried a zillion plans but none did the trick.

(Lunch Lady made Brussel Sprout Soda, Cake, Sundaes and candy bars and they all were failures)

Johnny kept on throwing apples making her look like a total fool.

(Lunch Lady was being humiliated and was bouncing on a huge apple and she growled ferociously while grinding her teeth.)

And Johnny spread his applesauce each and every day

But some folks say Johnny got carried away.

(Johnny sprayed applesauce during classes and the kids loved it and he even sprayed cops and the mayor.)

But Johnny had a mission. He was gonna see it through.

Anything was better than Lunch Lady's squishy goo.

(Everyone reveled in disgust)

But then one day, Lady Lunch had had enough.

THUNDERCLAP!

Lunch Lady: (EVIL LAUGHTER)

She was now an armored evil villain.

Dukey: And she lost her mind and the song's over.

Captain Cold: Hey, Dukey. You should stop singing. We get the point.

Dukey: Sorry.

The next day, Johnny came in.

Johnny Test: No lunch lady?

The kids cheered.

Johnny Test: She must've quit, 'cause you cannot stop JOHNNY APPLESAUCE!

Common Cold: Johnny, I think you're overreacting about this. Maybe it's better if you let those Kids Next Dorks arrest the Lunch Lady. That way, you'll be free to have your applesauce.

Johnny Test: Yeah you're right.

But then thunderous footfalls were heard as the Lunch Lady came out and she had an oven armor suit and a deadly blaster and a pot goggles.

Johnny Test: Uh oh.

Kairi: I should've known the lunch lady would find a way to strike back!

Me: This is not good guys!

Lunch Lady: (German Accent) No one tells me how to run lunch room!

I pulled out an acorn cell phone and it had the symbol for the TLPS-KND Federation on it and I dialed Sector V.

Me: Guys we have a code 717BS on our hands.

Numbuh 1: We're on our way J.D.

I hung up.

Dark Spicer: Hey, lunch hag! I was just planning to sit this one out but you messed with my goddamn lunch! So, here's your warning: Either let Johnny have his fucking applesauce or your ass is gonna be kicked!

Me: YEAH!

Nico: Surrender or prepare for a major league buttkicking!

Johnny Test fired blasts of applesauce and they hit the Lunch Lady all over and he kicked her helmet off and knocked her all over the place. Dark Spicer then turned into Vomitfactory and ate a bunch of trays and fired energy blasts at the lunch lady and knocked her all over.

Then Lincoln and Danny had a ghost sense and the Lunch Lady Ghost appeared. She sent her meat at the Lunch Lady and smashed her all over the place.

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

A massive fiery explosion blasted a hole through the ceiling and a phoenix cry was heard and the Kids Next Door came through the explosion and then they blasted the Lunch Lady's armor off and kicked her and knocked her down and they slapped the cuffs on her.

Me: I think spending the rest of your days in the TLPS Rock Candy Mines is what you need you deranged Lunch Lady.

Nico: Rock Candy Mines?

Me: It's a cool Rock Candy Mine that I found up in the Canadian Rockies. You should see what it looks like. It has a massive cave loaded with crystals that are made of many colors of rock candy that are different flavors and it's all worth its weight in diamonds.

Numbuh 1: It's true Nico. It's an amazing mine and J.D. made it a perfect prison not just for spoiled rotten kids but also for evil Adult Villains.

Nico: Cool. We'll have to see it sometime.

Me: Yep. And we have a special spot there for Numbuh 12 and any evil teen that we'll come across.

Laney: Good idea.

The Lunch Lady was taken away and we enforced new rules for lunch. No Brussel Sprouts EVER! And Applesauce and all sweet food is welcome. No exceptions.

We gave Johnny a big bowl of applesauce.

Marinette: Well, Johnny. You finally got your applesauce.

Johnny Test: I sure did.

Me: And I think the Test Girls would like some applesauce too.

Nico: Good idea.

Dark Spicer: This was a fun day for us.

Me: It sure was.

Eddy: Yeah.

Lincoln: Awesome.

Later we went back home and it was a good adventure in lunch.

THE END

Planet of the Jellyfish

In the elementary school, Me, Qin, Numbuh 2 and Numbuh 5 were running through the halls.

Numbuh 2: Faster, Numbuh 5, Faster!

Me: What's the big rush!?

Qin: He must be really hungry.

Numbuh 5: Would you stop it?

Numbuh 2: No time, gonna keep moving!

Numbuh 5: Would you relax? We are not gonna miss lunch if we walk.

Me: Yeah we're not in a hurry!

Numbuh 2: But it's chocolate pudding day! Quick! We'll cut through the first grade hallway, c'mon! The cafeteria is right on the other side of… Whoa!

Numbuh 5: Now what? I thought you were in such of hurry.

We saw the hallway of the First Grade and it looked all dusty, dreary and desolate like something out of the Great Depression.

Me: My god.

Qin: What happened here?

Numbuh 2: Man. Those school budget cuts are murder.

Numbuh 5: That's not it. Something's wrong here.

Me: It wasn't the school budget cuts that did this. Something is seriously up here.

We went down the hall and we saw the students in despair.

Female First Grade Student: Oh please, Help us. Please.

Me: Oh man.

Numbuh 2: Um, Maybe we should go the long way.

Me: We need to help these kids now.

Sammy The First Grade President: You have come at last! Enter my friends, please enter.

Me: Okay.

We went to the classroom and it too was desolate.

Sammy the First Grade President: Come, come, We knew you have come to save the First grade, as it was foretold in this painting, made only this morning in Arts and Crafts.

We saw a picture made by them of us bringing a rabbit back.

Numbuh 5: Right. Uh, What happened here?

Me: That's what I would like to know.

Sammy The First Grade President: He came this morning and took of which is the most precious to us, Our class' beloved pet bunny, Mr. Fluffleupagus. But he had escaped deep into the jungle gym on the upper playground, Our water fountains dried up, our crayons broke and our milk turn sour. You see, when he stole Mr. Fluffleupagus, He stole the heart of the First grade. But now that you have come, we are sure that you can bring Mr. Fluffleupagus back and the great time recess shall begin.

Numbuh 2: Hey, We are the TLPS-KND Federation. Of course we'll help you to get your bunny back, Right after we'll get some lunch.

Numbuh 5: We'll help now! But first, You gotta tell us, who did this?

Sammy The First Grade President: He did not give his name, He only laughed and that he have said that "This would serve as payment".

Me: Looks like Heinrich is behind all this.

Numbuh 5: That can't be right! Heinrich was changed back to Henrietta.

Me: Maybe he separated from Henrietta as a separate being. We got to get going.

Qin: Yeah.

We got ready for a trek through the Jungle Gym.

Numbuh 2: Look, All I'm saying is that before anyone goes chasing down some bad guy in a jungle gym they get some lunch, at the very least they have some French fries to keep their energy up.

Numbuh 5: Numbuh 2, If we don't get that rabbit back, those First Graders won't survive until their parents pick them up.

Me: I agree with Abigail, Hoagie. This is very serious. We have to help those kids regardless.

Qin: I agree with J.D. We have to do it. The TLPS-KND Federation always answers a kids call for help.

Numbuh 5: Now are you ready?

Numbuh 2: Pfft, Ready for lunch. I'm joking, I'm joking, Sheesh! So, How far does this Jungle Gym go?

Numbuh 5: Nobody knows (Echoing)

We trekked through the jungle gym and swung on ropes, climbed on bars, climbed on the monkey bars and more until we got to a jungle and then we heard drumbeats.

Numbuh 2: Do you hear that?

Me: It's sounds like Drums.

Qin: They're coming from that volcano over there.

Numbuh 5: Yeah. Whatever they're up to, It's already started.

Me: (Sniffs) I smell chocolate.

Qin: (Sniffs) Me too. It's really strong and flavorful.

Me: Lets go.

Jessica: NOOOOO! You said you wouldn't take my Hopsy Mopsy!

Heinrich Von Marzipan: (Speaks Calmly to Jessica) (German Accent) Ach, Liebchen, I say so many things zat I do not mean, Like Oh, "No more gumdrops for me" or (In sing-song voice) "Who vould like some of mein lollipops?" (Commanding and Shouting to Candy Bandits) START ON ZE TEST!

The lava lake in the volcano was really a huge lake of chocolate! It was dunked into the chocolate.

Heinrich snapped his fingers and the cage was raised and he opened it.

Heinrich Von Marzipan: Ja, Hehahahahahaha!

It broke off the toys ear.

And he ate it.

Heinrich Von Marzipan: Ach, so delicious, Hahahahaha! But imagine, Vhat if vould taste like, if ve were to make ein chocolate bunny vith a real bunny!, Hehahahahahahahaha!

Heinrich saw Numbuh 2.

Heinrich Von Marzipan: INTRUDER!, GET ZE OUT OF HERE!

I swooped in and punched the bandits all over the place. The bandits threw rocks at him.

Numbuh 2: Ha-ha!, You have to do better than that?!

A bandit had a lollipop machine gun.

Numbuh 2: Uh, That's better.

He fired at Numbuh 2

Numbuh 2: Ahhhh!, Ahhhhh!, Woah!, Ahhhhh!, Ehhhhhohhhh!

I fired a blast of lightning and electrocuted the bandit and killed him.

Heinrich Von Marzipan: Ehhhhehehehahahaha!

Qin pulled up the cage with the rabbit in it and got him out and Jessica punched Heinrich and pushed him off the cliff.

Numbuh 5: NOOOOOO!

Me: I can't watch!

I closed my eyes.

Heinrich Von Marzipan: Uhhh, Ehhh, Woah, uh, Ahhhhhhh!

He was falling fast.

Heinrich Von Marzipan: Ahhhhh!

Numbuh 5: Heinrich!

Heinrich fell into the Chocolate Lava with a huge splash.

Numbuh 5: Oh, Heinrich.

Qin: Ah he's not worth it.

Jessica: Serve you right for what you did to Hopsy-Mopsy! Huh? huh!

The ground around the volcano was shaking.

Me: Lets get outta here!

Numbuh 2 and Numbuh 5: Waaahhhhhhh!

The Rabbit nuzzled Jessica.

Jessica: Well, At least I didn't know it was you.

Me: You did really good Jessica.

Numbuh 5: You did fine, kid.

Jessica: Awwww.

Numbuh 5 pulled out her toy.

Numbuh 5: Just fine. Hahahaha!

We arrived back at the school with the buzzy.

First Graders: Yay! Hahuhuhuha!

Sammy The First Grade President: We knew you would return when our water fountains are begin to flow again.

Jessica: I'm sorry, Sammy. I've shouldn't have helped Heinrich in the first place.

But then we saw the bunny glow and in a powerful burst of magic, the kids had their clothes fixed, their playground was fixed and more.

Jessica: Awww, huhahahuh.

Numbuh 2: Woah!

Me: Wow! That was incredible!

Qin: Awesome!

Sammy The First Grade President: Now, do you see that power of Mr. Fluffleupagus?

Me: We sure do.

Numbuh 2: Yeah, I get it. But Man, I'm so hungry, It's not even bunny! Hahahahaha!

Me and Qin laughed and Numbuh 5 hit him over the head with her hat.

Numbuh 5: Na-ah! Ya did not just say that! That's was the lamest line that Numbuh 5 is gonna hear!

Numbuh 5 chased him. But little did we know that Heinrich survived and he was now made of chocolate!

Heinrich Von Marzipan: (EVIL LAUGHTER)

Later at the Jupiter Prison we were having another Rant Session with the most evil and most hated babysitter ever: ICKY VICKY!

Stone Man: We haven't done an Icky Vicky rant in a while.

Me: No we sure haven't.

Stone Man: I'll go first.

Me: All right.

Stone Man went first. He walked up to Icky Vicky's cell and she had eyes glowing red with rage.

Stone Man: YOU ARE THE WORST MOST PATHETIC FUCKING LOSER THAT HAS EVER WALKED THE FACE OF THE EARTH! YOU ARE A FUCKING MONSTER! I HATE YOU!

Vicky roared in fury and the prisoners cheered.

Electro: Man, I missed listening to these rants!

Pierce: I can imagine.

Electro: Can I do a rant of my own?

Offroad: Sure. Why not?

Me: Go for it.

Electro walked up to Icky Vicky's cell and he cleared his throat.

Electro then built up his power to an incredible level and then he screamed at the top of his lungs and really let her have it with a 25,000,000,000,000 volt hit!

ELECTRO: (SCREAMING) AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA YOU'RE A LAZY FUCKED UP MOTHERFUCKING NO-GOOD FUCKING BABYSITTER AND A WORTHLESS PIECE OF STUPID FUCKING SHIT AND YOU FUCKING DRIVE ME FUCKING NUTS YOU MOTHERFUCKING SON OF A FUCKING BITCH! CAN'T YOU JUST LISTEN TO KIDS EVEN FOR ONCE IN YOUR FUCKING WORTHLESS MISERABLE FUCKING LIFE?! 'CAUSE IF YOU DID, YOU'D FUCKING RATHER WANT TO KILL KIDS WHENEVER YOU GET THE FUCKING CHANCE! Electro calmed down and we cheered wildly for him.

Sideswipe: You really let her have it!

Nico: You sure told her!

Laney: YEAH!

Me: And you electrocuted her all over the place.

Vicky was now a burned cinder.

Laney: Wow.

Lana: Charred.

Lola: Yep.

Lily: Had it coming.

Later in Jellyfish Fields. SpongeBob and Patrick were having a fun time.

[SpongeBob catches three jellyfish in his net]

SpongeBob: Weee! Gotchya! There you go, little fella. [to Patrick] Say, Patrick. Don't you think that Jellyfish Fields has gotten bigger today?

Patrick: I don't know, but all of this failure is tiring me out. I'm just gonna take a nap on that rock right over there.

SpongeBob: Okay, Patrick. I'll go see if there are any jellyfish in that creepy, scary, evil-looking cave over there.

[Evil Alien Jellyfish Overlord is shown]

SpongeBob: [Catches a jellyfish] Aw. You're the charms. If only you didn't sting, you'd make the perfect pet! [Jellyfish stings SpongeBob] Oh, well! I guess it's catch and release for now.

[Evil Alien Jellyfish Overlord catches a jellyfish and turns it into a Jellien; soon the Overlord makes more Jelliens. Patrick is shown sleeping. The Jellien engulfs Patrick's entire body and creates a Jellien Patrick. Some Jellien's take the real Patrick away. Tentacles extend out of Jellien Patrick's mouth and place Patrick's jellyfish net in Jellien Patrick into his hand]

SpongeBob: [steps in front of Patrick] Isn't he the cutest little jellyfish you've ever seen. [picks up Jellien jellyfish by the stingers] And he doesn't sting.

[Jellien Patrick captures numerous jellyfish in his net]

SpongeBob: [looking at Jellien jellyfish] You don't suppose this is some sort of new breed, huh? [places Jellien jellyfish back into net] I think I'll keep this one as a pet. [spots Patrick's overfilled net] Whoa!

Jellien Patrick: Yes. I too have caught many jellyfish. [holding up index finger] Perhaps we shall give one to each of our friends. [grins and breaths heavily]

SpongeBob: Wow, Patrick! That's a great idea.

[Bubble transition to Squidward's house at night]

SpongeBob: Well, we've given a jellyfish to everyone, except Squilliam. I'm sure he doesn't want one.

Jellien Patrick: He will take one and like it. [shoves the Jellien into the mail slot. The Jellien creates a clone] Pleasant dreams, square one.

SpongeBob: Hah, back at ya good buddy. [Jellien Squilliam is behind him]

Jellien Squilliam: Don't let the bed bugs bite. Ha ha ha.

SpongeBob: Um, that's some good advice. Good night, Squilliam.

Jellien Squilliam: There will be plenty of biting this night. RAH!

[Bubble transition]

SpongeBob: [To Jellien] Tonight, you'll sleep with me little jelly. Goodnight, jellyfish. Goodnight, Gary! Heh, good night little jelly. [SpongeBob sleeps. The Jellien tries to climb on SpongeBob, but he wakes up] Ah, I can't sleep. [walks downstairs. The Jellien follows him. SpongeBob is watching a horror film and eating popcorn. The Jellien tries to climb on SpongeBob again, but he screams he laughs nervously]" These late-night horror shows are a real hoot. "[The Jellien tries to climb on him, once again] Oh, hey you want some popcorn? Here ya go. [tosses popcorn into the Jellien's mouth, causing it to choke] Hey, hey! Are you okay back there?

[Bubble transition to morning. The Jellien is shown sleeping]

SpongeBob: Aw, look at him, the little angel. Guess he couldn't make it past the third feature. [picks up the Jellien] Good morning sleepy-head. We wouldn't want anything to happen to you while I'm at work. [puts the Jellien in a cage] You better stay in here where it's safe. [pats Gary's shell] You two stay out of trouble, bye!

[SpongeBob leaves his house and Gary takes a nap near a plant.

The Jellien then eats Gary and the plant at the same time creating Jellien Gary, which looks like Gary mixed with a plant.]

Later the Neptune Crusaders are walking to the Krusty Krab and there was something not right in the air.

Lily: Guys something doesn't feel right. Doesn't everyone seem to be acting very weird today?

Varie: Yeah I kinda noticed that. It's like everyone is not themselves.

Lana: Yeah it's weird.

Cleo: Very weird.

Later they got to the Krusty Krab and saw a huge line of customers.

SpongeBob: Whoa! Look at all of the customers!

Laney: Looks like we have a lot of work.

Jellien Clone: One Krabby Patty, hold the mayonnaise.

Jellien Squilliam: One Krabby Patty, hold the mayonnaise.

Jellien Patrick: [holds out a tray with a Krabby Patty] One Krabby Patty, hold the mayonnaise.

Jellien Squiliam: [takes the tray with the Krabby Patty and gives it to the Jellien Clone] Thank you, come again.

Jellien Clone and Jellien Squiliam: Rah!

Luna: That is messed up dudes.

[The next customer, who appears normal walks up]

Martin: I would like one Krabby Pat-

Jellien Squilliam: [takes out another Krabby Patty] One Krabby Patty, hold the mayonnaise. RAH!

Martin: Ugh. Actually I want one with extra mayo!

[Jellien Squilliam and the rest of the Jellien Clones begin hissing and pointing at the lone, normal fish]

Martin: W-what's wrong, dudes?

Maria: Uh oh. I don't like the looks of this.

Jellien Mr. Krabs: [comes out of Mr. Krabs and SpongeBob's office] I'm sorry, valued customer. We are currently out of the condiment you call mayonnaise. [takes out a Jellien] Please accept this free jellyfish hat instead! [puts the Jellien on the normal fish's head] Thank you, come again! [leaves]

Varie: That is really weird.

But then the Masters of Evil came.

Varie: Hey what's going on guys?

Vanitas: Guys, is Mr. Krabs ok?

Maria: Why do you ask?

Dark Laser: Because a while ago, he ordered the five of us to kill you guys. Which doesn't sound like him at all.

Maria: That is weird. That is so not like him.

Rikki: Yeah we better find out what's going on here.

Varie: When a customer ordered a Krabby Patty with mayonnaise everyone hissed ferociously.

Lily: Yeah and Mr. Krabs said that they are out of mayonnaise.

SpongeBob: [looks confused] Huh? That's funny. We just received a whole shipment of mayonnaise.

Laney: We better go check it out.

Varie: We'll fight after we get to the bottom of this. Right now we need to find out why everyone is acting so strange.

?: I agree.

2 figures came out and the first one was DECIBAT from episode 34 of Lost Galaxy!

---

Decibat is a bat/cicada-themed monster that has the ability to emit a shrieking soundwave from the speakers[woofers] on his shoulders. Before being used with Trakeena's army, he was seen walking around outside, in the background, on Onyx in "Heir to the Throne". He was also seen at the auction for the Pink Quasar Saber in "Protect the Quasar Saber".

He was seemingly recruited by Villamax and/or Kegler, before being ordered by Trakeena to attack Terra Venture. In his first attack Damon destroyed one of his subwoofers and he retreated, but Kegler repaired it and made him even louder when he returned. He shattered the glass in buildings and made towers rumble. Baxter, GSA's recently appointed chief mechanic built a Ultrasonic Transmitter (from a blueprint he'd stolen from Damon Henderson) and attempted to send an similar soundwave into Decibat's back, canceling out his waves.

However, Decibat returned fire with his own sonic blasts. Following help from Damon, Baxter fired again and Decibat's speakers became shattered. With Decibat powerless, the Rangers used the Lights of Orion Power-Up Mode to destroy him. He also wielded a blade, and a conductor's staff, in battle.

And the 2nd figure that came out was RAFAEL!

---

Rafael is the strongest of Dartz's henchmen, Doma's Three Swordsmen, in Yu-Gi-Oh!. He is one of Dartz's henchmen along with Amelda and Valon. He only appeared in Season 4 and one cameo in Season 5 and therefore only appeared in the anime.

He was voiced by Marc Thompson, who also voiced Seth in Dinosaur King, and Drako in the 2003 Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles series.

Biography

Growing up, Rafael had a perfect life with a wealthy and loving family but one day while they were on a cruise, it entered a typhoon caused by Dartz (though Rafael did not know this), and he was separated from his family, with them dying in the shipwreck (they forgot about him in the 4Kids version), and he became trapped on a deserted island. As he tried to find a city, which was merely an illusion, he was pulled underwater by Dartz, whom he joined up with. He then went to a graveyard and found the remains of his siblings there instead, confirming that his family had died in the shipwreck (found his Dark Duel Disk in the 4Kids version).

Rafael's main cards are the Guardian cards he kept with him during his time on the island. He dueled Dark Yugi and gave him the Orichalcos Card taking advantage of Yami's pride pointing out he'd 'have' to use the card to win (even though no souls were at stake due to Yami's pride he uses Rafael's card). Rafael still wins however and the Orichalcos almost took Atem's soul but got Yugi's soul instead. Atem dueled Rafael in a rematch after Rafael defeated his treacherous partner Mai and defeated him but as the Orichalcos tried to take his soul, he overcame its power. However, as the building collapsed, Rafael fell over the edge.

He survived the fall while carrying Mai Valentine's soulless body and entered Dartz's temple where his former boss revealed to him that he was the one responsible for the typhoon. Rafael attempted to use the Seal of the Orichalcos on Dartz but it backfired and took his soul instead.

He was released when Dartz and The Great Leviathan were defeated.

He made his last appearance in season 5 where he was seen searching for his family.

---

Luna: Whoa aren't you Rafael?

Rafael: I sure am.

Varie: And Decibat! I remember you. You were sent to attack Terra Venture under orders from Trakeena.

Decibat: That's right. You must've watched us on TV.

Varie: Never missed an episode like J.D.

Decibat: I heard about that from Mistress Vypra.

Tori: Before we fight, do you know what's going on with Mr. Krabs?

Decibat: Well, that isn't Mr. Krabs to begin with. It's an alien species Trakeena herself encountered before

Maria: What?!

Decibat: Look, I'm gonna be dead after the battle. If you want to learn more, just ask Shanan. She's the alien expert.

Varie: We'll have to do some digging around. But Rafael I heard so much about you. I'm so sorry about what happened to your family on your birthday because of Dartz.

Rafael: I appreciate that Varie.

Varie: We can talk later. Right now we need to find out what's going on.

SpongeBob and the Neptune Crusaders and the Masters of Evil went into the kitchen.

Lily: [walks to the back and spots Jellien Patrick] Patrick?! What are you doing? Cooking Krabby Patties is my job.

Jellien Patrick: I am here to replace you and all of your kind!

Varie: What?

Vanitas: That's weird.

SpongeBob: [laughs] I saw that movie last night, too. Whoops! If you're going work here, you're going to need an official Krusty Krab hat.

Jellien Patrick: Hat? [grows a Krusty Krab hat on his head]

SpongeBob: Say, that's a pretty neat trick! I'm going to get some extra mayonnaise from the back.

Jellien Patrick: [quickly turns around with his torso still facing the grill] No mayonnaise! [uses his mouth tentacles to eat the Krabby Patty SpongeBob was holding then turns back around to cook more Patties]

Lily: What the!?

SpongeBob: O… kay? [walks into the freezer] He's acting weird today. [spots the boxes of mayonnaise] Hey! There's plenty of mayo back here!

Varie: Lots of it.

[Suddenly they all hear a strange noise]

Lily: Huh? Is somebody in there?

[They all look into the back and spots the Evil Alien Jellyfish Overlord, Jelliens, and all of the citizens trapped in pods]

They were THE JELLIENS!

---

The Evil Alien Jellyfish Overlord is the main antagonist of the SpongeBob SquarePants episode "Planet Of The Jellyfish". Much like the Pod People that it based on, Overlord are member of alien species called Jellions that replace the native species of a planet that it invade by spawning emotionless replicas.

He was voiced by Dee Bradley Baker.

Invasion Began

During the beginning of the episode, after Spongebob passes by a creepy cave, the ruler, whom notice their presence eats a jellyfish, assimilating it and proceed to makes a bunch more Jellions. It knew that SpongeBob and Patrick are hunting jellyfishes, and send some of his Jellion Jellyfishes after them.

One of the member of squadron of Jellion Jellyfishes eats Patrick and makes a clone of him, and thus Jellion Patrick is born. Once the Jellion cloning process finished, it had Jellion Patrick to do its work while carrying the unconscious real Patrick to Overlord off-screen. Jellion Patrick, whom proceed to manipulate SpongeBob, had the rest of the sent Jellion Jellyfishes squadron pretend to be captured by it. The manipulation tactic was successful as SpongeBob, whom also caught one for himself was unsuspicious with one of its members, and still thinking that it is a new breed because they didn't sting. Jellion Patrick and they both give out the Jellion Jellyfishes to the citizens of Bikini Bottom, unaware that they mere duplicate.

Rising to Power

As this happens, Overlord, with unknown means of transportation, arrives on Krusty Krab and proceed to building a nest within the freezer room by the time the Jellions managed to take over most of the citizens except Spongebob (whom realized that invasion has began and discovering the Hive) and Sandy Cheeks (whom notices the Jellions' presence due to their unnatural eye shape in spite of imitating Bikini Bottomites). They both learn that the Jellion's weakness is mayonnaise due to them never wanted nor seen eating one. This proved to be correct as when both of them surrounded by Jellions on the Krusty Krab, SpongeBob shot one of the jellion with a mayonnaise which killed one of them and reduce their body into green goo.

Final Battle and Defeat

By the time they killed presenting Jellions, their original counterparts, which cocooned within the nest, awakens (implies that the Jellion clones had telepathic connection with the cocoon that restrain the original and had they killed, the cocoon would rots and free the said original). Patrick and the kidnappers are cornered by Overlord and the Jellion Jellyfishes until SpongeBob and Sandy bursts in. The brief battle occurs, where SpongeBob blasts all of its Jellion Jellyfishes with mayonnaise and tries to spray one to Overlord. But due to all of them are in freezer room, the sprayed mayonnaise that intended for Overlord freezes on the midair and land on its head in form that resembles a marshmallow. However, Sandy quickly set the temperature into warm where the mayonnaise eventually melt, killed the Overlord and its fellow Jellion dies due to their telepathic connection.

Appearance

Overlord looks like a giant, green jellyfish with unnatural black eyes that resembles snail's, in which those eyes are similar with its Jellion minions. Its internal organs (brain and what appeared to be two hearts), which jellyfishes lacks, can be seen through its transparent body. Overlord's mouth, which is huge, are located on his body.

Powers and Additional Information

Since Overlord only appeared in one episode, not much additional information that we could learn about it of its race. So far, the shown abilities was it can consume a nearby living creature in order to creates a number of Jellien version of the said creatures' species like it did to an unfortunate jellyfish that stumbled upon it. These newly created Jellions became the Primary Jelliens, which would later engulf any non-jellion lifeforms that they encounter, creating their Jellion duplicates, and then bring the original to Overlord that create it. Jellions that created by Primary Jelliens are Secondary Jelliens, that would assist the Primary Jelliens as well as taking over live that the original had in their normal days.

Being a race that portrayed as having a matriarchal system, Jellien Overlord serves as Alpha/Queen for the Jelliens within the Hive. It also has telepathic connection with the rest of the Jellien Hive as had it killed, the rest of the Jelliens would die along with it.

Everyone gasped!

SpongeBob: Monsters! Huh? Squilliam and Mr. Krabs! Mindy and

Patrick, too! [spots Harold] And some random guy! Huh? [screams] Lily's spatula!

Lily: This is a nightmare!

Varie: I got to get everyone down here!

Varie called everyone and told us everything and we got there fast.

We came in.

Me: We got here as fast as we could Varie!

Lincoln: What's going on?

Lily: Look.

We saw the creatures and gasped at everything that they saw. Lily even told us what was happening.

SpongeBob: It's just like that movie I watched last night! Those things have captured everyone and put them into creepy pods.

Me: This is just like what happened in the 1956 horror movie Invasion of The Body Snatchers. That's one of my dads favorite movies from his past.

Nico: So we're being invaded by aliens that want to replace us!

Lola: That's horrible!

Shanan: Those aliens are called the Jelliens. They are a hostile alien species from the planet Vellius and they want to replace every living thing in the world to take over the planet.

Me: That's terrible.

Vanitas: So that's why everyone was acting weird. They were replaced by clones of them.

Jimbo Jones: No wonder Mr. Krabs wanted us to kill you.

Dolph Starbeam: Even I wouldn't act like that.

Rafael: Me neither.

Me: We got to stop them.

We walked out of the freezer.

SpongeBob: [walks out of the freezer, nervously walking past Jellien Patrick] Hi, uh, Patrick? I gotta… clean the tables… Patrick. Ha ha… Patrick. [walks out backwards with Jellien Squilliam then surprising him]

Jellien Squilliam: Hi, SpongeBob! Don't you want this cute little jellyfish? [the Jellien then hisses at SpongeBob]

I roared at him!

Varie: Back off you fake!

SpongeBob: Ha ha… uh, no thanks. [continues walking backwards and bumps into Jellien Mr. Krabs] Ah! Mr. Krabs!

Jellien Mr. Krabs: You seem tired, SpongeBob. Why don't you go home and take a nap? [hisses strangely at SpongeBob]

Lola: Get away from him you fake!

Jellien Squilliam: [still holding a Jellien] Yes, and you can use this jelly as a pillow.

Laney: Back off!

SpongeBob: Oh, that's okay. I-I have one at home. Hah… [continues walking backwards until he is scared off by more Jellien Clones until he reaches the door]

Jellien Squlliam and Jellien Mr. Krabs: Sleep well.

SpongeBob: [continues walking backwards until he bumps into Jellien Harold]

Jellien Harold: Re-

SpongeBob: Ah! Random guy! [starts running from a bunch of Jelliens, until he loses them by hiding behind a rock] What are we going to do? All of my friends taken by those Jelly creatures. I can feel their creepy, rope-like tentacles now!

Me: We'll get them back SpongeBob.

[suddenly SpongeBob is roped and dragged into Sandy's treedome and is locked down]

Me: Sandy?

Sandy: Alright, you rotten jelly clone! What have you done with SpongeBob?!

SpongeBob: I'm no clone, Sandy! I am SpongeBob!

Me: Yeah that's the real SpongeBob.

Sandy: How do I know you guys aren't Jellians?

Tori: Because we're talking normally.

Sandy: Then you won't mind if I run a simple test. [starts tickling him and he starts laughing hysterically] You're SpongeBob, alright…

Me: See?

[Bubble transition to where SpongeBob is free]

SpongeBob: What are we going to do, Sandy?

Sandy: If only we knew the Jellien's weakness.

SpongeBob: Well, the only thing I know is that they can't stand mayonnaise.

Varie: Yeah they don't like that stuff for some reason.

Sandy: Ew, I don't like mayonnaise neither.

SpongeBob: [looks suspiciously at Sandy] Oh, so you don't like mayo? Just like a Jellien!

Sandy: [smacks SpongeBob] Oh, snap out of it, SpongeBob! Now if only we had some mayonnaise.

Laney: I brought lots of packs of mayonnaise.

Laney opened her backpack and dumped numerous packs of mayonnaise out.

Lincoln: Good thinking Laney.

SpongeBob: There's lot of mayonnaise over at the Krusty Krab! But we'll never get past them! [points to a bunch of Jellien Clones just outside the dome]

Sandy: Not to worry! [takes out glasses that looks like the Jellien's eyes] We'll be in disguise.

Me: Good idea.

Vanitas: Clever.

Orion: We won't let Bikini Bottom suffer the same fate as my planet!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Zeo!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Zeo Rangers!

[They both walk outside the dome whistling as they walk up to a Jellien Clone]

Sandy: Greetings, fellow clone. I hate mayonnaise.

SpongeBob: I hate mayonnaise and mustard.

Me: I hate mayonnaise.

We walk passed the clones.

Jellien Fred: [looks suspiciously at SpongeBob] Hmm…

[We all walk off whistling]

Jellien Fred: I like mustard!

[We all walk into the Krusty Krab and meet up with Jellien Mr. Krabs]

Jellien Mr. Krabs: Did you take that nap, SpongeBob?

SpongeBob: Uh huh! Sure did!

Sandy: Yep. We're all rested and jelly-fied.

Me: Indeed we are.

SpongeBob: [laughs nervously and elbows Sandy accidentally knocking off her Jellien glasses] Good one, Jellien Sandy.

Sandy: [laughs nervously]

Jellien Mr. Krabs: Imposters!

[All of the Jellien Clones in the Krusty Krab begin hissing and surrounding SpongeBob and Sandy]

Sandy: SpongeBob! The mayonnaise!

Me: Lets get them!

We powered up and went at them!

Lily: [leaps up high and swings over to the condiment stand and grabs a jug of mayonnaise, then squirts one at Jellien Mr. Krabs]

SPLAT!

Jellien Mr. Krabs: Ah! [the mayonnaise lands on him] Ew… [he then disintegrates which frees the real Mr. Krabs from his pod]

Sandy: It worked, Guys! Keep going!

Laney: With pleasure!

I squeezed a Mayonnaise pack and squirted a bunch of clones and they disintegrated into green slop.

Vanitas and Lana did the same thing and they got a bunch of clones and they disintegrated into green slop.

SpongeBob: [squirts Jellien Squilliam who tried to attack him with mayonnaise destroying him and freeing Squilliam in the process].

Sandy: SpongeBob! Look out!

[All of the Jellien Clones begin to close in to which SpongeBob squirts and destroys all of them. SpongeBob and Sandy then head towards the back running past Jellien Patrick]

SpongeBob: Oh, hi, Jellien Patrick!

Jellien Patrick: Hold the mayonnaise!

SpongeBob: D'oh! Almost forgot! [squirts Jellien Patrick with the mayonnaise, causing him to disintegrate and frees Patrick from his pod]

Patrick: [wakes up and falls on his neck] D'oh! Hey guys! What's shaking? [Squidward nervously points to the Evil Alien Jellyfish Overlord and Patrick realizes the situation] Oh…

[We all then enter the freezer to confront the Overlord]

Sandy: Hold it right there, you evil blob of slime! You're through 'cause we know your weakness! Show 'em, SpongeBob!

[SpongeBob shows the Overlord the jug of mayonnaise. The Overlord then roars loudly telling the Jelliens to attack SpongeBob and Sandy]

Sandy: Let 'er rip!

SpongeBob: [starts squirting the Jelliens until the jug of mayonnaise starts to act up] Nah! Gasp! Sandy! It's so cold in here the mayonnaise is starting to freeze!

Sandy: Then hurry and throw it, SpongeBob!

SpongeBob: Aye, aye! [unscrews the lid of the jug of mayonnaise and hurls it at the Overlord, but it freezes and lands on its head. Then it laughs at SpongeBob's failure] Oh no! This mayonnaise is frozen solid!

Me: Lets us handle this from here. Lets go!

We went at the Jellien overlord and I punched the freak in the face and kicked him in the eyes and Lana fired waves of ice and froze his arms off and Lincoln fired waves of lightning and electrocuted him all over and Vanitas and Jimbo, Dolph & Kearney punched and kicked the Jelliens all over with incredible fury and Chaor, Kelvedran, and Kopond pulverized them all over the place and the Megaforce Rangers blasted the Jelliens all over the place.

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Offroad: Lets do it!

Stone Man: Yeah!

Offroad and Stone Man used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and they had their Glass Gas and Stone Powers enhanced 100-fold.

Pierce and Sideswipe used the Earth Cyber Planet Key as well and they had their Quills and Laser Gun enhanced 100-fold.

Tommy Oliver and Devon Michaels: RED ZEO CHEETAH SPEED!

Rocky DeSantos and Ravi Shaw: BLUE ZEO GORILLA PUNCH!

Adam Park and Steel: GREEN ZEO SCARAB SWARM!

Tanya Sloan and Nate Silva: YELLOW ZEO MANTIS SLASH!

Kat Hillard and Zoey Reeves: PINK ZEO JACKRABBIT HOP!

Jason Lee Scott and Orion: GOLD ZEO SILVERFORCE BLAST!

Offroad and Stone Man: STONEGLASS MEGABLAST FORCE!

Pierce and Sideswipe: QUILL LASER SLASHSTORM!

They all fired their blasts of energy and power and they slammed into the Jellien Overlord and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Squilliam: No one clones and impersonates me and get away with it!

Me: I agree!

SpongeBob: Lets get them!

SpongeBob, Sandy, Patrick, Squilliam, Mindy and Karen: BIKINI BOTTOM MEGABLAST BURST!

They fired energy blasts and they slammed into the Jellien overlord and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Time to turn up the heat!

I fired a blast of fire and it caused the mayonnaise to melt on the Overlord's head, thus destroying him and all of the Jelliens.

SpongeBob and Sandy: Hooray!

Me: YEAH!

But then we got covered in green slime!

Me: Yuck!

Vanitas: Gross!

Mr. Krabs: What happened?

SpongeBob: Well, let me tell ya!

Me: It's a weird story.

Narrator: Eleven minutes later…

SpongeBob: And that's why we're covered in goo!

Me: Yep.

Mr. Krabs: Thanks for rescuing us, guys. But what are we going to do with all of this green slop?

Shanan: Leave that to me.

Shanan snapped her fingers and beamed the goo all the way into the sun and vaporized it.

Vanitas: I sure am glad that's over.

Sydney: You and me both!

Dark Laser: But those eyes looked creepy!

Horsea: Creepy? They were scary!

Jimbo: Can we eat some Krabby Patties here before we go?

Mr. Krabs: I don't see why not.

Me: And then we should have our fights like always.

We got to having a good lunch and having really good Krabby Patties.

Me: Mmm. Good krabby patties like always Lily.

Lily: Thanks J.D.

Decibat: They sure are good. And this all was very similar to what happened in a movie that your dad saw in his past?

Me: Yep. It was called Invasion of The Body Snatchers. It was a freaky movie about strange gelatinous shape-shifting aliens that want to replace all of humanity with their kind.

Lynn: I know that movie. It was really freaky.

Hunter: (German Accent) Ja. Und it was a creepy one that featured aliens like the Jelliens.

Sandy: That is really strange.

Edwayl: (Breton Accent) It sure was lads.

Axel Adell: (Swedish Accent) Indeed.

Shanan: But we did save the world from those evil Jelliens that were trying to replace the world.

Rafael: I'm glad.

Later after we had our lunch we got ready for our fights. A boxing ring was set up for the fights.

---

Battle 1: Vanitas

---

Spiderman was facing Vanitas.

Spiderman: Sorry we got you dragged into a fight to save us from aliens out to destroy us.

Vanitas: No worries Peter. But it was a good fight.

Spiderman: I'm glad. Shall we fight?

Vanitas: Lets.

Spiderman went at Vanitas and kicked him in the face and wrapped him up in spiderwebs and he was down.

Spiderman: Another awesome victory for your friendly neighborhood Spiderman.

---

Battle 2: Dark Laser

---

Sabrina Mason was facing Dark Laser.

(Duel of The Heroes from Star Wars III Plays)

Sabrina ignited her pink bladed lightsaber and Dark Laser ignited his black bladed lightsaber.

Sabrina: A Black Bladed Lightsaber. That's different.

Dark Laser: Indeed. And I have learned how to use the powers of the Force.

Sabrina: This I got to see.

Sabrina went at him and they clashed in an epic clash with the powers of their lightsabers and the powers of the Force. Sabrina fired a powerful blast of Pink Force Lightning and Dark Laser fired a blast of black Force Lightning and the blasts collided and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Sabrina kicked him in the face and fired a powerful blast of Force Fire at him and it burned him and Dark Laser fired a powerful Force Push blast at her and she flipped over and landed back down and she and Dark Laser fired blasts of the Force from their hands and they were trying to push each other with the blasts and Sabrina pushed Dark Laser back and sent him crashing into a table and knocked him out.

Sabrina: Good fight.

Me: Way to go Sabrina!

Carly Beth: She sure has learned so much in the ways of the Jedi.

Laney: She sure has.

Nico: I'm proud of her.

May: Me too.

---

Battle 3: Jimbo, Dolph and Kearney.

---

Sam S.L. was facing Jimbo, Dolph and Kearney and it was gonna be a major fight.

Sam S.L.: I'm gonna pound you three dorks into the dirt.

Kearney: Bring it you dork!

Dolph: Yeah!

Jimbo: (Cracks Knuckles) I'm gonna dial 911 on your face!

Sam punched him in the face and kicked Dolph and Kearney in their faces and knocked them out.

Sam S.L.: Losers.

---

Battle 4: Decibat

---

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Decibat.

Nico: Lets do it Decibat.

Decibat: I heard from Varie that she and J.D. watched us all on TV.

Nico: You heard right. Never missed an episode.

Me: That's right.

Decibat: Cool. Lets dance.

Nico: With pleasure.

Nico punched him in the face and kicked him in the stomach and fired energy blasts and the Megaforce Rangers blasted him all over the place with their blasters and they hit him all over and Decibat fell down and exploded in a fiery explosion.

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Nico: Yeah! Decibat you have failed this world.

Troy Burrows: Mega Rangers, that's a Mega Win.

---

Battle 5: Rafael

---

Me, Pharaoh Atem and Roman were facing Rafael.

Me: I heard a lot about you Rafael and Heidi told me about what happened on your birthday.

Rafael: Yeah it was an awful experience for me.

Me: I heard and I'm sorry that happened to you. Dartz turned your birthday cruise into a nightmare from Hell.

Roman: I didn't know that happened to him.

Me: It did.

Rafael: Yeah and Dartz ruined my life.

Pharaoh Atem: I'm so sorry that happened to you Rafael. You told me about what happened when we dueled.

Rafael: I remember that.

Me: But Dartz is dead and Heidi was the one that killed him and the Great Leviathan.

Rafael: Yes and I am forever grateful to her for saving me and everyone Dartz captured.

Me: That's my granddaughter for you.

Rafael: She is a pure soul. But lets do this shall we? I activate THE SEAL OF ORICHALCOS!

He activated the Seal of Orichalcos and he was enveloped in a green pillar of light with Enochian symbols around him and it expanded out and we were inside the Seal! A dark aura enveloped around Rafael and he had the Seal of Orichalcos glowing in the middle of his forehead and his eyes were glowing red with pure evil! The level of rage and hatred burning in his eyes was unbelievable!

Me: WHOA! The sight of those eyes glowing red like that will forever be etched into my mind like when I used the Seal of Orichalcos.

Rafael: I heard about that. How did you feel?

Me: It was a massive rush. It was the most incredibly fast rush of negative energy that I've ever felt. Weevil Underwood was really scared shitless. I was so pissed off at him for all of his crimes that it was terrifying.

Rafael: I don't blame you. The guy did have a knack for causing trouble.

Roman: I can agree with that.

Pharaoh Atem: Same here. He was not liked in the world of Duel Monsters.

Me: Neither was Rex Raptor.

Rafael: I can agree with you on that. Lets get it started. I summon GUARDIANS ELMA, TRYCE, GRARL, CEAL, BAOU, KAY'EST, and DREADSCYTHE!

He summoned said monsters.

Me: Wow! So those are some of your awesome Guardian Monsters that I've heard about.

Rafael: They are. I also equip them with their signature weapons. I equip Elma with BUTTERFLY DAGGER - ELMA, Equip Tryce with TWIN SWORDS OF FLASHING LIGHT - TRYCE, Equip Grarl with GRAVITY AXE - GRARL, Equip Ceal with SHOOTING STAR BOW - CEAL, Equip Baou with WICKED BREAKING FLAMBERGE - BAOU, Equip Kay'Est with ROD OF SILENCE - KAY'EST and I equip Dreadscythe with REAPER SCYTHE - DREADSCYTHE!

He equipped his monsters with said equip cards and they were awesome!

Me: Awesome selection and they all have their own corresponding weapons to go with them.

Roman: Amazing.

Pharaoh Atem: It was.

Me: Now for me. I summon GUARDIAN EATOS, VICTORIA, ATHENA, SPLENDID VENUS, and ARCHLORD KRISTYA!

I summoned said monsters.

Me: I equip myself and Guardian Eatos with CELESTIAL SWORD - EATOS!

I equipped Guardian Eatos and myself with said cards.

Rafael: You have a Guardian Eatos too?

Me: Yep. She has been a very amazing favorite to me. But there's a major difference with your Guardian Eatos and mine.

I showed him the card. (My version was the TCG card.)

Me: Notice how the artwork on the card is different?

Rafael saw this and saw that I was right. (Rafael's was the one from the Anime.)

Rafael: I sure do. Very big difference.

Me: It's the same card and same monster but with different artwork.

Nico: That's interesting.

Roman: It sure is.

Me: Very interesting too.

Nico: Here's my turn. I summon DARK MAGICIAN GIRL and activate THE EYE OF TIMAEUS! Then I will merge them and form

DARK MAGICIAN GIRL THE DRAGON KNIGHT!

Dark Magician Girl and Timaeus merged and formed into Dark Magician Girl the Dragon Knight and she was awesome!

Me: WHOA! THAT IS AWESOME!

Roman: Most impressive.

Nico: Watch this one. I equip myself and I equip Dark Magician Girl the Dragon Knight with EXCALIBUR.

He equipped himself and Dark Magician Girl with the mighty legendary sword of King Arthur, EXCALIBUR!

Nico: YEAH!

Me: Whoa! That is awesome!

Roman: It sure is. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL URU!

He summoned the Spider Earthbound Immortal Uru!

Roman: And check this out. I activate EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL ARMOR TRANSMIGRATION!

He activated said spell card and he and Uru merged and formed into an awesome new suit of armor. He had Uru's head as a helmet and he had a red suit of armor that had Uru's eight legs on his back and he had a deadly Cat-O-Nine-Tails Whip from Uru's legs. He was called LORD OF URU THE SPIDER!

Me: WHOA! Roman that suit of armor is awesome!

Roman: Thanks J.D. In this form I am known as Lord of Uru the Spider.

Nico: Really awesome and the Cat-O-Nine-Tails whip ties it all together.

Roman: Thanks.

Rafael: Amazing. I didn't know you all can merge with your monsters now.

Me: We discovered that we can utilize this and it's amazing.

Pharaoh Atem: Now it's my turn. I summon DARK MAGICIAN, EXODIA, SLIFER THE SKY DRAGON, CATAPULT TURTLE, ALPHA, BETA and GAMMA THE MAGNET WARRIORS, QUEEN'S KNIGHT, JACK'S KNIGHT, KING'S KNIGHT, KURIBOH, SUMMONED SKULL and LEGENDARY KNIGHT - TIMAEUS!

He summoned said monsters and they were awesome!

Me: WHOA! Those are awesome monsters. Shall we dance?

Rafael: Lets dance.

We went at Rafael and his monsters and we clashed and blasted them and Rafael all over with incredible power and more and it was awesome and we were really going at him. We slashed and blasted and more. Then Rafael was defeated.

Rafael: J.D., I know you have the power to resurrect my family. When you do, tell them I love them. (The Seal of Orichalcos is about take his soul)

Roman: Tell them that yourself. (his Dark Signer Mark glows)

Atem: What are you doing?

Roman: I'm trying to see if I can use my Dark Signer Mark to break the seal!

Me: Go for it.

Roman punched the seal and shattered it and freed him.

Me: IT WORKED! Now it's time to heal your shattered soul.

I snapped my fingers and 4 figures came out and it was Rafael's friends and family: Sonnya, Julien, and his mom and dad.

Rafael: Sonnya, Julien, mom, dad. Thank goodness!

He went over and hugged them and for the first time in a long time he had his family and friends back.

Sandy: (To the viewers) Family is always a good thing but never deal with evil aliens from another planet or else.

We later went home.

Another awesome SpongeBob chapter done.

Planet of The Jellyfish from SpongeBob was an awesome episode and it also reminded me of the 1956 movie Invasion of the Body Snatchers, one of my dad's favorite movies from his past and it was scary to him. It aired on March 31st, 2012 and it was a freaky episode and more. NicoChan11 gave me the ideas for this. Thanks man. Next up is an awesome chapter where we journey through the awesome fights of Street Fighter. We're gonna go through all the fights leading up to M. Bison as we face the fighters from Super Street Fighter II: The New Challengers. I used to play that game when I was a kid on SNES and it was awesome! We're going to kill M. Bison and destroy his entire empire and make him pay for his crimes.

See you all tomorrow.

Who is the Strongest in Street Fighter?

At the estate, I was looking up stories on the internet and I was looking at something really interesting. It was a story about the Loud House in a parallel universe and as I read I thought it was very interesting. But as I continued to read, what I saw was shocking! The Loud Kids on that universe were in every way like The Justice Lords and they were demoralizing heroes at a rapid level and robbing them of their reputations and dignity. But they weren't called Team Loud Phoenix Storm. Instead they were called the Royal Defenders and me, Nico and most of us were not affiliated with them.

Me: HOLY SHIT! GUYS! Take a look at this.

Nico: What is it?

Me: Read this.

Nico and everyone read what I saw and they were shocked and enraged and horrified.

Nico: WHOA! We better call the Masters of Evil about this.

Me: Yeah.

---

20 minutes later, the Masters of Evil were all called into the estate.

Dark Spicer: Can you guys tell us why you called us here? It sounded urgent.

Harley Quinn: Darky, it's plenty urgent.

Me: Look at this guys.

They all looked at the screen and they saw a fanfiction written by heavy5comando and what they saw made their blood boil.

Dark Spicer: The fuck is this?!

Me: A window into a parallel universe where an alternate version of us hates heroes and disgraces them.

Firefly: You sure? Because there are alternate versions of Optimus and Ben fighting alongside those versions of Lincoln and the others.

Me: I'm dead serious. Keep reading.

They kept reading and they saw that I was right.

They saw that the Louds called all the heroes big disgraceful freaks and they have no hope of becoming true heroes like themselves and are the worst ever so called heroes ever.

Electro: Those versions of Webhead, Optimus, and Ben are helping those Royal Defenders in their Regime?!

Me: Yeah.

Vypra: How cruel can those versions of you get!?

Carly Carmine: Terrible! Those versions of you are not heroes!

Misty Tredwell: They are more like disgusting jerks!

Me: You said it.

Zs'Skayr: (to Ben) I guess there's one version of you that's fallen from grace.

Ben: Yeah.

Laney: That version of my family gives heroes everywhere a really bad name.

Vexen: Show us one hero they've demoralized.

Me: They demoralized Ben, Optimus Prime, the Kids Next Door, Luke Skywalker and countless others.

I showed them all. It was a really long list of heroes.

Lana: WHOA!

Nico: That's a lot of heroes!

Xaldin: But Ben and Optimus eventually joined their twisted cause.

Me: They did and It's despicable. These versions of the Louds are tarnishing the name of good heroes everywhere.

Nico: Yeah we need to go stop them.

Greiger: How about we wait until your forces have increased?

Me: Good thinking Greiger. They have a huge force and we're gonna need a lot of help. We need to expand our forces exponentially.

Devon: (to Vypra) Can't believe I'm saying this but I hope you bring back Blaze and Roxy's robot clones for this.

Vypra: I will.

Steel: Heck, even Evox would be useful for this.

Nate: That's not a good idea. Evox would destroy both sides.

Me: I agree. Evox would destroy us all with any chance he got. Same with Venjix even though they are one in the same.

Will Vandom: Of course, if you bring back Robo Blaze and Robo Roxy before we confront the Royal Defenders, we'll need to find archenemies for them.

Vypra: Okay.

Shiv: (trying to lighten the mood) At least we know what you guys look like as tyrants.

Me: I guess this is what Justice Lord Superman was talking about and what would've happened if we did what he and the Justice League did.

Superman: Deja Vu.

Captain Cold: Looks like their Luna and Lincoln are the ringleaders.

Luna: Harsh!

Lincoln: I can't believe I would become like that.

Hydro Man: And all because of that bad luck incident in their world.

Me: Oh shit. Their version for Lynn really went too far.

Lynn: I can't believe I would let it get out of hand like that.

Luna: I know I can be protective of Lincoln. But to go this far?

Lynn: And I was the catalyst that put their world into oppression.

Shiv: (Pats Lynn on the back) Luckily it didn't happen here. That nightmare you had really set you straight.

Lynn: That's not enough! What if you really do go back to how I used to be and cause what happened there on this world? (sighs) It's best if you guys stay away from me from now on.

Me: Lynn don't say that! What happened in that universe didn't happen in this universe because of your love towards your siblings and Lightning.

Lightning: That's right babe. You are the best thing that's ever happened to your family and you are a strong spirited girl with the power to achieve awesomeness. Sha-Blam!

Lynn: You're right. Thanks guys.

Optimus Prime: They even had their version of me kill humans. All because that version was betrayed by the humans of his world as well as the temporary deaths of his Autobots.

Me: Like in Transformers The Last Knight.

Nico: Huge Deja Vu.

Lori: And then there's literally about what's going to happen to their version of Aunt Ruth!

Me: She went from a sweet old lady to a rampaging tyrannosaurus. I know it doesn't make sense but that was the best I could think of.

Lori: True. But that is literally a good way to put it.

Lola: And then there's the fact that the bad version of Luna's going to take her soul at the end of July on their world!

Luna: I would never do that!

Hydro Man: I'm glad you won't.

Me: No kidding.

Lord Drakkon: What the Loud Kids are doing in their world makes Lord Zedd and Rita Repulsa look like saints.

Me: Good comparison.

Vert: Even Krytus would be disgusted. And he was out to conquer the multiverse!

Lana: I can tell.

Stanford: Maybe we should go to their world when the time comes and Hakai every last one of them!

Me: No Stanford. Those versions of the Loud's are kids and it goes against our code. So we'll lock them up in the S.H.I.E.L.D. Prison system after we strip them of their powers.

Zoom: Besides, if we stop to Hakai one of them, the others will gang up on us and kill us easily.

Me: That's right. Our best chance is to gather them all in one spot and strip them all of their powers in one fell swoop.

Yusei: There's also there other powerful allies. Like that Hollow guy.

Me: Yep. And they have many more in their forces. We're gonna need all the heavy fire power and help we can get.

Numbuh 1: They probably don't have the Kids Next Door helping them in their world. We all saw that their Lincoln threatened them when they tried to make him their new leader.

Me: Not cool. The Kids Next Door in their universe are gonna need the help of the Kids Next Door with us.

Numbuh 1: I can do that.

Me: The Adult Villains would hate the Loud Kids for this. We can't let their oppression go unpunished.

Maria: What's next? Are they gonna take out their Static and Lyoko Warriors as well?!

Me: Lets see here. I hope not.

Dante Vale: I think we may have to consider that those versions of you are past the point of no return.

Lincoln: I agree!

Lisa Loud: They are monsters.

Me: Yep.

Carmen: Sis, I'm scared. What if those jerks come here?

Maria: I don't think they will Carmen.

Me: It says that they don't even know about us.

Captain Cold: But we know about them now. They even roughhoused a kid named Penn Zero all because he accidentally took over the other Lincoln's body for a few minutes. Poor kid.

Me: Yeah. Poor kid.

Cornelia: It even shows Rusty (blushes) accidentally slapping Girl Jordan's butt after a routine dodgeball victory.

Girl Jordan: What!? (Growls at Rusty)

She kicked him in the crotch!

Me: (Winces) OOOHH!

Duncan: Right in the kiwis!

Irma: And then after, it shows Rusty accidentally slipping pulling off Linka's shirt by mistake.

Linka: He did WHAT!?

Linka then jumped him and smashed his brains out in a brutal fight cloud!

Skywarp: But that was in that universe. I know Rusty wouldn't do that! (to Rusty) Right, Rusty?

But Rusty was extremely mangled up

Skywarp: Rusty, please nod your head yes or shake your head no to my question.

He nodded.

Me: Holy Shit! Linka thrashed him into pulp!

Sakura Haruno: And I thought I was that vicious whenever Naruto did something pervy.

Lincoln: That's nothing. When Lady Hokage caught Master Jiraiya peeking on her, she totally went ballistic and pulverized his brains out.

Me: It's true. She just wailed on him like a thousand stampeding bulls.

Thundercracker: Think that's bad? Lincoln in that universe beat that version of Rusty up so harshly!

Me: Geez! So it's not just the girls that hate Rusty.

Lincoln: But I would never do that to one of my friends. Especially to someone I know like a brother.

Electro: Is this how they treat their teammates if one of them steps out of line for even a second?!

Me: Yep. In that universe, we aren't there to keep them in line like me, Nico and everyone else.

Aerrow: There's only those Neil, Gyro, Jack Cyber, and Hollow guys that keep encouraging this behavior!

Me: Looks like we have to kill them. But I do have some ideas on how we can ruin them. We can Incriminate them to make the public see them as villains and cut ties with them. Create an Ultron virus and destroy their technology. Use the God of Death to defeat their demons, his name is Greg. He has absolute rule over the living and dead no matter what universe. He hates it when people disrupts his balance of life and death. Or Use the opposite element on the elemental characters. What do you guys think?

Iron Man: There's no way Ultron would willingly give us a virus to use.

Me: Okay so that's out.

Stewie: But I should be able create a virus that can destroy their technology anyway.

Me: Okay. It says here that they have advanced technology and we can't let them see us coming.

Bane: (Spanish Accent) Good plan amigo.

Valon: (Australian Accent) Right on mate.

Vexen: They also don't seem to have powered up angel forms.

Me: So their power is substantially weaker than ours. Good. It'll be easy.

Leonard: They don't even have wings at all.

Me: They might have jetpacks.

Star Butterfly: That could be the case.

Marco Diaz: Yeah.

Me: It also says that their version of Lincoln has Girl Jordan as hus girlfriend.

Laney: Really?

Me: Yep. G.J. do you have a crush on Lincoln?

Girl Jordan: (Blushes) Yes I do.

Me: Aww.

Hydro Man: Sure their Luna also has a Luna Frost form. But that and demonic powers are all she has.

Me: Terrible mix.

Luna: Yeah dude.

Firefly: You sure I can't kill her? Because I can easily melt her with my heat lasers. Plus, they might not have any code against killing kids.

Me: No Garfield. They may not have our code but we will NOT resort to killing kids ever.

Firefly: (Grumbles)

Vexen: Can I at least make her suffer before knocking her out?

Me: That you can still do.

Vexen: Good.

Hound: Vypra, plaese tell me you have those contingency plans for the Loud Kids in case they go rogue!

Vypra: We sure do.

Dark Spicer: I think that will be it for now. I need to go drinking to deal with what I just learned.

Me: We have plenty of soda In the fridge.

Dark Spicer: Thanks, man.

Dark Spicer went to go get one.

Me: (Eyes glow red) Look out Royal Defenders, your days of torture are numbered.

Drag Strip: Yeah! (concentrates)

Nico: What are you doing?

Drag Strip: Trying to make my eyes glow red with righteous fury as well.

Nico: I think only J.D.'s able to do that.

Me: Yeah. I only have that kind of power.

---

Later me and Lincoln were playing Video Games. We were playing one of my favorite games from when I was younger, Super Street Fighter II: The New Challengers. I was playing as Ken and Lincoln was playing as M. Bison and it was awesome! I beat M. Bison!

Me: YEAH! Take that Bison!

Mindy Chan: Yeah!

Lincoln: Good job J.D.

Me: Thanks Lincoln. Street Fighter is one of my favorite games. Has been since I was little. But it was really tough.

Lincoln: I can see that.

Mindy Chan: I was in the same boat as well. Street Fighter is one of my favorites too. But the villains I've always hated in that game are Balrog, Vega, Sagat and M. Bison.

Me: Yeah I hate them too. You beat M. Bison and Balrog before.

Mindy Chan: I sure did. They were tough adversaries.

Lincoln: They sure were.

Me: Lets see what it says about them.

We went to the computer and I pulled up the info of Balrog, Sagat, Vega and M. Bison.

BALROG

Balrog (known as Mike Bison in Japanese) is a former boxer who works for Shadaloo and a villain from the Street Fighter series serving as one of the main villains from Street Fighter II onwards. He is the first and, thus far, only African-American villain in the series not counting other versions.

In Japanese, Balrog is voiced by Jōji Nakata in Street Fighter II: The Animated Movie, Tomomichi Nishimura in Street Fighter II V, Sonosuke Nagashiro in SNK vs. Capcom: SVC Chaos, Koichi Yamadera, and currently, Satoshi Tsuruoka. In English, Balrog is voiced by Joe Romersa in Street Fighter II: The Animated Movie and Street Fighter II V, Paul Dobson in the 1995 Street Fighter cartoon, and Bob Carter in every game where he has a English voice.

Balrog grew up in poverty, but eventually became a heavyweight champion boxer and prizefighter. However, he was banned from boxing because of his illegal moves, permanently injuring his opponents, and eventually killing one. Balrog then joined Shadaloo and worked his way up the ranks, becoming one of M. Bison's top enforcers.

Street Fighter Alpha 3

On a mission for Bison, Balrog killed an elephant belonging to Dhalsim with one punch. On another occasion, he was ordered to kill Birdie and agreed, despite not knowing why. However, Birdie told Balrog about the Psycho Drive and the former boxer agreed to help him find it, hoping to profit from it. However, the Psycho Drive was destroyed and Balrog realized that he had not been paid recently.

Street Fighter II

After Bison was destroyed by Akuma, Balrog became the new head of Shadaloo. But he ruined the organization in no time at all and was forced to find more menial jobs such as working security at a casino, where his battle stage was set. How he got this job despite his criminal past is unknown.

Street Fighter IV

When Bison was finally revived in a new body, Balrog was rehired into Shadaloo. He was given the task of protecting Bison's replacement bodies, but he was unsatisfied with the job. Balrog began thinking of a way to make more money and eventually infiltrated the headquarters of SIN, looking for something he could sell. However, he found a young bandaged little boy, asking for help, and was uninterested in doing so at first.

However, a mark in the shape of Shadaloo's symbol glowed on his hand and Balrog realized that he could possess valuable secrets. The former boxer took him away, saying it was his lucky day, but when he questioned him about his abilities, he revealed he was powerless on his own. Disappointed, Balrog said he was useless, though he decided that he could be useful later and took him away.

Street Fighter V

Balrog makes a return as a playable character in Street Fighter V. Here, he

Street Fighter X Tekken

As Bison sought the box known as Pandora so as to obtain its power, he ordered Balrog and Vega to head for it by an alternate route if things got complicated for him. Balrog was annoyed at having to work with Vega, but they decided to put their differences aside so as to fulfill their own ambitions of getting Pandora and keeping it for themselves.

In their ending, they set off on their journey, beating the other fighters seeking Pandora and finally defeated Ogre. Balrog tried to punch the box open, angered when he could not open it and Vega told him to shut up, having enough of his belligerence. As they faced each other, Pandora opened, empowering the two, and they finally threw themselves at each other, with Balrog saying that he would send Vega to a closed-casket funeral.

Other Appearances

Balrog appears as a support spirit that boosts a fighter's neutral special move. His spirit battle is a stamina battle against Little Mac on the Omega form of Fourside where all fighters have reduced jump height. His spirit is one of the few that must be obtained in the World of Light first before appearing on the Spirit Board or purchased at the Vault Shop.

Personality

Balrog is cruel, greedy, selfish, arrogant, murderous, sadistic, loathsome, pugnacious, belligerent, manipulative, and temperamental, so he focuses constantly on profiting for himself, possessing a vicious mean streak. His main reason for working for Shadaloo is to become rich and famous so he can spend his life on easy street. Balrog will cheat, steal, or kill for this goal and has no sense of honor, cheating in fights whenever he feels like it, despite his fighting skills. Balrog also refuses to take responsibility for his own unfortunate circumstances, instead blaming other people. He is shown to be very unintelligent and irrational, as seen from the fact that he almost instantly ran Shadaloo into the ground during his tenure as leader. That said, he is at least smart enough to pull off simple tasks during Bision's schemes. Balrog is also attracted to all of the women that he meets, with Chun Li being the only exception.

Appearance

Balrog is a tall, heavily built, and very muscular African-American boxer. He wears blue boxing trunks with white trimming and a torn white shirt under a blue tank top. He wears red boxing gloves and boxing shoes. His hairstyle consists of short hair in what appears to be wide cornrows; this hairstyle is similar to Mike Tyson's haircuts from the time Street Fighter II was released on February 6, 1991. Official artworks at the time also depicted him sans a canine tooth in the upper right side of his mouth.

In Street Fighter V, Balrog wears a blue openly hooded robe with yellow outlines and ripped sleeves, at the back it has the design of "Crazy Buffalo" in a black round sign, a large gold crown with clouds and several red stars, the outline on his boxing gloves are black with gold star designs, his boxer shorts are black and he wears matching boxing boots with white outlines.

His first alternate costume is a business attire similar in design to the one he wore in Street Fighter II V, the sleeves are rolled up into cuffs, his boxing gloves are gold and he wears sunglasses.

His second costume has a little resemblance to his primary outfit but in a United States flag motif. He wears a white and red striped long sleeve hoodie, blue trousers with white star designs, white sneakers, and fingerless gloves.

Powers and Abilities

Balrog is a skilled boxer, but his fighting style has a number of moves not allowed in boxing such as stomping on his opponent's feet and headbutting. His moves include Dash Straight, a powerful charging punch, Buffalo Head, where Balrog leaps into the air, striking his opponent with his head, Gigaton Blow, a powerful turning punch, where he charges into his opponent, and Dirty Bull, where he grabs his opponent, head butts them, stomps on their foot, and finishes by hitting them in the face with his elbow. As with most of his fellow Street Fighters, Balrog also has super human strength, speed, and durability. He once killed an elephant with a single blow.

SAGAT

Sagat (in Japanese: サガッ) is an antagonist-turned-anti-hero in the Street Fighter video game franchise and Ryu's (former) archenemy turned ally. He is a highly skilled Muay Thai warrior and a former member of Shadaloo. He serves as the main villain of the first game and the secondary villain before his redemption.

In the Japanese original versions of the games or of the film, he is voiced by several actors such as; Shigezo Sasaoka, Banjo Ginga, Sakai Albright, Kojui Suitsu and Daisuke Endo. In the English versions, he is voiced by Robert O. Smith at the animated series, Peter Spellos and Isaac C. Shingelton, Jr (who also voices Thanos).

In the theatrical 1994 live-action film adaptation Street Fighter, he was portrayed by Wes Studi, who also portrayed Magua in The Last of the Mohicans.

Sagat won the title of God of Muay Thai when he was only a teenager, becoming a national hero throughout Thailand. At one point, he was challenged by a fighter named Go Hibiki and in the fight, Sagat's eye was badly damaged by Go. In a fit of rage, Sagat beat his opponent to death and Go's son, Dan, would swear vengeance on him.

Street Fighter

Sagat held the first World Warrior tournament to prove that he was more than just the strongest practitioner of Muay Thai, and that he was the strongest fighter in the whole world. One fighter, Ryu, managed to make it to the final battle against Sagat, who was able to maintain the upper hand at first and felt sure of victory, even helping Ryu up at one point out of honor. However Ryu, determined to win, briefly gave in to the Satsui no Hado and struck Sagat with his Metsu Shoryuken, defeating him and leaving a large scar on his chest. After that day, Sagat swore to have his revenge on Ryu both for defeating him and scarring him for life despite his display of honor.

Street Fighter Alpha 2

Seeking to develop a moveable to match the one that defeated him, Sagat developed the Tiger Blow. Adon, Sagat's student, taunted him for his loss against Ryu and challenged him to a fight for the title of the God of Muay Thai. Due to having not recovered fully from his fight with Ryu, Sagat lost, but proceeded to beat Adon senseless, leaving him in the hospital for four months. However M. Bison offered Sagat a place in Shadaloo, saying his organization's resources could help him find Ryu and have his rematch. Completely consumed by his anger and hate, Sagat agreed and his fighting skills eventually made him one of Bison's four elite bodyguards.

He began seeking Ryu, eventually finding him, and challenged him, despite Ryu's protests that Sagat had not yet recovered fully. He refused to back down and the two fought with Sagat emerging as the victor. But he felt that the victory was hollow and it dawned on him that Ryu had let him win to make up for winning their pervious fight dishonorably remembering how he'd acted strangely after the fight. Sagat became determined to train harder and rightfully win in their next fight, working on perfecting his Tiger Blow and eventually making it into the Tiger Uppercut. Soon afterwards, Sagat was confronted by Dan seeking revenge for his father. Still occupied with the fact that Ryu had let him win, Sagat let Dan win, allowing him to let go of his anger.

Street Fighter Alpha 3

Sagat realized that the attack that scarred him was the result of Satsui no Hado, which had possessed Ryu. He further realized that true rivals shouldn't be consumed or seduced by anger and hatred and figured out Bison's true plans. But Bison presented a brainwashed Ryu to Sagat, saying he could have the rematch he'd wanted and although he wasn't pleased at the idea of fighting a brainwashed foe, he battled Ryu in hopes of freeing him.

However, Sagat encouraged Ryu to break free and he succeeded with Ryu shaking off Bison's control and the influence of the Satsui no Hado. Ryu defeated Bison and Sagat realized that a rivalry had to have its limits, telling Ryu that he was almost destroyed by corruption. Sagat said Ryu was not ready for a rematch with him and he left, promising to become a true master. Sagat realized it was because of destiny that he had to defeat Ryu, not revenge.

Street Fighter II

Sagat entered the second World Warrior tournament seeking a true rematch with Ryu. However when Ryu was knocked out of the tournament, Sagat dropped out as well, coming in third in the competition. He left Shadaloo and continued to train to become the strongest fighter in the world before he became too old.

Street Fighter IV

However as time went by, Sagat grew depressed and started feeling like a loser. When he attended one of Adon's matches, his former student taunted him and challenged him to a fight. Sagat won with his Tiger Destruction move and his fans cheered for him, reigniting his drive. He entered the new tournament held by Seth so as to have a rematch against Ryu and discover what the ultimate purpose of fighting was.

After winning, Sagat reflected on his obsession with beating Ryu and realized that one should focus on communicating their soul through their fists, rather than on who won or lost. Sagat noted that his old self was similar to Seth, whose fists were now "mute" and wondered if he'd really changed. He went home to his village, where his older brother, a monk named Chit, met him and when asked how the tournament went. Sagat said he actually enjoyed himself, because he'd met an old friend (presumably Ryu).

Street Fighter V

In his character story, Sagat is revealed to have the Satsui no Hado within him. And just like Ryu, he begins to walk the same path as his arch-rival in order to fight off the evil energy.

Super Smash Bros. Ultimate

Sagat appears as a primary shield type spirit that increases fist attacks. His spirit battle is a stamina battle against Ryu on the Omega form of the Coliseum stage with increased physical power and super armor.

Personality

Sagat is proud and determined, having much confidence in his abilities as the former God of Muay Thai, and is completely dedicated to the ways of martial arts. His appearance gives him a menacing air, which is supported by the rage and power he demonstrates during fights. Sagat will even resort to lethal means if he seems on the verge of losing although he has since tried to avoid killing his opponents if he can. He is driven greatly by his hatred towards Ryu and his desire to defeat him so as to reclaim the title of the greatest fighter in the world. Deep down, Sagat lives only for the fight, constantly seeking to improve his strength, always learning from his mistakes and improving. However, Sagat does appreciate strong opponents and hates taking any unfair advantages in battle. Therefore, since Ryu won by attacking him when he was trying to help him up, Sagat was possibly more upset over that than scarring him for life.

Abilities

Sagat is an extremely skilled fighter and a master of the Muay Thai style of martial arts, having been dubbed the "God of Muay Thai". He uses a number of signature techniques, including the Tiger Shot, an energy blast fired from his fists, the Tiger Uppercut, a rising uppercut that uses "tiger fury", the Tiger Genocide, where he unleashes a barrage of kicks, then unleashes a powerful flying kick, and the Tiger Destruction, where he knees the opponent, hits them with a Tiger Uppercut, then finishes with a fiery Tiger Uppercut.

VEGA

Vega (also known as Balrog in the Japanese version) is one of the "Four Heavenly Kings" of Shadaloo and an antagonist in the Street Fighter series.

Vega is a Spanish nobleman born to a beautiful mother. However, the status of his family had dwindled and his mother was forced to remarry for financial security. As he grew up, Vega began showing an interest in bullfighting, which was a national sport and a cultural tradition. After becoming a skilled matador (bullfighter), he traveled to Japan to learn ninjutsu, a fighting style which he believed mixed well with his natural grace and speed.

Before long, he joined an underground fighting circuit, and quickly became a renowned fighter. But tragedy struck when Vega's hideous stepfather murdered his wife, believing that she did not respect him. This event took place before Vega's eyes, causing him to snap from the trauma. He stabbed his stepfather with his claw through his chest, killing him and lived a dual life: an honorable nobleman by day, a sadistic murderer by night.

Super Smash Bros. Ultimate

Vega appears as a primary attack type spirit that lowers the fighter's weight when equipped. His spirit battle is a stamina battle against Meta Knight on the Omega form of Arena Ferox where all fighters have reduced jump power, despite the enemy loving to jump.

Personality

Vega is a headstrong, manipulative, and uncompromising narcissist. He thinks he is the most beautiful man in the world. He hates anything ugly, and will kill anyone he deems "imperfect" without hesitation. He is also notably sadistic, traitorous, vituperative, and psychotic, so he loves to torture his victims and the sight of blood. Therefore, he tends to prolong his fights, just for the mere pleasure of watching his enemies suffer. Furthermore, he usually lacks any honor as he is willing to use dirty tactics to win despite his attempts at being affable.

His narcissism drives him to wear a mask over his face in combat. Not to hide his identity, but to protect his "perfect" face from any scarring or bruising. He is a very formal and authoritative person and enjoys classical music, particularly orchestrated strings and Spanish guitar. Therefore, in addition to judging people by their looks, he often lacks respect towards those who don't have a fine taste in culture.

M. BISON

Master Bison, more commonly known as M. Bison (also known as Vega in the Japanese version), is the main antagonist of the Street Fighter series, beginning with Street Fighter II. He is the tyrannical, diabolical, manipulative, and heartless leader of the Shadaloo organization, and the most authoritative and powerful villain in the series. He also appears as the main antagonist of the TV adaptations and films. He is also Ryu's arch-nemesis.

There is a lot of mystery surrounded in Bison's past, however an often believed story is that when he was young, he killed his own parents for unknown reasons. He was eventually found and raised by a tribe of nomadic Gypsies. The Gypsies' leader took Bison under her wing and trained him in the art of Soul Power. Her decision, while noble, resulted in many years of suffering.

Shortly after he mastered Soul Power, Bison found a much stronger version of Soul Power known as Psycho Power. But in order to master this power, Bison had to expel all goodness and humanity in him, which formed into a woman named Rose that became one of his nemesis.

Shortly after this, Bison created the organization Shadaloo to continue to seek out sources of power and through his research, was able to create the Psycho Drive, a device that could absorb life energy and convert into the energy known as Psycho Power.

Street Fighter Alpha 2

Eventually, Bison learned of a martial artist named Ryu after he defeated his minion Sagat. Deciding to recruit him, Bison began searching for him, eventually being confronted by Rose, whose powers were similar in nature to his.

She fought Bison, who lost, but apparently threw the fight purposely. Later, he ran into Chun Li, who demanded that he tell her what had happened to her father.

They fought with Bison toying with her, before finally taking her down, and he withdrew, revealing that he had killed her father. Eventually, Bison found Ryu and tried to convince him to join his organization, saying that he would make him the greatest fighter ever. However, Ryu refused his offer and fought him, but Bison defeated him, bringing him to his scientists to be brainwashed. (Note: This ending is not considered canon.)

Street Fighter Alpha 3

As time went by, the Psycho Power that Bison wielded had begun to overwhelm his body. Having foreseen this, he ordered his scientists to create a new body he could transfer his essence into. They genetically engineered a girl named Cammy White using Bison's DNA and he made her a part of his Dolls Project, a group of brainwashed young women, all of them kidnapped as little girls, who served as Bison's assassins. However, Cammy eventually developed a mind of her own and turned on Shadaloo.

Bison sent Vega and then Juli, another of his Dolls, to retrieve her. When both failed, Bison began thinking about alternatives and settled on Ryu. He sent another Doll, Juni, to gather information on the martial artist and eventually tried to draw him out by capturing his friend, Ken.

Bison brainwashed Ken and forced him to fight Ryu, who managed to free his friend of Bison's control. The martial artist engaged Bison himself, but lost and was brainwashed himself. Sagat observed and objected to this, but Bison just pointed out that he could now have his rematch against Ryu.

As Sagat fought Ryu, he urged him to snap out of it, and when Ken and Sakura engaged Bison, Ryu freed himself. He fought Bison again, and Bison was about to win, but suddenly, a strange connection formed between his Psycho Power and Ryu's Satsui no Hado. Bison realized their energies were alike and tried to put Ryu under his control again, but with his friends' support, he was able to resist Bison, taking him down with a powerful Hadoken. Bison retreated to the Psycho Drive to restore himself.

Meanwhile, Cammy turned the other Dolls against Bison, who appeared to confront them, deciding that they were now useless to him. They fought him, but Bison revealed that thanks to a psychic link between himself and the Dolls, they would perish if he did.

Bison's destruction.

They defeated him, but their minds began to deteriorate as a result. However, Cammy used her genetic similarities to Bison to control the Psycho Drive and break the connection between the Dolls and Bison. Meanwhile, Charlie and Guile, US Air Force members who had set out to stop Bison, were joined by Chun-Li and rigged explosives throughout the Shadaloo base. Charlie fought a revived Bison to keep him busy while Guile and Chun-Li escaped, apparently sacrificing his life as theexplosives went off. However, Bison's soul lived on and managed to possess Rose. He remained in Rose's body while his scientists worked on making a new body for him.

Street Fighter II

Bison eventually managed to be put into a new body, though his powers were significantly weaker than before. He held a second World Warrior tournament so as to have revenge on those who had opposed him before, especially Ryu. However, as Bison was about to fight in the final match, Akuma showed up and used his Shun Goku Satsu on him, destroying him and fighting the other finalist himself.

Street Fighter IV

Prior to his encounter with Akuma, Bison had ordered his scientists in S.I.N., Shadaloo's weapons division, to create a number of androids. #15 demonstrated higher intelligence than the others, eventually becoming the new head of S.I.N.

On another occasion, Bison had a Korean official and his family murdered with the exception of his daughter, Juri Han. #15 had her cybernetically enhanced, thinking she could be useful. After Bison's destruction at Akuma's hands, #15 renamed himself "Seth" and began an attempt to take over the world, announcing a new World Warrior tournament. However, Juri planned to pit Bison and Seth against each other, so as to avenge her parents.

Bison took the bait and had his soul placed in another body, which was again not as strong as his first one. His scientists tried to discourage this course of action, since they reasoned that with enough time, they could build a body capable of holding the Psycho Power completely. However, Bison said he had not realized how far Seth would go and that he would inhabit a body eventually anyways. He entered the tournament, easily making it through the qualifying rounds and eventually confronted Seth.

Bison engaged him, saying that the loss of his mindless loyalty had made him useless, and Seth protested that he'd helped rebuild Bison's empire. However, Bison revealed that everything that happened had all been a part of his own plan, defeating Seth.

Juri showed up, her plan to have the two destroy each other having failed, and threatened Bison, but he was unconcerned.

The two fought, but the result of their fight is unclear. Later, Bison came across Abel fighting an android that had begun to show signs of becoming self-aware like Seth. Bison destroyed it and said that Abel had grown after their last meeting, but the details of this meeting are unknown, though the implication was that Abel was part of the experiments that created the androids. As Bison left the S.I.N. facility, he came across Rose, saying that she owed him. He took her down, saying he was going to collect with interest and brought her with him to his jet. However, Guy was waiting for Bison and threatened to destroy the jet if he didn't let Rose go. He did as Guy asked and departed, apparently in a hurry. After this what became of Bison is unclear, though he may have decided to maintain a low profile.

Street Fighter X Tekken

As the meteor containing Pandora fell to Earth, Bison learned that one of Shadaloo's satellites had tried using the Psycho Power on it, only to be rejected. Determined to possess the power the box held, Bison set out after it personally, so as to prevent anyone else from obtaining it.

He teamed up with Juri, who remarkably had no qualms with working with the man who had killed her family. Together, Bison and Juri defeated the other fighters seeking Pandora and finally reached it. However, before the two could open Pandora, they encountered one more fighter, Ancient Ogre. Both M. Bison and Juri had to work together in order to defeat Ogre.

As the box opened, Bison reached out to claim its power, but Juri turned on and attacked him. However, he teleported away and called her a predictable fool, saying he'd anticipated her treachery from the beginning as Pandora transformed him. As Juri was transformed as well, she said she never planned to share the box's power with him and Bison said all who defied him would meet their end. Juri replied she was just warming up and the two threw themselves at one another.

Street Fighter (1994 film)

General M. Bison is the main antagonist in the 1994 film adaptation Street Fighter. He is portrayed by the late Raúl Juliá, who died shortly before the film was released.

Bis on's role in the film is similar to that in the games, although he is identified as a British (due to his use of an English accent) and is also a notorious drug kingpin-turned General. and he comes into conflict with Colonel William F. Guile on several occasions. Bison's scheme is to create a superhuman soldier that he intends to recreate in order to allow him to gain total control of the world. During the film's climax, Guile confronts Bison in his lair (after Bison fails to kill Guile with proximity mines) and they prepare for a final showdown. At first, Guile has the advantage and punches Bison into his life support computer system, electrocuting and killing him. However, the system immediately activates and momentarily revives him, after which Bison attacks Guile with electric beams from his super-conductor electromagnetism device.

The general then uses his powerful technology to levitate himself into the air, allowing him to swoop down on Guile in a final attempt to kill him. As Bison approaches, Guile manages to kick him across the room and into the large monitor screens covering the entire wall of Bison's lair, resulting in an explosion that seemingly destroys him.

In the home media version of the film, a post-credits scene shows Bison's life support system once again reviving him, and Bison's fist is shown punching through the rubble. A computer screen then reads "World Domination: Replay".

The late Raul Julia incorporated many well-known real-life dictators and drugs barons for this portrayal; most notably Benito Mussolini's hand gestures, Joseph Stalin's strict demeanor, Adolf Hitler's love of art, and Pablo Escobar's elusiveness and brutality. Other dictators and drug lords studied by Julia include Muammar Gaddafi, Idi Amin, Fidel Castro, and Saddam Hussein.

Personality

Bison is a stereotypical "card-carrying villain", in that he is calculating, manipulative, intelligent, ruthless, and cruel, having given up all goodness within him to master the Psycho Power. He is driven purely by his own desire for power and has no problem with destroying anyone who might hinder his plans. Bison wants complete and utter control of the world's governments and to be viewed as the most powerful fighter around. To this end, he has even cheated death on more than one occasion. He takes great pride in being evil, and will often gloat about this. Some versions, such as his animated series counterpart, even brags about killing his parents.

Bison demands complete loyalty from his minions, but views them as nothing more than pawns, tolerating them only as long as they are extremely serviceable and useful to him and quickly disposing of them when they are not. Bison often uses force and brainwashing to bring fighters to his side and views those he harms in the wake of his plans as insignificant and not worth letting live. That said, even though several of them did betray him, he is sometimes willing to welcome them back. Thus, one could assume that he treats his minions based on how much he values them.

Bison is also extremely pompous, arrogant, vindictive, and narcissistic, even likening himself to a god, and considers himself a superior fighter for his mastery of the Psycho Power. However, he has been proven extremely wrong on several occasions, but refuses to accept the fact that he is vulnerable. His ego rivals that of of his assassin Vega's. Unlike Vegea, however, Bison is better at hiding it sense he sometimes avoids confrontaions with those more powerful than himself.

Though he is a violent, heartless, and prejudicial killer, he does not always kill his opponents; several of his win quotes involve him simply ordering his defeated opponent to "get out of [his] sight", suggesting that he does not see them as worthy of dying by his hand, a demonstration of his narcissism. Other times, he will offer to spare their lives if they swear allegiance to him, indicating that, despite his arrogance, he is not above being impressed by the skills of other fighters and admitting it.

All and all, Bison is one of the eviliest villains in video game history. His ruthless nature, the fact that he gave up his soul for power, and lack of any postive traits make him the most sadistic fighter in the series. Even in his more nobler potrayals, he stands out as a horrible human being who would do anything for power. This makes him the most despised character in the series with even Akuma feeling nothing but contempt for him.

Powers and Abilities

Bison is one of the strongest and most capable fighters in the entire series. With just a tiny fraction of his strength, he can level cities in mere seconds, and even defeat the likes of Akuma with almost no effort at all. He has defeated many of the series' strongest fighters, even taking on multiple opponents at once. He has mastered the Psycho Power, a dark, negative energy and can harness it to use a variety of attacks.

Bison's techniques include the Psycho Crusher, where he surrounds himself with energy as he flies, spinning at the opponent, the Bison Warp, where he glows with energy and teleport.

The Psycho Cannon, a ball of energy that he throws at his opponent, and the Psycho Punisher, where he gathers energy into his hand, then drives his hand into his enemy's chest and fires the energy through them.

M. Bison also has another form known as Final Bison. In this form, M. Bison increased his Psycho Power significantly. All of his attacks deal a large amount of damage to his opponent, though there's a cost; his body will eventually get mutilated by his own power. However, if his body gets destroyed but his soul survives, Bison can transfer his soul into another body to live on.

Bison is a deadly combination of unparalleled strength, as well insurmountable intellect. He knows bend people top his will, with just about every character in the series serving as is unwitting pawn for his grand plan. Even the most pure of heart kneel before him and follow him unconditionally. His evil organization, Shadaloo, has been immensely thriving thanks to M. Bison's cunning and leadership.

However, he has his limits, and has been defeated several times in the past. His Psycho Power can eventually destroy his body, and his search for a new one in Alpha 3 ultimately led to his temporary defeat.

However, it is almost impossible to truly finish Bison, due to his ability to possess other bodies with his soul. When Akuma had "killed" Bison in Street Fighter 2 Turbo, Bison quickly possessed Rose, and stayed in her body until in Street Fighter 4 when his scientists created a new body for him. Bison's soul quickly possessed the new body and is still in control of it today.

For his incarnation in 1994 film, Bison's infamous Psycho Power was replaced with life-support computer systems with an electromagnetism device that augmented on his body. In spite of this, Bison himself is still a dangerous and deadly opponent in his own right, as he can levitate, fires electrical blasts from his arms, and would technically remain immortal as long as his life-support computer system remained intact.

List of Special Attacks

Following Special Attacks that he can performed in game includes:

Double Knee Press: M. Bison performs a forward somersault with his legs outstretched, kicking the opponent up to twice and aiming to land on the opponent's knees.

Knee Press Nightmare: M. Bison performs two consecutive Scissor Kicks before giving a finisher.

Nightmare Booster: Bison makes his traditional "You're done!" throat-slicing gesture, and then proceeds perform two Double Knee Presses while shouting the Ultra Combo's name. He follows with a Psycho Crusher that, if it lands, drives both him and the opponent straight into the air.

Electric Arc: Bison unleashes electricity from his hands forwards toward the ground, electrifying it and fries any opponent standing on that area who is not blocking.

Head Press: Bison leaps into the air and lands perfectly on his opponent's head, in a standing position with his arms folded. He then back flips off again almost immediately.

Head Press Nightmare: Bison hits the opponent with four consecutive Head Presses, dizzying the opponent.

Bison Warp: Bison folds his arms, chuckles a little, glows a pinkish-purple hue and teleports to another location.

Devil Reverse: Bison leaps into the air and towards the opponent before suddenly changing direction in mid-air, flipping upside-down and throwing a Psycho Power-infused punch toward the opponent while descending.

Psycho Blast: M. Bison releases a large Psycho Power explosion from his hand. Like with most of his sttacks, this is can kill most beings upon impact.

Psycho Cannon: Bison forms a purple ball of energy using his Psycho Power then launches it at his opponent.

Psycho Crusher: Bison charges his right hand with Psycho Power, then surrounds himself with the energy while spiraling himself through the air towards his opponent, similar to a torpedo (in fact, early versions of strategy guides referred to this move as a "Flaming Torpedo"), and thus will try to "grind drill" his opponent (hence the term "Crusher"), though on the contrary, in all of its appearances, the attack always knocks down or launches with a single or a few hits (depending on the game).

Psycho Crusher Omega: Much faster than regular Psycho Crusher and is generally unable to pass through the opponent.

Ultimate Psycho Crusher: More Powerful Psycho Crusher.

Final Psycho Crusher: Most Powerful of Psycho Crusher Version.

Psycho Field: Bison conjures a small, slow-moving purple sphere that moves across the screen. When it connects, three giant orbs encircle the opponent, causing damage.

Psycho Explosion: Bison performs a stronger version of his Psycho Field, producing a small purple sphere that slowly moves across the screen and explodes if it hits the opponent.

Psycho Inferno: Bison raises his hands, causing a pillar of Psycho Power to erupt from the ground in front of him.

Psycho Punisher: Bison crouches down with his fingers "clawed" in a menacing way, jumps towards his opponent and stomps hard on the ground right below. If the attack is successful, the stomp impact causes the opponent to be lifted off ground.

Psycho Reflect: Uses Psycho Power to reflect single attacks and other projectiles.

Psycho Vanish: Bison engulfs his hand in Psycho Power and performs an overhead "slash" or punch that hits 3-5 times and knocks the opponent down.

We gasped in shock.

Me: M. Bison is much worse than what we first thought.

Lincoln: No kidding.

Nico: Yeah. He deserves to die.

Me: And he will. Lets head to the simulator for a fight in the world of Street Fighter. Our primary targets are Balrog, Sagat, Vega and M. Bison.

Everyone: YEAH!

We went to the simulator.

---

We were getting ready in the Simulator and we were gonna bring the pain to the evil Shadaloo organization.

The Simulator activated and we were over in Tokyo, Japan.

Me: Here we are guys. Tokyo, Japan.

Laney: This must be where we're going to find and face Ryu first.

Me: Yep. Lets head for the temple Ryu is at.

We went to the temple Ryu was at and we saw the famous Ryu.

---

Ryu (リュウ(隆) Ryū?, "Prosperous", "Plentiful", "Abundant") is the main protagonist of the Street Fighter series, first appearing in the original Street Fighter. He is an experienced martial artist, highly focused on his training, aiming to become the strongest he can.

As a very young child, Ryu was orphaned and left with no memories about his parents, and whether they were still alive. He was found and adopted by a man named Gouken who raised Ryu in his secluded dojo and trained Ryu in the ways of his martial arts. Shortly afterwards, Gouken would later train his best friend's spoiled son, Ken Masters. Ken served not only as a sparring partner, but also gave Ryu a friend in the form of a boy his own age. Ryu looked up to Gouken as a father figure, and regards Ken as his best friend and surrogate brother, a relationship which remains to this day.

When Ryu turned 23 years old, Gouken believed that Ryu was ready to travel the world in order to test and hone his martial skills against the best fighters from around the world. After Ryu and Ken's training was complete, Ken casually asks Ryu which of the two will be recognised as reputable martial artists first. While Ken goes to USA, Ryu enters the World Warrior tournament and travels to Thailand alone, in order to face Sagat the Emperor of Muay Thai which is said to be the strongest martial art.

The first World Warrior tournament

Ryu is one of the participants of the World Warrior tournament. After defeating all challengers, Ryu travels to Thailand. When Ryu arrived, he knew he couldn't just challenge Sagat as an unknown fighter, so Ryu created a plan to put Sagat in a situation where he can't refuse his challenge. By defeating many Muay Thai fighters, he believed it'll eventually reach Sagat's ears. If successful, Sagat will show himself in order to defend Muay Thai's honor. Ryu defeats 20

Muay Thai users, and yells at the fighters how allowing a stranger to tarnish Muay Thai's reputation is an embarrassment, Sagat heard Ryu and his fighting spirit burned. He told Ryu that he'll show him real Muay Thai, and the two would clash. Ryu, however, allows himself to be engulfed by the Satsui no Hado and strikes Sagat with a nearly-fatal Metsu Shoryuken that not only knocks Sagat unconscious, but also marks his chest with a great scar. After regaining consciousness and discovering what had happened, Sagat swears vengeance on Ryu. While it wasn't revealed at the time, when Ryu scarred Sagat, some of his Hado passed to Sagat.

Beginning the battles against Akuma and Bison

Ryu leaves Sagat behind and returns to his home, only to find that Gouken, his master and adoptive father, has apparently been murdered. Learning that Akuma had fought and supposedly killed his master, Ryu began to travel the world to find this man. He encounters and fights Akuma on a secluded island known as Gokuentou, and wins; however, Akuma was only testing him, and senses that Ryu has the same powers as he does. He proceeds to tell Ryu about the Satsui no Hado - a power that consumes the practitioners of their shared fighting style, driving them to win even when it means killing the opponent. Akuma then uses his fist to smash the island, leaving Ryu stranded.

Sometime after escaping the island, Ryu battles Ken and loses. Ken realizes Ryu is not himself, as he has been deeply troubled since his last victory over Sagat. Ken gives him his red hairband as a reminder to stay focused, which Ryu was sincerely grateful for. Soon thereafter, a fan of his, named Sakura, comes up and expresses her desire to train under him. Ryu replies that he himself still has much to learn, but allows Sakura to take a picture of him for now.

At some point, Ryu is found by Sagat, who is out for a grudge match. Ryu protests that Sagat hasn't fully recovered from their last bout, but Sagat persists. Ryu lets Sagat win rather than do any further damage, and Sagat leaves. Only later, upon reflection, does Sagat realize that Ryu held back, vowing to fight him again.

Ryu continues to be troubled by what Akuma had told him, compounded by his encounter with Rose, who has intricate ties to

M. Bison. She tells him that he cannot defeat Bison unless he fights him at the cost of his soul. True to form, when Ryu confronts Bison, he is defeated despite putting up a valiant fight. Bison takes the semi-conscious Ryu and begins brainwashing him, using the revelation that the Satsui no Hado - the dark power Ryu struggles to avoid using - is akin to Bison's own Psycho Power.

This scene is interrupted by the entrance of Sagat, Ken, and Sakura, each of them having followed Ryu for their own reasons. While Ken and Sakura distract Bison, Sagat fights the brainwashed Ryu, quickly noticing the effects Bison's brainwashing has had on him. At Sagat's urging, Ryu comes to his senses to confront and defeat Bison, destroying him temporarily.

Second world warrior tournament and Bison's return

During the World Warrior tournament, Ryu enters to test his skills, and defeats many of the new warriors. He encourages Ken to re-enter as well. During the tournament, he helps Guile, Ken, Chun-Li and Cammy defeat Bison. However, Bison refused Guile's offer to surrender himself to the military before unleashing all of his Psycho Power to commit suicide and it is unknown how far Ryu himself progressed in the tournament, although it is implied he may have lost to Ken. Other sources on the other hand support the idea that he's the tournament winner.

In his non-canon ending, he shortly leaves the tournament after he wins against Bison, and revisits his master's grave to tell about his victory and the experiences he had with the other fighters. Ryu then states that the ultimate battle is out there waiting for him and departs, stating that the fight is everything.

In HD Remix, Ryu appears in Ken's ending, appearing in a somewhat blurry photo with Guile wearing a tuxedo but still wearing his red headband. This is the first time Ryu is seen wearing anything other than his gi.

S.I.N tournament and battle against Seth

After the second World Warrior tournament, Ryu continued his journey and wound up in an isolated desert where he trained. Ryu then remembers his argument with Akuma, with Akuma urging Ryu to give in to the Dark Hado or else he will kill him. Ryu then leaves a desert and goes to a bar where he meets a biker. The biker then tells him a story about an American Martial Arts Champion who abandoned his family. Believing it to be Ken, Ryu visits the house of the said champion but is ambushed by C. Viper.

During the fight, Ryu tries to fight off the secret agent but was no match for her. Suddenly, the Delta Red agent Cammy then attempts to ambush C. Viper. However, Cammy was also no match for Viper and Viper then tortures Cammy, in which the Dark Hado then takes over Ryu and engages C. Viper but would easily defeat her. Luckily for Viper, she manages to escape the possessed Ryu. Angered, Ryu then slaughters multiple S.I.N scientists who witnessed the fight until Ken, Chun-Li, Guile, and Sakura arrive to save Ryu and help Cammy.

Sakura would then restrain the possessed Ryu as Ken calls the hospital to help Cammy. Ryu would then regain his consciousness and realize what he has done. After being sent to Ken's mansion, Ryu realizes he is being targeted by S.I.N and its leader Seth for their evil plans. With Guile's plan to infiltrate Seth's cruise ship to incarcerate him, Ryu then tags along, knowing that Seth would be waiting for him. After traveling to the base, Ryu and Ken then dispatch multiple S.I.N thugs before Ryu encounters Seth himself.

Ryu and Seth then engage, with Seth easily overpowering Ryu and giving him his twisted philosophy of power. Ryu then admits that he never understood what power is and that he understands Seth's philosophy fore stating that the power he describes is not what he's after. Seth, unamused, continues beating up Ryu before Ryu awakens a new power and nearly kills Seth with it. Ryu then collapses from this power, and senses it in Ken. A few days later, Ryu and Ken then part ways, with Ryu stating that they will meet again.

Ryu then enters into a new tournament to further master his skills as well as reunite with his longtime friend Ken for another rematch. During his journey, he meets up with Sakura whom he encourages to train harder. Meanwhile Ryu also meets up with Sagat once more; the two fight, and while the result of the fight is unknown, it is implied that Ryu won.

During the final round with the tournament host Seth (actually a copy of him), he defeats him in the S.I.N. headquarters. During and after this battle the building fell around them as Ryu unleashed the Satsui no Hado on the BLECE machine, a weapon of mass destruction developed by S.I.N. that harnessed the energy in the human body.

During this, Sakura - who has been searching for Ryu - finds him and the BLECE machine, and a pulse of energy from it knocks her into a wall. Ryu defends her by unleashing a Shoryuken on the machine, and they leave the building together, the weapon destroyed.

He then encounters Gouken, who has in fact survived his last battle with Akuma, and Gouken uses the "Power of Nothingness" to seal the Satsui no Hado which is eating at Ryu, knocking him unconscious. Akuma then arrives on the scene to challenge his brother for a death duel, the winner of which will claim "the cub" (meaning Ryu). The outcome of the duel is unknown but, since Ryu is later seen free of Dark Hado's influence, it is very likely that either Gouken won or the battle ended in a draw (possibly interrupted).

Later, Ryu and Ken chase their long-lost master along a cliff face, with Ken wanting Gouken to stick around while Ryu wishes him well. Afterwards, he and Ken are walking through the desert while Rufus mocks them on his motorcycle, though it later breaks down and he is left pushing it while Ryu and Ken drives by (in Ken's jeep). Ryu later bids Sakura farewell as she, Dan and Blanka leave for home on a cruise ship. Some time later, having decided that his battles have made him stronger, he meets a now-older Sakura. What happens next is unknown, although Gouken might have taught Ryu the Shin Shoryuken and Denjin Hadoken at some point before Street Fighter III.

Story

Prologue - 'Finding True Strength' In his dream, he is fighting against his evil self, claiming to him that the power to kill will make him stronger, which Ryu ultimately rejects it. Gouken is in a sparring match during the incident. Ryu charges himself in the Satsui no

Hado and attempts to hit his master with a single Hadoken. It explodes in a flash of light. Ryu wakes up from his dream with Gouken telling him that the Satsui no Hado almost consumed him.

Rashid and Azam find Ryu, introducing himself as a hero who travels the world. Gouken questions Rashid why he comes to see Ryu. Rashid states he wants to challenge Ryu in a match which is to test his mettle. Ryu doesn't immediately get up to fight, worrying about the Satsui no Hado, which confuses Rashid and has Gouken questioning him why he didn't do it, citing Ryu's quote "The answer lies in the heart of battle". Ryu eventually gets up and spars with Rashid, resulting in a victory. Rashid learns from the fight about himself. He thanks Ryu for the lesson and leaves. Ryu decides that he should leave, too, and better understand his power. Gouken tells Ryu to meet Ken, who has been concerned about him.

Ryu and Ken finally meet in Brazil. Ken was told by Gouken about Ryu's struggles with the Satsui no Hado and thinks a good match can solve it, so they fight. Afterwards, Ryu still worries about the Satsui no Hado. Ken reassures Ryu that if Ryu falls over to the dark side, he'll take him down and stop it. Ken tells Ryu to just relax and fight.

Ryu goes to China and gets ambushed by a Shadaloo soldier. Nash comes in and takes down the soldier. Nash expected to see Ryu, which triggers a bit of Satsui no Hado within him. Nash says they have to fight so he can understand the power and know its limits. The fight ultimately ends in a draw. Nash is surprised by the power, having it surpass his expectations. Ryu tells him that he tries to suppress the power and struggles with it, but has decided to not let it take him over, which Nash respects. Ryu thanks him for the fight and Nash leaves.

Ryu: (Japanese Accent) Team Loud Phoenix Storm. Welcome.

Me: (Kung Fu Bow) It's an honor to meet you Ryu. You are a very strong and extremely honorable man.

Nico: You are one of my favorite characters in Street Fighter.

Nicole: Been a powerful force for over 33 years since 1987.

Lincoln: Wow.

Ryu: Indeed. What brings you all here?

Me: We came to kill M. Bison and the entire Shadaloo Organization.

Mindy Chan: They have terrorized our planet for far too long and deserve nothing more than death.

Lana: That's right.

Lola: Yeah!

Me: We won't let M. Bison and his crimes go unpunished.

Ryu: I agree with you.

Me: But we're gonna need all the help we can get. So can we have a match with you to see what you can do?

Ryu: I would be honored.

Me: All right then. I'm saving my true power for when we face Bison.

Leonard the Pig King then appeared.

Leonard: Looks like you'll be having some help Ryu.

Me: He's one of our Frenemies.

Ryu: Ah I see.

Me: Lets get it on.

Teresa, Arpeggio, Lori and Goku went to face them.

---

Battle 1: Teresa, Arpeggio, Lori and Goku VS Ryu and Leonard in Japan

Teresa, Arpeggio, Lori and Goku were facing Ryu and Leonard.

Teresa: This is gonna be so awesome.

Goku: I'm so excited!

Lori: Me too.

Arpeggio: (British Accent) Lets see what Ryu has.

Ryu: Lets do it.

They went at him and Lori kicked him in the face and Ryu fired a Hadoken blast at them and Goku fired a Kamehameha blast and the blasts collided and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMM!

Lori: SHORYUKEN!

She dealt Ryu a deadly flaming uppercut and sent him crashing into the wall.

Lori: Try this one. WIND STYLE NINJA ART: HURLING WIND PUNCH!

She had her fist entombed in wind and punched Ryu in the stomach and sent him crashing into a wall with incredible force!

Goku: Top this one. AURA STYLE NINJA ART: AURA FIST PUNCH!

Goku had his fist covered in energy and he punched Ryu in the face and sent him crashing through another wall with incredible force and he was knocked down.

Lori then slashed a bunch of pig minions and Teresa and Arpeggio fired sonic blasts and laser feathers and Lori slashed the pigs all over the place and turned them into pork cuts. They were now over 1,000,000 pounds of pork. They won.

Ryu got up.

Ryu: Most impressive battle.

Lori: Thank you Ryu.

Ryu: I will gladly go with you all to kill Bison and his organization.

Lori: Thank you

Me: Lets go to where E. Honda is.

We were off to Downtown Tokyo.

---

Battle 2: Clayface, Sandman, Lynn and Syd Chang VS E. Honda and Shiv in Japan

---

In downtown Tokyo, we were in a local bath house and we saw .

---

Edmond Honda (江戸主水本田 Edomondo Honda?), more commonly known as E. Honda, is a video game character from the Street Fighter series, first appearing in Street Fighter II. He is an honorable champion Sumo wrestler that values tradition.

n his Street Fighter II back story, E. Honda is mentioned to have began his training as a child, singularly focused on becoming the greatest sumo wrestler of all time. He would eventually achieve the highly-revered titled of "Ōzeki" (in the English localization, he was incorrectly stated as having achieved the title Yokozuna, though his recent appearance states that he's generally considered good enough for that title, but only held back by some of his rather outlandish techniques).

Street Fighter Alpha 2

E. Honda appears here as more of a cameo - though a significant one - in Sodom's storyline and a bit to his own in the next game.

Sodom, obsessed with both Japanese culture and trying to revive Mad Gear, attempts to recruit sumo wrestlers, citing them as strong warriors. To achieve this he enters a sumo wrestling competition and faces Fuji-no-miya, who is revealed to be Edmond Honda. Agreeing to join Mad Gear if Sodom wins, Honda gives the match a go and defeats Sodom, though he is impressed by his effort nevertheless, according to their dialogue in Alpha 3.

Street Fighter Alpha 3

His storyline in this game serves more of a prologue to his appearance in Street Fighter II, with him traveling the world looking for strong opponents and to show the strength of sumo wrestling. Along the way, he meets Ryu and has a sparring match with him, and tells Sakura later on where she can find him. About this time, he fights Sodom again in a friendly match as well. His wanderings lead him to Shadaloo's base, where he meets Zangief, and while the actual extent of which is unknown, the two are confirmed to have worked together to help destroy the base. In the aftermath, he took in a few of Bison's Dolls to give them somewhere to stay until they could regain their memories (which ones in particular is never exactly certain, due to Capcom reusing sprites in his ending for the girls).

Street Fighter II

E. Honda became upset that the rest of the world did not view sumo wrestling with the reverence of the Japanese. He entered into the second World Warrior tournament, intent on showing everyone that sumo wrestlers rank among the greatest fighters in the world. Beyond this, he yearns also to improve and prove his own strength, as well as to earn the title of Yokuzuna.

His involvement with the second tournament is also part of him investigating the Shadaloo organization in response to sumo wrestlers taking biochemical drugs, and learning of their involvement after capturing some of the dealers. His face painting and dual-nationality name assisted him to an extent with remaining covert during this. This aspect of his character was conceived well before Street Fighter Alpha 3 and his storyline there.

After the tournament and the fall of Shadaloo, Honda returned to Japan where he continued engaging in sumo wrestling and continuing to run his bath house and training his disciples.

Super Street Fighter IV

Honda is not back in Japan for long - he soon joins another international fighting tournament. However his goals have apparently not changed much at all, as he is once again fighting to prove the strength of sumo to the world. During the tournament, he meets up with his old comrade Hakan, but loses his match against him. They later agree to meet again in Japan, but Honda warns him not to expect him to lose. He also encounters El Fuerte, and helps the aspiring chef by telling him about Japanese food.

After the tournament he exclaims "Look out, Olympics, here I come!". However, while on a plane, he comes to the conclusion that in order to get sumo into the Olympics, he will have to join the IOC (International Olympic Committee) himself.

Street Fighter V series

During the events of the game, E. Honda is in a gourmet trip with Hakan and is searching for new disciples.

Having been originally leaked on July 2019, E. Honda, along with Final Fight characters Lucia and Poison, was confirmed as a playable fighter in Street Fighter V: Arcade Edition.

In his character story, he attempts to teach some of the guests (specifcally Laura, Rashid and Ryu) in his bathhouse the proper manners to do after taking a bath. As many female guests appear on his bathhouse (particularly, Menat, Juri, R. Mika and Ibuki), Honda decides to make it into a perfect business.

Other story appearances

In Alex's character story, holograms of E. Honda and Hakan appear as opponents that attack together.

E. Honda also appears in Ibuki's character story when she remembers all the good people she met.

Me: Edmond Honda. (Kung Fu Bow) It's an honor to meet you.

E. Honda: (Japanese Accent) Same to you J.D. It's an honor to meet the famous Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Laney: Same to you.

Me: We came here because we need your help. We're going to kill M. Bison and destroy his evil organization and reign of terror once and for all.

E. Honda: I will gladly help you all out. But lets have a match to see what you are made of so to speak.

Syd Chang: It'll be an honor.

Lynn: Count me in.

Shiv then came out.

Shiv: Isn't this a coincidence.

Clayface: Had a feeling you would be here Shiv.

Sandman: Yeah.

Me: He's one of our frenemies so it's all right.

E. Honda: I understand.

Me: Go get him.

Lynn: With pleasure.

Syd Chang, Lynn, Sandman and Clayface went at them and Lynn formed a warclub of lava and smashed Shiv all over the place and burned him with it and kicked him and knocked him down and Syd fired waves of leaves and knocked Shiv down.

Clayface and Sandman formed hammers of earth and sand and smashed E. Honda all over the place.

Lynn: Try this one. EARTH STYLE NINJA ART: ROCK FIST DROP KICK!

Lynn enveloped her fists and feet in rock and punched E. Honda and kicked him with devastating force. Sending him crashing into the wall.

Syd Chang: And this one. WATER STYLE NINJA ART: WATER HAND CHOP!

Syd had her hand enveloped in water and she smashed E. Honda with a powerful Karate Chop and sent him crashing into the wall again.

Nico: Yeah!

Clyde: Way to go Syd!

E. Honda got up.

E. Honda: I will gladly help you all.

Me: Thank you E. Honda.

We went to go to Brazil to recruit Blanka.

---

Battle 3: Venom, Rhino, Laney and Clover VS Bane and Blanka in Brazil

---

In the Amazon Rainforests of Brazil we were there to recruit Blanka.

When we got to a village we saw Blanka!

---

Blanka (ブランカ Buranka?), also known by his birth name Jimmy (ジミー Jimī?), is a video game character from the Street Fighter series, first appearing in Street Fighter II. He is a feral man from the Brazilian jungle with green skin and the ability to generate electricity.

Despite taking on the appearance of a wild man, Blanka is generally passive and docile, and is fond of family connections and friendships as well as children, as seen in the animated series. Yet, when angered, Blanka attacks as though he was a wild animal let loose from a cage, ferociously attacking his opponents with predatorial rage.

As the series goes on, Blanka while retaining his usual manner of speech, starts to develop a bit more common sense; which ironically makes him a more cautious-minded foil to the hot-headed Dan Hibiki. His dislike of masked men, as he believes good people shouldn't hide their faces, is also shown in his rival battle with El Fuerte and also with his win quote against Vega.

---

Me: Blanka. It's an honor to meet you.

Blanka: Team Loud Phoenix Storm. It's a pleasure to meet you all.

Nico: Same to you. We came here to recruit you so we can go kill M. Bison and end his evil grip he has on the world.

Blanka: I will gladly help you. But first lets have a match to see how strong you are.

Venom: Gladly.

Rhino: This is gonna be interesting.

Clover: It sure will.

Laney: Yeah!

Bane then came out.

Bane: Hola amigos.

Me: Hola Bane.

Laney: Lets do it.

Laney, Venom, Rhino and Clover went at them and Laney punched Bane in the face and sent him crashing into a wall and she punched Blanka in the face and Venom, Rhino and Clover kicked and punched Balrog all over the place and really let him have it.

Laney: Watch this one. CELTIC STYLE NINJA ART: AVALON ENERGY KARATE KICK!

She enveloped her leg in green energy and kicked Blanka in the face with incredible force and sent him crashing into the ground.

Clover: Try this one. FLOWER STYLE NINJA ART: FLOWER ENERGY BLAST!

Clover fired a powerful energy blast made of flower petals and it slammed into Blanka and exploded!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Blanka was down and he was beaten.

Blanka: Good fight. I will gladly help you.

Me: Awesome.

We then went to Peterson Air Force Base to recruit Guile.

---

Battle 4: Shadow the Hedgehog, Vegeta, Nico and Linka VS Myotismon and Guile at Peterson Air Force Base in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

---

We were walking along the paths of Peterson Air Force Base in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Me: Didn't know Guile worked here at Peterson Air Force Base.

Nico: Sounds like you have been here before.

Me: I used to live here in Colorado and Peterson Air Force Base is one of Colorado's most widely known Air Force Bases.

Laney: This is so cool!

Lana: It sure is.

We then saw Guile training.

---

Guile (ガイル Gairu?) is a video game character from the Street Fighter series, first appearing in Street Fighter II. He is a major in the United States Air Force whose goal is to finish the criminal organization Shadaloo, while at the same time investigating the whereabouts of his best friend Charlie Nash.

Early Street Fighter II sketches and notes suggest that Guile was developed specifically to appeal to American fans. His physical appearance is strikingly different from the many Asian characters in the Street Fighter series, with light blue eyes (green in Street Fighter V) without eyebrows, a chiseled jaw, a permanent expression of bad mood on the face, and his most recognizable feature: a particularly tall flattop haircut. The length of Guile's hair varies greatly from appearance to appearance; it is relatively realistic in Street Fighter II, and impossibly tall in SNK vs. Capcom: SVC Chaos. Capcom source books suggest that Guile's famous hairdo is styled with a special-order army hair spray to keep it up (though he ends up fixing it quickly after a match).

Guile's all-American image includes military fatigues and United States flag tattoos on each shoulder; following standard United States military protocol, the stars are on the left hand side to give the illusion that the flag is flying 'towards' battle. The image of the uniformed American Airman is well known in Japan due to the number of United States Armed Forces bases present in that country.

Guile wears Charlie's dog tag alongside his own; in Street Fighter IV, one of Guile's alternate costumes resembles Charlie's costume.

In Street Fighter V, Guile wears a white military button shirt with dark blue emblems in each sides, a matching dark blue tie on the collar with 'US' emblems in each sides, dark blue military pants with a black belt on his waist and black combat shoes. He wears his signature sports sunglasses as part of his default costume and wears a blue ID with his imprinted full name on the right side and a gold eagle badge on the left. His first alternate costume is his classic attire in Street Fighter II and his second costume has him wearing a brown flak vest with a blue gray army jumpsuit with the sleeves are rolled up into cuffs and a white undershirt. He maintains wearing his sports sunglasses and black combat shoes from his primary outfit and wears Charlie's dogtag and his black watch from his primary outfit.

Guile: (GRUNTS!)

He punched a plank of wood and smashed it to pieces.

Me: Whoa!

Guile saw us.

Guile: Team Loud Phoenix Storm. It's an honor to meet you all.

Me: (Salutes) Pleasure to meet you Major Guile.

Guile: What brings you all here to my home away from home?

Me: We came to recruit you so you can help us kill Bison and Shadaloo. I know he killed your friend Charlie Nash and I'm sorry about that. But M. Bison will pay for that with his life. We promise you.

Guile: I appreciate that and I will gladly help you all. I will make Bison pay with his life.

Nico: You got that right.

Myotismon then appeared.

Nico: Myotismon.

Myotismon: Well this is a good treat.

Nico: Lets have a good match before you help us.

Guile: Lets do it.

Nico, Vegeta, Shadow the Hedgehog and Linka went to face them.

Linka fired a blast of lightning at Guile and he fired a Sonic Boom blade at the blast and they collided and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMM!

Vegeta and Shadow and Nico fired energy and light blasts at both Myotismon and Guile and knocked them down. Guile got up.

Nico: Try this one. NOVA STYLE NINJA ART: NOVA FIRE FIST BLAST!

Fire enveloped Nico's fist and he fired a powerful blast of fire and it hit Guile and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Linka: Try this one! HELLFIRE STYLE NINJA ART: FIST BLAST OF HELL!

Linka had her fist enveloped in fire and she fired a fist of fire and it slammed into Guile and exploded!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Guile got up.

Guile: I will gladly help you all now.

Me: Awesome. Lets head for Las Vegas, Nevada.

We were off to Las Vegas to face Balrog.

---

Battle 5: Power Girl, Sinestro, Talia and Carol VS Saïx and Balrog in Las Vegas, Nevada

---

We were in the Luxor Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada. Good old Sin City.

Me: Las Vegas, Nevada. Such an awesome place to visit.

Laney: And the food is awesome.

Lana: It sure is.

We then saw someone flying towards us and we dodged it as it was a man that was badly mangled up and he had bruises and bleeding cuts and all of his teeth were knocked out.

Nico: HOLY SHIT!

Lana: Man what happened to him!

Mindy Chan: Balrog no doubt.

We saw him. It was BALROG!

Me: Balrog. You are the first on our hit list.

Balrog: Is that so?

Carol: That's right and we're going to kill you along with M. Bison.

Balrog: We'll see about that.

Saïx then appeared.

Carol: Hello Saïx.

Saïx: Nice to see you all here.

Balrog: Yo, Saïx! Take care of that blonde bitch for me!

Saix: (glares at Balrog) Don't tell me what to do, Balrog.

Me: (To the civilians) You guys may want to get out of here and quick. This is gonna get really ugly.

They agreed and left.

Lana went over to the machines to get some dough.

Power Girl, Sinestro, Talia and Carol went to face then and Carol kicked Saïx in his face and fired a blast of atomic energy at Balrog's glove and vaporized it and kicked him in the face and Power Girl fired her laser vision and the beams hit Balrog in his head and he screamed in excruciating agony and Talia fired waves of the Aurora Borealis at Saïx and Balrog and burned them and Sinestro fired blasts of yellow energy and they hit Balrog all over and exploded.

Talia: Take this one! METEOR STYLE NINJA ART: METEOR FIST SMASH!

Talia had her fist enveloped in a meteor and she punched Balrog in the face and smashed him all over over with it with incredible force!

Carol: Take this! ATOMIC STYLE NINJA ART: RADIOACTIVE MEGAPUNCH BLAST!

Carol had atomic energy form around her fist and she fired it and it slammed into Balrog and he exploded into flaming embers of blood and guts. Killing him instantly.

Vince: WOW! Nice one Carol!

Carla: YAY MOMMY!

Me: Way to go guys! 1 down and 3 to go.

Nico: Yep. Balrog has failed this city.

Lana had been raking in the bucks and she had won every single cent in the casino. She had won a total of $800,000,042,123,928,297.55. Lucky girl. We were then off to San Diego, California to recruit Ken.

---

We were at a big Navy Base in San Diego, California and we were there to recruit Ken Masters.

We found him at the docks of the shipyard and he was training hard.

---

Ken Masters (ケン・マスターズ Ken Masutāzu?) is a video game character and deuteragonist of the Street Fighter series, first appearing in the original Street Fighter. Similar to his longtime best friend and rival Ryu, Ken's goal is to test his power against many different fighters and strives to become stronger, but holds more restraint due to not wanting to jeopardize his family life.

---

Ken saw us.

Ken Masters: Wow! Team Loud Phoenix Storm! It's such an honor to meet you all.

Me: Same to you Ken.

---

We were in the Market Street in Shanghai, China.

Qin: It's good to be back in Shanghai.

Laney: It sure is.

Shego: Yep.

We then heard the sounds of fighting and we saw Chun-Li beating up a bunch of criminals with incredible power.

---

Chun-Li (春麗 or チュンリー Shunrei or Chunrī?, Simplified Chinese: 春丽) is the main female protagonist of the Street Fighter series, originally debuting in Street Fighter II. The first female fighter in the series, she is an expert martial artist and Interpol officer who relentlessly seeks revenge for the death of her father at the hands of M. Bison.

Ebon then appeared.

Zangief: (To Anastasia) You look familiar to me somehow.

Zangief gasped.

Zangief: But that's impossible. Anastasia disappeared in 1917 when the Tsarhood fell from power.

Me: That was one of the biggest mysteries of the early 20th Century. Over 103 Years ago, Anastasia disappeared and she is now with us thanks to Lori Loud.

Lisa Simpson: I would love to come here to meditate.

Me: We all would.

Then we saw SAGAT!

Me: Sagat. Just who we're looking for.

---

We went into a cantina and we saw VEGA!

Me: Vega.

Vega: (Spanish Accent) So you all came here.

Me: To kill you. You will pay for your crimes Vega.

Ryu: You're going down.

Lola, Lea, Francis and Clyde went to face him as Firefly came out.

---

Gurimo is a member of Doma, appearing only in the Waking the Dragons story arc of the second anime series.

Gurimo is Rafael's subordinate. In the first episode of the Doma arc, he defeats Rex Raptor and Weevil Underwood and captures their souls. Later, after Rafael, Valon, and Alister steal the Egyptian God Cards from Yugi Muto, they give "Obelisk the Tormentor" to Gurimo, who proceeds to challenge Yugi using it and "The Seal of Orichalcos".[1] By infecting it with the Seal's power, Gurimo even manages to control "Obelisk" without the fatal side effects which usually occur when those deemed "unworthy" attempt to Summon the Egyptian Gods.

Yugi defeats "Obelisk" with "Brave Attack", and later won the Duel with "Diffusion Wave-Motion" and "Dark Magician Girl". Due to losing, Gurimo had his soul absorbed by the Orichalcos after he tosses "Obelisk" to Rafael.

While what happened to him after his duel with Yami is unknown, as he is not seen in the rest of the series, it is presumed his soul was freed after Dartz and the Great Leviathan was destroyed.

---

Yugi: Not you again!

Rafael: Gurimo. I didn't expect to see you here.

Gurimo: It is good to see you again Rafael.

Battle 17: Gantu, Panda King, Shanan, Sailor Moon and Laney VS Oniwabandana in Taiwan

---

We were over in Taipei, Taiwan and it was one of the coolest cities in all of Eastern Asia.

Me: Taipei, Taiwan. This is one of the cities I've never been to before.

Nico: I've been here several times before actually. It's really something and it's home to that.

We saw a really tall cool building. It was TAIPEI 101!

---

The Taipei 101, formerly known as the Taipei World Financial Center (臺北國際金融中心), is a supertall skyscraper designed by C.Y. Lee and C.P. Wang in Xinyi, Taipei, Taiwan. This building was officially classified as the world's tallest from its opening in 2004 until the 2010 completion of the Burj Khalifa in Dubai, UAE.

Its elevators, capable of traveling 60.6 km/h (37.7 mph) and used to transport passengers from the 5th to 89th floor in 37 seconds, set new records upon completion. In 2011 Taipei 101 received a Platinum rating under the LEED certification system to become the tallest and largest green building in the world. The structure regularly appears as an icon of Taipei in international media, and the Taipei 101 fireworks displays are a regular feature of New Year's Eve broadcasts.

Taipei 101's postmodernist architectural style evokes traditional Asian aesthetics in a modern structure employing industrial materials. Its design incorporates a number of features that enable the structure to withstand the Pacific Ring of Fire's earthquakes and the region's tropical storms. The tower houses offices and restaurants as well as both indoor and outdoor observatories. The tower is adjoined by a multilevel shopping mall that has the world's largest ruyi symbol as an exterior feature.

Taipei 101 is owned by Taipei Financial Center Corporation. The skyscraper opened on 31 December 2004 to celebrate New Year's Eve.

---

Me: Taipei 101, the 10th Tallest Building in the world.

But then we saw a figure swoop across the ceiling with incredible speed and it was so fast that we couldn't keep up.

Nico: Whoa! Look at that!

The figure then jumped and landed in front of us and it was ONIWABANDANA!

---

Oniwabandana is a ninja-themed Youma who is the final Youma created by Kunzite when he transformed tabloid photographer Nana Asahina into a Youma. She appeared in episode 43 where the Sailor Guardians fight each other to trick the Dark Kingdom.

Her main objective was to spy on the Sailor Senshi and gather more information.

Oniwabandana robbed OSA-P to lure the Sailor Senshi out. Sailor Moon and the rest of the Sailor Senshi arrived to stop her but ended up having an argument. While they were distracted, Oniwabandana reverted to her human form and snapped photos of them, attempting to question them. After suspecting that Nana (Oniwabandana) was indeed associated with the Dark Kingdom, Sailor Moon agreed to meet her and claimed to give her more information about leaving the Sailor Senshi.

Oniwabandana and Kunzite ended up attacking Sailor Moon during their confrontation and Oniwabandana choked Sailor Moon with her bandana. Sailor Mars burned away the bandana with her fire and then Sailor Jupiter and Sailor Venus combined their attacks to strike Kunzite. He protected himself in a force field and fled, leaving Oniwabandana to face the Sailor Senshi alone. To even the odds, Oniwabandana was able to create four clones of herself. Sailor Mercury used bubbles to confuse Oniwabandana and Sailor Mars used her fire to destroy the clones. Sailor Moon then used her Moon Healing Escalation to turn Oniwabandana back into a human.

Powers

Oniwabandana can multiply herself and attacks with traditional ninja weapons, such as shurikens and a katana blade. She can also extend her bandana into a strangulation device.

---

Sailor Moon: Oniwabandana!

Oniwabandana: Its been a while Sailor Moon.

Gantu: (to Oniwabandana) I knew you were going to show up here.

Oniwabandana: Really now?

Shanan: Oh no! I didn't expect Bison to have one of you with him.

Qin: Who and what is Oniwabandana?

Shanan: She is what's called a Shinobian and they come from the planet Shinobus. Shinobus is a forest planet located 92,399 Light-Years away from Earth on the opposite side of the galaxy and the Shinobians are considered the deadliest and most formidable warriors in all of the galaxy. They possess power and skills that rival even that of the Saiyans.

Nico: I remember hearing about that. Vegeta told me that not even the Saiyans were a match for the Shinobians.

Qin: I didn't know they were that formidable!

Oniwabandana: That's right. I'm impressed that you know all about my kind Shanan.

Shanan: I have knowledge of all life in the entire universe.

Oniwabandana: I'm also amazed that you know all about what we went through when we were attacked by the Saiyans.

Shanan: It was because of Frieza that the Saiyans were sent to Shinobus.

Oniwabandana: That's true. But now I can exterminate the last of the Saiyans.

Shanan: I don't think so!

Gantu, Panda King, Shanan, Sailor Moon and Laney were facing Oniwabandana and they went at her and Shanan teleported and kicked her in the back and Gantu and Panda King fired blasts of fire and water and Sailor Moon fired blasts of light and the blasts all hit her and exploded!

The Green Ranger was able to make a beat down on the monster and take him down with ease, but Sprocket was able to capture the Green Ranger when he calls

Zordon for help. The Red Ranger had the upper hand, but Punch-A-Bunch used the freeze breath to clog up the Red Ranger's view, allowing the monster to make clean strikes, and taking out the Red Battlezord with ease using a massive jump punch, but destroying his right glove in the process. Sprocket then sends the monster for a break, saying that he will deal with the Rangers himself, back at the hide-out, Prince Sprocket upgraded Punch-A-Bunch by giving him spiky fists, he later returned and the Red Ranger came in the Red Battlezord to have a rematch, there was a boxing-style battle that took place, the Red Ranger had the upper hand, but Punch-A-Bunch use the freezing breath attach to clog up the Red Ranger's cockpit again, allowing the monster to get clean hits, not only that, but the Machine Empire had cheated, as the boxing rings have electricity, with all of this, Punch-A-Bunch was making a complete beat down on the Red Battlezord, Soon the boxing ring was destroyed by the Rangers in the Command Center and the fight was fair again. Eventually, the Red Battlezord was able to make a complete beat down on Punch-A-Bunch and was able to destroy the monster by spinning through the air and drilling through Punch-A-Bunch, making him explode into golden particles.

When the smoke cleared M. Bison was still standing, but we heard heartbeats and we then saw that his chest had been blown open and his black heart was exposed to the open!

Me: I'll finish him.

I went over to him and he was too weak to even move as blood was pouring out of his mouth and I walked up to him with eyes glowing red with hatred towards him. The Masters of Evil all regrouped.

Me: You have oppressed countless lives and killed thousands just to get what you want. It ends now!

I grabbed his black heart with my bare hands!

M. Bison: Wha… wha… WHAT ARE YOU DOING!

I had his heart beating in my hands.

Me: SENDING YOUR FUCKING ASS TO HELL!

I crushed his heart with my hands and it splattered all over the place and he died in an instant! I then fired an energy blast and completely obliterated his body in an instant.

His evil spirit then appeared.

Me: Never come back again.

I held my hand up to his face.

Me: HAKAI!

He glowed purple and screamed in excruciating pain as he was being completely obliterated. He was erased from existence forever as if he was never born at all. I then saw his evil headquarters and fired an energy blast at his office building and it hit it and the entire building exploded in a massive fiery explosion of rubble and debris!

KRABBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The entire building was completely destroyed and reduced to flaming rubble.

Me: Good riddance.

Nico: M. Bison, you have failed this universe.

Ryu: I'm glad that Bison is gone for good now.

Vypra: So are we.

Maria: I'm actually impressed that you guys managed to spread yourselves out individually for each fight.

Hydro Man: Thank you. But it's a shame that Dark Spicer couldn't make it.

William: I know.

Me: But maybe next time.

The Masters of Evil then teleport out.

Ryu: Thank you all so much for freeing the world from M. Bison.

Me: It was our pleasure Ryu.

We later went back home and the Street Fighter crew was now members of Team Loud Phoenix Storm. Shadaloo has been completely destroyed.

Ryu: (To the viewers) Never follow the path of dishonor like M. Bison did or there will be serious consequences from us and Mindy Chan.

THE END

Another awesome chapter done.

Street Fighter has been one of my favorite video games since I was a little kid and it is so awesome how they made it. For over 33 years now it was very popular. Capcom did an awesome job. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is an awesome adventure into the 1994 movie The Swan Princess and we're not going to let Odette die at the hands of Rothbart. We're going to make that evil wizard pay with his life. This time all of us will take him down.

See you all tomorrow.

Princess of Swan Lake

In a local swamp, Namine was walking around and looking around as she was seeing the sights.

Namine: This swamp is yucky.

But then she came across an abandoned duck nest and she found a lone egg about to hatch.

Namine: Oh a lone duckling.

She saw it hatch and it saw her.

Namine: Aw you are so cute.

Namine picked it up and went back home.

At the estate we were watching TV and playing cards. With us was another one of Hunter's friends Ryan Holland, born male of British nationality, blood type O, has blonde hair, emerald green eyes, roman nose, square ears, unibrow, heart shape face, he is 5.6 feet tall, wears a blue shirt with white and red cross and white and a red x shaping the flag of the United Kingdom and wear's a brown jacket. And wear's blue jeans with a black belt, brownish shoes with laces, and has powers of Wind, Water, Ocean, Ice, and Metal Release. Also he is a fan of Mick Swagger as well.

Me: It's awesome having you with us Ryan.

Ryan: (British Accent) It's an honor to be here. Hunter told me so much about you all and it's gonna be grand to fight for you all.

Laney: Glad to have you with us.

Luna Loud: And it's also a pleasure having a fan of Mick Swagger with us.

Ryan: You said it luv.

Namine came in.

Namine: Hey guys look what I found.

She showed us the duckling.

Elena Validus: Is that a duck?

Namine: Yep. Found him in an abandoned nest in the swamp. I couldn't leave it there.

Me: That's great you found him. He's so cute.

Laney: Aw he's so adorable.

Lola: He sure is.

Lana: Looks like our duck pond has a new friend.

Lisa Loud: Indeed.

Donkey Kong: What are you going to name the duck?

Namine: Dahlia. It's my favorite kind of flower and it's awesome.

Nico: Beautiful name for him Namine.

Kairi: Awesome.

Breakdown: What kind of species is Dahlia?

Namine: I honestly don't know.

Me: I think it's cute. But you have to take care of him all the time.

Namine: I know.

Mirage: Oddly enough, you adopting Dahlia is fitting, considering that you were wearing a duck mask because you thought you were ugly.

Namine: Don't remind me.

Zarya: I will kill Mathis for saying that.

Me: Save seconds for me.

Lincoln: He deserves to die after he said that to her.

Later we were watching one of my favorite movies from my childhood and it was the very movie we used to test our simulator out with: The Swan Princess from 1994. It was based on Tchaikovsky's famous ballet Swan Lake.

---

King William's (Dakin Matthews) chancellor, Sir Rothbart (Jack Palance), plans to take King William's kingdom for himself by mastering a type of dark magic known as The Forbidden Arts. Before he can strike, Rothbart is arrested. Despite calls for his death, King William spares Rothbart's life and banishes him forever. A hateful Rothbart swears revenge on King William and tells him that he will one day get his power back and take everything William owns and loves, but is banished to the evil and dangerous Swan Lake, which he makes his home. King William and his friend, Queen Uberta (Sandy Duncan), make their children, Odette and Derek, meet every summer, hoping that they will fall in love and marry, uniting their two kingdoms. When they meet for the first time, the royal children take an immediate dislike towards each other, but as the years pass they somehow reformed themselves and gradually fall in love.

However, Derek (Howard McGillin) only expresses love for Odette's (Michelle Nicastro) beauty and she and her father leave disappointed. On their journey home, they are ambushed by Rothbart, who is now a sorcerer and transforms into a "Great Animal" with his new powers, kidnapping Odette and fatally injuring William. Derek arrives on the scene and William tells him about the Great Animal ("It's not what it seems"), and that Odette is gone. After searching and finding no sign of Odette, the entire kingdom assumes that she is dead. Uberta encourages her son to find another princess, but Derek is determined to find Odette, believing that she is still alive. Derek and his best friend Bromley (Joel McKinnon Miller) practice hunting every day in preparation to face the Great Animal, with help from Uberta's valet, Lord Rogers (Mark Harelik). Elsewhere, Rothbart is keeping Odette captive at Swan Lake. He has cast a powerful spell that turns Odette into a swan during the day. At night, she can become human temporarily if she is on the lake when the moonlight touches it. Every night, Rothbart asks Odette to marry him so he can rule William's kingdom legally, but she refuses, then the moonlight leaves the lake, and she turns back into a swan. During her captivity, she befriends a turtle named Speed (Steven Wright), a French frog named JeanBob (John Cleese), who claims to be a prince, and an Irish puffin named Lieutenant Puffin (Steve Vinovich).

Puffin and Odette (in her swan form) fly together to find Derek. By chance, they stumble upon Derek in the woods as he is searching for the Great Animal. Derek mistakes Odette for the Great Animal (having deduced that the creature is a shapeshifter), and tries to kill her. The ensuing chase leads Derek to Swan Lake, where he witnesses Odette's change from swan to human when the moon rises. The two share a loving reunion, and Odette tells Derek that to break the spell, he must make a vow of everlasting love and "prove it to the world". Derek invites Odette to the ball at the castle the following night, hoping to declare to the world of his love for her. Derek leaves just as Rothbart arrives and doesn't know the enchanter heard the whole conversation. Rothbart tells Odette that she will never make it to the ball, for there will be "no moon" on that night. Further, Rothbart transforms his cheerful hag sidekick, Bridget, into Odette, hoping to fool Derek to make his vow to the wrong woman, which will kill the real Odette. On the night of the ball, Rothbart imprisons Odette (in swan form) in the dungeon of his castle, along with Bromley, whom he had found in the woods the other night. Bridget, in the form of human Odette, arrives at the ball where she dances with Derek, who is unaware of her true identity.

At Swan Lake, Puffin, Speed, and JeanBob manage to free Odette from the dungeon through a duel with two hungry alligators and she flies to the castle, but is too late. Derek makes the vow to the wrong girl and Rothbart bursts in, revealing to Derek the fake's true form. Realizing his mistake, Derek races after Odette back to Swan Lake, where she finally transforms back into her human form. As Derek holds a dying Odette in his arms, she tells him she loves him before succumbing. A furious Derek confronts Rothbart, demanding he undo the spell. Rothbart transforms into the Great Animal, and a battle ensues with Rothbart overpowering Derek. Odette's animal friends return Derek's bow to him, and Bromley, who has also escaped the dungeon, provides Derek with a single arrow. Derek catches and fires the arrow into the Great Animal's heart, killing him.

A heart-broken Derek confesses his love to Odette, and she revives; the spell on her is broken. Derek and Odette get married and they, along with Rogers, Uberta, King William's servants, Bromley, and the animals move into Rothbart's former castle. Meanwhile, Bridget redeems herself and falls in love with Uberta's lackey, Sir Chamberlain (James Arrington), Puffin becomes the general of an army of swans, Odette kisses Jean-Bob who goes into convulsions but does not turn into a prince, and Odette and Derek live happily ever after.

This was one of Luan's favorite movies. Same with Laney because she loves Ballet. Swan Princess was a flop unfortunately not because of stupid movie critics, but because it failed to compete with the rerelease of The Lion King. When the movie was done we cheered wildly.

Me: Awesome!

Laney: I love this movie.

Luan: Same with me Laney.

Qin: It's so beautiful. It's awesome that Odette has an amazing voice. She is beautiful too.

Me: She sure is. This movie is also the movie we used to test out our Simulator with. When Lisa built it Luan went to test it with one of my favorite movies: The Swan Princess.

Luan: That's right.

Eddy: I remember that. That was awesome.

Luna Loud: It sure was dudes.

Lynn: Rothbart didn't stand a chance against Luan back then.

Me: And our powers have gotten stronger since then.

Laney: They sure have.

Qin: All that training and exercise really paid off.

Me: It sure has. Lets see what it says about Rothbart.

I pulled up Rothbart's information.

---

Sir Rothbart, also known as Rothbart, is the main antagonist of the 1994 animated fantasy film The Swan Princess and the 2012 computer-animated fantasy film The Swan Princess Christmas, a posthumous character in The Swan Princess 2 and The Swan Princess 3 (he appears in the latter via flashback). He is an evil enchanter who kidnapped and changed Princess Odette into a swan. In Tchaikovsky's ballet, Swan Lake, he is based on the sorcerer Von Rothbart who transformed the actual princess into a swan, planning to have his own daughter marry the prince.

In the first film, he was voiced by the late Jack Palance, who also played Voltan in Hawk the Slayer, Carl Grissom in Tim Burton's Batman, and Yves Perret in Tango & Cash. In the second sequel and the animated computer-animated third sequel, he was voiced by Sean Wright.

Sir Rothbart and another evil magician named Clavius mastered the sinister magic power known as Forbidden Arts together, but Rothbart betrayed Clavius and drove him underground, as revealed in The Swan Princess II.

He planned to take King William's kingdom with his magic power, but as he was about to attack, William's men attacked him and took away his power. Despite calls for his death, William banished him instead. He left swearing that he would get his power back and take over the kingdom.

Many years later, he returned, having gotten his power back in The Swan Princess 3. It is revealed that his other ally named Zelda helped him regain his power and he betrayed her afterward, in a similar manner as he did with Clavius. He transformed himself into a chimeric monstrosity known only as the "Great Animal" and killed King William before kidnapping and placing his daughter Odette under a spell, turning her into a swan every day, and she can only turn back into a human if she is on the lake when the moonlight touches it. Every night, Rothbart asked Odette to marry him, so he can be king legally, but she refused.

When Prince Derek finally found her, he resolved to break the spell, which could only be broken by making a vow of everlasting love and proving it to the world. To prevent this, Sir Rothbart transformed his servant, Bridget the Hag, into Odette, so that Derek would make his vow to her instead, as this would kill Odette. Also, there was no moon at the night of the ball in which Derek intended to make this vow. His plan succeeded, but Derek told him to not let her die, and so he transformed into the Great Animal and fought Derek, crushing his sword in his mouth. Jean-Bob the frog gave Derek his bow, and Brom shot an arrow to him. Being a pro at "Catch and Fire", he caught the arrow and shot Rothbart in the heart, killing him and sending him falling into the lake, exploding in a flash of magic lights.

Revival

Rothbart returns as the main antagonist of the 2012 computer-animated sequel The Swan Princess Christmas. Princess Odette and Prince Derek are on their way to Queen Uberta's castle to celebrate their first Christmas together. Unbeknownst to them, the evil enchanter has put in a motion a plan to return from the dead, enlisting a black cat named Number 9 to help by promising him extra lives.

Number 9 succeeds in luring Derek to the cellar of Uberta's castle, where he opens a chest with the initial R on it. At first, there is nothing inside, but once Derek leaves, Rothbart emerges from the chest as a ghost. From here Rothbart moves to the next portion of his plan, which is to destroy the Christmas spirit of the kingdom, the only thing more powerful than the Forbidden Arts, which will give him the power to be revived in physical form. Rothbart is able to cast small spells that cause people to fight; he does this to Queen Uberta and Lord Rogers, and later to the villagers until almost the entire village is in disharmony.

Derek and Odette learn of Rothbart's return when windchimes playing "Far Longer than Forever" make him visible and hold him. They set up chimes all around the castle, but Rothbart eventually re-enlists the help of Bridget, his henchwoman from the first film who had turned good, and she helps remove the wind chimes for him.

As part of the Christmas festivities, Uberta and Rogers are staging musical performances, but because of Rothbart's spell have become extremely aggressive and competitive with each other. Odette, who has been invited to stage her own song, invites orphans to perform "Christmas is the Reason", which momentarily weakens Rothbart's power over Uberta and Rogers. Odette follows up on this by inviting Uberta and Rogers to give gifts and food to the poor. This time, the goodwill breaks the spell on the whole kingdom, and Rothbart is rendered nearly powerless.

Rothbart's last chance to ruin Christmas spirit is to sabotage the royal Christmas tree. He sends Number 9 to steal one of the Christmas lights, and Rothbart casts a spell on it that will destroy the tree. Derek learns of this plan thanks to Bridget, who has double-crossed Rothbart and traps him inside a giant chime.

Derek rushes back to the Christmas Eve party to stop the tree from being lit, but they are too late. The enchanted light bulb bursts the tree and its ornaments into flames. Rothbart becomes fully physical, takes Uberta's crown, and kidnaps Odette, taking her back to Swan Lake. Rothbart defeats Puffin by turning him into a gold statue.

At Swan Lake, Rothbart turns Odette into a swan and traps her inside a cage made of roots. He then casts a spell on the moonlight, so that when it touches Odette's wings, she will turn into a golden, swan-shaped Christmas ornament forever. Derek arrives to rescue Odette and battles Rothbart, who has assumed the form of the Great Animal again. At first, Derek is overpowered, but then Odette starts singing "Seasons of Love" which weakens Rothbart until he eventually bursts into flames and was no more. With Rothbart defeated, Odette changes back into a human and a redeemed Puffin is back to normal. Derek dies in her arms due to his injuries, but when Odette sings again, the spirit of Christmas magically returns him to life and restores the royal Christmas Tree. At the Christmas Eve party, the kingdom puts up a new Christmas ornament on the tree, honoring both Prince Derek and Princess Odette.

Personality

In the animated film loosely adapted from the ballet, Rothbart is a greedy, vile, deceiving, and manipulative court sorcerer who plans to steal the kingdom of Princess Odette's father, King William. While being a cruel, unkind, selfish, arrogant, and vindictive villain, he is also shown to be calm, happy, polite, friendly, optimistic, and intelligent, losing his temper only once in the film.

Appearance

Rothbart is a slender man with red eyes, fair skin, and he has balding orange hair, sideburns growing from each orange side of his face, thick orange eyebrows, and a big orange horseshoe mustache. He wears a black cowl hooded cloak cape with a plum satin lining, mustard dagged neck collar with all the yellow pearls, a blue long-sleeved kurta tunic shirt, dark tan long arm cuffed gauntlet gloves, a black padded belt with a golden buckle on a black padded belt, dark gray pants and black boots with all the dark beige dagger folded cuffs and all the mustard pearls over black boots. Sometimes, he wears a golden king crown on his head.

Powers and Abilities

Forbidden Arts

As a powerful sorcerer, Rothbart possesses immense mystical powers where his signature power is the power to change (transformation) that came from Forbidden Arts.

Great Animal

Rothbart's monster form known as the Great Animal takes the appearance of a monstrous large hybrid monster with the head of a wolf, the body of a bat, the talons of an eagle, and the tail of a lizard, giving a vaguely dragon/wyvern-like appearance. In this form, he can fly at high speed, razor-sharp talons, and sharp teeth.

* * *

We gasped in shock! Rothbart was pure evil!

Me: Rothbart is a monster!

Luan: I'm glad I killed him in the simulator.

Nico: And that was just by yourself.

Me: We all haven't had our shot against him.

Ryan: I agree.

Qin: It's hard to imagine that he was working with dark magic like that. It's dangerous as all get out to work with magic like that.

Laney: Very dangerous.

Lucy Loud: We know about magic like that.

Lynn: That's true and it's amazing that we know it.

Vince: So this'll be a battle with magic.

Luan: It sure will.

Me: Well now we can bring more of the pain to Rothbart. Lets head to the Simulator for round 2.

We cheered and went to the simulator.

* * *

In the Simulator we were getting ready and we were gonna go in for round 2 against the evil Rothbart and make him pay for his crimes. The Simulator activated and we found ourselves in the forests by

Swan Lake and the sun was going down.

Me: Wow. These forests are dense.

Nico: We have to hurry.

Laney: Yeah and we can warn Derek of what Rothbart is planning with Odette.

Lana: Good idea.

We walked around and we didn't see Odette.

Maria: Odette? Where are you?

Me: She has to be here.

We saw a figure flying above us and we saw Derek chasing it.

Me: That swan is Odette! Lets go!

We followed Odette and we arrived at Swan Lake just as the moon was rising and it was a Crescent Moon.

Lola: We have to hurry.

Odette went onto the lake and we went to Derek.

Luan: Derek wait!

He saw Luan.

Derek: Luan? I haven't seen you in a while.

Luan: Things have changed for me since we last saw each other. But that Swan you are about to shoot is not who you think.

Derek: What are you talking about?

Luan: Watch.

Odette then glowed on the lake and changed back into human and Derek found Princess Odette again!

Odette: Hello Derek. Hello Luan.

Luan: Its been a long time Odette.

Derek hugged her and kissed her. We all came out.

Me: It's a pleasure to meet you both.

Luan: This is my team I am now part of.

Me: We are Team Loud Phoenix Storm. We came to free you from the spell you are under Odette and we also came here to kill Rothbart.

Derek: It's an honor to meet you all. And I have heard so much about all of you.

Me: Same here. But I'm afraid the situation is grim.

I revealed everything about Rothbart and what he was doing.

Derek and Odette were shocked.

Brittney: But we will kill him and stop him.

Luan: We have gotten stronger since I faced him the last time.

Brittney: But first we got to get rid of that spell you are under Odette. I know this kind of dark magic and I also know the counter spell.

Odette: Thank you Brittney.

Brittney: You're welcome. And I can use dragon magic to make you forever impervious to all magic.

Odette: I would like that.

Brittney: Okay. Here we go.

Brittney then chanted an incantation and fired a beam of light at Odette and it removed the spell.

Odette: Did it work?

Brittney: It sure did. Now we have to take down Rothbart.

Me: He's coming. I sense it.

Derek: Then we'll face him together.

Me: Our combined power will be more than enough to destroy him once and for all and avenge King William.

Luan: Let me face him first and then you all come out.

Me: Okay. Luan you hide behind Odette to give an entrance.

Luan: Right.

Luan hid behind Odette and out of the trees came the evil enchanter ROTHBART!

Rothbart: Are you finally ready to accept my offer Odette?

Odette: No.

Luan then came out.

Luan: And she will never marry a monster like you!

Rothbart: So you've come back for round two.

Luan: And I'm not alone this time. Now you will pay for your crimes.

Rothbart: What do you mean you aren't alone?

We then appeared in flashes of light and the elements.

Me: She means we're with her.

Rothbart: Team Loud Phoenix Storm!

Nico: That's right Rothbart!

Vince: Your reign of terror is over and you have tormented Odette for far too long.

Me: Now you will pay the ultimate price for your crimes!

Rothbart: No more Mr. Nice Guy!

William: You were never nice to begin with!

Me: All because of your own selfish ambitions.

Laney: You killed Odette's father.

Odette: And you don't know who I am now.

Rothbart: What do you mean?

Odette: My name is Princess Odette William I. You killed my father. Prepare to die.

Skinner, Chalmers and Ms. Cantwell then appeared.

Me: Skinner, Chalmers and Cantwell.

Lisa Simpson: This is a rather unpleasant surprise.

Skinner: Indeed. But you know how we like showing up.

Chalmers: (sees Dahlia) Is that a duck?

Namine: I adopted it this morning.

Cantwell: Funny how you brought a duck on an adventure to save a swan princess. Almost reminds me of the Ugly Duckling.

Namine: Don't remind me.

?: I think it's cute.

A figure came out and it was EPOXAR from episode 11 of Super Samurai!

---

Epoxar is a Nighlok who is able to shoot a special glue, from his shoulder, which remains sticky, for as long as he exists. He can also shoot beams from his eyes and wields a fork-like weapon.

History

Epoxar first appears to attack the city, where he ends up attacking the Rangers. Mike and Kevin try to double-team him only for Epoxar to glue their hands together. Antonio arrives and attacks Epoxar, until the Nighlok retreats. Epoxar is scolded by Master Xandred for retreating, only for Serrator to intervene telling Xandred that two of the Rangers are in a "sticky situation." Octoroo then tells Epoxar to stick some humans together, in order to draw the other Rangers to him. He starts by using his glue on Bulk and Spike, while continuing his attack on the city. Epoxar completes his Ranger Trap, as the other Rangers head to Epoxar's location. The Rangers end up chasing Epoxar into his Ranger trap, where the paste then quickens, so that they won't be able to stop him from destroying the city. Mike and Kevin synchronize, in order to fight Epoxar, starting with them throwing a shopping cart to protect some people from the glue attack. Mike and Kevin use their attacks in double mode, until they use the Forest Spear to fling him into the air and the Hydro Bow to anihilate Epoxar, which undoes the glue he stuck on everyone. Epoxar then grows and prepares to crush Mike and Kevin with his staff but is blasted by the BullZord and mauled by the ClawZord as the others arrive. Kevin and Mike summon thier Zords so the Rangers combine into the arrive with the Bull Megazord, the Claw Battlezord North, and the LightZord. The Bull Megazord counters Epoxor's glue attack with it's shoulder blasters, as the Claw Battlezord North uses its Octospear to stab Epoxar and the Lightzord knocks him away with it's Megaspin Attack. Jayden then activates Shogun Mode and the Bull Megazord uses the Revolving Laser Blaster to destroy Epoxar.

---

Mike (Samurai): Epoxar!

Epoxar: Its been a long time rangers.

Me: I remember you! You were sent to stick a bunch of people together to draw the rangers into a trap. That glue of yours is really strong stuff.

Epoxar: Indeed it is. Mistress Vypra was right about you J.D. Want to see my glue in action?

Epoxar just used his glue to stick me and the Loud Kids to the ground in a giant glue ball.

Epoxar: (laughs) Stick around! (I try to break free) I wouldn't use your powers to get out of there. You'll end up hurting your friends as well.

Me: (Grunts) Ew. Man now I know what you and Mike went through with this stuff Kevin. This glue is like rubber cement enhanced 100 times.

Kevin (Samurai): No kidding.

Lola: No kidding. It's gross!

Lori: This is literally disgusting!

Me: Guys can you try pulling us apart?

Nico: We can try.

Nico and Vince grabbed onto me and The Loud's boyfriends all grabbed onto them.

Me: Okay on three pull. One… two… three!

They pulled with all their strength and it was like trying to pull us apart from superglue! But it was working. Nico and everyone else freed us and then we heard a ripping sound and it was from Lori as we saw the glue rip her skin and ripped her blue tank top off and she screamed in excruciating agony.

Lori then started crying and Bobby started comforting her.

Epoxar: YIKES! That must've hurt. But man no one has EVER been able to break out of my glue like you guys have. You're the first.

Bobby went and comforted Lori as she was crying in pain and Varie was healing her.

Me: That is very impressive glue. But you are too dangerous to be around.

I fired an energy blast at him and it hit him and he fell to the ground and exploded in a massive fiery explosion.

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Go to hell.

?: Just like where you are all going.

Another figure came out and it was an EVIL YUGI!

Me: What the!? (Rubs eyes) Am I seeing things or is Yugi separated from the Pharaoh?

Pharaoh Atem: I'm right here and Yugi is still with me. This is the evil version of Yugi that I beat in a duel to conquer the darkness inside me.

Me: Whoa!

Evil Yugi: That's right and now I will kill all of you!

Me: Not if I can help it.

Troy Burrows: We're going to use two Legendary Modes today. Here's the first one.

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Ninja Steel!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Ninja Steel Rangers.

All 7 Dark Signers then appeared.

Me: All seven of you this time.

Rex Goodwin: That's right.

Kalin: We're not going to let this little Yugi Fraud take you all down if we have anything to say about it.

Misty Tredwell: That's right.

Me: Lets get them guys.

We powered up and went at them!

Battle 1: Skinner

Dana was facing Seymour Skinner.

Dana: Time for some action.

Skinner: Lets do it.

Dana then punched him in the face and kicked him in the stomach and punched him in the face and knocked him out.

Dana: Yeah.

Battle 2: Ms. Cantwell

Lisa Simpson was facing Ms. Cantwell.

Lisa Simpson: You are a bad teacher.

Ms. Cantwell: Deal with it.

Lisa kicked her in the face and she grabbed her by the shirt and threw her and sent her crashing into a tree. She was knocked out.

Lisa Simpson: That was for ruining my education.

Battle 3: Chalmers

Stella was facing Superintendent Chalmers.

Stella (Winx Club): This is gonna be a good one.

Chalmers: Indeed it will. Having to deal with SKINNNNEEEEERRRR all day really drives me nuts.

Stella: I can tell. Lets do it.

Stella punched him in the face and knocked him out.

We went at the Evil Yugi and slashed and blasted and cut the Evil Yugi all over the place and our monsters destroyed his monsters and we blew him all over the place with incredibly indiscriminate fury! Then the seal took the evil Yugi and sent his ass off to the Book of Vile Darkness dimension. Good riddance.

Me: I can't believe I'm saying this but Yugi Moto you have failed this universe.

Carly Carmine: That Yugi was evil.

Battle 5: ROTHBART

---

We regrouped and we were facing Rothbart.

Me: It's over for you.

Odette: You're finished, Rothbart!

Me: ATTACK!

We went at him and I punched him in the face and kicked him in the stomach and kicked him in the face and Nico punched and kicked him in the face and stomach and Luan blasted him with blasts of light and burned him all over and Lincoln fired waves of lightning and electrocuted him all over. Lola and Lea fired blasts of fire and burned him all over. Lanker and Sobtjek fired blasts of fire and energy and pulverized him all over. The Megaforce Rangers blasted and slashed Rothbart all over.

Emma: Here's Legendary Mode #2!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Mystic Force!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Mystic Force Rangers and they blasted Rothbart with magic all over the place.

Brittney: You will pay! MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: PETRIFICUS TOTALUS!

Lucy Loud: MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: SECTUMSEMPRA!

Haiku: MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: RICTUSEMPRA!

Persephone: MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: RIDDIKULUS!

Juleka: MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: EXPECTO PATRONUM!

Linka: MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: EXPELLIARMUS!

They fired spells from Harry Potter and World of Warcraft and they slammed into Rothbart and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Rothbart was enraged!

Rothbart: I'VE HAD IT WITH ALL OF YOU!

He had orange magic in his hands and he slammed the ground with it and transformed! He transformed into a Chimeric Creature! It was THE GREAT ANIMAL! It took the appearance of a monstrous large hybrid monster with the head of a wolf, the body of a bat, the talons of an eagle, and the tail of a lizard, giving a vaguely dragon/wyvern-like appearance. In this form, he can fly at high speed, razor-sharp talons, and sharp teeth. It had evil red eyes and roared ferociously and the sky was glowing orange like fire and it made the trees all over give off a hellish scene.

Derek: THE GREAT ANIMAL!

Me: HOLY SHIT! He's even uglier up close!

Lola: He's an abomination to nature!

Me: Lets get him!

We powered up and transformed and went at him and I kicked him in the face and knocked out some of his teeth and Derek slashed him and Laney fired blasts of fire and burned him all over.

Leni fired blasts of gravity lightning and Carol fired blasts of atomic energy and the blasts hit him all over and exploded!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

Me: Lets show some teamwork!

Mirage: With pleasure!

Donkey Kong: Here comes Donkey Kong!

Mirage used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Donkey Kong used the Nintendo Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Mirage's Rocket Darts and Donkey Kong's coconut powers 100-fold

They fired their blasts and they all combined and they slammed into Rothbart and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

He flew out of the explosion and Luan flew up to him and fired blasts of light and they hit him and burned him all over.

Me: I've had it with this monster!

Odette: Me too!

Luan, Derek, Odette, Lieutenant Puffin, Speed, and Jean Bob: SWAN LAKE LIGHT BLAST!

They fired beams of light in each color of the rainbow and they hit Rothbart and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

But Rothbart wasn't finished yet. He went high into the sky.

Me: We have to hit his black heart.

Luna jumped out of the lake and he had Derek's bow.

Luna Loud: Derek!

She threw the bow and Derek caught it. But he didn't have any arrows.

Bromley: (Offscreen) (Quivering) Oh please.

Derek: Brom?

We saw Bromley dripping wet.

Bromley: Oh please oh please oh please.

Heidi: Grandpa! Here!

She and Bromley fired arrows at me and Derek.

Me and Derek grabbed our arrows and I formed a bow and we fired the arrows at Rothbart and they pierced his black heart and he fell to the lake! He landed on the lake and exploded into nothing.

KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: See you in Hell Rothbart!

We cheered wildly.

Laney: That was awesome guys!

Nico: Awesome shot!

Lana: Yeah!

Carly Carmine: That was genius!

Derek: How did you learn how to do that J.D.?

Me: You would be amazed at what I have learned from several sources.

Rothbart was forever sent into the Book of Vile Darkness.

Nicole: We have to destroy the Forbidden Arts forever.

Brittney: I agree. Those arts are Satanic and we have to destroy them for good.

We went to Rothbart's castle and destroyed all of his magic and spells and we made sure that they were destroyed for good. We also found the orb that was the source of the Forbidden Arts and destroyed that and made sure that all traces of the Forbidden Arts were erased from existence forever. Later we stayed to watch Derek and Odette's wedding and we were honored to be there. It was awesome.

Luan: So, any luck on those countermeasures regarding the Royal Defenders?

Skinner: If by that you mean those countermeasures for when you guys go rogue, those are already done.

Cantwell: We're just saving those for when we meet the Royal Defenders.

William: Good. Make sure to inform us about what those countermeasures are, though.

Chalmers: We'll make a note of that.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: I'm glad we've seen the last of Rothbart. But if you need our help again Derek, let us know.

Derek: Thank you J.D.

We shook hands and we went back home and we built a portal that went to the world of the Swan Princess.

Luan: (To the viewers) Be careful of what you work with and never mess around with forces you never understand.

Me: That's right Luan.

We rested.

LYNN VS EVIL LYNN

At the estate we were watching TV and what we saw was shocking. We saw a news report come up.

News Reporter: Our top story tonight, Lynn Loud has gone crazy! These pictures show that Lynn Loud Jr. of Team Loud Phoenix Storm has gone crazy and she is causing all kinds of terrible things all over the city. She is responsible for the attempted murder of Albert Loud, Bank Robberies, destroying school property and assaulting police officers. WHAT THE FUCK IS GOING ON!?

Me: THIS CAN'T BE RIGHT!

Lynn: Yeah I didn't do all that stuff! I was with you guys the entire time!

Me: I believe you Lynn.

Lightning: Me too. I think someone is out to destroy your good name!

The doorbell rang.

Me: Uh oh.

I went to the door and answered it. It was Officer Tom Lair.

Me: Hello Officer Lair. Can I get you some coffee or donuts?

Tom Lair: No but thank you for offering J.D. We're here for Lynn Loud.

Lynn came.

Tom Lair: (Sighs) Lynn Loud Jr., you're under arrest of attempted murder of Albert Loud, vandalism of school property, assault on police officers, and bank robbery.

Me: Officer Lair, I don't think Lynn did all that. I think someone is impersonating her and ruining her reputation.

Lynn: That's right. Let me prove that I didn't do all that.

Lola: We need to go out there and prove that Lynn's innocent!

Lincoln: We can't! Since we're Lynn's friends and family, we're under suspicion as well. We'll only make things worse for her.

Me: True. But give her a chance to prove she didn't do any of that. We have suspicions that she is being framed by someone that looks just like her.

Lynn: Yeah.

Tom Lair: All right. You have 5 days and I'll be with you all.

Me: All right. I know just who to call for this. To think like evil you got to call people that ARE evil.

I called the Masters of Evil and they all came over and we got a surprise when we saw BUS ORG from episode 12 of Wild Force!

---

Bus Orgs was one of the ancient Orgs that tried to take over the Earth 3,000 years ago, this Org takes the form of a bus and kidnaps civilians for a ransom, it drives passes the Max and Alyssa, the Wild Force Rangers. The two Rangers morphed and they drew the Savage Cycles to catch up to the bus, but he fought back by firing energy lasers from the back, and he stopped Max, but it was not enough to stop the Alyssa, but she stopped the bus by jumping into it and applying the breaks. Max caught up and both with Alyssa came in to check on the people, unfortunately Toxica and Jindrax had came in and Toxica demanded the Rangers Animal Crystals, the Max refused, but Jindrax said that the people can't get off the bus unless the Blue Ranger gives Toxica the Crystal, Max (in anger) accepts and was about to give the Giraffe Animal Crystal to Toxica, only for him to throw it out the window, making Toxica and Jindrax flee to get the crystal, allowing the Rangers to escort the people out of the bus, after saving the people, the Blue Ranger was determent to go back and get his Crystal, but after passing by the bus however, the bus transforms into an Org (reveling that he is an Org called Bus Org), the Blue Ranger then desisted to fight the Org, he had the upper hand but his Surging Slice attack had no effect on the Org and was quickly out match by the Org's power, right before Bus Org can make the final strike, Alyssa stopped the Org and kicked the monster back, the two Rangers fought, but they were still out match, he out matched the White Ranger, tooked her White Tiger Baton and had her cornered, he was about to make the final strike until he was stopped by the Blue Ranger who fought him back, Cole, Danny and Taylor, the other Wild Force Ranger came in and the Black Ranger gave Max back his Giraffe Animal Crystal, with the Crystal in hand, the Blue Ranger was able to overpower the Org and he used the Surging Spear attack to defeat Bus Org, but the Org wasn't finish yet and he went head first onto the Rangers, he gets destroyed by the Ranger's Jungle Sword Savage Slash Attack, he gets enlarged by Toxica and the Rangers Summon the Wildzords to form the Wild Force Megazord to take on Bus Org, they had the upper hand thanks to the Wild Force Megazord's Shark Surge Attack and Bus Org was destroyed for good by the Wild Force Megazord's Soul Cannon Attack.

* * *

Max Cooper: Bus Org!

Bus Org: Long time no see Rangers.

Me: I remember you! You took the form of a bus to kidnap civilians and get Max's Giraffe Zord crystal.

Bus Org: That's right.

Vypra: I told you that they watched you all on TV.

Bus Org: And I believe you Mistress Vypra.

Dark Spicer: We heard the stories on the news.

Vypra: You want us to find out who framed Lynn?

Me: Bingo.

Nico: Well, since you guys are technically criminals, you're free to roam around to find out who's impersonating Lynn.

Vypra: We'll gladly help you out.

Shiv: No one frames Lynn and gets away with it.

Leni: You can borrow Vanzilla if you want.

Vypra: Thank you.

Bus Org: Alright! Anyone that can't fit in Vanzilla can ride inside me.

Half of the members of the Masters of Evil went into Bus Org and the rest went with Vypra and Lynn in Vanzilla.

Bus Org transformed into a bus and they were off.

Vypra was using her powers to sense for where the fake Lynn's location was and they were gonna be a really long way from home. As they were driving, Lynn was contemplating about everything that happened. She was floored that someone was out to ruin her name and destroy her reputation.

Lynn: I can't believe this. Whoever this Lynn imitator is she will pay for it.

Vypra: I know Lynn.

Shiv: I'm sorry this is happening to you Lynn. But I know this isn't you.

Lynn: How can you tell?

Shiv then pulled out a photo of the Lynn fake. Lynn saw that the fake Lynn was wearing a red Insane Asylum patient jumpsuit and Lynn was not committed to one ever.

Lynn: She looks so much like me. And that can't be Leena because she realized that she is far too dangerous.

Shiv: I see that.

Vypra: And her power is far substantially weaker than yours. She is a normal human out to ruin your good name.

Lynn: This imposter will pay for ruining my name.

Carly Carmine: I agree.

Later they stopped at a bar for lunch called the Redneck Bike N Brawl Bar and they went it. It was a dangerous kind of bar and it was loaded with dangerous people that mean business.

Bartender: How can I help you folks?

Lynn: We're looking for an evil version of me that is framing me. (Shows the photo) Have you seen this imposter?

Bartender: Hmm.

He analyzed the photo.

Bartender: Yes I have seen her. She was here 2 hours ago and she said something about getting revenge on her family for destroying her life. Rumors have been flying around that she escaped from a high class insane asylum up in Nome, Alaska and that she lives in an isolated cabin in Northern Alaska.

Vypra: Thank you.

Lynn: Looks like we're headed to Alaska.

A man came up to Misty.

Misty Tredwell: Can I help you?

Redneck: How about you join me in the parking lot?

Misty Tredwell: Hmm, tempting, but you're not my type.

Redneck: Maybe you didn't understand my request, bitch.

POW!

Misty punched the redneck in the face and sent him crashing into a table.

A redneck then came at Carly and she punched him in the stomach and kicked him in the face and sent him crashing through the wall. They had a good lunch and paid for it and left.

Vypra: Lets get outta here. Thanks for the info.

Bartender: You're welcome.

Later they continued on and stopped at a hotel in Juneau for the night.

Dark Spicer: Sorry, Bus Org. You're gonna have to sleep outside.

Bus Org: I understand.

They checked in at the hotel and got some sleep.

Later the following morning they got breakfast and continued on and they arrived in North Pole, Alaska. It was really cold and more.

Captain Cold: Okay. It took us an entire day to get here. But we're finally gonna find out who's impersonating Lynn!

Lynn: Lets do it.

They arrived at the cabin and snuck up to the door and Lynn kicked down the door and they went in and they saw ANOTHER LYNN!

Lynn: You are in a lot of trouble for ruining my name!

2nd Lynn: (Insane Laughter) I did it to get revenge!

Lynn: Who are you and why are you doing this to me!?

Evil Lynn: Isn't it obvious? I'm you. But I am from another Universe. I was taken to this one after I escaped from the Insane Asylum in Nome.

Lynn: A dimensional vortex.

Evil Lynn: That's right. I am the true you!

Lynn: Why are you doing this to me!?

Evil Lynn: For revenge!

Lynn: On who!?

Evil Lynn: My family for betraying me. But mostly on that fucking jinx of a brother of mine: Stinkoln Loud! Let me tell you my story.

The evil Lynn revealed that she accused Lincoln of being bad luck and that she was the chosen one that was chosen to be the greatest champion of all and that she would win every sport and be the best. But she forced her version of Lincoln to go against his will by threatening to beat his face in with a baseball bat and because of that, karma got her and she falsely accused Lincoln of being bad luck. But Lincoln's sisters and parents stood up for him and gave him a few days off. When his days off were done they were gonna go see a movie. But evil Lynn was gonna make sure that he didn't do anything fun with them and she claimed he was bad luck all the way. She was grounded from the movie and locked in her room. When they got back, Evil Lynn was suggesting that they kick Lincoln out of the house and when the rest of the family rejected that, they said that there was no such thing as bad luck and Evil Lynn refused to believe that and because of that, Rita called the coach and removed her from all her sports teams forever and Lana melted all her trophies down and made Lincoln a Best Brother Ever trophy and Lincoln punched Evil Lynn in the face. The following day Lynn was sent to her Aunt Ruth while everyone went to the beach to have fun. But Lynn then went ballistic and psycho and she nearly killed Aunt Ruth and hurt her cats and she was going to kill Lincoln in cold blood by stabbing him with a knife that she took and Rita called the police on her. She was disowned by her whole family and brought to trial for her crimes. Lynn Jr. was found guilty of assault and battery, animal cruelty, menacing, destruction of personal property and attempted 1st degree murder. She was also found to be criminally insane because of her egomaniacal nature. She was also diagnosed by a panel of psychiatrists and psychologists and was declared criminally insane. They diagnosed her with Borderline, Egomaniacal and Anti-Social Personality Disorders. The coach even testified at her trial and called Lynn's actions and rituals all extremely delusional and the worst kind of sportsmanship and the most embarrassing and most unprofessional and most unsportsmanlike he had ever seen. He kicked her off of all the teams and banned her from all sports for life. Lynn's friends even testified against her and called her an extremely paranoid, unsportsmanlike, delusional, insane and overzealously superstitious monster that tortures others to get what she wants. She tortures her friends with crazy rituals and won't even let them go to the bathroom during a game, putting all their health in jeopardy. Lynn's friends all abandoned her and told her that they never wanted to see her again. The doctors even testified against her and showed the court that Lynn was the most stubborn girl they had ever seen. Lynn Sr. and Rita came to the conclusion in their minds that they were spoiling Lynn too much and letting her get away with all sorts of things for far too long. No more. They will not make the same mistakes again. Lynn was disgraced and forever banned from all sports. She was now an outcast from all of humanity. She was a totally psychotic, delusional, arrogant, egotistical, prideful, sociopathic freak. Lynn was a total sociopath and she was pure evil. The judge called Lynn a truly, evil person with absolutely no soul and no conscience. Because of Lynn, she nearly killed Lincoln in cold blood and nearly tore her family apart forever. She was sentenced to 65 years in the Alaska Maximum Security Psychiatric Institute in Nome for the criminally insane without any chance for parole or release. Because of the severity of her crimes, she was to be sent out of state. She was declared an absolute danger to everyone around her including herself. She had to be watched and guarded 24/7 to make sure she doesn't escape or do anything bad because of how dangerous she is. She had lost everything. Her athleticism, her pride, her reputation, her friends, her family, her home, her freedom and now her mind. Because of that, she swore to get revenge and will stop at nothing to get it! She escaped by using the Alcatraz Escape Dummy trick and tunneled underground and got out undetected. But then a dimensional vortex took her to our world and merged it with ours. She then set up this elaborate plan. Her plan was to frame our version of Lynn for her crimes, so that she would get her arrested and then she would use this opportunity to get close to Lincoln and kill him and her family in cold blood!

Lynn and the Masters of Evil gasped in shock and horror!

Shiv: She's insane!

Vypra: This version of Lynn is a monster!

Dark Spicer: A total wild animal!

Lynn: You tried to make me look like a criminal!

?: She's not the only one you have to worry about.

A figure came out and it was PAUL, BACK FROM THE DEAD!

Electro: Paul!? What the hell are you doing here!?

Hydro Man: But how!? I thought you were dead!

Paul: I was resurrected thanks to the evil Lynn here.

Electro: But you died on that island!

Lynn: You will pay for trying to kill Ash!

Paul: (To Electro and Hydro Man) So, you two have betrayed me as well? Tell me. Was any of the Sinister Six loyal to me at all?!

Electro: We were never loyal to you!

Hydro Man: You cared about no one but yourself.

Another figure came out and it was DRACO MALFOY!

Lynn: Draco Malfoy!

Draco Malfoy: (to Lynn) (British Accent) Too bad Knudson's not here. But maybe, I'll make you suffer for everything he's done to me!

Lynn: You deserved it because you thought of no one but yourself.

Another figure came out and it was OLYMPIUS!

Olympius: Long time no see Vypra. Same to you Loki.

Vypra: Me and Loki have unfinished business with you, Olympius!

Olympius: Well, I have a score to settle with you and your friends for helping to kill mother!

Lynn: Your mother was a monster and she deserved to die!

A huge figure came out and it was G1 STARSCREAM!

Lynn: Starscream!?

Starscream: That's right.

Lynn: Alexis was devastated when your Armada self was destroyed by Unicron. But I now have a chance to bring him back for her.

Starscream: How are you all going to get my good self out of me? The only people who can do so will be arrested if they try to get here!

Lynn: I have my ways.

Another figure came out and it was Numbuh 362's little brother HARVEY MCKENZIE A.K.A. NUMBUH 363!

Common Cold: Numbuh 363!

Numbuh 363: That's right!

Lynn: Aren't you Numbuh 362's little brother?

Numbuh 363: That's correct.

Lynn: I heard you were supposed to be decommissioned because of your rotten attitude and how you treated your fellow operatives.

Numbuh 363: That's right.

Common Cold: (to Numbuh 363) Looks like our roles have been switched, KND brat!

Cheese Shogun Roquefort: I can't believe you would side against your own fellow operatives.

Numbuh 363: Why shouldn't I? Thanks to Nigel Uno, everyone in the KND has turned against me! But thanks to my new friends, my former teammates will pay for betraying me! And then, I'll be ruler of the Kids Next Door like I deserve!

Lynn: You brought all that on yourself because of your rotten attitude. You deserved to be decommissioned!

Evil Lynn: I see you all know my new associates. We are now known as the VENGEFUL 6!

THUNDERCLAP! THUNDERCLAP!

Lynn: Good name. Lets dance you evil freaks!

Dark Spicer: Here's your warning: Your asses are about to be kicked!

Lynn: Big time!

Lynn then flared up her aura and she was enveloped in an aura of fire and lava and she transformed! Lynn was now in her Super Angel 20,000 Volcano Force Dragon form.

Lynn: (Older Voice) You all will now pay for your crimes. Lets get them.

They split up and went at them!

---

Battle 1: Evil Lynn

---

Lynn, Vypra, Dark Spicer, Saïx, Xaldin, Whiteout, Misty Tredwell, Larxene, and Ebon were facing the Evil Lynn.

Lynn: I will never forgive you for trying to make me look like a criminal. Lets dance!

Dark Spicer turned into Hotburn and they went at her and Lynn kicked the evil Lynn in the face and slashed her with her lava sword and kicked her in the back and Vypra and Dark Spicer fired blasts of fire and light & darkness at the evil Lynn and they hit her and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Saïx, Larxene and Misty Tredwell fired blasts of moonlight, lightning and green fire and they slammed into her and Whiteout and Ebon fired blasts of darkness and light and the blasts all hit Evil Lynn and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Lynn: Take this! LIGHT STYLE NINJA ART: IMPERIUM OF LIGHT!

Lynn fired a wave of light and it formed into the armies and members of the Imperium Nihilus and they all went at the Evil Lynn.

---

The Imperium Nihilus, also known as the Dark Imperium in Low Gothic, was the name given to the half of the Imperium of Man isolated from Terra after the formation of the Great Rift, the so-called Cicatrix Maledictum, during the climax of the 13th Black Crusade in 999.M41.

The Imperium Nihilus encompasses most of the Segmentum Obscurus and Segmentum Ultima in the northern and eastern reaches of the galaxy, and was a defining feature of the astrography of the Milky Way Galaxy during the period known as the Era Indomitus.

The Dark Imperium was well-named, for beyond the Great Rift, the light of the Astronomican was obscured to the sight of Navigators and the Immaterium was roiled by the waxing might of the Ruinous Powers, making faster-than-light travel and astropathic communication extremely difficult, if not impossible.

The other half of Imperial space, where the light of the Astronomican was restored relatively soon after the end of the Noctis Aeterna, was known as the Imperium Sanctus.

They blasted and smashed the Evil Lynn all over the place and blew her all over the place.

Vypra: Try this one! HELLFIRE STYLE NINJA ART: CHAOS SPACE MARINES!

Vypra fired a massive wave of fire and it formed into the Chaos Space Marines.

Chaos Space Marines, also sometimes called Traitor Marines, Renegade Marines, or Heretic Astartes, are former Loyalist Space Marines of the Imperium of Man who have chosen to abandon the service of the Emperor of Mankind and dedicate themselves to the service of Chaos to achieve their own ends.

Such corrupt Astartes normally belong to one of the nine original Traitor Legions that betrayed the Emperor during the ancient civil war called the Horus Heresy more than 10,000 standard years ago, while others come from Space Marine Chapters created long after the Heresy ended that have turned Renegade. Chaos can corrupt Astartes of any time and place just as its siren call leads many lesser men and women to their damnation.

A Chaos Space Marine of the Word Bearers Traitor Legion, the first of the ancient Space Marine Legions to turn to Chaos before the Horus Heresy.

During the Horus Heresy, the terrible Imperial civil war that pitted the battle-brothers of the 18 known Space Marine Legions against one another, there were two factions. These were the Loyalist Space Marines who continued to serve the Imperium and the Emperor of Mankind and the Chaos Space Marines of the Traitor Legions who betrayed the Emperor and pledged their souls to the service of the four Ruinous Powers of Chaos.

Some Traitor Marines pledged their service to all four of the Dark Gods, a malevolent force known as Chaos Undivided, whilst others preferred to dedicate themselves to the worship of only one of the Ruinous Powers. The Traitor Legions were led by the Warmaster Horus, once a Primarch of the Imperium and the Emperor's most trusted friend, son, and adviser before he was corrupted by the promises and lies of the Dark Gods and his own inner flaws and ambition.

The Traitor Legions were the most powerful component of the forces of Chaos which fought during the Heresy, which also included the myriad daemons of the Warp, human Traitors from the Imperial Army, the potent infantry and combat walker forces of the Dark Mechanicum and Chaos Cultists drawn from across the galaxy.

The flesh and Power Armour of Chaos Space Marines often warps and twists into new, darker and inhuman forms under the influence of the Warp energies they are exposed to as their shapes morph to embody the corrupted Astartes' new allegiance.

Chaos Space Marines fight for everything they were once forbidden to indulge in as the ascetic servants of the Emperor and the selfless guardians of Mankind. Pleasure, wealth, mayhem, but above all else, the power to rule their fellow humans in the name of the Chaos Gods is the driving ambition and goal of every Chaos Space Marine.

War of Nightmares

In the wake of the birth of the Great Rift, the forces of the Chaos Space Marines under the leadership of Abaddon the Despoiler now represent the most grave threat to the continued existence of the Imperium of Man.

All Heretic Astartes are ultimately united by this sheer hunger for power. At first, this desire is focused towards specific goals, but as time passes, it becomes a bone-deep obsession. Though the Dark Gods are given to rewarding their mortal followers for acts of carnage that further their divine cause, the gifts they bestow upon their favoured are fickle indeed.

A particularly extravagant slaughter might be rewarded with a blood-red aura that invigorates the supplicant, but it is just as likely the champion will find his arms being reshaped as axes of bone, or that he has the face of a slavering hound.

Eventually, the Chaos Space Marine seeks immortality, to ascend to such lofty heights of favour that he is remade as a Daemon Prince. But for every successful aspirant there are hundreds of failures, mutated beyond recognition into mewling abominations known as Chaos Spawn.

The Chaos Space Marines blasted and slashed and smashed Evil Lynn all over and burned her all over.

Dark Spicer: Take this! DARKNESS STYLE NINJA ART: LEGION OF DARKNESS!

Dark Spicer fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the Legion of Darkness.

---

The Legion of the Damned is a mysterious band of Space Marines which appears unbidden when all hope seems lost, striding forth from its hidden netherworld to bring retribution to the Imperium's foes. Once their bloody work is complete the Legionaries vanish into myth once more. They are a legend, whispered in secret by a suspicious few, that the Emperor has the loyalty of a force from beyond reality.

The Legion is an army of vengeance and of flame, a brotherhood of warriors who appear at first glance to be Space Marines but quickly prove to be more lethal than even those most formidable of transhuman warriors. These warriors are variously said to dwell in the spaces between this world and the realm of the Warp, in the hopes and dreams of desperate men, and in a pocket of reality eternally lit by the fires of hatred. Rare is the man that has witnessed the sudden violence of their attack, rarer still those with the strength of will to keep their sanity intact afterwards.

In truth, the Astartes that make up the self-proclaimed Legion of the Damned are remnants of the lost Loyalist Fire Hawks Chapter. They fight as a single unit and often appear mysteriously to aid Imperial military forces at a moment when they are about to be overwhelmed by the foe. The Legion's Space Marines are afflicted by a strange Warp contagion that destroys their sanity; as it progresses, their bodies decay physically at the cellular level, but they grow in supernatural strength and the ability to use the power of the Empyrean against the Emperor's foes.

Each Astartes of the Legion is rapidly approaching the moment when he will finally succumb to the contagion. Combat can initiate the final stages of the disease, in which the afflicted Space Marine reaches a peak in physical power but also enters a permanently berserk state that ends with his death.

The haunting legend of the Legion of the Damned is known across the galaxy, and even nonbelievers speak of such things in hushed tones. These silent warriors are Space Marines in appearance, their black armour adorned with images of bones and fire, yet they are not of any Chapter recognised in the Imperium. Most eyewitnesses dispute even the Legionaries' mortality, for an eerie glow suffuses their sable armour and a halo of ghostly fire dances about their feet.

There are many corroborated accounts of Legionaries of the Damned enduring firepower that would annihilate a warrior clad in Tactical Dreadnought Armour. Among them is a report from the Keyan battle zone, where a handful of Astartes of the Legion of the Damned were witnessed walking unharmed from the Volcano Cannon blast that claimed four Predators and several squads of Space Marines. Energised blades, melta beams and plasma volleys often pass right through them without causing the slightest harm, and on those occasions when such deadly weapons do strike home and inflict horrific damage, even then they do not slow the Legionaries in the slightest.

The Bolters carried by the Legionaries, though in aspect no different to those borne by other Space Marines, discharge flaming projectiles that can pierce the strongest armour. Imperial scholars have concluded that the Legionaries are able to fire far more bolts from their weapons than the ammunition capacity of their magazines would suggest - indeed, no footage has ever been recorded of any kind of weapon reload, even in the most protracted of engagements. Nothing, not Chaos Chosen, rockcrete bastion, nor boiling lava can stay the spectral wrath of the Legion of the Damned.

The nature and origin of the Legion of the Damned is shrouded in mystery and myth. Some rumours suggest that they are the survivors of the lost Fire Hawks Chapter, transmuted by the Warp Storm that claimed their vessel. Others imply that the Legion is an extension of the Emperor's will, time-lost saviours, or even the vengeful spirits of Space Marines slain in the Imperium's many wars.

In the course of their investigations, several Inquisitors have tried to capture or intercept the Legion of the Damned, but all have failed; events always inexplicably conspire to prevent the Inquisitors from getting close to their quarry, leaving them nothing more than frustrated witnesses to the event.

Who, or what, guides the Legion of the Damned is an enigma to all save the beneficent Emperor Himself. They appear only in times of great need, coalescing from the fires of a desperate battlefield to turn a disaster into victory.

Regardless of the conflict, the Legionaries fight with a chill precision that few mortal warriors can match, sweeping enemy positions like vengeful ghosts. Terror is their harbinger and oblivion their gift. After the battle, the Legion of the Damned departs as suddenly as it arrived, leaving only the bodies of the slain and wonder in its wake.

The T'au Empire, also spelled Tau Empire, is a rapidly expanding alien stellar empire situated within the Imperium of Man's Ultima Segmentum, near the Eastern Fringes of the Milky Way Galaxy. The Tau Empire was founded by the Tau caste called the Ethereals, who lead the Tau Empire in the name of the philosophy they have named the Greater Good.

Several intelligent alien races (the Kroot, Vespid, Nicassar, Demiurg and even some humans who have turned their backs on the Imperium, known as Gue'vesa in the T'au Lexicon) have allied themselves with the Tau. The Tau Empire borders the Imperium of Man, and lies within the reach of the Astronomican. It has suffered many raids from the Orks, and also seems to lie in the path of several Tyranid splinter fleets of Hive Fleet Kraken.

---

The Covenant Empire, also referred to simply as the Covenant, was a theocratic hegemony made up of multiple alien species that maintained control over a large portion of the Orion Arm in the Milky Way galaxy. The Covenant was a political, military, and religious affiliation, originally a mutual alliance between the San'Shyuum and Sangheili following a brutal conflict between the two warring races. Its expansion to include at least six other races united in the worship of the Forerunners and the Halo Array soon began after the original formation.

The Covenant waged a genocidal campaign against humanity until they were formally defeated due to many factors - the most crucial of which was an internal conflict that broke the Covenant in two, forcing out the entire Sangheili species and splintering them into separatist groups.

Whilst the Covenant ended either during the Flood infestation of High Charity or during the Battle of the Citadel, new splinter groups that continue the efforts of the former Covenant were created after the conclusion of the war. Some of the separatist Sangheili sought to recreate the Covenant entirely under Sangheili rule, free of the Hierarch's influence. A splinter faction of Sangheili known as Jul 'Mdama's Covenant was created by Jul 'Mdama; this terrorist group is deemed hostile to Humanity, breaking the truce formed with the Sangheili Fleet of Retribution at the end of the war.

Other hostile factions that utilize assets from the former Covenant include Vata 'Gajat's faction, Merg Vol's faction, and The Banished, which existed prior to the Great Schism.

Dark Eldar Commorragh

Commorragh, the Dark City, is the massive city-state within the Eldar Webway that is the primary home of the Dark Eldar, or Drukhari, race. It is said to be impossible for outsiders to find, and anarchy and terrorism are a well-established way of life for its debased inhabitants. It is widely believed to be hidden deep within the inter-dimensional labyrinth known as the Webway, described by the Eldar as a "dark stain" growing within their holy pathways. Commorragh is no mere metropolis, for it is to the greatest cities of realspace as a soaring mountain is to a mound of termites. Its dimensions would be considered impossible if they could be read by conventional means, its population greater than that of whole star systems. If anything, Commorragh is more like a vast collection of satellite realms and cities linked by myriad portals and hidden pathways.

Viewed from one perspective, Commorragh is a loose collection of far-flung nodes spread throughout the arteries of the Webway like a malevolent virus. Its clustered concentrations are in reality scattered across the galaxy, thousands of light-years apart in places. Yet these locations are linked together by shimmering dimensional shortcuts. Within the Webway, the immense distances between each sub-realm can be crossed with a single step.\

The Dark City is known to have "wandering shadows that tear apart the unwary" and is bathed in the crimson half-light of the Ilmaea, or "black suns," dying stars taken from realspace by the Aeldari at the height of their technological prowess and installed within their own sub-realms within the Webway to provide Commorragh with light and power.

In the final weeks of the 13th Black Crusade of Abaddon the Despoiler in 999.M41, the Craftworld Eldar collapsed several Webway portals leading to Commorragh, isolating it from much of the rest of the Webway. Given the mutable nature of the Webway, however, the Dark Eldar can still use artificial Webway portals which are a part of their technological base to create temporary tunnels through the Warp to reach realspace. As a result they remain largely unaffected by their Craftworld cousins' actions.

Ork Waagh

An Ork Empire, also called an Ork Domain, is a region of the Milky Way Galaxy that is controlled by the xenos menace known as the Orks.

Living on innumerable worlds, on some, the Orks dominate completely, on others they live in a state of perpetual war, and on others still they act as slavemasters, bullying the local populations into doing their bidding.

Across the galaxy there are isolated Ork Worlds, interstellar Ork realms, massive Ork empires, and Ork hordes that roam the stars upon gigantic Space Hulks. Wherever humans have travelled in the galaxy, they have found Orks. It has been tens of thousands of standard years since humanity first encountered the Orks, and in that time Mankind has fought countless conflicts with these war-loving aliens.

Barbaric and savage, the Greenskins spread across the galaxy like viridian locusts. They plague the battlefields of the late 41st Millennium in great numbers, overrunning any who stand before them in a torrent of bloodshed and usually mindless violence.

Orks need battle just as humans need food and drink. Due to their warlike nature, they constantly fight amongst themselves, or launch piratical raids upon nearby enemies. Such conflicts tend to be small-scale or localised. They never really develop beyond random outbursts of violence and looting.

However, Ork populations can reach a critical mass that leads to a full-scale planetary migration. This is known as a WAAAGH!, a crusade of pure aggression that crashes through star systems in an orgy of violence.

An Ork WAAAGH! is war on an apocalyptic scale. Orks beyond counting swarm from one world to the next. Whole civilisations are exterminated and defenders' armies laid to waste as the Orks plough ever onward in an unstoppable tide.

Citadel Council

The Citadel Council is the governing body of the Citadel. Convening in the impressive Citadel Tower, the Council is the ultimate authority in Citadel space, passing judgement for violations of Council law, settling disputes between governments, and maintaining law and order, often through the use of its own covert intelligence service, the Spectres.

The Council is an executive committee composed of one representative each from the member species. Though they have no official power over the independent governments of other species, the Council's decisions carry great weight throughout the galaxy. No single Council race is strong enough to defy the others, and all have a vested interest in compromise and cooperation.

Each of the Council species has general characteristics associated with the various aspects of governing the galaxy. The asari are typically seen as diplomats and mediators. The salarians gather intelligence and information. The turians provide the bulk of the military and peacekeeping forces.

Any species granted an embassy on the Citadel is considered an associate member, bound by the accords of the Citadel Conventions. Associate members may bring issues to the attention of the Council, though they have no impact on their final decision.

Legions of Hell

Demons, otherwise known as Hellspawn and the Minions of Darkness[2] are evil entities native to the Burning Hells, and are the primary enemies of the Diablo series. They come in a variety of shapes and sizes and can wield a wide range of magical powers depending on their type. They propagate and serve to spread pure chaos, making them diametrically opposed to the angels of the High Heavens (who stand for Order and fight for the Light). The never-ending war between angels and demons is known as the Eternal Conflict.

The Reapers

The Reapers are a highly-advanced machine race of synthetic-organic starships. The Reapers reside in dark space: the vast, mostly starless space between galaxies. They hibernate there, dormant for fifty thousand years at a time, before returning to the galaxy.

These giant machines are ancient; their true name is unknown. "Reapers" was a name bestowed by the Protheans, the previous galactic power fifty thousand years before, and the geth refer to them as the Old Machines. In the end, the Reapers spare little concern for whatever labels other races choose to call them, and merely claim that they have neither beginning nor end.

The Reapers are the original creators of the Citadel and the mass relay network. These massive constructs exist so that any intelligent life in the galaxy would eventually discover them and base their technology upon them - all part of a scheme to harvest the galaxy's sentient life in a repeating cycle of purges that has continued relentlessly over countless millennia.

Lizardmen Empire

The Lizardmen, sometimes known as the Cold Ones or the Children of the Gods[1d], are an ancient, savage, intelligent race of cold-blooded, reptilian humanoids that were at one time the first and oldest civilisation of the Warhammer World. Long before the rise of Men, Elf or Dwarf, the empire of the Lizardmen ruled supreme.

Alien, enigmatic, and without mercy, the Lizardmen were there when it all began and will be there when the world draws its last dying breath, never tiring nor relenting until order is finally restored to this uncaring, chaotic world. Such is what they were made to do, for they are the ancient servants of the Old Ones, the one true protectors of this very world.

Once, in a long and forgotten age, the Lizardmen ruled over it all, dominating this ancient world during an age of primeval monsters. Although their realm is now partly in ruins and overgrown, they seek once more to rise up and reclaim that which they have lost many millennia ago. While the task at hand remains near impossible, the empire of the Lizardmen still fights on - unleashing their cold-blooded savagery upon any who would stand in the way of their sacred mission.

From the lush jungles they come, beneath totems of gold, the Lizardmen march to war, the ground trembling from the approach of their large and mighty reptilian armies. They go to battle for reasons indecipherable to others, an ancient plan known only to themselves.

None can ever understand their motives nor their ceaseless drive, for none truly understand that they are the rightful inheritors of the world. It is their sacred, if inscrutable, duty to restore order across the planet. If this means the wholesale eradication of the lesser upstart races outside of the Great Plan, then the Lizardmen empire shall enact this world-spanning genocide once more.

Skaven Vermintide

The Skaven, sometimes known as the Ratmen, the Ratkin or the Children of the Horned Rat, are a malevolent and diabolical race of large humanoid rat-creatures that inhabits a massive inter-continental underground empire known in their tongue simply as the Under-Empire, where at the very heart of Skavendom lies the horrific city of Skavenblight, the species capital city and the probable birthplace of the Skaven race. The Skaven as a whole are a cruel, treacherous and highly numerous species that have since spread their loathsome corruption to the farthest corners of the Warhammer World. From deep below the earth, these scavengers have built a vast Empire, whose military power and incomprehensible numbers has the potential to smother the kingdoms of the Old World in a seething tide of violence and anarchy. It is believed by all of Skaven-kind that the world is destined to be theirs, for they consider themselves the Supreme Master Race, undeniably superior in every way to all the other races of the World.

This unwavering belief stems from the promises made by their horrifically malevolent deity, known by many legendary names, but his most well-known title is that of the Horned Rat. The Horned Rat is known as the Harbinger of Corruption and Disease, the embodiment of all things the Skaven are or ever will be, and whose worship over the Under-Empire is both supreme and absolute. Within the cruel hierarchy of the Under-Empire, the wishes and demands of the Horned Rat is issued and maintained by the ruthless tyranny of the Council of Thirteen, an organisation that consists of the twelve most powerful Warlords within the Under-Empire whilst the thirteenth seat is reserved for the Horned Rat himself. It is due only to the Council's harsh tyranny that the Under-Empire remains unified in some shape or form for centuries, for none could ever hope to overcome the legions of warriors the Council has under their iron-fisted rule.

Out of all the mortal civilisations within the greater world, no single race, neither the ruthless barbarian tribes of the north nor the savage greenskins of the east can be compared in terms of instability to that of the Skaven Under-Empire. The Skaven race as a whole is extremely divided, often far more divided than perhaps any other race known in existence. Such disunion and ruthless lack of cooperation stems from the Skaven's insatiable need to survive, thrive, and reign tyrannically over his brethren. To a Skaven, there is no such thing as pity, remorse, compassion, or cooperation. There is simply survival, survival in a turbulent society that only spares those that possess the brute strength, extreme cunning, and the vicious instinct to outmanoeuvre and kill the opposition, no matter the cost or the body count of either friend or foe. Though no matter how divided their race may be, they are nonetheless unified in a single cause, and that cause is to conquer the surface world and bring about the Great Ascendancy, where it is said that the Horned Rat's children will swarm across the face of the earth and claim all of it as their own.

Holy Britannian Empire

The Holy Britannian Empire (神聖ブリタニア帝国 Shinsei Buritania Teikoku, also refered to as the Britannian Empire or just Britannia) is a nation born from the defeated remnants of the British Empire and is the world's dominant military superpower that ruled over one-third of the world and one of the large Empire-unions that control Earth initially in the early 21st Century, the others being the Chinese Federation, the Europia United, and later United Federation of Nations.

Vers Empire

VERS Empire (ヴァース 帝国 Vuāsu Teikoku?) is a faction featured in the television series. The Vers Empire was founded on Mars by the First Emperor Rayregalia Vers Rayvers, and is the government that rules Mars. The humans who live there are referred to as Martians.

The Vers are a nation that latches onto an archaic feudal system for ruling. Due to this, commoners are obsessed with proving themselves in battle to win social standing and attain nobility. For example, Harklight's lower class parents did everything they could to get Harklight into the prestigious Orbital Knights. For this reason, Harklight looked up to Slaine Troyard who, despite being Terran, rose from servant, to Knight, to Count. However, the nobility has been known to betray the commoners who rose through the ranks or assisted them. One example was the group of agents led by Wolf Areash, lower class Martians who were left on Earth after the First-Earth Mars War that were promised knighthood if they could assassinate the Princess Asseylum. After accomplishing their mission, however, they were massacred by Sir Trillram straight afterwards.

Craftworld

Craftworlds are vast craft populated by Eldar. They travel through the void of space at sub-light speeds, carrying the greater remnant of the Eldar race after the Fall of their civilisation. Each Craftworld is a self-sufficient, independent realm with its own culture. Craftworlds are in many ways living entities, powered by psychic energy from its Infinity Circuit and responding in an organic way to the stimuli of psychic forces. The power within a Craftworld can be expended as light or heat, and most Craftworld technology could not function without this psychic power grid.

Furon Empire

Furons were a species who hailed from Furon and were the main alien species in the Destroy All Humans! series.

Plague Legions of Nurgle

The armies of Nurgle are collectively referred to as the Plague Legions. Each of these Legions is associated with a specific stage of Nurgle's cycle of decay and regeneration. The Fecundus Legions are tasked with making disease, traveling across the Warp to gather ingredients. The Infecticus Legions are the harbingers of infection, the carriers of new diseases that lay the groundwork for the greater virulence to follow. The Pathogenus Legions are disease fully bloomed and sickness made manifest, equal in both attack or defense and often deployed to guard key sites within the Garden of Nurgle or to spearhead assaults. The Epidemic Legions contain the most Daemons, spreading outward to ensure initial gains turn into rampaging outbreaks. The Rot Legions revel in decay and break down anything and it is their presence more than any other that causes Nurgle's power to swell. The Morbidus Legions are the reapers, tolltakers, and bringers of death. The Necroticus Legions are the most resilient, for they use hopelessness and despair as weapons.

Each Plague Legion is commanded by a Great Unclean One. Beneath them are Daemon Princes or Heralds of Nurgle that each command one of the Legions seven tallybands. At its peak, each Tallyband is composed of seven packs of Lesser Daemons and Daemonic beasts.

High Eldar of Ulthuan

Prince Tyrion, known as the Heir of Aenarion, Dragon of Cothique, Champion of the Everqueen, and Defender of Ulthuan, is the greatest living High Elven warrior of this age. So valiant and skilled is he that the bards of Ulthuan sing that he is nothing less than Aenarion reborn - a tale that is given credence far beyond Ulthuan's shores.

Since Tyrion's meteoric rise to fame, many have whispered of his destiny to lead the High Elves towards a glorious future, and perhaps one day to take the Phoenix Crown. When Tyrion hears of such gossip, he pays it no heed, for he is unswervingly loyal to the current Phoenix King, Finubar.

Thus does Tyrion concern himself only with the twin duties of protecting Ulthuan and its Everqueen, the beloved Alarielle. However, the latter is seen less as a duty than it is a calling of the heart - it is common knowledge that Tyrion is Alarielle's consort, and has been for many years.

Though Tyrion is a great warrior, he is no politician, and is much given to speaking his mind or openly seeking truth where others would prefer only silence. But for his lineage and battle record, he would long ago have been ostracised by those nobles who hold themselves to be cleverer and subtler than he.

As it is, none wish to directly challenge he who banished the Daemon N'kari at the Phoenix Shrine, slew Urian Poisonblade upon the Finuval Plain and set the verminous horde of Kritsqueel to flight with the aid of none save his noble steed Malhandir.

Moreover, Tyrion not only enjoys royal patronage, he also counts many of Ulthuan's greatest heroes amongst his closest friends and allies. Indeed, some Elves even whisper that Finubar has bidden Tyrion to form a warriors' council - a body answerable to none save the Phoenix King himself.

Alas, Tyrion's future may yet come to naught. Across the long millennia, all who have sprung from the line of Morelion, son of Aenarion, have been beset by a terrible curse. It has taken many forms as it has passed through the generations, ranging from madness of spirit and weakness of body to other, more insidious, taints.

Thus far, Tyrion appears unafflicted, though some whisper his black moods and short temper are but early signs that all should heed. It may yet be that the High Elves' most stalwart defender might one day fade into tragedy or madness. Until that day, those who would threaten Ulthuan must first defeat Tyrion, heir of Aenarion.

Galran Empire

Galrans (more commonly known as Galra) are a species of alien race, or a collective thereof, comprising the bulk of the Galra Empire and the Blade of Marmora.

The Galra are varied in height, though most are comparable to humans, with Zarkon being a notable exception, standing at an estimated 9-10 feet tall. Others, such as Morvok, are incredibly short, standing even smaller in stature than Pidge.

The vast majority of known Galra are witnessed to have purple fur over most of their skin, seamlessly blending in with the hair on their scalps. They also possess beastly facial features that vary extensively, ranging from mammalian like humans (ex. Krolia) to reptilian (ex. Zarkon), and may include colors of white fur and red markings, or dark spines and scales. Though diverse in their appearance, the Galra have four common characteristics: purple-to-grayish-blue skin, long limbs, yellow eyes, and pointed cat-like ears. Pureblood Galrans commonly shown having eyes with no visible pupils or irises, but it's not always the case as some of them have visible irises and pupils even if pureblooded. Many Galra are also seen to have rather prominent cheekbones and long, lean, somewhat angular faces, such as those on Haxus and Thace. Prominent canine teeth are also common among them, though not a uniform trait of the species.

Galra are apparently capable of reproducing with numerous other races, including, but not limited to, both Altaeans and humans. Galran genetics appear to be recessive in regards to appearance when it comes to offspring between their species and humans. This can be seen in Keith, who is Galran and human, who appears human externally, save for the color of his irises, which more closely resemble to the skin and fur tones of the average Galran.

Their long limbs give them an edge in melee combat, and they tend to be quite agile and nimble.

The Galra are also a long-lived species, as one of Zarkon's predecessors as Emperor was known to have lived in excess of a thousand years. This can also be seen in the Blade of Marmora operative Krolia, who despite appearing as a woman in the human equivalent of her early thirties, is likely much older, as her son, Keith, is at least eighteen years old.

Additionally, Galran genetics are apparently unreadable and undetectable to human scientists prior to Earth's introduction to the greater galactic and intergalactic society, as evidenced by Keith, the only known human-Galran hybrid, was able to attend the Galaxy Garrison without issue. This is presumably due to a military academy of such prestige would require extensive health records of all of its students and staff members, including blood testing.

Necron Legions

The Necrons are a mysterious race of robotic skeletal warriors that have lain dormant in their stasis-tombs for more than 60 million Terran years and who are the soulless creations and former servants of the ancient C'tan, the terrible Star Gods of Aeldari myth.

The Necrons are ancient beyond reckoning, predating even the birth of the Aeldari. At long last, however, they are beginning to awaken from their Tomb Worlds, for the galaxy is ripe for conquest and the restoration of the Necron Empire since the disappearance of the Old Ones more than 60 million standard years ago.

The Necrons are a completely robotic humanoid species whose technological prowess is probably unmatched by any of the other intelligent species of the galaxy. Yet out of a desire for vengeance against the more fortunate long-lived ancient xenos race called the Old Ones, and the trickery of the godlike intelligences known as the C'tan, the Necrons shed their original organic forms and lost all forms of compassion and empathy, becoming ruthless, undying killing machines who are determined to exert their mastery over the galaxy once more.

Across the galaxy, an ancient and terrible race is stirring back to life. Entombed in stasis-crypts for millions of Terran years, they have slumbered through the aeons, waiting for the galaxy to heal from the wounds of a long and bloody war. Now, after sixty million years of dormancy, a great purpose begins. On desolate worlds thought long-bereft of all life, ancient machineries wake into grim purpose, commencing the slow process of revivification that will see those entombed within freed to stride across the stars once again. The unstoppable, undying Necron legions are rising. Let the galaxy beware.

All Necrons, from the lowliest of warriors to the most regal of lords, are driven by one ultimate goal, to restore their ancient ruling dynasties to glory and to bring the galaxy under their rule once more, as it was in ancient days. Such was the edict long ago encoded into the Necrons' minds, and it is a command so fundamental to their being that it cannot be denied. Yet it is no small task, for the Necrons are awakening from their Tomb Worlds to find the galaxy of the late 41st Millennium as recorded by the Imperial Calendar much changed.

Many Tomb Worlds are no more, destroyed by cosmic disaster or alien invasion. Others are damaged, their entombed legions afflicted by slow madness or worn to dust by entropy's irresistible onset. Degenerate alien races squat amongst the ruins of those Necron Tomb Worlds that remain, little aware of the greatness they defile with their upstart presence. Yet there is no salvation to be found in such ignorance. The undying have come to reclaim their lands, and the living shall be swept aside.

Yet if billions of Necrons have been destroyed by the passage of eternity, countless billions more remain to see their dominion reborn. They are not creatures of flesh and blood, these Necrons, but android warriors whose immortal forms are forged from living metal. As such, they are almost impervious to destruction, and their mechanical bodies are swift to heal even the gravest wounds. Given time, severed limbs reattach, armour plating reknits and shattered mechanical organs are rebuilt. The only way, then, to assure a Necron's destruction is to overwhelm its ability to self-repair, to inflict such massive damage that its ancient regenerative systems cannot keep pace. Even then, should irreparable damage occur, the Necron will often simply "phase out" - an automated viridian teleportation beam returning it to the safety of the stasis-crypts, where it remains in storage until such time as repairs can be carried out.

The sciences by which such feats are achieved remain a mystery to outsiders, for the Necrons do not share their secrets with lesser races and have set contingencies to prevent their supreme technologies from falling into the wrong hands. Should a fallen Necron warrior fail to phase out, it self-destructs and is consumed in a blaze of emerald light. Outwardly, this appears little different to the glow of teleportation, leaving the foe to wonder whether the Necron has finally been destroyed or has merely retreated to its tomb. Victory over the Necrons is therefore always a tenuous thing, and a hard-won battle grants little surety of ultimate victory. For the Necrons, defeats are minor inconveniences - the preludes to future triumphs, nothing more. Immortality has brought patience; the perils that the Necrons survived in ancient times carry the lesson their race can overcome any opposition, if they have but the will to try. And if the Necrons possess only a single trait, it is a will as unbending as adamantium.

Only one hope can now preserve the other intelligent races of the galaxy from the Necrons' advance, from the endless legions of silent and deathless warriors rising from long-forgotten tombs. If the Necrons can be prevented from waking to their full glory, if the scattered Tomb Worlds can be prevented from unifying, then there is a chance of survival. If not, then the great powers of the galaxy will surely fall, and the Necrons shall rule supreme for all eternity - undying, cruel and utterly implacable.

Empire of the Rising Sun

The Empire of the Rising Sun is the Imperial regime of Japan, led by the Emperor and the Shogunate. Created as a result of Anatoly Cherdenko's erasure of Albert Einstein from the timeline, the Empire of the Rising Sun declared war on both the Allies and the Soviet Union during the Third World War, believing that it is its "divine destiny" to rule the world. Influenced by nationalism, militarism and imperialism, the Empire has adopted aggressive policies, viewing the Allies and Soviets nothing more than "western barbarians".

Metarex Empire

The Metarex (メタレックス Metarekkusu?, lit. "Metalex"), is a large army of cyborgs and robots featured in the anime series Sonic X. They are led by Dark Oak and have one motive: to control the galaxy (or so it seems). The Metarex serve as the main antagonists throughout the final season of Sonic X, almost replacing Dr. Eggman, although unlike Eggman, the Metarex had everything laid out in advance so that they could both protect vital operations and attack enemy worlds at the same time. They are also known to be very dangerous and vicious as they will do everything just to destroy all planets in the galaxy even if it means losing part of their army. The Metarex became extinct after Dark Oak's death.

Lynn: You all have a lot to answer for when we get back to Team Loud Phoenix Storm estate.

Vypra: Yep.

They went back to the estate.

---

Back at the estate we were watching TV and waiting. Lynn and the Masters of Evil came in.

Lynn: We're back guys and we have the monster that framed me along with some unexpected surprises.

They dropped each of them on the floor and we gasped!

Ash: Paul!?

Harry Potter: (British Accent) Malfoy!?

Numbuh 362: Harvey!?

Carter Grayson: Olympius!?

Optimus Prime: Starscream!?

Nico: The G1 version.

Armada Starscream: And me too.

Alexis (Armada): Starscream!

Armada Starscream: Alexis.

Armada Starscream and Alexis hugged.

We saw the evil Lynn.

Me: HOLY CRAP! It's another Lynn!

Lola: But that's impossible! She's all the way over in the Pluto Prison.

I checked and it showed that she was in the Pluto Prison and her insane self was locked up in the Saturn Insane Asylum.

Me: Yep. Both Lynn's are locked up in the Pluto and Saturn prisons.

Lynn: She's from another universe.

Lynn revealed everything that the Evil Lynn was gonna do and we gasped in shock and horror. She also teamed up with Paul, Draco Malfoy, Numbuh 363, Olympius and G1 Starscream to get revenge on me and us.

We gasped in sheer shock!

Numbuh One: (to Numbuh 363) I should've let Father kill you back at his mansion!

Numbuh 363: But you didn't. And now, everything that's happened is because of you!

Me: You brought all that on yourself!

Tom Lair: You were right Lynn. This monster did frame you for her crimes.

Lynn: Yeah. And what really shocked me is that I would turn into a total psycho should the Bad Luck Karma nightmare come true and get outta hand. It would've cost me my sports life, my family, my friends, my freedom and my mind.

Evil Lynn then saw Lincoln and then… SHE… WENT… BALLISTIC!

Evil Lynn: (MANIACAL AND ENRAGED SCREAMING) I WILL KILL YOU STINKOLN! I WILL KILL YOU! I WILL KILL YOU! I WILL KILLLLLLL YOU! IIIIIIIIIIII! WWIIIIIILLLLL! KIIIIIIIIIIILLLLLLLLLLLL! YYYYOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOUUUUUUUU!

Me: She's a total fucked up psycho!

Azula: I can't believe I was that dangerous.

Lily: No kidding.

Draco Malfoy: (to Lynn) You think you're safe just because your evil self is in jail?!

Paul: Who's to say that you won't eventually go back to your old ways and become just like our boss?

Lola: You shut your mouth, you-

Lynn: (sadly) It's alright, Lola. I don't think being a hero suits me anymore. (walks away)

Nico: This isn't easy for her, guys. Just give her time.

Me: Okay.

Ash: You make me sick Paul!

POW!

He and Serena punched Paul in the face and gave him a nasty black eye and a terribly swollen cheek.

POW!

Harry and Ginny punched Draco Malfoy in the face and did the same thing.

Lincoln: Guys, thanks for helping Lynn clear her name.

Vypra: It was nothing Lincoln.

Cole: I guess we owe you one, Bus Org.

Bus Org: Well, I might get destroyed the next time we meet. But at least I managed to help clear Lynn's name!

Me: You sure did.

Reggie saw Paul and he was enraged with him. He gave him a scolding like no other.

G1 Starscream was taken back to Cybertron to be brought to trial for his crimes, Paul was sentenced to 929 life sentences in the Neptune Prison for his crimes against Pokemon and humans. Draco Malfoy was brought to trial for his crimes and he was stripped of his magic and his wand and he was sentenced to the Comet Lovejoy Prison for all eternity. But he was now placed in solitary confinement. Numbuh 363 was the 1st to be decommissioned in our new decommissioning room and he was sent back to his home and grounded for life with no hope for TV or dessert. Olympius was Hakaied from existence for all eternity and he will join his mother in oblivion. As for the Evil Lynn, she was taken to the Crematoria Triple Supermaximum Security Psychiatric Facility and she was condemned there for all eternity.

---

Another awesome fanfiction complete.

This was an original chapter that served as the sequel to my 2nd Experimental Fanfic A Disgraced Athlete - Sequel to NSL and it was awful how Chris Savino made such an animation atrocity out of sheer hatred towards Lincoln. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the Teen Titans enemy Kardiak and we're going to face the evil heart of nano machines.

See you all tomorrow.

The Beating Heart of Mechanical Hate

In the Living Room, I on the couch was reading a book and it was about Psychology.

Me: Hmm.

Then the Phone rang.

Torch Man: I'll get it.

Torch Man answered the phone. Penguin was calling.

Torch Man: Hello Team Loud Phoenix Storm estate, Torch Man speaking.

Penguin: Torch Man it's Penguin.

Torch Man: Penguin? Why are you calling?

Penguin: Lynn came to the Iceberg Lounge a few hours ago and is drinking non stop. I'm honestly getting concerned about her.

Torch Man: Oh man! She has been very depressed because she was nearly framed by an evil version of herself from another universe that was out for revenge.

Penguin: I've heard about that all over the news.

Torch Man: We'll be right over.

Me: I hope she doesn't get in trouble. She's too young to be drinking!

We went over to the Iceberg Lounge.

* * *

We arrived at the Iceberg Lounge and it was a beautiful nightclub. It was really extravagant.

Me: Wow. So this is the Iceberg Lounge.

Nico: Penguin's nightclub is swank.

Lincoln: It's really posh.

Numbuh 1: It sure is a nice place.

Numbuh 362: Perfect for dancing.

Laney: It sure is.

Vince: I may take Carol here for our first anniversary.

Lana: Good idea Vince.

We saw Lynn sitting at the bar and Penguin was trying to wake her up. Lynn was fast asleep.

We went over.

Maria: Penguin, thanks for telling us about Lynn.

Penguin: It was my pleasure.

Me: Boy she is out cold.

Batman: But you better not be thinking of committing any future crimes.

Penguin: I assure you, Batman. I am done with any criminal activities. Now, I'm simply interested in running the Iceberg Lounge in peace.

Me: I guess the battle with Thanos changed you in a good way.

Penguin: It did J.D.

Lightning picked Lynn up and we went back home.

I paid for Lynn's drinks before we left.

Back home, Lynn was crying her eyes out and Lightning was comforting her.

Armada Starscream: Damn my evil self and his team for driving Lynn to this!

Alexis (Armada): I know. That Evil Lynn was a monster.

Jetfire: (Australian Accent) Lynn, what the Hell were you thinking drinking at Penguin's place?!

Lynn: (Crying) I wasn't! I was so depressed that I wasn't thinking straight! (Crying)

Me: Lynn don't let Malfoy's words get to you. He was just an arrogant fucked up punk that didn't know what he was talking about.

Laney: Yeah.

Lily: Besides, you did help clear your name and the Masters of Evil helped you out big time.

Lynn: (Crying) But…

Lola: Lynn, I know you're upset but don't let anything they say get you down. You think you are the only one that was affected by everything bad guys said? No. Me and Lori got hurt by their words too.

Lori was in the infirmary resting her back after she had her skin torn open.

Me: Yeah. I'm sorry you got hurt Lynn. But don't let anything get you down. Remember what I taught you and you will overcome many obstacles.

Lynn: I'll try.

* * *

Later the next day it was a stormy and rainy day. I was walking home from high school in my rain coat.

Me: Man it's really coming down.

Lightning was flashing in the skies.

THUNDERCLAP!

Me: And the lightning is bad.

I was almost to the estate when I saw a girl with a crutch walking home.

Me: Looks like someone has a long walk.

But then suddenly without a single warning…

ZZZZAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAPPPPPPPPPPPPPPP!
THUNDERCLAP!

The girl got struck by lightning and I covered my eyes against the flash.

Me: OH SHIT!

I went over and I saw that it was Lynn's friend Paula! She was twitching and badly burned all over and she couldn't even move.

Me: Oh man! Hang on Paula!

I picked her up and took her to the hospital. I waited the next few hours and called the coach and Paula's friends as well as Lynn.

Lynn: What happened J.D.!?

Me: Paula got struck by lightning!

Margo: What!?

Diane: How!?

Me: She was walking home I think and saw it happen as I was walking home.

Amy: I hope she's okay.

Lynn: Oh Paula. (Crying)

Margo comforted Lynn.

The doctor came out.

Me: How is she doctor?

Doctor: She has burns over 85% percent of her body and she has a lot of electricity flowing through her and she is gonna have muscle spasms and aches for the rest of her life. Also it's gonna be a long time before she walks or plays sports again. But she is one lucky girl. Thank goodness you were in the area J.D. She wouldn't be here if you weren't there.

Me: I know. Can we go see her?

Doctor: You can. But she's in a very fragile state.

Me: Okay.

We went in to Paula's room and she had bandages on her head and badly burned arms.

Me: Hey Paula.

Paula: (Groans) J.D.? What happened?

Me: Well you were walking home and you got struck by lightning.

Paula: Wow. I didn't see even know about it.

Me: Well you usually never even know what hit you until it's too late.

Margo: But you are one lucky girl Paula.

Maya: (Tiredly) J.D. saved you and brought you to the hospital.

Diane: But the doctor said you're gonna be all right.

Margo: Yeah.

Lynn: Paula, I'm sorry that you got struck by lightning.

Me: Lynn this wasn't your fault. This was all part of nature. It was totally unavoidable. Lightning travels at over 220 million miles per hour, 1/3 the speed of light and it packs over 1 billion volts of electricity. And it burns at 50,000˚ Fahrenheit.

Paula: Wow. I didn't know lightning was that dangerous.

Me: Well it's part of nature. But trust me you aren't the only one that got struck by lightning.

I lifted up my shirt and on my back was a long scar that went all the way up my mid lower back and curves to the left at the middle and turns to the right and goes up to my neck. It looks like a deadly cluster of nerves that were burned all over.

Me: I too got zapped by lightning. But back when I was 5 years old. It was walking down the street to get the mail in a nasty thunderstorm and I got struck by lightning right in the center of my back.

Paula: Geez!

Lynn: Man! That must've hurt.

Maya: No kidding.

Paula: Wow.

Me: But thanks to my powers I got my nerves regenerated.

Lynn: Man.

Paula: I didn't know this happened to you J.D.

Me: No one ever asked about it.

Lynn: Oh.

Me: We're gonna get you to our infirmary so you can rest there Paula.

Paula: Thanks J.D.

We got Paula discharged and took her to the infirmary and her mom and dad came.

Paula's mom: You gave us a huge scare honey.

Paula: I know mom. I'm sorry I scared you.

Paula's dad: Thank goodness J.D. saved you. It's good he did. But we'll come by and visit you while you recuperate.

Paula: Thanks dad.

Lori: It's good you're gonna literally be all right Paula.

Paula: Thanks Lori. How come you are in here?

Lori showed her back and it had stitches and it was an ugly wound.

Paula: Ouch.

Varie: She's gonna be fine though. But Paula you are gonna be in good hands here.

Paula: Thanks Varie.

Me: The doctor said it's gonna take a little over a year for your burns to heal but you will be able to walk again in about 6 weeks.

Paula: Good.

Lori: You are literally a lucky girl Paula. To literally have been struck by lightning? Wow.

Paula: I know.

The days went by and Paula got a lot of get well soon cards and a lot of visits from her friends at school and she was getting better and better with each passing day. Even the Masters of Evil came by to wish Paula the best. I am glad that Paula was gonna be all right.

Paula was made a celebrity in the whole district.

---

We then started watching TV and then the alarm went off.

Me: Uh oh.

We went to the computer and saw that the Teen Titans villain Kardiak was causing trouble at the local playground!

---

Kardiak is a villain from the Teen Titans show. He is an artificial entity that resembles a heart and is an enemy of the Teen Titans.

History

Kardiak first fought the Teen Titans when he tried to kidnap a young boy from a playground. His kidnapping failed and he was defeated by Raven, who used her power to rip him apart. Kardiak managed to rebuild himself and undertook another attempt at kidnapping a kid.

This time he succeeded in kidnapping a little girl from her bedroom. Raven defeats him again by using magic she learned from Malchior and tried to consume both Kardiak and the child with the magic. Beast Boy managed to interrupt the magic and saves the girl. it is unknown what happens to Kardiak after the incident.

Kardiak was then recruited by the Brotherhood of Evil. He was sent to capture Beast Boy but was defeated. At the final battle at the Brotherhood's base, Kardiak was once again defeated and ended up flash-frozen with the rest of the villains.

Powers

Kodiak's power includes the power to fly, to heal himself and to suck up enemies with his tentacles.

---

Me: Kardiak?

Laney: Never heard of a villain like him.

Lisa Loud: He looks like a giant circulatory system heart.

Me: He sure does. He looks like a giant mechanical living heart.

Lola: Ugly and weird.

Lincoln: What was he designed to do?

Me: Lets see. (Types in a code) He was designed to kidnap. Professor Chang built him as a project to capture kids and use them as experimental guinea pigs.

Nico: Looks like this Professor Chang is like the Teen Titans enemy version of Orochimaru.

Me: Just what the universe needs: Another fucked up mad scientist running amok. We'll have to deal with him later down the road. Right now lets destroy Kardiak for good.

Nico: Right!

Me: Lets go!

We were off to face Kardiak!

---

At the playground, Kardiak was sucking up children into his chambers and then we swooped in and slashed his chambers open and got the kids out.

Me: Time to break this villains heart!

Luan: (Laughs) Good one J.D.

Jake Holling: Kardiak, you're under arrest!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Time Force!

The Megaforce Rangers transformed into the Time Force Rangers.

Nico: Kardiak, I know you can hear us! You might be thinking that this is gonna end up with be another trip to jail. But you're wrong! This is where we end you once and for all! (Kardiak roars) And of course, he can't talk.

Me: Yep.

Then King Hiss, Rich Texan and Webstor appeared.

Me: King Hiss, Rich Texan and Webstor.

Webstor: Yep.

Lincoln: We want to thank you guys for helping to clear Lynn's name.

Rich Texan: Aw, it was nothing! The three of us also managed to take down Starscream's bad side!

Webstor: Don't forget the rest of Evil Lynn's gang.

Lynn: Yeah.

?: I am glad that she is cleared.

Brody Romero: Trapsaw!

Trapsaw: Its been a while rangers.

Me: I remember you! You were sent to lay a trap for the rangers. But they outsmarted you and made you fall into your own trap.

Trapsaw: That's right. Mistress Vypra was right about you J.D. You have watched us all on TV.

Jessie (Pokemon): It's a great story.

They told us about how they met and beyond.

The Team Rocket trio were inducted as official Team Rocket members in Training Daze. They joined Team Rocket separately and were on initially unfriendly terms after being grouped with Meowth but they quickly made up and became good friends. The trio's rivalry with Butch and Cassidy was also formed at the Team Rocket Academy.

Original series

The Team Rocket trio first appeared in Pokémon Emergency, in which they took over the Viridian Pokémon Center. After their first defeat at the hands of Ash's Pikachu convinced them of his extraordinary power, the trio made their main goal to capture Pikachu.

The trio's general incompetence usually makes them incapable of helping Team Rocket with their significant plans.

In Electric Shock Showdown, after hearing that Pikachu would fight to defend his own honor and Ash's, the trio were inspired to cheer on Pikachu before his rematch against Vermilion Gym Leader Lt. Surge's Raichu.

In Battle Aboard the St. Anne, they led the invasion of the St. Anne, where they and dozens of Team Rocket Grunts stole numerous Pokémon and Poké Balls from the passengers with special mechas. However, the passengers retaliated, led by Ash and his friends, and they defeated the grunts and took back their Pokémon. Later, the ship sailed into a violent storm, was overcome by waves, and sank into the sea.

In The Battle of the Badge, Giovanni, the boss of Team Rocket and the Viridian Gym Leader, temporarily left the trio in charge of the Viridian Gym. He even gave them some of his Pokémon. Jessie battled Ash, but refused to hand him an Earth Badge upon Ash's victory. When Togepi set off an explosion by triggering Meowth's remote control, Team Rocket blasted off and Jessie dropped the Badge for Ash to retrieve.

In Showdown at the Po-ké Corral, the trio arrived at Team Rocket HQ, expecting Giovanni to fire them for their failures. They saw Mewtwo destroy the headquarters and fly away just as they were about to turn away and quit first. When Giovanni told them to just do their job, they took it as a vote of confidence in them and continued to try and steal Pokémon.

In A Scare in the Air, Giovanni assigned the trio to the "Blimp Brigade", where they crewed a rickety blimp that Giovanni only kept the insurance for. Damage caused by a storm as well as a battle with Brock caused the blimp to crash-land on Valencia Island in the Orange Islands. After being repaired, the blimp crashed on Tangelo Island during its return trip in The Lost Lapras. Afterwards, Team Rocket continued to follow Ash and Pikachu throughout the Orange Islands.

In The Trouble with Snubbull, Team Rocket first tried using Meowth as bait for a newly-evolved Granbull, which had been persistently following Meowth, so they could collect a reward from the Granbull's owner, Madame Muchmoney. This failed, and they subsequently used a Meowth-shaped mecha for their next attempt. Through a misunderstanding over Meowth trying to release Granbull from the mecha's tail, Team Rocket were mistakenly assumed to have tricked Madame Muchmoney. When Team Rocket was blasted off following a battle between the mecha and Granbull, Granbull returned home and no longer followed Meowth.

In Dues and Don'ts, they discovered that their membership in Team Rocket had lapsed, although they were able to rejoin due to labor shortages, provided that they pay their debts.

In Hoenn Alone!, Team Rocket followed Ash and Pikachu to the Hoenn region by stowing away on the stern of a boat.

Pokémon the Series: Ruby and Sapphire

The trio intervened in Pokémon poacher Rico's plan to capture and sell a group of wild Ekans and Koffing in A Poached Ego!. Jessie and James released Arbok and Weezing and sent them off into Petalburg Forest to protect the Ekans and Koffing.

While suffering from amnesia, Ash's Pikachu temporarily joined the trio in A Scare to Remember!.

In Saved by the Beldum, they were selling snacks to League spectators for the Ever Grande Conference.

During the Mulberry City Pokémon Contest, Harley enlisted the trio's help in sabotaging May's chances of winning her fifth Kanto Ribbon. Harley even leased his Pokémon to Jessie to aid his cause. Ash, however, foiled James and Meowth's attempts to ruin May's Appeals performance during New Plot, Odd Lot. While Drew disrupted their follow-up scheme in Going for Choke, and discovered that Harley was aiding the Rocket trio. Following Jessie's Contest loss, Harley scolded the trio and refused their offer of joining Team Rocket before storming off.

After being blasted off once again, the trio exchanged insults and decided to go their separate ways in The Ole' Berate and Switch. Jessie and James eventually found themselves at the site of Butch and Cassidy's latest scheme, a one-day-only Pokémon Tournament in Sable City. Cassidy roped James into forming a trio with her and Butch, but Jessie soon paired up with Butch. Meowth proved to be far more attached to Jessie and James, and used a biscuit to reflect on the group's close bond even in tough times. The trio reunited and returned to goal of capturing Ash's Pikachu.

Pokémon the Series: Diamond and Pearl

The trio re-encountered Butch and Cassidy in Sleight of Sand!. The two Team Rocket groups quickly began to battle with their robots, and this eventually erupted into a Pokémon battle. The intense confrontation was interrupted after a Hippopotas whipped up a Sandstorm and sent both groups blasting off. The two groups subsequently vowed revenge the next time they met.

In The Thief That Keeps on Thieving!, Giovanni did not even remember who they were.

Team Rocket attended the Pokémon Summer Academy, with Jessie disguised as Jessilinda, while James and Meowth posed as janitors from Camping it Up! to One Team, Two Team, Red Team, Blue Team!.

In Frozen on Their Tracks!, Team Rocket befriended Looker after sharing boxed lunches with him, coming to call him "Boxed-Lunch Guy" or "Mr. Lunchbox". Later in Pokémon the Series: Diamond and Pearl, after discovering that Looker was a member of the International Police, they assisted him in taking down Team Galactic.

The trio set up their own Sinnoh Pokémon Hustle course in a bid to steal competitors' Pokémon and scout for new Team Rocket members in Beating the Bustle and Hustle!.

In Where No Togepi Has Gone Before!, Team Rocket had built a secret base with the money they earned during the Twinleaf Festival. While the trio managed to lure Ash and his friends onto their base, which was actually a rocket, an evil Togepi also wandered in and ruined Team Rocket's plans. The rocket eventually crash-landed, leaving only debris.

In The Fleeing Tower of Sunyshore!, Team Rocket managed to steal Sunyshore Tower as Ash and Volkner prepared to have their Gym battle. Though Ash and his newly evolved Torterra defeated Team Rocket, the Gym and Tower were significantly damaged in the process, and Ash's Gym battle was postponed.

Pokémon the Series: Black & White

At his secretary's recommendation, Giovanni promoted them as part of his plans in the Unova region. After their promotion, they changed from their original white uniforms to black uniforms. In Pokémon the Series: Black & White, they acted in a more serious manner, focusing more on completing specific assignments, often using gadgets such as jetpacks to retreat instead of blasting off.

In Battling For The Love of Bug-Types!, after Giovanni's secretary informed them that they wouldn't be needed for any more missions, they worried Giovanni had lost faith in them and returned to their white uniforms. They returned to planning their own schemes, although often in a more competent manner and with the assistance of Dr. Zager. They participated in Operation Tempest, Team Rocket's mission to capture Meloetta and harness the power of the Forces of Nature.

Due to the failure of Operation Tempest, starting in New Places… Familiar Faces! they reverted to their traditional comedic personalities, using their original motto, and travelling in their Meowth balloon (with enhancements); however, their newfound competence was not completely lost, with the trio still occasionally retreating using jetpacks instead of blasting off.

After Meowth, Colress and Team Rivalry!, the trio decided to head for the White Ruins, where they would spy on Team Plasma's movements for a time while plotting to steal the Light Stone. However, when their friend Looker spotted them and asked for their help, the trio helped Ash and his friends defeat the rival organization. After helping defeat Team Plasma in Farewell, Unova! Setting Sail for New Adventures!, the trio returned completely to their previous role as comic relief, retaining only their upgraded technology and slight competence.

Pokémon the Series: XY

In A Battle of Aerial Mobility!, Giovanni approved the trio's plan to steal as many rare and powerful Pokémon as they could in the Kalos region.

In An Explosive Operation!, Giovanni assigned the trio to investigate Team Flare's plans and to catch the Zygarde known as Squishy before Team Flare could do so. They ran into another Zygarde Core, nicknamed Z2, that was on the run from Team Flare. The trio escaped with Z2 after Jessie's Gourgeist used Seed Bomb against some Team Flare Grunts, but they later lost in battle to them. Team Rocket tried taking the weakened Z2 when Mable was about to capture it, but Aliana's Druddigon and Mable's Weavile made them blast off.

During the Lumiose Conference, they assisted Malva with filming the conference whilst plotting to steal the competitor's Pokémon only for Malva's tight schedule to disrupt their plans leaving them unable to steal any Pokémon. During the Team Flare crisis, they continued filming and help assist by piloting the helicopter to help deal with the Giant Rock. They later edited the footage shot to show to Giovanni that they alone defeated Team Flare.

Following their adventures in Kalos, they returned to Team Rocket HQ in Till We Compete Again!.

Pokémon the Series: Sun & Moon

Later, in Loading the Dex!, the trio arrived in the Alola region to obtain some rare Alolan Pokémon for Giovanni, as well as Ash's Pikachu, which they were surprised to find on Melemele Island. They allied with a Mimikyu which hated Pikachu and later a wild Bewear kidnapped Jessie and James. In First Catch in Alola, Ketchum-Style!, the Bewear looked after the trio, giving them food and shelter at its den.

They completed their new base in Bewear's den during A Seasoned Search! despite disruptions caused by Rowlet and Popplio crashing into their antenna during They Might Not Be Giants!.

They are often seen on Melemele Island in disguise as part-timers at a malasada shop, mostly as food truck attendants. In Now You See Them, Now You Don't!, Team Rocket took notice of a Cosmog that was accompanying Ash while the trio was selling malasadas near the Pokémon School. James wrongly guessed that the Cosmog, Nebby, was a pre-evolved Koffing, and Team Rocket tried and failed to capture it. In Deceiving Appearances! it was revealed they were scouted by Faba to work at the Aether Foundation as his assistants, but quit in Mission: Total Recall! after discovering his intent to use his Hypno's Hypnosis to tamper with Lillie's memory, finding such underhanded evil below them. They eventually abandoned chasing after Nebby after James was proven wrong about it being the pre-evolved form of Koffing in Revealing the Stuff of Legend!.

One of Team Rocket's goals in Alola has been to harness the power of Z-Moves for themselves. In A Team-on-Team Tussle!, they obtained a Darkinium Z, which some Team Skull Grunts also tried to obtain from a nest of Alolan Rattata and Raticate, led by a Totem Raticate. The same Z-Crystal reappeared in Acting True to Form!, where Jessie and James believed that they could use it with the Alolan Meowth they had just met. However, they were dismayed upon being informed that they would also need a Z-Ring to do so.

In Why Not Give Me a Z-Ring Sometime?, at the advice of Giovanni, they traveled to Ula'ula Island to get a Z-Ring from Nanu. There, their Darkinium Z was stolen by the "Greedy Rapooh", a Gengar they had accidentally unsealed. After taking back their Z-Crystal, Nanu gave them a Z-Power Ring so James's Mareanie could use Black Hole Eclipse, rescuing Acerola in the process. The trio was allowed to keep the ring as a token of appreciation, and Jessie received a Mimikium Z for her Mimikyu from Acerola's Mimikyu, nicknamed Mimikins.

The Rocket trio were called back to HQ in Thank You, Alola! The Journey Continues!. They released Mimikyu and Mareanie, also leaving their Z-Ring behind, in the care of Bewear and Stufful.

Pokémon Journeys: The Series

Team Rocket returned to the Kanto region, setting up an underground base in Vermilion City while they plot to steal Pikachu. They have been using disguises, a Rotom Phone which they received in Flash of the Titans!, and the Rocket Prize Master, a Pokémon vending machine, to assist their evil operations.

In JN013, they successfully nabbed a Chewtle while in Wyndon. Chewtle was added to the Rocket Prize Master, where its powerful Water Gun proved difficult to defeat in JN017.

The trio recruited a Ditto as a new member of Team Rocket in JN019. Ditto was struggling to be a movie star because its nervousness was affecting its ability to use Transform. Jessie and the others encouraged Ditto and it eventually learned to Transform perfectly. While Ditto assisted them in capturing Pikachu, Jessie realized Ditto was destined for stardom and allowed their new recruit to fulfil its dreams.

In JN024, the trio were ordered to go on holiday to the Resort Area in Sinnoh. However the reward proved to be a ploy by Matori and her agents, who planned to steal many Pokémon from the Resort Area. After overhearing her disparaging them, the trio decided to get their revenge and helped Ash and Goh free the Pokémon. The subsequent battle quickly turned against Matori and her unit, and when Officer Jenny arrived, she ordered a retreat.

---

Me: Wow! So that's how you all met.

Ash: Yep.

Laney: Big story and history.

But then another figure came out and it was Jaden's arch nemesis NIGHTSHROUD!

---

Yusuke Fujiwara learned about Nightshroud before the incident at the Abandoned Dorm, heading to the Dorm's subterranean Duel arena in order to perform a ritual to free it and gain its power. However, Atticus Rhodes, Yusuke's friend, followed him and became caught up in the ritual. Yusuke disappeared, giving Atticus the Nightshroud mask as he no longer needed it. Atticus resisted Nightshroud's influence from then on, until he was forced to embrace it and become its host in order to survive the Dorm's events. He encountered and defeated the Gravekeeper's Chief, obtaining half of a Shadow Charm pendant.

Shadow Riders

Nightshroud is introduced as the first of the Shadow Riders to challenge Jaden Yuki, who had by that point become the owner of the other half of the Shadow Charm pendant (Nightshroud showed a desire to gain the Sacred Beasts, but it wasn't explained why). Transporting Jaden Yuki, Alexis Rhodes, Syrus Truesdale, and Chumley Huffington to the Academy's volcano, Nightshroud sets a Shadow Game in which the loser would have his soul sealed in a card, using Syrus and Chumley as insurance, trapped inside an energy bubble over lava that weakens as Jaden loses Life Points. Nightshroud uses his "Red-Eyes B. Dragon" to gain an early advantage, but when Jaden begins to counterattack, Nightshroud calls out his "Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon," which grows stronger for each Dragon in his Graveyard, destroying Jaden's "Elemental Hero Tempest." Jaden is able to split Nightshroud's monster in two with "Wild Half" and reduce the ATK of the copies, then attack them both with "Elemental Hero Wildedge" to win the Duel. When defeated, Nightshroud's soul, represented by the mask he wore, is sealed away, and Atticus, who had been the dark personality's vessel, is freed.

Society of Light

During the Genex Tournament, Atticus uses Nightshroud's Deck in hopes of convincing his friend, Zane, that the dark path taken by a Duelist is a terrible course. As a result of playing his "Red-Eyes Darknesss Dragon", Nightshroud's dark aura begins to resurface. Atticus is able to resist him and nearly win the Duel, but Zane protects himself with his "Power Wall" Trap Card, throwing most of his Deck out in disrespect. This action causes Atticus to believe that Zane can't be helped, and the influence of Nightshroud that lay dormant within the card is once again able to take control of Atticus. Nightshroud immediately destroys Zane's last monster, leaving him with three cards in his Deck, but Zane is still able to bring out his "Cyberdark Dragon", absorb the strength of "Red-Eyes B. Dragon" and destroy "Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon" to win the Duel. As a result, Nightshroud is banished back to his prison following his defeat.

Darkness

He makes a subsequent return after Jaden accepts Atticus' proposal for a rematch to discover Nightshroud's secrets. Atticus also has nightmares about the day he became Nightshroud's host, which reveals he was not the first or only person to take up Nightshroud's soul. Adding to the mystery, while visiting the arena underneath the Abandoned Dorm, Atticus is attacked by the Duel Monster Spirit Honest, which is disguised as Yusuke Fujiwara, knocking him unconscious in the process. After he recovers, Jaden visits Atticus in the nurse's office and Atticus comes up with the idea of having Jaden Duel Nightshroud (despite the obvious dangers) in order to uncover the entity's origins, which he does. Despite the use of "Red-Eyes Darkness Metal Dragon", Jaden wins again, so Atticus once more stays free from Nightshroud.

Nightshroud later appears to Atticus during the final stages of Trueman's siege at Duel Academy, still in Fujiwara's body, who has completely fallen under Nightshroud's influence and adopted its doctrine. He reveals himself as the mastermind behind the Trueman attacks and is thus the main antagonist of the events. Here, too, his true intentions and motivations are revealed. Nightshroud wanted all humans to be taken into the World of Darkness where they will ultimately give up on their own lives, because while in the dark world, they would be mentally tortured by visions of failing at their hopes and dreams. They would then become a single entity, sharing all joy and all suffering. Nightshroud claimed his actions are justified in that, with no more individuality, humanity's suffering will finally end. He Duels Atticus, who uses Nightshroud's former "Red-Eyes" Deck after modifying it, and shows him a vision during the Duel that leads Atticus to believe he ended it in a DRAW, exploiting the darkness in Atticus's heart. In reality, Nightshroud had used the effect of his "Clear Vice Dragon" to prevent its destruction, allowing it to defeat Atticus and absorb him into the World of Darkness.

Nightshroud is then challenged to a Duel by Jaden and Jesse Anderson. He accepts on the condition that it be a Battle Royal, attempting to search for the darkness in Jesse's heart. Despite the attempts of the "Crystal Beasts" to prevent him from finding out, Nightshroud was able to gleam that Jesse wanted to defeat Jaden, and he appeared to have briefly turned the two against one another, but they instead used their attacks on one another to gain advantages against Nightshroud. Though he defeats Jesse when Jesse sacrifices himself to protect Jaden, Jaden summons "Rainbow Neos" and empowers it with "Honest" to defeat Nightshroud's "Clear Vicious Knight" as well as purge Nightshroud from Fujiwara's body and destroy it.

However, this did nothing to stop Nightshroud, as only part of him was destroyed, and Nightshroud then appeared in its true form. Nightshroud revealed that it created an artificial eclipse over the planet with its own dark world, blocking out the sun and pulling all humans into the dark world. This left Jaden, Pharaoh the cat, and the immaterial Lyman Banner as the last living things on Earth. Nightshroud challenges Jaden to a final Duel, viewing Jaden as a "foreign object" that didn't belong in either world because he held a human spirit and a Duel spirit (referring to Yubel), and thus should be removed. Nightshroud reveals its origins, saying that in every person there is insecurity and inner turmoil: hopes and dreams failing before fear and guilt, creating "darkness", and itself as well. Nightshroud adds a justification to its actions, saying that it's natural for its world to replace the human world. He begins locking Jaden down with his "Darkness," "Zero," and "Infinity" combo. Jaden is able to work his way around it, until Nightshroud Summons "Yubel" from Jaden's Deck. Jaden is able to reclaim Yubel with "Super Polymerization", fusing her with "Elemental Hero Neos" to create "Neos Wiseman," which turns the tables completely in Jaden's favour. Claiming that humanity will lead themselves into ruin, Nightshroud shows Jaden a vision of a ruined future, but Jaden vows not to let it come to pass. Nightshroud is able to take control of the Duel again with "Darkness Seed", allowing him to continually restore his Life Points to 4000. He then calls out his 4000 ATK "Darkness Neosphere" and destroys "Neos Wiseman," but Jaden in turn permanently disables Nightshroud's "Darkness" combo. During the Duel, Jaden reaches out to the humans trapped in the darkness, and reminds them of the cards that have guided them their whole lives. The trapped humans eventually free themselves, after which Jaden defeats Nightshroud with "Elemental Hero Divine Neos." Though beaten and forced to return to the World of Darkness, Nightshroud claims that as long as there's darkness in humans, it would surely return, but Jaden counters by claiming that as long as humans believe in their bonds, Nightshroud will never return.

Me: What and who the hell is that devilish monstrosity!?

Jaden: Nightshroud!

Alexis Rhodes: Not this creep again!

Me: Oh man! So he's the Nightshroud we heard about.

Laney: He looks like a true devil.

Lana: No kidding.

Me: And he's pure evil personified.

Jaden: You know what, Nightshroud? I liked your first form better. How about you turn back into that so I'll have an easier time looking at you?

Nightshroud: Very well.

Nightshroud turned into what he looked like when he possessed Atticus.

Me: So that's what he looked like when he possessed Atticus. Now we have the Seven Shadow Riders to face.

Alexis: That's right.

Kalin then appeared.

He summoned his Red Eyes monsters and they were amazing! They were the first monsters he used from his first duel with Jaden!

Me: WHOA! So those are all the monsters he used in your duels with him right Jaden?

Jaden: Those are them.

Kalin: They sure are scary and ugly.

Me: It's like he's using monsters from the very fiery depths of Hell.

Hannah: No kidding.

Me: Lets get him!

We went at Nightshroud and I slashed his arm and fired waves of fire and energy and Jaden punched Nightshroud in the face and kicked him in the stomach and Hannah fired blasts of fire and Kalin punched and blasted Nightshroud all over the place. Our monsters destroyed Nightshroud's monsters and destroyed them completely and I fired an energy blast and obliterated Nightshroud in an instant.

I went over and found his decks and picked them up and kept them as trophies to add to my collection.

Nightshroud's evil spirit came.

Me: You will never torment the bonds of friendship ever again.

I held up my hand to his face.

Me: HAKAI!

He glowed purple and screamed in excruciating agony as he was being completely obliterated. He was erased from existence for all eternity as if he was never born at all.

Me: Good riddance.

Jaden: Awesome job J.D.! Get your game on!

Me: Same to you Jaden. But your Elemental HERO Cards are awesome.

Jaden: Thanks J.D.

Hannah Fairchild: But Nightshroud deserved to die after causing all that pain and suffering.

Kalin: Yep.

Nightshroud's cards didn't get Hakaied and I kept them as trophies.

Battle 6: Kardiak

---

We regrouped and we were facing Kardiak!

Me: Lets break this heart!

We went at Kardiak and I kicked him in the face and fired lightning at him and electrocuted him all over and Nico fired blasts of lightning and fire and burned him all over and Electrocuted him all over the place and Lola fired blasts of fire and Tara smashed him all over with rocks and Luna and Lily fired waves of water and they hit Kardiak and started shorting him out. H'earring, Faash, Enre Hep, Laarina, and Intress blasted and slashed and cut Kardiak all over the place.

Luna Loud: Try these techniques! METAL STYLE NINJA ARTS: IRON HANDS SPACE MARINES, PRIMARCH FERRUS MANUS and TECHMARINES!

Luna fired waves of metal and they formed into armies of said groups.

Iron Hands Space Marines

The Iron Hands are a Loyalist Space Marine Chapter and one of the original First Founding Space Marine Legions created from the gene-seed of their martyred primarch, Ferrus Manus.

Like the other Loyalist Astartes Legions, the Iron Hands would later be divided up after the Horus Heresy into multiple different Chapters, as required by the Codex Astartes, although one Chapter of the original Legion remained known as the Iron Hands and is described below.

Although unwavering in their faith in the Emperor of Mankind and His dream of human unity as embodied in the Imperium of Man, the Iron Hands also believe that human flesh is weak and easily corruptible, and strive to replace their organic bodies with more "pure" bionic substitutes, thus closely emulating the faith of the Adeptus Mechanicus' Cult of the Machine.

The Iron Hands were born as the Xth Legion of Space Marines, engineered by the Emperor of Mankind to bring His light to the long-lost human colony worlds scattered across the stars.

Renowned for their pride, cold-hearted brutality and remorselessness in battle, the Iron Hands were among the most powerful and famed Space Marine Legions of the Great Crusade.

They were the hammer that had shattered countless foes in the Emperor's quest to liberate Mankind from the darkness of Old Night. Their primarch was Ferrus Manus, a bellicose and uncompromising warlord and peerless weapon-smith, from whom the Xth Legion took their name and whose command was to them inviolatable law.

When the Horus Heresy first erupted and plunged the newborn Imperium into a galaxy-wide civil war, the Iron Hands Legion was too far from Terra to intervene directly in the climactic battle of the conflict.

Their Primarch Ferrus Manus was enraged by the weakness of those Legions who fell to Chaos, particularly with his closest brother amongst the Primarchs, Fulgrim of the Emperor's Children, and by his own inability to face the Traitors. Ferrus Manus gathered together his most Veteran Astartes and departed for the Istvaan System.

It was during the Drop Site Massacre of Istvaan V that the Iron Hands, the Raven Guard and the Salamanders Legions were ambushed by the Traitors led by the Warmaster Horus, and though the three Loyalist Legions fought with extraordinary valour, Ferrus Manus himself was lost, beheaded by Fulgrim's Slaaneshi daemonblade which he had uncovered from the xenos world of Laeran.

The Iron Hands were undone by their own hubris and the blade of the Traitor both, and paid a heavy price in the brutal slaying of their Primarch and the near-crippling of their strength.

Though left as one of the Shattered Legions, the cold fury of the Iron Hands' bitter vengeance would afterwards be writ across the stars. While the Traitors declared their Primarch dead upon the blasted wastes of Istvaan V, the current Iron Hands Chapter refuses to accept this, for the Primarch's body was never recovered.

For over 10,000 Terran years, the Sons of Ferrus Manus have stoked their burning hatred, drawing strength from this inexhaustible well of rage as they await their lost Primarch's return.

The unique identity of the Iron Hands is forged by their belief that all flesh is inherently weak, for it is subject to mortification, decay and temptation and is thus a weakness that must ultimately be purged if the Chapter's Astartes are to best serve the Emperor.

This is a belief most probably rooted in the experiences of the Horus Heresy, but the inherent character of the people of the Chapter's homeworld of Medusa, with their stoicism and patient forbearance, also plays a part. Following the apparent death of their Primarch at Istvaan V, the surviving members of the Legion returned to their homeworld and fanned the coals of hatred that would endure across the millennia.

The Iron Hands chose to isolate themselves from many of their fellow Astartes Chapters after the Second Founding and slowly became bitter recluses, wielding their anger as a protective shield against a universe of growing weakness and insanity.

It soon came to pass that none were immune from their ire. The Traitors had renounced their oaths and turned against their brothers, but the Loyalists had allowed it to happen, and the Emperor had fallen.

The Iron Hands harbour a special hatred for the Successor Chapters of the other two Loyalist "Shattered Legions" - the Salamanders and the Raven Guard - that fought with them at Istvaan V, for they believe that if those Legions had been stronger and continued to fight rather than retreating, Ferrus Manus would not have been lost and the Heresy might have ended there. This belief defies all facts to the contrary.

The Iron Hands' abhorrence of weakness is not limited to the moral however, for they hold that the body itself, even that of a genetically-enhanced Astartes, is frail and impermanent and subject to sickness and aging. The Iron Hands are driven to replace the weak biological matter all men are born into with cold, unyielding iron, a practise that begins when a Neophyte is initiated into the Chapter as a full Battle-Brother.

The Initiate's left hand is removed and replaced with a bionic version in a ritual inspired by a tale of the Primarch when his own hands were encased in living metal following a legendary battle with a great metal serpent.

Some Initiates sever their own hand during the ritual, while others plunge it into the searing hot lava flowing from the mountains of Medusa, bearing the pain and transforming it to hate.

Throughout an Iron Hand's lifetime, he grows ever more bitter towards his foes and ever more resentful of his own flesh. He appears to come to hate himself, or his biological form at least, like a man forcibly garbed in filth-encrusted rags.

More of his organs and limbs are replaced with bionic augmetics, each inherently superior to the original. To some outsiders, this is a supreme blasphemy, for many of the organs eventually discarded are those that make a Space Marine what he is, and which are the direct inheritance of the Emperor and the Primarch.

Nevertheless, a Battle-Brother of the Iron Hands that has reached several standard centuries of service is likely to appear almost entirely mechanical, every visible scrap of flesh replaced with gleaming, oiled and burnished steel.

A few centuries more and the warrior's biological body might consist of little more than his brain and his major internal organs. It is said that some Iron Hands, those that survive the rigours of war and their own hate-fuelled self-mutilation, are no more than a brain encased in a ceramite shell.

Because of this drive, many of the Chapter's leaders are entombed within the form of a Dreadnought. These form the Chapter council, the "Iron Council," for the Iron Hands have no individual Chapter Master.

Each company is an all-but independent body called a "clan company," which maintains its own mobile fortress-monastery that trawls the endless wastes of Medusa guarding against weakness in the people and recruiting the strongest into its ranks.

Some claim that the Chapter's hatred of the flesh represents the manifestation of a corruption in its gene-seed, and certainly the Iron Hands Legion sired only a few known Successor Chapters.

Whatever the cause, the Iron Hands' resolution and grim determination remain beyond doubt, as many of the Imperium's enemies have discovered.

Primarch Ferrus Manus

The Iron Hands were the Xth Legion of Space Marines, created from the gene-seed of the Primarch Ferrus Manus. At the dawn of the Imperium of Man, before the Great Crusade had begun, the 20 gene-children of the Emperor of Mankind, the Primarchs, were scattered across the known galaxy through the Warp in a mysterious accident due to the intervention of the Ruinous Powers of Chaos. The gestation capsules of all 20 Primarchs were stolen from the Emperor's secret gene-laboratory deep beneath the Himalazian (Himalayan) Mountains on Terra and were flung across thousands of light years, all eventually coming to rest on backwater human colony planets.

It was this first touch of Chaos before the Primarchs had even been born that may have corrupted so many of them and laid the foundation for the agonising tragedy of the Horus Heresy that was to come. One of these infant Primarchs turned up on the dark, geologically unstable Feral World of Medusa in the Segmentum Obscurus very near to the Eye of Terror, his gestation capsule burning a trail through the cloud-dominated sky as it impacted the highest mountain on the world, Karaashi, the Ice Pinnacle. The impact shattered the mountain top, burying Ferrus deep in the ice in a tremendous explosion of steam. The land shook under the impact which could be felt all over the world. Mountains were toppled and great chasms were formed as the planet rumbled under the coming of the Primarch. Medusa rumbled with such ferocity that the Medusans later said that many of the world's mountains simply shook themselves to pieces.

Years later that special infant, named Ferrus Manus by the Medusans (literally "iron handed" in the ancient High Gothic tongue), walked unscathed and already fully grown from the uninhabited mountain ranges of the far northern wastes where the Ice Pinnacle lay. The legends of the roaming clans, taught from father to son throughout the ages, revolve around the early exploits of Ferrus, who came to be regarded as a great warrior amongst the nomadic clans of Medusa. No one could match his strength of arm, try as he might to find a worthy opponent. He sought out every physical challenge that he could, always returning victorious. According to one oft-recounted myth, Ferrus once challenged a storm giant to a competition of strength. The giant lifted a mountain between his hands and set it back down a mile away.

The giant's laugh died when Ferrus lifted the entire mountain range on his back, carrying it to a neighbouring island. The poor, humbled giant was never seen again. Ferrus travelled the length and breadth of Medusa, becoming well-known by all the clans and coming to know the land itself as no one ever had. He travelled areas that any other man would have found inaccessible. He climbed the highest mountains, he swam the deepest oceans, always pushing his levels of endurance and strength to levels unfathomable to mortal men. His strength and fury made him renowned and feared amongst the people of the clans who valued such qualities highly in their harsh environment.

Ferrus was eventually adopted by the Medusan clans as one of their own. He never interfered in the various clans' conflicts, believing that such competition was healthy for his people and should be allowed to thrive. Because of this impartiality, Ferrus was ultimately accepted universally as an honourary member of every Medusan clan, and great (often exaggerated) legends like the one above were told of his deeds.

Much about the formative years of Ferrus Manus on Medusa remains unknown, not so much through any deliberate veil of secrecy perhaps, but because what was later retold by the Medusans themselves was filtered through the barbaric folk-memory of their culture, while the Gorgon himself was taciturn on the matter to any save the Emperor. There have been many who have studied the formative situations of the Primarchs who have drawn parallels between the conditions in which Vulkan found himself on Nocturne and Ferrus Manus encountered on Medusa; both were found on savage, barren worlds riven by hostile conditions and both were home to primitive cultures, long cut off from the rest of Mankind during the Age of Strife. But beyond these surface features, the two worlds and, in particular, those who dwelled upon them could not have been more different.

If what can be gleaned from the Medusan folk tales holds true, it was not into the clan-ranges he first fell in blaze of light that sundered the grey, shrouding skies of the planet, but in the northern polar regions, shattering Karaashi, the Pinnacle of Black Ice. This locale was one of many places the Medusans considered the accursed abodes of the malign shades of the dead and slumbering iron-skinned monsters of legend. This set the scene for the Primarch's entrance into mythic history, and the Medusan legends teach of him wandering the northern realms, casting down hulking storm giants, performing superhuman feats of cunning and strength, and slaying monsters and murderous machine-creatures left relic beneath the black ice of Medusa from bygone ages of war and slaughter.

One such legend was of the titanic battle between the Primarch and Asirnoth, the Great Silver Wyrm. This tale is recounted in the Canticle of the Travels, an epic Medusan poem of unknown origin that is still taught to the children of the clans at their parents' knees. The Wyrm was said to possess a skin of living metal that was stronger than any armour. It was said that Ferrus spent many days tracking the beast through the legendary Land of Shadows, the fearful homeland of the ancients, a place of mystery and terror. This place, long since lost, was said to be a land forged of metal and stone relics of giant proportions, the remnants of a forgotten age in the galaxy's history. The ghost-spirits of the clans were said to roam there once they left the world of the living. Imperial academics now believe that the description of the Land of Shadows given in the Canticle makes it sound very much like the Necron ruins later encountered by the forces of the Imperium in the late 41st Millennium. As such, Asirnoth may actually have been a C'tan or Necron construct created from their Necrodermis material, which is known to act as a type of "living metal".

Ferrus was unable to defeat the beast with raw strength alone, his punches and blows having no discernible effect. Ferrus was eventually able to slay the creature, drowning it in a river of molten lava despite the agonising pain this caused him, and he bore it stoically. When Ferrus removed his arms from the lava, the Great Silver Wyrm had been completely destroyed, and he discovered that his hands and forearms were covered in the same living metal as the Wyrm's skin, which had flowed across his own flesh, protecting it, even as Asirnoth had been destroyed (or dispersed) by the heat of the molten rock. This was a substance that was as flexible as flesh yet as strong and impervious as the hardest ceramite. It is known that myths involving Ferrus and his metal hands precede the writing of the Canticle of Travels, but only in the Canticle is this explanation given as to how the living metal came to be fused to his body. The alien metal also altered the Primarch's physiology, for following the battle his eyes turned silver and seemed to lose their pupils, indicating that the necrodermis, if that is what the substance was, had also entered deep within his body. The reigning hypothesis among Imperial scholars at present is that Asirnoth was a Necron construct, some kind of guardian creature placed on the planet to protect a possible Necron Tomb or even the resting place of a true C'tan Shard, made of the "living metal" alloy the Necrons called necrodermis. It is possible that Ferrus was in some way polluted or corrupted by the Necron technology in the process of slaying the Great Silver Wyrm.

When the Gorgon, as he had become known, strode forth from the forbidden realms of sundered Medusa to batter the disparate clans of his world into submission to his overlordship, he was already thought of as a living god by its natives. But while he did not require of the Medusans worship and did nothing to encourage it, he demanded obedience to his will, and bloodily broke any who would contest his word. Nor did he quell conflict or bring peace upon the planet, but instead he gave the Iron Fathers - the half Tech-priests, half-shamans who ministered to the clans' spiritual and technological needs - the fruits of his own intervention in exchange for the technological secrets they had kept down the generations. Through the Gorgon's teachings the Medusan clans then forged better weapons and stronger machines with which to fight to prove their worth to survive.

Ferrus returned to the Medusan clans after his travels, filled with new and wonderful ideas, which he taught to all who wished to learn. He was able to craft strange and powerful tools and objects out of metal, shaping them with his living metal hands without even the need for a hammer or forge. Under his tutelage, the clans of Medusa became much stronger than they had been before his arrival and became capable of wonders that they never could have imagined possible. It was a time of greatness for the people of Medusa - the civilisation of the clans advanced at a tremendous pace and the Medusan people became strong and proud.

Ferrus Manus also led the bravest warriors of the clans to delve into the frozen realms below, breaking open long-sealed vaults and intruding into ice-buried fragments of the great machine-works that had plunged from the skies in ancient days in search of salvage and strong metal. In the depths, the warrior-bands and the silver-eyed giant who led them fought degenerate mutants, living-dead cyborgs whose decayed flesh hung in tatters from corroded metal bodies, and subdued the dark-engines of the nightmare ages that had gone before to take their plunder. By the time the Emperor had come to claim him for the Great Crusade, Ferrus Manus was warlord, demi-god and sage to the people of Medusa, and it is said that he was waiting, and that he more than half-suspected the true purpose of his creation.

Techmarines

A Techmarine (known as a Frater Astrotechnicus in High Gothic) is a Space Marine technician and engineer as well as a full Astartes Battle-Brother of his Chapter. They are fully initiated members of both the Cult Mechanicus and their Chapter.

Prospective Techmarines are chosen from the ranks of the Space Marine Chapters for their affinity with technology. They learn how to divine the runes of engineering and study the liturgy of maintenance. This great body of lore must be committed to memory and understood by the novice Techmarine.

They are taught how to "feel" the pain of a damaged machine and heal it. When they come back they serve the same role in their Chapter as a Tech-priest Enginseer in the Astra Militarum. Without the passing on of such ancient lore, the Space Marines would eventually grind to a complete halt, unable to make war. Thus does every Chapter's might hinge upon the esoteric knowledge of its Techmarines.

Every Space Marine Chapter sends a number of its warriors with a demonstrated affinity for the use and maintenance of technology to Mars where they are inducted into the Machine Cult by the Adeptus Mechanicus, a right granted by ancient pacts made by the Adeptus Astartes with the Tech-priests.

Aspiring Techmarines train for standard years, steeping themselves in rites of activation, maintenance and repair. Upon returning to their Chapter, they become custodians of the Chapter Armoury - Space Marines of dual loyalties, pledged by blood to their Chapter, but bound in mind to the Omnissiah.

Despite this dichotomy, Techmarines are held in great esteem; a Chapter could not wage war without its technological tools. In spite of their mysterious calling, Techmarines remain fierce warriors, and if a vehicle is lost, they will fight for its retrieval as stridently as their brethren would to recover any other fallen comrade.

The most senior Techmarine in a Chapter commands the Armoury and is known as the Master of the Forge. His knowledge of the arcane sciences has been refined over centuries and rivals that of the Tech-priests of Mars. In addition to his responsibilities in the Chapter Armoury, the Master of the Forge is tasked with conserving any of the Chapter's arcane relics. If the need is great, he may even unleash the fury of these lost technologies upon the foe.

Primarch Vulkan

Vulkan was one of the 20 superhuman primarchs and a Perpetual created by the Emperor of Mankind from altered versions of His own DNA to lead his Great Crusade and reunite the scattered peoples of Humanity within the Imperium of Man.

The XVIIIth Legion, created from Vulkan's genome and originally known as the Dragon Warriors, was re-named the Salamanders after the great fire-resistant reptiles native to his volcanic homeworld of Nocturne in memory of the legendary contest between the Emperor and Vulkan that had involved slaying one of those dangerous beasts. The outcome of this contest had revealed the Emperor's identity to Vulkan and restored the Primarch to the Imperium.

Like his genetic father, Vulkan was a Perpetual, a rare Human mutant with the ability to be resurrected from death over and over no matter how much damage his body suffered. Vulkan was able to regenerate fully from any injury, including a death that resulted in his complete disintegration. This ability was unknown to him until the Horus Heresy and his near-death at the Drop Site Massacre on Istvaan V.

During the Great Crusade Vulkan gained a reputation among its participants for his unusual empathy for a primarch towards average

Humans as well as his extraordinary ability to craft unique and powerful items of advanced technology.

Approximately a thousand standard years after the Horus Heresy, Vulkan hid 9 sacred artefacts he had created around the galaxy for the Salamanders to find, intended as a test to see if they were worthy of his leadership.

He then disappeared, leaving his genetic sons with the message that whenever the Forgefather of the Salamanders had found all nine items, Vulkan would return to lead his Chapter to victory over the enemies of the Imperium in its final days of greatest need, according to the signs foreseen in the Chapter's book of prophecy, the Tome of Fire.

Salamanders Space Marines

The Salamanders are one of the Loyalist First Founding Chapters of Space Marines. They originally served as the Imperium's XVIII Space Marine Legion during the Great Crusade and the Horus Heresy and for some time before the return of their Primarch were known as the "Dragon Warriors." Their homeworld is the volcanic Death World of Nocturne.

The Salamanders as a Chapter are unusually concerned with civilian casualties compared to most other Space Marines and believe that one of their most important duties is to protect the lives of the Emperor of Mankind's innocent subjects whenever and wherever possible.

This is an attitude that developed as a consequence of the Salamanders' own unusually close connections to the Nocturnean people, as they are one of the only Chapters of Astartes who continue to interact with their families and the people of their homeworld after their transformation into Space Marines.

For instance, it is not uncommon for a Salamander to serve as a clan leader among the Nocturneans and live with them when Chapter business does not require him to remain at the Chapter's fortress-monastery on Nocturne's moon of Prometheus. The Salamanders and their people as a whole are also defined by their adherence to a variation of the Imperial Cult called the Promethean Cult.

The story of the Salamanders and the legend of how their Primarch Vulkan was reunited with the Emperor is one of the few stories from the time of the Great Crusade told in a coherent form across many different worlds of the Imperium. How much of the so-called Promethean Opus is factually accurate is unknown, and in many ways unimportant.

The fact that the Salamanders have stood for ten thousand standard years as paragons of strength, honour and resolution is the true legacy of their Primarch, and one that endures into the dark epoch of the late 41st Millennium.

The Salamanders hail from a world wracked by constant volcanic instability, but possessing the very rarest kinds of mineral resources. The violence of the cyclic volcanic activity creates and churns up minerals highly prized by the Adeptus Mechanicus, yet the planet has been occupied by Mankind since long before the Age of the Imperium.

When the infant Vulkan appeared on Nocturne, he was discovered by the smith of one of the seven main settlements, a mastercraftsman who soon taught the infant Primarch all he knew.

Within a few short Terran years Vulkan had developed into a hulk of a man, his mind as powerful as his body. Soon, Vulkan was teaching the master-smiths of Nocturne metalworking techniques lost to them since the darkest days of the Age of Strife. When Vulkan defeated one of the regular and highly costly Aeldari raids, he was unanimously acknowledged as their leader.

When the Emperor came to Nocturne to be reunited with His lost son, He chose not to do so with great ceremony as He had in several other cases, and He did not announce His identity, hiding behind an obscuring psychic glamour. Instead, He came as a stranger during the festival to celebrate Vulkan's great victory.

By tradition, such celebrations included numerous contests and trials of strength, and so the stranger challenged Vulkan, declaring that the winner of their contest would kneel before the other and declare his eternal fealty.

The resulting challenge saw the stranger and the Primarch perform such deeds that no mortal could replicate, culminating in a hunt to slay the largest of the great, fire-loving native reptiles known as salamanders and return to the settlement with its body.

During this final challenge, Vulkan slew a gargantuan beast, but upon his return journey the ground opened up beneath him and a torrent lava surged up to engulf him.

With one hand clinging to a rock and the other gripping the tail of his huge prize, Vulkan hung perilously over the surging lava, his mighty strength seeping away after the many days of trials. Only by abandoning his trophy could Vulkan save himself, yet he refused to do so, even in the face of death.

Then, the stranger appeared before him, but his path was blocked by yet another lava channel. Vulkan saw that the stranger dragged behind him a prize even greater than his own, the body of the largest salamander ever seen, which he cast into the lava to form a bridge.

A moment later, the stranger took Vulkan's hand and lifted the Primarch and his prize straight up, saving him from death. Upon their return to the settlement the elders declared Vulkan the winner of the contest, for the stranger had returned from the hunt empty-handed.

But it was not the stranger who declared his eternal fealty, but the Primarch who did so, going down on one knee and declaring that a man who valued another's life over his own victory was a man worth serving. In that moment, the stranger cast off His disguise and all could see Him for what He truly was, the Master of Mankind, come to Nocturne to find His son and to reunite its people with the rest of Humanity.

Vulkan assumed the mantle of Primarch of the XVIII Legion, thereafter called the Salamanders. Recruiting from the hardy men of Nocturne, the Legion soon became known for the strength, courage, and honour of its Battle-Brothers, as well as the skills with which they fashioned their weapons of war.

But the age of glory was not to last long, for along with the Iron Hands and the Raven Guard, the Salamanders were deceived by Horus into taking their place amongst the doomed first wave of Loyalist Space Marine Legions at Istvaan V, where they were decimated first by the Traitors' defences and then by the treachery of the Legions forming the second wave.

The Salamanders are known to have suffered tragic losses at Istvaan V as one of the so-called "Shattered Legions", though sufficient numbers escaped to save the Legion from extinction. Records of this age are incomplete at best, and little of the Salamanders' actions or the deeds of their Primarch are preserved. The events immediately following the galactic civil war are even more obscured and perhaps known only to the taciturn masters of the Salamanders Librarius.

The XVIII Legion appears to have sired no immediate successors, and it is likely that their numbers were so depleted by the events of the Istvaan V Drop Site Massacre that it was not possible to divide it into Chapters.

Several Chapters created much later in subsequent Foundings may share the genetic inheritance of the Salamanders, but no evidence exists of any Second Founding Successor Chapters having been sired.

The extent to which the dictates of the Codex Astartes were adhered to in the aftermath of the break-up of the old Legions varied much, and the Salamanders appear to have obeyed it in some respects, while ignoring it in others.

The fielding of only seven, over-strength companies by the Chapter is one example of this, though in other respects the Chapter is largely compliant with Roboute Guilliman's tome. The ultimate fate of the Salamanders' Primarch is a matter of much conjecture, for he disappeared many years after the Horus Heresy.

Some sources state that Vulkan led his Chapter for three entire standard millennia before he departed on some mission he never declared to the Imperium at large, though scant evidence of any of his deeds throughout that age remain. The tale is made all the more mysterious by the fact that Vulkan appeared to have left behind him a text, called the Tome of Fire, within which is locked the nature and location of seven artefacts the Primarch willed to his Chapter.

Only when all of these "Artefacts of Vulkan" are recovered, as five now have been, will Vulkan judge the Salamanders sufficiently tempered to have passed the ultimate contest. Then, so the legend states, he shall return to lead the Salamanders in the final war against the enemies of Humanity.

Planet Nocturne

Nocturne is the homeworld of the Salamanders Space Marine Chapter located in the Segmentum Ultima of the Imperium of Man and it is usually classified by the Imperial Administratum as both a Feudal World and a Death World.

As a result of the tectonic stresses produced by the gravitational pull of its overlarge satellite Prometheus, there are vast chains of volcanoes scattered across the planet's surface and frequent earthquakes, destroying what little the Nocturnean people have built above ground and forcing them to build their habitations in vast subterranean holds. The constant volcanic eruptions have swaddled the world in an ever-present cloak of dust and ash that obscures most sunlight at the surface.

The Salamanders have built their fortress-monastery on Prometheus, Nocturne's massive moon. The Salamanders have a much closer relationship with their homeworld's people than is common among the Adeptus Astartes, and they continue to interact quite closely with their own families and clans throughout their lives. As a result, the Salamanders have also developed a remarkable concern for protecting the lives of the Emperor's subjects and will make strenuous efforts to prevent civilian casualties on the battlefield.

When not at war, the Salamanders prefer to live among the people of Nocturne and Prometheus, and usually serve as the leaders of a Nocturnean settlement. Once every 15 Terran years (1 Nocturnean year), the two worlds approach so closely that Nocturne is almost torn to pieces by the resulting gravitic stresses. This is called the "Time of Trial" by the Nocturnean people.

Vast tidal waves crash across the seas, thousands of volcanoes explode, their ash and fumes further blotting out the weak haze from the sun of Nocturne while powerful earthquakes constantly ravage the land. All life is sent reeling, towns collapse and people die with heartbreaking regularity. Then, a terrible winter sets in for the next quarter of a Nocturnean year. The young freeze and most, if not all, of the native reptilian livestock dies, unable to withstand the extreme cold as they had the heat.

One of the largest volcanic mountains on Nocturne is named Mount Deathfire. This is where the most massive of the great fire-resistant reptiles called salamanders who are common on Nocturne live, and they are known as fire drakes. They are huge, fire-breathing beasts, and one was killed each by the Emperor of Mankind and the Primarch Vulkan during the legendary contests held between the two ten millennia ago when the Emperor rediscovered His son.

This world may seem a strange place for humans to live and even thrive, but the Nocturnean people have been moulded both physically and mentally into stronger and more resilient forms by this adversity. The Time of Trial also brings great rewards. Rich veins of gems and strategic metals are revealed, large enough to be mined by the Nocturnean clans to pay for new livestock and food on the Imperium's interplanetary markets.

The Salamanders and other residents of Nocturne live in giant underground Sanctuary Cities, the largest of which is called Hesiod and which tend to be home to a single one of the Nocturnean people's clans. Each Salamanders company is usually recruited entirely from one of these clan settlements so that the Battle-Brothers of a company will share their clan as well as Chapter loyalties and will also feel strongly connected to their homeworld's common people. The Salamanders either live on Prometheus in the fortress-monastery or live among the people on Nocturne, where they usually serve as the leaders of the clan settlements that dominate the relatively small Nocturnean population of 15 million people.

Recruitment for the Salamanders starts early on Nocturne, at the ages of 6 or 7 Terran years. Those selected as Aspirants are first apprenticed to a Salamanders Astartes who will be their mentor and guide through the process and then taught the ancient ways of the forge. As their training progresses they are required to perform the same trials as Vulkan did in his competition with the Emperor, culminating in the capture of a great salamander reptile on the slopes of Mount Deathfire. Those Aspirants who survive to complete all of these tasks are taken for biological enhancement and implantation of the Chapter's gene-seed at the Salamanders' fortress-monastery on the moon of Prometheus.

It should be noted that the people of Nocturne have been slightly mutated by their constant exposure to the high levels of radioactivity present on their world due to the radioactive rare earth elements often uncovered by the extreme volcanism. They have developed deep ebony skins, regardless of their original ethnicities, and the irises of their eyes now glow red in the darkness because they developed over many generations the ability to see in the infrared levels of the electromagnetic spectrum to deal with the constant volcanic pollution that blocks out their world's sunlight.

These same physical characteristics are also present in every Salamanders Space Marine. The Imperium's Ecclesiarchy does not consider these mutations heretical as the Salamanders and the Nocturneans themselves have always been among the most staunchly loyal to the Emperor of the Space Marine Chapters. The Promethean Cult prevalent on the world is an accepted variant of the Imperial Cult.

Me: Time for a Teen Titans Final Smash Barrage!

Robin: Lets do it!

Speedy: With you all the way Robin!

?: (Russian Accent) Let me help too.

A man came out and it was Red Star!

---

Red Star was formerly a young recruit in the Russian armed forces. Originally frail and weak, his strength and muscular physique were bestowed to him in a government experiment for creating super-soldiers, but his powers were fueled by intense and dangerous radiation, which would sometimes go berserk under emotional stress. For this reason Red Star had been living in voluntary exile in an abandoned Siberian nuclear power plant, where he used the facilities to funnel his excess radiation into water capsules whenever his frustration and, therefore, the energy would build up too much. A leakage in the containment unit made the radiation melt up the snow outside, which seeped into a pond and eventually created a plasma monster which wreaked havoc on the surrounding settlements, acting out Red Star's latent resentments. Red Star got blamed for the creature's actions, partly because of the destruction he had inadvertently caused when his powers went berserk the first time.

In response to the damage the plasma creature was causing, the Teen Titans began pursuing it. After chasing it into a snowstorm, Starfire succumbed to the temperature extremes but was found by Red Star before she froze to death. Encouraged by Starfire to embrace his power instead of fighting it back, Red Star joined the Titans, fought the creature and destroyed it by pumping it full with an overdose of radioactive energy. However, the energy within his body thus rose to uncontrollable levels, and he asked Starfire to take him into space, where his power was released in a gigantic explosion. Before his departure, however, the Titans made Red Star an honorary member, and his fellow people, who have previously shunned and feared him, now viewed him as a hero.

Red Star made a minor cameo in "Lightspeed". The H.I.V.E. Five were stopped by an unknown speedster when they were trying to rob a museum. Back at their base, Jinx and Gizmo were scrolling through Honorary Titans, trying to make a match. Red Star was the last Titan depicted on the screen.

Red Star inexplicably reappeared alongside Starfire and Bumblebee in the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Evil to help the Titans fight the assembled supervillains. His reappearance remains unexplained, although in "Snowblind" it was hinted that the explosion was a catalyst to his gaining full control of his powers. He was seen slamming Mammoth into a wall and battling Steamroller. After their victory, Red Star socialized with the other Titans in Titans Tower and participated in the recapture of Doctor Light.

Me: Captain Leonid Constantinovich Kovar A.K.A. Red Star. It's an honor to meet you.

Red Star: Pleasure to meet you too J.D.

Me: Starfire told me a lot about you and how you helped Robin and the Titans in the past. Especially during the wars with the Brotherhood of Evil.

Red Star: It was an honor to help out the Titans.

Me: It's great to have one of the Titans from our friends in Russia help out.

Red Star: Thank you J.D. Lets see how this monster likes this.

Kardiak was completely obliterated into nothing.

Me: Good riddance to that bad heart.

Nico: Yep. Kardiak you have failed this world.

Laney: Yep.

We got everyone else out of the pitfall and the Masters of Evil regrouped.

Me: Awesome battle.

Lynn: It sure was.

King Hiss: (to Lynn) So, I heard that you were drinking in the Iceberg

Lounge.

Lynn: (sighs) I was. But that was only because I was depressed about my evil self.

Speedy: And who can blame her?

Webstor: Look, don't worry about it. As long as you stay true to yourself, you'll never become like dark self.

Lynn: (smiles) You're right. Thanks, guys.

Rich Texan: No problem, little lady!

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: Well that's another Teen Titans enemy destroyed.

Nico: Yep.

Laney: Lets head home.

We went back home to the estate and Red Star was now a member of our group.

Me: That's right.

We got back to our routines.

THE END

Another Teen Titans Villain destroyed and done.

Kardiak from the episode Spellbound was the weirdest villain I've ever seen in the series and it was weird that he looked like a giant mechanical beating heart. Awesome. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this one. Thanks guys. Next up is a land version of the SpongeBob episode My Leg and get ready to laugh as Jackie gets her leg broken more times than anyone.

See you all tomorrow.

MY LEG!

At the lake we were there to have Sydney, Nanette and Sheila know what it's like to be Pokemon. We're gonna have them turn into a Blastoise, Charizard and a Venusaur. Sydney was wearing an old blue tank top and a blue skirt, Nanette was wearing a red shirt and a red skirt and Sheila was wearing a green shirt with a green skirt.

Sydney: This is probably going to be a more pleasant version of when we got mutated.

Me: It is going to be a good version.

Laney: This is gonna be awesome!

Lana: It sure is.

Lola: Yeah.

Me: Okay girls are you ready?

Sydney: Ready.

Nanette: Lets do it!

Sheila: Yeah!

Me: Okay. (Snaps Fingers)

They groaned in pain and Sydney had her skin turn blue and she grew muscular and she grew a turtle shell and her head turned into a Blastoise and she had her arms and legs turned into those of Blastoise and she had 2 cannons pop out of her shell. Nanette had her skin turn orange and her neck grew longer and she sprouted a tail and it had a flame on the end and her clothes ripped as she sprouted orange dragon wings and her hands and feet turned into claws and her head turned into a dragon and their hair fell out and their eyes changed to red. She became a Charizard! Sheila's skin turned green and she crouched down on all fours and her back grew a tree out of it and it bloomed into a flower and she was now a Venusaur!

Sheila: How come I always get the form that doesn't stand up straight?!

Me: Don't ask me.

Maria: How do you girls feel?

Sydney: Amazing!

Nanette: I feel powerful!

Sheila: Same here.

Me: See for yourselves.

I formed a mirror and they saw that they were Pokemon. Sydney was now a Blastoise, Nanette was now a Charizard and Sheila was now a Venusaur.

Sydney: Cool! I'm a Blastoise!

Nanette: I'm a Charizard!

Sheila: And I'm a Venusaur!

Sydney: This is awesome!

Eric Loud: You three look awesome as some of my favorite Pokemon.

Numbuh 84: They sure do.

Me: And here comes the perfect targets.

I pointed to the lake and we saw a massive armada of Battleships and it was the last of the remnants of Team Rocket.

Me: They have an armada of battleships this time!

Nico: This is gonna get ugly!

Team Rocket man: TIME YOU FOR YOU ALL TO DIE! THIS IS FOR TEAM ROCKET! FIRE EVERYTHING AT WILL!

Then the ships fired missiles, cannons and laser blasts at us and they hit the sands and trees and beaches around us and turned our grounds into a huge war zone!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!
KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

Sydney: Lets get them girls!

Nanette: Yeah!

Sydney fired a massive Hydro Pump blast, Nanette fired a powerful Flamethrower blast and Sheila fired a massive Solar Beam Blast!

Their blasts combined and they slammed into a battleship and exploded and the blast blew it into a million pieces in a fiery explosion!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The explosion sunk it.

Me: WHOA! Nice job girls!

Eric Loud: I'll finish the rest girls. Here's a technique I learned on the fly.

Eric stood ready.

Landon: What is Eric doing?

Eric got into a familiar stance.

Eric Loud: (Cups hands to side) KAAAAAAA MEEEEEEE HAAAAAAA MEEEEEEE HAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!

He fired a powerful Kamehameha Wave and it flew over the water and went into space and the waves from the water sunk the entire fleet of battleships!

Me: WHOA! Eric that was awesome!

Landon: Way to go Eric!

Han: That's our big bro.

Master Roshi: Well done Eric!

Goku: That was incredible!

Sheila: Way to go Eric!

But the remnants of Team Rocket weren't done yet as a massive armada of submarines came.

Team Rocket man: All right! Lets see you destroy my submarines this time! FIRE AT WILL!

They fired a massive barrage of missiles at us and they all hit around us and exploded all over.

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM! KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM! KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

Me: Girls lets hit them with our combined power.

Sydney: Lets do it!

Nanette: Yeah!

Sheila: This is gonna be good!

Me: (Cups hands to side) KAAAAAAAAAAAA! MEEEEEEEEEEEEEE! HAAAAAAAAAAAAAA! MEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE! HAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA

I fired a powerful red Kamehameha Wave and Sydney fired a wave of water, Nanette fired a blast of fire and Sheila fired a blast of light and the blasts all combined and they slammed into the submarines all at once and they all exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The submarines and all the battleships were completely destroyed and some of the remnants of Team Rocket washed up on the shore and we tied them up and the police came and arrested them.

Me: Awesome job girls!

Sheila: That was awesome!

Nanette: Yeah!

Sydney: This was awesome!

Laney: Cousin Eric how did you learn the Kamehameha Wave?

Eric Loud: I picked it up on the fly and learned it by watching it on Dragonball Z.

Me: Hey that's very coincidental. I learned it the exact same way.

Goku: I learned it by watching how Master Roshi did it.

Master Roshi: It took me 50 years to develop the Kamehameha Wave and Goku, J.D. and you learned it in seconds. Well done Eric.

Eric Loud: Thanks Master Roshi.

Sheila: That's my awesome boyfriend for you.

Me: We have have 2 minutes left.

Sheila: It was fun while it lasted.

Lincoln: But you did a great job girls.

Krillin: Yeah! You all did really well.

Tien: I agree.

Nico: Yeah.

Me: 15 seconds left. Boys cover your eyes and Master Roshi, no tricks.

Everyone covered their eyes.

Me: 3… 2… 1… 0.

I covered my eyes and Sydney, Nanette and Sheila groaned in pain and they were reverting back. Sheila had her flower go back into her back and her eyes changed back and her hair grew back and she stood up as her skin changed back. Nanette had her wings and tail go back in and her neck and head reverted back and her eyes changed back and her hair grew back and her skin turned back and Sydney lost her shell and cannons and her skin reverted back and so did her eyes and her hair changed back. They were back to human.

Nanette: And just like that, we're naked.

Maria, Leni and Teresa gave them some towels and they wrapped them around their bodies.

Me: This was awesome!

Laney: It sure was.

Later we were waiting at the hospital when we found out that Jackie hurt her leg again.

[A television was fuzzing on the screen. The screen starts at Leni's Driving exam at the DMV School. Leni backs the boat against the lighthouse and Marybeth Jeanne Oliver was crying herself. The lighthouse knocks over and falls onto Jackie's leg.]

CRASH! CRUNCH!

Jackie: My leg! (1) [gets hit by antenna; the screen then shows Jackie at the circus, where she is run over by an Old Scoot's stroller and crushes her leg in the process] Ah! My leg! (2) [the screen then shows Jackie doing weight lifting, where the weights crush her legs] My leg! (3) [the screen then shows Jackie fishing out her leg] Hmm?

My leg (4) [the screen then shows Jackie being part of Charlie's magic show, where her leg is detached] My leg! (5) [the screen then shows Jackie changing the channel on her television, where her leg is shown] My leg? (6) [the screen then shows Jackie being crushed by a steamroller, which hurts BOTH of her legs] My leg?! (7) [the screen then shows Jackie's leg being drilled in the garbage disposal] My leg! (8) [the screen then shows Jackie in a dress being blown by an air vent like Marilyn Monroe in the 1955 movie The Seven Year Itch, revealing realistic legs] (Seductively) My leg… (9) [the screen then shows Jackie's leg being sawed off, and then taken, by aliens] My leg! (10) [the screen then shows Jackie's leg being served as a dinner entrée to a hungry cannibal at a restaurant] My leg! (11) [the screen then shows Jackie's leg being zapped by a mad scientist; she whimpers] My leg! (12)

[Finally, the screen shows Jackie sitting in the fields next to a maple tree. A leaf floats down on her leg and it disintegrates into dust.]

Doctor: [chuckles] That last one put my daughter through college. [Jackie growls at him] All right, let's get this over with. [holds out a really big spinning blade]

Jackie: [gasps and the doctor saws her cast] My leg, (13) my leg, (14) my leg, (15) my leg, (16) my leg! (17) My leeeeeeeeg! (18) [the cast comes apart] Ooh. Hmm! Feels great! Thanks, Doc! [accidentally kicks the doctor's face]

POW!

Doctor: I'm glad, Jackie. But you've got to be more careful with… [pulls down an x-ray of Jackie's leg] your leg! (19) [rolls the x-ray back up]

Jackie: Ah, come on, Doc. It's just my leg! (20) [accidentally kicks the doctor out the window] I've got another one.

Doctor: Just your leg? (21) [climbs back in through the window, grabs Jackie's leg and whacks Jackie in the face] Just your leg?! (22) [lets go of Jackie's leg] All right, Jackie, the next time you come in here with a hurt leg (23), I'm going to replace it with… [opens cabinet]

Jackie: With what?

Doctor: [holds up a robotic leg] A robot leg! (24)

Jackie: Cool!

Doctor: It might be cool to you, Jackie, but how does the robot feel about it? [pulls out a robot and it grabs Jackie]

Tom (robot): Don't take my leg! (25) Don't take my leg! (26) [sobs]

Jackie: [pulls the robot off her] Okay, Doc, I get it. I'll take better care of my leg! (27) I promise. [leaves]

Doctor: Nice job, Tom.

[The doctor and Tom, the robot, give each other a high-five. The scene changes to Jackie exiting the hospital, where she meets up with Leni and us.]

Me: Hiya Jackie.

Laney: How are you feeling?

Jackie: Much better thank you.

Leni: [holding flowers and a balloon] Hello, Jackie. Your leg! (28) Looks great.

Nico: It sure does.

Leni: I'm sorry you got hurt Jackie.

Jackie: I know Leni. But My leg! (29) is better than ever.

Leni: Oh, Jackie, I'm so sorry I drove that freight train onto your leg! (30)

[The scene changes into a flashback. Jackie is stretching her leg out onto the railroad will sipping down a drink. Suddenly, Leni comes rolling by the tracks on a small freight train laughing while she has fun with Lily, running over Jackie's leg.]

Leni: [chuckles] Choo-choo.

Jackie: My leg! (31)

[An ambulance drives by. The paramedics pick up Jackie and drive her away to the hospital. The flashback ends and Lily squiggles her body.]

Lily: [laughs] Flashbacks tickle.

Me: Funny.

Jackie leaves and then Krusty and Dr. Light show up.

Kairi: Hey, Krusty. What are you and Dr. Light doing here?

Krusty: Well, today's our day off. So, I thought the two of us can hang out with you guys for today.

Me: That's cool.

Dr. Light: I'm rather grateful that Kardiak's destroyed. He never was very social to me and the others.

Me: I don't think he was ever social with anyone.

Lana: Yeah.

Tara: Red Star, out of curiosity, how did you survive that explosion?

Me: That's what I want to know.

Speedy: And did any of the Brotherhood of Evil members go after you?

Red Star: As a matter of fact they did. Dr. Light mostly. And I survived that explosion by releasing all the radiation in the endless void of space.

Me: Wow.

Leni: Ooh, I know. I'll protect Jackie's leg! (32) From harm, incognito.

Me: Lets do it.

[ On our way to the mall, we see that Jackie is going to step in an oil puddle. Laney forms a bed of leaves and they cover the oil puddle so Jackie wouldn't slip on it.]

Laney: Good save.

[Luan sees that Jackie is going to slip on a banana peel. She fired a beam of light and obliterates the banana peel and then Jackie is about to step on a pile of tacks. Lincoln slides underneath her and shields her from the pointy spikes. Lincoln sticks out his tongue and its covered with tacks. We see Jackie about to step on a foothold trap. Lana then steps in and gets into the trap to prevent Jackie from stepping in it.]

Lana: Yowch! [groans]

Lola: Lana!

Lana was taken to the infirmary.

[We continued to follow Jackie the mall.]

Jackie: Hey everybody, look who's back!

Mall workers: My leg! (33)

[As Jackie goes to begin her shopping, we all continue to follow her. We hide behind the clothing rack just as Jackie is preparing to go shopping. Jackie is doing some heavy shopping for clothes.]

Leni: Oh no. She has to be careful even while shopping. Must think. [puts on a her workers outfit; talks in a deep voice] Welcome back to the mall Jackie. Nice leg (34) work. But you know, it's a lot safer if you use a… [pulls out a table leg] table leg (35) instead.

Jackie: Wow! Really?

Leni: [chuckles] Now Jackie, I wouldn't pull your leg! (36) Watch this. [pushes the clothes around in the clothing rack, but the clothes ends up sending her into a sawmill] Huh?

[With Leni jamming the machine, it starts to overload and the construction workers flee the mill. The factory unleashes a devastating explosion.]

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

[The smoke clears and Leni pops out from the debris.]

Leni: [sighs] Well, at least Jackie's leg! (37) is safe. [collapse on the ground; as she collapsed, she is cut into several pieces of wood]

Leni: Ouch.

Krusty: Oh man. This is too painful to watch.

[The scene changes to Jackie receiving therapy from a podiatrist named Dr. Charley Horse.]

Jackie: My leg! (38) Is really stressing out, Dr. Charley Horse.

Dr. Charley Horse: [examining Jackie's leg] Hmm. Uh-huh. [twists Jackie's leg and bite it] You're right, Jackie. It's so tense. But I've got just the remedy. Take off your shoes and follow me.

Sherman: Jackie, maybe you should take it easy on the leg.

Jackie: I know but I'll be fine.

[Jackie takes off his shoes and follows Dr. Charley Horse. Leni and Lily pop out of Jackie's shoes.]

Lily: [wearing a gas mask] So far this plan stinks.

Leni: This is no time to be smelling stinks, Lily. I need to protect Jackie's leg! (39) And I can't do it alone.

Dr. Charley Horse: The only way to relax your leg! (40) Is to walk on… [removes the rug and reveals a patch of burning, red hot coals underneath] hot coals.

Leni and Lily: Hot coals?!

Me: Firewalking.

Nico: Awesome.

Carol: That is gonna be tough.

[Leni goes to protect Jackie while Lily hides in a sock.]

Dr. Charley Horse: Now Leni, close your eyes, and repeat after me the ancient mantra: My feet (41) are cold. My feet (42) are cold.

Jackie and Dr. Charley Horse: My feet (43) are cold.

Jackie: My feet (44) are cold. [stretches her foot out over the hot coals]

[Leni gasps and lays herself underneath Jackie's feet as she prepares to walk on the red hot coals.]

Jackie: My feet (45) are cold. [walks on top of Leni as she burns] My feet (46) are cold.

Leni: Ow, ow, ow, ow, ow, ow.

We were wincing as Leni was burning.

Jackie: My feet (47) are cold.

[Jackie makes it to the other end of the hot coals. Leni hops out screaming in pain as her body is on fire. She flies around Jackie.]

Jackie: Whoa! [falls on the hot coals] My butt! (48)

[Leni flies around Dr. Charley Horse, accidentally making him step on the hot coals.]

Dr. Charley Horse: [his voice gets higher and starts to shrink as he walks on the hot coals] Oh my feet (49) are cold, my feet (50) are cold, my feet (51) are cold, my feet (52) are cold! [disappears; forms a word above the coals and whispers] Transcendence.

Jackie: Ooh.

Me: Maybe I should do firewalking to help me out.

Nico: Good idea.

[The scene changes to Jackie walking in the streets in Gotham Royal York. Leni and Lily appear in disguises as bodyguards.]

Leni: [imitates static] All quiet on the right side.

Lily: [imitates static] All quiet on the left side. [bashes Comic Book Guy out of the way] Sorry, Comic Book Guy.

[Leni moves an old woman out of the way.]

Old woman: Oh!

Leni: Sorry, ma'am.

Fred: Hey, what's going on here?

[A girl scout appears in front of them.]

Girl Scout: Would you like to buy some cookies?

Lily: I'll take a few thank you.

She handed Girl Jordan some money and she gave her a bunch of boxes of cookies.

Leni: Mayday, Chicken Leg! (53) We got a situation on the griddle! [wraps her body around Jackie's leg]

Lily then saw a bunch of muggers coming!

Girl Jordan: I got this!

[Girl Jordan grabs Lily and she brutally beats the thugs up and whacks them around on the ground while holding her leg with her teeth. She heavily pants like a wild savage beast until she picks up the rest of the boxes and returns to her sweet innocent self.]

Girl Jordan: Sorry about that Lily.

[She skips away and Jackie removes Leni's sunglasses.]

Jackie: Leni? Why are you following my leg?! (54) [pulls Leni off her leg]

Leni: Jackie, you have to listen to me. Your leg! (55) Is in constant danger. Isn't that so, Lily?

Lily: Ow. I think I hurt my leg. (56) [shows the bite mark on her leg]

Me: Yikes.

Leni and Jackie: Your what?

Lily: [screams] My leg! (57)

[An ambulance arrives. The paramedics grab Lily, throw her in, and drive her away.]

Jackie: [sobs] Aw gee, some guys get all the lucky breaks. [kicks an empty can in Leni's face]

Leni: [pulls the can off her face] At least you know that your leg's! (58) Perimeter is secured.

Jackie: I know. I just miss being at the hospital.

Leni: Why?

Me: Why's that?

Jackie: Well, secretly…

Leni: Ooh! [We all lean closer to listen]

Jackie: [whispers] I'm in love with a nurse.

Me: Aww.

Leni: Ooh, you're in love with a nurse? Ooh-hoo-hoo-hoo! [forms into a heart and sighs; a cupid arrow pops Leni back to her normal form] Jackie, I've got an idea. Why don't we hurt your leg! (59) So you can be reunited with your manly fair?

Me: Yeah!

Jackie: Let's do it! And we should step on it. It's almost time for his break.

Me: We better hurry then.

Leni: I'd say it's almost time for your break.

[Leni and Jackie share a laugh and Luan laughs with them. Leni takes out a toy hammer and hits Jackie's leg with it, but it didn't do any physical harm.]

Leni: I should probably use something stronger.

Jackie: Yeah, probably.

[The scene changes to Leni and Jackie climbing over the wall at Gotham Royal York Prison. Leni taps the shoulder of a nearby convict working on the rocks.]

Convict: Hmm?

[Jackie stretches out her leg and Leni quietly explains to the convict to hit it with his hammer.]

Leni: Ahh?

Convict: Hmm? Mm-mm.

[Leni grabs the hammer and goes to hit Jackie's leg with it. But the hammer slips out of her hand and it lands on the convict's foot. The screen becomes black and white and like a silent movie, the convict words "My Leg!" (60) appears on the screen when he screams. The ambulance arrives again. The paramedics climb out, throw the convict in, and drive away. Leni and Jackie snap their fingers in disgust. The scene changes to Jackie and Leni in the forest. Leni has three jars full of electric eels and battery chargers attached to them. She puts two other battery chargers on Jackie's leg in an attempt to have the eels electrocute it.]

Leni: [takes out a stick] Hmm. [pokes the jars]

[The eels come out of the jars and repeatedly bit and electrocute

Leni. Leni comes back, now incredibly swollen and burned and lightning is arching around her, and snaps her finger in disgust. The scene changes to Jackie sprinkling salt on her leg. Leni rings the bell and a family of ferocious bears appear. But instead of biting Leni's leg, they lick the salt off. Leni snaps his fingers in disgust. The scene changes to Leni tying Jackie's leg to the railroad tracks.]

Leni: Trust me, Jackie, your leg! (61) (49) Is as good as broken.

Jackie: Oh, my sweet nurse man. I'll be there soon, my love!

Leni: And here comes the love train, right on schedule!

[A train with hearts steaming out comes riding down the tracks. Just as the train gets closer, Tom the robot appears. Tom stops the train and throws it off the track.]

Tom (robot): Don't hurt your leg! (62) Don't hurt your leg! (63)

Me: Mr. Robot, that is very rude. How are we supposed to break Jackie's leg! (64) (52) Now?

[Tom's head explodes in anger.]

Me: Bring it!

Jackie: He's just afraid if I hurt my leg! (65) The doctor will replace it with his leg! (66)

Leni: Oh, is that all? Shucks, he can have a new leg! (67) I was taught how to make robotic limbs by Lisa. [pulls out a robot kit and she made an awesome new left leg] Boink! [sticks the leg on Tom] Enjoy.

Tom (robot): [laughing] Thank you, Leni woman. This one is even better than my leg! (68)

Me: That was very clever Lily.

[The ambulance arrives again. The paramedics climb out, throw Tom in, and drive away.]

Jackie: Aw, it's no use, guys. Maybe the nurse and me were never meant to be.

Leni: Now, don't put your tail between your legs! (69) Just yet, Jackie. I've got the perfect plan to get you back to the hospital. Okay, here's what we do… [a boulder then crushes Leni's leg!] My leg! (70)

[The ambulance falls back down, crashing on top of Jackie. The paramedics climb out, throw Leni inside the ambulance, and drive away, leaving Jackie with some tire marks.]

Jackie: My head and torso! (71) Wow, that's crazy. They hit me everywhere except my legs! (72)

Me: They sure did.

[The paramedics grab Jackie and drive away. The scene changes to the hospital where Leni, Lily, the convict, and Tom the robot have their legs casted up. Jackie, however, has her entire body casted up except for her legs.]

Jackie: [sighs] Thank you, Leni. If it wasn't for you, I never would have made it back to my angel god.

Leni: Oh, don't thank me, Jackie. Your leg! (73) Did all the heavy lifting. I can't wait to meet this angel god of yours.

Jackie: Well, wait no longer, Leni. Hello, Nurse Lubowski!

Leni: Nurse Lubowski?

[Jackie's secret crush turns out to be a strong, bulky bodybuilder nurse named Nurse Lubowski. He enters the room with a wet sponge.]

Nurse Lubowski: Sponge bath time!

Leni, Lily, Convict, and Tom (robot): [all scared] No!

Lily: [frantic] I don't want to! Oh, no, no! [cries]

Nurse Lubowski: Scrub, scrub, scrubbity, scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub [grabs Lily and violently scrubs her with the sponge]

Convict and Tom: No!

[Tom and the convict tremble in fear at the sight, but Jackie doesn't seem to be afraid of him at all.]

Jackie: You know, this reminds me of a song.

[Jackie takes out a ukulele and begins to play music. Tom and the convict attempt to dig themselves out of the hospital to escape Nurse Lubowski, but eventually decides to join in the music. Jackie saws her face out through the cast.]

Jackie: When I met you, my fingers went numb and my arms were all aloof. But I tripped over your heart. And now, my loneliness went poof. Because… My leg (74) is in love! Hey, my leg (75) is in love! Like an old, snug shoe that fits like a glove! My leg (76) is in love! Wow! My leg (77) is in love! Through my femur to the marrow is where Cupid shot an arrow! So, my leg (78) is in love! Whoa! My leg (79) is in love! My calves are getting restless! My quads are going crazy! I'm in love with a nurse and I think his name is Tazie!

[Nurse Lubowski is wringing Lily out with the wringer. He stops and starts listening to Jackie's song about him.]

Nurse Lubowski: [blushes] Me?

Chorus: Her leg (80) is in love! Yeah! Her leg (81) is in love!

Jackie: I really mean it! Yeah, my leg! (82)

Chorus: Her leg! (83) (70)

Jackie: Oh, yes!

Chorus: Oh, yes!

Jackie: My leg (84) is in love!

Chorus: Her leg (85) is in love!

Jackie: Yeah!

Leni: [as Cupid] Hey, I always wanted to show a little leg! (86) [laughs]

Nurse Lubowski: [kisses Jackie] Mwah, mwah, mwah.

[The screen closes and cuts Jackie's leg off.]

Jackie: [screaming] My leeeeeeeeeeeeeg! (87)

[The ambulance drives up. The paramedic takes Jackie's leg and drives away, ending the episode.]

Me: (To the viewers) Take care of your body and it will take care of you.

Another awesome chapter done.

MY LEG! from SpongeBob was one of the funniest episodes I've ever seen. It was awesome and Kevin Michael Richardson did a great job voicing Nurse Bazooka and it was so funny! It aired on May 8, 2018 and it was so funny! NicoChan11 gave me the ideas for this one. Thanks man. Next up is another SpongeBob episode. but this one takes place in the ocean. It's gonna be for Sandy, SpongeBob and The Worm and it's gonna be so funny as the Neptune Crusaders stop the Alaskan Bull Worm from destroying Bikini Bottom.

See you all tomorrow.

Neptune Crusaders and the Worm

At the estate, we were watching TV and playing card games and having fun.

Me: So far things have been quiet.

Carly Carmine: Yep.

Carly was with us to watch her kids and they were growing like weeds and learning fast.

Laney: Your kids are growing fast Carly.

Carly Carmine: I know.

May then came in.

May: Guys I have some big news to tell you and Nico.

Nico: What is it May?

May: Nico, guys I don't know how to say this but I…

Me: What is it May?

May: I'm Pregnant.

We gasped.

Nico: What!? You're pregnant!?

May: Yes.

Nico: Oh May! I am so happy!

He hugged her!

Nico: I'm gonna be a father!

May: Oh Nico! I was so afraid of how you would react.

We cheered wildly for her and Nico.

Me: Way to go Nico!

Manaphy: Yay mama!

Poliwag: Awesome!

Poromon: This is awesome!

Laney: We're so happy for you May!

May then got sick.

She went to the trash can and threw up.

Manaphy: Mama?

Nico: It's all right Manaphy. It's part of the natural process. The first phase is morning sickness.

* * *

The following weeks May went through the natural pregnancy process. Next came the Mood Swings.

May: (to Manaphy) Out of the way, brat!

Manaphy: (starts to cry) Mama, why?!

May: Manaphy, I'm so sorry!

Nico came in with an army helmet on.

Nico: Manaphy she's not really mad at you for real. She's going through mood swings.

Manaphy: Mood swings?

Nico: Her body is changing during the pregnancy. Your mood changes with it. One minute you're happy, then sad, then mad, then stable, that sort of thing.

Manaphy: Oh I get it.

Nico: It's part of the natural process. You just have to get used to it.

Serena: Yeah.

May: (Crying) I want ice cream!

Nico: See?

Manaphy: Oh I get it.

Nico: We just have to put up with it during the pregnancy.

Manaphy: Wow.

We were in for a long 10 months.

French Narrator: (French Accent) Ahh, another peaceful evening in Bikini Bottom. Listen to the tropical tranquility. [we see the town of Bikini Bottom; something underground is tunneling and consumes the Bikini Bottom sign] Uh-oh. [the tunneling thing moves on to the rest of Bikini Bottom; a cop is writing a ticket for a car parked near a fire hydrant; the thing, still invisible, makes eating noises; we then see that the car has disappeared, so the cop picks up the fire hydrant, moves it to the adjacent car, and places the ticket on that car, whistling as he casually walks away; the thing moves on to SpongeBob's house; Gary wakes up, sees the thing, and meows in terror; SpongeBob is still fast asleep]

SpongeBob: [mumbling, half-asleep] Two soups, please. Thank you. [the thing takes SpongeBob's blanket] You keep the change. [the thing takes SpongeBob's pillow] What? [he wakes up fully and stares fixedly at the thing in terror; camera zooms out to show half of the pineapple house's walls missing]

The following morning, The Neptune Crusaders were walking through the town and they saw that the town was in a state of panic.

Varie: What is going on here?

Lana: I don't know.

Lily: Look at this guys!

They went over to where a mans house was at and they saw that the house had a huge bite hole in it.

Lily: WHOA!

Luna: What happened there dudes?

Cleo: Something blew a hole out of that house.

Lana: That's not an explosion hole. Something took a huge bite out of it.

Varie: What kind of creature would make a hole this huge?

SpongeBob: I know what it was!

They saw SpongeBob.

Maria: Hey, Spongebob. Is something wrong?

SpongeBob: I gathered everyone at the Krusty Krab. Lets go!

[The next scene shows SpongeBob talking to the crowd at the Krusty Krab]

SpongeBob: I saw it! It was big! It was all wiggly! And it ate everything!

Patrick: That's horrible! [gobbles down a whole tray of food, containers and all]

Maria: What was it?

SpongeBob: It was an Alaskan Bull Worm! [each of the three words appears on screen; "Alaskan" written in icy letters, "Bull" written in furry letters, and "Worm!" written in letters that resemble worms. The crowd murmurs worriedly]

Sydney: An Alaskan Bull Worm?

Gali: That must be one huge worm.

Lana: A giant worm!? (Drools) Oh boy!

Lily: Wow.

Fred: He ate my wheelbarrow! [he has his wheelbarrow with a bite taken out of it]

Sydney: He got you too?

Fred: Yep.

Nancy Suzy Fish: He ate my children's homework! [her two kids wink simultaneously and give a big thumbs-up]

Maria: That's good for you guys?

Unnamed Fish 3: [has a huge bite taken out of his butt]… Do I need to say it?

Varie: Ouch. I'll get you fixed up.

Unnamed Fish 3: Thanks Varie.

Unnamed Fish 4: [crowd murmurs some more] How can we protect ourselves?

Mr. Krabs: I've got it! Let's all buy a Krabby Patty! [crowd boos and throws ketchup and mustard bottles at him]

Maria: That's enough guys!

Nat Peterson: We should lock our doors!

Mable: We should call my nephew!

Knight Fish: We should dig a moat!

Patrick: We should take Bikini Bottom, and push it somewhere else! [crowd immediately quiets down]

Squilliam: That idea may just be crazy enough… To get us all killed!

[crowd resumes fretting]

Patrick: [Amongst the murmuring] What's wrong with my idea?

Horsea: Patrick, putting Bikini Bottom somewhere else won't work!

Maria: I agree. It won't help with anything.

Then Hydro Man, Ebon and Vexen appeared.

Hydro Man: I'm sorry. Did we come out a bad time? Because we only came to get some Krabby Patties.

Maria: The whole town is in an uproar because a huge Alaskan Bull Worm is eating everything in its path.

Ebon: Man that's terrible!

Fred: Let's get someone to go after it!

Mr. Krabs: There ain't no one fool enough to take on an Alaskan Bull Worm! [a horrible screeching noise is heard; the crowd cringes; we see a scary-looking old guy in a raincoat with a hook for a hand, scraping it on the window of the Krusty Krab; he stops]

Maria: OW!

Emma: That hurt!

Unnamed Sailor: You got a bathroom in this place?

Mr. Krabs: [looks slightly peeved] In the back.

Unnamed Sailor: [legs wobble] Thanks. [he runs for it]

Sandy: [under a wide-brimmed cowboy hat] I'll catch your worm for ya, that is if'n you're willin' ta pay. [tips brim up]

Mr. Krabs: Nooo! You'll never get a cent out of me! [runs to block the cash register with his body] Never! I'd rather that worm come in here right now and eat you all alive! [begins foaming at the mouth; the crowd looks at him strangely; he calms down]… Sorry.

Cleo: Relax, Mr. Krabs. We'll find the worm and destroy it easily. Shouldn't be that hard.

Maria: Yeah.

Sandy: [laughs good-naturedly] Aw, shucks. I don't want your money. I was just playing up the drama of the moment, is all. [Mr. Krabs chuckles, which gradually turns into crying; Sandy continues] Nope. I'm not gonna take that spineless critter down for nothing, 'cause this is personal. Look. My tail's gone! [she shows them; crowd gasps]

Maria: Ouch!

Varie: Geez! He got you too Sandy?

Sandy: Yep. Varmint must've got it while I had my back turned, the coward! [crowd sympathizes] I am gonna get back what's mine! [crowd cheers]

Lily: Yeah!

SpongeBob: [looks alarmed] What!? But, Sandy, you don't know what you're up against! We're talking about an Alaskan Bull Worm! [the three words appear on screen again]

Maria: I don't know what this worm looks like but it looks dangerous.

Horsea: Yeah.

Sandy: Well, I don't know nothing about Alaska, but looky here. [she pulls out a wallet with pictures] Back in Texas I wrangled bulls, and I wrangled worms. [we see pictures of a real-life squirrel with a lasso around a bull, then a lasso around a worm] Far as I'm concerned, doing 'em both together just saves rope. Now I'm gonna go kick me some worm tail! Yee-haw! [she runs to the doors of the Krusty Krab; the crowd goes wild]

Maria: Lets go!

SpongeBob: But, Sandy, you don't know!

Sandy: Don't worry, SpongeBob. I won't be long. [leaves]

SpongeBob: [chases after her] Sandy! Sandy!

The Neptune Crusaders, Ebon, Vexen and Hydro Man followed.

Mr. Krabs: [amidst the still-cheering crowd] Go get 'em, Sandy! We have the utmost confidence in you!

Scene cuts back to the Neptune Crusaders going after the worm.

SpongeBob: Wait! Sandy!

Sandy: Hey, SpongeBob, you coming to watch?

SpongeBob: Sandy, don't go!

Sandy: Why not?

SpongeBob: Sandy, I saw it! It's big, scary, and pink! [each word appears on the screen; "Big" displayed in large letters, "Scary" in green drippy letters, and "Pink" in pink fuzzy cursive letters]

Sandy: So's Patrick's belly button, but I ain't afraid of that, neither.

Varie: I'm not afraid of a worm either.

SpongeBob: You'll get massacred! [collapses into sponge-cubes]

Lily: EW!

Sandy: SpongeBob, I'm from Texas. What you think is big and what I think is big are two totally different "big"s. Besides, he's got my tail. I can't take that sitting down.

Varie: I don't blame you.

Sandy: Yeah.

SpongeBob: Okay, but what if the worm didn't take your tail?

Sandy: If that worm ain't got my tail, who does?

SpongeBob: [unconvincingly] Um, I do?

Sandy: You do? Where?

SpongeBob: Um… in my pocket.

Sandy: Well, why didn't you just say so? Give it here! Come on! [SpongeBob looks nervous, pulls something from his pocket, and opens his hand] SpongeBob, that's a paper clip… and a piece of string.

SpongeBob: [shakes head, meekly] No, it's not, this is your tail.

Sandy: [annoyed] SpongeBob!

SpongeBob: [defensively] How would you know!? It's always behind you! Oh, don't go, don't go, don't go! [he jumps onto the front of Sandy's air helmet and hugs it]

Sandy: [pulls him off] SpongeBob, what is the matter with you? Now, I'm gonna go give that legless rascal what-for… and there ain't nothin' you can say to stop me! [resumes walking]

SpongeBob: Oh, yeah? What if I said… 'blargen fedibble no-hip'?

Varie: That doesn't even make any sense.

Lily: Yeah.

Sandy: [stops] Well, I gotta admit, that's slowing me down, but I'm still going for him! [continues]

Varie: But Sandy we're just as concerned for you as SpongeBob is.

Sandy: I'm still going.

SpongeBob: [appears next to Sandy as she strides along] You know, tails are so overrated. Let's just forget about it and go home. [Sandy keeps walking; SpongeBob reappears] I've got ice cream! With nuts… [Sandy continues; SpongeBob appears once more, this time with a goofy squirrel mask on his face] Sandy, this is your pappy speaking, and I forbid you to go after this worm! Y'all come back here, young lady!

Sandy: You ain't my pa!

Lily: Nice try though.

SpongeBob: [stands in front of her with boxing gloves] Sandy, if you want to get to that worm, you're gonna have to go through me! [Sandy pushes through his body as if walking through a pair of swinging doors]

Bella: Well she went through you.

SpongeBob: [He grabs her ankles, crying] Sandy, no! I can't let you! I'm not gonna let you get killed. If you find him, you'll get eaten for sure!

Sydney: This worm must be really big.

Sandy: Ain't no way some dumb old sea worm's gonna make a meal of me. I'm too Texas tough!

SpongeBob: [still crying and holding onto her ankles] No, not tough enough. Not tough enough!

Sandy: SpongeBob, quit your worrying. I can take care of myself. After all, who's the strongest critter in Bikini Bottom? [she grabs an anchor and pulls a boat down from the surface]

Lily: WOW!

Nokama: She is REALLY strong!

SpongeBob: You are.

Sandy: And who put the hi-yah, hi, ho, "K" in karate? [makes a K shape]

SpongeBob: [shaped like a U] You did.

Lana: And she's a great teacher.

Sandy: And who saves your yellow backside from certain destruction on a regular basis?

SpongeBob: [his butt has "Property of Sandy Cheeks" printed on it, states it meekly] You do.

Varie: And who is the greatest girlfriend you got SpongeBob?

SpongeBob: Sandy is.

Sandy: Right. And I can handle your little bull worm too, 'cause I am the best there is! There ain't nothin' too big or too ornery for me to catch.

SpongeBob: Okay.

Sandy: Say it.

SpongeBob: There isn't anything…

Sandy: Ain't nothin'!

SpongeBob: [in a high-pitched voice like Sandy] Ain't nothin' [normal voice] too big or too ornery for you to catch. But… [Sandy cuts him off] But… [cuts him off again] And… [cuts him off again] We… [cuts him off again] I… [cuts him off again] Yeah but…

Sandy: No!

SpongeBob: You see…

Sandy: No!

SpongeBob: I… [Sandy cuts him off one last time with a frustrated groan]

Sandy: [picks up some sand from the ground as if tracking an animal and sniffs it] Worm sign. [she holds a small sign in her palm that has "WORM" painted on it; looks up] He's in that cave.

Lana: Here we go.

SpongeBob: Sandy, are you sure you…?

Sandy: Course I am! I'm going in, and I ain't coming out 'til I got me a big heaping plate of worm stew. [she walks into the cave; SpongeBob hides behind a rock and shudders; we hear Sandy inside the cave] Aha! There you are, you tail-nabbin' varmint! Hi-yah! [we hear karate noises; Sandy peeks out of the cave] I'm winnin', SpongeBob! [resumes fighting]

SpongeBob: Sandy, that's not… ! [more fighting noises; Sandy peeks out again]

Sandy: This shouldn't take long. [resumes fighting]

SpongeBob: Sandy, that's not… !

Sandy: Almost done!

SpongeBob: Sandy!

Sandy: Yee-haw! [comes out riding a pink-segmented thing] I got him, SpongeBob! [makes a giant knot and stands on it proudly]

SpongeBob: [still uneasy] Sandy…?

Sandy: Boy, howdy. This critter put up some sort of fight. But I'm from Texas, and as you can see, no worm is a match for me. I even found my tail! [we see that she has tied the fur to the small remainder of her tail]

SpongeBob: That's not the worm.

Sandy: [looking annoyed with her arms crossed] Pardon?

SpongeBob: That's not the worm. That's his tongue! [camera zooms out to show that SpongeBob is right; the opening of the cave is actually the worm's open mouth; his eyes make a squishy blinking noise]

Sydney: That's the worm?!

Lana: IT'S HUGE!

Lily: BIG!

Hydro Man: Mommy.

Sandy:… Ohhhh, this is the tongue. And the whole thing is the… worm. [freaks out] RUN FOR YOUR LIFE! [they all sprint away; the worm chomps down, roars angrily, and chases after them]

SpongeBob: So what's the plan, Sandy? [they look back and see that the worm is approaching faster]

Sandy: Run faster!

Ebon: That's obvious!

SpongeBob: I could've thought of that. Hey, wait a minute! I was right, wasn't I?!

Sandy: Later!

SpongeBob: Ah, he is too big for you, isn't he?

Sandy: Not now, SpongeBob!

SpongeBob: I wanna hear you say it!

Sandy: Can we talk about this another time?

SpongeBob: Say it!

Sandy: SpongeBob!

SpongeBob: Say it, or I'll trip you! [he continues running on one foot, the other poised to trip Sandy]

Lily: SpongeBob no!

Sandy: No!

SpongeBob: Say it!

Sandy: Not now!

SpongeBob: Say it!

Ebon: For Pete's sake Sandy say it!

Sandy: Okay! You were right, and I was wrong. I was wrong, wrong, wrong, wrong, wrong! Are you happy now?

SpongeBob: [smiles triumphantly] I knew it. [the worm emits another huge growl; prompting the two to run even faster; they run up and down a sand mound, which the worm plows right through; they run past Fish 3, who is leaning over under his car's hood; his butt is bandaged up; the worm passes by and takes another bite out of him]

Unnamed Fish 3: Not again!

SpongeBob: Uh, Sandy?

Sandy: Yeah?

SpongeBob: What do we do now?

Sandy: [is panting and sweating; the worm growls again; Sandy sees the seemingly endless coral trees in front of them] I've got it! SpongeBob, you still got that paper clip and that string?

SpongeBob: I'm way ahead of you, Sandy. [fashions a necklace out of them] Look, it's a necklace! S for "SpongeBob" or S for "Sandy"! That way they can identify our bodies!

Sandy: No, silly! How about S for "save our skins"? [she takes the string and uses the hook of the paper clip to wrap the string around one of the coral trees; she grabs SpongeBob and swings them up and over the branch onto the worm's back] Yee-haw! Now this is what I call a rodeo! We'll be nice and safe up here!

Vexen: Alright, Ebon. Send that worm into the sun.

Lana: I got this!

Lana flew and expanded her mouth and she ate the whole worm in one bite and chewed it to bits and swallowed it in one gulp! She was on the ground all bloated and stuffed!

Rikki: Lana, are you ok? Is that worm too much for you?

Lana then released a massive and hugely loud belch!

BBBBBBBBBBBBUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUU

Ebon: Man that worm must've been filling for you.

Vexen: No kidding.

Lily: That's Lana for you. She loves worms.

Lana: Yep.

Varie: Lets head back and get some Krabby Patties.

Sydney: Good idea.

Varie: Another victory for the Neptune Crusaders.

They went back to the Krusty Krab and got some Krabby Patties and they were good.

Meeting the Time Squad

HAPPY 80th BIRTHDAY TO BUGS BUNNY!

---

At the estate, we were having another awesome Baby Shower. But this time it was for May. She was now due at any day and the doctor told us that she was going to expect quadruplets. 2 boys and 2 girls. And they were all half Saiyan. May was due at any day now and she was excited about all this. We had to endure 10 whole months of mood swings, morning sickness, unusual cravings and all that. May's unusual cravings were scrambled eggs covered in ice cream, licorice and chocolate sauce. YUCK! The Masters of Evil were with us and they were so happy for Nico and May. Especially Myotismon and Loki. May and Nico got awesome gifts and more.

Me: This is gonna be awesome and I am so happy for May and Nico.

Loki: We both are.

Myotismon: He is now going to be a loving father.

Lana: You said it.

Nico: I know. I'm so excited and I can't wait to meet my kids.

Laney: We all are excited for you Nico.

Me: Yeah.

Lily: It's gonna be so awesome.

May was talking with everyone else.

May: I'm so excited.

Carol: We all are May.

Tara: It's gonna be an awesome time for you and Nico, May. Being a mother is one of the biggest times ever.

Dawn: It sure is. I may not be a mother but it's gonna be awesome for you May.

Brock: Yeah but we'll gladly help you out should you need it May.

May: Thanks guys.

Vince: You're welcome.

We had an awesome time at the baby shower. But then…

May: (SCREAMS)

She dropped her glass and it shattered.

Carol: May what's wrong!?

Dawn: Oh man! Is it time!?

May: Yes it's time!

G1 Divebomb: May, are you about to give birth?!

May: Yes!

Sandy Cheeks: We've gotta get you to a hospital!

Me: All right everyone to your stations people! We got to get May to the hospital. Lets go!

Varie: Okay May. Start your breathing.

She did so and we loaded her into the car and I got on my siren hat and we were on our way to the hospital. We arrived and May was taken to the Delivery room and Misty Tredwell, Carly Carmine and Maria were with May.

We sat in the waiting room and Nico was really nervous. He was pacing back and forth while sucking on lollipops. At least he wasn't smoking like in most situations like this.

Me and Lisa and Laney were playing Go Fish and everyone else was reading books.

May: (SCREAMS) NICO THIS IS ALL YOUR FAULT! IF YOU GET ME PREGNANT AGAIN I WILL FUCKING RIP YOUR EYES OUT AND SHOVE THEM SO FAR DOWN YOUR THROAT THAT YOU'LL SEE YOUR FUCKING LUNGS!

Cybertron Ransack: Relax, boss. Those are just the labor pains talking.

Nico: I know. I'm not scared.

Lana: I hope May is gonna be all right.

Caroline and Norman came in.

Caroline: We got your call guys.

Me: You arrived just in time Caroline. Same to you Norman.

Norman: Good.

Nico: I am so nervous and excited all at once.

Bart Simpson: It'll be all right man. I know you're nervous but you'll make it.

Me: That's right man.

Later in the Delivery Room, May was done.

Lady Tsunade: Congratulations May, you gave birth to 4 healthy baby children. You have two boys and two girls.

Lady Tsunade handed one of the girls to May and the nurses handed the others to Misty, Maria and Carly. The first two babies were girls. One had black hair and the other had brown hair and the two boys had blonde hair and one had blue eyes and the other had brown eyes. And they all had Saiyan Monkey tails.

Carly: Oh May they are so adorable.

Misty Tredwell: They sure are. They are so adorable.

Maria: I'm so happy for you.

Lady Tsunade: They are all so precious.

May: I'm so happy.

Later May was wheeled out and we saw the babies.

Me: Oh May they are so adorable.

Laney: They are so cute.

Manaphy: Mama, I'm now a big sister.

Poromon: And I am a brother.

Nico: May?

May: These are your children Nico.

Nico: Oh wow.

Bluestreak: What are you going to name the babies?

May: I already did that. The brown hair girl is Videl and the black hair girl is Fasha and the twin boys are Ken and Matthew. Ken is the boy with blue eyes and Matthew is the boy with brown eyes.

Vegeta: You gave one of your girls a Saiyan name. I'm honored that you would do that.

Nico: I have read about Fasha. She was one of Bardock's friends and very close to him.

Me: Yeah.

We later went home and May was resting in the nursery and if she needed anything we would provide and we turned off the alarm for her.

Later we were watching TV and reading books.

Me: I'm so happy for May and Nico.

Laney: We all are.

Computer: Alert. Temporal Disturbance in progress.

Me: Uh oh.

We went to the computer and we saw a time portal open up above the planet and an awesome new satellite appear.

Me: That's is an interesting satellite.

Wes Collins: That's not one of ours. But it's some kind of Time Patrol satellite.

Me: We better go check this out.

We flew up into space and we went on board the satellite and it was a massively major advanced satellite with technology that is far more advanced than anything we are familiar with. It had all kinds of technology that was thousands or maybe millions of years far more advanced than anything we know.

Me: Wow.

Lola: This is an amazing satellite.

Nico: This is not like anything we have ever seen before.

?: REACH FOR THE SKY!

A man in a space uniform and a robot saw us and we saw them.

Me: Whoa! Easy there.

We saw that they were Officer Buck Tuddrussel, Larry 3000 and Otto Osworth.

Otto: Wow! Wait guys that's Team Loud Phoenix Storm!

Larry 3000: Oh my! I know all of you. You are the most amazing superhero team ever known.

Tuddrussel: We heard so much about you. You are widely known in the future that we are from.

Laney: I can see that.

Tuddrussel: Sorry about all that. My name is officer Buck Tuddrussel of Time Squad. We're from the future where there is no more wars, no pollution and bacon is good for your heart. Oh yeah and we figured out time travel. Nothing too it. You see, History is very unstable and it's a time cops job to monitor history and make sure nothing changes so that the future remains the way it is: Perfect. A time cops motto is "Enforcing the past to protect our future".

Me: Wow. That's a big responsibility.

Jen Scotts: That's in every way like in Time Force.

Me: What year are you all from?

Larry 3000: We're from the year 100 million.

Everyone: WOW!

Nico: That far into the future? That's incredible!

Me: It sure is.

Otto: I was brought along to help Time Squad to help them keep history in check.

Me: Wow.

Otto: I am also a history whiz and my gifts have been very helpful to Time Squad.

Jessie K.: Cool. I too am a history whiz. They call me the history master because I know so much about the worlds history.

Otto: You and I have so much in common Jessie.

Me: You two sure do. We apologize for coming on board unexpectedly. We saw your satellite appear in orbit around Earth and we came to see what was going on.

Larry 3000: We understand.

Tuddrussel: You see we're on a mission.

Otto: Our mission is to help George Washington Carver.

Jessie K.: I know him. He was the scientist that invented more than 100 uses for the peanut.

Lana: Awesome.

Lisa Loud: He's one of my favorite scientists.

Me: And he was famous for inventing Peanut Butter.

Otto: That's right.

---

George Washington Carver (1860s - January 5, 1943) was an American agricultural scientist and inventor. He promoted alternative crops to cotton and methods to prevent soil depletion. He was the most prominent black scientist of the early 20th century.

While a professor at Tuskegee Institute, Carver developed techniques to improve soils depleted by repeated plantings of cotton. He wanted poor farmers to grow other crops, such as peanuts and sweet potatoes, as a source of their own food and to improve their quality of life. The most popular of his 44 practical bulletins for farmers contained 105 food recipes using peanuts. Although he spent years developing and promoting numerous products made from peanuts, none became commercially successful.

Apart from his work to improve the lives of farmers, Carver was also a leader in promoting environmentalism. He received numerous honors for his work, including the Spingarn Medal of the NAACP. In an era of high racial polarization, his fame reached beyond the black community. He was widely recognized and praised in the white community for his many achievements and talents. In 1941, Time magazine dubbed Carver a "Black Leonardo".

Tuddrussel: But Larry here pushed the wrong buttons!

Larry: Because you're a brainless imbecile!

Me: All right you two that's enough!

Maria: (to Larry and Tuddrussel) You two really argue a lot, huh?

Tuddrussel: Maybe we wouldn't bicker so often if Larry here wasn't a control freak!

Larry: Says the barbaric impecile! (to Lola, Lynn, and Lori) You three are known as the Trinity of Violence. You should be helping me convince Tuddrussel to not make so many messes!

Lola: Hey we just met you guys!

Lori: We don't know that much about you all.

Lynn: Yeah you're brand new to us.

Tuddrussel: Oh.

Larry 3000: They do have a point.

Otto: Yeah.

Tuddrussel: Lets show you all around.

We toured around the satellite and we saw an awesomely built place and it was full of high tech devices and more. We saw all kinds of awesome features and more.

Nico: Wow. Your time machine is awesome!

Tuddrussel: It sure is.

Me: Anyway we can help you guys out and help you on some of your history correction adventures whenever needed.

Otto: We would like that.

Laney: Lets start by going to meet George Washington Carver.

Larry 3000: You got it.

We were then off to Tuskegee, Alabama in 1915.

TUSKEGEE, ALABAMA 1915

We arrived in Tuskegee, Alabama in the year 1915.

Otto: Tuskegee, Alabama circa 1915. Woodrow Wilson is President, the Model T Ford is in full production and it's the dawn of a new century!

Me: It sure is. So this is what Alabama was like during the early 20th Century.

Laney: This is amazing.

Lana: It sure is.

Nico: Remember guys we're here to help George Washington Carver.

Clyde: He's one of my favorite heroes in history and he was or should I say is awesome.

Lincoln: He sure is Clyde.

Lola: I love Peanut Butter and Jelly.

Lily: Me too. But look at all the people here.

Varie: Yeah something big is going on.

We saw signs all over the town that said Happy Peanut Day.

Man: Hey there folks. Happy Peanut Day to ya. Those little goobers are a miracle! They've given us everything from shoes to shakes, to shaving cream that leaves your face feeling not only smooth but uh, well peanutty. That Carver guy is a genius.

Jessie K.: Hmm. That's strange. Carver is doing exactly what he's supposed to be doing.

Otto: Yeah.

Lana: But I do sense something evil about to go down.

Me: But lets go talk to George about it.

We went to find George Washington Carver and we found him in the town square.

George Washington Carver: Well! It's good to see you again Time Squad.

Larry 3000: You too George.

Me: It's an honor to meet you Mr. Carver. We are Team Loud Phoenix Storm. We're from the 21st century 105 years into the future and we came to ask if there is something wrong around here.

George Washington Carver: It's an honor to meet you. Well if you're investigating peanuts then you've come to the right place. From Sioux City to Okefenokee. Folks are finding out that peanuts are good for just about everything! Floor wax, invisible ink, bubble bath, kitty litter, bug spray, massage oil, decongestant, fertilizer, shave cream.

Laney: Wow! That is amazing!

Me: I REALLY underestimated the number of uses for the peanut.

Lincoln: Me too.

George Washington Carver: The sky's the limit with the peanuts in it.

(Laughs) (Winks)

We laughed.

Luan: Sure is Nutty. (Laughs) Get it?

We laughed some more.

Eddy: (Laughs) Good one Luan!

Qin: How come you can't eat peanuts with the shells on?

Me: Well you can eat peanut shells but they might cause a lot of digestive problems.

Tuddrussel: Last time we were here we dealt with his little brother Todd Washington Carver.

Me: Todd Washington Carver?

Nico: I didn't know George Washington Carver even had a little brother.

Laney: Me neither.

Tuddrussel: Yep.

Tuddrussel went over his history and we found out that he was a brother sick of living in George's shadow.

---

Todd Washington Carver is the fictional younger brother of George Washington Carver. He appears in "Nutorious."

In the episode, Todd W Carver is upset that everyone has always admired the work of his older brother George W Carver, so he has a plan to get the town to hate him and peanuts. He has his henchmen hand out free peanuts to the citizens of Tuskegee, then arrives at a ceremony for his brother, where he launches peanut pellets and a smelly peanut gas that prove that peanuts are evil. He then pushes a button that hypnotizes everyone who ate his free peanuts so they will attack George W Carver and the mayor. Tuddrussel arrives in Todd's blimp and confronts him, leading to a struggle over Tuddrussel's new laser. When Todd activates the laser that Tuddrussel was looking for, he tries to remember which button it was and hits the self-destruct button, blowing up the blimp. He is then arrested by the authorities.

Appearance

Todd is a tall, skinny man with slightly balding brown hair. He wears a green suit and a red bow tie, along with small black shoes. He has two parts of a thin mustache that bend away from each other at his mouth.

Personality

Todd is a classic villain, driven to use his talents for evil because he wasn't appreciated, and using them against someone who was appreciated. He doesn't think George W Carver's uses for the peanut are helpful, partly because he hates peanuts, so he hates that his brother is honored so much for them. By hypnotizing the citizens, Todd hoped to prove that peanuts are evil while also getting rid of his successful brother.

---

We gasped.

Me: Looks like we found the source of our mission.

Lincoln: Yep.

Otto: And now I think we might have to deal with Todd Washington Carver again.

George Washington Carver: And you are right. He escaped from prison and now is back to ruin my life again.

Me: Looks like we got here just in time. We'll help deal with your evil brother Mr. Carver.

Lola: That's right.

Laney: Lets get him.

I then sensed something coming and looked up to the sky and I saw a peanut shape blimp coming.

Me: Look!

We saw the blimp coming.

Me: You better go hide Mr. Carver. This is gonna get really ugly really fast.

Tuddrussel: IT'S GO TIME!

Me: LETS KICK SOME BUTT!

Everyone: YEAH!

We flew up to the blimp.

---

Todd Washington Carver was watching through a telescope and he was looking at his brother.

Todd Washington Carver: Excellent. Soon my brother George will meet his end! Mom always did like him the best. But I, Todd Washington Carver, was the true genius! I'll show everyone in Tuskegee 100 uses for the peanut! 100 EVIL Uses. (Evil Laughter)

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM

A massive fiery explosion blew open the walls behind him and a phoenix cry was heard and we came out of the explosion with our weapons ready!

Tuddrussel: TIME SQUAD! REACH FOR THE SKY!

Todd Washington Carver: Time Squad! Always a displeasure to see you.

Me: Hey! What are we!? Chopped Liver?

?: No that's what I am.

We turned and we saw a jar of chopped liver talking to us.

(RIMSHOT)

Me: We are Team Loud Phoenix Storm and we're taking you in you monster!

Laney: Yeah! You are not ruining George Washington Carver's life while we're here!

Lana: Yeah!

Lori: We are literally going to turn you into a human pretzel!

Lincoln: So get ready for some pain!

If things couldn't get any weirder, Snake Jailbird, Comic Book Guy and Chief Wiggum arrived and were with Todd Washington Carver.

Me: Snake, Chief Wiggum and Comic Book Guy.

Lincoln: How did you guys get here? We're 105 years into the past.

Clyde: That's what I was wondering myself.

Comic Book Guy: If you ignoramus's must know we built our own time machine.

Snake: (to Lori) Yo, Lori. Glad to see you're all better.

Lori: A few days of rest was all I needed.

Comic Book Guy: I don't blame you. Even heroes and villains have days when they need to recover from injuries.

Chief Wiggum: Yeah. That must've really hurt.

Lori: It did.

?: (Transylvanian Accent) Soon you all will know what it's like to feel the wrath of a vampire.

A figure came out as the blinds of the blimp closed and it was the 2nd of the Shadow Riders: CAMULA THE VAMPIRESS!

---

Camula is a vampire who is the second of the Shadow Riders. She's very serious when it comes to Dueling, for she hopes to revive her race from its destruction by the people of Medieval Times. In the European Spanish version, she speaks with a stereotyped vampire accent.

Centuries ago in Middle Age Europe, Camula was a member of the proud vampire race that lived in isolation from humanity, but seeing how humans see them as monsters, they were exterminated by them. Camula had managed to survive until the present day by sealing herself inside a coffin. She awoke much later when Kagemaru uncovered it and invited her to join the Shadow Riders.

She captures the souls of her opponents within dolls, following their losses to fuel her cause, and uses the Shadow Charm choker around her neck to bet the souls of others in conjunction with the Shadow Game-exclusive "Illusion Gate", a powerful card that requires her to give a soul to the Sacred Beasts, to ensure victory. Using the souls that she captures, she will resurrect her vampire brethren, and take their revenge on the humans that feared and despised them.

Camula arrives on Duel Academy to obtain the keys and to make up for Nightshroud/Atticus Rhodes' failure. She manages to obtain the keys from Vellian Crowler and Zane Truesdale (thanks to information about their cards and strategies from her bats). While the latter had proved to be a far more challenging opponent, the threat of taking his brother's soul caused him to surrender and lose. Though she was only interested in obtaining a doll of Zane, she Duels Jaden Yuki. However, her Shadow Charm's power is negated by the completed item that Jaden possesses.

Out of over self-confidence, Camula places her own soul on the line (whereas in the original, she does not have a choice because the card was already activated) and it is dragged into the "Gate" by a spiritual claw after she loses, leaving her body an empty husk, which crumbles into dust. In the English dub, the part with the spiritual claw going into her back to rip out her soul is edited out.

---

Jaden: Camula!

Camula: It's been a long time Jaden.

Me: Are you another one of the Shadow Riders?

Camula: Indeed I am.

I saw her fangs.

Me: You're a vampire! A true vampire!

Lucy Loud: Wicked.

Brittney: This is gonna be interesting.

Camula: So you are all the famous Team Loud Phoenix Storm that I have heard about.

Nico: That's right. But you don't want our blood. It's poisonous.

Me: I didn't know the Shadow Riders had a vampire in their forces.

Haiku: What are you here for Camula?

Camula: To get the Sacred Beast Cards to resurrect my people that were wiped out by human persecution during the medieval times.

Me: That was back from 1500 to 500 years ago.

Camula: Indeed. My people were wiped out by humans that thought of us vampires as monsters and they killed us.

We gasped.

Moka: I understand how you feel Camula. I too am a vampire and my kind was like that.

Camula: So you are the famous Moka Akashiya that I was told about. It's a pleasure to meet another vampire.

Moka: That's right. You and I are vampires and we are the most dangerous creatures of legend and horror.

Camula: Indeed.

Tuddrussel then just threw garlic into Camula's mouth.

Tuddrussel: Ha! Hope you like garlic, you vampire bitch!

She spit it out and it burned her a little bit. But she regenerated.

Me: Looks like we're in for a fight of darkness.

?: You got that right.

Another figure came out and it was SERPICON!

Me: Serpicon!

Serpicon: Good to see you all again.

Me: We can't thank you enough for helping us take down Tara's evil dad.

Serpicon: Aw it was nothing. I was gonna die the next time we meet.

Me: So we have heard.

Serpicon: (to Eric Myers) When the big clock hand hits 12, we shoot our blasters at each other and the battle will start.

Eric Myers: Sounds good to me!

Me: An old west style showdown. Nice.

Carly Carmine then appeared.

Carly Carmine: Hey guys. Thought you might like some help taking down Camula.

Me: Much appreciated Carly.

Gia: Time to take these guys down!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Jungle Fury!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Jungle Fury Rangers!

Me: We're gonna need a lot of Holy Water to take this bitch down. Lets get them! Get ready Camula because you obviously do not know who you are FUCKING WITH!

We went at them.

Fiona was facing Snake Jailbird.

Fiona: Lets do it dude.

Snake: With pleasure dudette.

Whitney was facing Comic Book Guy.

Whitney: Lets make this an awesome fight to remember.

Whitney: Fragrant.

Homer: Cherry Bomb surprise.

ERIC MEYERS - THE GOOD!

SERPICON - THE BAD!

TODD WASHINGTON CARVER - THE UGLY!

The clock said 11:59 AM and there was only 15 seconds left till noon. It was like with Clint Eastwood, Lee Van Cleef and Eli Wallach in the legendary 1966 film The Good, The Bad and The Ugly. Todd Washington Carver was watching.

Then the clock struck 12:00 Noon.

Eric Meyers: DRAW!

Eric drew his gun with lightning face speed and blasted Serpicon all over the place with incredible power and speed and then Serpicon fell down and exploded!

Camula: Indeed it is. Lets do this.

Brittney: With pleasure.

They went at Camula and Brittney punched her in the face with incredible force and Lucy and Haiku kicked her all over and blasted her with black lightning and black fire and the blasts all hit Camula and exploded!

Jamal, Junda, Tangath Tobin, and Ario blasted him all over and Larry punched him in the face and knocked out some of his teeth. Otto bit his crotch and it really hurt as he screamed like a little girl!

Emma: Time to take Todd down now!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Time Force!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Time Force Rangers and they blasted Todd all over the place.

Clyde: Lets see how you like this! DIMENSION STYLE NINJA ART: THE COMBINE EMPIRE!

Clyde fired a wave of space energy and it formed into the armies of the Combine Empire from the game series of Half-Life.

---

The Combine, abbreviated as CMB, and referred to in propaganda as "Our Benefactors", is an immense and powerful inter-dimensional organization. Comprised of both allied and enslaved species, the Combine's collective goal is to dominate and absorb the Multiverse into its inter-dimensional empire; the Universal Union. Following the Black Mesa Incident and the death of the Nihilanth, the Combine invaded Earth and won the ensuing war against the humans on Earth in a mere seven hours. However, they failed to completely subjugate humanity due to the efforts of the Resistance, culminating in The Uprising, where they were beaten thrice in pivotal battles. These events were led by Gordon Freeman, having been released by The G-Man from stasis. The Combine is the main antagonist of Half-Life 2 and its episodes as well as Half-Life: Alyx.

---

The Combine soldiers blasted Todd all over the place and blasted him into pulp.

Clyde: And here's one of my favorites. DIMENSION STYLE NINJA ART: DOCTOR WHO!

Clyde fired a wave of energy and it formed into the supernatural forces of the famous Doctor Who and they blasted and slashed Todd Washington Carver all over.

Clyde: And for good measure! DIMENSION STYLE NINJA ART: WEBWAY!

Clyde fired a wave of energy and it formed into the Webway Armies of the Labyrinth Dimension.

The Webway, also known as the Labyrinth Dimension, or the Labyrinthine Dimension in older texts, is an extra-dimensional space partitioned off from the Immaterium millions of Terran years ago by an extremely advanced xenos species known as the Old Ones.

Today, it is utilised by the Asuryani of the craftworlds and their Drukhari counterparts for faster-than-light travel and as the home of the vast Dark City of Commorragh and the hidden craftworld known as the Black Library.

It has been described as an incredibly complex network of arteries and capillaries, a maze of glowing tunnels, and a mystic tapestry of hidden threads that spread across the veil between realspace and the Warp.

The Webway is a hyper-dimensional construct that spans the dimensions of Creation, primarily defined by the fact that it sits between the material realm and the roiling tides of the Warp, an interstice comparable to the fabric of a veil cast over something foul.

As with all of the Aeldari's most prized artefacts, the Webway was brought into being by psychic means.

The dimension walls blasted Todd all over the place with incredible power.

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Cybertron Ransack: Roger that boss!

Luna: You're under arrest Carver.

Carver was going away for a long time.

Nico: Todd Washington Carver, you have failed this time and this city.

We landed and everyone cheered wildly for us.

George Washington Carver: Thank you all so much for stopping my evil brother.

Me: It was our pleasure Mr. Carver.

Then the Masters of Evil came.

Snake: Awesome job dudes.

Wiggum: Nico, congratulations on the birth of your kids.

Nico: Thanks. But May gave birth to them, not me.

Snake: Hey, you should still be proud to be a father anyway.

Comic Book Guy: Makes me wonder if those kids are going to inherit your powers.

Nico: Well, I certainly hope so.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: Lets head home.

Larry 3000: Okay. (To the viewers) Never become an evil brother like Todd Washington Carver here or you'll answer to both Time Squad and Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

We teleported back to 2020 and Time Squad was now members of Team Loud Phoenix Storm and we formed an alliance with the entirety of Time Squad and we can help them whenever needed. Todd Washington Carver was locked in the Neptune Prison.

---

Later at Acme Looniversity we were there to celebrate the 80th Birthday of Bugs Bunny. It was his 80th Birthday today and it was awesome.

Manaphy, Horsea, Poromon and Poliwag: HAPPY BIRTHDAY BUGS BUNNY!

Bugs Bunny: Aw thanks guys.

Me: Anything for one of our favorite cartoon heroes. You have been making us laugh since 1940.

Laney: You sure have.

Daffy Duck: Yes he has.

Elmer Fudd: I'm glad he has good fwiends like you guys. (Laughs)

Nico: Thanks Elmer.

Foghorn Leghorn: He, I say he deserves it too.

Lana: He sure does.

Elmer Fudd: Yeah.

BANG!

Elmer blew Daffy Duck's beak off.

Lana: (Laughs) That never gets old!

Daffy Duck: Thanks for the thour perthimins cousin!

THE END

---

Another awesome chapter complete and the first ever Time Squad Chapter done.

Time Squad was one of my favorite shows that I have known since I was in Middle School and it was so funny! I have known this show since it came out in June 8th, 2001 and stopped on November 26th, 2003. It was only on for 2 seasons. WHAT A RIP! But Rob Paulsen, Mark Hamill and Pamela Adlon all did a great job in that show back then. It was so awesome and really funny! NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Also today marks the 80th Birthday of Bugs Bunny and we couldn't pass up this opportunity to wish him a happy birthday and thank him for giving us 80 years of great cartoons. Next up is the next Jonny Quest episode Dark Sentinel and we're gonna help an African tribe Spiritual Guardian take down an illegal logging operation in Cameroon.

See you all tomorrow.

The Dark Sentinel

At Gotham Royal York High School we were getting ready to start our day.

Me: Can't wait to see what is in store for us today.

Varie: Yeah.

Mrs. Harrington: All right class. I have an important announcement to make. We have a new student joining us today so put on a Gotham Royal York welcome for Brad Rainier.

A kid came in and he was a REALLY BAD BOY! He had red hair in a mohawk, a black skull shirt with a flaming skull on it, tattoos of girls on his arms and he had spiked bracelets and boots and black leather pants.

Mrs. Harrington: Tell us a little bit about yourself Brad.

Brad Rainier: Well I'm the local bad boy. So don't fuck around with me!

We gasped.

I looked at him with incredible hatred. He saw me and he looked at me with eyes full of hatred.

Me: (Growls)

Brad Rainier: (Growls)

Later after class, I was getting my stuff from my locker and he came up to me.

Me: You look familiar to me Brad. It's like I've seen you before from somewhere.

Brad Rainier: You should remember me J.D.! I am the son of the man you had executed!

I gasped! I remembered what happened.

Me: You got to be kidding! You're that little boy that was with your father!? And you are the son of the Oklahoma Strangler!?

Nico: Who is the Oklahoma Strangler?

Me: His name was Peter Rainier and he was also known as the Oklahoma Strangler. He was one of the most dangerous serial killers I had ever encountered and he was REALLY bad news. He was responsible for the deaths of 45 people and he terrorized the entire city of Oklahoma City.

Nico: I remember reading about that in the news.

Varie: That's horrible!

Aylene C.: Geez!

Me: I arrested him as he was going to get his next victim and they gave him the Death Penalty. He was executed the following year.

Brad Rainier: And I swore that I would get my revenge on you J.D.! You killed my father and now you will die!

Me: Your father was a monster and he deserved to die and burn in Hell.

Bombshell: Kid, we've only known you for a few seconds and already, we don't like you!

Nico: That's right!

Brad Rainier: Oh yeah!?

He pulled out a knife!

I kicked him in the face and he crashed into the lockers!

Dark Spicer, Firefly and Shiv then came.

Firefly: You don't mind if we have some fun with Brad for an hour, will you?

Inspector Fox: As long as you don't kill him.

Shiv: That's fine. (to Brad Rainier) We're gonna have a lot of fun together!

Me: Go get him.

Dark Spicer: (To Brad) Here's your warning: Your Fucking Ass is about to be kicked.

Shiv: Big time.

Then Dark Spicer, Firefly and Shiv took Brad to an alley in the middle of the city and pulverized Brad Rainier in a brutal fashion and more and it was awful.

When it stopped 1 hour later, they brought Brad back and he was badly mangled up.

Kickback: Oh man. You guys really beat Brad up!

Me: They sure did.

Firefly: We sure did.

Shiv: It's not our turn so we might as well help out.

Me: Thanks guys. Lets see here.

I pulled up Brad's info and what it revealed was shocking! He had a rap sheet that was over a mile long and he was in prison more times anyone else can even count. Most of them were violent crimes. He was arrested for Assault & Battery, bullying, animal cruelty and more. He was a heartless psychopath!

Me: HOLY SHIT! This guy is Trouble all in Capital Letters!

Nico: No kidding!

Me: He belongs in prison no matter what. I got his father executed for murdering 45 people.

We saw that Brad had the initials RB branded on his left arm and the initials RR branded on his right arm.

Cliffjumper: What's with the letters on your arms?

Brad Rainier: They're the initials of the people who branded them on me! Their names are-

Dark Spicer: (knocks him out) He was done.

Maria: Why did you knock him out?

Firefly: He was gonna reveal some information that you're better off knowing in the future.

Me: Okay.

The police came and arrested Brad.

Brad Rainier: THIS ISN'T OVER J.D.! I WILL GET OUT OF JAIL AND I WILL KILL YOU! YOU HEAR ME!? YOU WILL DIE FOR KILLING MY FATHER!

I flipped the bird at him.

Brad Rainier was convicted and sentenced to Life In Prison without parole in a maximum security prison out of state.

Nico: Good riddance to that freak.

Dark Spicer: Yeah.

We got back to work at school.

---

Later we were over in Cameroon in Africa. We were with Dr. Quest to help his friend Tigarri do research on Tree Sap that may hold the key to a cure for cancer and more. Tigari is a member of Cameroon's mystical Zimbatti Tribe, a tribe that has lived in Cameroon for a long time. We recently got word that a group of loggers plan to cut down the entire jungle of the Zimbatti Village in a terrible logging operation.

Dr. Quest: You've made an extraordinary find Tigarri. This tree sap has amazing curative powers.

Tigarri: My tribe has used it for many generations. It is why they can live for so long in such adverse surroundings.

Me: It is amazing though professor. This tree sap may hold the key to a cure for cancer and other diseases that we find incurable.

Jessie Bannon: I agree.

Race: Did the kids say where they were going?

Tigari: They are collecting more sap for me. Just in case your ban for the clear-cutting does not arrive in time.

Me: It should be here in a couple of days. But the United Nations have convened a conference with the world leaders to permanently outlaw logging and clear-cutting.

Laney: After we killed Looten Plunder we made a proposed law to permanently ban and outlaw clear-cutting.

Lincoln: That's good.

Dr. Quest: The Zimbatti Tribe cannot live without the life-enhancing sap of these trees.

Lola: But this is all very interesting to learn all about trees like this.

Me: And we were here on our Worldwide adventure over 2 years ago.

Varie: I remember that.

Me: We'll find a way to deal with those loggers when the time comes. But right now we have to wait.

Laney: I hope Jonny, Hadji and Ngama are gonna be all right.

Tigari: Don't worry. I made them promise to keep well clear of the logging area.

Then we heard drums playing.

Race: Drums?

We listened for where they are coming from.

Tigari: It is coming from the Zimbatti Village. Those are war drums.

Laney: That's not a good sign.

Nico: Usually when drums play like that it means something big is about to go down.

Dr. Quest: We had better find Jonny and the others.

I then sensed a huge power.

Me: (Gasp)

Nico: What is it?

Me: I sense a huge rise in Spiritual Energy. It's enormous!

Nico: Yeah I feel it too.

Laney: Whatever it is it can't be good.

We then heard gunshots.

Me: Gunshots. Not good!

Race: Over that way!

We went to the logging sight and we saw a strange creature tearing up the whole sight!

Me: WHOA! What in the world is that!?

Tigari: It can't be! I thought it was only a myth!

Laney: What in the world is that thing!?

Tigari: It's the Guardian of the Zimbatti Tribe!

William: Is that the Guardian?

Jessie K.: It sure is. I've read legends about this!

Jonny, Hadji and Ngama came to us and the creature vanished.

Me: Are you three okay?

Jonny: Yeah.

Hadji: (Indian Accent) But what is that creature?

Me: We better go talk to the Zimbatti Village and see if we can help them out.

Nico: Good idea.

We went to the Zimbatti Village and we were talking with the Shaman of the village.

Shaman: Ngama has been chosen by the guardian to help us destroy the loggers.

Me: Those loggers are gonna rue the day that they ever came here. But we are making sure that they don't come back here ever again. The United Nations are gonna outlaw and permanently ban any form of logging and clear-cutting.

Nico: He's right. After we killed Looten Plunder we put a proposed ban on Clear-Cutting and Logging into development. It's gonna outlaw it forever.

Naruto: That's right.

Shaman: We appreciate that.

Me: Those loggers should've never come here. Before we take them down, Tigari can you tell us about this Guardian is and what it can do?

Tigari: Yes. All my life, I thought the tales were just simply myths. I should never have come back here. Ever since the Beginning of

Time, the Zimbatti Tribe, my tribe, has been protected by a spiritual guardian. It could always be called in times of great need to crush the tribes enemies. The Guardian channels its energies through a person. But the physical and spiritual strain causes the death of the chosen one. Because of the loggers, it has chosen to enter our world again. Through my son.

Me: Whoa. That's terrible.

Laney: No kidding.

Lucy Loud: I know this kind of power all too well.

Aang: Messing around with stuff like this is very dangerous.

Me: That's right. But I do have a plan. We can have me use the power of the Guardian by infusing my will into it and having it be used by me. Here's what we do.

I revealed that we're gonna fight the loggers with the Guardian and us working together while I meditate and channel my power into the Guardian while I meditate.

Nico: That's a brilliant plan!

Lana: It sure is.

Me: Okay. Lets do it! Operation: Logger Exile is a go.

We put our plan into action and the villagers played the drums and Ngama was in pain. I channeled the energies of the Guardian into me and got into a meditative position. I opened my eyes and they glowed yellow! I was seeing everything through the Guardian's point of view.

Nico: Did it work J.D.?

Me: It did Nico. I am now in full control.

Nico: Awesome!

Shaman: He really did it.

Nico: Lets do it!

Nico and everyone else went to the Logging Sight and they heard my thunderous and powerful footfalls.

Segala: Get ready men!

Then they saw me as the Guardian silhouetted in the mist.

Segala: Light it!

A man fired a flamethrower and lit a fuel ring on fire. But it didn't stop me as I went through the fire.

Segala: OPEN FIRE!

They fired at me. But the bullets weren't stopping me at all! They fired the flamethrowers at me but they too had no effect at all!

Segala: FALL BACK! FALL BACK!

I fired spirit energy blasts from my eyes and brought a steamroller to life and it flattened a bunch of trucks and I grabbed a bunch of Fuel Trucks and threw them around and destroyed them and ignited them and they exploded!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMMM!

Nico fired energy blasts at all the logging equipment and destroyed them all over in fiery explosions.

Dr. Quest: This will teach you crooks not to mess with Mother Nature!

Dr. Quest fired blasts of energy at some of Segala's men and electrocuted them all over and Lincoln and Laney fired blasts of fire and burned them all over the place. Najarin, Lystone, Blugon, and Odu Bathax fired magic and energy blasts at the loggers and knocked them around all over.

Me: Lets do some Teamwork!

Bombshell: Righto boss!

Kickback: Lets do it!

Bombshell and Kickback used the Earth Cyber Planet Keys and they enhanced Bombshell's mortar and Kickback's Machine Gun 100-fold.

Cliffjumper used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Inspector Fox used the Animatron Cyber Planet Key and they enhanced Cliffjumper's gas and Inspector Fox's lightning pistol 100-fold.

Bombshell and Kickback: EXPLOSIVE MACHINE GUN BARRAGE!

Cliffjumper and Inspector Fox: LIGHTNING GAS ELECTROCUTION!

Shane Clarke and Devon Michaels: NINJA RED CHEETAH WINDBLAST!

Tori Hanson and Ravi Shaw: NINJA BLUE GORILLA WATERBLAST!

Dustin Brooks and Zoey Reeves: NINJA YELLOW JACKRABBIT EARTHBLAST!

Hunter Bradley and Nate Silva: NINJA CRIMSON MANTIS THUNDERBLAST!

Blake Bradley and Steel: NINJA SCARAB NAVY THUNDERBLAST!

Cam Watanabe and Laney: SAMURAI LEAF GREEN SLASHSTORM!

They fired waves of elemental energy and blasts and they hit the loggers all over and cut and blasted them everywhere.

Me: Take this! ZIMBATTI GUARDIAN SPIRIT BLAST!

I fired a powerful spirit energy blast.

Jonny: VIRTUAL BLAST STORM SURPRISE!

Jonny fired a blast of 3D Energy.

Dr. Quest: SCIENCE BLAST SURPRISE!

Dr. Quest fired a blast of energy in the form of the symbols of the Periodic Table!

Lucy Loud: SPIRIT BLAST LIGHTNING STRIKE!

Lucy fired blasts of black lightning. The blasts all hit the loggers and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

We then heard sirens coming and I had the Guardian vanish back to the spirit world and everyone in the Zimbatti Tribe came along with me. Police Cars arrived and so did the president of Cameroon, Paul Biya.

Paul Biya: Segala, you are hereby ordered to cease and desist this logging operation immediately on orders from the leaders of the United Nations. From now on and forever more there is a permanent ban on Logging and All Clear-Cutting operations.

The loggers were then arrested and sent to prison for a long time.

But then the Masters of Evil appeared. But it was just Bane and Electro.

Me: Bane and Electro.

Rhino: Aren't there usually three of you?

Bane: (Spanish Accent) Oh, the third one is on his way.

Electro: In fact, he should be here right about… now.

A figure appeared and it was ROBO BLAZE!

---

The avatar Blaze was an evil "clone" of the original Blaze, who was created by Evox to serve as one of his generals. Blaze was the corrupted version of what would have been as Blaze was the intended Red Ranger. He is first created as a digital avatar and later as a robot clone.

This avatar of Blaze was created when Evox corrupted the Grid Battleforce. He along with an avatar of Roxy battle the Rangers who are morphed up by Nate Silva. The Rangers then teleport him and Roxy to a different dimension.

Blaze and Roxy arrive in the Cyber Dimension and meet Scrozzle. He sends his Tronics to fight them but Evox arrives and destroys them and forced him to submit. Scrozzle becomes the third general of Evox. When Blaze and Scrozzle go on Earth to take more of Morph X, Roxy stays in the Cyber Dimension and wishes to them good luck as smiling. Blaze & Scrozzle lets Cycletron to battle Rangers. After the Rangers morph, he and Scrozzle takes the jar of Morph X before teleporting away.

Blaze creates Needletron to help him in his plan to steal Morph X from the new X Bikes. He and Roxy stole the Morph X in a warehouse and he battles the Rangers with Needletron, who is destroyed. He rides to the warehouse and the rangers follow, but Roxy ambushes them with her blaster. He powers up his key with Morph X and teleports away most of the Morph-X while Roxy deals with the Rangers.

Blaze stays with Scrozzle in the Cyber Dimension whereas Roxy returns on Earth to manipulate Ravi and obtain the Neural Aligner. After Roxy's defeat and Shoveltron as well as Shoveldrone's destructions, Scrozzle speaks with Evox about a special plan where Evox wins a body and goes on Earth. Scrozzle precises that this plan not includes Blaze and Roxy but the two ignore that Blaze and Roxy hid have heard all.

Blaze returns on Earth to steal more Morph X for Evox. He creates Slicertron and fights the Rangers with him. But when he is defeated by Ravi, he retreats in the Cyber Dimension, abandonning Slicertron who was destroyed by Ravi and Zoey and Slicerdrone is captured by the Racer Zord Battle Mode.

Evox is angry at Blaze for failing, saying the Rangers are smart and that he is not, blasting Blaze with his fireball. He sends Roxy and Meltatron to find Slicerdrone to reboot him. This succeeds, but Slicerdrone is destroyed alongside Meltadrone. Blaze gets angry at Scrozzle and pulls out his sword, but Evox yells at the Avatars and threatens to have Scrozzle turn them into Tronics if they fail again.

Blaze and Roxy create Railtron when they infect a tank locomotive. They send after the Beast Bots and steals their data so that Scrozzle can control the Beast X Megazord, but the plan fails. The Rangers destroy Railtron and Raildrone. But Scrozzle informs Blaze and Roxy that he finally built his Cybergate for that Evox returns on Earth and takes over the Morphin Grid, Scrozzle laughs while Blaze and Roxy smile.

Vacuutron is sent to steal more Morph X to power up Scrozzle's Cybergate and free Evox of the Cyber Dimension. Scrozzle sends soon after Vacuudrone to steal more Morph X from the Morph-X tower. Vacuudrone is destroyed by the Beast X Megazord but Scrozzle, Blaze and Roxy are about to free Evox, having captured Nate, the ally of the Rangers to build a robotic body for their master. Evox begins to possess it but the plan fails, Nate succeeds to destroy the Cyber Gate, sends back Evox in the Cyber Dimension and becomes the Gold Ranger, his partner Steel who becomes the Silver Ranger. Scrozzle retreats while the new two Rangers destroy the Tronics and defeat easily Blaze and Roxy who retreat at their turn.

After Steel hands himself over to Evox's forces (Blaze, Roxy and Tronics) in exchange for Ben and Betty's release, Scrozzle repairs his Cybergate, then along with Blaze and Roxy wait Evox's arrival. Evox emerges from the Cybergate again and tries to take possession of Steel's body. He fails, however, because Steel has human DNA (specifically Nate's DNA). Steel summons his Striker Saber and destroys the Cybergate, forcing Evox back into the Cyber Dimension once more, Scrozzle retreats along with Blaze and Roxy.

Frustrated over this latest defeat, Evox complains to Scrozzle that Blaze and Roxy are continuing to fail. Scrozzle offers to upgrade one of the Avatars with all three of the Rangers' Beast powers. He shows Evox three data chips that can be placed on Robotrons and will collect the necessary data whenever a Ranger uses their Beast power. Evox tasks Blaze and Roxy with gathering this data, promising to give the upgrade to his most powerful servant. Roxy volunteers to go first. Though she succeeds in collecting data on Ravi's Gorilla strength, she fails to defeat the Rangers or collect Morph-X, Drilltron and Drilldrone are destroyed, so Evox sends Blaze to gather the next set of data.

Blaze attacks the Rangers with the Tronics and tries to collect the Beast Powers but fails and Devon destroys the Robotronizer. Blaze implores Evox that he orders him to disappear from his sight or he destroys him. Roxy is happy of fate of her rival and prepares a new plan to defeat the Rangers. She demands a virus to destroy to Scrozzle after he uses his technology to repair the Robotronizer. Then, Roxy goes on Earth to create Tooltron to destroy the Ranger's weapons so she could earn the upgrade she and Blaze desired. Tooltron succeeded in collecting data on the Jackrabbit jumping of the Yellow Ranger before his destruction. After Tooltron's destruction, Scrozzle sends Tooldrone but he is destroyed by the Rangers.

Roxy stays in the Cyber Dimension, Blaze creates Clonetron. He hopes that Clonetron will destroy the Zord computer with his Clone morphing but he is unmasked by Steel. Scrozzle sends Clonedrone while Clonetron fights Yellow and Blue Rangers, but they are destroyed by the Rangers and Blaze retreats.

Blaze stays in the Cyber Dimension, whereas Roxy goes on Earth to create Tubatron when she infected Joey's discarded golden tuba with the robotron creation key. After proving ineffective in his first battle, Roxy later had Scrozzle upgrade his horn, which was tested on Blaze. While Tubatron succeeded in collecting data on the Red Ranger's cheetah speed, the chip was shot and fried before it was retrieved. Tubatron was destroyed shortly after. After Tubatron's destruction, Scrozzle sends Tubadrone but he is destroyed by the Rangers.

Soon after Tubatron's destruction, Blaze uses his evil tech to create Tubatron 2.0. He goes to Earth with him and makes him stronger with a Fury Cell. Tubatron 2.0 overpowers all 5 rangers in battle. He also managed to knock Devon back in Red Fury Mode. But after an other fierce fight, Tubatron 2.0 is defeated and Blaze retreats. After Tubatron 2.0's destruction, Scrozzle sends Tubadrone 2.0 but he is destroyed by the Rangers.

Blaze stays in the Cyber Dimension, whereas Roxy goes on Earth to create Burnertron and collect the final Beast Power Data. Nate and Steel destroy Burnertron for good. However, the data chip was still intact and Roxy later retrieved it. Scrozzle sends Burnerdrone but he is destroyed by the Rangers.

Eventually, Vargoyle located Scrozzle in the Cyber Dimension and confronted him. He was furious to learn that the last four Fury Cells had been lost, and when Scrozzle blamed Blaze and Roxy, Vargoyle attacked the two avatars. Evox appeared and stopped the fight. After Scrozzle explained Vargoyle's backstory, Evox asked Vargoyle to work for him, offering to reward him with the Beast powers upgrade Scrozzle had recently developed. Vargoyle agreed to the deal, though Blaze and Roxy felt betrayed since Evox had originally promised one of them the upgrade. Blaze and Roxy fight the Rangers a first time with Turbotron. But Turbotron and Turbodrone are destroyed, and Blaze and Roxy retreat. Back in the Cyber Dimension, Evox was pleased that Vargoyle had collected so much Morph-X. He rewarded Vargoyle with the Beast powers upgrade. Vargoyle thanked Evox and vowed to use his new powers to destroy Evox's enemies. Outraged at being denied the upgrade, Blaze and Roxy decided to team up to get rid of Vargoyle.

As Vargoyle is finishing telling Evox his plan to get him the Morph-X he needs to return to Earth, Blaze and Roxy walk it, ready to show Evox their designs for a Memory Pulsator, only for Vargoyle to reveal that he's already built their device with Scrozzle's help. Incensed, Blaze accuses Scrozzle of sharing their plans with Vargoyle, something which Scrozzle tries to deny, but Vargoyle confirms. Before the argument can escalate, Evox interrupts and says that if Vargoyle was clever enough to steal Blaze and Roxy's plan, then he's smart enough to execute that plan. Although both Shockatron and Shockadrone were destroyed, Vargoyle succeeded in planting the Memory Pulsator on the Channel 10 TV station's transmitter tower.

Vargoyle used Scrozzle's Robotron-Maker to activate the Pulsator, which rewrote the memories of everyone in Coral Harbor, including the human Rangers, so that they forgot about Evox's previous attacks and believed that Blaze and Roxy were the actual Red and Yellow Beast Morphers Rangers. In Grid Battleforce, evil Roxy sabotages Roxy's pod, then along with Blaze steal the mega transporters. Steel destroys the Pulsator and the Rangers retrieve their memories but too late, Blaze and Roxy flee with the mega transporters in front of them. Later, when Vargoyle fights Devon, he remarks that his Beast Power is almost discharged and asks to Scrozzle more Morph-X. Scrozzle replies that he has enough to use the Cheetah's speed and that he will send it more if he says please. At this moment, Blaze appears with Roxy and takes him the Morph-X. Scrozzle replies that Vargoyle has needed of Morph-X or he will be destroyed but Blaze and Roxy smile meaning that they wish and Scrozzle join their choice. Blaze and Roxy become again Evox's favorites after they success to steal the mega transporters to start Evox's endgame.

Scrozzle informs Blaze and Roxy that the Rangers have retrieved the Mega Transporters that they have stolen. Considering the Tronics as useless, Blaze orders to Scrozzle to send a Gigadrone to distract the Rangers so that him and Roxy retake the Mega Transporters. The Rangers divides : Ravi takes the Mega Transporters while the others fight the Gigadrone. Seeing that, Roxy says that she knows what to do, Blaze and Scrozzle watch her leave them confused. Blaze recovers the Mega Transporters and do not seem affected by the destruction of Roxy's evil avatar by Ravi. He suffers Evox's anger for having let Roxy die, but he replies that he is still there and swears to Evox to bring him the Morph-X Tower. Evox tells him that he counts on him and that if he disappoints him again, he will be destroyed. Despite all Rangers' best efforts, Blaze activates the 3 Mega Transporters, sending the Morph-X Tower in the Cyber Dimension, and captures Devon, then return in the Cyber Dimension with him.

When the Rangers arrive in the Cyber Dimension with their Beast-X Ultrazord to rescue Devon and stop Evox once and for all, Blaze orders to Scrozzle to send an army of Gigadrones to destroy them. But the Beast-X Ultrazord destroys the entire army. Later, Blaze used a new Megazord created by Scrozzle to try to stop Devon and the Racer Zord from the destroying the stolen Morph-X Tower. The two zords ended up fighting inside the tower itself. Devon destroyed both the evil Megazord and the Blaze Avatar with the Racer Zord's Cheetah Hyperstrike with the Cybervillain's final words being his denial that this could be happening. The resulting explosion set off a chain reaction inside the tower, destroying it. The tower's explosion subsequently destroyed Evox's new body.

Upon Evox's return, he commands Scrozzle to create generals for him. With help from Trappertron, Scrozzle temporarily captures Blaze and Roxy to scan their DNA. Using this along with backup datas of the avatars and robot spare parts, he resurrects the former doppelgangers in new, expendable robot bodies, with a machine at the ready to keep repeating the process every time they are destroyed. The doppelgangers receive new Ranger forms with Robo-Blaze assuming an amber-colored robot form. They battle the Rangers with Tronics but are destroyed. Scrozzle rebuilds them.

He and Robo Roxy Attack at the riptide gym where Devon is battling a girl in a video game competition. They steal her console and summon Tronics. Roxy creates Gamertron and they battle the rangers. After beating them, they teleport away.

He and Robo Roxy are snooping around the back of Grid Battleforce and he finds a lock and key. They create Keytron and he breaks into Grid Battleforce. They teleport away. Later, they watch as Scrozzle gives Keytron a human form.

While Evox is away, Scrozzle creates Digitron, though the pair don't think much of him. He is sent to steal tech and power up. He steals Cruise and returns. Blaze and Roxy send him back. After he is destroyed, they inform Evox of scrozzle's failure.

They get a hand puppet for scrozzle. He creates Controlatron. They take him to Grid Battleforce and Blaze puts a puppet to get Cole under Controlatrons Spell. Cole gives Nate a puppet and Nate is infected. They leave. Controlatron takes Nate to the Crystal Dimension and Controlatron makes Nate write some coding. Despite succeeding, Evox berates the robots.

Scrozzle creates a dart to take over the Beast-X King Zord. The pair infect the Zord. Once the spell is broken, Blaze attacks with a rebuilt version of his Megazord but is destroyed with the Megazord by the Beast-X King Zord.

As part of Evox's plan to kill Devon at an international sporting event, Blaze and Roxy created Boxertron in order to accomplish this but he was taken out by the new Beast-X King Ultrazord.

Eventually however, the strain put on Mayor Daniels/Evox by the reliance on Morph-X to maintain his human form was becoming too heavy and he was needing it daily to keep it up. However. when he was supposed to have the Morph-X given to him, he was with the Rangers so the Cybervillains and Scrozzle were forced to invent a way to "kidnap" the Mayor. To this end, Blaze and Roxy created Tiaratron and Scrozzle created Tiaradrone to act as distractions to allow the Cybervillains to reach Evox. However, when they tried to attack, Zoey noticed them and they were forced to fight her. Once Tiaratron was destroyed by Ravi, Nate, and Steel, Roxy took down Nate with her blasters but Zoey then summoned the Beast-X Spin Saber. With it, she overwhelmed the Cybervillains and destroyed them with it's Tornado Takedown. Although they were rebuilt as every time before, Evox changed back right in front of the Rangers and revealed the secret before leaving.

In light of Mayor Daniels being revealed as Evox, Commander Shaw began to drain the Morph-X out of all the towers to return it to the Morphin Grid. Realizing that without the Morph-X they would be unable to create Robotrons or send Gigadrones, Scrozzle's computer intercepted the transmission so Evox had Blaze and Roxy go to Earth to get whatever was left. They then created Bulldozertron to act as a distraction by attacking a Morph-X Tanker and distract the Rangers so Blaze, Roxy and their Tronics could steal the Morph-X. Nate and Steel decided to attack them whilst the others fought the Robotron, quickly being overwhelmed by the sheer numbers. Having taken down the duo, Blaze and Roxy nearly escaped with the Tronics on the Tanker but Steel destroyed them and the Tanker with his Striker Beast Blast. Scrozzle didn't reanimate them this time and sent down Bulldozerdrone instead. Evox was later freed from Mayor Daniels using Split Emitters.

Blaze and Roxy were recreated amidst Ryjack's attack on the city with Vargoyle and were shocked to see their old archenemy return.

However, this became irrelevant after he died.

Blaze and Roxy were present when Evox announced his attention to betray Ryjack and steal his weapons for their benefit.

After Scrozzle detected the destruction of Ryjack's ship (caused by Zoey accidentally setting off the self-destruct sequence) Evox sent Blaze and Roxy to steal the arsenal and Scrozzle gave them the reanimizer he stole from the now deceased Ryjack to recreate some Ranger enemies to assist them. They went to the wreckage whilst Zoey was unconscious and they found Snide's sword amongst the wreckage. Recognizing it and how strong its former owner was, Blaze stuck it in the ground whilst Roxy used the reanimizer on it. They then convinced him that they were allies and all three hid once Zoey woke up. Whilst the Rangers rounded up the weapons and put Keeper in a truck, they resurrected some Vivix off-screen and the henchmen kidnapped Keeper by driving off in the truck. A chase then ensued which concluded with the Rangers brawling against the Vivix in a car park before the Dino Charge Rangers appeared through a portal and aided them in battle. However, Snide was able to convince Keeper to come with them thanks to a compliance collar Zoey had used on him by mistake and they teleported away before the Rangers could interfere.

Robo-Blaze present with the villains when they considered which villain was best to revive since they needed them to be strong enough to destroy the Rangers. His choice was Psycho Red, but Robo-Roxy reminds him if they revive Psycho Red, the said revived evil Ranger would betray them if they ever interfere his obsess hunt on Red Rangers, and Robo-Blaze have no choice to discard his choice. When Robo-Roxy chose to revive Astronema, Robo-Blaze reveals to her that Astronema is much like Scrozzle's choice, Koragg, The Knight Wolf, having been purified into their old-selves without dying (namely Karone and Leanbow respectively), and became redeemed Power Rangers, disgusting Robo-Roxy. They eventually decided upon Goldar so Scrozzle infused the reanimator with crystals and resurrected him as Goldar Maximus who swiftly killed Sledge.

Blaze and Roxy were involved in the battle between the Legendary Dino Rangers, Goldar Maximus, Snide, Vivix, Triptoids, Putties, and Tronics but Blaze retreated to Evox's makeshift base to tell him that they were losing after Ivan's Lightning Final Strike destroyed Roxy and Snide was killed by the Z-Rex Blaster. He arrived just after Evox had blasted down all five Rangers down and was left to kill them but was destroyed by Devon with the Beast-X King Ultra Bow's Ultra Bolt. Both Blaze and Roxy were recreated off-screen.

Blaze witnessed the creation of Clawtron from beetle DNA and Roxy upgrading herself with flower DNA, both of which were stolen from Nate and Steel earlier on. He mocked her for her odd appearance which motivated her into killing the Rangers although she failed and retreated.

Blaze was present to be insulted by Evox for his, Roxy, and Scrozzle's continuous failures, being called "three useless bots who do nothing but fail!" This motivated Roxy to go on the offensive against Ravi but she was fled after more Rangers arrived. After she came back once her attack failed due to overheating Ravi, Blaze mocked her harshly by saying "that attack on the Blue Ranger has got to be one of the most pathetic attacks I've ever seen" which made her indignant. He was excited by the idea of Roxy being tortured but was shocked when he was told to keep the Rangers busy for her fight with Ravi despite some protests. The duo ambushed Ravi in the woods whilst he was freaking out about the thought of losing Roxy where Ravi (still enraged and overheated) dodged a shot from Roxy and shot at them with his own blaster which they dodged and angrily morphed with Ravi following suit. Roxy forced Blaze to fight the others when they arrived and he did so once they appeared and used Tronics to keep them at bay. He personally confronted Devon who summoned his Beast-X Visor and entered Beast-X Mode before dodging sparks Blaze threw up and destroyed the cybervillain once again with his Beast-X Cheetah Charge.

After being resurrected again off-screen, Blaze became jealous of Roxy's new flower based powers and wanted to get some new ones for himself. He created Antennatron 2.0 and they stole some large barrels of Morph-X only to be confronted by the Rangers. They went into battle, with Nate and Steel (in each other's bodies due to an accident involving the upgrade chamber) whilst Antennatron 2.0

fought the main three Rangers. Blaze didn't morph and summoned his sword but was outmatched although he deflected the Beast-X Blasts with his rapier and teleported himself and Antennatron 2.0 to safety.

He arrived back in the Cyber Dimension where he was mocked by Roxy and his excuse of training was shot down by Scrozzle but they got rid of her with some choice words about her flower powers and had Scrozzle upgrade him with Morph-X. He and Antennatron 2.0 later returned to the city and sent to the warehouse district where he stood more Morph-X until the Rangers srrived and he went to get more since this wouldn't be enough to please Evox. He quickly returned after getting more and took down Devon in Beast-X Mode in the midst of his Cheetah Charge. He mocked the Rangers and then took them down before killing Antennatron 2.0 since he had outlived his value. Nate and Steel tried to take him on but were unsuccessful and Blaze used his new super speed to take them all down before leaving with the Morph-X.

Evox stroked Blaze's ego and and old him that he was more valuable than Scrozzle or Roxy which prompted the latter to get stronger. He was later present when Roxy upgraded herself and was appalled when her transformation obliterated the robot maker, meaning that any death for them would now be permanent with no chance of coming back. However, she was unconcerned as she felt she could kill the Rangers before that could happen and he decided to prove her wrong so both teleported to Riptide.

They walked through the warehouse district until the Rangers arrived and Blaze announced that they would play a little game of "who can squash the most Rangers?" which prompted them to morph which the Cybervillains following suit. Whilst four of the Rangers fought Roxy, he took on Devon who eventually turned into Beast-X Mode (off-screen) and were evenly matched. However, the fighting came to an end when the Beast-X King Ultrazord killed Roxy off for good which horrified him. Scrozzle then arrived and berated Blaze for letting her die since there was no way to bring her back which inadvertently told Devon that there was no way for the avatars to keep returning before Blaze teleported both of them away.

To begin Evox's endgame, Robo-Blaze deviously poses as the real one in order to execute a plan that will allow Evox to get inside Grid Battleforce. The plan was to deliver one of Robo-Roxy's memory drives to give the Rangers advanced warning pf his Gigadrone so that they would bring a lot of Morph-X into the city which he could then attack. He would then either steal all of it and access the Morphin Grid that way or he would be captured and within the Ranger base, either way he wins.

Blaze appears in the Riptide Gym and hands the Rangers one of Robo-Roxy's memory drives under the guise of him finding it at the airport. Said data disc contained a memory where Evox announced that they were going to the Crystal Dimension so the Rangers made preparations to invade it. He then appeared in the battle against Railtron 2.0, saving Ravi and Zoey's lives but had his arm damaged by a Tronic mid battle. Afterwards, he had a private conversation with Devon where he convinced the Red Ranger to be stricter with his teammates to ensure victory. He was present for Nate's briefing on the attack plan and suggested capturing Evox and putting him the maximum security cell in Grid Battleforce as destroying him would be very hard to do. He tricks Devon into carrying this plan out, and Evox is captured following the destruction of Omegadrone. However, the ruse is discovered when the real Blaze called the team that he won the trophy in his karate competition, and the Rangers realize that Evox wanted to be captured all along at which point Blaze fled.

After Evox returned from absorbing the access codes for the Morphin Grid from Grid Battleforce, having revealed himself as the Venjix Virus to the Rangers, Scrozzle and Blaze met him in the Crystal Dimension. Blaze was given the mission of uploading the codes into a Morph-X Tower so that Evox could activate the Global Network. Using the towers, he would finally be able to harness and control the Morphin Grid.

He quickly arrived at a Morph-X Tower near a construction site but the Rangers cut him off, morphed, went into Beast-X Mode straight away, and he was forced to fight them. He easily overwhelmed them and took them all out with a devastating attack. However, Devon and Steel took him on whilst Nate summoned the Beast-X King Ultra Bow which had been upgraded by Doctor K. Steel kicked Blaze down and he was unable to recover before being shot with a Beast-X King Power Bolt. He was struck in his abdomen as he yelled in horror before exploding, bringing an end to the Cybervillains once and for all.

However, his scheme ultimately succeeded since Evox had made two copies of the access codes which he uploaded into the same Morph-X Tower Blaze was aiming for whilst the Rangers fought him. This allowed Evox the unlimited access to the Morphin Grid that he desired.

Devon Michaels: Robo-Blaze!

Me: How can I forget how ugly you looked.

Robo-Blaze: Thanks for the compliment. I'll be sure to add that to your tombstone.

Me: Not if I kill you first.

Robo Blaze: (to the Dino Rangers) Good to see you guys again. Too bad Snide and Goldar aren't here to make this a reunion.

Devon: Where's Robo Roxy?

Robo Blaze: She'll appear on another mission. She doesn't have to follow me everywhere I go.

Me: Good. I have a score to settle with her for pissing me off.

?: I can believe it.

A figure came out and it was the 3rd Shadow Rider, TANIA!

---

She has a somewhat more unorthodox method of getting the Spirit Keys as she pays students with rare cards to help build her a coliseum and on top of that doesn't even host Shadow Games. She falls in love with Bastion Misawa, and after some sweet talking and showing off her amazing Dueling skills, defeats Bastion and forces him to become her boyfriend for a short time until she grows tired of him due to constantly beating him. She fights Jaden Yuki in a soul match with the effect of "Amazoness Arena". She is actually a tigress, and was able to maintain a human form using her gauntlet Shadow Charm. After losing her Duel with Jaden, she relinquishes her Shadow Charm and leaves with her pet tiger, Bass.

During the third year, she appears before Jaden and his group while they are in the middle of their search for the missing Jesse Anderson in an alternate dimension (where all duel monsters are made living and real). She serves as their guide through the first dimension they encounter, showing them where to go next. She and Bastion stay behind in the recently liberated town to restore order to it. They apparently still have feelings for each other, as Bastion says that he's staying with Tania, and blushes when Syrus says that Bastion is under a love spell. He immediately denies it and Tania smiles at this.

After Jaden is freed from the influence of The Supreme King, she and Bastion re-appear to explain Yubel's plan to combine all twelve dimensions. In the midst of the battle between Jaden and Yubel, she and Bastion are seen staring at the fireballs raging the dimension, due to the fact that Yubel used "Super Polymerization" to fuse all the dimensions together. Tania and Bastion stay in the alternate dimension in order to help it heal after Jaden fuses with Yubel.

Tania also has a pet tiger named Bass, who resembles "Amazoness Tiger".

---

Jaden: Tania!

Tania: Good to see you again Jaden.

Bastion: Tania you are as amazing as I remember.

Tania: Thanks Bastion.

Me: So you are the third member of the Shadow Riders. Your appearance is very reminiscent of the Amazons of Greek Myth.

Wonder Woman: It sure is. Are you an Amazon from Themiscyra?

Tania: No I'm not unfortunately. Though I do look like I come from there.

Laney: It's amazing though.

Nico: It sure is. And I've been to Themiscyra several times.

Tuddrussel: (to Tania) Hey, baby. How about you ditch your Shadow Rider buddies and join the side of a handsome man like me?

Tania: Tempting. But you're not really my type.

She then punched him in the stomach and punched him in the face!

Tuddrussel: (Groaning) I understand.

POP!

He was knocked out.

Lana: Ouch.

Tania: I may want the Sacred Beasts. But I'm not gonna take them on Kagemaru's orders. So, you won't get any Shadow Games from me. No, I'm gonna take the Sacred Beasts on my own terms.

Jaden: Just like before.

?: It will be fun though.

Another figure came out and it was BUFFALORD from Episode 3 of Jungle Fury!

---

Camille stole in the museum statue of Bull's head and later gave it to Dai Shi. Dai Shi used its power and turned one Rinshi into the new powerful Rinshi Buffalord with the power of the buffalo. He had tremendous strength. Buffalord was powerful but not very bright and wrathful monster. Dai Shi ordered Buffalord to attack Ocean Bluff. Buffalord attacked the city and encountered the rangers. In the first battle with rangers Buffalord used his horn attack and successfully defeated the rangers, including Casey. In the next battle with rangers Buffalord fought with Theo and Lily and easily defeated the two rangers. But then Casey arrived and learned new techniques from RJ and now he finally defeated Buffalord. He was ultimately defeated by Casey. Buffalord was defeated and he enlarged. In the giant battle Buffalord attacked Jungle Pride Megazord with his horn attack but was destroyed by Jungle Pride Megazord's Savage Kick. Sigh of the Tiger Buffalord, alongside Pangolin and Slickagon, was revived and played in the game show "Blow That Dough", hosted by Camille, against the Rangers. He beat the Dominic Hargan when he answered the question on what Dai Shi's spirit was imprisoned in. Buffalord technically won in a question against Casey, but was deleted soon after by Casey upon seizing Cheese McAllister's remote control and was again destroyed.

---

Casey Rhodes: Buffalord!

Buffalord: Its been a long time rangers!

Me: I remember you! You were sent to attack the city and you defeated two of the rangers. R.J. then came and defeated you.

Buffalord: That's right. You have watched us all on TV.

Me: Never missed an episode.

Buffalord: (to Casey Rhodes) I would've won that game show if your morpher hadn't shown up at the last second!

Casey rhodes: Hey, that game show was rigged and you know it!

Me: I remember that. It gives all game shows everywhere a really bad name!

Nico: It sure did!

Troy: You're in for a surprise, Buffalord.

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Jungle Fury!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Jungle Fury Rangers!

Buffalord: What?! Two Jungle Fury Teams?!

Me: Surprise!

Misty Tredwell appeared.

Misty Tredwell: Let me help you guys out.

Venom: Us and Rhino will help you out Laney.

Laney: Thanks guys.

Elena: And me and Shocker will help Lincoln face Electro.

Shocker: Awesome!

Me: Lets do it!

We powered up and went at them.

Battle 1: Bane

Venom, Rhino and Laney were facing Bane.

Venom: We're gonna have a lot of fun Bane.

Rhino: Lets do it!

Laney: Bring it!

Bane: As you wish.

Bane strengthened up and he was now at the strength of 50,000 men and then he called out his Machamp, Primeape and Hitmonchan!

Laney: Lets dance!

Laney transformed into her Super Angel 20,000 Graceful Rose Assassin form!

Laney: (Older voice) Lets do it.

They went at Bane and Venom and Rhino slammed into him with the powerful force of a million wrecking balls and Laney kicked him in the face and knocked him out and they punched and smashed his Pokemon all over the place.

Laney: Nice!

---

Battle 2: Electro

---

Elena, Shocker and Lincoln were facing Electro.

Electro: Glad you all put those loggers out of business.

Lincoln: Thanks man.

Elena: Those loggers were a menace to the environment.

Shocker: Indeed.

Elena: Lets do it!

Electro had his Electabuzz come out and Lincoln, Elena and Shocker fired a massive blast of lightning and the blasts slammed into Electro and electrocuted him all over with a massive amount of voltage and knocked down Electro and Electabuzz.

Lincoln: AWESOME!

---

Battle 3: Robo Blaze

---

Sora was facing Robo Blaze and me, Kairi, Nico and Aqua were watching.

Sora: This is gonna be awesome having you as my Arch Nemesis.

Robo Blaze: So my arch nemesis will be the newlywed Sora.

Sora: Yep.

Robo Blaze: Lets do it!

Sora summoned his Keyblade and they went at each other and clashed very violently. It was a great clash.

Robo Blaze: Ok. You're good. I'll give you that. But let's see how you do against me in this form!

Robo Blaze transformed into his Crimson colored Avatar Ranger form.

Sora: Awesome!

They went at each other some more and clashed powerfully.

Robo Blaze clashed his sword with Sora's Keyblade.

Robo Blaze: Now it's time for some witty back-and-forth banter! You go first.

Sora: All right. My mom hit better than you.

Sora kicked him in the chest and kicked him in the face.

Robo Blaze: You hit like a girl.

Sora: I've been called worse.

He kicked Robo Blaze and kicked him in the stomach.

Robo Blaze: I also have friends. TRONICS!

He summoned a massive army of Tronics!

Sora: Whoa! Lets see how your toys like this. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: MASSACRE OF THE MAD SAUROPOD!

Sora fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the diseased Camerasaurus from the 2020 TV Show Primal!

---

Once a peaceful herbivore, the sauropod spotted an zombified Parasaurolophus. Not seeing it as a threat the sauropod ignored it but got bitten by the infected hadrosaur. Alarmed, the Argentinosaurus kicked the hadrosaur into a tree where it died for good. But the virus has already passed to the Argentinosaur, making it deadly ill as mucus ran from it's mouth and nose.

The now sickly sauropod walked to the watering hole and drank deeply, gazing at its reflection in the water before proceeding to vomit up blood. The herd looked in fear as the sick sauropod flew into a panicked rage, thrashing wildly as the virus completely took over its body. No longer in control of its own actions and rendered as little more than a savage, brutal and rabid beast, the sauropod turned on its own herd, smashing nests filled with eggs and killing any herd member in its way, in spite of members of the herd attempting to stop its rampage. Before long, the entire herd was killed.

As Spear and Fang finds the killed herd, the now zombified sauropod starts chasing them through the woods. Soon the sauropod falls down a cliff while running, seemingly killing it, but in reality, simply knocking it unconscious. It reawakens and continues to chase Spear and Fang, who had spent an entire night waiting to see if it was dead.

After being trapped in a narrow ravine, the sauropod relentlessly tried to free itself as Spear and Fang and as it finally frees itself, though tearing off a large chunk of flesh from his body. But it's own heavy weight became it's own downfall as the volcanic field's crust cracked open and it fell into the lava and burned up. As it let out it's final roars of agony it burns into ashes as Fang and Spear watched.

---

The viciously rabid zombie dinosaur bit, smashed and thrashed the Tronics all over and smashed all of them into scrap metal at a viciously rapid rate!

Me: WHOA! That dinosaur was a zombie!

Aqua: It sure was. I didn't think that dinosaurs would become like that.

Nico: If Aylene saw that she would be horrified.

Kairi: No kidding.

Sora: And try this horrible nightmare. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: KONRAD CURZE!

Sora fired a wave of darkness and it formed into Konrad Curze, the Night Haunter!

---

Konrad Curze, better known as Night Haunter, the name he preferred, and sometimes as the "Dark King," was one of the 20 superhuman primarchs created by the Emperor of Mankind in the late 30th Millennium and was the master of the Traitor Legion of Chaos Space Marines known as the Night Lords.

Night Haunter was tortured all his life by terrible, dark visions of the future, and this generated a level of psychic anguish and despair that set him apart from his fellow Primarchs.

His psyche damaged by the difficulties of his early life, Curze never recovered his mental balance and sought only oblivion from the pain of his reality.

He was a brutal warrior who believed in the use of fear as the most potent weapon against one's foes, and he taught his Astartes to be as brutal and savage as necessary to put down the enemy.

Night Haunter did not enjoy his role as an Imperial war leader and was the only one of the primarchs who showed little affection for his "sons," the Space Marines of the VIIIth Legion that had been created from his genetic template.

He was slain, some believe willingly, by the Callidus Assassin M'Shen on the world of Tsagualsa in the Eastern Fringe of the galaxy immediately following the end of the Horus Heresy in the early 31st Millennium.

His VIIIth Legion, without his leadership, then broke up into competing warbands of Heretic Astartes and fled into the Eye of Terror with the rest of the Traitor Legions.

---

He smashed and blasted Robo-Blaze all over the place with incredible fury and power and more.

Sora: Try this one! NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: NIGHT LORDS!

Sora fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the Night Lords!

---

The Night Lords were originally the VIIIth Legion of Space Marines created during the First Founding and became one of the 9 Traitor Legions of Chaos Space Marines that betrayed the Emperor of Mankind during the Horus Heresy of the 31st Millennium.

They do not worship any of the four Chaos Gods individually, but acknowledge them equally in the form of Chaos Undivided as they ruthlessly spread terror and fear amongst the galaxy's inhabitants. The Night Lords are experts in the use of terror tactics to win battles and demoralise their foes before the main combat even begins.

The Night Lords are synonymous with terror and murder, for their favoured mode of warfare is the unfettered application of brutal, overwhelming force. They show no mercy whatsoever, eschewing all subtlety and guile for wanton bloodshed and destruction. While such an approach might appear mindless, at one time it was different.

Ten millennia ago, the Night Lords' Primarch Konrad Curze was driven to acts of extreme violence by a deep-rooted desire to punish the guilty and impose order upon the anarchy in which he grew up. Only later, when the doomed Primarch surrendered his soul to the Ruinous Powers was his relentless drive for justice perverted into the form it now takes. While many of the Primarchs were raised by those peoples they found themselves amongst after the Ruinous Powers scattered them to the corners of the galaxy, Konrad Curze grew to maturity in very different circumstances.

The world of Nostramo was a lightless industrial waste, its cities teeming and anarchic and its main export the raw adamantium found beneath the surface. Curze survived as a wild thing, living in the lowest depths of the hive cities and competing for food with the vermin and scum of the sewers. Like all of the Primarchs, he matured quickly, bearing witness as he did so to the most horrific excesses of Nostromo's corrupt society. Murder was rife and the people lived in constant fear. No natural light lit the alleys and the depths, and all manner of fell criminals lurked within them.

Soon, Curze began to prey upon these criminals, mounting their mutilated corpses where all could see and take heed. The terror that stalked the streets exacting vengeance upon the lawless soon became known as the Night Haunter, and so fearful were the people of his judgement that soon all, not just the criminals, locked themselves inside their dwellings, and a peace of sorts was imposed.

As with most of the Primarchs, by the time the Emperor found Konrad Curze he had risen to a position of dominance over his world. Curze's rule was not one of beneficence, however, but one of fear and repression. The people of Nostromo had been entirely delivered from the predations of criminals, but not by way of enlightenment or order.

Rather, the people knew that even the slightest malfeasance would result in Curze himself visiting death upon the criminal. When the Emperor presented Himself to the Primarch, the people believed that a new age had arrived. Yet, when the Emperor took Curze back to Terra, Nostromo was plunged back into anarchy, for no one was left to enforce order.

Despite the brutality of his methods, Konrad Curze's actions appear to have been motivated by a deep, if twisted, sense of justice. In the brutal underworld in which he had matured, the Primarch had learned that only total dominance would suffice and that to show any sign of weakness was to invite treachery.

Even when Curze joined his brothers in the glorious campaigns of the Great Crusade, he appeared to hold to such views, eschewing such notions of hope and optimism which drove others to instead believe in the dark realities of the natural order.

He remained sullen and introspective, and shunned the companionship of his brothers. He preferred the company of the warriors of his own Legion, the Night Lords whom he indoctrinated into his favoured methods.

Even before the outset of the Horus Heresy, the Night Lords were using methods most others would have denounced as brutally unnecessary and cruel. The Night Lords conquered utterly those who did not welcome the coming of the Great Crusade, crushing all opposition in such an overwhelming and brutal fashion that no others would dare resist.

As with so many of the Primarchs who rebelled against the Emperor and all they had been created to stand for, Konrad Curze crossed a line from which there was no return. Having clashed with Rogal Dorn, he was censured by his brothers, who convened a council to consider the matter of their darkling brother. Curze however slew his guards and fled, outrunning his pursuers and returning to Nostromo.

There, he enacted his final revenge upon a society that had descended back into the corruption from which he had strived so hard to deliver it. The Night Lords fleet targetted a weak point in the planet's crust and unleashed every weapon in their arsenal, destroying Nostromo and, some would say, damning Konrad Curze for all eternity.

When the Warmaster Horus revealed his treachery and plunged the galaxy into the fires of civil war, Konrad Curze threw himself into a bitter campaign of death and destruction, giving full vent to his most violent urges.

It was never sufficient to simply defeat an enemy army. Curze taught his Legion to make an example of those who stood against them, to destroy their enemies' cities, slay their kin and display their broken corpses as a message to all others. His Legion wreaked bloody murder across the galaxy, which continued even after Horus' defeat at the height of the Siege of Terra.

Curze did not fall during the Horus Heresy, and neither did he receive the dark blessing of the Ruinous Powers in the form of apotheosis to daemonhood. Instead, he met his end at the hand of an assassin of the Callidus Temple.

It is known that throughout his life Curze was struck with powerful visions of the worst of all possible futures, and that his last had been a foretelling that he would die at the hand of one such as she.

Alone of all the Primarchs, Curze welcomed his death, apparently allowing the assassin to take his life. It is said that in so doing he attained that which he had always craved - vindication.

The Primarch's acceptance of his own fate confirmed his bleak worldview, granting him a victory he could never attain under the rule of his father. It is a view still held by the gene-sons who survived him to wreak an eternal campaign of blood and shadowed terror against the Imperium of the Corpse Emperor.

---

They smashed and blasted Robo-Blaze all over the place.

Sora: And now for this one. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: PLANET NOSTRAMO!

Sora floated in the air and an image of the dark planet Nostramo appeared behind him!

---

Nostramo was the Hive World enshrouded by perpetual darkness that was the former homeworld of the Night Lords Traitor Legion of Chaos Space Marines and their Primarch, Konrad Curze. The world was ultimately destroyed by Curze himself in the early 31st Millennium during an orbital bombardment by the Night Lords' Legionary Fleet after its people betrayed his ideals of draconian order and reverted to their anarchic, criminal ways.

Nostramo was a bleak Hive World that was perpetually dark due to its pollution-clogged atmosphere and the fact that it circled a slowly dying star whose light was unable to penetrate this haze to reach the surface. The world was barely better lit at noon than at midnight. A shroud of perpetual darkness produced by the massive amounts of toxic smog kept the planet swathed in dull greys and deep blacks. Only the rich could afford the Nostraman idea of illumination, which was little more than dim blue illuminalion-strips that were placed in the ceilings of the ruling hierarchy's luxurious dwellings in the spires of the dark world's hive cities. The adamantium that riddled the planet's crust, Nostramo's chief export to its neighbouring worlds, was the reason for the thousands of metalworks and chemical plants that scarred the Nostraman landscape and choked the air with noxious filth. The vast majority of the planet's people lived in abject poverty as foundry labourers, whilst the rich grew in affluence, trampling down or simply killing outright any who dared oppose the status quo. Murder, theft and extortion were rife in Nostraman society. Crime ran unchecked, and the merest gesture towards law enforcement was the horrific brutality meted out by the ruling hierarchy's hired underhive thugs upon those who dared to oppose them. The vast majority of Nostramo's citizens lived in abject poverty, preyed upon by rampant criminal gangs and a corrupt governing aristocracy. Depression was an inescapable way of life for most Nostramans, and overpopulation was prevented not by war, disease or legislation, but by the suicide rate.

The world had five major hive cities that straddled the habitable hub of the planet, named in sequence from Nostramo Prime to Nostramo Quintus. Each hive city functioned as a self-contained industrial system. Due to the synchronicity in the orbit of Nostramo and Tenebor, the moon interposed between Nostramo and its dying sun, these cities experienced the equivalent of a Terran night even during the middle of a Nostraman summer. Its cities were warrens of stone and iron. Kilometre-tall smoke stacks pointed up at the perpetual night. Bridges of black metal criss-crossed the narrow ravines of alleys and streets. Manses, cathedrals and factories grew from the forest of slums, their faces and roofs crawling with gargoyles. Smog lay over everything like a cloak drawn around a dying man, turning what little light shone from windows or lamps into sickly haloes. Dust, smoke and the reek of chemicals filled the air, and worked into the flesh of every man, woman and child, trimming away their years so that the best that life could offer was a slow decline in grinding servitude, never glimpsing the brightness of hope or the warmth of true happiness.

The geology of Nostramo was nothing short of priceless, as the world's unusual crust had unprecedented amounts of naturally-occurring adamantium. The presence of such abundant quantities of this valuable metal meant that the cities of Nostramo enjoyed a very profitable commerce with their neighbouring worlds, although it is well-known that these worlds sold the metal on at a much higher price to the traders of the Imperium of Man, who were just beginning to enter this region of the galaxy. An entire strata of the planet's crust was comprised of this valuable strategic metal and it is thought that the planet had a very volatile and unstable core, hence its massive explosion following the Primarch's orbital bombardment.

It would be easy to say that the coming of Konrad Curze to the VIII Legion changed everything, that the fall of the Night Lords began at the moment the Emperor reunited his eighth son with the Legion created from his genome. But it would be truer to say that it was Nostramo that set both Curze and the Night Lords on the path to treachery. Curze was the gene-sire of the VIII Legion, but he had two fathers, two hands that shaped his nature and through him the fate of his Legion: the Emperor who spun the substance of Curze's life, and the planet Nostramo which had raised and taught him. What the Emperor intended for his sons can never be known, but the nature of Nostramo can be.

Nostramo was a bleak, sunless Hive World of suffering, pain and corruption. At the heart of a string of planets which had kept the ability to cross the stars through the Age of Strife, it was a world of sprawling cities, of smoke, industry, and the sweat of millions. Nostramo's wealth, for wealth there was, lay in the seams of adamantine ore beneath its surface. Worlds far from Nostramo fed on its output, and the mines had long wormed deep into its flesh. Nostramo was perpetually dark due to its pollution-clogged atmosphere and that fact that it circled a slowly dying star whose light was unable to penetrate this haze to reach the surface. The world was barely better lit at noon than at midnight. A shroud of perpetual darkness produced by the massive amounts of toxic smog kept the planet swathed in dull greys and deep blacks. Only the rich could afford the Nostraman idea of illumination, which was little more than dim blue illumination-strips that were placed in the ceilings of the ruling hierarchy's luxurious dwellings in the spires of the dark world's hive cities.

The physiology and genomes of the people that lived within the Nostraman hive cities remained mostly identical to that of the baseline humans from the Segmentum Solar, with the exception that none of the planet's people possessed irises; the visible part of their eyes consisted entirely of their pupils. The people of Nostramo were pale, and most were thin and gaunt, given by turns to distrust, dark humour and callousness. This acute form of albinism, though a recessive mutation, had become common in the Nostraman populace. The vast majority of the planet's people lived in abject poverty as foundry labourers, whilst the rich grew in affluence, trampling down or simply killing outright any who dared oppose the status quo. Depression was an inescapable way of life for most Nostramans, and overpopulation was prevented not by war, disease or legislation, but by the suicide rate. Most of these unfortunate souls would die coughing up blood and black dust on a mouldering pallet, but death from lung blight, or having chemicals eat out their bones from the inside was not the worst end that could be found on Nostramo.

The dark owned Nostramo, body and soul, and its existence was a horror to equal any xenos enslavement or nightmare of the Dark Age of Technology. If there ever had been true laws, they had vanished long ago, eaten by the greed of a few and the desperation of many. Murder was the currency of life, and strength came from violence. Every sin great and small had its home in Nostramo's endless night. It has been said by those Remembrancers who recorded its history after its reclamation that during this time weeping and pleading were the sounds carried eternally on the wind, and every child grew to know that the only law was that of the knife, and the only right belonged to the strong to do with as they willed. Corrupt and murderous gangs, whether or not they were named as such, ruled every part of Nostramo. From the heights of nobility to the lowest alley, every inch of Nostramo was someone's domain, someone's territory or hunting ground. In the slum habitation stacks, the gangs ruled by raw fear, killing and torturing as they pleased, fighting wars with the feral packs of outcasts who were closer to animals than men. It was said that many of these gangs ate the dead, treating their territories as a predator might a hunting ground. In the mines and factories which still turned the planet's wheels of industry, the gangs went by names that echoes with a false authority: the Iron Overseers, the Hands of Coregado, the Sons of Toil. Slab muscled and furnace-scarred, they walked the streets clanking with weaponry and reeking of murder, enforcing order that was little more than slavery. In the wealthier areas, the rakeheel sons and daughters of the corrupt nobility gathered in packs, clad in costumes like strutting peacocks, as quick to kill with blade or gun as they were to cast an insult.

No matter what their station, almost all Nostraman gangs owed fealty to one of the numberless barons, counts and lords, who in turn served still more powerful men and women, many of whom styled themselves with courtly titles that echoes a long forgotten nobility. Though wrapped in the trappings of birth, blood and feudal right, there was no division between the rulers of Nostramo and its criminal overlords; they were one and the same, cruel monarchs of kingdoms built on sin.

---

The planet Nostromo fired a blast of darkness and it slammed into Robo-Blade and exploded.

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Blade Man: (to Robo Blaze) Can we play too?!

Robo Blaze: Sure.

Drill Man and Blade Man joined in and fought Robo Blaze and they slashed and blasted him with their blades and drill missiles and Sora blasted him all over. Robo Blaze then called out his Pokemon: an Accelgor and it fired acid at them. but they dodged it and Drill Man fired more Drill Missiles and they hit the Accelgor and exploded. Knocking it out.

Robo-Blaze was blown to pieces. But he was ready to fight another day.

Me: Whoa! That planet was scary.

Nico: It sure was.

Robo Blaze: That was a good fight. You are worthy of being my arch nemesis Sora.

Sora: Thanks Blaze.

---

Battle 4: Tania

---

Jaden, Misty, Wonder Woman, Lynn and Bastion were facing Tania.

Tania: Just like in our last duel huh?

Jaden: It sure is. Get your game on!

Wonder Woman: Lets do it!

Lynn: Yeah!

Bastion: Lets do it.

Tania: I summon AMAZONESS ARCHER!, AMAZONESS BABY TIGER, AMAZONESS BLOWPIPER, AMAZONESS CHAIN MASTER, AMAZONESS EMPRESS, AMAZONESS FIGHTER, AMAZONESS PALADIN, AMAZONESS PET LIGER, AMAZONESS

PRINCESS, AMAZONESS QUEEN, AMAZONESS SCOUTS, AMAZONESS SPY, AMAZONESS SWORDS WOMAN, AMAZONESS TIGER and AMAZONESS TRAINEE!

She summoned said monsters and they were all the Amazons of Greek Myth!

Nico: Wow! The Amazons of Greek Myth.

Wonder Woman: Really impressive selection.

Tania: Thank you.

Jaden: I thought so too.

Tania: And to make it interesting I activate AMAZONESS ARENA!

She activated said field and they were in some kind of colosseum.

Jaden: Sweet!

Lynn: This is gonna be awesome!

Wonder Woman: Just like all the fights with my sisters.

Misty Tredwell: It sure feels like it.

Jaden: Lets let our fists do the talking here.

Misty Tredwell: And some weapons. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL CCARAYHUA!

Misty summoned the Lizard Earthbound Immortal Ccarayhua.

Misty Tredwell: And I activate EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL WEAPON TRANSFORMATION!

Misty activated said spell and Ccarayhua turned into a powerful whip.

Jaden: Lets do it! I activate and equip myself with SWORD OF DRAGON'S SOUL!

Wonder Woman: I activate and equip myself with WICKED BREAKING FLAMBERGE - BAOU!

Lynn: I activate and equip myself DIVINE SWORD - PHOENIX BLADE and SALAMANDRA!

Bastion: And I activate and equip myself with PHALANX PIKE!

They equipped themselves with said cards.

Jaden: Lets do it!

They went at Tania and the Amazoness monsters and a massively violent clash broke out and more and it was a brutal fight. They slashed, punched and blasted the Amazoness monsters and Tania all over the place with incredible power and ferocity! They stopped 1 hour later and they won.

Bastion: Tania, now that this battle's over, don't you think it's time for you to join the side of good?

Tania: I would be honored.

Tania was now a member of the team and more.

Battle 5: Buffalord

---

Nico and the Jungle Fury and Megaforce Rangers were facing Buffalord.

Nico: Lets dance horn boy.

Nico fired energy blasts and the Megaforce Rangers bashed and blasted Buffalord all over and more.

Emma: Now to become the other team of rangers.

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Ninja Storm!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Ninja Storm Rangers and they slashed and blasted Buffalord all over the place. Then Buffalord fell down and exploded in a massive fiery explosion.

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Buffalord was dead.

Troy Burrows: Rangers that's a Super Mega Win.

Nico: It sure was.

We all regrouped.

Lincoln: Yeah this was awesome!

Then an orange glow formed on Lincoln's ring finger and a spirit animal ring appeared and it had a gem with a Buffalo in it.

Lincoln: The Buffalo Spirit.

Isabelle: The buffalo is perfect for you Lincoln. it signifies that you are currently in the process of manifesting your life's desires, wishes, and goals. The buffalo spirit animal is telling you to wait with patience and confidence because it will soon happen for you.

Lincoln: Wow! That's amazing!

Otto Osworth: It sure is.

Tuddrussel: Yeah.

Then an orange light appeared and it landed in Lincoln's hand. It was the Buffalo Animal Crystal for the Buffalo Zord.

Lincoln: The Buffalo Zord Crystal.

Danny Delgado: Wow. That's amazing.

Me: We have the Water Buffalo, the Bison and now the Buffalo.

Laney: We sure do. Way to go bro.

Lincoln: Thanks guys.

The Masters of Evil came and they had the pieces of Robo Blaze.

Me: Boy Sora did a number on you.

Robo Blaze: He sure did.

Lucy Loud: (to Robo Blaze) I thought you couldn't access your Crimson Ranger form since you're no longer an Avatar.

Robo Blaze: Vypra actually made it possible for me to us both of my Ranger forms.

Electro: With a little extra help from me.

Me: Wow.

Steel: That's nice. So, when are we going to fight Robo Roxy?

Bane: Have patience. You'll fight her when it's her turn.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: This was an awesome adventure.

Nico: It sure was.

Lucy Loud: (To the viewers) Loggers beware because we'll be looking for you and stopping you.

Me: Yep. Now that Logging and Clear-Cutting has been officially outlaw, nature can start replenishing the lands.

Laney: And I'll get a head start.

Laney touched the ground and regrew all the trees that were cut down. We were forever indebted by the Zimbatti Tribe.

THE END

Another awesome Jonny Quest chapter done.

Dark Sentinel was one of my favorite episodes in The Real Adventures of Jonny Quest and it was awesome! NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this one. Thanks guys. Next up is the Kids Next Door mission Operation: PINK-EYE and we're going to hunt down Nurse Claiborne and bring her to justice for using Pink Eye Crust as a topping in her Apple Crumble. YUCK!

See you all tomorrow.

The Case of the Apple Crumble Pink-Eye

[Scene opens to the skyline of the city]

Varie: (Narrating) This is the city. Gotham Royal York, Michigan. The largest city in the world and the most populated city in America's Heartland. It's a plant city and a vast mega metropolis where man and beast live side by side and one with nature. It's a nice place to live. But in a nice city like this, there is always its dangers. A city like this is always crawling with criminal scum. Murderers, rapists, thieves, robbers and psychopaths, any kind of crime you can think of. That's why this city always has its protectors.

The next scene shows the estate.

Varie: (Narrating) This is our home. Team Loud Phoenix Storm Estate, home to the most powerful force of justice the entire universe has ever seen: Team Loud Phoenix Storm. Yes it's our nice home. Sure it had its ups and downs. But it's our home nonetheless.

The next scene shows Gotham Royal York Elementary School.

Varie: (Narrating) This is our elementary school. Gotham Royal York Elementary. It is here that one of the most unusual and most appalling of cases we've ever investigated happened here. Let me tell you how it all happened by starting at the beginning.

The next scene shows an awesome office that had a door that said "Detective Varie M. Knudson, Private Investigator" and it also had the symbol of Team Loud Phoenix Storm above it.

Varie: (Narrating) This is where it all started, my office. It's actually in my room.

We then see Varie sitting in her chair reading a book while blowing bubbles from a bubble pipe.

Varie: (Narrating) That's me right there. My name is Varie M.

Knudson, Fiancé of the world famous J.D. Knudson - Leader of Team Loud Phoenix Storm, and I'm also a Private Eye and Detective. I have many jobs all over the city. I'm the principal of P.S.118, head nurse at Sunset Canyon Retirement Home, chief healer for the team and now I'm a Private Eye Detective. I've been wanting to get into the mystery solving business ever since we joined the adventures of Mystery Inc. My day was going like any other day. Until it was time for another girls night out.

Varie: (Watch Beeps) Oh it's time for another awesome Girls Night Out.

Varie got up and left her office.

Varie went downstairs and got ready.

Lori: This is literally gonna be so fun.

Laney: It sure is.

Leni: Totes.

Numbuh 5: Numbuh 5 is always looking forward to this.

Numbuh 362: Same here.

Lana: Yeah!

After getting ready, they went to the door.

Me: Have fun girls.

Varie: We will honey.

Lola: See you in a few hours.

Crumplezone: Some of us Transformers and robots are going with them too.

Nico: Okay. Have fun.

They left and went to the mall.

The scene shows the outside of Gotham Royal York mall.

Varie: (Narrating) Our Girls Night Out was at the mall. We were gonna go on an awesome shopping spree to start it out.

The girls went to all kinds of awesome stores all over the mall. They had a lot of bags full of candy, toys, clothes, jewelry and more.

Varie: (Narrating) Yes we had a lot of fun shopping. But as we were heading to our next stop, the restaurant, we came across a sad an unpleasant sight.

Varie gasped.

Luna Loud: What is it dude?

Varie: Look over there.

They saw a little girl no older than about 7 years old and she had blond hair and green eyes and she had tattered clothes. She had a torn up red shirt and she had torn up jeans and walking in bare feet and she had a jar of money with her.

Varie: Poor girl.

Lori: She's so young.

Donna: Poor thing. Lets help her.

They went over to her.

Varie: Are you all right?

Girl: I think so. I'm just really hungry.

Bounce Man: What's your name, little girl?

Girl: I'm Lizzy!

Varie: It's a pleasure to meet you Lizzy. You can come with us so we can get you some food.

Lizzy: Oh thank you!

Molly Molloy: We should get you back to the estate.

Lizzy: Good idea.

They went back home.

Cybertron Crumplezone: Do you have any parents we can contact?

Lizzy: No I don't. My parents are dead.

They gasped.

Lola: Oh no.

Varie: Lizzy I'm so sorry.

Donna: How did your parents die?

Lizzy: I lost them in a fire.

Lana: Oh man.

Lola: That's awful.

Laney: Yeah.

Trailbreaker: Donna I think you should have the honor of adopting Lizzy.

Donna: I was just gonna suggest that. Lizzy, I'm going to adopt you and you can live with me and Leslie.

Lizzy: You would do that for me?

Donna: I sure would.

Lizzy: Oh Donna!

She hugged her and cried happily.

Everyone: Aww.

Varie: (Narrating) Yes Donna became the happiest woman ever by adopting Lizzy. Poor girl.

They got back to the estate and we got Lizzy some new clothes got her cleaned up. She had a relaxing bath and she was clean. We got her a yellow tank top with key on it and she had a really nice charm bracelet with keys on it and she had a pair of blue shorts and blue sandals. She also had a yellow Hair bow in her hair. We got her some spaghetti and a couple of sandwiches. She was really hungry.

---

Later everyone was at Gotham Royal York Elemental School.

Varie: (Narrating) The day at school started like any other day. Lizzy was now in Lana & Lola's class and she was now part of the School Yearbook Club. She was always gonna help us whenever needed. But as Mrs. Johnson was giving her lessons, that's when we heard it.

Numbuh 86: (Offscreen) (Scottish Accent) HEEEEEEEEEEEEELLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLPPPPPP!

Varie: That sounds like Numbuh 86!

The girls all went to the halls and found a bunch of kids standing around.

A kid wearing a detective outfit named Joe Balooka came.

Joe Balooka: All right, all right, everybody get back to your classes. Nothing to see here.

Varie: (Narrating) The big shot hall monitor was Joe Balooka. He has been on the Gallagher Elementary School Detective Force for as long as anyone can remember. He's a bad cop and a worse friend to Numbuh 2. And he should know because he was his partner before he signed up for the Kids Next Door.

Numbuh 2: What do ya know Joe?

Joe Balooka: Hoagie Gilligan? I thought I told all civilians to go back to class. That means you.

Varie: We heard a scream and came to help.

Aylene: Team Loud Phoenix Storm business.

Numbuh 2: And just thought we'd keep you company. You know, for old times sake.

Joe Balooka: Hmm. Suit yourselves. But it ain't pretty. Couple of kids heard the scream and alerted the office.

Numbuh 86 was laying on the floor and she had a chalk body outline around her.

Joe Balooka: This is what we found.

He pushed her with his foot and turned her over and they saw that Numbuh 86 had a pick eye and gross eye crust all over her face.

Numbuh 2: Pink eye!

Varie: Ew!

Lola: Yuck!

Joe Balooka: Yep. Someone has been loading their water balloons with the stuff.

Varie: Whoever did this is in a lot of trouble.

Numbuh 2: Poor Numbuh 86. (In his head) I'm sensing deja vu here.

Joe Balooka: You know the victim?

Numbuh 2: She was in my office 5 minutes ago.

Lola: His alibi checks out. And he is speaking the truth.

Joe Balooka: I see.

?: GANG WAY! GANG WAY!

A woman in a nurse outfit came and she had a cart. It was NURSE CLAIBORNE!

---

Nurse Claiborne is the former nurse at Gallagher Elementary School and a recurring villain of the KND.

In Operation: P.I.N.K.-E.Y.E., when the students of the school began falling to a mysterious epidemic of Pinkeye and Numbuh 2 investigated the case, he discovered that Nurse Claiborne was responsible, using bacteria-infested water balloons that her hired associate Joe Balooka helped to use against the students. She was harvesting the Pinkeye crust from the victims and using it as the topping for her crumble surprise to increase her profits at local bake sales. When Numbuh 2 fought her, she gained the upper hand until Joe, whom she had betrayed and shot when he was about to reveal who hired him, shoots her back. Claiborne subdued Joe, but Numbuh 2 informed her that he had used the distraction to call the rest of Sector V for reinforcements. In a last-ditch effort, Nurse Claiborne declared that they'd never take her and shot herself point-blank in the face with her Pinkeye gun. When Numbuh 2 opened his eyes, he saw a shell of crust in Nurse Claiborne's shape which then crumbled to dust; somehow, she had formed the shell as a diversion. Her gloating laughter drew Numbuh 2's attention to the rafters where she was running away. She escaped successfully, and said that Numbuh 2 hadn't seen the last of her.

Afterwards, the KND revealed to everyone the truth of her Pinkeye Operation, resulting in Nurse Claiborne losing her job and having no success in gaining another one anywhere in the country.

She eventually returned as the main antagonist in Operation: H.O.M.E., where she is revealed to be running the Rainbow Monkey Retirement Home, a front used for making Rainbow Monkey dolls into Rainbow Munchies cereal, which significantly improved the taste. Numbuh 3 and Numbuh 5 uncovered her plan and defeated her, and then forced her to mend all of the Rainbow Monkeys back together.

---

Nurse Claiborne: Oh my! Will you just look at that.

She picked up Numbuh 86.

Nurse Claiborne: Poor dears case is spreading. Now don't you worry missy. Nurse Claiborne knows just what to do with you.

Lana: Hello Nurse Claiborne. Good batch of crumbles this week.

Nurse Claiborne: Thank you Lana.

Lana: Really good stuff.

Nurse Claiborne: Thank you. But you better be careful now. We don't want your P.I. to turn into a Pink-Eye. (Laughs)

They laughed.

Varie: Good one.

Nurse Claiborne: You guys have a good day. I must see to Fanny here. She must be the 13th case this week.

Numbuh 2: A bakers dozen of victims eh?

Maria: Who do you think is giving all these students pinkeye?

Lana: No idea. But it's not good.

Carmen: Something is definitely up here.

Varie: We better do some heavy investigating.

They walked around and searched for clues.

Varie: (Narrating) That's how it began. Someone has been poisoning kids by splashing them with water balloons spiked with Pink-Eye. But the question is how in the world did someone get pink eye mucus? It wasn't hard to get this time of year. Especially when allergy season is now in full swing. But whoever was doing this needed to be stopped. Also I had a very strong feeling that Numbuh 2 knows what is going on.

Numbuh 2: I have a strong feeling I know who is behind this. Follow me.

They went to Nurse Claiborne's office and saw that she wasn't in there and neither was Numbuh 86.

Varie: Hey where are all the Pink-Eye cases?

Numbuh 2: (Points to a room) In there probably.

Varie: I hear a voice.

They put their ears up to the door and they heard Nurse Claiborne laughing malevolently.

Nurse Claiborne: My Pink-Eye operation is going smoothly! Soon there will be enough cases of pink-eye for the eye crust I need to make my world famous apple crumble surprise and I will be rich beyond my wildest dreams! (Laughs Malevolently!)

Numbuh 2: So that means we've been eating!

Carmen: You mean to say that Apple Crumple is made out of eye crust?! Gross!

Maria: Oh that is disgusting!

Varie: This woman is seriously fucked up to the core!

Numbuh 2: EEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEWWWWWWW! (SPITS)

Lana: (Eats crumble) I like it.

Lily: Figures you would Lana.

Lola: That's Lana for you.

Varie: We have to stop her!

Lana: Wait. I hear two more voices.

They heard that Vypra and Waffle Woman were with her.

Nurse Claiborne: Team Loud Phoenix Storm is coming to stop me.

Vypra: We'll help you.

Waffle Woman: Yeah.

Varie: That's Vypra and Waffle Woman. Lets get them.

In the room, Nurse Claiborne was laughing malevolently. Suddenly they heard the hypnotic singing of mermaids.

Vypra: Is that mermaid singing?

Waffle Woman: It sure is.

Suddenly the door busted open and in came a massive wave of water and Mermaids appeared as they sang and in on surfboards came Varie and everyone else.

Varie: Yeah!

Numbuh 2: YEE HAW!

They landed in front of them.

Varie: That was a good entrance.

Vypra: That was a good one. Usually you guys bust in with a fiery explosion and a phoenix cry.

Varie: We're experimenting with entrances. We're trying different elemental forces and mythological creatures to add variety to them.

Waffle Woman: Ah variety is the spice of life.

Tara: It sure is.

Luan: Only two of you today?

Vypra: Actually, you'll still be fighting three of us.

Waffle Woman: The third one's coming right now.

In a beam of purple light appeared ROBO ROXY!

---

The avatar Roxy was an evil "clone" of the original Roxy, who was created by Evox to serve as one of his general. She was a corrupted version of what would have been if Roxy was the intended Yellow Ranger. She is first created as a digital avatar and later as a robot.

Despite being merely a secondary antagonist, Roxy's double served as the main antagonist of the episodes "Digital Deception", "Target Tower", "Golden Opportunity," "Goin' Ape", and "Fossil Frenzy."

After Evox infiltrated the Grid Battleforce, an avatar of Roxy is created. She and the avatar form of Blaze battle the Rangers but the Rangers teleport her and Blaze to a different dimension.

Roxy and Blaze arrive in the Cyber Dimension and meet Scrozzle. He sends his Tronics to fight them but Evox arrives and destroys them and forced him to submit. Scrozzle becomes the third general of Evox. Roxy learns that Scrozzle hid for escape from a robot named Vargoyle. When Blaze and Scrozzle go on Earth to take more of Morph X, Roxy stays in the Cyber Dimension and wishes to them good luck as she smiled.

Roxy and Blaze plan to steal Morph-X from the new X Bikes with Needletron. She stores them in a warehouse where she ambushes the Rangers after they follow Blaze there on the X Bikes. She tells Blaze to teleport the Morph X and that she will follow with the rest of it once she deals with the Rangers. Ravi goes to fight the Needledrone and Devon goes to help him so she battles Zoey one on one. She hits the Morph X in a X Bike which starts to spark, and Zoey throws it at an explosive oil, which blows up, leading to her having to retreat.

On Valentine's Day, Roxy decides to manipulate Ravi and obtain the Neural Aligner. She created Shoveltron when she infected an excavator. During the battle against Ravi, Roxy threw some objects causing him to fall. Roxy then started her plan by pretending to protect Ravi and called Shoveltron back. Then, she sees Ravi where him and the real Roxy meet for the first time. Later, Ravi thinking that he can save Roxy because she said that she succeeds to free from Evox's control. But in reality, Shoveltron holds Ravi in his grasp while Roxy attempts to the stolen Neural Aligner to create an evil avatar of Ravi. But Roxy's had failed after Zoey and Devon came to his aid. Then, Scrozzle says to Roxy to come back to the Cyber Dimension with the Neural Aligner saying that it will be useful to him. After Roxy's defeat and Shoveltron as well as Shoveldrone's destructions, Scrozzle speaks with Evox about a special plan where Evox wins a body and goes on Earth. Scrozzle precises that this plan does not include Blaze and Roxy but the two ignore that Roxy and Blaze hid have heard all.

Roxy is sent with Meltatron to find Slicerdrone. They succeed then reboot and free him. She fights the Rangers and orders to Meltatron to finish them before return in the Cyber Dimension. But Meltatron will be destroyed by Ravi and Zoey, then Slicerdrone and Meltadrone by the Beast-X Megazord.

Roxy and Blaze create Railtron when they infect a tank locomotive. They send after the Beast Bots and steals their data so that Scrozzle can control the Beast X Megazord, but the plan fails. The Rangers destroy Railtron and Raildrone. But Scrozzle informs Roxy and Blaze that he finally built his Cybergate for that Evox returns on Earth and takes over the Morphin Grid, Scrozzle laughs while Roxy and Blaze smile.

Vacuutron is sent to steal more Morph X to power up Scrozzle's Cybergate and free Evox of the Cyber Dimension. Scrozzle sends soon after Vacuudrone to steal more Morph X from the Morph-X tower. Vacuudrone is destroyed by the Beast X Megazord but Scrozzle, Blaze and Roxy are about to free Evox, having captured Nate, the ally of the Rangers to build a robotic body for their master. Evox begins to possess it but the plan fails, Nate succeeds to destroy the Cyber Gate, sends back Evox in the Cyber Dimension and becomes the Gold Ranger, his partner Steel who becomes the Silver Ranger. Scrozzle retreats while the new two Rangers destroy the Tronics and defeat easily Roxy and Blaze who retreat at their turn.

After Steel hands himself over to Evox's forces (Roxy, Blaze and Tronics) in exchange for Ben and Betty's release, Scrozzle repairs his Cybergate, then along with Roxy and Blaze wait Evox's arrival. Evox emerges from the Cybergate again and tries to take possession of Steel's body. He fails, however, because Steel has human DNA (specifically Nate's DNA). Steel summons his Striker Saber and destroys the Cybergate, forcing Evox back into the Cyber Dimension once more, Scrozzle retreats along with Roxy and Blaze.

Frustrated over this latest defeat, Evox complains to Scrozzle that Blaze and Roxy are continuing to fail. Scrozzle offers to upgrade one of the Avatars with all three of the Rangers' Beast powers. He shows Evox three data chips that can be placed on Robotrons and will collect the necessary data whenever a Ranger uses their Beast power. Evox tasks Blaze and Roxy with gathering this data, promising to give the upgrade to his most powerful servant. Roxy volunteers to go first. Though she succeeds in collecting data on Ravi's Gorilla strength, she fails to defeat the Rangers or collect Morph-X, Drilltron and Drilldrone are destroyed, so Evox sends Blaze to gather the next set of data.

Blaze attacks the Rangers with the Tronics and tries to collect the Beast Powers but fails and Devon destroys the Robotronizer. Blaze implores Evox that he orders him to disappear from his sight or he destroys him. Roxy is happy of fate of her rival and prepares a new plan to defeat the Rangers. She demands a virus to destroy to Scrozzle after he uses his technology to repair the Robotronizer. Then, Roxy goes on Earth and creates Tooltron to destroy the Ranger's weapons so she could earn the upgrade she and Blaze desired. Tooltron succeeded in collecting data on the Jackrabbit jumping of the Yellow Ranger before his destruction. After Tooltron's destruction, Scrozzle sends Tooldrone but he is destroyed by the Rangers.

Roxy stays in the Cyber Dimension, Blaze creates Clonetron. He hopes that Clonetron will destroy the Zord computer with his Clone morphing but he is unmasked by Steel. Scrozzle sends Clonedrone while Clonetron fights Yellow and Blue Rangers, but they are destroyed by the Rangers.

Roxy creates Tubatron when she infected Joey's discarded golden tuba with the robotron creation key. After proving ineffective in his first battle, Roxy later had Scrozzle upgrade his horn, which was tested on Blaze. While Tubatron succeeded in collecting data on the Red Ranger's cheetah speed, the chip was shot and fried before it was retrieved. Tubatron was destroyed shortly after. After Tubatron's destruction, Scrozzle sends Tubadrone but he is destroyed by the Rangers.

Roxy stays in the Cyber Dimension, whereas Blaze goes on Earth with his evil creation Tubatron 2.0 who becomes stronger with a Fury Cell. Tubatron 2.0 overpowers all 5 rangers in battle. He also managed to knock Devon back in Red Fury Mode. But after an other fierce fight, Tubatron 2.0 is destroyed. After Tubatron 2.0's destruction, Scrozzle sends Tubadrone 2.0 but he is destroyed too by the Rangers.

Roxy creates Burnertron to collect the final Beast Power Data. Nate and Steel destroy Burnertron for good. However, the data chip was still intact and Roxy later retrieved it. Scrozzle sends Burnerdrone but he is destroyed by the Rangers.

Eventually, Vargoyle located Scrozzle in the Cyber Dimension and confronted him. He was furious to learn that the last four Fury Cells had been lost, and when Scrozzle blamed Blaze and Roxy, Vargoyle attacked the two avatars. Evox appeared and stopped the fight. After Scrozzle explained Vargoyle's backstory, Evox asked Vargoyle to work for him, offering to reward him with the Beast powers upgrade Scrozzle had recently developed. Vargoyle agreed to the deal, though Blaze and Roxy felt betrayed, since Evox had originally promised one of them the upgrade. Blaze and Roxy fight the Rangers a first time with Turbotron. But Turbotron and Turbodrone are destroyed, and Blaze and Roxy retreat. Back in the Cyber Dimension, Evox was pleased that Vargoyle had collected so much Morph-X. He rewarded Vargoyle with the Beast powers upgrade. Vargoyle thanked Evox and vowed to use his new powers to destroy Evox's enemies. Outraged at being denied the upgrade, Blaze and Roxy decided to team up to get rid of Vargoyle.

As Vargoyle is finishing telling Evox his plan to get him the Morph-X he needs to return to Earth, Blaze and Roxy walk it, ready to show Evox their designs for a Memory Pulsator, only for Vargoyle to reveal that he's already built their device with Scrozzle's help. Incensed, Blaze accuses Scrozzle of sharing their plans with Vargoyle, something which Scrozzle tries to deny, but Vargoyle confirms. Before the argument can escalate, Evox interrupts and says that if Vargoyle was clever enough to steal Blaze and Roxy's plan, then he's smart enough to execute that plan. Scrozzle sends Shockatron to Earth at the same time that Shockadrone was deployed as part of Vargoyle's plan to distract the Rangers while he put his Memory Pulsator in place. Although both Shockatron and Shockadrone were destroyed, Vargoyle succeeded in planting the Memory Pulsator on the Channel 10 TV station's transmitter tower.

Vargoyle used Scrozzle's Robotron-Maker to activate the Pulsator, which rewrote the memories of everyone in Coral Harbor, including the human Rangers, so that they forgot about Evox's previous attacks and believed that Blaze and Roxy were the actual Red and Yellow Beast Morphers Rangers. In Grid Battleforce, evil Roxy sabotages Roxy's pod, then along with Blaze steal the mega transporters. Steel destroys the Pulsator and the Rangers retrieve theirs memories but too late, Blaze and Roxy flee with the mega transporters in front of them. Later, when Vargoyle fights Devon, he remarks that his Beast Power is almost discharged and asks to Scrozzle more Morph-X. Scrozzle replies that he has enough to use the Cheetah's speed and that he will send it more if he says please. At this moment, Blaze appears with Roxy and takes him the Morph-X. Scrozzle replies that Vargoyle has needed of Morph-X or he will be destroyed but Blaze and Roxy smile meaning that they wish and Scrozzle join their choice. Blaze and Roxy become again Evox's favorites after they success to steal the mega transporters to start Evox's endgame.

Scrozzle informs Blaze and Roxy that the Rangers have retrieved the Mega Transporters that they have stolen. Considering the Tronics as useless, Blaze orders to Scrozzle to send a Gigadrone to distract the Rangers so that him and Roxy retake and use three stolen mega-transporters to teleport the Morph-X tower to the Cyber Dimension. The Rangers divides : Ravi takes the Mega Transporters while the others fight the Gigadrone. Seeing that, Roxy says that she knows what to do, Blaze and Scrozzle watch her leave them confused. Roxy baited Ravi away, (because her sabotage of the real deal's stasis pod prevented the awakening), so that Blaze could retake the transporters. During the fight, Ravi destroys Roxy's morpher, destroying her armor and preventing her to flee. Ravi uses his Beast X Blaster, The Roxy Avatar tries to shoot him but Ravi is not affected because his body is overheated and evil Roxy was disarmed and ultimately destroyed by Ravi by four other shots. She can only scream before exploding. When the real Roxy awoke from her coma, she revealed she had all the avatar's memories, telling them all about Evox's master plan.

Upon Evox's return, he commands Scrozzle to create generals for him. With help from Trappertron, Scrozzle temporarily captures Blaze and Roxy to scan their DNA. Using this, along with backup datas of the avatars and robot spare parts, he resurrects the former doppelgangers in new, expendable robot bodies, with a machine at the ready to keep repeating the process every time they are destroyed. The doppelgangers receive new Ranger forms with Robo-Roxy assuming a violet-colored robot form. She and Blaze attacked the city with some Tronics, shocking the Rangers, but were quickly destroyed by the Beast-X Ultra Blaster, Ravi and Zoey's Beast-X Blasters and Nate and Steel's Striker Morphers. Like Scrozzle promised however, they returned as robots.

He and Robo Roxy attack the Riptide gym where Devon is battling a girl in a video game competition. They steal her console and summon Tronics. Roxy creates Gamertron and they battle the Rangers. After beating them, they teleport away.

He and Robo Roxy are snooping around the back of Grid Battleforce and he finds a lock and key. They create Keytron and he breaks into Grid Battleforce. They teleport away. Later, they watch as Scrozzle gives Keytron a human form.

While Evox is away, Scrozzle creates Digitron, though the pair don't think much of him. He is sent to steal tech and power up. He steals Cruise and returns. Blaze and Roxy send him back. After he is destroyed, they inform Evox of Scrozzle's failure.

They get a hand puppet for Scrozzle and creates Controlatron. They take him to Grid Battleforce and Blaze puts a puppet to get Cole under Controlatrons Spell. Cole gives Nate a puppet and Nate is infected. They leave. Controlatron takes Nate to the Crystal Dimension and Controlatron makes Nate write some coding. Despite succeeding, Evox berates the robots.

Scrozzle creates a dart to take over the Beast-X King Zord. The pair infect the Zord.

As part of Evox's plan to kill Devon at an international sporting event, Blaze and Roxy created Boxertron in order to accomplish this but he was taken out by the new Beast-X King Ultrazord.

In light of Mayor Daniels being revealed as Evox, Commander Shaw began to drain the Morph-X out of all the towers to return it to the Morphin Grid. Realising that without the Morph-X they would be unable to create Robotrons or send Gigadrones, Scrozzle's computer intercepted the transmission so Evox had Blaze and Roxy go to Earth to get whatever was left. They then created Bulldozertron to act as a distraction by attacking a Morph-X Tanker and distract the Rangers so Blaze, Roxy, and thier Tronics could steal the Morph-X. Nate and Steel decided to attack them whilst the others fought the Robotron, quickly being overwhelmed by the sheer numbers. Having taken down the duo, Blaze and Roxy nearly escaped with the Tronics on the Tanker but Steel destroyed them and the Tanker with his Striker Beast Blast. Instead of reviving them, Scrozzle sent down Bulldozerdrone which was destroyed. Evox was later freed from Mayor Daniels using Split Emitters.

Scrozzle eventually revived them after Ryjack teamed up thier army and were shocked to find out that Vargoyle returned. This ultimately did not come to matter since he was destroyed later on in the same episode.

Blaze and Roxy were present when Evox announced his attention to betray Ryjack and steal his weapons for their benefit.

After Scrozzle detected the destruction of Ryjack's ship (caused by Zoey accidentally setting off the self-destruct sequence) Evox sent Blaze and Roxy to steal the arsenal and Scrozzle gave them the reanimizer he stole from the now deceased Ryjack to recreate some Ranger enemies to assist them. They went to the wreckage whilst Zoey was unconscious and they found Snide's sword amongst the wreckage. Recognizing it and how strong its former owner was, Blaze stuck it in the ground whilst Roxy used the reanimizer on it.

They then convinced him that they were allies and all three hid once Zoey woke up. Whilst the Rangers rounded up the weapons and put Keeper in a truck, they resurrected some Vivix off-screen and the henchmen kidnapped Keeper by driving off in the truck. A chase then ensued which concluded with the Rangers brawling against the Vivix in a car park before the Dino Charge Rangers appeared through a portal and aided them in battle. However, Snide was able to convince Keeper to come with them thanks to a compliance collar Zoey had used on him by mistake and they teleported away before the Rangers could interfere.

Robo-Roxy present with the villains when they considered which villain was best to revive since they needed them to be strong enough to destroy the Rangers. Robo-Roxy is the one who often reveals backfire outcomes if they revive one of the candidate villains:

Scrozzle has two choices:

First one was Koragg, The Knight Wolf, but Robo-Roxy confirms Koragg was already been purified back into Leanbow and becoming a redeemed Power Ranger.

Robo-Roxy end up repeating a same mistake as Scrozzle's first choice when she chose Astronema, as Robo-Blaze, such as being purified into Karone and becoming a redeemed Ranger just like Leanbow after her, much to Robo-Roxy's disgust.

The last one was Lord Zedd, until Robo-Roxy reminds everyone of what he did to King Mondo's family, fearing he would possibly betray Evox and the rest once revived, much to Scrozzle's surprise, and Robo-Roxy is very disappoint about this.

Robo-Blaze chose Psycho Red, but she reminds him if they revive Psycho Red, he would betray his own allies if they ever interfere his obsessed hunt on Red Rangers, leaving Robo-Blaze have no choice to debunk his choice.

They eventually decided upon Goldar so Scrozzle infused the reanimator with crystals and resurrected him as Goldar Maximus who swiftly killed Sledge.

After the failure of Goldar and the Chimera Zord, Roxy ambushed Nate and Steel in a plaza and was able to steal some DNA packs which she then took back to Scrozzle to create more powerful Robotrons and enhance her. He created Clawtron from some beetle DNA and then had the Robot Maker enhance her with powerful flower DNA. She and Clawtron then went to Earth with the mission to destroy the Rangers. She revealed her new form to the Rangers who were shocked. They tried to morph but were unable to because the teleporter for their Morphers was busted so they had to fight unmorphed but both Roxy and Clawtron easily overwhelmed them. However, before they could kill the Rangers, Nate arrived on Cruise with their weapons and they were able to morph. Steel had to leave to fight Clawdrone but the others remained and fought Roxy and her Robotron with Devon and Nate fighting Clawtron and the others fighting her. She was able to continue fighting until after Clawdrone was destroyed where Ravi knocked her back. She opened her arms to finish them off but Steel, Nate, and Devon (the latter two having gone to help him after Clawtron's death) arrived in jeeps with the Beast-X King Ultra Cannon. They then combined the Ultra Cannon Blast and Striker Beast Blast to cripple her. However, she was able to retreat before they could finish her off.

Sometime later, Evox was angry because he was being commonly defeated by the Rangers and all he had as support were "three useless bots who do nothing but fail!" Roxy promised to kill Ravi to prove herself to be valuable with her request being granted.

She ambushed Ravi and Smash at the beach where the former had gone to mope about being rejected by Roxy and the latter came to comfort him. He morphed and they battled but she gained the upper hand and managed to elbow him into the sea. In spite of that, Ravi equipped his Beast-X Visor and activated Beast-X Mode before fighting her. He activated his massive fist for the Gorilla Slam but she kicked him hard enough to disengage it and Roxy blasted him down, forcing him out of Beast-X Mode and separating him from Smash. He tried to use his Beast-X Blaster on her but she deflected them and tried to kill him with fire but Zoey rescued him. In spite of that, the heat from the initial blast of fire enraged him which led Devon to fight her alone whilst the others cooled off Ravi. They were evenly matched until Nate and Steel (Ravi and Zoey having been airlifted to Grid Battleforce by the Chopper Zord) arrived and kicked her down, forcing her to retreat as she was outnumbered.

Back in the Crystal Dimension, she received substantial mocking and ridicule from Evox and Blaze for failing to keep her word. Evox wanted to punish her but Roxy pointed out that she may have defeated him if not for the other Rangers interfering. Agreeing to give her one more chance, Evox sent Blaze along with her to keep everyone except for Ravi from interfering. The duo ambushed Ravi in the woods whilst he was freaking out about the thought of losing Roxy where Ravi (still enraged and overheated) dodged a shot from Roxy and shot at them with his own blaster which they dodged and angrily morphed with Ravi following suit. Ordering Blaze to act as protection from the other Rangers, she took him down with more energy fire and then duelled him. Whilst the others battled Blaze and his Tronics, destroying all of them and Blaze, Ravi and Roxy managed to fight their way onto a bridge where he knocked her down but couldn't finish her since Zoey intervened and he tried to kill her with a Beast-X Blast. He tried to shoot her in the face but she forced it away in a circle, the attacks collapsing the bridge and dumping them in a river. She recovered and tried to find Ravi but he appeared with the Beast-X Spin Saber and finished her off with a series of blue energy slashes.

Roxy watched Blaze return to the Crystal Dimension with Antennatron 2.0 and was amused when she realised that the Rangers had bested him. After he came up with the excuse of training, Scrozzle pointed out how out of character it was for him and Blaze insulted her with Scrozzle joining in so she storms off. Later, when Robo-Blaze returns more stronger after defeating the Rangers and to steal Morph-X for Evox, winning his favors, Robo-Roby suspectes that his rival hides something and pledges to discover it.

But she will not have time for this. In light of Blaze's success in stealing a lot of Morph-X thanks to his new powers, Roxy was becoming less useful to Evox so she knew she had to prove herself otherwise he would probably kill her. She later confronted Scrozzle alone and had him scan Hono Peaks for dinosaur fossils after reading a newspaper and she found out that Zoey was there and confronted her. With Zoey being unable to call the others, since she had smashed her communicator whilst climbing the cliff face, Roxy was able to find and scan a bone using a DNA scanner but the others arrived in the Chopper Zord so she morphed and summoned Tronics before personally fighting Zoey. She was taken down by Zoey's Beast-X Blast but retrieved the DNA scanner and left.

She returned to the Crystal Dimension whilst the others were talking about unleashing an ultra powerful Gigadrone on the Rangers. She bet that she could kill the Rangers faster than Scrozzle could complete said Gigadrone and has Scrozzle upgrade her with dino DNA. However, the amount of power granted to her was too much for the robot maker to accept and it exploded, meaning now that no more robot bodies could be used as bases and any deaths from now on would be permanent. However, unlike Blaze who was outraged, Roxy was uncorcerned as she felt she could kill the Rangers before that could happen and he decided to prove her wrong so both teleported to Riptide.

They walked through the warehouse district until they encountered the Rangers who soon morphed with both Cybervillains following suit. She fought everyone except for Devon who fought Blaze and quickly overwhelmed them. They regrouped and attempted to perform an attack from behind with Nate and Steel laying covering fire but she used her tentacles to entangle Ravi and Zoey. However, they quickly broke free by activating Beast-X Mode which enabled them to snap the tentacles and they took her on again, overwhelming her with the Jackrabbit Spin Strike and Gorilla Slam. However, she was unfazed and grew into a gigantic Zord like creature so the Rangers had to deploy in thier Zords without Devon who was still fighting Blaze.

The Wrecker, Chopper, Wheeler, Beast-X King (with Ravi at the controls and Smash piloting his Zord alone), and Jet Zords all deployed to battle giant Roxy. With no time to waste, Ravi called for the Rangers to form the Beast-X King Ultrazord. However, she was too strong for even their most powerful Megazord so they engaged the shields although she flew into the air and fired a barrage of energy claws. However, the Ultrazord's shielding absorbed the attacks and sent the energy back in the form of a massive tornado which knocked her out of the sky. With her down, and the Robot

Maker destroyed, meaning that there would be no more robot bodies for her to enter, they finally finished Roxy off once and for all with the Beast-X King Ultra Strike.

Later, Robo-Blaze, pretending to be the real Blaze, brings in Robo-Roxy's memory drive, which is all that's left of her. Through it, the Rangers learn about Evox's ultimate plan, unaware that it's all part of a set-up.

Varie: Robo-Roxy!

Robo-Roxy: So you are the famous Varie Knudson that I was told about.

Vypra: That's her. But wait where is J.D. and everyone else?

Varie: We gave them a day off just for this mission. They'll be back next mission.

Then the all the Power Rangers appeared.

Devon: Robo Roxy!

Zoey Reeves: I had a feeling you would be here.

Varie: And she came here to become one of our arch enemies.

Ravi Shaw: I know you and Robo Blaze could be useful against the Royal Defenders. But give us one more good reason why we should keep you around after everything you tried to do to me!

Robo Roxy: Because me and Robo Blaze were the ones who branded our initials on Brad's arms.

Tara: Wait. That was you two?

Robo Roxy: Yep. During the hour that Dark and the others were beating Brad up, he called us to use a branding iron on Brad. And, well… you probably know the rest.

Steel: Ok. I guess that's a good reason for us to keep you around.

Varie: It sure is.

Lynn: Can I have that branding iron?

Robo-Roxy: You sure can.

She gave Lynn the branding iron.

?: That was a good beatdown.

A figure came out and it was FOOTZILLA from episode 23 of Ninja Storm!

---

Footzilla was summon by Marah and Kapri for their "extra credit" at school in Lothor's Lairship, after the Rangers (with the exception of Shane as both he and Sensei got there body's switch) had defeated all of the Kelzaks that Marah and Kapri had summoned, Footzilla was unleashed and he confronts the Power Rangers, the Rangers morphed and the Red Ranger (Sensei) took the battle with Footzilla himself, Footzilla was no match and was defeated by the combine team work of the Ninja Storm Rangers, he quickly retreated, he later returned in the Shopping District area with Marah and Kapri with a new power, being able to control gravity, he fought the Ninja Rangers again (only this time Dustin and Sensei got their body's switch) and managed to get the upper hand until the Thunder Rangers came in and join the battle, as well as the Green Samurai Ranger, unfortunately, Footzilla had manages to place his Anti Gravity Bunion Pads on all six Rangers, and he use his staff to make all of them go up in the air, he made the Red Ranger land hard into the ground and was mocking him until the Yellow Ranger distracted him with the Lion Hammer, after Shane Clarke uses his inner ninja to break free, he blasted the monster with his Hawk Blaster, but Footzilla wasn't finished yet, the Rangers combined their weapons to form the Thunderstorm Cannon and destroyed Footzilla. Footzilla grew large with the Scroll of Empowerment thanks to Marah and Kapri, and the Rangers summon the Thunderstorm Megazord to battle him, Footzilla then used the Anti Gravity Bunion

Pads on the Megazord and used the Heel Crushing Gravity Control to lift the Thunderstorm Megazord off the ground, but it wasn't enough, Footzilla was finale destroyed by the Thunderstorm Megazords Lion Blaster.

---

Shane Clarke: Footzilla!

Footzilla: Its been a while rangers.

Varie: I remember seeing you! You were sent to fight the rangers and you ended up getting Dustin and their sensei's bodies switched.

Footzilla: That's right. You are just like J.D.

Varie: Thanks.

Footzilla: (to Shane and Dustin): At least I'm fighting you two and not your sensei.

Shane: Wait. You knew that me and Dustin switched bodies with Sensei?!

Footzilla: I figured it out after I heard you two talking wise. I know that's not how you two usually talk.

Dustin: That's true.

?: Too true.

But then 5 figures came out and they stood in an awesome formation! They were the 4th Shadow Rider, THE DARK SCORPION BURGLARS!

---

In Yu-Gi-Oh! GX, they are brought to life by the power of the Shadow Charm. However, since they fail to obtain the keys in a Duel, they are unable to unlock the spirit gate of the Sacred Beasts. When Zaloog and his gang are discovered, he and Chazz Princeton duel with all the remaining keys on the line. In the end, he and his cohorts are defeated, and the power of his Shadow Charm is nullified. After reverting back to their spirit forms, the Dark Scorpions join the many weak monsters in Chazz's care, to the young duelist's annoyance. He never uses them however, and they haven't been seen since.

* * *

Alexis: The Dark Scorpion Burglars!

Chazz: Not you guys again!

Luna (5D's): Oh man!

Don Zaloog: That's right. So you all are the mighty Team Loud Phoenix Storm that we heard so much about.

Varie: That's right.

Chazz: Be careful guys. The Dark Scorpion Burglars are no laughing matter. They are the most notorious thieves in all of the Duel Monsters Spirit World.

Jaden: That's right. They posed as some of the staff of Duel Academy to get the keys to the spirit gates.

Alexis: Don Zaloog is the leader.

Chazz: We also have to face Chick the Yellow, Maenae the Thorn, Gorg the Strong and Cliff the Trap Remover.

Bastion: They are called the Dark Scorpion Burglars because of the Scorpion tattoo that they have on their arms.

Varie: I can see that and I can tell that these guys are no laughing matter.

Hannah Fairchild: And they must be affiliated with the Shadow Riders and they are here for the Sacred Beast Cards. They won't get then as long as I'm alive.

Don Zaloog: (to Hannah) Let's not make things complicated, Hannah. Just give me the Sacred Beasts and we'll let you continue your battles that you have coing on.

Chick: Kind of nice of you to bring them with you out in the open!

Hannah Fairchild: You can take them over my dead body. Oh wait. I already was dead.

Tuddrussel: (gives Zaloog a present) How about instead of the Sacred Beasts, you get this gift from me?

Don Zaloog: Thanks! I didn't know it was my birthday. (starts to open the present to reveal a bomb)

Tuddrussel: (pulls out detonator) Hasta la vista, dirtbag! (presses button but nothing happens)

Tuddrussel saw that Cliff had disarmed the bomb.

Cliff: Seriously? Did you think you were really going to blow us up with a bomb? I'm called the Trap Remover for a reason!

Maenae: Even Gorg's not that stupid.

Gorg: Yeah! (realizes something) Hey, wait a minute!

Varie: You guys REALLY don't mess around.

Sly Cooper: Looks like we have some competition.

Bentley: Except we're dealing with the most notorious thieves in all of the Duel Monsters Spirit World.

But then the 2 figures came out and they were the deadly ice skating houma MISHA & JANELLE!

---

Kunzite turned the two ice skaters, Misha and Janelyn, into the Youma in order to set up a trap to find out the identity of Sailor Moon. As "Misha" was testing the skaters in their skills, "Janelyn" was analyzing them on the computer to see if any of the girls matched their Senshi identities. Janelyn immediately elimated Usagi as a candidate without analyzing her as usagi was a complete klutz on the ice, but she saw Misha was giving Makoto special attention (not knowing her was testing her to see if she was Sailor Moon). In a fit of jealousy, she attacked Makoto and Misha, but made amends with him and the two skaters transformed into the Youma form. They attacked Makoto, but were confronted by Sailor Moon, and Tuxedo Mask (who while under Dark Kingdom control, chose to help Sailor Moon as he found the attack on civilians distasteful). Kunzite arrived and activated a contraption above the rink that threatened to freeze all the occupants, including the Youma and Tuxedo Mask. When Tuzedo Mask broke the contraption, Sailor Moon used Moon Healing Escalation, turning the Youma back into the two ice skaters.

---

Misha: Its been a long time Sailor Brats!

Janelle: Now you all will die!

Cornelia: Not if I have anything to say about it!

Shanan: Oh no! Cornelia be careful around them! Those two are the deadliest Ice Skaters in the universe! They are what's called Skatorikans.

Cornelia: Skatorikans?

Qin: What are the Skatorikans?

Shanan: They are the deadliest Ice Skaters in the universe. They come from the ice planet Skator and it's a frozen mountainous planet located 97,000 light years away from Earth. It's a frigid planet home to some of the most treacherous landscapes of any planet. It's known as the ultimate skating death rink. The Skatorikans are that deadly because their ice skating is the most lethal form of fighting and that's what makes them one of the most feared warriors in the entire galaxy.

Cornelia: I'll have to be careful.

Janelle: Now you all will die and your blood will stain the ground.

Misha: Yes.

Vypra: Fighting you guys is much better than eating crumble.

Claiborne: You three didn't eat those Apple Crumbles I gave you as gifts?!

Robo Roxy: Why would we want to eat food made out of diseases?

Vypra: Did you want us to get infected?

Waffle Woman: My waffles are better than what you make!

Noah: Your disgusting disease snack making days are over!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Dino Charge!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Dino Charge Rangers!

Suddenly the Kids Next Door smashed through the ceiling of the room and they landed by everyone.

Numbuh 1: Let us help you too.

The Tommy: You did good cracking this case, bro. But now, let us help you take care of the rest!

Numbuh 2: Thanks Tommy. Lets get them!

Rex Goodwin then appeared.

Rex Goodwin: Let me help too.

Varie: Thanks Rex.

They powered up and went at them!

---

Battle 1: Vypra

---

Luan, William and Shego were facing Vypra.

Vypra: Three on 1 this time.

Luan: Yeah we decided to include the members of the Redemption Squad for our fights as well.

Vypra: Good thinking. Lets dance.

She called out her Gliscor and her Murkrow.

Luan formed a sword of light and Shego formed a sword of green fire.

Luan: I sword you would learn more by now. (Laughs) Get it?

Vypra, William and Shego laughed.

Vypra: (Laughs) Good one Luan.

William: That was funny!

They went at Vypra and Luan and Vypra clashed and sparks were flying all over the place and Shego clashed as well and Vypra was putting up one helluva fight. William fired blasts of fire from his blaster and the blasts hit Vypra and exploded all over.

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMM!
KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

William then fired blasts of lightning at her pokemon and electrocuted them all over and knocked them out.

Luan: Lets see you take this on. SPARKLE STYLE NINJA ART: SHIMMER OF THE GLITTERFIRE!

Luan fired a wave of glitter and it formed into the Glitterfire creature from the world of Dungeons & Dragons.

---

Glitterfire is a living spell that combines a fireball spell with a glitterdust spell; a common strategy on the battlefield during the Last War to uncover invisible troops.

Glitterfire looks like a low cloud of bright, crackling motes of light that leaves small explosions in its wake. As it approaches its prey, it fires a blast of glitterdust, blinding its prey, as well as making them visible if they were invisible. It then engulfs the target, subjecting it to the intense flame of the fireball at its core.

Like all living spells, a glitterfire living spell has blindsight 60'; is immune to gaze attacks, mind-affecting spells and abilities, poison, sleep effects, paralysis, polymorph, and stunning; is not subject to extra damage from critical hits or flanking; and has resistances to damage and spells.

---

The glitterfire burned Vypra all over and exploded all over her.

KRABBOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOMMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOMM!

Vypra was knocked down.

Luan: That is one that Strikes out. (Laughs)

William: That was beautiful Luan.

Luan: Thanks William.

---

Battle 2: Waffle Woman

Tara, Aeleus and Roxas were facing Waffle Woman.

Tara: This is gonna be a good fight.

Waffle Woman: Yes it will.

Aeleus: Shall we do this?

Waffle Woman: Lets.

She called out her Magmortar.

Roxas: Lets do it.

Tara formed a sword of rock and Aeleus and Roxas summoned their weapons and they went at Waffle Woman and engaged her in a deadly sword fight. They clashed with her all over and knocked her around all over.

Tara: Try beating this creature. EARTH STYLE NINJA ART: BRUTALITY OF THE BLACK ROCK TRISKELION!

Tara punched the ground and a huge creature of rock came out. It was the Earth Avatar of Elemental Evil, the Black Rock Triskelion!

---

Battle 3: Robo-Roxy

Akiza, Valon and Tania were facing Robo-Roxy.

Akiza: This is my first time dealing with someone like you so don't hold back.

Robo-Roxy: I won't.

Robo-Roxy called out her pokemon. It was a Roserade.

Valon: (Australian Accent) Good Pokemon choice mate.

Robo-Roxy: Thank you.

Akiza: I summon BLACK ROSE DRAGON!

She summoned her Black Rose Dragon!

Robo-Roxy: (sees Black Rose Dragon) Nice! You'd give Ryjack a run for his money!

Akiza: I'm sure I would.

Valon: I have a nice armor transformation for you.

He summoned his armor monsters and activated FULL ARMOR GRAVITATION! He was now in his armor suit.

Tania: Wow! That is an impressive suit.

Valon: Thanks mate.

Tania summoned all her Amazoness monsters.

Akiza then spread her wings and formed a sword of roses.

Robo Roxy: Lets dance.

Robo-Roxy transformed into her Violet Ranger Bot Form and they went at Robo-Roxy and they clashed violently with her and massive thunderous shockwaves were being emitted all around the area and Akiza slashed her all over and Valon punched her all over the place and Tania and the Amazoness monsters slashed and smashed her all over.

Robo Roxy: Ok. You're pretty strong. But are you strong to beat this?

Robo Roxy transformed into her yellow colored Avatar Ranger form.

Akiza went at her and slashed her all over and they viciously punched her and her Roserade all over.

Akiza: Try this one. DARKNESS STYLE NINJA ART: POISON BREATH OF THE BLACK DRAGON!

Chazz: Since you guys are Duel Monsters, we're gonna make this interesting and fight you with our fists.

Brittney: This is gonna be awesome.

Sly Cooper: It sure is.

Don Zaloog: Lets dance.

Maenae: Lets dance.

Cliff: Yeah.

They went at the Dark Scorpion Burglars and Brittney punched Don Zaloog in the face and kicked Gorg in his stomach and Penelope and Bentley kicked and punched Cliff and Chick in their faces. Sly Cooper slashed them with his cane and Murray punched them all over with his fists and Chazz smashed them all over and Rex slashed them with his sword. They knocked the Dark Scorpion Burglars down and they turned into cards.

Chazz: Indeed.

---

Battle 7: Nurse Claiborne

Lana and Linka fired blasts of lightning and ice and electrocuted and froze her.

Lily and Lisa fired waves of water and energy and the blasts hit her all over and exploded.

Numbuh 1: Take this one! DARK MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: MIND FLAYER!

Numbuh 1 fired a wave of dark energy and it formed into the Mind Flayers of Dungeons & Dragons.

Mind flayers, also known as illithids, were evil and sadistic aberrations, feared by sentient creatures on many worlds across the multiverse due to their powerful innate psionic abilities. Dwellers of deep Underdark areas, these alien humanoid-looking beings sought to expand their dominion over all other creatures, controlling their minds to use them as hopeless slaves and devouring their brains for sustenance.

Their natural psionic abilities also made mind flayers respected in the eyes of the drow, beholders, duergar, and other dominant races of the Underdark.

Numbuh 2: You are a terrible chef! WOOD STYLE NINJA ART: OWLBEAR!

Numbuh 2 fired a wave of wood and it formed into the Owlbears of Dungeons & Dragons!

An owlbear was a large magical beast that looked like a cross between an owl and a bear.

Owlbears were monstrous beasts with the bodies of bears covered in thick fur and feathers. Their heads were like those of owls, but with a serrated beak.

Numbuh 3: FIRESTORM STYLE NINJA ART: DRAGON!

Numbuh 3 fired a wave of fire and it formed into a massive army of dragons.

Dragons were very powerful and magical creatures. There were several types of dragons, the most common of which were chromatic and metallic which were evil and good respectively. They were an ancient race. Few species that still exist can claim longer lineage. Dragons were the bane of the creator races of Toril; their line was so old, they had their own realm during the first recorded exploits of the elves. In recent times, the dragons of Toril were nearly all recluses or at the very least deceptive to their true nature, living amongst other species in polymorphed form.

Numbuh 4: DARK MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: BEHOLDER!

Numbuh 4 fired a wave of dark energy and it formed into a Beholder.

A beholder, sometimes called a sphere of many eyes or an eye tyrant, was a large aberration normally found in the Underdark. These large, orb-shaped beings had ten eyestalks and one central eye, each containing powerful magic. Powerful and intelligent, beholders were among the greatest threats to the world.

Beholders were immediately identifiable, being essentially a floating head with one single, cyclops-like eye surrounded by ten smaller eye stalks. Other than this, the main feature of a beholder's anatomy was its massive, gaping maw. Because of these features, beholders were occasionally known as "spheres of many eyes" or "eye tyrants," although the latter also referred to a specific type of beholder.

Because their entire body was covered in eyes, beholders had the capacity to see in all directions at once, making it nearly impossible to ambush them while also giving them an unusually high degree of perceptive ability. Although beholders lacked the capacity to see color, they had the ability to perceive even in the most darkened environment, under conditions in which a human or similar creature would be rendered blind.

Beholders were also capable of flight, in spite of their lack of wings or similar physical features, simply hovering above ground effortlessly. The effects of this flight resembled those of the wizard spell levitation.

Numbuh 5: DESERT STYLE NINJA ART: YUAN-TI!

Numbuh 5 fired a wave of sand and it formed into a Yuan-Ti!

Yuan-ti were a collective race of psionic serpentfolk, who were seen as corrupt and degenerate monsters by other races.

Lizzie: NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: LICH!

Lizzie fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the Lich!

A lich was an almost universally evil form of undead spellcaster of great power, usually a wizard, but also possibly a sorcerer or cleric. Liches were feared by mortal beings for their malign magic, their intelligence and their willingness to embrace undeath for a chance to live forever (or rather, exist forever).

The Tommy: SLIME STYLE NINJA ART: KUO-TOA!

He fired a wave of slime and it formed into a Kuo-Toa!

Kuo-toa, also known as gogglers and men-fish, were a debased, fish-like race of warm-blooded and amphibious monstrous humanoids that dwelt in the Underdark. They had humanoid bodies and fish-like heads.

Katie: MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: GITHYANKI!

Katie fired a wave of magic and it formed into the Githyanki!

---

The Githyanki were a race of Astral Plane-dwellers. Survivors of a long enslavement by mind flayers, they became ruthless pillagers and raiders of many worlds in the Prime Material plane.

---

Numbuh 83: SLIME STYLE NINJA ART: GELATINOUS CUBE!

Numbuh 83 fired a wave of slime and it formed into a Gelatinous Cube!

---

A gelatinous cube, also known as an athcoid, was a transparent ooze composed of mindless, gelatinous matter in the shape of a cube or rhombohedron. They were especially favored by the drow god Ghaunadaur.

---

Numbuh 84: METAL STYLE NINJA ART: RUST MONSTER!

Numbuh 84 fired a wave of metal and it formed into a Rust Monster!

---

A rust monster was a creature that corroded and ate metal. They were favored by the Mulhorandi god Geb, the dwarven god Abbathor, the gnomish god Flandal Steelskin, and the Duergar gods Laduguer and Deep Duerra.

---

Numbuh 362: EARTH STYLE NINJA ART: UMBER HULK!

Numbuh 362 fired a wave of earth and it formed into an Umber Hulk!

---

Umber hulks were four-eyed monstrosities who lived deep under the earth. Their massive claws tunneled through rock with ease and their thick armor was as strong as full plate.

Abominable monsters with horrifying physical aptitude, umber hulks easily smashed through their opposition before disappearing after killing their quarry. They would then tunnel away, collapsing their exits behind them and leaving the memories of those who survived dazed and confused.

---

The monsters smashed and destroyed Nurse Claiborne all over the place with indiscriminate fury and blasted her all over the place.

Numbuh 1: Lets show this monster what for! KIDS NEXT DOOR! BATTLE STATIONS!

Numbuh's 1, 2, 3, 4, & 5: NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: TIAMAT!

They fired blasts of darkness and they formed into the powerful 5-Headed Dragon of Mesopotamian Myth, TIAMAT!

---

Tiamat was the lawful evil dragon goddess of greed, queen of evil dragons and, for a time, a reluctant servant of the greater gods Bane and later Asmodeus. Before entering the Faerûnian pantheon, she was a member of the Draconic pantheon, and for some time she was also a member of the Untheric pantheon.

Tiamat was also the eternal rival of her brother Bahamut, ruler of the good metallic dragons.

For ages, sages debated whether Tiamat actually was a deity or not. Many believed she was the archetype of evil dragonkind, a devil or demon, the avatar of another deity or even a mortal dragon so powerful that chromatic dragons revered her as their queen and creator. Whatever she was, sages knew for certain that she was powerful and worshiped by evil dragons as a goddess.

The fact is that Tiamat was actually a goddess. She came into existence alongside the rest of the draconic pantheon when the first dragons were born. Her origins were highly conflicting, however, as there were many accounts about how she came into being.

In the more commonly accepted traditions, she was the daughter of Asgorath and sister of Bahamut and Null; while in the myths of the dragonborn of Abeir, Bahamut and Tiamat were born from the sundered corpse of Io (the name by which dragonborn knew Asgorath) instead, when Io was killed in the Dawn War.

Whatever the truth, her cult grew rapidly in the communities of chromatic dragons, especially among blue, green, and red dragons.

Tiamat was a unique chromatic dragon, who had one head for each primary color of the most common species of chromatics (black, blue, green, red, white). Each head was able to operate entirely independently of each other and had the powers of a member of the respective race of dragonkind. Her body also had traits in common with a wyvern, including a long tail tipped with a poisonous stinger.

She also had three main avatars. The Dark Lady was a mulan woman with long dark hair and completely black eyes. She always wore dark robes and frequently had a seductive smile on her face.

The Chromatic Dragon was a dragon with stubby legs and five heads that could be any combination of head belonging to a chromatic dragon, the skin of each merged into three stripes - blue-green, gray and purple before they merged again into brown skin that covered her tail. Sometimes, The Chromatic Dragon appeared in the form of Tchazzar when manifesting in Chessenta. The Undying Queen was a dracolich version of The Chromatic Dragon.

Tiamat had three manifestations in Avernus as well, one of which never left the gate to Dis. Her manifestation as Azharul was her other 'public' face used for when foes challenged her to combat, meanwhile her original body remained secluded in her lair.

Once dragons as a race had established themselves during the Time of Dragons, the various religious factions of dragons began to battle one another over their different ideologies. Over time, religious fervor waned and draconic philosophers came to the conclusion that gods who allowed such behavior were not worthy of their worship.

This started the draconic apathy toward their gods which lasted for thousands of years. However, the hatred that had developed between Tiamat, Bahamut and their followers was so intense that they refused to stop fighting. Their conflict came to be known as the Dragonfall War. During the first years of the war, Tiamat bred horrific and aberrant draconic creatures known as the Spawn of Tiamat, in an attempt to wipe out the followers of Bahamut.

The war waxed and waned in intensity, with the last era of intense fighting occurring between −2087 DR and −1071 DR. It was during this time that the Untheric empire began and with it, their pantheon became prominent. Tiamat became one of their deities by using a three-headed aspect, and her purpose in the Untheric pantheon was to balance the "order" represented by the other Untheric gods with her "chaos". However, the plane of Zigguraxus increased the worst traits of her nature, making her something too powerful to be balanced by the other Untheric gods alone.

Now that both Bahamut (who had become a member of the Untheric pantheon under the alias of Marduk) and Tiamat had humanoid worshipers, the Dragonfall War entered into a new period of intensity. The two siblings fought each other personally, with neither being able to gain the upper hand. Tiamat also worked against the other Untheric gods, with the result of the church of Enlil naming her the "Nemesis of the Gods" and blaming her for every problem the nation had.

Then, in −1071 DR in a fight of the Orcgate Wars known as the Battle of the Gods, Tiamat saw an opportunity to slay Gilgeam while he was battling Ilneval. However, Marduk intercepted her and in the ensuing battle they killed each other. With both of their Untheric aspects dead, Tiamat and Bahamut were both stripped of their divine power. Tiamat was reduced to the status of an archfiend, her last few followers in Unther not enough to allow her to remain even as a lesser deity. However, as Gilgeam became a tyrannical God-King, the people of Unther never forgot the Nemesis of the Gods and they increasingly turned to her in secret for succor.

As an archfiend, she was given rulership of Avernus by Asmodeus. Her job was to prevent outcast devils on that layer of Hell from becoming a threat but performed so poorly that Asmodeus demoted her. Knowing her failure was not deliberate (by reading her thoughts), Asmodeus deigned to allow Tiamat to remain in Avernus unpunished, and even gave her a chance to regain her position if she impressed him in her new role as the guardian of the main gate to Dis.

This state of affairs lasted until 1346 DR when some Untherite cultists managed to summon another aspect of Tiamat to Toril. This aspect, known as the Dark Lady, fomented rebellion all over Unther against the church of Gilgeam. Gilgeam was so hated that the membership in her own church swelled, and Tiamat was elevated to status of a demigoddess. She also took the opportunity to influence the lich Sammaster and his Cult of the Dragon into tracking down the Dracorage mythal.

During the Time of Troubles, after Ao banished the gods from the planes, the Dark Lady was transformed back into her three-headed Untheric avatar, which was promptly slain by Gilgeam's. Even so, her divine essence was somehow divided into three and came to inhabit Tchazzar, Gestaniius and Skuthosiin, three powerful chromatic dragons. Tchazzar devoured the other two, combining the three essences and ushering in the reappearance of Tiamat's more powerful five-headed form, which she used to kill Gilgeam and therefore cause Ao to dissolve the Untheric pantheon completely.

Having attained the status of a lesser deity once again, she was able to manifest avatars once more, until one of them was destroyed in 1359 DR by King Gareth Dragonsbane who had been tasked by Bahamut to destroy the Wand of Orcus in her heartsblood. Having done so, the king of Damara also brought the worship of Bahamut back to his people, elevating Bahamut to the status of lesser deity and rekindling the Dragonfall War once more. In response, Tiamat unleashed her aberrant dragonspawn and many of her followers to Vaasa to make trouble for the Church of Bahamut in Damara, while gaining some followers among disaffected members of the Cult of the Dragon in the process. This time, however, the Platinum Dragon countered them by reviving the ancient race known as the dragonborn of Bahamut.

She projected her wishes through the transformed primordial Entropy, and while in this guise expanded her base of humanoid worshipers. She eventually joined the Faerûnian pantheon in 1371 DR after gaining the worship of a cult in Luthcheq. Tiamat's body had been suffering from aches and pains that had been growing worse over time, but her elevation back to deity-hood reinvigorated her. However, the relative mortality she had experienced as an archfiend made her less reckless and more paranoid. She misinformed her clergy that she no longer resided in Avernus, but instead maintained a grand divine realm in Heliopolis.

When members of the Twisted Rune discovered that her only asset in Heliopolis was a disturbed lichnee netherese archwizard, known as the Listener, they attempted to steal his magic. In retaliation, Tiamat manifested an aspect that defeated the intruders and forced them to kill the minor draconic deity Azharul in his home in Dragon Eyrie. With the Listener and the Twisted Rune's forced help, Tiamat subsumed Azharul, taking his body and divine realm, completely unbeknownst to anyone but herself. All the while, she had already begun creating her real divine realm in the mountains of Avernus.

In 1373 DR, Sammaster managed to alter the Dracorage mythal to cause permanent insanity in all dragons unless they allowed themselves to become dracoliches. In one of the worst dracorages ever seen on Toril, Tiamat resurrected Tchazzar, Gestaniius and Skuthosiin to act as emissaries which she would use to solidify and expand her power base in Chessenta, Mulhorand, Threskel, and Unther.

After the destruction of Sammaster and the end of the High Magic that sustained the Dracorage mythal, she had to withstand an invasion launched by Bahamut on her demesne in Dragon Eyrie.

The destruction of the Dracorage mythal also heralded the prophesied "Turning of the Great Cycle" which sparked off the religious fervor lacking in dragons since the beginning of the Dragonfall War, and Tiamat gained new draconic converts. In 1374 DR, lightning and meteor showers pounded Faerûn, and Bahamut and Tiamat instructed their respective followers to seek out specific sites that would each contain some form of dragon egg. Unfortunately for Bahamut, Tiamat's followers were much more effective in retrieving the eggs than his own. Tiamat's followers brought the eggs they collected to Unthalass in preparation for a new battle of the Dragonfall War.

Tiamat spent her new forces mostly in her efforts to conquer the east, but that task proved more difficult than she envisioned. Only Tchazzar met with success, cementing his rule in Chessenta while Unther was conquered by Mulhorand. Her tentative ally Alasklerbanbastos also ruled Threskel and allowed Tiamat's church to establish a stronghold there. A short-lived but powerful cult of humanoid fanatics was also lost to her in the Wyrmbones.

Her losses outweighed her gains, however: during the Spellplague, Entropy ceased being a simple vessel for communication and spells, taking away her power base in Luthcheq. The dissolution of her subsumed realm in Dragon Eyrie during the Spellplague also saw the badly-wounded body of Azharul fall into the hands of Bane. Tymanchebar's transplantation from Abeir to Toril saw some of the strongest bastions of Tiamat's faith disappear overnight to be replaced with individuals who would become staunch enemies. In 1479, Tchazzar managed to conquer Threskel for himself, but this just drew him into a war with the Abeiran nation of Tymanther in which he was killed.

With her most powerful servant dead, her forces beginning to crumble and Bahamut's power increasing after he became the subservient god of Torm, the Dragonfall War stalled. In Banehold, Bane discovered that Azharul was merely a vessel for Tiamat and enslaved it. Furious but overwhelmed by other events, Tiamat did not immediately retaliate against her enemy, instead serving Bane loyally despite his harassment. During this period, Tiamat discovered Bane's secrets and passed them on to Asmodeus.

Some time in the next decade, Tiamat saw an opportunity and took it, wrenching Azharul out of Banehold along with much of Bane's divine energy. She used that energy to mend Azharul's broken body and increase her own divine power. Delighted, Asmodeus offered her the rulership of Avernus once more. However, to avoid disappointing Asmodeus again and to prevent a conflict with Bel, Tiamat refused, instead offering to be Asmodeus' champion and devouring all who opposed him (and offering covert aid to Zariel to prevent Bel from becoming too powerful).

Yet agreements in the Hells are binding, and Tiamat was subsequently placed under the direct compulsion of Bel. Her brief attempt at resistance allowed her to see into Bel's mind and learn of the directions Asmodeus had given him to imprison her in her divine realm to prevent her from becoming ambitious. Betrayed and angry, Tiamat instructed her followers in the Cult of the Dragon to assemble the Mask of the Dragon Queen that would allow her to finally escape Avernus and enter Toril. Though the Cult's leader, Severin Silrajin, successfully assembled the Mask and used it to bring Tiamat's Temple from her realm in Avernus to the Well of Dragons, he and his forces were ultimately defeated and Tiamat was banished back to the Nine Hells.

The Tiamat fired waves of fire, lightning, acid, ice and poison at Nurse Claiborne and the blasts hit her all over and exploded all over.

Numbuh 1: Lets do it! KIDS NEXT DOOR! BATTLE STATIONS!

Numbuhs 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, Lizzie, Katie, 362, 83, 84, Cree, The Tommy and Mushi: KIDS NEXT DOOR ENERGY MEGABLAST!

They fired blasts of energy and they all slammed into Nurse Claiborne and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

When the smoke cleared, Nurse Claiborned was a badly burned and charred mess and she was mangled up as well.

They tied her up and made sure she wouldn't escape.

Numbuh Two: This case is closed!

Varie: (Narrating) So that was that. Nurse Claiborne was arrested and we freed the victims and had them cured of their Pink-Eye. It just goes to show you, never mess with the rights of children as well as mess around with dangerous diseases like Pink-Eye.

Later the Masters of Evil came and they had what was left of Robo-Roxy.

Varie: That was a really good fight.

Vypra: It sure was.

Robo Roxy: Who exactly are these Royal Defenders anyway? I know they're one of the reasons why me and Robo Blaze were brought back but I don't much about them.

Upon hearing the names of the so called heroes, Luna clenched her fists in anger.

Robo-Roxy: Oh, c'mon! Don't tell me I pissed you off too! I'm already gonna get an earful from J.D. for what I-

Luna: I'm not pissed at you! I just don't think I can talk about those jerk versions of me and my family without wanting to rip a book in half!

Vypra: (to Robo Roxy) Trust me. I'll tell you and Robo Blaze about the Royal Defenders when we get back to the hideout.

Robo Roxy: Well, alright.

Waffle Woman: And Hoagie? You should decide what to do with those Apple Crumbles.

Lana: I'll eat them. I love those crumbles.

Lola: That's Lana for you.

They laughed.

Varie: Oh and Robo-Roxy. J.D. told me to give you this.

POW!

Varie punched Robo-Roxy in the face and gave her a nasty black eye.

Varie: Sorry about that. But J.D. was so pissed off about everything that you did to Ravi that it made his blood boil.

Robo-Roxy: I deserved it. Thank you.

With that, the Masters of Evil teleport out.

They later went back to the estate and me and Nico were watching TV.

Varie: Hey guys.

Me: Hey Varie. How did your first mission without me go?

Varie: It was awesome! We captured Nurse Claiborne.

Varie told us everything.

We gasped.

Nico: She was using Pink-Eye crust to make apple crumble?! GROSS!

Lana: (Eating crumble) Aw come on guys. It's not so bad. Besides. She did make really good crumble.

Nico: Only you would like it Lana.

Varie: But this was an awesome case for me.

Me: Becoming a private eye was a great idea Varie. You did a great job.

Varie: Thanks honey.

Numbuh 2: (To the viewers) Never mess with the love of sweets or the rights of protecting sick kids. Or you will answer to the Kids Next Door and Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Me: You said it.

Another Awesome Kids Next Door chapter done.

Operation P.I.N.K.-E.Y.E. was one of the most coolest episodes I remember. It reminded me of those awesome Noir Detective Shows and those awesome Dick Tracy Comics. It was awesome!

NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Vengeance has a new name as Sam is out to get her revenge on her evil uncle Sinclair T. Sharp. He murdered her parents in cold blood and ruined her life. So get ready for a chapter full of action as Sam goes out to get vengeance by killing her evil uncle.

See you all tomorrow.

The Twisted Trio of Hate

At the estate, we were watching TV and reading books and playing card games.

Nico: Sure is quiet.

Me: It sure is.

Nico: You guys remember when we recruited the rest of Sector W?

Me: How can I forget?

Laney: That was a good deed for us and the TLPS-KND Federation.

---

In Seattle, Washington we were over at the treehouse of Sector W. And we saw that it was throwing a huge party.

Me: Wow. Looks like it's throwing a party.

Inside the treehouse, the Sector W operatives were throwing an awesome party to celebrate the decommissioning of disgraced operative Harvey McKenzie A.K.A. Numbuh 363.

Numbuh 83 was providing the snacks and soda and treats and making the party awesome.

Numbuh 85 and 84 were dancing and having fun.

We came in.

Me: Hey guys.

Numbuh 83: Hey J.D.!

Numbuh 84: What's happening guys?

Me: We came to ask you guys if you want to join Sector V and the headquarters of the TLPS-KND Federation.

Nico: Yeah.

Numbuh 83: Well Sector W is now leaderless.

Numbuh 84: Yeah. But we're happy that Numbuh 363 is gone.

Laney: I think everyone in the TLPS-KND Federation is happy that he's gone.

Lana: Yeah.

Numbuh 83: Harvey was always a jerk and he didn't care about anyone but himself.

Me: That's not the worst thing he did.

Numbuh 84: What did he do?

William: You guys wanna know what Harvey did? I'll tell you what Harvey did. He teamed up with Lynn's evil doppelganger to frame her!

They gasped.

Nico: Yeah.

Me: But Lynn and the Masters of Evil stopped him and his team and cleared Lynn's name.

Numbuh 83: Thank goodness.

Numbuh 362: Yeah my brother has always been a monster. But he deserved to be stopped and decommissioned.

Numbuh 86: (Scottish Accent) That's right.

Numbuh 83: Yeah. But we would be honored to join the headquarters of the TLPS-KND Federation.

Nico: Awesome!

We got to work and beamed the Sector W treehouse to the headquarters of the TLPS-KND Federation in Michigan.

FLASHBACK ENDS

Lana: That was a great day.

Lola: It sure was.

But then we got a rather terrifying news report on TV that affected Sam!

News Reporter: We interrupt this program to bring you this special report!

Katherine Mulligan: This is Katherine Mulligan reporting to you live from outside Illinois Federal Correctional Institute where convicted murderer and racist Sinclair T. Sharp has just escaped from this maximum security facility.

We gasped in shock and then we saw Sam turn white as a ghost in fear!

Me: Sam are you all right?

Sam S.L.: Oh no.

Luna: Sam?

Sam S.L.: Not him!

Lana: Uh oh.

Lola: I think Sam has a really bad history with him.

Me: Yeah.

Sam S.L.: (Crying)

Luna: Sam you can tell us. We can help you.

Sam S.L.: That monster! (Crying) He's my uncle!

We gasped in shock!

Maria: Your uncle is out of prison?!

Me: Tell us what happened Sam. What is your history with him?

Sam S.L.: He is the monster that murdered my parents and made my life hell!

We were shocked!

Sam told us about her dark history with Sinclair and it WASN'T pretty. Sinclair T. Sharp is the younger brother of her biological father Eric Sharp and youngest son of Sebastian Sharp. He began his career as a states salesman and advertiser for TV programs somewhere between the early 2000s or 2002. He has an extremely strong hatred towards people who are bisexual, LGBT and homosexual and he deems people that like the same gender to be loving savages and uncivilized people. His hate for LGBT communities and the people later grew stronger. When he found out that his niece, Sam Sharp was a bisexual, he began to torment and abuse her in any way. Unfortunately for him, he was kicked out of the Sharp family by his brother Eric, and was sued for the abuse and he was sentenced to 10 years in prison. But eventually got out on parole. He became distant from the Sharp Family, personally pursuing his own goals of ridding America of any Bisexual people. It is presumed that he hired the infamous criminals, Michael and Michelle Malloy, who too hate LGBT people like him, after they escaped from prison and ordered them to kidnap Sam and assassinate her real parents, Eric and Sarah Sharp, when Sam was barely four years old. No one knew of the crimes that Sinclair has committed, but he was happy he got his revenge on Eric and Sarah Sharp and told the Malloy's to take Sam as their daughter and personal punching bag. He even doesn't care what ever happens to Sam Sharp until the events of Sam Strikes Back where the Malloy's were defeated and were executed by Sam Sharp after the Malloy's crimes were found out, but never knew about the secret plot between Michael and Michelle Malloy and Sinclair T. Sharp.

We gasped in shock! The Masters of Evil heard the whole thing as Sam was telling us the whole story. We were horrified. Michael and Michelle were pawns in an even darker and sinister plot.

Vypra: Oh my god!

Dark Spicer: Holy shit that is terrible!

Me: Sinclair is the true mastermind behind this whole ordeal!

Laney: That monster!

Lola: I can't believe he's that evil!

Luna was comforting Sam.

Luna: I'm so sorry Sam.

Electro: We can help you kill that monster once and for all and bring justice to you Sam.

I then saw Robo Roxy.

Me: (Growls) You have a lot of nerve!

Robo Roxy: (to me) Look, I know you're pissed by what I did in the past. But Evox wound up defeayed. So, what do you say we call it evem?

Me: That's a very tempting offer.

POW!

I then punch Robo Roxy, giving her a black eye.

Me: (smirks) Ok. NOW we're even.

Robo Roxy: Alright. I had that coming.

Dark Spicer: Personally, we don't mind gay people.

Luna: Thanks man.

Sam S.L.: (Crying) He's coming back to kill me! I know it.

Electro: Does your uncle have any powers?

Sam shook her head.

Nico: Then he'll be easier to kill.

But then Sam clenched her fist tight and her eyes became red with fury!

Sam S.L.: I am not gonna let that bastard torment my life ever again! I am gonna hunt him down and kill him! I WILL HAVE MY REVENGE!

Sam then flared up her aura and her eyes were burning with blazing hatred. She had one goal on her mind: REVENGE!

Me: And we'll help you get it Sam. That monster deserves to die in the most horrible ways imaginable!

Nico: What!? J.D. you can't be…

Me: Nico this is different. This isn't like what happened with me when I wanted revenge on the Kisenian Blossom. Sam wants to get revenge and get justice for her parents. Sinclair took her parents away from her and we won't let him live any longer.

Sasuke: J.D. is right. Sinclair ruined and abused Sam's life and she will not have closure until she kills him. He will pay for his crimes.

Me: That's right. And we're gonna help kill Sinclair. If there's one thing we will never tolerate it's racism and bigotry as well as crimes that discriminate against sexual orientation. Now lets go make that fucking monster pay with his life and send him off to Hell!

Sam S.L.: I plan to Hakai him. Lets get him!

We then were off to Sinclair's hideout.

* * *

In an old abandoned farmhouse in Iowa, Sinclair was plotting his next move.

Sinclair: I will make that fucking niece of mine pay the ultimate price for her crimes against the country!

With him were Michael and Michelle Malloy, back from the dead!

Michelle: That fucking freak will pay for her crimes all right! Crimes against me and Michael!

Suddenly there was a massive earthquake and then a massive fiery explosion of fire and lava exploded from the ground and blew the whole barn apart into splinters of fiery rubble and a massive plume of lava, fire, smoke and ash and volcanic lightning were exploding and erupting out of the ground with incredible power and a dragon roar was heard. Out of the fiery eruption with wings glowing with powerful heat and lava was Sam and she had eyes glowing red with fire and fury.

Sam S.L.: Hello "Uncle" and hello "Mom and dad."

We all then appeared.

We popped out of the lava and we stood ready to face them.

Me: I might've known that you would be back Michael and Michelle Malloy.

Lola: You assholes just won't stay dead!

Sinclair: Well if it isn't the little monster!

Sam S.L.: I have a name you know! My name is Samantha Tabitha Sharp Loud, you killed my REAL mother and father. PREPARE TO DIE!

Dark Spicer: (to Sinclair) Here's your warning: Your fucking ass is about to be kicked!

Me: And destroyed!

Shiv: Say the word and I'll stab this jerk!

Troy: Time to take down this sorry excuse for an uncle!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Red Ranger Mode!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into Red Rangers. Troy turned into the Red In Space Ranger, Noah turned into the Red Lightspeed Rescue Ranger, Jake turned into the Red Time Force Ranger, Gia turned into the Red Jungle Fury Ranger, Emma turned into the Red S.P.D. Ranger and Orion turned into the Red R.P.M. Ranger.

Sam S.L.: I will never forgive you for everything you've done to me! I will have my revenge!

Sam then glowed in a powerful red aura and it had lava swirling around her. Then something snapped within Sam and she started screaming like a madman and then a massive explosion of fire and lightning and rock exploded out around her from underneath!

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The ground shook violently as we felt Sam's enormous power increasing exponentially with incredible ferocity!

(Gohan's Anger Theme plays)

Me: WHOA! It's unreal!

Vegeta: Holy shit!

Laney: What power!

Lori: MY GOD! WHAT POWER!

Lana: Unbelievable!

Storm Clouds formed above us as red lightning was striking all over and tornadoes of pure fire formed and burned everything around us and meteors of fire rained down and burned everything around the farm in massive fiery explosions.

But then in a massive explosion of fire, Sam unleashed her ultimate power!

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

When the smoke cleared, Sam was transformed and she was forever changed! The teal streak in her hair turned to red with orange and yellow highlights and she had a volcano erupting in her sclera and she had a sleeveless trench coat with lava and the eruption of Calbuco Volcano from 2015 on it and she had the kanji for Samantha Tabitha Sharp Loud, Volcanic Angel of Fire and Virtuous Justice from Pele on the back.

サマンサタビサシャープラウド、火山の火の天使、ペレの高潔な正義

She also had a sword with a blade of blue blue-hot lava on her right hip. Her aura was glowing incandescent red and it had lava and lightning and Nuée Ardente swirling around her. Her wings were now glowing with pure lava and blue fire! She was now a SUPER ANGEL 30,000 VOLCANIC DRAGON LAVA! Sinclair, Michael and Michelle were in a planet-load of deep shit trouble!

Luna: WHOA! Look at Sam now dudes!

Lana: She transformed!

Me: This is her true power!

Girl Jordan: Unreal!

Nico: Holy Shit!

Vince: Sinclair is now in deep shit trouble!

Edwayl: (Breton Accent) He has been asking for this for a long time lads.

Hunter: (German Accent) I hope she shows her no mercy!

Nemo: You said it!

Sinclair: I always knew you were a monster bitch!

Sam S.L.: You will pay for your crimes Sinclair! You are a disgrace to the Sharp name!

Sinclair: HOW DARE YOU!? I AM YOUR UNCLE!

Sam S.L.: You stopped being my uncle when you killed my parents! PREPARE TO DIE!

Sam then lifted off the ground and flared her aura up to an incredible power and she flew at Sinclair with incredible speed and she dealt him a devastating punch to his face and blood was pouring out of his mouth and nose as he held his face in excruciating pain! She then grabbed Michelle's neck and ripped it open with her bare hands and she fired a blast of lava at Michael and burned his leg off and he screamed in excruciating pain! The Megaforce Rangers blasted him and kicked and punched Sinclair all over the place with incredible power!

Me: Lets tear them apart!

We all went at them and I kicked Michael in the face and Laney fired a blast of fire and Lincoln fired a blast of lightning and they electrocuted and burned him all over the place and charred them. We all viciously pulverized, blasted and slashed them all over the place. Sam then dealt Michelle a deadly spinning axe kick and smashed Michelle's skull in with devastating force and Lincoln fired a blast of lightning and electrocuted Michael all over the place and Lola, Lea, Francis and Carol fired blasts of atomic fire and burned Michael all over and Shiv stabbed Michael and disemboweled him and ripped out his intestines. Blood was pouring out of him like Niagara Falls.

Sam S.L.: This is for my mother! VOLCANO STYLE NINJA ART: ISLA NUBLAR VOLCANO ERUPTION!

Sam punched the ground and a massive volcanic eruption of Mount Siba strength exploded out from underneath Sinclair and sent him into the air and lightning from the sky struck him all over the place with incredible power!

Sam S.L.: This is for my father! VOLCANO STYLE NINJA ART: MOUNT SAINT HELENS ERUPTION!

Sam punched the ground and a massive explosion of ash and superheated dust exploded out from underneath Sinclair and burned him all over.

Sam S.L.: And this is for me! JUST FOR DESTROYING MY LIFE! VOLCANO STYLE NINJA ART: KAMCHATKA KRAI VOLCANOES!

Sam punched the ground and powerful lava eruptions exploded out of the ground and the lava burned Sinclair all over the place with incredible power!

Vypra and Luan: TWILIGHT LIGHTSTORM BLAST!

Vypra and Luan fired blasts of light and darkness.

Sam S.L.: May you burn in the darkness of oblivion.

Sam then broke down crying hard and Luna came and comforted her.

THE END

Another awesome fanfic complete.

We've now seen the last of Michael and Michelle Malloy and we got rid of Sam's evil uncle and avenged her real parents. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the next Scooby Doo Movie, Return to Zombie Island. It's gonna be a treasure hunt and a mystery. But we are also going to deal with the evil cat creatures that terrorized the island for over 200 years.

See you all tomorrow.

Return to Zombie Island

At Moe's Tavern we were there to have a drink to celebrate the demise of Sam's evil uncle Sinclair and her evil fake parents Michael and Michelle Malloy.

Shocker: I'd like to propose a toast to the death of Sam's uncle!

Everyone: HERE HERE!

Ripster: And I'd like to propose a toast to the future defeat of the Royal Defenders!

Everyone: HERE HERE!

We clinked our glasses.

Moe: I'm sorry about what happened to Sam guys.

Me: She went through hell. After she got her revenge she was crying hard. She hasn't stopped crying for 3 days.

Laney: Luna has been trying everything to cheer her up. Same with Star, Luan, Qin and Nico.

Lisa Loud: Affirmative.

Then the telephone rang.

Moe: Oh. Telephone.

He went at answered it.

Moe: Moe's Tavern?

Bart was on the line.

Bart: I'm looking for a Mrs. Ria, first name Dya.

Moe: Just a sec. Hey is there a Ria here? Dya Ria? Is anyone having Diarrhea here?

Barney: You are!

We laughed hysterically!

Moe: (GROWLS) Listen you little puke! When I catch you I'm gonna rip your organs out and use them to pay my bills with! (Hangs up)

Homer: You'll get that punk someday Moe.

Dark Spicer: (Whispers) You know Moe's gonna have to know about Bart prank calling him eventually, right?

Soundwave: Believe me. We know.

Then a drunk trucker came up to Carly.

Trucker: (Slurred speech) Hey baby. Lets make sweet music (Hiccups) behind the dumpster.

Carly Carmine: Buzz off bozo.

Trucker: That wasn't a request toots.

POW!

Carly punched him in the face and sent him crashing into a table. Then a bar fight broke out!

Blaster: Oh yeah! Bar fight! (punches trucker)

Blaster and Soundwave smashed and bashed the truckers all over.

Barney: Woo hoo! (BELCH!)

The brawl stopped a few minutes later. But then Tuddrussel and Larry got into a really bad argument!

Tuddrussel: You are a worthless and sad excuse of a dust buster Larry!

Larry 3000: Ooh I'm so scared!

Tuddrussel: Well you should be "maestro" When I tell everyone what a lousy artist you are!

Larry 3000: That really hurts. Especially coming from a man who sleeps with a nightlight and a teddy bear!

Tuddrussel: Hey! You leave Mr. Binky out of this!

Lana: On no!

Tuddrussel: How about the time I caught you putting on makeup?

Larry 3000: Ha! That's not as bad as the time you were getting a drink and got your head stuck in the toilet!

Tuddrussel: (GROWLS) I checked your bluebook value Larry and it said YOU. WERE. WORTHLESS!

Larry 3000: I tried to check your IQ but numbers don't go that low!

Tuddrussel growled more.

Tuddrussel: YOUR MOTHER'S A BLIMP!

Larry 3000: YOUR MOTHER'S A SHAVED APE!

THAT IS SO CRUEL!

Me: ALL RIGHT YOU TWO! THAT'S ENOUGH!

Tuddrussel: Well he started it!

Larry 3000: I did not! Lori, Lynn and Lola, you three are known as the Trinity of Violence. Who is right here?

Lori: (Holds her hands up) We are not on your sides!

Lynn: (Holds her hands up) YEAH!

Lola: (Holds her hands up) Not me. We are not getting involved.

Later at the estate, Sam was still crying and Luna was comforting her.

Luna: Sam it's gonna be all right.

Sam S.L.: (Crying) It hurts so much Luna!

Luna: I know Sam. But you got your vengeance and avenged your parents dude.

Sam S.L.: (Crying) It still hurts!

Luna: I know.

Star Butterfly then came and she was wearing those funny Groucho Marx Glasses, nose and mustache.

Luan came and she was juggling laser puppies on her unicycle. The puppies were firing lasers from their eyes.

Nico splatted a pie in his face.

Qin did a puppet show with two puppets hitting each other with a mace and a club.

Nico then pulled a huge fish out of a top hat!

Nico: TA-DAH!

The fish got him on his head and he ran and tripped and landed on the floor. He was now trapped in the fish. Sam immediately bursted into laughter followed by everyone.

Nico: (Laughs) This is so funny!

The fish laughed too.

Sam was happy again.

Simon: Glad you're better sis.

Sam S.L.: Thanks Simon.

We came back.

Me: Hey guys.

Nico: How was the drink party?

Me: Good.

Varie: We are glad we never have to deal with Sam's evil uncle or her fake parents again.

Sam S.L.: Thank goodness.

Me: Glad you're feeling better Sam.

Laney: We all are. It was thanks to Nico, Star, Qin and Luan that she is now better.

Lana: Yeah.

Me: Thank goodness.

Carly Carmine: Yeah. So who do we have left for the Shadow Riders to take down?

Me: We already took down 4 of them and one is on the Redemption Squad. From what Jaden told me, the ones we have left to take down are Pharaoh Abidos III, Titan and Amnael and also the leader of the Shadow Riders, Kagemaru.

Jaden: Abidos is gonna be an interesting one.

Me: We'll have to see what they can do.

I then got a call on my cell phone.

Me: (Answers) Hello?

Shaggy was on the phone.

Shaggy: Like, hey J.D.

Me: Hey Shaggy. What's shaking?

Shaggy: We're over at Moonscar Island for an awesome vacation. Want to like come join us?

Me: Sure. We'll be right over.

We were on our way to Moonscar Island.

MOONSCAR ISLAND, LOUISIANA BAYOU, LOUISIANA

We arrived over at Moonscar Island yet again.

Maria: Here we are at Zombie Island.

Me: Yep. Last time we were here, Trakeena came back and she and I fought and she beat the living shit out of me.

Leo Corbett: I'll never forget that.

Varie: Me neither.

Vince: Yeah.

Numbuh 2: No kidding.

We went to find Fred and the gang and we found them at the resort called Moonscar Resort. It was really the old Pepper Plantation and home to the hottest peppers in all of the state. If not the world.

Nico: Wow! Nice place.

Laney: It sure is.

Fred and the gang saw us.

Fred: Hey guys!

Me: Hey Fred. Looks like we arrived to have fun.

Shaggy: Like yep.

Nico: Cool.

But then a mysterious cat creature came out and I swooped in and kicked it in the face and sent it back into the jungle.

Me: Nice try. Looks like there is a mystery going on.

Shaggy: Like, uh uh! No way! You are going to enjoy this vacation mystery-free!

Me: Coward.

Varie: We are solving this mystery now!

Ravi: I'm guessing this is the part where we split up and search for clues.

Me: Yep.

We got to work and we all continuously note strange things all over but due to our promise, refuse to look too much into it, determined to relax. However, the hotel is called "Moonstar Island Resort", eerily similar to "Moonscar Island" with the zombies, and the hotel itself looks exactly like the plantation house we had stayed in.

We meet the hotel manager, "Alan Smithee", and other employees who look similar to the people they met on Moonscar Island. Scooby and Shaggy later get attacked by zombies and hide in a cupboard in the kitchen. In the cupboard, they accidentally press a button, causing them to fall into a cave below the house. The cave looks similar to the one from Moonscar Island, and has statues of the cat creatures. That night, zombies begin attacking the hotel. Scooby and Shaggy finally give the rest of the mystery-starved us all permission to solve mysteries again. After capturing the zombies, we revealed them to be the other hotel workers, Velma states that the island is Moonscar Island and we have been lured there to film a movie. Alan is actually a famous film director, and the hotel employees are actors. Alan had lured us all back with the competition Shaggy won in order to recreate a film similar to the gang's real zombie adventure. We all agree to continue making the film for fun. We also discover an upgraded monster truck version of the Mystery Machine, driven by Fred's stunt double. Which was really cool!

Alan reveals that he has Simone's pendant, which he found on the island. Several of the island's cats and three cat creatures attack us. Some of us fight and we try to escape by ferry, but Alan burns it in a crazed moment, stating they must finish the movie first. We get into the Mystery Machine and Fred drives away from the creatures, even jumping over a river. The cat creatures attempt to take Simone's pendant, causing Velma to suspect that they are after the pirate Morgan Moonscar's treasure. We escape the creatures by the cupboard. In the cave, we find the dial that Simone and Lena used to drain the gang.

Me: I remember this.

Nico: So this is the cave used by Simone and Lena.

Me: Yep. Awful place. Every October they drained their victims of their life energy to sustain their immortality. They have lived for over 250 years as a result.

Laney: Wow.

Lana: Scary.

Me: But in the end, Simone and Lena got what they deserved after all that.

Lola: Thank goodness.

Me: But we have to be ready for anything.

Velma: Yep.

Then we heard roaring and we saw THE CAT CREATURES!

Me: I didn't think there would be more Cat Creatures. Now we fight!

Nico: Lets get them!

Me: But not in here.

I blasted a hole out of the cave and we went out to the jungle. We were ready to face them. Larxene, Vexen and Firefly then came out.

Me: Larxene, Vexen and Firefly.

Vexen: Indeed.

Larxene: How was the drinking party?

William: It was actually good. It ended with a bar brawl.

Firefly: Too bad I couldn't participate since it's my turn today.

Vexen: And I'm not usually one for drinks.

Me: That's okay. We love a good bar brawl.

?: I'm sure you all do.

A figure came out and it was PHARAOH ABIDOS III!

---

Abidos the Third (アビドス３世 Abidosu San-sei) is an ancient boy pharaoh and the fifth of the Shadow Riders. He never lost a single Duel. Abidos regained physical form through the powers of the Shadow Charm headband he wore.

Kagemaru has Abidos the Third awakened to fulfil his duties to the shadows. Abidos the Third then orders for his chariot to be prepped for launch.

With an army of mummies, Abidos gathers Jaden Yuki and company on his celestial golden yacht for a Duel.

During the Duel with Jaden, Abidos realizes that the only reason he kept winning was because his opponents always lost on purpose, simply because he was a pharaoh. Jaden decided it was time Abidos learned how to really Duel and this Duel was a good start where he even had Abidos remove his mask. Abidos summons "Spirit of the Pharaoh" and pushes Jaden to a corner, but he makes a comeback with "Hero Flash!".

Satisfied with his defeat, Abidos departs for the afterlife, giving Jaden his Shadow Charm, the latter making a promise to meet him again in one hundred years time.

Tuddrussel punched Abidos in the groin.

Me: (Winces) Oooh! Right in the kiwis!

Tuddrussel: Okay, please tell me that killed him.

Pharaoh Abidos: Not even close.

Me: Nice try though.

?: I agree.

Planet Prospero

Prospero was the original homeworld of the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion of Chaos Space Marines and their Primarch Magnus the Red.

It was a centre of knowledge and lore, particularly knowledge of sorcery and the Warp before its surface and its planetary capital of Tizca were scoured by the planetary assault of the Space Wolves Space Marine Legion just before the start of the Horus Heresy in 004.M31.

This assault, remembered as the Battle of Prospero or the "Burning of Prospero," was abetted by Magnus' own arrogance and hubris, and arranged by the connivance of the Warmaster Horus, who sought to turn the Astartes Legions against one another and to drive the Thousand Sons into the arms of Chaos so that they would support his own attempt to overthrow the Emperor of Mankind.

After the Space Wolves' assault, Prospero was declared a Dead World by the Imperium, like all of the former homeworlds of the Traitor Legions.

In the Era Indomitus, Prospero is once more ruled by Magnus the Red and the Thousand Sons, whose new Tzeentch-given homeworld of Sortiarius, the Planet of the Sorcerers, materialised above Prospero from the Immaterium following the casting of a great ritual by the Daemon Primarch during the Siege of the Fenris System in 999.M41.

Prospero is being reconstructed by the Thousand Sons as part of Magnus' dream of a "New Kingdom" where Human psykers and sorcerers can gather to master their abilities without facing the prejudice and brutal repression of the Imperium.

Prospero is slowly transforming into a weapons-manufacturing world to supply the Thousand Sons and their psyker allies' coming war against the Imperium and the Corpse Emperor who cost them their great dream ten thousand years ago.

Planet of the Sorcerers

The Planet of the Sorcerers, officially named Sortiarius, is the current homeworld of the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion. The Planet of the Sorcerers was originally a Daemon World located deep in the Eye of Terror, though it recently returned to realspace through the use of a potent sorcerous ritual.

With the fall of his original homeworld of Prospero to the Space Wolves at the start of the Horus Heresy during the Scouring of Prospero, the Primarch of the Thousand Sons Legion, Magnus the Red, used his sorcerous powers in the final act of his pact with Tzeentch to transfer his beloved and infamous City of Light, Tizca, through the Warp from Prospero to a new planet.

In this way, all of the precious (and heretical) knowledge hidden within its libraries that the Thousand Sons had gathered from all across the galaxy during the Great Crusade would be preserved.

For ten thousand Terran years the Planet of Sorcerers has been the staging ground from which the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion has launched their raids into realspace. A nightmarish world of daemons, it was nested deep within the Warp until Magnus' hand had it drawn through the veil and thrust into the Emperor's domain in the waning years of the 41st Millennium.

It now has taken up position above the Thousand Sons' original Legion homeworld of Prospero. The Thousand Sons have finally come home in a most unexpected way.

Magnus the Red

Magnus the Red, the Primarch of the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion, is one of the few surviving primarchs and is currently an extremely powerful Daemon Prince of the Chaos God Tzeentch. He was also known during the early years of the Imperium as the "Crimson King" and the "Red Cyclops."

A giant in both physical and mental terms whilst still an inhabitant of the Materium, the copper-skinned Magnus possessed tremendous innate psychic ability, and constantly sought to understand the nature of the Warp, becoming a Sorcerer of formidable power.

Magnus thought he would be able to control the "Great Ocean" of psychic energy that was the Warp; however, his prodigious and careless application of his psychic gifts eventually caused him to fall out of favour with his father, the Emperor of Mankind, as well as with the majority of his brother Primarchs. His psychic immaturity, recklessness, selfish pride and arrogance also caused his own undoing, as it eventually brought about his own damnation and eternal servitude to the Dark God of Change, Tzeentch.

In the end, Magnus led his XVth Legion to the banner of Horus and fought on the Arch-heretic's side during the Great Betrayal of the Horus Heresy. He survived those events and ascended to the position of a Daemon Prince of Tzeentch as a reward for his service to the Changer of Ways.

He has spent the majority of the ten Terran millennia since the end of the Horus Heresy ensconced atop his tower upon the Planet of the Sorcerers within the Eye of Terror, planning the ultimate destruction of the Imperium he believes betrayed him and his Legion.

Magnus' greatest grudge, however, is with the Space Marines of the Space Wolves, who he holds accountable for the destruction of his homeworld of Prospero and the corruption of his Legion during the early days of the Horus Heresy.

Thousand Sons

The Thousand Sons are one of the Traitor Legions of Chaos Space Marines who are sworn solely to the service of Tzeentch, the Chaos God of Change, Intrigue and Sorcery, though they were once the Imperium of Man's XV Legion of Space Marines. The main feature that distinguishes the Thousand Sons from the other Traitor Legions is the sheer number of psyker mutations that have always existed amongst the Space Marines in this Legion. Every current member of the Legion possesses psychic abilities and they prefer to use Chaos Sorcerers and guile in combat, relying on their psychic powers and sorcerous knowledge to earn them victory. As a result of an ancient spell known as the Rubric of Ahriman that was cast soon after the Thousand Sons fell from their homeworld of Prospero during the early days of the Horus Heresy, every Thousand Sons Astartes that lacked psychic powers had his soul fused directly into his Power Armour. The Thousand Sons have become living embodiments of sorcery animated by the power of Chaos and the will of the Lord of Change.

The Thousand Sons are the scions of the Primarch Magnus the Red, the copper-skinned cyclops whose thirst for knowledge in all its forms led ultimately to damnation and an eternity of servitude to Tzeentch, the Chaos God known as the Changer of the Ways. When the Primarchs were scattered throughout the galaxy, Magnus found himself coming to rest upon the distant, isolated colony world of Prospero. It was perhaps fortunate that a being that many societies would have denounced as a mutant came to such a place. Prospero's only inhabitants were a population of outcast scholars and mystics, who had long since fled the galaxy at large to establish a refuge where they could practise the arts of the psyker. Raised by such scholars, Magnus learned and mastered every one of their arts, soon surpassing them in every regard. The Primarch turned from pupil to master, his fearsomely powerful mind able to manipulate the raw power of the Warp in ways no others could. By the time the Emperor located His long lost son, Magnus was privy to every secret the libraries of Prospero could offer. He yearned to learn more, and in his sire found the only being with more psychic potential than he. Accepting command of the Space Marine Legion created using his own gene-stock, Magnus took his place in the Great Crusade, and utilised his puissant skills for the good of all Mankind.

But all was not well with this state of affairs, for the Imperium had been envisaged as an end to the superstitions that had benighted the isolated worlds of Mankind for so many long millennia. The worship of deities and fallacious spiritual doctrines was denounced by the Emperor's Iterators, who preached a new age of reason fuelled by the potential of humanity itself and the doctrines of the Imperial Truth. Sorcery had no place in such a society, yet was not the Emperor the greatest of all psykers? A great debate raged in the upper echelons of the nascent Imperium, driven by the need to explain and harness the phenomenon of psychic power whilst putting an end to sorcery and superstition. While still comparatively rare, the number of humans being born with latent psychic powers was increasing, though it was nowhere near so prevalent as it is in the late 41st Millennium. The phenomenon proved all but impossible to explain using the empirical reasoning on which the Imperium was being built, and eventually, a great convocation of the highest ranked and wisest counsellors in the Imperium was called.

At this Council of Nikaea, those who denounced the use of psychic powers stated their case, the Emperor Himself enthroned in judgement. At length, Magnus came before the council, and gifted as he was of the intellect and charisma of a Primarch, he refuted each of their points. Furthermore, Magnus stated convincingly his belief that no knowledge was in itself forbidden, so long as the scholar used it wisely. Both parties having made their cases and the judgement appearing to hang in the balance, the Emperor made his decision. The pursuit of psychic powers would be severely limited and strictly controlled, and any incarnation of ritual, superstition or incantation outlawed entirely. Magnus was furious, for the Emperor's pronouncement severely curtailed his Legion's activities, and denied them the use of their most potent weapons of war. And so the Great Crusade continued onwards, but it later became apparent that Magnus had not ceased the pursuit of the forbidden arts at all, but rather had continued it beyond the sight of his peers. Most opposed of all his Brother Primarchs was Leman Russ, who regarded any form of guile used to defeat an enemy as a form of cowardice, and even after the pronouncements of Nikaea, a bitter resentment smouldered between the Legions. It was during the opening phase of the Horus Heresy that this resentment exploded into something far worse, with tragic consequences for the Imperium.

On the eve of the Warmaster Horus' treachery, Magnus is said to have experienced a vision in which he saw as no others could the full extent of the galactic civil war to come, and the part each Primarch would come to play in it. He saw brother slaying brother and pacts being sealed with unspeakable beings. He saw the Ultramarines being unknowingly steered far beyond any hope of intervening, and worst of all, he saw what fate awaited the Emperor Himself. Yet, the one thing Magnus could not see was his own role in the coming war, but he determined to intervene nonetheless. Magnus knew that in warning his sire of the coming treachery he would be admitting that he had disobeyed the edicts of Nikaea, yet he knew he had no choice. Furthermore, he saw that with events unfolding so fast, the only sure way of warning the Emperor was to project his consciousness across the void, breaching the psychic defences of the Imperial Palace, and to appear before his sire in spirit form. The Primarch of the Thousand Sons issued his warning, but in so doing revealed his crime.

In a stroke, Magnus was condemned. The Space Wolves were despatched to Prospero to call the Thousand Sons to account, yet what followed must surely have been far more destructive than any, even Magnus, could have foreseen. The Space Wolves fell upon Prospero as savage barbarians, unleashing their bestial anger on the Thousand Sons and all of their works. The delicate silver towers of the so-called City of Light, Tizca, were cast down as brother fought brother, savage fought scholar and warrior fought mystic. At the height of the destruction, Russ and Magnus met one another in bitter conflict, and ultimately, Russ proved the stronger of the brother Primarchs. Yet, at the very moment of Russ' triumph, Magnus uttered a word of power and caused himself, and the City of Light, to vanish from the surface of Prospero, disappearing into the Warp to reappear later within the depths of the Eye of Terror on what would come to be known as the Planet of the Sorcerers.

Given the heritage of their Primarch, it can be no surprise that the Thousand Sons Legion was always prone to mutation. Prior to the Heresy, stringent purity checks and relentless discipline had kept mutation at bay whilst simultaneously developing psychic power. Having steeped themselves in the raw power of Chaos, however, the Thousand Sons fell prey to rampant and uncontrolled mutation, to such an extent that a cabal of the Legion's senior Librarians, led by their chief, Ahriman, determined that something drastic must be done to save the Legion from complete dissolution. With Magnus retired to the highest tower of the City of Light, his mystic, all-seeing gaze cast bitterly upon the dimensions without, Ahriman and his cabal set about enacting a mighty spell that would purge the Legion of mutation and impurity, and leave behind a body of utterly purified warriors. Ahriman cast his rubric, and the skies over the Planet of Sorcerers erupted in an etheric storm of unprecedented proportions. Bolts of power formed from the raw stuff of the Warp arced from the roiling clouds, each striking a Battle-Brother of the Thousand Sons, until all but Magnus in his tower and the cabal of Sorcerers had been scoured by the mighty rubric.

But when the storm receded, Ahriman saw the awful truth of what he had wrought. Instead of purging the flesh of ravening mutations, each of the Thousand Sons who lacked psychic power had been transformed. The seals and joints of their Power Armour had been welded shut, and the body within turned to ashes. What remained was a suit of animated armour, devoid of mutation, but of all independent will as well. When Magnus the Red saw what Ahriman had done, he turned his back, ascended his tower and turned his gaze upon the Imperium. In that moment he knew that everything he had ever striven towards was now, quite literally, ashes. Some say that Magnus resides in his Silver Tower still, his baleful gaze sweeping the domains of Mankind in search of the means of enacting his final vengeance. While their Daemon Primarch broods upon the total annihilation of his enemies, the Sorcerers of the Thousand Sons lead their automaton warriors, their Rubricae, the length and breadth of the galaxy, wielding the power of Tzeentch and enacting the schemes of their master upon the Imperium.

Ahriman

Ahriman is a Chaos Space Marine and the most powerful Chaos Sorcerer of the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion after their Daemon Primarch Magnus the Red himself. Ahriman was once the Chief Librarian and First Captain of the ancient Thousand Sons Legion.

Ahriman has always sought to better comprehend the nature of his patron Chaos God Tzeentch and of the force of Chaos itself and gain the unrivalled power such knowledge will bring.

His action in crafting the Rubric of Ahriman, perhaps one of the greatest works of sorcery in history, would ultimately result in his banishment from the Legion he had hoped to safeguard. He remains a wanderer across the galaxy, forever seeking out any knowledge that will allow him to finally grasp the greatest of all enigmas in the galaxy - the true nature of Tzeentch himself.

Across a thousand worlds, Ahriman has sought the keys to save what he has already destroyed. The scars of his obsession have made his name a curse in the mouths of humans and aliens alike. Scraps of lore, artefacts both obscure and profane, and rare souls draw him like a raven to a corpse. To the Aeldari, he is the carrion scribe who eats the souls of their dying race for secrets, to the Inquisitors of the Ordo Malleus he is the lightning rod which brings a storm of daemons, amongst the servants of Chaos he is a flame of power and trickery as likely to burn those drawn to his light as to illuminate them.

A master of subtle manipulation, Ahriman has seeded cults on a hundred worlds, and bent the desires of the powerful to achieve his ends. With conspiracies and plots spread across the galaxy, he coils between them, a puppet master pulling invisible strings. When such subtle means are impossible he wages a sorcerer's war, forcing armies to kneel with visions of terror, shattering war machines with invisible forces, and ripping the souls from mighty heroes.

He knows the true names of daemons, and possesses pacts which can bring armies flocking to his call. Worlds have burned at his command, billions have fallen to the hunger of the Warp, and reality has bled at the fury of his power.

Ahriman refuses to acknowledge either Tzeentch or Chaos itself as his master. Across the ensuing millennia he has become a scourge of the Imperium, raiding ancient museums, librarium, scholaria and reclusia, places of learning, religion and contemplative thought. He seeks to acquire artefacts, data, or even persons he believes can lead him to master the way of the sorcerer.

He fosters Chaos Cults on dozens of worlds at a time, providing the cults' magi with sorcerous power until such time as they have acquired some antiquarian trinket or satisfied another of Ahriman's demands before turning the wrath of his Thousand Sons' warband of Chaos Space Marines, the Prodigal Sons, upon them and seizing all they have for himself.

Rubric Marines

Rubric Marines, also known by the High Gothic term Rubricae, are the spectral remnants of those Astartes of the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion who are now trapped within their suits of ancient Power Armour as mindless automatons. Remorseless, implacable foes, the Rubric Marines are forever cursed. They bestride the galaxy in armoured suits that are little more than sealed tombs, within which only a handful of dust remains of what was once a proud Space Marine. During the razing of their homeworld Prospero, the Thousand Sons Legion was forced to flee its beloved capital city of Tizca. The Emperor had sent against them the Space Wolves, the Custodian Guard and the Sisters of Silence, His intent to call the Primarch Magnus and his fellow psykers of the XV Legion to account. For all their esoteric skill, the Thousand Sons could not stand against the combined might of these invaders, and escaped to the Eye of Terror and the Planet of the Sorcerers, Sortiarius, that awaited them there through a Warp Gate opened by their Sorcerers and Magnus. However, their rapid evasion and dabbling with forbidden powers was not without price.

Coupled with many solar decades of harnessing the energy of the Empyrean, the warping effects of Chaos began to take their toll.

Mutation spread rapidly and unchecked through the Legion. Ahzek Ahriman, the Chief Librarian of the Thousand Sons, attempted to halt this process of degeneration by unleashing an incredibly potent spell that would become known as the Rubric of Ahriman. Sealing daemonic pacts and harnessing the energies of his fellow Librarians, Ahriman intended to permanently enchant all of the Thousand Sons, forever shielding them from the corrupting effects of Chaos. Tzeentch, the Changer of the Ways and patron of the Thousand Sons, granted his wish, but in a manner most twisted.

In a way, the Rubric of Ahriman succeeded beyond all expectation. It was at a cost none could have predicted. The most powerful Sorcerers of the Thousand Sons survived the casting of the Rubric of Ahriman with their knowledge and powers greatly augmented. The Battle-Brothers whose psychic ability had been slight or non-existent, by far the larger part of the XV Legion, were altered in a much more profound way - their armour was sealed shut, as if every clasp and join had been welded tight, and their bodies were reduced to nothing more than dimly sentient dust. Truly, physical mutation would plague them no more, but their fleshless spirits were trapped inside their battle plate for all eternity. Whether the souls of these warriors were eradicated entirely, or whether some small fragment continues to linger, not even the most powerful mystics of the Thousand Sons can say.

Although these living suits of Power Armour still move and function, and can respond to orders just like an ordinary man, they are little more than automatons. They quickly fall into inactivity unless a Sorcerer is nearby to direct them, although in the fires of battle, something of their former battle-hunger returns and they move with greater clarity and purpose. Conversely, they are far more durable than the Chaos Space Marines of their brother Traitor Legions - solid-shot weapons have little to no effect upon them, and even a plasma blast or powered blade may be deflected by their fate-altering auras, for the power of Tzeentch sustains them better than any physical protection could. Only the most grievous wounds can lay open the sealed shell of a Rubric Marine and dissipate the dust inside, breaking the spell and effectively slaying its essence.

The ancient Prosperine armour that houses their essence bears little resemblance to its former appearance, having been melded over many centuries by the empyric powers of the Warp. Where once their raiments were the embodiment of Imperial might, they are now a testament to the will of Tzeentch. The articular servos and fibre bundles that give the interlocking ceramite plates movement are infused with sorcerous energy, providing the Rubric Marine with a semblance of animus. This same power coalesces around the armour, creating a protective shroud against incoming fire. Even those attacks that do manage to pierce the shell of a Rubric Marine have little effect, for they have no flesh to be torn by bolt or blade, and only by sundering the armour completely can they be taken down.

When a Rubric Marine does fall in battle, the desiccated remnants of their corporeal form pour from the rents in their armour and are scattered to the wind. As such, many worlds have ancient battlefields that are seeded with the dust of Rubric Marines. Yet even dispersed, the warrior is not granted the release of oblivion. Should the fragments of their armour be collected and resealed, the essence of the Rubric Marine can be returned to its vessel to once again serve the Thousand Sons. The sorceries required to achieve such a rebinding are as dangerous as they are powerful. A single misspoken syllable can kill the intoner or drive them insane. But should the profane rituals be successful, the essence dust of the Rubric Marine will be drawn back to its prison. Many Aspiring Sorcerers amongst the Legion will perform these rites, and the most skilled can will the essence of a Rubric Marine to coalesce even if the dust of its body has been strewn across an entire planet or buried deep beneath the surface.

Rubric Marines are forever yoked to those who have entrapped them. The Aspiring Sorcerer who has gained control over and commands a squad of Rubric Marines can direct them in battle as a puppeteer would operate a marionette. Often, the Aspiring Sorcerer will use their enslaved soldiers as a bulwark against the enemy while they themselves work their dark magics. Should the Aspiring Sorcerer fall, the Rubric Marines continue to follow the path on which they have been set, killing and maiming until all before them have been obliterated.

The Chaos Sorcerers of the Thousand Sons now use their Rubricae as bodyguards and enforcers. These undying warriors make excellent guardians for the libraries of esoteric lore hoarded by the Sorcerers, for they possess no spark of curiosity and are utterly loyal without exception. Such Sorcerers will sometimes offer the services of their Rubricae to those who promise them knowledge and magical power, and many have pledged themselves to Abaddon the Despoiler, hungrily taking any opportunity thrown up by the Warmaster of Chaos' campaigns to seize exotic relics and captives. Before battle, the Sorcerers enchant the weapons of their bodyguards so that the munitions they fire blaze with magical flame, burning the minds of their targets just as they melt armour and flesh.

Thrall Wizard

A Thrall Wizard, also spelled Thrall-wizard, is a normal human Sorcerer of Tzeentch who serves the Heretic Astartes of the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion and is drawn and trained from the mortal population of the Thousand Sons' homeworld of Sortiarius, the Planet of the Sorcerers.

The Thrall Wizards also serve aboard the Daemon Engines known as the Silver Towers of Tzeentch that can invade realspace.

Each tower contains dozens of Thrall Wizards who focus their power to rain magical destruction in the form of powerful bolts of energy down upon Tzeentch's foes from the towers' floating fortifications.

Screamer of Tzeentch

A Screamer, often referred to as a Screamer of Tzeentch or Sky-shark, is a daemonic beast of Tzeentch who resembles the mythical rays and skates that once inhabited the oceans of ancient Terra.

How these daemons remain aloft is something of a mystery, and they can navigate planetary atmospheres, the void of space, and the Immaterium with equal ease and speed. Some have theorised that they fly upon or swim through ambient Warp energy rather than upon actual air or water.

As they fly, Screamers leave behind contrails of multi-coloured sparks, and they emit the piercing, high-frequency whine that gives these creatures their name. The few who have fought these creatures and survived explain that the scream of the Sky-sharks has a profoundly disconcerting psychological effect. They soar through the skies of the Warp in predatory groups in a constant search for souls to devour and deliver to their master.

Screaming Vortex

The Screaming Vortex is one of the zones within the region known as the Great Warp Storms that separates the Calixis Sector of the Segmentum Obscurus from the Koronus Expanse region of the Halo Stars.

It takes the form of a vast, seething cauldron of empyreal energies which, while not as large, are every bit as intense as those spewing forth from the Eye of Terror, the Maelstrom or any other such Warp/realspace overlap in the Milky Way Galaxy.

As a permanent Warp Storm and Warp rift, the Screaming Vortex is a region of space beset by the unreal forces of the Empyrean, where the thin skein between reality and that impossible dimension has been torn viciously asunder. A volume of space far larger than the average Imperial sector is to all intents and purposes cut adrift from the physical universe, the laws of nature no longer applying within.

Beyond the boundaries of the Screaming Vortex, the Ruinous Powers of Chaos hold sway and for a mortal to even contemplate crossing into its weirdling energies is insanity of the very worst kind. The interior of the Vortex cannot be described in terms that even the greatest mortal mind could comprehend, and so descriptions are largely limited to the worlds on its verges and, when describing those places further in, to allegory and myth.

The Screaming Vortex is so named because the ebb and flow of its tides are accompanied by a concomitant wailing, audible to psykers and sorcerers. The most gifted of psykers can hear the ceaseless, discordant psychic wailing that emanates from the Vortex from dozens, sometimes hundreds, of light years away, their dreams haunted by once beautiful faces turned ashen by fear and shrill, plaintive screams for mercy.

The closer those gifted in the psyker's arts travel to the Vortex, the louder and more desperate the screaming becomes. Soon, it is not only in his dreams but in his every waking hour that the psyker hears the wailing, and most are driven to the very brink of sanity by the experience.

On occasion, such as when the tides of the gibbous storm wax, the screams are so loud that even those born without the power of the psyker can hear them, scratching at the edge of their sanity and seeming to beg them for a mercy that none have the power to grant.

Horrors of Tzeentch

To describe a daemonic Horror is all but impossible, for they are pure Chaos unbound, given capering and energetic form by the will of Tzeentch. The Lesser Daemons called Horrors are often used as daemonic slaves by the Greater Daemons called Lords of Change.

They do not have static material bodies, sometimes taking on a discernible form, at others blurring into a frantic mass of colour as they dash and scramble across the battlefield. Horrors can nonetheless be said to have two distinct states defined by the colour they present to the naked eye - the Pink Horror and the Blue Horror.

Lesser Daemons of Tzeentch are literally magic made manifest. Pink Horrors, as they are known, frolic together in cheerful, brightly coloured mobs that caper and whirl, cackling insanely at their own incomprehensible jokes as they blur and cartwheel across the battlefield.

As bright bolts of raw sorcery leap from their outstretched fingers, the Pink Horrors are filled with an increased joy, emitting squeals of laughter supplemented with many "oohs" and "ahhs" of delight as the magical lightshow screams overhead. These energies have a tendency to engulf the Pink Horrors' enemies in searing conflagrations of mutation, much to the joy of the daemons themselves.

The principal weapon of the Lesser Daemon of Tzeentch is not its scrabbling claws or the gaping, fang-lined maw that sits amidst its rubbery torso, though one bitten or scratched by a Horror will be forever changed by the experience. Instead it is the raw Warp energy that flows in the creature's veins. With a cackled word or gibbered phrase, the Horror throws balls of multicoloured flame at the enemy.

Where these strike home they do not merely burn, but also wreak the most disturbing and peculiar changes, turning enemies to statues of screaming glass, to clouds of butterflies with anguished human faces, to strains of maddening music, mewling infants or horrific mounds of tentacled flesh. Only Tzeentch can know what strange fate awaits those kissed by Warpfire; even the Horrors themselves are oblivious, and take great joy in each sanity-shattering change as it is wrought.

The only way known way to end a Pink Horror's jubilant mood is to blow it to pieces or otherwise cut it apart. It is then that the Pink Horror undergoes a total transformation, splitting into halves that reshape themselves into smaller copies of the original. These new daemons are different from their predecessor in two respects.

The first is that their colour changes from pink to vivid blue, earning them the name of Blue Horrors. The second change is that the gleeful attitude of the Pink Horror is reversed - Blue Horrors are morose, whining and petty, eternally squabbling about whose fault it was that they lost their pink status once again.

These replacement forms are miserable and sullen to the point of aggression, lurching after those who ruined their day to stab and throttle until they kill those with the temerity to have killed them first. Should a Blue Horror be killed before it can get its revenge, it will divide once more into two tiny Brimstone Horrors, blazing yellow manifestations of pure spite and bitterness that seek only to burn their enemies to scattering ash.

Tzaangor

A Tzaangor is a type of Abhuman mutant, known as a Beastman, that serves the Chaos God Tzeentch. True to the Changer of the Ways, the Beastmen of Tzeentch are spectacularly variable - bright of colouration and sharp of intellect.

Their beaks clack as they chant blasphemous refrains in the Dark Tongue, gimlet eyes glowing in their aquiline skulls. Their hunger for knowledge stems from a desire for power, and even in battle they look to transcend their base existences by seeking out arcane artefacts and priceless sorcerous texts.

In serving Sorcerer masters, usually of the Thousand Sons Traitor Legion, they may earn the chance to elevate themselves above their earthly stations, but in truth such occasions are rare, for a streak of cruelty lurks within the warlike soul of every Tzaangor.

When given the opportunity, they will take their ire out on those who oppose them in inventive displays of blade-work - or, when they put aside their artistic pretensions for the gratification of raw brutality, a gory display of violence.

Lord of Change

A Lord of Change, also called a "Supreme Mutator," and one of the "Eyes of Tzeentch," is an insidious Greater Daemon of Tzeentch, the Chaos God of Change and Sorcery. Lords of Change are creatures born from some impossible nightmare, immense bird-like daemons with shimmering skin, wicked curved beaks and multi-coloured, spectrum-shattering wings. Those who gaze upon these twisted prisms of pure magic begin to feel their sanity shred and reason slip away. Faced by a being of change incarnate, bedrock beliefs crumble and twist, and the mind seeks firm purchase in vain.

Treachery, deceit, capriciousness: these are the hallmarks of the Lords of Change. Tzeentch's greatest servants weave scheme upon scheme, a dense tangle of intermingling threads, so convoluted and eon-spanning that none can grasp their true purpose. A confrontation with a Lord of Change is likely to occur when and where the creature wills it. Few have ever managed to get the drop on these servants of Tzeentch, for the Changer of Ways is the master of destiny itself, and his greatest servants possess a portion of that power.

They blasted and pulverized and mangled the Cat Creatures with powerful ferocity and energy and weapons and more.

Lincoln: Awesome job sis!

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Shocker: Lets do it!

Soundwave: Yeah!

Shocker used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Soundwave used the Decepticon Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Shocker's lightning powers and Soundwave's Concussion blaster 100-fold.

Ripster used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Blaster used the Gigantion Cyber Planet Key and they enhanced Ripster's water powers and Blaster's Electro-Scrambler Gun 100-fold.

Shocker and Soundwave: LIGHTNING CONCUSSION WAVE!

Shocker and Soundwave fired blasts of lightning and energy.

Ripster and Blaster: THUNDERWATER MEGABLAST!

Ripster and Blaster fired blasts of lightning and water.

Gia Moran: Lets do it! YELLOW SUPER MEGABLAST!

Gia fired a massive wave of yellow energy.

Shaggy, Scooby, Velma, Daphne and Fred: MYSTERY INC. SUPERBLAST!

Mystery Inc fired blasts of energy and they all slammed into the Cat Creatures and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The Cat Creatures were defeated and we unmasked them. We unmasked the creatures which were in fact, The greeters and the ship captain. Their intention was to find Moonscar's treasure and used cat whistles to control the island cats to deter anyone who were getting too close.

Me: You four are now looking at spending 20 to 40 years in prison for your crimes.

Nico: Yep.

Ferry operator: And we would've gotten away with it too if it weren't for you fucking meddling kids!

Me: Tell it to the judge you asshole.

They were taken away.

Me: Well those werecats are looking at spending the rest of their 9 lives in jail.

Laney: Yep.

Larry 3000: And I hope this mystery will be the last.

Tuddrussel: Yeah I guess so.

Then Larry's arms fell off.

Larry 3000: Oh! TUDDRUSSEL!

Tuddrussel: (LAUGHING)

We laughed with Tuddrussel!

The Masters of Evil came and they were laughing too.

Firefly: I guess that ends the Mysteries on Zombie Island.

Gia Moran: Is there any chance of the Werecats being revived by you guys?

Vexen: Not after all the trouble they've caused.

Shaggy: Oh, thank goodness!

Me: Yeah.

Larxene: And Larry? You might want to keep your arms attached.

The Masters of Evil then teleported out and it was revealed that Otto had a screwdriver in his hands and that he had unscrewed Larry's arms. He laughed mischievously.

Velma: (To the viewers) Never mess around with dangerous history that we know or you'll suffer the consequences.

Me: You said it Velma.

We enjoyed our time in New Orleans.

The Final Birthday of the DCFDTL

In a nearby hotel, Jack Spicer was working as a radio master. He called himself the Doorman.

Spicer: Breaker, breaker, this is the doorman, looking for some Cb convo-sation. Anybody out there pickin' up what I'm puttin' out, come on back.

Trucker: Hey there, doorman. You got Porkchop on this end. Come on.

Spicer: Well, hey there, Porkchop. How you doin'?

Porkchop: Doin' just fine. Are you a trucker?

Spicer (sees boy playing racquetball in the lobby) One second. (to the kid) Hey, hey, listen. You're really not supposed to do that here in the lobby, okay? Thanks.

Rhino: It would be best if you did that somewhere else.

Spicer: Sorry there, Porkchop. Anyway, no, I'm not a trucker but here's a joke for you. What's the difference between roast beef and pea soup?

Porkchop: Man, I don't know. Come on.

Spicer: Anyone can roast beef but nobody can pea soup. (laughs) Thank you.

But then some kid was playing racquetball and it was bothering Jack.

Spicer: Hey, kid, seriously, you can't do that in here. Take it outside, okay?

Kid: Make me. (continues playing racquetball in the lobby)

Spicer: Hey!

Porkchop: Look, doorman, this channel is for truckers only so get off.

Spicer: No. This is a free country and I can talk on here all I wanna.

Porkchop: Boy, you don't wanna mess with the porkchop.

Spicer: (to the kid) Quit that.

Kid: What if I don't?

Layla Williams: You really shouldn't be asking that question.

Kid's dad: Hey, hey. What's goin' on?

Spicer: Is he your son?

Kid's dad: Yeah.

Spicer: Well, he's been playing racquetball in here even though I keep telling him to knock it off.

Kid's dad: (to his son) That's it. You're grounded!

Spicer: Yeah! (the kid lunges at him) Hey, hey! Hey, get off of me! Get him off! Get him off of me! (the dad gets his son off Spicer)

Kid: I'll get you!

Spicer: Have fun locked in your room!

Bonecrusher: I think you just made a new enemy that's not even in the Masters of Evil.

Me: He sure did.

We laughed.

Spicer: (on the radio) Hey, hey, this is the doorman. Who's out there in Cb radio land? Come on back to me.

Trucker: Hey, you got the Sledgehammer, come back.

Spicer: Okay, mister Sledgehammer, what do you get when you cross a rooster with a small dog?

Sledgehammer: Huh?

Spicer: (laughs) A cocka-poodle-doo.

Sledgehammer: Look, buddy, this channel ain't no place for comedians.

Spicer: Is too!

Porkchop: Hey, Sledgehammer, I think you're talkin' to the same old boy that was gettin' on my nerves the other day.

Spicer: Oh, porkchop. So nice to hear your voice again. Hey, what you been doin'? Diggin' bugs outta your wife's ear?

Porkchop: That tears it. Where are you?

Spicer: You'll never find out.

Sledgehammer: You better hope we don't.

Spicer: Hey, porkchop and sledgehammer, if you guys ever get married, will your last name be sledgechop or porkhammer?

Brawn: Hey, Jack. The others needs at the estate.

Spicer: Ok. (on the radio) The doorman will be right back.

Brawn: (he and Spicer walk out of the hotel) I think you should find another job.

Spicer: That's probably a good idea.

Kid: (gets on the radio) Hey, Sledgehammer and Porkchop, if you wanna find the Doorman, he works in an apartment building on the West Side of Kennedy square.

Kid's dad: Max, put that down.

Max: Yes, daddy.

Sledgehammer and Porkchop arrived at the hotel and they were armed with tire irons and crowbars and the police ambushed them and arrested them.

---

Back at the estate we were watching TV and playing card games and reading books.

Suddenly the Kids Next Door alarm went off.

Me: Uh oh!

Numbuh 1: Numbuh 1 calling J.D.! We have an urgent situation!

Me: We're on our way Numbuh 1.

We went to the Sector V treehouse and went to the briefing room.

Me: We got here as fast as we could Nigel. What's up?

Numbuh 1: I'm afraid our old nemesis's the Delightful Children From Down The Lane have returned and are now planning another birthday party.

Maria: The Delightful Kids From Down the Lane?! What's going on here?!

Lola: It's actually the Delightful Children, Maria.

Maria: Sorry.

Yuko Tani: I thought we got rid of those monsters when we freed Sector Z from their Delightfulization.

Me: Lets see here.

I activated my dark orb scan and it shows that there was a Dark Orb that brought them back as separate beings.

Me: A dark orb brought them back as separate beings.

Ashley: So now our evil Delightfulized Twins are on the outside for all to see.

Bruce: We got to take them down once and for all.

Qin: So the Delightful Children are Sector Z's evil twins?

Me: Worse.

I revealed everything about the Delightful Children.

---

The Delightful Children From Down The Lane are the conceited secondary antagonists of the series bent on the destruction of the Kids Next Door Organization and the supremacy of adults over children. The DCFDTL speak in synchronization and stand together in group formation.

Although the Delightful Children answer to Father, they are seen acting independently just as often. The Delightful Children rarely partake in direct combat, usually sending other villains to do their work and controlling combat machines. Although the secondary antagonists of the show, they make more appearances in the series than any other villain, and more than any character other than the five members of Sector V. They are obsessed with behaving properly and wish to become adults as soon as possible.

The Delightful Children celebrate their birthday five times a year, as they are technically five people. They prepare a delicious cake they intend to eat without sharing with any other kids and force their guests to watch as they do so. Sector V personally attempts to stop them from eating their cake at all costs whenever they celebrate their birthday, which occurs six times throughout the series and composes a recurring storyline, throughout which this simplistic scenario is repeated with several variations and exaggerated to absurd lengths. In each of these episodes, the cake is stolen, destroyed or in some way rendered inedible for the Delightful Children, save for Operation: S.I.X., where Numbuh 2 is tricked into personally delivering their cake to them. This leads to Numbuh 362 giving the mission to Sector W in Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S..

The Delightful Children have almost never worked together with Sector V. However, in Operation: Z.O.O., they and Sector V had to work together to escape their zoo enclosures (which they were not on board with at first), only to later reveal their entrapment was part of a set-up to destroy Sector V.

In Operation: P.A.R.T.Y. they call Sector V to help them get the Teenagers out of their mansion before Father returns home. At first, Numbuh 1 doesn't care about this situation, but the Delightful Children remind him that it's the KND's job to help kids no matter what the consequences are, to which Numbuhs 2-5 agree with the Delightful Children. Numbuh 1 does agree eventually, but still doesn't trust them.

In Operation: U.N.D.E.R.C.O.V.E.R., Lenny, the child with the helmet, is apparently revealed to be an undercover KND operative and leaves the DCFDTL to assist the team during their attack on the coffee rig, during which time he functions independently and acts like a normal kid. However, this is revealed to be a ruse, and Lenny returns to the Delightful Children towards the end of the episode. Even after this is revealed, Lenny alone is responsible for the error that causes the Delightful Children's defeat, for which the other four call him an idiot, which could mean he might be still against their plans.

In Operation: F.O.U.N.T.A.I.N., it was revealed that the Delightful Children were responsible for making Numbuh 1 bald, which was done in such a way that his hair would never grow back. This occurred shortly before he joined the KND, and is never shown and only briefly mentioned, leaving the circumstances of the incident up to the imagination of the viewer. At that same episode, they kidnap Leaky Leona and attempt to destroy the Fountain of Youth in order to prevent anyone from remaining a kid, but they failed.

One of the worst things that the Delightful Children has done was in Operation: B.U.T.T. when they were going to put a picture of Numbuh 1's butt in the school yearbook to attempt to make him quit his team, with thousands of Robot Crabs taking a picture of his butt. The plan was foiled by the rest of Sector V, and are left embarrassed and run away from the Robot Crabs.

In Operation: E.L.E.C.T.I.O.N.S., they make a deal with Chad to let the students of his middle school enslave the students of Gallagher Elementary in exchange for being "promoted" to middle school level, thereby becoming "that much closer to glorious adulthood."

In Operation: C.A.K.E.D.F.I.V.E., Father creates an ice cream cake for his children and attempts to destroy all other ice cream, planning to have all the children in the world watch as they eat the last ice cream in existence. Father's plan failed, and the delightfuls are covered by the cake itself upon crash landed.

In Operation: I.T., the Delightful Children betray Father in order to stop his plan to spread broccoli throughout the world to force feed to children, which even they are against, because they are still children, and even they hate broccoli, so they help Numbuh 1 and Numbuh 362 to stop Father.

In Operation: Z.E.R.O., after the revelation of Sector Z, the Delightful Children are re-commissioned by the re-commissioning Module, restoring them to their former selves as KND operatives; Numbuhs 0.1, 0.2, 0.3, 0.4 and 0.5. However, the effects of delightfulization were so powerful that any reversion is temporary, and the re-commissioning module's effects wear off during the final battle on the moon base. Sector Z's final words to Numbuh 1 as the delightfulization takes hold again are "Tell… the Kids Next Door… that we miss them!" Now, back to their delightfulized selves, they pummel Numbuh 1. But Nigel defeats them, and sending them to space in a escape pod.

Ultimate Fate

The last we see of the Delightful Children is in Operation: I.N.T.E.R.V.I.E.W.S., where they celebrate their birthday. Sector V attempts to chase them, but the delightfuls escape. Then, both Sector V and the DCFDTL clash again in Sector V's Treehouse, alongside Father, for filming a movie of the delightfuls eating the cake, much to Sector V's dismay.

To their horror, however, Numbuh 74.239 appears instead of the cake. Later on, the children talk to Father about the scavenger hunt in their mansion, and decide to participate to retrieve their cake.

They actually get ahead of themselves, as they presume to cheat the competition. When Numbuh 1 returns to the amusement park with Father's pipe, the children furiously begin to battle him for it, and end up on a log-river ride. They get him into a hold by using Numbuh 1's S.P.L.A.N.K.E.R., and are about to end him once and for all, when Nigel grabs onto a sign as his foot knocks the pipe from their hands, while the Delightful Children fall into a broken part of the ride, and into a deep hole below.

---

Qin gasped.

Ashley: That's right. The Delightful Children were us turned evil against our wills.

Nico: Now we have a chance to destroy them once and for all.

Me: And give everyone but them a piece of their cake.

Laney: Lets get them!

We were off to the football stadium in the middle of the city.

---

Gotham Royal York Football Stadium.

---

At the Gotham Royal York Football Stadium, The Delightful Children reborn had an incredibly awesome and delicious looking cake that was like that of a Hollywood dream. They had all the children in the stadium tied up to their seats as they were singing Happy Birthday to them.

Delightful Children: (Monotone) Splendid. Now while we eat our birthday cake you can sing it to us AGAIN.

Just then a Thunderstorm rolled in and lightning was striking all around the cake and then a bolt of lightning hit the Delightful Children and electrocuted them. Then the screech of a Thunderbird was heard as the clouds of the storm opened up and shined sunlight onto the kids of the stadium and we swooped in and landed by them.

Numbuh 1: Okay Delightful Freaks! Hands where we can see them!

Yuko Tani: Its been a while Delightful Pukes! Never thought we would see you again after all this time. Especially after we killed Father and destroyed his reign of terror.

Lola: That's right!

Delightful Children: So the Kids Next Door are here. This time we will end you once and for all! (Evil Laughter)

Me: Not if we have anything to say about it!

Delightful Children: And just who are you?

Me: Your worst nightmare!

Bruce: I can't believe that we would turn into you monsters! You make me sick!

Ashley: Hard to imagine that we would become you brats!

Constance: You guys make me sick!

Delightful Children: So you all are what we were before we became like this. Isn't this a coincidence.

Yuko Tani: And we cured you and saved you.

Numbuh 1: A thought just occurred to me. Now that Sector Z's with us, we don't need you five around anymore, do we?

Me: And we're gonna make sure that everyone but you 5 gets a piece of that delicious cake!

Nico: That's right. And to top it all off we're going to kill the five of you and destroy you for good!

Me: Normally that goes against our code, but in this case we'll make an exception!

The kids all cheered for us.

But then the cake started to move and then it grew ginormous and turned into a nasty cake monster!

Numbuh 2: (sees the cake monster) Never thought we'd be fighting this thing again!

Me: Not for long!

I used my super speed and cut the cake into many slices.

It looked like a really good cake.

I smelled it.

Me: (Sniff sniff) Mmm. Coconut Chocolate Hazelnut. Very exquisite.

Nico: Smells good.

Laney: It sure does.

Varie and Carol gave everyone a piece.

Troy: This birthday is gonna be your last!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Turbo!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Turbo Rangers.

But then Dark Spicer, Vypra, Common Cold, Cheese Shogun Roquefort and Xaldin appeared.

Common Cold: Hey, Spicer. How was the doorman job?

Spicer: It was good for a while. But I eventually quit.

Cheese Shogun Roquefort: Why? It soiunds like it was a good job.

Spicer: I pissed off a few people.

Me: But it's not your turn yet Vypra and Dark Spicer.

Vypra: We know. We're gonna help you guys.

Toby then appeared.

Toby: Hey guys.

Dark Spicer handed him a cake piece.

Toby: Thanks Dark.

Eddy: You know, Dark. Ever since Toby was brought back, you've acted like a big brother to him.

Dark Spicer: Yep. He's an awesome kid. (To the Delightful Children) Here's your warning: Your asses are about to be kicked!

Me: Big time!

Dark Spicer then whispered something to me.

Me: Ooh. I like how you think.

I then handed Dark Spicer something and he then went up to the Delightful Children and he gave them a slice of cake.

Dark Spicer: Have a piece of cake before we fight.

Delightful Children: Thank you.

They ate it. But what the Delightful Children didn't know was that their pieces of cake they had were laced with a lethal dose of Scorpion Venom and it will killed them in 2 hours.

?: This will be the last time you see the darkness brats.

Alexis then recognized that voice. A figure came out and it was the 6th Shadow Rider, TITAN!

---

Titan (タイタン, Taitan) is a hit man originally hired by Dr. Crowler to deal with Jaden Yuki. He used fake Shadow Duels to intimidate his opponents, later becoming a Shadow Rider after invoking a real Shadow Duel. In the Japanese version of some video games, he is named Titán, that and his deck, may imply that he may have Hispanic heritage.

Titan was known as the Shadow Duelist, usually being hired to defeat Duelists using Shadow Games, charging to his clients three months of their salary. Despite his reputation of possessing the power of a Millennium Item, it is in fact a fake Millennium Puzzle, and Titan used various tricks to mimic a Shadow Game.

Titan appeared at first defeating a Duelist in the street full of fog in a fake Shadow Game and showed a fake Millennium Puzzle to his opponent and uses a fake Mind Crush against him. After he falls unconscious Titan takes all his rare cards. He is then contacted by Crowler to take down Jaden Yuki. Crowler and Titan met at the pier of Duel Academy where Titan agreed to defeat Jaden in exchange for three months of Crowler's salary.

Titan set himself up at the Abandoned Dorm and kidnapped Alexis Rhodes when she went near the dorm to honor her missing brother. He threw her into a coffin and left her "Etoile Cyber" card on the ground as bait. When Jaden arrived, he rushed to save her and Dueled Titan. Titan created fog and used his Millennium Pendant to make parts of Jaden's body disappear whenever he took damage. Jaden didn't believe it to be a real Shadow Game as a Millennium Item would be needed to invoke one, so Titan showed his Millennium Pendant. Jaden later discovered that the Shadow Game was fake and destroyed "Pandemonium", getting rid of the fog in the process. He then threw a card at the fake Millennium Puzzle, destroying it. Jaden then asked him how many Millennium Items are in total, which Titan answers "seven" but makes a mistake by saying "seven Millennium Puzzles" instead of "Items". In the dub, Titan called his Millennium Item the Millennium Pendant, when it was actually the Millennium Puzzle (Note that the Millennium Pendant is the actual name, but after Atem sealed his soul inside it and shattered it, the need to reassemble the pieces made it be called the Millennium Puzzle). After being discovered Titan tries to escape but a real Shadow Duel is invoked.

Titan became the victim of a real Shadow Duel and was possessed by a spirit from the Abandoned Dorm and is forced to continue the Duel. However he is dragged into the darkness (Shadow Realm in the dub) after being defeated.

He was saved by Kagemaru under the condition that he would serve as the sixth of the Shadow Riders, wearing a Shadow Charm mask to bind him to the real world. Taking advantage of Alexis' desire to restore her brother's memories, Titan challenged her in the Abandoned Dorm where they first met. Following his defeat, his soul is pulled back into the pits of darkness.

---

Jaden: Titan!

Alexis: Not you again!

Me: You know this guy?

Jaden: Unfortunately yes.

Alexis: He's the one who kidnapped me.

Jaden: And he's also the monster Crowler hired to get me expelled. I saved Alexis from him and sent him into Hell.

Alexis: And I beat him the 2nd time and got him sent back to Hell.

Me: Whoa! Now you have a chance for round 3.

Tuddrussel had his hands on Titan's throat.

Tuddrussel: (starts strangling Titan) I'm gonna fucking strangle you to death!

Me: Tuddrussel let him go. We'll handle this.

Devack then appeared.

Devack: Let me help you all face Titan. I heard about what he did and how he wanted to destroy Jaden's life.

Me: Blame Crowler for that. Show no mercy on him Alexis.

Atticus: Go get him Lexi!

Alexis: With pleasure.

?: It won't matter when I get my hands on you!

A figure came out and it was CYCLOPTER from episode 22 of Lightspeed Rescue!

---

Cyclopter was summoned by Loki to show Olympius that he is not lazy, he beats up three Batlings and was about to challenge Vypra, but he changes his mind, he then demands for more of a challenge, to which Loki gladly takes him to Mariner Bay to fight the Lightspeed Rangers, he goes to a Dojo to lure the Rangers and defeats all five of them in hand-to-hand combat, Mr. Tamashiro (Chad's former mentor) comes in and mocks the demon by throwing a milk carton at him. Annoyed, Cyclopter was about to strike Mr. Tamashiro down, but Mr. Tamashiro easily dodge Cyclopter's punch and successfully beats the monster by throwing him down the stairs, surprised and embarrassed that he was defeated, he runs off in shame. Cyclopter then pays the sensei a visit with an army of Batlings (all of them dressed in karate outfits) and begs to be trained, vowing that he has turned "good", Mr. Tamashiro did not believe him, just then a confused Loki comes by to ask whats going one, only for Cyclopter to shove Loki down to the ground and saying that he has "changed", Loki then leaves in anger. The sensei then accepts so as to spite Chad, and trains the monster, Chad comes by and tries to warn him, but he didn't believe him and Cyclopter took Chad down. When Cyclopter finds out that the training is complete, he takes out the old man and takes off to wreak havoc on Mariner Bay, now calling himself Cyclopter, The "Invincible", the four Lightspeed Rangers came in (with the exception of Chad who is looking for his master) and battle the monster. They were all easily defeated, Chad came in for a rematch and successfully defeats the monster at hand-to-hand combat, Cyclopter wasn't finish yet however and equips his weapon. Chad morphed into the Blue Lightspeed Ranger and all the Rangers battle the monster, all of them were defeated and the Blue Ranger was left to fight. Cyclopter was was no match for the Blue Ranger and was destroyed by the Blue Rangers V-Lancer, he grows large thanks to Jinxer and the Omega Megazord was summoned to battle Cyclopter in a hand-to-hand combat battle. Cyclopter had the upper hand at first, but the Megazord was able to throw him down and finally defeat him by using the Omega Lance finisher.

---

Chad Lee: Cyclopter!

Cyclopter: Its been a long time Blue Ranger.

Me: I remember you! You went to Chad's former mentor and asked him to train you so you can beat Vypra and you got beaten by Chad.

Cyclopter: That's right! You have watched me on TV.

Me: Never missed an episode.

Chad Lee: You don't have my mentor to hide behind this time!

Cycloptor: Oh, who says I need him to beat you?

Vypra: I never liked this one. Because of Olympius.

Me: Olympius got what he deserved. Just like Bansheera. Lets get them guys!

Numbuh 1: KIDS NEXT DOOR! BATTLESTATIONS!

We powered up and went at them!

---

Battle 1: Common Cold

---

Robin, Numbuh 362, Kraven and Stalker were facing Common Cold.

Robin: This is gonna be a good one.

Common Cold: It sure will. (Sneezes)

Kraven: (Russian Accent) Bless you.

Common Cold: Thank you.

Numbuh 362: Now this is gonna be good. I was saving this power for when I took down my evil brother. But it will be perfect for you.

Common Cold: All right then.

Numbuh 362 then flared up her rainbow aura and she spread her wings of rainbow light and then she was enveloped in a vortex of rainbow energy. Her energy levels were skyrocketing exponentially and when the vortex faded, Numbuh 362 was forever changed. She looked like she was 15 years old and she had a beautiful orange sweater and she had the number 362 on her arm and she had blue jeans and sneakers. She also had the kanji for Rachel T. McKenzie, Supreme Leader of The Kids Next Door and Kindred Angel of Justice emblazoned on her sweater.

レイチェル・マッケンジー、キッズ・ネクスト・ドアの最高指導者および正義の親切な天使。

She was now a SUPER ANGEL 20,000 LIGHT KID RAINBOW!

Numbuh 362: (Older Voice) Now lets see you face the light of justice.

Robin: Lets get him!

Stalker: The hunt is on.

Common Cold called out his Pokemon. it was a Garbodor.

Numbuh 362 went at the Common Cold and kicked him in the face and fired a blast of light at him and it hit him and burned him. Robin bashed the Garbodor all over with his staff and knocked him out.

Robin and Stalker smashed him all over with their staves and Kraven punched and kicked him all over and the Common Cold was knocked out.

Numbuh 362: How's that for the power of light?

Robin: Awesome job Rachel.

Numbuh 362: Thanks Robin.

Battle 2: Cheese Shogun Roquefort

Nico, Numbuh 2, Raven, Bright Man and Shade Man were facing Cheese Shogun Roquefort.

Nico: (Drools) I hope you have a lot of Cheese Ninjas, Roquefort.

Cheese Shogun Roquefort: Oh I have plenty of them.

Numbuh 2: Lets cheese around!

Numbuh 2 then was enveloped in a vortex of water and his power was rising exponentially. When the vortex cleared, he was forever changed. He looked like how he was in the episode Operation K.I.S.S. and he had wings of water and he looked like he was 16 years old. He had the kanji for Hoagie Gilligan Techno genius of the Kids Next Door and Eater of Adults and Villainy on his pants leg.

キッズ・ネクスト・ドアのホジー・ギリガン・テクノの天才であり、大人と極悪者を食べる人

Nico ate the cheese ninjas all over and he was stuffed. Bright Man fired blasts of light and Raven fired blasts of darkness at the pokemon and knocked them down.

Roquefort was knocked down and out.

Lori summoned one of her spears and swung it and spun Xaldin around in a powerful tornado and Jarrod and Camille fired blasts of lasers and they hit Xaldin all over and Beast Boy slammed into Xaldin as a Brachiosaurus and crushed him.

Lori fired blasts of wind at the Pokemon and knocked them out.

Lori: Now it's literally good.

Devack: WHOA! Alexis you look incredible.

Alexis: Thanks Devack.

Jaden: WOW! Get your game on Alexis!

Atticus: You look amazing Lexi!

Alexis: Thanks guys. Lets get this clod.

They went at Titan and Alexis bashed him in the face with her staff and she kicked him in the stomach and then she fired a blast of ice and froze his elbow and then she kicked it and smashed it right off his arm, severing his whole hand and then Devack grabbed his entire deck and their monsters blasted Titan's monsters and they won. Titan was then being taken to the underworld!

Alexis: Not this time!

She held up her hand to Titan's face.

Alexis: HAKAI!

Titan glowed purple as he screamed in excruciating pain and he was being completely obliterated. He was erased from existence for all eternity as if he was never born at all.

Alexis: Enjoy the darkness of oblivion.

Devack: Good riddance.

Alexis picked up Titan's cards and duel disk.

Alexis: J.D. would like to have these cards as a trophy.

Jaden: Way to go Alexis!

Atticus: That's my sis.

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

We powered up.

Yuko Tani: You have tried to kill the members of the Kids Next Door countless times. So many have suffered all because of you! IT ENDS NOW!

We went at them. I punched them in the face and Nico kicked them in their stomachs and Laney and Lola fired blasts of fire and burned them all over. Yuko fired waves of fire and they formed into snakes of fire and they slammed into the Delightful Children and burned them all over! Sector Z blasted and bashed the Delightful Children all over the place and they were pulverizing and blasting them all over with incredible power and ferocity! Lana fired waves of ice lightning and froze them and Lincoln and Linka fired blasts of lightning and electrocuted them all over the place and Carol fired blasts of atomic energy at them and burned them all over in powerful explosions of fire. Vypra and Dark Spicer fired blasts of energy and blades of light and darkness and they hit the Delightful Children and exploded and slashed them all over. Nom, Viqtarr, and Khorror smashed and blasted the Delightful Children all over.

Carol: Try this one on! FRUIT STYLE NINJA ART: SUMMER WINE!

Carol floated into the air and numerous fruit bushes and trees formed around her as she sang the awesome song by Ville Valo & Natalia Avalon, Summer Wine.

Strawberries, cherries and an angel kissing spring

My summer wine is really made from all these things

I walked in town on silver spurs that jingled to

A song that I had only sang to just a few

She saw my silver spurs and said let's pass some time

And I will give to you, summer wine

Oh. oh, oh, summer wine

Strawberries, cherries and an angel kissing spring

My summer wine is really made from all these things

Take off your silver spurs and help me pass the time

And I will give to you, summer wine

Oh, summer wine

My eyes grew heavy and my lips they could not speak

I tried to get up but I couldn't find my feet

She reassured me with the unfamiliar line

And then she gave to me, more summer wine

Woh, woh, oh, summer wine

Strawberries, cherries and an angel kissing spring

My summer wine is really made from all these things

Take off your silver spurs and help me pass the time

And I will give to you, summer wine

Mm, summer wine

When I woke up, the sun was shining in my eyes

My silver spurs were gone, my head felt twice its size

She took my silver spurs, a dollar and a dime

And left me craving for, more summer wine

Oh, oh, summer wine

Strawberries, cherries and an angel kissing spring

My summer wine is really made from all these things

Take off those silver spurs, help me pass the time

And I will give to you my summer wine

Oh, oh, summer wine

Fruit fired all over and they slammed into the Delightful Children and exploded all over.

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!
KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

Luna: Way to go Carol! Watch this one dudes. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: TRICKED!

Luna floated into the air and the scary horrors of 2016's Halloween appeared as she sang her awesome song from that time, Tricked.

When darkness falls on the house of Loud

Around every corner, new terror abounds

You don't want to lose your head! Ha ha ha!"

You can run, but you can't hide

They know that you taste better alive

I don't think that they've been fed

In a long, long time

Every corner, every floor

Watch out, they ain't herbivores

Ghastly ghouls out for blood

Sorry, bud

You got tricked

You got tricked

You got punked and pranked with a spooky twist

Before you wet your pants, better get out quick

Tricked, tricked, tricked

You got… tricked

Beware of fangs and bloody fur

A Loud House chainsaw massacre

There's no chance that you'll get out

Ghosts writing your eulogy

Heads are rolling literally

So, who needs their mommy now?

Spilling guts on the floor

Clean up on aisle four

Why you running off so soon?

Sorry dude

You got tricked

You got tricked

You got punked and pranked with a spooky twist

Before you wet your pants, better get out quick

Tricked, tricked, tricked

You got… tricked

Luna unleashed the horrifying horrors we used to scare the living shit out of Hawk & Hank onto the Delightful Children and she scared them all over 100-fold.

Qin: WHOA! Yeah Luna!

Sam S.L.: ROCKIN LUV!

Lynn Sr.: That's my rock star!

Bruce: Watch this one! METAL STYLE NINJA ART: ORK BOYZ!

Bruce fired a wave of metal and they formed into the Ork Boyz!

---

Ork Boyz are the different types of troops deployed by the Orks, a savage, warlike, green-skinned race of humanoids of the Milky Way Galaxy. They are in some ways equivalent to Warhammer Fantasy Orcs, particularly in terms of their physical appearance, but they vary from the Warhammer World's Greenskins in some biological and cultural details.

Orks are seen by their enemies (pretty much everyone else in the galaxy) as savage, warlike and crude, but they are one of the most successful species in the Milky Way, outnumbering possibly every other intelligent race, including Mankind. However, the power of the Ork race as a whole is limited due to the fact that they are split into hundreds of tiny empires, klanz and tribes, which are more often warring between themselves than not. Were the Orks ever to unite as a species, they would undoubtedly crush all opposition in a massive migration-invasion known as a WAAAGH!.

The average Ork Boy stands about 2 metres (six and a half Terran feet) tall when fully upright and varies greatly in their specific battlefield tactical roles. Ork Boyz who occupy the same field of interest often band together in groups known as "Mobs," and frequently these Mobs are led by an Ork Nob who is the epitome of that particular group's tactical skills. As basic Ork troops, Ork Boys vary greatly in the weaponry and equipment available to them. Below is detailed all the different types of Ork Boy found among the armies of the Greenskins.

Lenny: And this! METAL STYLE NINJA ART: NOB BOYZ!

Lenny fired a wave of metal and it formed into the Nob Boyz!

---

A Nob (pl: Nobz) is a larger Ork Boy who is smaller than and subservient to an Ork Warboss but still possesses some authority amongst other Greenskins of his tribe or klan because of his greater-than-average size and strength. The term "Nob" is believed to be an Orkish bastardisation of the Imperial Low Gothic word for "noble."

To rise through the ranks of the Orks requires cunning brutality, brutal cunning, and smashing the head of any challenger to Nob's throne. Ork Nobz often come to blows with rival mob leaders, and go out of their way to prove their competency to their Warboss. Nobz are thus both feared and revered. They can thrive as leaders provided they can survive a few knives in the back and dole out appropriate punishments.

They are universally arrogant and headstrong, but through surviving numerous battles (with the enemy and their Boyz) they are cunning enough to make deals with some enemies.

Serving as a crude Greenskin ruling class, the Nobz are never above reminding the Boyz who's in charge by making a few bloody examples. This could involve hacking up some suitably impressive foes, or knocking a few fractious Boyz's blocks off. The Nobz aren't too fussy, just so long as it gets the message across.

Whether clustered in a menacing mob around their Warboss, or lording it over the Boyz, Nobz are a force to be reckoned with. Their armour is usually festooned with kill-trophies, their flesh criss-crossed with impressive scars, earned in pit-fights or while killing their way through strings of brutal wars.

Some Nobz even take to the field astride monstrous Warbikes, roaring through the enemy ranks like blood-soaked battering rams covered in guns.

Many Nobz also outfit themselves with a very visible token of their position, be it a large pair of horns, taken from a creature they hunted, or a massive Iron Jaw, to show they have the meanest bite around!

---

Ashley: METAL STYLE NINJA ART: GRETCHINS AND GROTZ!

Ashley fired waves of metal and they formed into the Gretchin Orks!

---

Gretchin or Grotz are basically a smaller subspecies of Orks, who are more cowardly than normal Orks and are usually used as living shields, to clear mine fields, are stepped on to get through difficult terrain, and sometimes even as emergency rations. Gretchins are quite low in the strict hierarchy of Ork society because of their small size (the lowest Orkoids being the Snotlings) and are often used for the dirtiest jobs like scavenging and being used as the football when the bigger Orks get bored.

While they are not as aggressive as standard Orks, they enjoy fighting weaker opponents and are less likely to flee if they comfortably outnumber their opponents. If a Gretchin is particularly wealthy, he may purchase a second-hand, worn-down, low-tech gun. These guns are mainly to reassure the Gretchin that they have a chance of killing something, provided they remember which way to hold the gun.

Even so, Gretchin have to be forced into battle by Runtherds who utilise grabba sticks in order to ensure that the Gretchin stay in battle. A skilled Runtherd can grab a fleeing Gretchin and hurl him into a minefield with one smooth motion. The more tech-savvy of the Runtherds use a grot prod which delivers an electric charge to a Gretchin's vulnerable parts.

Basically all Gretchin work as slaves for Orks, although there is a faction of revolutionary Rebel Grots that developed in the chaos of the Ork World of Gorkamorka. As they are a bit more organised than the larger Orks, Gretchin are often used to maintain Greenskin war machines and artillery. Such work is considered highly undesirable by most Orks, because it prevents them from being in the heart of the battle. Gretchin also serve as attendants or "ammo runts" to Ork Warbosses, assistants to Ork Mekboyz, and orderlies to Ork Mad Doks.

---

Constance: METAL STYLE NINJA ART: SQUIGS!

Constance fired waves of metal and they formed into the ugly Squigs.

---

A Squig (short for "Squiggly Beast") is the simplest known form of Orkoid life. There are many types of Squig, each generally filling some functional or utilitarian role in the Ork ecosystem. They currently serve as the Orks' primary food source, much like herd animals are for Humans.

There are many types of Squigs, but each can be generalised into a single variety, such as edible, musical, hair, medical, parasite-hunting, face-eaters, pet, buzzing and paint Squigs. Some, like the face-eater types, are little more than snapping, fanged mouths on legs.

Squigs naturally grow and breed within the cesspits of Ork settlements, subsisting on Ork refuse. Tending the Squigs is the duty of the low-caste Orkoids known as Snotlings.

---

David: METAL STYLE NINJA ART: KILL KROOZER!

David fired a wave of metal into the air and it formed into the Ork Kill Kroozer!

---

The Ork Kill Kroozer is as close to a "standard" type of cruiser as Orks get. Usually based on the hulks of destroyed Imperial and Chaos Cruisers, Kill Kroozers are protected by heavy prow armour and primarily armed with lots of Gunz and Heavy Gunz, with some also adding Torpedo Launchas to their arsenal.

Kill Kroozers were a major threat to shipping in the Gothic Sector even during peacetime, and their numbers only grew during the Gothic War, presumably due to all of the starship hulks left over from the battles between Imperial and Chaos forces.

Kill Kroozers also made up a large portion of the Warlord Ghazghkull Mag Uruk Thraka's armada during the Third War for Armageddon, and as such saw action in virtually every fleet engagement of the war. They were especially pivotal during the Battle of Pelucidar when a squadron of Kill Kroozers crippled and boarded the Apocalypse-class Battleship Triumph.

Laney: And try these! PLANET STYLE NINJA ARTS: ULLANOR PRIME, TARTARUS, KRONUS, PLANETS OF THE KAURAVA SYSTEM, and PLANETS OF SUB-SECTOR AURELIA!

Laney floated into the air and images of said planets and areas appeared.

Ullanor Prime

Ullanor Prime was a world in the Ullanor System of the Ullanor Sector of the galaxy that was heavily settled by Orks, becoming the heart of not one, but two massive Ork Empires that faced the military forces of the Imperium of Man in the 30th and 32nd Millennia.

The first of these Greenskin empires based on Ullanor Prime was approximately twelve star systems in size and was ruled by the Overlord Urrlak Urruk at the end of the 30th Millennium. It was defeated by a massive Imperial force led by the Primarch Horus Lupercal and his Luna Wolves Legion in ca. 000.M30 during what was known as the Ullanor Crusade and marked the greatest triumph of the wider Great Crusade.

Following it, a great Imperial celebration known as the Triumph of Ullanor was held where the Emperor granted Horus the rank of Warmaster. The Master of Mankind also shocked the assembled Primarchs and their Astartes when He announced His own retirement from the campaigns of the Great Crusade so that He could return to Terra and began a secret project to open up the Webway for the use of humanity.

This event marked both the high watermark of the Great Crusade and the beginning of the tensions between the Emperor and the Primarchs that would help to bring on the Horus Heresy.

The second great Ork Empire to arise on Ullanor Prime initiated what was known as the War of the Beast in the 32nd Millennium from 544-546.M32. Under the rule of The Beast, the Orks established the most technologically and culturally sophisticated civilization they had ever created on Ullanor Prime and sought vengeance against the Imperium of Man for their defeat during the Ullanor Crusade.

In the course of the conflict, the Greenskin forces threatened Terra itself multiple times until following three separate Imperial invasions the Emperor's servants finally succeeded in cleansing the world of its Ork population for a final time.

In the wake of the War of the Beast, the Adeptus Mechanicus sought to scavenge the remains of the Orks' highly advanced technologies from the battered planet in violation of Imperial restrictions on the use of xenos technology. To do so, they used the Orks' "subspace" teleportation technology to teleport Ullanor Prime to a new star system on the edge of the Segmentum Solar and then reported that the world had actually been destroyed to the Senatorum Imperialis.

The Mechanicus proceeded to strip the planet bare and then leave it open for later Imperial colonisation to further hide their subterfuge. Centuries later, Ullanor Prime was unwittingly colonised by humanity and given a new name, a name that would find its own place in history before long - Armageddon.

Tartarus

Tartarus was an Imperial Civilised World besieged by Orks, and at one point, five different factions clashed on the planet: they included the Orks, the regiments of the Astra Militarum, the Chaos Space Marines of the Alpha Legion, the Aeldari of the Biel-Tan Craftworld, and the Space Marines of the Blood Ravens Chapter. The world was the setting for the Dawn of War PC game.

At the very end of their campaign on Tartarus, the Blood Ravens discovered that there had been a very early human colony settled on Tartarus roughly around the time of the Great Crusade ten thousand Terran years before. However, a Greater Daemon of Khorne that cyclically emerged from the Warp every three thousand standard years had appeared on the Tartaran colony and seduced the whole population into the worship of Chaos.

In response to this, Farseer Macha of the Biel-Tan Craftworld had arrived with an Aeldari army to defeat this threat. Macha held that it was her duty to defeat and trap the daemon, and would later suppress his will every 3,000 standard years. In the ensuing fight, the Aeldari Guardians had the task of holding back the Chaos Cultist forces and Khornate Bloodletter daemons, as Macha held a Warp Storm at bay and Biel-Tan's Avatar of Khaine fought the Greater Daemon of Khorne.

The Aeldari proved victorious, but the cost of their victory was the loss of their Avatar. Macha trapped the daemon in a stone called the Maledictum, then buried it beneath the surface of Tartarus. To be certain that the stone could not fall into the wrong hands, the location of its burial could only be learned through the solution of a series of riddles and clues.

At around the same time as this first incident, a Kill-team of Deathwatch Space Marines accompanying an Ordo Xenos Inquisitor named Jhordine had been tasked with finding the Avatar's weapon, a potent Aeldari sword called the Wailing Doom. They succeeded in finding it, though the weapon had been shattered in the battle with the Greater Daemon, and a Blood Ravens Captain attached to the Deathwatch Kill-team managed to recover a shard of the Wailing Doom.

After the team escaped, the shard would be used in the construction of the Daemonhammer Godsplitter. All the records of this event were later expunged by the Inquisition. Tartarus would be recolonised by the Imperium 300 Terran years later and was treated as a new planet that had never before been inhabited by humans.

Over the centuries, the new Imperial colony on Tartarus defended itself from multiple threats, and successfully fended off many invasions by the Orks and pirates of its region of space until 999.M41. The Greater Daemon trapped in the Maledictum had begun to influence the Tartaran population once again, inspiring fear and heresy among the people of the world, including the members of the Tartaran Astra Militarum regiments under the command of Colonel Brom and the Tartarus Planetary Defence Forces.

Simultaneously, warbands from the Alpha Legion of Heretic Astartes, led by the Chaos Sorcerer Sindri Myr and the Chaos Lord Bale, tried to take advantage of the reawakening of the Maledictum, and encouraged a horde of Orks to launch a WAAAGH! against the planet and serve as a distraction while they uncovered the resting place of the Maledictum. With the defence of the planet at the forefront of the Imperial forces' attentions, the Alpha Legion's search for the Maledictum went largely unnoticed until the Blood Ravens uncovered evidence that linked the ongoing growth of Chaos activity on Tartarus with the recent invasion of the Orks.

It was during the failing defence of the singular Tartaran spaceport at Magna Bonum by the forces of the Imperial Guard that the 3rd and 4th Companies of the Blood Ravens arrived on-planet and started to force the Orks back. Led by the Blood Ravens Force Commander, Captain Gabriel Angelos of the 3rd Company, who was accompanied by his long-time friend Librarian Isador Akios, the Blood Ravens helped hold back the green tide of Orks.

In the aftermath of one battle, Angelos was confronted by Inquisitor Mordecai Toth, who urged him to take the Blood Ravens and leave Tartarus before an incoming Warp Storm arrived. Determined to root out all traces of Chaos from the world, Captain Angelos refused and continued the search for Heretics, and later the Maledictum as he learned more about the artefact left behind by the Aeldari.

In due time, the Blood Ravens came into conflict with the Biel-Tan Aeldari, again commanded by Farseer Macha, who had been working to keep the Maledictum hidden from the Imperials and the forces of Chaos alike. During a brief confrontation between Captain Angelos and Farseer Macha, the Chaos Sorcerer Sindri stole the Maledictum. The Blood Ravens soon attacked the Alpha Legion, who were attempting to free the Maledictum from its protective bindings.

As part of a scheme by Sindri, he escaped, letting Angelos kill the Alpha Legion's Chaos Lord Bale; then the Blood Ravens Librarian Akios, who had just turned to Chaos with Sindri's help in a foolish attempt to use the powers of Chaos against the forces of Chaos, stole the Maledictum and fled, only to have the Maledictum later taken away by Sindri, and be used by the sorcerer to distract the Blood Ravens as Sindri worked to unleash the power of the Maledictum. In a duel, Angelos defeated and killed his oldest friend Akios, making the Librarian an example of what happened to all those who became Traitors and Heretics.

Afterwards, as the Blood Ravens moved to attack the remaining forces of the Alpha Legion on Tartarus, Toth apologised to Angelos, as he had at first sensed the taint of Chaos near him. Although Akios had actually been the Heretic, Toth had been nearly certain that Angelos was the true Traitor, largely due to Angelos' prior actions on the world of Cyrene, where he had called down an Exterminatus order on his own homeworld.

Toth then entrusted Angelos with his personal weapon, which Toth revealed to be the Daemonhammer Godsplitter that had been forged from the weapon used by the Avatar of Khaine that had previously defeated the Greater Daemon that now took up residence in the Maledictum.

In the meantime, the Sorcerer Sindri had unlocked the potent powers of Chaos bound into the Maledictum, so that his body would ascend to become a Daemon Prince of Chaos Undivided by a truncated process of daemonic ascension. Aided by Inquisitor Toth and the Farseer Macha's remaining Eldar forces, the Blood Ravens pushed back the Alpha Legion and killed Sindri in his Daemon Prince form.

Against Farseer Macha's desperate warnings, Captain Angelos used Godsplitter to destroy the Maledictum, believing that the destruction of the unholy artefact would destroy the Greater Daemon within. Farseer Macha proclaimed that Angelos had "just damned us all," and swiftly departed. As Toth and the rest of the Blood Ravens began to flee the oncoming Warp storm, Angelos paused and was confronted by the Greater Daemon, now free from its imprisonment within the Maledictum.

The daemon revealed to Angelos that Tartarus had served as nothing more than a massive planetary altar dedicated to Chaos, and that every death since the Orks had invaded the world was a sacrifice to the daemon to strengthen it and allow it to escape its confinement. Having unwittingly freed the Greater Daemon and provided it with the best sacrifices to feed its hunger, such as the deaths of Isador Akios and Syndri Myr, the Greater Daemon allowed Angelos to escape with his life-but promised that they would meet again one day.

Even as Angelos left the doomed world behind to be swallowed in the massive Warp Storm that had been called by the daemon's presence on the world, he vowed to hunt down and destroy the terrible evil he had inadvertently released into the universe.

By this point, the civilian population of Tartarus had largely been exterminated by the assault of the Ork WAAAGH!, and the survivors had already fled the planet before the oncoming Warp Storm. The cities of Tartarus had been destroyed while the large concentration of Chaos forces and cultists on the surface had greatly warped the landscape around them. As the Imperial forces jumped into Warpspace, Tartarus was consumed by the Warp Storm and lost to the mortal realm.

Kronus

Kronus is the Imperial Civilised World over which war is waged in the PC game Warhammer 40,000: Dawn of War - Dark Crusade. Seven of the most potent military powers in the galaxy clashed over the world, including the Eldar of Craftworld Ulthwé, the Astra Militarum, the Space Marines of the Blood Ravens Chapter, the Orks, the T'au Empire, the Word Bearers Traitor Legion of Chaos and a recently awakened force of Necrons. Each army refused to back down, beginning a terrible conflict that would go down into Imperial records as the Dark Crusade.

The Blood Ravens Space Marines ultimately proved victorious, even following an unexpected conflict with the forces of the Imperial Guard stationed on the world, and returned the planet to the rule of the Imperium of Man.

The planet appears to have a varied but temperate climate conducive to human life which was why it was chosen for colonisation in the first place.

The only visible part of Kronus is a single large continent with several nearby islands. Kronus' climate ranges from cold, icy mountains to hot deserts that lie in the northwestern region of the continent. The southeast is a region that transitions in climate from temperate to tropical jungle.

The planet bears signs of being an industrially developed planet, as large refining facilities still remain, such as in the Hyperion Peaks, or the very advanced spaceport that exists at Pavonis.

Kaurava System

The Kaurava System is the star system in the Lithesh Sector of the Ultima Segmentum of the Milky Way Galaxy where, because of the sudden appearance of a Warp Storm, nine separate armies from each of the Milky Way Galaxy's most advanced intelligent species clashed with each other in the Kaurava Campaign. The system was ultimately claimed by the Orks of WAAAGH! Gorgutz.

Three armies were already on the planet when the Warp Storm was unleashed, blocking all further transportation to or communications with the world: The 252nd Conservator Regiment of the Astra Militarum, the representatives of the star system's original ruler, the Imperium of Man, who had landed on Kaurava I under the newly appointed Imperial Governor-General Vance Stubbs; the feral Ork tribes of Kaurava II led by their Warboss Gorgutz 'Ead 'Unter and the Necrons, who had been slumbering under the sands of Kaurava III, a Necron Tomb World, for millions of standard years and were now led by the newly awakened Necron Lord of Kaurava.

First, the Alpha Legion arrived in the name of Chaos Undivided under the Chaos Champion of Khorne Firaeveus Carron, who established a base for his forces on Kaurava IV. It is a mystery as to how the forces of the Traitor Legion arrived in the system: the Warp Storm may have brought them through the Warp or perhaps it was their presence that summoned the rift in the Immaterium.

The truth of the matter remains elusive. Second, a Blood Ravens Space Marine force of 5 companies led by Force Commander Captain Indrick Boreale established a base on Kaurava II to end the danger posed to the Imperium by the xenos and heretics alike in the system. The Tau Empire claimed Nan Yanoi, one of the moons of Kaurava II, as its own as the empire sought to add Kaurava to its own expanding territory and bring the concept of the Greater Good to its formerly Imperial citizens. The Tau built on the moon of Kaurava II a mighty plasma cannon, the Ar'Ka Cannon, by the order of the Tau Commander Shas'O Or'es'Ka. From under the sands of Kaurava III, the Necrons arose, perhaps due to the effects of the Warp Storm.

In quick response to the Necrons' awakening, long unused Webway gates flickered to life and brought the Eldar of the Ulthwe Craftworld, led by Farseer Caerys, to fight against their ancient deathless enemies who they knew had reawakened on the world. From the shadows of another ancient Webway gate a raiding Kabal of the Drukhari appeared, looking for souls and new bounty, with the Kabal of the Black Heart's Archon Tahril as their leader. The Kabal of the Black Heart was the single largest and most powerful Kabal in Commorragh, and because of this, they were the dominating power in that hidden city of the Dark Eldar.

Last, but certainly not least, the Battle-Sisters of the Order of the Sacred Rose, a sect of the Adepta Sororitas' Orders Militant, better known in the Imperium as the Sisters of Battle, arrived and established a base on Kaurava I. They arrived to cleanse the star system of every last xenos and Heretic, even if such a task led to conflict with the other servants of the Emperor already within the system.

Sub-Sector Aurelia

Sub-sector Aurelia is a sub-sector of the Korianis Sector which lies on the frontier of Imperial space. The inhabited worlds within this sector serve as the primary recruiting ground for the Blood Ravens Space Marine Chapter. In the late 41st Millennium, the entire sub-sector found itself consumed by war as first a splinter fleet of the Tyranid Hive Fleet Leviathan assaulted its inhabited worlds and then the Forces of Chaos sought to lay claim to the sub-sector and transform its former capital planet of Aurelia into a new Daemon World dedicated to the Ruinous Powers.

These threats were countered by the Blood Ravens in the First and Second Aurelian Crusades. Finally, during the campaign known as the Cleansing of Aurelia or the Third Aurelian Crusade, the Blood Ravens were forced to confront the Chaotic corruption that had consumed the leadership of their own Chapter in the person of their Chapter Master and Chief Librarian Azariah Kyras even as the Ordo Hereticus of the Inquisition, led by the Puritan Inquisitor Adrastia and the Imperial Guard forces seconded to her command, sought to unleash an Exterminatus upon the entire sub-sector to end the growing threat it posed to the rest of the Imperium.

Liberty: And try this magic on!

Liberty fired Blue Soul Blaze Trail, Dark Bolt, Warp Flame, Soul Flesh Burn and Dark Soul Blight!

They were blasts of purple fire and energy.

All the blasts and techniques went at the Delightful Children as they put up a force field and the techniques slammed into the force field and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The Delightful Children's force field was too weak for it to handle the techniques all at once and it shattered and smashed them all over the place and burned them.

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Brawn: You got it boss!

Layla Williams: Lets do it!

Brawn and Layla used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and so did Bonecrusher and Rhino. They enhanced Brawn's strength, Layla's plant powers, Bonecrusher's concussion bomb launcher and Rhino's strength 100-fold.

Brawn and Layla Williams: FLAMING PEPPER METEOR!

Layla grew massive pepper plants and threw ghost peppers and Brawn threw a huge rock.

Bonecrusher and Rhino: SPEEDING CONCUSSION SLAM!

Bonecrusher fired a massive bomb blast and Rhino slammed the ground and sent a wave of rock.

Numbuh 1 and Devon Michaels: ONE CHEETAH STRIKE!

Numbuh 2 and Ravi Shaw: TWO GORILLA BLAST!

Numbuh 3 and Zoey Reeves: THREE JACKRABBIT BLAST!

Numbuh 4 and Nate Silva: FOUR MANTIS BLAST!

Carlos Vallarte and Nate Silva: TURBO JACKRABBIT BLAST!

Ashley Hammond and Zoey Reeves: TURBO MANTIS SLASH!

The Tommy: EIGHT BLACK V BLAST!

Kids Next Door: KIDS FOREVER ADULTS NEVER!

They fired massive blasts of energy and fire and the blasts all slammed into the Delightful Children and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The Delightful Children were defeated.

Me: It's over Delightful Pukes. And you don't have long to live anyway.

Delightful Children: What do you mean?

Me: Those pieces of cake Dark Spicer gave you? They were laced with a lethal dose of Scorpion Venom!

The Delightful Children gasped and I held up an empty test tube of Scorpion Venom and it had a skull and crossbones on it.

Me: You're going to die in a few minutes.

The Delightful Children felt the poison starting to take effect. They were starting to see things that aren't there and they were feeling feverish!

Delightful Children: NEVER! IF WE CAN'T HAVE THAT CAKE THEN NO ONE WILL!

They jumped into the air and then a powerful superlaser cannon formed and it was aimed right at the center of the stadium!

Me: They have a superlaser cannon!?

Nico: Oh shit! It's aimed right at this colosseum!

Varie: If that blast hits it will destroy the entire city!

Me: Not if I can help it! (Cups Hands to side)
KAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!
MEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE!
HAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!
MEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE!

The Delightful Children fired their superlaser blast.

Me:
HAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA

I fired a massive red Kamehameha Blast at the Superlaser and the blasts collided and my blast pushed the superlaser blast back with incredible power! The Kamehameha Wave then hit the Superlaser Cannon and the whole thing exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The Delightful Children were completely obliterated in an instant.

Me: Enjoy the fire of hell.

But then their evil spirits appeared.

Numbuh 86: Sector Z. Would you 5 do the honors?

Bruce: It would be our pleasure.

They walked up to the Delightful Children's spirits and held their hands to their faces.

Sector Z: HAKAI!

The Delightful Children glowed purple and they screamed in excruciating pain as they were being completely obliterated. They were erased from existence for all eternity as if they were never born at all.

The Masters of Evil then came.

Me: Good riddance to those brats.

Common Cold: I'm glad the Delightful Kids are dead. I never was fond of them.

Numbuh 2: Me neither!

Cheese Shogun Roquefort: (to us) But the real question is: Are you prepared to Hakai the Royal DEfenders if there really is no other choice?

Nico: If it comes down to it, yes. But we can defeat the Royal Defenders without killing them.

Xaldin: I guess that's ok with us.

Me: But we're ready for them.

Devack: Good.

Eddy: You know, Dark. Ever since Toby was brought back, you've acted like a big brother to him.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Numbuh 1: We've now seen the last of the Delightful Children.

Ashley: Good riddance to bad rubbish.

Aylene: You said it Ashley.

Numbuh 1: (To the viewers) Adult Villains will never stand a chance against all of us combined together and we will always win.

Me: Yes we will.

We later went back home.

THE END

Another awesome Kids Next Door Chapter done.

The Delightful Children From Down The Lane have always been the most evil archenemies of the Kids Next Door. But what REALLY shocked me was the revelation that they were really the long lost members of Sector Z all along. MONDO SHOCKING! NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is a land version of the funny SpongeBob episode Krab-Borg and that is gonna have us thinking that Lisa is really a robot because of Lincoln watching a scary robot movie.

See you all tomorrow.

Loud Borg

In another part of the city, we were there to visit the home of Numbuh 362. We were there to talk to her mom and dad about what Rachel was doing all this time and why she had to do it. we arrived at her house and it was a beautiful house.

Laney: Wow. Your house is amazing Rachel.

Numbuh 362: Thanks Laney. It's a nice place.

Me: It sure is.

We went up to the door and knocked on it and we were greeted by her mom Mary McKenzie.

Mary McKenzie: Oh Rachel! Good to see you.

Numbuh 362: Good to be home mom.

Mary McKenzie: You have been very busy working for the Kids Next Door.

Me: She sure has. It's a pleasure to meet you Mrs. McKenzie.

Mary McKenzie: Same to you J.D. We heard so many wonderful things about you.

Me: It's mutual.

Mary McKenzie: I am so sorry about all the trouble that Harvey caused to all of you.

Lynn: It's all right Mrs. McKenzie.

Mary McKenzie: Good. Harvey is now in his room grounded for life.

Me: Good. He only cared about no one but himself. No one else. He deserved to be decommissioned.

Mary McKenzie: That's true.

We went in and talked for a while and we talked all about Numbuh 362's adventures with us and more.

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES

---

We were over in the city of Dubai and it was home to some of the most amazing buildings in the world.

Me: Wow. Dubai. One of the most prestigious cities in the world.

Laney: I've always wanted to come here.

Leni: I can't wait to start shopping here. This city totes has everything.

Me: They don't call Dubai the city of the rich for nothing.

Nico: It's amazing at how awesome the buildings are here.

Me: It sure is. And Dubai is also home to the tallest building in the world.

Vince: The Burj Khalifa.

Lori: I saw that building and it's literally amazing.

Luna: Is that it right there dudes? (Points to a building)

We saw the Burj Khalifa.

Me: That's it. 2,722 feet high and is now the current tallest building in the world.

Laney: It's truly magnificent.

Lana: How long did it take for them to build that?

Me: It started in June of 2004 and finished in October of 2009.

Nico: Wow. So a little over 5 years to build. And I'll bet it cost a very pretty penny to build.

Me: It did. Over $1.5 Billion USD.

Lola: WHOA! That's incredible.

Lily: It sure is.

Varie: Wait. I see someone up on the very top of the building.

Me: Let me see.

I pulled out my binoculars and looked and I saw that it was Ben's enemy CHARMCASTER!

Hope is a human born in the dimensional realm of Yawahtacsip, Daughter of the fortune teller Spellbinder. In the past his people were enslaved by the evil sorcerer Adwaita, whom his father tried to confront, as a way to protect his daughter he sent her to Earth with his brother Hex to educate her and thus save her from the clutches of Adwaita, subsequently dying when facing the sorcerer.

Later she began to be known as Charmcaster and was raised and educated in magic by her uncle Hex

Ben 10

In Charmcaster's debut appearance, Tough Luck, she busts Hex out of prison and assists him in trying to steal the Lost Keystone of Bezel which can re-create the other five charms to greatly strengthen and increase Hex's abilities. She manages to trick Gwen by putting on an act about Hex forcing her to help him, only to swipe the Keystone while hugging Gwen. She then gives Hex the Keystone. In the end it is revealed that Hex needs the Keystone to recreate the five Charms of Bezel, and that she is planning to take their power for herself, but fails, as does Hex.

Charmcaster returns in A Change of Face. She attempts a body swap spell with Stinkfly in Salem, Massachusetts. She was hoping to take control of the Omnitrix and combine its powers with her magic in order to become invincible. Her efforts fail; however, as her attempts only end in swapping with Gwen, on her second try she was returned to her normal body while Ben and Gwen are swapped, and the third time resulted in returning Ben and Gwen to their normal bodies. She is arrested at the end of the episode, and her bag is tossed into the harbor. She is last seen in juvie, where she is about to be beaten up by Pinky and Missy, whom Gwen angered during her stay in Charmcaster's body. Gwen obtains her spellbook, and keeps it as a souvenir, eventually learning to use it.

Charmcaster makes a cameo appearance at the end of Don't Drink the Water, where she is seen taunting Hex (who has been reduced in age to an infant by the waters of the Fountain of Youth) and saying that she'll be giving the orders now. Charmcaster's final appearance in the original series is in Ben 10 vs. the Negative 10 as part of the Negative 10. Unlike her partners, however, Charmcaster is only focused on defeating Gwen (as opposed to Ben like everyone else was). She also is shown to have a small rivalry with fellow Negative 10 member Rojo

Ben 10: Alien Force

Charmcaster returns in In Charm's Way, where she sends one of her stone creatures to attack Ben, Gwen, and Kevin Levin while the trio were spending the day at the beach. The rock creature appeared to be immune to Gwen's energy attacks and proceeded to oust Kevin. Just as Ben was about to take down the rock monster, a magical portal opens up and sucks it away. It was later shown that Charmcaster was hiding in a nearby cave watching it. After voicing her deep hatred for Gwen and her plan to take something precious from her, since Gwen stole her spellbook, Charmcaster used a spell that transformed her into a beautiful, blonde-haired teenage girl named 'Caroline' as part of her plan to charm and hypnotize Kevin.

Charmcaster set her plan into motion after saving a child from being killed by a truck. Afterwards, she and Kevin journey to the beach where she revealed a partially false life story while removing the ID mask that concealed Kevin's mutant form, clearly growing jealous of Gwen when Kevin mentions "You think you can do magic? She's made of magic". She then kisses him, hypnotizing him and putting him under her hypnotic influence through a spell, and then ordered him to bring Gwen to the Planetarium before midnight where she can drain Gwen's magical and Anodite powers. To fortify or endeep her hypnotic control over Kevin, she also granted him a magic amulet. After a skirmish with Ben and Gwen, Kevin was broken free from Charmcaster's influence spell after the amulet was broken by Ben. After the trio arrives at the Planetarium at Gwen's request, Charmcaster sends her rock monsters to deal with Ben and Kevin while she dealt with Gwen herself. Upon meeting, Charmcaster gloats sarcastically at Gwen's hairdo then engaging her in a short magical duel, in which Gwen was led to stand in the middle of a circle of runes that were placed directly under the sky-panel. After luring Gwen into the trap, Charmcaster opens the runes, exposing Gwen to the full blaze of the moon light and forcing her onto her knees in agony. This helps Charmcaster in fully subduing Gwen. She then drains Gwen of all her magic and transfers it to herself. Confident that she had won, Charmcaster retreats with her two surviving rock minions while Ben and Kevin go to Gwens' aid instead of pursuing her.

After a short argument with Gwen, Kevin tricks Charmcaster into meeting him on top of a tall building where he lured her with a lie about his loyalty to Ben and that Gwen still had power left, angering Charmcaster even further. The duo later shows up at Mr. Smoothy, where Ben and Gwen are having the restaurant's namesake. After scanning Gwen, Charmcaster realized that Gwen had no power left and that Kevin managed to trick her. She uses a spell to bring a Mr. Smoothy sign to life as well as controlling a parked van to kill Kevin and Ben, while her rock monsters attempted to annihilate Gwen, who mocks Charmcaster and proceeds to challenge her to a one-on-one fist fight, which Charmcaster nonchalantly turned down, opting to kill Gwen with a bolt of mana. However, Gwen turns the tables on Charmcaster by reciting one of her spells and reabsorbs her stolen Anodite powers from Charmcaster, much to Charmcaster's horror. Powerless, Charmcaster gets help from her rock monsters to make one last stand against Gwen. Charmcaster was finally defeated after Gwen summoned a mystical vortex which sucked her and her rock monsters away.

Charmcaster appeared in Time Heals with her uncle Hex. In this episode, her uncle was awakened by a disturbance in their home late at night, only for Charmcaster to convince her uncle to return to bed. The disturbance was actually Gwen, who snuck in to steal one of their books that had a spell that'd allow for her to travel back in time in order to stop Kevin's mutation. When this happened, an alternate timeline was created: one where Hex and Charmcaster ended up ruling the Earth. Because the accident that mutated Kevin never happened, the Kevin of this timeline was weaker, and Ben's Team was unable to defeat Charmcaster and her uncle. Charmcaster managed to murder the Gwen of this timeline and absorb all of her powers, also forcing Kevin to absorb the material of her rock monsters, giving Charmcaster full control over Kevin. Without his team, Ben was easily defeated by Hex and imprisoned in the dungeons as Spidermonkey. When Gwen freed Ben, Ben fights off Charmcaster, Hex, Kevin and the rock monsters as long as he can so Gwen can repair the damage she had done in the past, presumably dying as a result of this.

Ben 10: Ultimate Alien

Charmcaster returns in Hit 'Em Where They Live, where she assists Zombozo and Vulkanus in a plot to kidnap Ben's mother. She was defeated by Kevin, who scares her away by almost causing a roller coaster to crash on her (If the episode is played scene by scene, it is shown that Charmcaster escaped before getting hit); Kevin was making sure she was not killed as he had promised Ben and Gwen not to finish off his opponent.

In Where the Magic Happens, Charmcaster is brought back to her home, Yahwahtacsip (Ledgerdomain as the natives refer to it) to bring help to Gwen and the team. In this episode much is revealed about Charmcaster's past and her feelings toward Gwen. It was shown that Charmcaster had always dreamed of becoming a great sorceress, saying that she had studied magic her whole life but found it extremely unbelievable that Gwen could just come out of nowhere, steal her spellbook and become so strong and powerful and suddenly 'out-magic' her. It is also revealed that when she was a child, her father Spellbinder and her people were at war with Adwaita the greatest magical, mystic being that has ever lived. Her father helped her and Hex escape safely to Earth, but failed in battle and was murdered by Addwaitya. Charmcaster's villainous actions were all to gain more and more power so that she could return to Ledger Domain and defeat Addwaitya. Charmcaster moves past her feelings of resentment toward Gwen and actually develops a friendship with her, chiefly due to learning that the two of them are actually stronger and more powerful as a team than individually; her knowledge of magic coupled with Gwen's Anodite powers. She even ends up putting her life on the line, buying time for the trio to escape, leaving herself behind in Ledger Domain with the hopes of defeating Addwaitya at last.

In Enemy of My Frenemy, Charmcaster has become corrupted with power during her time fighting for Ledgerdomain and relapsed back into her evil ways when the denizens she'd fought to free from Addwaitya turned on her and fought a massive civil war to decide who would become the new ruler; a war which Charmcaster won. Building a device that drains the souls out of living things, she enacted a plan to drain the life force of her world in order to perform a ritual that will bring her father Spellbinder back to life. Ben, Gwen, and Kevin attempted to stop her, but their souls were sucked out as well. When Spellbinder was resurrected thanks to Diagon he reveals that Charmcaster's real name is Hope. Horrified at the lengths his daughter has gone to in order to bring him back, he says he can't stay at the cost of so many souls. Telling his daughter that he loves her, he fades away, making the ritual null and void and returning all souls back to where they belong. Charmcaster breaks down crying, not knowing what to do with her life now. Out of pity, Ben, Gwen, and Kevin agree not to arrest the heartbroken Charmcaster and depart from Ledgerdomain.

In Couples Retreat, Hope falls in love with Michael Morningstar when he attempts to get into Ledgerdomain. She supplies him with a lot of mana when they kiss multiple times, and allows him to go back to Earth to take revenge upon "his enemies", not knowing this to be Ben, Gwen and Kevin. She also reveals her true name, Hope, to him. When Ben, Gwen, and Kevin arrive at her castle, she fights Gwen while Ben and Kevin take on Darkstar, and becomes enraged when she learns Darkstar and Gwen once dated. Gwen, concerned about Hope, tries to convince her that Darkstar is merely using her, but Hope seems hopelessly deluded. However, just as Darkstar offers her the chance to team up with him and conquer Earth, she realizes that Gwen may be right and asks Darkstar why he never calls her by her real name, and if he even remembers it. After Darkstar doesn't, Hope becomes so enraged that her screams destroyed her castle, then drains Darkstar's powers and banishes him from Ledgerdomain, leaving him at the mercy of Ben, Gwen, and Kevin waiting to beat him up. Charmcaster is last seen at the ruins of her castle, sadly looking down upon Darkstar's mask.

Ben 10: Omniverse

She is gradually becoming corrupted again, this time partially due to an outside influence. Charmcaster makes her appearance where she appears driving the police car carrying Darkstar disguised as a police officer. When asked if she had forgiven him, she responds by turning him into a totem.

In Charmed, I'm Sure, Charmcaster appears on Anur Transyl to take back the Alpha Rune, which had been stolen by Zs'Skayr. She teams up with Ben, Rook Blonko, and Hobble (who has a crush on her) to get it back. When they reach Zs'Skayr, he gives the Rune back willingly since he has already drained it of much of its power.

Charmcaster puts the Rune on and goes mad with its power, summoning rock creatures that she turns into battle armor for herself. She suddenly turns on Ben and attacks him, but she is defeated when Hobble throws the magical artifacts in Rook's arsenal at her, which destroys her armor. Rook then uses a teleportation spell from Gwen's spellbook to teleport her back to Ledgerdomain.

In Ledgerdomain, it is revealed that Charmcaster betrayed Ben under the advice of Addwaitya, who has been turned into a stone miniature that is kept in her bag along with Darkstar, both of whom she has been speaking with all episode (leading others to believe her to be crazy since only she could hear them). Addwaitya assures her that she will be successful next time, to which Charmcaster threatens him to remember that she controls him now, not the other way around. When she asks why she shouldn't just smash both of them, Darkstar whispers a plan into her ear that she evidently likes.

In Charm School, Charmcaster attended Friedkin University at Hex's word hoping that the two of them can be closer. However, Charmcaster only came to Friedkin University to obtain a powerful artifact known as the Staff of Ages. Charmcaster's first attempt that getting the Staff of Ages was a failure due to Hex being powerful in his library. However, Charmcaster managed to turn Hex into a totem after impersonating Professor Xagliv. Charmcaster obtained the Staff of Ages from a book in Hex's library but it was soon taken away by Gwen. Charmcaster managed to take back the Staff of Ages and completely overwhelm Gwen due to Charmcaster possessing Hex while in his library. Charmcaster continued to fight Gwen until Ben as Ghostfreak joined in the fight along with Kevin, Rook, and Zed. Charmcaster summoned some Stone Bats and had them go after Kevin, Rook, and Zed while Charmcaster went after Gwen and Ghostfreak. Charmcaster easily defeats Ghostfreak and sends him flying into the library. However, Charmcaster was then outmatched by Gwen who took back the Hex totem and was more powerful in the library. Charmcaster lost the Staff of Ages and was sent back to Ledgerdomain.

In Third Time's a Charm, Charmcaster lures Gwen to Ledgerdomain and turns her into a totem. When she returns to the library at Friedkin University, she learns of Bezel's presence there and tries to take his power. She succeeds when she turns him into a totem, and then attempts to destroy Ben, Rook and Kevin, even transforming into a dragon. But Ben and Gwen trick her into getting turned into a totem and sealed into her own bag, which she declares a temporary setback and vows revenge. Gwen keeps Charmcaster, still inside the bag, in her headquarters and is hopeful that under these circumstances the two of them can finally be friends.

Charmcaster appears, no longer a totem, as one of the many female contestants vying to marry Ben in The Most Dangerous Game Show. She loses in the third round when she flies across a lava pit only to crashland on a floating rock when a lava bubble bursts dangerously close to her. She is then transported to the Null Void along with the other losers, until Ben arrives to set them free. Charmcaster, along with the other girls, helps to save Ben from the Way Bads before returning to Earth to help him face Charles Zenith.

It is unknown what happened to her after this. She either got zapped back into her bag magically, or she escaped and is currently on the loose.

---

Me: (Gasp) That's Charmcaster! And it looks like she's trying to commit suicide!

Varie: We got to stop her!

We went to the Burj Khalifa and went to the roof. We saw her standing on the edge.

Me: Charmcaster stop!

Charmcaster: So, J.D. Knudson, right? I heard a lot about you.

Nico: I'm sure you have.

Charmcaster: Isn't the view from up here amazing? You can see everything from here. And it's the perfect place to end it all.

Ben: Wait. What are you talking about?

Charmcaster: (to Gwen) Goodbye, Gwen. (jumps off the roof)

Gwen: CHARMCASTER, NO!

I ran fast and jumped off and ran down the building at a 90˚ Angle and I caught up to her and jumped and grabbed Charmcaster and spread my wings and flew up to the roof.

Laney: Whoa! Good save!

Me: Nico go get Hex. Tell him about what Charmcaster is doing!

Nico: Right!

Nico teleported to Hex's house.

Me: Charmcaster, what the hell are you thinking!?

Ben: Why are you throwing your life away!?

Charmcaster: (Points to Michael Morningstar) BECAUSE OF HIM!

Naruto: And how is that Michael's fault?

Me: Bro, Dagon ruined everything for her remember? Dagon was gonna destroy the world and she was trying to resurrect her dad.

Gwen T.: Yeah.

Charmcaster grabbed a gun left on the ground.

Charmcaster: (to Michael Morningstar) You fucking manipulated my feelings only a few days after I lost my father. WELL, ARE YOU FUCKING HAPPY NOW?! (points gun at her own head)

I then grabbed the gun and took it.

Me: Charmcaster this isn't the answer!

Charmcaster: WHY WON'T YOU ALL JUST LET ME DIE?!

Charmcaster took out a knife and was about to slit her own throat with it.

I slapped her hand and knocked the knife out of her hand.

Me: Charmcaster listen to yourself! What happened back then was not Michael, Gwen or anyone else's fault. It was all because of Dagon.

Lynn: Charmcaster, I understand that you lost your dad. But that doesn't mean you should kill yourself!

Lori: Yeah! You literally have so much to live for!

Charmcaster: That's easy for you to say, ugly girls!

Lola: Excuse me?

Charmcaster: (crying) YOU HEARD ME! I CALLED YOU THREE UGLY! U-G-L-Y! UGLY!

Lori: Guys no! She is just getting us riled up.

Nico and Hex appeared.

Hex: Charmcaster don't do this!

Charmcaster: Why not uncle Hex!? You never cared about me!

Hex: That's not true Charmcaster. I loved you more than anything. Even though I'm a bad guy I still love you just as much as your father did. Do you think your father would want this? You throwing your own life away like this all because of something that happened in the past?

Me: No he wouldn't. Your father was a very valiant man. He sacrificed himself to save both you and Hex. He loved you more than life itself and he helped you and Hex escape from Ledgerdomain.

Hex: That's right. I loved my brother just as much as you. So don't throw your life away over things that happened in the past.

Charmcaster realized that she was a total fool and then she broke down crying and Gwen went over and comforted her.

Me: Hex, I am so sorry about what happened to your brother. Spellbinder is a true hero.

Hex: He was.

Me: But I think it's time that I return what you both lost.

I snapped my fingers and then in a vortex of light came Spellbinder!

---

Although little is known about Spellbinder's life, some key facts are revealed in the episode Where the Magic Happens. When Charmcaster was as young as nine years old, Spellbinder fought against Addwaitya and sacrificed himself to allow Hex and Charmcaster to escape safely to Earth. He is apparently immensely powerful. When Addwaitya is hurt by Charmcaster, he is surprised but claims it to be immense magical mystical power inherited from Spellbinder. Despite being enemies, it is clear that Addwaitya still retained a level of respect for Spellbinder's power even after defeating him (although this did not stop him from using a projection of the late Spellbinder's voice to try and persuade Charmcaster to step from a ledge into a mystic sink hole). His sacrifice is still an emotional issue for Charmcaster, angering her to talk to Gwen about it and crying when hearing his voice for the first time in years.

He appeared in Enemy of My Frenemy, when Charmcaster resurrected him through the sacrifice of 600,000 living souls. When he learned of Charmcaster's evil-doing to bring just him back, he revealed he died not to save her from Addwaitya but from Ledgerdomain as a whole and its corrupting influence in hopes of giving her a chance at a normal life. He was also revolted at the thought of countless others being sacrificed just to bring him back to life. He tells his daughter he loves her and is sorry he wasn't there for her when she needed him in her life, but he cannot stay in the world of the living knowing that it was at the cost of so many other lives. He then returned to the dead and returned all the 600,000 souls of Ledgerdomain back to life again. Charmcaster fell into depression after this event, seeking to fill the void left in her life first with a boyfriend, and then through more power. Despite these troubles, Charmcaster still cherishes her father's memory, proudly announcing herself as "daughter of Spellbinder" to Zs'Skayr in Charmed, I'm Sure.

---

Spellbinder: Hope.

Charmcaster saw him.

Charmcaster: Daddy?

Spellbinder: Yes Hope. I'm back thanks to J.D.

Charmcaster: Daddy!

She ran over and hugged him for the first time in a long time.

Hex: It's good to have you back brother.

Spellbinder: Same to you Hex.

Stewie: By the way, I'm keeping the gun and knife!

Me: I figured.

Charmcaster decided to join the Redemption Squad.

Later at the estate, It's nighttime and Lincoln is in the living room watching a movie on TV.

He was watching a strange horror movie about robots and was having popcorn.

Announcer: We now return to tonight's Creepy Time Theater presentation of "Night of the Robot."

On the tv, a realistic man is getting chased by a claymation robot.

Lincoln: Hurry Charles, the scary robot movie is on.

Charles came and barked at Lincoln.

Lincoln: What do ya mean I shouldn't watch this? Scary movies don't always freak me out.

Cut to Lincoln in his bed. He is now terrified from watching the movie.

Lincoln: What if Mom is a robot? What if Pop Pop is a robot? What if Charles is a robot? Charles, psst, Charles.

He pokes the dog to wake him up. Charles wakes up.

Lincoln: Charles, if you were a robot, you'd tell me right?

Charles gave him a deadpanned look and barked at him.

Lincoln: Ah, I've got nothing to worry about. And now to get a good night's sleep."

As Lincoln goes to sleep, he instantly dreams about himself getting chased by the robot from the movie.

The next morning, Lincoln wakes up looking a bit tired. He slowly walks out of his room.

Me: Whoa Lincoln are you all right?

Lincoln: Just had a rotten night.

Me: I'm sorry buddy. Maybe breakfast will help cheer you up. We're having all you can eat breakfasts today.

Lincoln: Cool.

He sees something.

Lincoln: Robot! Oh my gosh!

Me: Where!?

He sees a robot near Luna and Luan's rooms but in reality it is really Luna's speakers. Lincoln laughs nervously.

Lincoln: Oh. Just Luna's speakers.

In Lisa's room, Lisa is playing with her chemistry set.

Lisa Loud: How about a little music to go with my experiments?

She turns on a radio.

Radio Man: And now for the number one song in Gotham Royal York, Electric Shock.

Techno music starts to play.

Lisa Loud: Hey, that's pretty catchy.

She sang with the beat of the music, sounding like a robot.

Lisa Loud: Yeah, that's not bad. I love this sciencey people's music.

Lincoln is in the bathroom brushing his teeth. Suddenly, there's a knock at the door. Lincoln spits out toothpaste and lets out a squeal. He grabs the toothpaste bottle and slowly opens the door. He blindly squirts toothpaste in a state of panic.

Lincoln: Take that robot!

He looks up to see a furious Lori. Her face is covered in toothpaste. Lincoln smiles nervously.

Lori: Lincoln, what is wrong with you?!

Lincoln: I-I'm sorry Lori. I'm not really feeling myself today. I'm a little bit jumpy. I keep thinking robots are gonna take over the world. Probably on account of this movie I watched last night where robots take over the world. I even asked Charles if he was a robot. Pretty funny huh?

Lori: Hilarious. Just let me use the bathroom.

Me: Sorry Lori. We were done anyway.

Me and Lincoln go outside to get the mail. The mailman walks by.

Mail Man: Here's your mail sir.

Lincoln: Thanks. Say, you're not a robot, are you?

Mail Man: No. I'm not.

Lincoln: Well, keep your eyes peeled. They're everywhere.

Lincoln goes back inside as the mailman shrugs and walks off.

Me: He saw a scary robot movie last night. That's why he's paranoid.

Mailman: Oh I get it. Have a good day.

Lincoln walks upstairs.

Me: You saw that robot movie "Night of The Robot" didn't you?

Lincoln: I sure did.

He then hears Lisa.

Lisa Loud: I feel completely recharged.

Lincoln: Lisa?

He peeked through her door.

Lisa Loud: Come on buddy, play it again. Please? For me.

Lincoln: That was strange. Lisa was talking to her radio and she said she feels recharged. If I didn't know better, I'd say she was..a robot. Nah.

Lisa was talking to someone on her cellphone.

Lisa: Yes, hello. I was wondering if you could play that song again.

On the other line, the guy from the radio station was on his cellphone talking to the four year old.

Radio Man: Which one?

Lisa Loud: The one that goes beep boop boop bop boop boop beep.

Radio Man: No, you're thinking of beep boop boop bop boop boop bop.

Lisa keep making robot noises as she was talking to the radio guy. Lincoln was listening. He was freaked out by this.

Lincoln: Oh my gosh! Why was Lisa making all those beeping sounds? Could it be that she's..a robot? Nah.

He peeked through Lisa's room again and was surprised at what he saw next. Lisa was doing some strange robot dance. The white haired boy ran right into his eldest sister's room. He clinged onto her.

Lincoln: Oh Lori! It's terrible! Lisa! Talking to radio! Beeping sounds! Strange dancing! Robot!

Lori was more annoyed that Lincoln was in her room.

Lori: That's great Lincoln. Now get out of my room!

She throws him out and closes the door.

CRASH!

Lincoln suddenly appears back in Lori's room. (He went through a vent)

Lincoln: I'm serious Lori. Lisa is a robot! And I can prove it too!

Professor Calamitous appeared.

Calamitous: Lincoln, what you're suggesting is ridiculous. Lisa is too powerful to even be a robot in disguise.

Lori was confused as to how Lincoln got back in her room.

Lori: How did you get back in here Lincoln and where did you come from Professor Calamitous?

Lincoln: I went through the vents.

Professor Calamitous: I was in the area and I heard Lincoln calling the mailman a robot. So I figured I better see what's up.

Lori: Oh.

Lincoln: Let's see. In the movie, the robots didn't have a sense of humor. They couldn't laugh. Hey Lisa!

Lisa comes over.

Lisa Loud: What is it elder brother?"

Lincoln: Lori just told me a hilarious joke and thought you might like to hear it."

Lisa Loud: Is it true Lori? Is it hilarious?

Lori: Uh..sure.

Lisa Loud: Well, let's hear it.

Lincoln: Ok, here it goes! Um, how did it go Lori?

Lori: Uh, Well, let's see.. How Do turtles call each other?

Lisa Loud: How?

Lori: On their shell phones!

RIMSHOT!

Luan: (Offscreen) (LAUGHS) Good one Lori!

Me: (Laughs) That was a good one!

Captain Cold: (Laughs) That's funny!

Lori: Get it? Shell phones? Cause they're.. turtles.

Lisa Loud: Lori, leave the bad jokes to Luan.

Lincoln gasps.

Lincoln: Not even a chuckle. See Lori? She didn't laugh because she couldn't laugh because she's a robot!"

Lori: There's a logical explanation why she didn't laugh Lincoln. She's obviously heard it before. The only reason you think Lisa's a robot was because you watched that stupid movie. Now why don't you-

Lincoln: Hey, Lisa!

Lisa: What? What is it, Lincoln?

Lincoln: Snart's father never hugged him. Isn't that sad? [pretends to cry]

Captain Cold: He never loved me entirely.

Lisa: You have my sympathies, Leonard. But your so called father will get what's coming to him. If he hasn't already.

Lisa left.

Lincoln: Just like the robot in the movie! He couldn't cry either!

Me: Lisa hardly ever shows emotions like that either Lincoln. You saw how tough a nut she is to crack.

Lori: He's right. She may be a scientist, but she still loves us.

Lincoln: That's the final test Lori. The love test. Robots can't love. Hey Lisa!

Lincoln: Lisa!

Lisa: Anything else you need, Lincoln?

Lincoln: Dexter wants you to know that he loves you.

Dexter: Just like I do every day!

Lisa Loud: I'm well aware of that Lincoln.

Lisa left.

Lincoln gulps.

In Lisa's room, Lisa is still listening to her techno music but her radio dies.

Lisa Loud: Dang it! My radio died!

She checks the batteries.

Lisa Loud: Hmm, these batteries still have a little juice in them. I know, I'll use them for a science experiment."

She puts the batteries in her pockets. A timer is heard.

Lisa Loud: Ah, my hot dog is ready.

She is using a mini stove and a pot filled with boiling water to cook her food. She grabs a pair of tongs.

Lisa Loud: I can already taste it. Come to mama.

She uses the tongs to take the wiener.

Lisa Loud: Gotcha! And what good is a hot dog with the bun and ketchup.

She puts the hot dog in a bun and prepares to add ketchup.

Lincoln: Oh Lisa!

The sudden outburst caused Lisa to accidentally squirt ketchup over her glasses, blinding her.

Lisa Loud: Ahh! My glasses! I can't see!

Lincoln: Lisa!

Lori covered his mouth.

Lori: Will you literally be quiet? Now what did the robots in the movie look like?

Lincoln: Well, they had piercing red eyes, metal pinchers for hands, and they ran on batteries.

Lori: Ok, now tell me, does Lisa literally look anything like that?

On cue, Lisa came out of her room blindly walking around. She still had ketchup on her glasses, she also had the tongs and batteries in her pockets.

Lisa Loud: Must find bathroom!"

She walked right past her siblings and us and we screamed in terror as Lisa went into the bathroom. Me and the Masters of Evil Screamed too! My hair stood straight up in fright!

Lori: I'll evacuate our siblings! You call the navy!

Lincoln went to the family phone.

Lincoln: Hello operator, give me the navy!

Phone: Hello. You've reached the navy's automated phone service.

Lincoln: Lori! The robots are running the navy!

Lori: Not the navy!

The other siblings, except for Lisa, hear this.

Luna: What's going on dudes?

Lori: Guys! Robots are taking over the world!

Iron Man: What?! Maybe Ultron's up to no good again!

Robo-Blaze: Or maybe the Royal Defenders found out that we're plotting against them and sent robots to conquer our world!

Lori: Trust me. Lincoln and I witnessed this. They've already got to Lisa. I think it's best if you all hide in the basement.

The siblings were gullible enough to believe this. They all panicked and ran into the basement. Me, the Masters of Evil Lori and Lincoln were now in Lori's room.

Lori: What do we do now?

Lincoln: I don't know.

He sees a dollar on the floor.

Lincoln: Hey, a dollar.

Lori: Lincoln.

Lincoln: Sorry.

They hear Lisa coming out of the bathroom. She cleaned up her glasses.

Lisa Loud: Ah, that's better.

She walked back into her room making robot sounds.

Lori: We need to find out what that robot did with the real Lisa. But how?

Me: Yeah.

Lincoln: Well, in the movie, the robot teams up with a buddy. And they get the poop on the robot.

Lori: They poop on the robot?

Lincoln: Yeah, you know, they get the straight poop, ask him questions, get information.

Me: They interrogate him.

Captain Cold: This is gonna be good.

Lori: I never thought I'd say this, but Lincoln, let's get that poop!

Lori pulls out a book titled "How to Torture." She and her brother get to work on getting all the things they need to confront the "robot." Lisa is in her room reading a book. Me, Ebon, Captain Cold, Calamitous, Lincoln and Lori suddenly barge in.

Lisa Loud: Oh Greetings Guys. What can I do for you?

CLICK

We lock the door.

Lisa Loud: Why'd you lock the door?

They walk towards Lisa.

Lisa Loud: Why do you have that rope?"

We come closer.

Lisa Loud: Who's watching Lily?!

We then grab the genius and tie her up.

Lisa Loud: Lincoln, Lori, guys, what's the meaning of this? Untie me this instant!

Lori: Shut up!"

SLAP!

She slapped Lisa.

Lisa Loud: Sweet Einstein! What the heck is going on?

SLAP!

Lori slaps her again.

Lori: I said shut up you bucket of bolts!

Lincoln: I can't take it!

Lincoln runs out. He starts whimpering. Lori follows him.

Lori: Lincoln, are you ok?

Lincoln: Oh Lori, seeing you slap Lisa like that is just too horrible to watch!

Lori: No. That's not Lisa. That's robot Lisa!

Lincoln: Oh yeah.

Lisa struggles to get free.

Lori: And the only way to deal with these robot types is to find out what they know.

Lincoln: Right.

Lincoln goes up to Lisa and slapped her.

SLAP!

Lori: Lincoln, you have to ask her a question first."

Lincoln: Oh yeah. What color is my underwear?

He then slapped Lisa.

SLAP!

Lori: Lincoln, let us handle this.

Lori shines a light at Lisa.

Lori: Where's Lisa?

Lisa Loud: What are you talking about? I'm Lisa.

SLAP!

Lori slaps her.

Lori: We can literally do this all night if you want.

Me: I'd start talking if I were you.

Lori: Where's Lisa?

Lisa Loud: I'm Lisa!

Lincoln: Where's Lisa?

Lisa: I'm Lisa!

Me: Where's Lisa?

Lisa: I'm Lisa!

Captain Cold: Where's Lisa?

Lisa: I'm Lisa!

Calamitous: Where's Lisa?

Lisa: I'm Lisa!

Ebon: Where's Lisa?

Lisa: I'm Lisa!

Lori: Where's Lisa?

Lisa: I am Lisa! I am! I am! I am! I am! I am! I am! I am!

Lincoln: This is one stubborn robot.

Lisa: WHAT?! You think I'm a robot?!

Lori: We don't think. We know.

Lisa: That's the silliest thing I've ever heard. I am Lisa Loud!

Lori: She's not cracking. We'll never get it outta her this way.

Lincoln: I've got an idea. Keep an eye on her Lori. Don't fall for any of her robot tricks.

Lincoln finds something in Lisa's drawers. He gets out a phone charger.

Lincoln: If robot Lisa won't tell us where Lisa is, maybe one of her little robot friends will.

Lori: Uh, Lincoln, that's a charger.

Lincoln: Yeah, but I saw Lisa talking to her radio before. She called it her "little buddy."

Lori: Oh really? Put it on the table Lincoln.

Lisa: You're going to interrogate my charger? You're crazy.

Lori: We just wanna see what your little buddy knows.

She took out a baseball bat.

Lisa: No! Wait! What are you gonna do to my charger? That costed me money!

Lori: Where's Lisa?

It said nothing.

Lori: Not talking huh?

SMASH!

Lori smashed it with the bat.

Lisa: NO! That costed me $10.95!

Lincoln: I guess it didn't know anything.

Lori: Go get the piggy bank.

Lincoln got Lisa's piggy bank.

Lisa: No! Not my piggy bank! That costed $17.50!

SMASH!

Lincoln gets out a tablet.

Lisa Loud: $62.60!

SMASH!

Lori smashes it. Lincoln gets out a printer.

Lisa: F-Well, that one was a gift.

SMASH!

Lori smashes it.

Lisa: NOOOO!

Lincoln gets out Lisa's chemistry set.

Lincoln: Well this is the last robot Lori.

Lisa: No! Not my chemistry set! I got it when I was a baby! My first present!

Lisa starts crying. Lincoln and Lori see this.

Me: Huh?

Lori: I thought you said robots couldn't cry.

Lincoln: I also said they couldn't love.

Lisa: I loved it like a sister!

Lincoln smiles nervously.

Lincoln: Well, at least she's not laughing.

Lisa: Oh, the laughs we used to share!

Lori: Um Lincoln, how did that movie of yours end?

Calamitous: That's what I want to know.

Lincoln: The movie? Oh yeah! The ending was great. Turns out there were no robots after all. It was just their imagination…"

Lincoln laughs sheepishly.

Lincoln: Hey, it's time to feed Charles.

Me: I'm outta here.

Ebon: Lori, I wouldn't want to be in your shoes right now.

We ran out, leaving Lori alone with Lisa. Lori looks at Lisa nervously and begins to sweep up the mess she made. Lisa glared at her. Cut to outside of the estate.

Lisa: (GROWLS FEROCIOUSLY) ERRRRRRR LORI!

Lisa then broke out of her bindings and she then beat the living shit out of Lori and she was all broken and battered and in the infirmary in casts and bandages.

Lori: Why me?

Another awesome Land Version of SpongeBob done.

Krab Borg is one of my all time favorites and it was so funny! It aired on March 29th, 2002 and it was really funny! It also gave birth to a bunch of internet memes. NicoChan11 gave me the ideas for this. Thanks man. Next up is a flashback chapter for where we find out how Lily met SpongeBob and Patrick's heroes Mermaidman and Barnacle Boy and it's also gonna be made as an awesome tribute to the late Ernest Borgnine and Tim Conway.

See you all tomorrow.

MERMAID MAN AND BARNACLE BOY

Note: The Flashback in this chapter takes place before the events of Sponge-Cano

---

In the Antarctica Prison, we were there to visit the biggest sore loser of all time: Dr. Vellian Crowler.

---

Vellian Crowler, known in Japan as Cronos de Medici; sometimes spelled Chronos de Medici, is the head professor and department chair of techniques at Duel Academy. Initially scheming and underhanded in attempting to expel Jaden Yuki, Crowler grows throughout the series to appreciate all his students and in turn be respected for his noble actions. He was the main antagonist of the first half of the first season before the Shadow Riders debuted.

Vellian Crowler is a professor of the Obelisk Blue dormitory at Duel Academy. His main goal in the first year is to force low-performing students out of the school. After Jaden Yuki defeats him in a Duel, he tries as hard as he can to get Jaden kicked out of the Duel Academy, but fails miserably. Notable schemes include making Chazz Princeton Duel Jaden with "unbeatable combos," and placing a fake love letter in Syrus Truesdale's locker (which he mistook for Jaden's) to catch him peeping in the girl's bathing facility. Other schemes include Crowler hiring a hit-man named Titan to frighten Jaden and his friends out of Duel Academy, hiring the Paradox Brothers to Duel Jaden and Syrus in a tag-team Duel in hopes they will be defeated and get expelled, having Jaden go out after hours to Duel against the "Duel Giant" (knowing Jaden can be expelled if he's caught), and getting Belowski to Duel Jaden to convince him to run out. After Jaden beats Chazz in the school duel and seeing him defending Chazz from his brothers, Crowler starts to think that Jaden isn't all that bad and gives up trying to expel him (although before he did say that Slade and Jagger could be useful to mess up Jaden).

Crowler is chosen as one of the seven people that guard the Spirit Keys from the Shadow Riders in an attempt to prevent the resurrection of the Sacred Beasts. He Duels the second of the Shadow Riders, Camula, but is ultimately defeated and turned in to a doll. He is restored when Jaden defeats Camula and watches his students beat the rest. At the end of the first year, he Duels Chumley Huffington, with him agreeing to offer his recommendation to Industrial Illusions should Chumley defeat him. Though Crowler wins the Duel, he allows Chumley to pursue his dream of becoming a card designer due to his vast improvement in practical Dueling. Later he watches Zane and Jadens graduation duel which ends in a tie causing him to gain new respect for Jaden.

During the second year, while Chancellor Sheppard is away, Crowler takes over his position at Duel Academy alongside Vice-Chancellor Jean-Louis Bonaparte. For much of the season, the two devise schemes to market Duel Academy, but often argue over what methods should be employed to do so. Bonaparte resorts commonly to attacks, physical or otherwise, on Slifer Red, which he sees as a stain on the school's image, prompting Crowler to step in and defend the dorm on multiple occasions. In the Japanese version, Bonaparte addresses Crowler as a "temporary principal" to insult his feigning position.

After Sheppard returns to his duties, Crowler and Bonaparte, thinking themselves to be fired on account of one of the Chancellor's angry outbursts over their bickering, attempt to find new jobs with Industrial Illusions. Maximillion Pegasus agrees to open discussions on the matter, provided they can defeat him in a triangle Duel. Although they lose to Pegasus, Sheppard states that it was all a big misunderstanding, and that they were never fired in the first place.

By the third year, Crowler has grown to respect Jaden a bit and even comments that "Jaden usually saves them" when things go wrong. Crowler becomes another zombified victim in the different dimension along with Axel Brodie's entire "Blue Berets" group that he had used to combat the Duel Ghouls. However, he does not Duel when Jaden and his friends return to the different dimension to find Jesse Anderson. Because he did not Duel and was not sent to another alternate dimension, Crowler was present to watch Jaden's Duel against Yubel, who was possessing Jesse, along with Syrus and Ojama Yellow.

Crowler ascends to the position of vice-principal of Duel Academy in the fourth season after Bonaparte quits. Along with being a professor and vice-principal, Crowler is also revealed to be a career adviser. As Jaden's graduation nears, he reverts to the cruel and bitter personality he had in the first year, making his students do math problems and even having them spend entire classes doing pushups. When he wouldn't show up to his lessons, the students chased him around to school to know why he acted so odd. He revealed to them that he didn't want any of them to leave, and thus wanted them to not take enough classes to graduate. Jaden Duels him, and Crowler fights back brilliantly (even pushing Jaden into a corner multiple times) but is defeated by Jaden in the same manner he did during the entrance exams (causing Crowler to joke that using "Elemental Hero Flame Wingman" in conjunction with "Skyscraper" is the only strategy Jaden knows). This act restores Crowler to his usual self, leading him to make Jaden make up for all the classes he had missed recently. It is assumed that Crowler, along with everyone else, was pulled into the world of Darkness during the Trueman siege and brought back when Jaden defeated Nightshroud.

He was last seen trying to make a speech to the third-years, but broke down and cried violently before being carried out by the other staff members. Afterward, he attended the graduation party with his students.

---

Qin: So Crowler was locked in prison for getting Jaden expelled?

Me: Yep. From the intel I got from my friend Charlie Nottingham when he was spying on him at Duel Academy, he hated Jaden because he beat him in his initiation duel and he tried several times to get him expelled.

Alexis: And he failed at every one of them.

Me: Yep.

Nico: What a sore loser.

Laney: Crowler deserved to be fired and sent to prison.

Lana: Yep.

Nico: And it was good you got to keep his deck for your own use J.D.

Me: Thanks man.

We arrived at Crowler's cell and it was like John Corben's cell.

Me: Hello Dr. Crowler.

He saw us.

Crowler: J.D. Knudson. Its been a long time since you came to visit.

Me: You know how busy we are saving the world and the universe from total destruction. Last time we saw you, we weren't called Team Loud Phoenix Storm back then.

Crowler: That's true. This animosity between us is so pointless. I shouldn't be in this cell. (to Alexis) Alexis, you were one of my faovrite Obelisks. Surely, you can find it in your heart to forgive me.

Alexis: Dream on.

Crowler: (to Jaden) Jaden, you're not the type to hlde any grudges. Surely, you can be willing to give me another chance. What do you say?

Jaden: Huh. Same old Crowler. You know, I might've fallen for that if you tried it in my first year when I was more guillible. Now pipe down and eat your peas. Or no pudding.

Me: Jaden you're not his mother.

Jaden: Sorry that felt so empowering.

Crowler: Chazz, I know how much you want to show Jaden who's boss. All you need to do is free me. And I will give you the means to defeat him. Together, we'll take back Obelisk Blue from Team Loud Phoenix Storm. And we'll drive Chancellor Shepard out of his job. And after that's done, you and I will both rule Duel Acadamy as equals and show those slackers from the other dorms who's boss. What do you say?

Chazz: Ok. I know you're sore at Jaden for beating you. I've been there before. But instead of cheap schemes, I'll simply work to further improve my deck. That way, when me and Jaden somehow Duel again, I could possibly beat him on my own terms.

Bastion: And to think that you were doing much better when you helped us defeat the Shadow Riders the first time.

Crowler: First time? What do you mean?

Me: The Shadow Riders have returned and we have been facing them one by one. We took down six of them and one of them is now in the Redemption Squad.

Laney: That's right.

Lola: And we are not gonna let them get the Sacred Beast Cards.

Me: If they do, it'll be the end of the world as we know it. Our whole planet will be completely destroyed.

Nico: Yep.

Crowler: Well let me help you all.

Me: Fat chance. You brought all this on yourself Crowler. If you weren't such a sore loser, you would've been a valuable ally.

Nico: Don't worry, Crowler. Your Deck's in good hands. Unlike you, it could prove useful in the future.

We left the prison.

---

Later at the Krusty Krab we were having Krabby Patties. We were having Krabby Patties with SpongeBob, Patrick and Lily's favorite heroes Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy.

Me: (Eating) Mmm. Good Krabby Patties like always.

Lily: Thanks J.D.

Vexen: Boy you said it.

Hydro Man: They sure are delicious.

Lana: You said it.

Maria: Hey Mermaid Man how did Lily meet you and Barnacle Boy?

Mermaid Man: It was a really great story.

Barnacle Boy: It sure was. She is a very sweet and very true hero.

---

TV Announcer: Mermaid Man: Fleet and forceful. With the ability to assemble and charge the creatures of the deep.

Mermaid Man: By the power of Neptune!

TV Announcer: Mermaid Man, with his young associate Barnacle Boy, fights for all creatures who live in the sea, against the forces of evil.

Villain: [holds a baby's lollipop and he spots the whirlpool] Oh, no! The Raging Whirlpool! [the whirlpool catches him and the lollipop falls on the baby's tongue]

TV Announcer: Mermaid Man! Champion of the deep.

SpongeBob, Patrick and Lily: Yay! Champion of the deep! Woo!

SpongeBob: [dressed up as Mermaid Man] Come on, Barnacle Boy. There's evil afoot.

Patrick: [dressed up as Barnacle Boy] Leaping lampreys, Mermaid

Man! I'm right behind you!

Lily: [dressed up as The Deuce] Right with you Mermaid Man!

SpongeBob: I love your superhero costume Lily.

Lily: Thanks SpongeBob. My brother Lincoln got me into the Superhero Comic world.

[SpongeBob, Patrick and Lily outside and sneak behind Squidward, who's relaxing on a lounge chair wearing sunglasses.]

SpongeBob: Mermaid Man, Barnacle Boy and the Deuce spot their arch enemy, Reflecto, up to no good.

Squidward looked behind him.

Squidward: SpongeBob.

SpongeBob: You know what this means.

Patrick: Donuts.

SpongeBob, Patrick and Lily: Ooohh.

They take one and put it on their fingers.

SpongeBob: By the power of Neptune. [Patrick bites into the donut]

SpongeBob, Patrick and Lily: Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy, unite!

SpongeBob: Creatures of the deep, assemble! [all three go into deep thinking] Think… harder… Barnacle Boy. [jellyfish swims by] Here they come. [Squidward blows jellyfish away]

SpongeBob: Blast, Reflecto has become too powerful.

Lily: Allow me.

Lily threw a blast of water and it splashed Squidward and got him all wet. But then a shadow covered Squidward and he saw that he was in a shade tent.

Squidward: [under a tent] What the? Ohh!

SpongeBob: If Reflecto is cut off from sunlight, he becomes weak.

Lily: Good thinking Mermaid Man.

Patrick: Jumping jellyfish, Mermaid Man. He's destroying the shield!

[Cut to Squidward destroying the tent in a fury]

SpongeBob: Quick, Barnacle Boy, back to the sea cave.

Patrick: Right, Mermaid Man.

Lily: Lets go!

Squidward: [runs to the door and he knocks it hard] SpongeBob! SpongeBob, open up!

SpongeBob: [Squidward continues knocking the door] Reflecto has found our secret lab.

Patrick: What would the real Mermaid Man do?

Lily: Yeah.

Squidward: Why don't you go ask him yourself?

SpongeBob: Elaborate, you vile fiend.

Squidward: He and Barnacle Boy live in the retirement home on the other side of town.

SpongeBob: Hmm, they must be working undercover.

Squidward: Yeah… now please leave me alone. (Walks back to his house)

Lily: You know what? I'm starting to dislike Squidward now.

SpongeBob, Patrick and Lily: [Patrick bites into the donut again] Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy, reunite! [At Shady Shoals Retirement Home]

They went in and spoke to the manager.

SpongeBob: Excuse me, I know that Mermaid Man is working undercover on an important case, but you think we can see him?

Duncan: Undercover? Yeah… well, I'll see if they can take time from their busy schedule to see you. [SpongeBob and Patrick are laughing as they walk in and Lily was smiling] There they are. Right over there. [SpongeBob and Patrick gasp]

Lily: Wow.

Duncan: Try not to surprise them.

SpongeBob: Patrick! Can you believe it?

Patrick: [holding onto SpongeBob] Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy in the flesh!

Lily: This is gonna be so awesome.

[SpongeBob, Patrick and Lily walk in front of the TV]

Barnacle Boy: Hey, who are those guys?

Mermaid Man: Uhh, are they here to fix the TV?

Barnacle Boy: What do you want?

SpongeBob: Are you Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy?

Barnacle Boy: Well, we used to be. But now we're retired.

Lily: It's such an honor to meet you Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy.

Barnacle Boy: Aren't you the girl who helped stop Plankton?

Lily: That's me. My name is Lily Loud.

Barnacle Boy: It's a pleasure to meet you.

Lily: Lets see what's wrong with your TV.

Lily went over and she found the problem with the tv. It was missing the remote.

Lily: The remote is missing.

Barnacle Boy: I wonder where it went.

Lily: Lets see.

She looked under the sofa they were sitting in and she found it.

Lily: Found it.

She handed it to them.

Barnacle Boy: Thanks Lily.

Lily: You're welcome. Also you are SpongeBob and Patrick's heroes.

SpongeBob: But you can't retire! There's evil afoot!

Mermaid Man: Wha? Evil! Evil! [he start running to the coral pot and start hanging on it] Barnacle Boy! Come quick! I've got the evil!

SpongeBob: All I said was, there's evil afoot.

Mermaid Man: Evil! Evil! E…

Barnacle Boy: Would you please stop saying that?

Mermaid Man: [hanging on a water fountain] Evil! Evil, evil, evil, evil, evil! [water squirts at him] Death raaaaay! [the manager comes, grabs SpongeBob and Patrick and throws them out]

SpongeBob: Wow, Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy.

Patrick: It's too bad they're old.

Lily: Well there's nothing we can do about that. Time waits for no one.

SpongeBob: What do you mean, Patrick? Old people are the greatest. They're full of wisdom and experience. [real life captain gives a thumbs up and triumphant music plays]

Lily: Just like Pop Pop.

SpongeBob: The world needs Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy. Someone, somewhere, is in trouble, and I won't rest until Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy are out of retirement. [fireworks appear]

Lily: Yeah!

Patrick: Ooh! Pretty lights!

[At Shady Shoals Retirement Home's cafeteria]

Mermaid Man: To the meatloaf! [Receives a slice of meatloaf into his bowl] To the broccoli! [Receives some broccoli into his bowl. Mermaid Man looks at the cafeterian.] Make sure you give extra broccoli to my young ward. The boy needs his vitamins.

Sally: Here you go, son. Haha.

Mermaid Man: To the table, away!

Barnacle Boy: Careful! Don't run!

SpongeBob: Hey, Mermaid Man.

Mermaid Man: Uh, here comes the TV repairman.

Barnacle Boy: What do you want from us?

Lily: We apologize for coming back. But not only are you guys our heroes but we love all your adventures.

Barnacle Boy: I can see that. But how did you guys know that Plankton was gonna do what he did?

Lily: It was all thanks to a dream I had. It was like a vision into the future.

Barnacle Boy: Ah. Dreams can have a way of telling the future.

SpongeBob: Hold on. Just let me look at ya.

Mermaid Man: Stay alert, Barnacle Boy. He… he's up to something.

Lily: It's because he is your biggest fan.

Barnacle Boy: Will you cut… will you stop calling me "boy"?

SpongeBob: Do you remember the time the food supply in Atlantis was running low? So you invented a ray gun that makes things grow six times their size to shoot at the kelp gardens. But then the evil Man Ray swoops down and swipes the gun away and shoots all the algae. [jumps onto one of the cafeteria tables where somebody is eating] And he globs onto the undersea dome. [puts his mouth on the table] And he starts sucking on the glass. [an old fish moves his oatmeal away from SpongeBob in disgust]

Lily: I remember that.

Barnacle Boy: What's your point, kid?

SpongeBob: You guys are the greatest heroes of all time, and I think you should come out of retirement.

Lily: That's right. Bad Guys are always everywhere.

Mermaid Man: Listen up, you villains. I wanna eat my meatloaf. If you don't get out of here, then by the power invested in me, I now pronounce you man and wife.

Duncan: [enters the cafeteria] What is going on in here?

Mermaid Man: [points to SpongeBob, who stops smiling] You may kiss the bride! [SpongeBob gets kicked out and rolls home]

Lily went back to him.

Patrick: Did you re-unite our heroes?

SpongeBob: No, but I'm married.

Lily: And SpongeBob and Sandy only started dating.

[Back at the retirement home]

Mermaid Man: [he and Barnacle Boy are in rocking chairs] Up, up, and away. Up, up, and away.

SpongeBob: [dressed up as a woman and speaking in a Southern accent] Oh, mah. This purse is so big and heavy.

Patrick: [dressed up as a robber] Hold it right there, ma'am. I'll be taking that. [grabs SpongeBob's purse]

SpongeBob: [screams] Hay-lp! Hay-lp! Hay-lp!

Patrick: It's working.

SpongeBob: [Barnacle Boy comes over to him] Wha, are you here to rescue little ol' me?

Barnacle Boy: [yells at SpongeBob, ruining his makeup] Pipe down! You could wake Mermaid Man and he's ornery when his nap is disturbed.

SpongeBob: [approaches Mermaid Man, who is sleeping with his eyes open] Ever alert, Mermaid Man has trained himself to sleep with his eyes open.

Lily: That's very cool.

Barnacle Boy: It is isn't it. But confound it, get away from him!

Mermaid Man: [wakes up] Stop shoutin'! I'm nappin'!

Barnacle Boy: [close up to his face] It's not me, you ol' coot!

Retired Elderly #1: Yes.

Retired Elderly #2: That's me.

Retired Elderly #3: I'm over here.

SpongeBob: Excuse me, Mermaid Man.

Mermaid Man: What do you want?

Barnacle Boy: This better be good.

SpongeBob: This'll cheer you up. We're almost done painting your invisible boatmobile. [The invisible boatmobile is shown almost completely covered in black paint and we also see Patrick smiling while holding a paintbrush with black paint on it.]

Barnacle Boy: Gah! It's supposed to be invisible! That's it! We gotta end our life of leisure. It's time to come out of retirement. There's evil afoot.

Mermaid Man: Evil! Where is it?

Lily: Uh oh.

Barnacle Boy: There it is! [points at SpongeBob and Patrick] You know what this means? [opens up a box with shiny rings]

Mermaid Man: Donuts!

Barnacle Boy: Oh, brother.

Lily: The trademark rings!

[Barnacle Boy puts the ring on Mermaid Man and then they try to put both of the rings together, but they miss. Superhero sequence fails. Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy wave their arms around up and down to synchronize their positioning of their arms. So then they attempt to unite both of the rings together a second time. Both rings are successfully put together but the superhero sequence fails again.]

Barnacle Boy: Say the oath.

Mermaid Man: [in his young voice] MERMAID MAN AND BARCACLE BOY, UNITE! [unite sequence succeeds while their rings are united together]

Lily: AWESOME!

Mermaid Man: Throw a waterball at 'em!

SpongeBob and Patrick: Waterballs! Waterballs! [Barnacle Boy throws a waterball at SpongeBob, but nothing happens]

Patrick: Hehehehehe.

Lily: Boy that only did as much damage as a water balloon.

Barnacle Boy: Mumbling morays. It's not working, Mermaid Man.

Mermaid Man: He-he's-he's absorbing it like some kind of evil sponge!

Lily: Well he's a sponge. What did you expect?

Mermaid Man: Good point.

Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy: Dogpaddle away! [they swim around SpongeBob and Patrick]

Patrick: It's the Raging Whirlpool! [SpongeBob and Patrick cheer as the whirlpool consumes them]

Mermaid Man: Those fiends. They're actually enjoying it.

SpongeBob and Patrick: Do it again! Do it again! Do it again!

Lily: (Laughs) Funny.

Barnacle Boy: Now what, Mermaid Man? We need help!

Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy: Sea creatures, unite! [they summon the sea creatures, but they are retired, so they come slowly]

Barnacle Boy: Hmm, the creatures of the deep seem to have lost some of their luster.

Lily: Well time waits for no one.

Barnacle Boy: True.

Mermaid Man: Sea creatures, attack!

SpongeBob: Pinch me, I must be dreaming. [sea creatures, now carrying torches and pitchforks, pick up SpongeBob and Patrick] Mission accomplished, Patrick.

Patrick: Yeah, we did it. [sea creatures throw them out]

Mermaid Man: I did it. I feel five years younger. Oh, it's good to be back!

Barnacle Boy: We did it, you ol' coot. [they shake hands]

Mermaid Man: Who are you? [Barnacle Boy becomes annoyed] (To Lily) Thank you so much for bringing our hero life back.

Lily: You're welcome Mermaid Man. It was actually SpongeBob and Patrick that did it. But you are always gonna be heroes in theirs and my eyes.

They shook hands.

TV Announcer: The New Adventures of Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy! We join our heroes locked in a battle of wits. [Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy play checkers.]

[Mermaid Man places a black checker on the board. A "Pow!" pow-bubble appears. Barnacle Boy replies by placing a red checker on the board. "Clack!" appears. Mermaid Man sweats, then places a black checker to the end of the board. A "King Me!" appears. Suddenly the phone rings.]

Mermaid Man: It's the Aquaphone! [he holds the phone upside down] What is it, Chief? Uhh, hello? Hello? Hello? [Hangs up phone. "HANG UP!" appears] The phone is still broken. Remind me to g-get that fixed. ["SIT!" appears]

Barnacle Boy: Remind you of what?

Mermaid Man: Remind me of what?

TV Announcer: Will our heroes ever get their phone fixed? Tune in next week and find out.

SpongeBob: Wow. That was even better than the old show.

Lily: You said it.

Patrick: It's all thanks to you. [SpongeBob winks; "WINK!" appears].

FLASHBACK ENDS

We laughed.

Me: That was awesome.

Lily: It sure was.

Patrick: Where were you two when Plankton enacted his Plan Z scheme?

Barnacle Boy: Our retirement home was not affected by it. We were actually in a shelter underneath the home.

Laney: Very clever.

Lily: But our crusade against the forces of evil is never over.

Mermaid Man: It's good to know that you and your family have been doing good in the fight against EEVVIILL!

Me: Thanks Mermaid Man.

Barnacle Boy: One day, you should take us to see the rest of your family.

Lily: I'll keep that in mind.

Maria: Guys, don't you think it's odd that Professor Banner hasn't been around lately?

Zoom: I'm sure he's got things to do involving being a teacher at Duel Academy.

Me: Maybe.

---

Another awesome SpongeBob chapter done.

Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy is one of my all time favorite episodes. It aired on August 21st, 1999 and it was also the first ever episode in which legendary actor Ernest Borgnine and famous comedian Tim Conway guest starred as Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy. Thus giving rise to the iconic SpongeBob heroes. This chapter was also made as a tribute to the late and famous actors. They will never be forgotten and their awesome legacies will live on.

R.I.P. Ernest Borgnine - January 24th, 1917 to July 8th, 2012

R.I.P. Tim Conway - December 15th, 1933 to May 14th, 2019

You both will never be forgotten.

NicoChan11 gave me the ideas for this. Thanks man. Next up is an awesome chapter and we're gonna help the legendary Mon Colle Knights defend all of Mon World from the evil forces of the evil Prince Eccentro. We're going to keep him around as comic relief and do future chapters where we kill evil monsters later on.

See you all tomorrow.

Adventures in Mon World

We were over in Tokyo, Japan. It was getting along great ever since Deadman Wonderland was destroyed.

Me: Wow. Tokyo is getting along great.

Nico: It sure is.

Aeleus: So, this is where your penpal lives, Lana?

Lana: Yep. His name is Mondo and he is an awesome adventurer like me.

Me: We can't wait to meet him.

Laney: Looks like criminals are up to no good again.

We saw a criminal wearing a ski mask and he was getting some coffee and he had a huge bag of money with him.

Me: Lets get him!

We went over and Lynn grabbed him.

Bank Robber: Hey, what's the big idea?!

Lori: You're obviously trying to steal from this bank, that's what!

Lola: Yeah! You've got a ski mask. So it's obvious.

Bank Robber: Oh, c'mon! I was just getting some coffee!

Lynn: Yeah. Likely story. You better start praying. Because these are your last minutes alive!

But then a boy with black hair and a red streak appeared. It was Mondo.

Lynn: (to Mondo) What's the deal?! You just forced me to let that robber get away!

Mondo: I could ask you the same question, Lex Luthor!

Kirby: Say what?!

Mondo: Don't try to play dumb with me, you bald headed freak! I know that you used a mind transfer to put your mind into the bodies of JD and the others. And that your so called "heroic deeds" are just so you can have the universe all to yoursself!

Lisa: Do you even have evidence of this?

Mondo: Of course I do. I read the Superior Spider Man comics where Doc Ock did the same thing to Spiderman.

Leni: Those comics exist?

Mondo: Enough talking! Any last words before I drive you out of the bodies of Team Loud Phoenix Storm for good?

Me: Are you Mondo?

Mondo: That's right.

Lana: (avoids Mondo's punch) Mondo, stop this! Don't you recognize your old pen pal?

Mondo: Enough hiding behind the body of my pen pal, Lex! Maybe I should shave your head so you end up bald again!

Luna: (to Nico) Dude, don't just stand there! Do something!

Nico: Why should I? You got yourselves into this. You get yourselves out.

Lockdown: Nico, if we don't stop this fight, Mondo's going to get himself killed!

Nico: I agree.

Rockna then appeared.

Rockna: (avoids Lily's water blast) C'mon, Lex! Where's your fight? I thought you fought better than this!

Lola: (angrily) So that's it? After everything we've done for the world, you thank us by attacking us?!

Huffer: Guys, c'mon now-

Lincoln: No! If this is how we're treated when we meet new heroes, then me and Lola are done!

With that, Lola and Lincoln storm off.

Laney: Lola! Lincoln!

Lana: (to Mondo) We'll have time to catch up later. Right now, me and Laney have some siblings to get back.

Lana and Laney then go after Lola and Lincoln.

Lynn: (to Mondo) Dude, that wasn't cool at all.

Mondo: I'm really sorry. I just thought that your bodies were being controlled by Luthor.

Lori: And that makes it literally ok? You attacking us just drove Lincoln and Lola away!

Me: (disappointed) I really expected better from you, Mondo.

That was the last straw. Suddenly, Nico slapped me, May slapped Lori, and Maria slapped Lynn.

SLAP! SLAP! SLAP!

Me: OW!

Lynn: (shocked) Did you guys just slap us?

Nico: Well, you deserved it! That robber wasn't even committing any crimes at all. He actually was getting coffee! But I guess you guys have become too much like certain alternate versions of the Justice League to even realize that!

Me: That's not true and you know it!

Lori: Yeah! We're literally still the heroes everyone loves!

May: Yeah right! First, you attack that robber who didn't even do anything bad. And now, you guys are yelling at Mondo just because he made a mistake.

Maria: Do you guys even know what this means? You guys have become just like the Royal Defenders! I don't know how they're treating the Mondo in their world or if he even exists there. But we've had it! You guys better hope that the team even stays together after all this!

We realized that she was right.

Me: You guys are right.

Laney and Lana brought back Lola and Lincoln.

Mondo: I'm sorry I snapped at you guys like that. I read about what happened in those Scarlett Spiderman Comics and it got to me.

Rockna: How can we be so gullible to believe all that stuff?

Me: People need to stop reading that one.

Spiderman: Yeah that has to be the worst issue in my series I know.

Nico: Yeah. Rotwood should be erased from memory forever.

Mondo: But it's such an honor to meet all of you in person.

Me: Same here Mondo. Lana told us so much about you and Rockna.

Rockna: I'm glad she did.

Lana: It's great to meet you in person.

Mondo: Same here. I'm sorry about what I did to you all.

Me: It's all right Mondo. But we are not under the influence of Lex

Luthor. He died after we sent him into space from extreme Kryptonite Poisoning. Let me show you.

My eyes glowed and I showed him and Rockna what happened when we shut down LexCorp in the events of End of LexCorp and it was an epic battle.

Mondo: Wow! That's incredible!

Rockna: It sure is.

But then Rockna saw Hops and he croaked and Rockna screamed in fright!

Rockna: (to Hops) KEEP AWAY FROM ME! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! FROGS! GET THEM AWAY FROM ME!

Lana: What's wrong Rockna?

Mondo: Oh she is absolutely terrified of frogs. She has been terrified of frogs for as long as anyone can remember.

Nico: Oh man!

Lana: I have never known anyone that was terrified of frogs.

Laney: Me neither.

Mondo saw Lucy's fangs.

Mondo: (to Lucy) Are you actually a vampire?

Lucy: I just hope it's not Myotismon's turn today. Because he would really freak you out.

Mondo: (Gulp)

Me: Lucy IS really a vampire and she got that way because of an accident that happened in 2016. But don't worry Mondo, she's a good vampire.

I gave Lucy a pack of blood from the blood bank.

Lucy: Thanks J.D.

Me: She won't hurt you Mondo.

But then I sensed an energy disturbance.

Me: Huh?

I saw a glowing symbols and it looked like a broken ring with a circle in the middle.

Me: What is that?

Jaden: It's the Mark of Amnael.

Roman Goodwin then appeared.

Roman: Did you see that symbol too?

Me: We sure did. It might have something to do with the last of the Shadow Riders that we have to face as well as the disappearances of Professor Banner, Chazz, Alexis and Atticus.

Nico: Yeah.

We saw the symbol moving far away.

Me: It wants us to follow it.

But then a siren sounded.

Nico: What's that?

Mondo: That's Professor Hiiragi calling us!

Rockna: Dad is calling.

Nico: We better go with you guys.

Rockna: We're gonna go to Mon World. It's gonna be so awesome!

Lana: Cool!

Me: We'll meet you guys in Mon World.

Nico: Okay.

Me: Lets fly!

Me, Jaden, Hannah, Roman, Syrus, Chumley, Bastion, Tuddrussel, Valon, Yugi, Akiza and Tania were off following the Mark of Amnael and everyone else was off to Mon World.

Part 1: Battle with Amnael

---

We were following the Mark of Amnael and we followed it all the way to Duel Academy Island.

Me: It took us to Duel Academy Island.

Jaden: Good being back here again.

Valon: (Australian Accent) So this is Duel Academy Island.

Chumley: This is it.

Akiza: This is much different than the one that I know.

We followed the Mark and it took us to the Abandoned Dorm. It was an old Obelisk Blue Dorm that was shut down ages ago and it looked like a creepy haunted house.

---

The Abandoned Dorm, also known in Japan as the old Blue Dorm, is a setting in Yu-Gi-Oh! GX.

A year before the events of the anime, Atticus Rhodes, Yusuke Fujiwara and a few other Obelisk Blue students stayed in this dorm, but over time, they vanished. After the disappearance of these students, many tried to find them, but to no avail and the other students were later prohibited from entering the dorm. A cover-up story was fed to the public, which stated that the missing students were in a Duel research program abroad. The official files of the missing students were stored in the dorm in order to hide them, since no one was permitted to enter.

Yusuke performed a ritual to summon Nightshroud in the dorm. This pulled him to the World of Darkness and infected the dorm with dark powers. Atticus received Nightshroud's mask from Yusuke as a parting gift after witnessing this. As a result, Atticus was eventually chosen by Kagemaru to be one of the Shadow Riders. Upon his reappearance, he was saved by Jaden Yuki. Lyman Banner, who had aided Kagemaru's plot, would later state that he and Kagemaru were unaware where Atticus received Nightshroud's influence from. Banner had used the basement of the dorm as his personal alchemy lab, including a resting place for his original body.

A journalist named Gerard and Chancellor Sheppard dedicated themselves to solving the mystery. The dorm would later be destroyed by Honest, the Spirit Partner of Fujiwara, in his quest to find out what happened to his master.

Due to Fujiwara's ritual, it appears that the dorm was imbued with some form of shadow magic. The angry spirits of the dorm were able to start a real Shadow Game mid-way through Jaden's Duel with Titan, who had been holding a faux Shadow Game before that. Upon his loss, he was pulled into a different World of Darkness. After Jaden's defeat of Kagemaru, the remaining students were released.

The dorm has also made an appearance in the manga, as the setting where Reggie MacKenzie Dueled against both Midori Hibiki and Jaden. Nothing is known about it in this continuity.

---

We landed and we saw the Abandoned Dorm.

Jaden: I never thought it would take us here.

Me: Charlie told me all about this place here.

Valon: This place makes my skin crawl mates.

Tania: It sure is creepy.

Me: It sure gives me the creeps.

We saw the Mark of Amnael.

Me: Lets go.

We followed the mark and we went into the Abandoned Dorm and it looked like a scary haunted house.

Syrus: I've always hated coming here.

Me: Looks like no one has been in here for years.

Valon: I've got a bad feeling about this mates.

Akiza: I do too.

Tania: Yeah.

We saw the Mark of Amnael and we followed it and it took us down into the basement where we came across a laboratory.

Jaden: What is this place?

Me: It looks like some kind of laboratory.

Roman: I have a really bad feeling about this.

But then we heard a creak and we saw a sarcophagus open.

Me: Whoa. Lets see what's going on.

We went over and me and Roman opened the Sarcophagus and inside it we made a really grisly discovery! We found the mummified body of Professor Banner!

Chumley: It's Professor Banner!

Me: My god! What the hell happened to him!?

Valon: He was with us a few days ago mates.

Akiza: This doesn't make sense.

?: About time you all showed up.

We heard a strange voice.

Me: Who said that?

?: I am the one who called you all here.

A figure came out and it was a masked cloaked man. It was AMNAEL!

---

Amnael real name Lyman Banner (Daitokuji in the Japanese version) is a supporting character who is eventually revealed to be an antagonist, in the first season of Yu-Gi-Oh! GX. He is the seventh of the Shadow Riders, therefore the best duelist among them and the last to be introduced. He serves as the secondary antagonist of the show's first season.

He was voiced by Wayne Grayson.

In the beginning of the season Amnael is presented as Lyman Banner (Daitokuji in the Japanese dub), the teacher in charge of the Osiris Red dorm, where the least skilled duelist in the academy (at least in term of grades) reside. He gives lessons about the origins of the Duel Monster game and about alchemy.

He appears as someone friendly, easygoing, and slightly goofy, who takes good care of his students, and he frequently gives advice and guidance to Judai and his friends, witnessing almost all their duels throughout the season, and never being seen far from his pet cat Pharaoh.

As a Shadow Rider/Seven Stars Assassin

As the first six Seven Stars Assassins are defeated, Lyman Banner seems to have gone missing. Shortly after, a mysterious masked duelist who introduces himself as the ancient alchemist Amnael appears on the Duel Academia island and starts challenging all the remaining keykeeper (duelists in charge of one of the six keys that keeps the Phantom God Beasts cards locked, since these cards wields a very dangerous mystical power that the Assassins covet).

Amnael beats Alexis and Chazz easily, before taking Atticus as a hostage. He then challenges the last keykeeper: Jaden Yuki. Jaden and his friends then follow Pharaoh into a cave where they discover an alchemy laboratory and Banner's mummified corpse in a coffin. Then Amnael appears and reveal that he trapped the souls of the duelists he defeated within his grimoir, the Emerald Tablet, in which he concentrates his alchemic power. (Amnael's book is named after a legendary book of alchemy, rumored to have belonged to the fabled alchemist Hermes Trismegistus.)

Amnael proves himself to be a formidable foe, but Jaden manages to hold his own. Amnael's true identity is revealed when his mask falls apart. Amnael explains that he fell terminally ill during an experiment, forcing him to transfer his soul into a homunculus who looks exactly like him. However, the homunculus has a very short lifespan and Amnael joined the Seven Stars Asassins, hoping to use the Phantom God Beasts' power to create the Philosopher's Stone and become immortal.

Amnael then gains the upper hand and starts telling Jaden that they are rather similar and that the way he duels is somehow close to alchemic principles. In the "4Kids" dub, he makes a rather classical villainous speech about how Jaden was manipulated, so that he would win all his duels and look like a powerful duelist and be entrusted one of the keys, while he is in fact a weakling. It must be noted that this speech is hardy coherent, since Jaden defeated most of the Seven Stars Assassins all by himself. Furthermore, how the duels could have been rigged is not even explained, though it would later be revealed that he lied about all that.

Jaden eventually realizes the truth in Amnael's words and wins the duel by fusing four monsters of the Earth, Water, Wind and Fire elements (uniting the elements being a major theme in Alchemy). Amnael then gives him the Emerald Tablet and appoints him as his successor, before crumbling into dust. (In the "4Kids" dub, he tells him that he became a Seven Stars Assassin to keep an eye on the others, and lied about the manipulation to force him to give his best, in order to see if he was ready for the true threat.) In the grimoir, Judai finds a powerful spell card "Philosopher's Stone - Sabatier" which would later enable him to defeat the leader of the Seven Stars Assassins, Kagemaru.

Amnael's spirit survives, but gets eaten by his pet cat Pharaoh. During the rest of the series, the spirit leaves the cat's mouth from time to time and gives advice to Jaden. He helped Jaden to seek out Chazz's Ojama cards that he discarded when he was brainwashed by Sartorius.

---

Me: Who are you?

Amnael: I am the Seventh Shadow Rider, Amnael.

Jaden: So you are Amnael!

Me: And you must be the one responsible for the disappearances of our friends!

Amnael: That's right!

He pulled out a strange purple book. It was his Shadow Charm, THE EMERALD TABLET!

His Shadow Charm is the Emerald Tablet, the only Shadow Charm with a history that is not exclusive to the Yu-Gi-Oh! universe. Its fictitious version allows Amnael to trap his victims, soul and body, inside its pages, trapping them until he is defeated.

Me: So you defeated our friends and imprisoned them in your Shadow Charm. What is that book?

Amnael: It's called the Emerald Tablet.

Me: Emerald Tablet? (Gasp) You mean like the legendary Smargadine Tablet of Thoth in Alchemic Myth?

Amnael: That is correct. And to get any of your friends and Jaden's girlfriend back, you'll have to beat me.

Me: Why would you do this? There has to be a big reason. And I have a feeling that it involves you and what's left of Professor Banner.

Amnael: It best that you forget the one you knew as Professor Banner. He is no more.

Me: Bullshit! I still sense some life in him. He's not dead completely. But you soon will be if you don't start explaining!

Hannah Fairchild: Yeah!

Amnael: There's only one way for me to tell you and that is fight me. Only then will this tome and the secrets that it holds be unlocked. Will you accept this challenge?

Me: You know that I am always up for a challenge.

Roman: Same here!

Me: Lets do it!

We activated our duel disks and stood ready.

Amnael: I'll go first to start. I activate MACRO COSMOS!

He activated said card and in a massive flash of light we were all in the endless infinitely vast reaches of space.

Me: Wow! We're in space!

Jaden: How did you do that?

Me: Macro Cosmos? That's everything that is big in the entire universe.

Amnael: That's right. And here's the center of it all to start with. I summon HELIOS THE PRIMODIAL SUN!

He summoned said monster and then we saw a strange sight appear. We saw all the planets of the Solar System appear in front of us.

Me: Wow! I've always wondered what it would be like to be the size of a whole planet.

Jaden: It sure is.

Valon: But look closer mates!

In the planet Mars we saw Chazz.

Me: Chazz! He's in the planet Mars!

In the planet Venus we saw Alexis and she was on the floor.

Me: Alexis!

Jaden: She's in the planet Venus!

And in Jupiter we saw Atticus.

Me: And Atticus too!

Syrus: He's in Jupiter!

Me: So you essentially trapped them in the entirety of the Solar System and made them part of the 13.7 billion year history of the universe.

Amnael: That's right. I also summon HELIOS DUO MEGISTUS, HELIOS TRICE MEGISTUS, ALCHEMY BEASTS SALAMANDRA THE STEEL, OUROBOROS THE BRONZE, LEON THE LEAD, EATOS THE TIN, EKENAS THE MERCURY, MOONFACE THE SILVER and GOLDEN HOMUNCULUS!

He summoned said monsters.

Me: Wow! Awesome selection. You possess an alchemy deck. I am familiar with all this.

Amnael: I had a feeling you were.

Me: Now for my monsters. I summon MALEFIC BLUE-EYES WHITE DRAGON, MALEFIC CYBER END DRAGON, MALEFIC RAINBOW DRAGON, MALEFIC RED-EYES BLACK DRAGON, MALEFIC PARADOX DRAGON, MALEFIC STARDUST DRAGON and MALEFIC TRUTH DRAGON!

Jaden: I summon ELEMENTAL HEROES SPARKMAN, WILDHEART, BUBBLEMAN, NECROSHADE, CLAYMAN, BLADEDGE, BURSTINATRIX, AVIAN, NEO BUBBLEMAN, KNOSPE, HEAT, STRATOS, LADY HEAT, POISON ROSE, WOODSMAN, PRISMA, CAPTAIN COLD, ICE EDGE, NEOS, FLAME WINGMAN, THUNDER GIANT, RAMPART BLASTER, WILDEDGE, MARINER, NECROID SHAMAN, SHINING FLARE WINGMAN, WILD WINGMAN, DARKBRIGHT, INFERNO, MUDBALLMAN, PHOENIX ENFORCER, GAIA, GREAT TORNADO, ELECTRUM, DIVINE NEOS, RAINBOW NEOS, CHAOS NEOS, STORM NEOS, MAGMA NEOS, CHAOS NEOS, FLARE NEOS, DARK NEOS, AQUA NEOS, GRAND NEOS, AIR NEOS, GLOW NEOS and the EVIL HEROES: INFERNO WING, INFERNAL PRODIGY, INFERNAL GAINER, LIGHTNING GOLEM, MALICIOUS FIEND, DARK GAIA, WILD CYCLONE, and MALICIOUS EDGE!

Hannah Fairchild: URIA, LORD OF SEARING FLAMES, HAMON, LORD OF STRIKING THUNDER and RAVIEL, LORD OF PHANTASMS!

Roman: I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL URU!

Valon: I summon PSYCHIC ARMOR HEAD, OVER BOOST, BURNING KNUCKLE, TRAP BUSTER, BLACK HOLE SHIELD, BUSTER KNUCKLE, BUSTER PYLE, BIG BANG BLOW, ADVANCED SHIELD, JET GAUNTLET, DOUBLE CLOTH ARMOR and ACTIVE GUARD!

He summoned said armored monsters.

Valon: And I activate FULL ARMOR GRAVITATION!

He had his armor merge with him and he was fully ready for battle!

Syrus: I summon CYCROID, AMBULANCEROID, DECOYROID, DRILLROID, EXPRESSROID, GYROID, JETROID, KITEROID, PATROID, RESCUEROID, STEALTHROID, SUBMARINEROID, THUNDER NYAN NYAN, TRUCKROID, UFOROID, AMBULANCE RESCUEROID, PAIR CYCROID, SUPER VEHICROID JUMBO DRILL, SUPER VEHICROID - STEALTH UNION, STEAM GYROID and UFOROID FIGHTER!

Bastion: I summon HYDROGEDDON, OXYGEDDON and WATER DRAGON!

Akiza: I summon BLACK ROSE DRAGON, QUEEN ANGEL OF ROSES, ROSE, WARRIOR OF REVENGE and ROSARIA, THE STATELY FALLEN ANGEL!

Tania: I summon AMAZONESS ARCHER!, AMAZONESS BABY TIGER, AMAZONESS BLOWPIPER, AMAZONESS CHAIN MASTER, AMAZONESS EMPRESS, AMAZONESS FIGHTER, AMAZONESS PALADIN, AMAZONESS PET LIGER, AMAZONESS PRINCESS, AMAZONESS QUEEN, AMAZONESS SCOUTS, AMAZONESS SPY, AMAZONESS SWORDS WOMAN, AMAZONESS TIGER and AMAZONESS TRAINEE!

Chumley: I summon BIG KOALA, DES KANGAROO, EUCALYPTUS MOLE, DES KOALA, MASTER OF OZ, and SECOND GOBLIN!

Yugi: I summon OBELISK THE TORMENTOR, SLIFER THE SKY DRAGON and THE WINGED DRAGON OF RA!

We all summoned said monsters.

Me: How's this for an army?

But then just as we were about to fight, Professor Banner's cat Pharaoh came and he nuzzled Amnael's leg.

Me: Pharaoh?

Chumley: But Pharaoh is never that friendly with strangers.

Me: Unless Amnael…

Amnael: Is no stranger to you all or to Pharaoh.

He took off his mask and we got one of the biggest shocks ever when we saw that Amnael was really PROFESSOR LYMAN BANNER! But his hair was white and his skin was aging fast.

Me: What in the 9 fucking levels of Hell!?

Chumley: Professor Banner!?

Tania: How in the!?

Valon: What in the world!?

Me: How in the world?

Jaden: If you are Professor Banner then who is that mummy?

Professor Banner: (Laughs) That mummy is also me. There is more going on here then you could possibly imagine.

Me: Like what? I just find it really shocking that you are with the Shadow Riders. I guess that old saying is true. "The Enemy of My Enemy is my Friend."

Hannah Fairchild: It sure is true.

Me: But why?

Professor Banner: Perhaps I should tell you the whole story.

Me: We're all ears.

Professor Banner: Like you all, I was once a young duelist with unlimited potential. I scoured the world in search of the rarest and most powerful cards. Finally, my travels lead me to the ultimate prize: a lost tomb hidden and buried in an ancient desert. Within it was a duelists dream. For it held the very first duel cards. Like Pegasus years before, I sought out their powers. But the tomb was cursed and science had no answer to the magic which ravaged my body. I tried everything, but soon I realized that there was only one thing to be done. I had no choice but to create a new body.

Therefore I used alchemy to create a Homunculus, an artificial lifeform and placed my soul inside of it.

Me: I've heard about this. This is a process made to make human replicas.

Syrus: That's interesting.

Professor Banner: That's right. But this new body is only temporary. It won't be long before I am nothing but a pile of dust in the wind.

He touched his face and we saw it crack and crumble.

Professor Banner: You see, I don't have much time left.

Me: Oh man. I didn't know you were going through all this.

Jaden: Nobody ever told us.

J.D. 2: I know this kind of curse.

Me: You saw this kind of curse before?

J.D. 2: Yes. It's called the Rapid Aging Curse. It's a deadly curse that was placed on that tomb that he went into and it causes the body to slowly age and destroy itself.

Me: Whoa! That's terrible!

Tania: That is horrible.

Valon: No kidding mates.

Me: How much time do you have left Professor?

Professor Banner: Minutes and to live, I need the power of these cards, the 3 Divine Sacred Beasts.

Me: I can't let those cards fall into the wrong hands. If they do, they will destroy the entire planet. But I have the power to cure you Professor. I can get rid of that curse and return you to life.

Roman: A lot of things are starting to make sense now, Professor

Banner. How long have you been working for the Shadow Riders?

Professor Banner: 10 years now.

Tuddrussel just shoved a picture into Amnael's hands.

Professor Banner: What's this?

Tuddrussel: (serious for once) A picture of you, Jaden, and the rest of the Duel Academy gang having fun together. Before we fight, I want you to look at the picture and then ask yourself: Was joining the Shadow Riders really worth it?

Me: I don't think it was worth it. That curse is lethal. But I have the power to cure you professor. After we fight I can cure you.

Professor Banner: Lets do it!

Me: With pleasure.

We went at Professor Banner and I kicked him in the stomach and Jaden and everyone punched him and kicked him all over and blasted him and the monsters we summoned blasted and destroyed his monsters and we won.

Me: Hold on Professor!

I chanted a powerful incantation and fired a powerful blast of light and it removed Professor Banner's curse and cured him. His hair and skin reverted back and he was back to normal.

Me: Professor?

Professor Banner: I'm all better! I'm cured!

He went and hugged me.

Me: Glad you're back professor.

Jaden: Thank goodness you're gonna be all right.

Professor Banner: Thank you all for saving me.

Me: You're welcome Professor.

Professor Banner: I am sorry I fought all of you. But there was a reason for it. The reason is it was to test you all and to prepare you for the real evil to come.

Me: What is this evil? Is it the Royal Defenders?

Professor Banner: Yes. That is why I became a Shadow Rider. Not to take over the world but to stop the Royal Defenders and help prepare you all for the battles that lie ahead.

Me: I understand Professor. But I have a feeling that we are ready for anything now. We've taken down some of the most powerful foes we have ever come across. But we'll be ready for anything.

Professor Banner: I'm glad. But you see, the threat of the Royal Defenders is so grave that it makes most of your enemies look like a joke.

Me: Then it looks like we're in way over our heads. The Royal Defenders pose that tremendous of a problem. Even though they are weaker versions of us, I have a feeling they are gonna pose that tremendous of a challenge and pose a major threat to the entire universe.

Professor Banner: That's right. Here. (Hands me his book)

Me: Why are you giving this to me?

Professor Banner: It holds the secret to destroying the Royal Defenders and it also holds the secrets to defeating far more powerful evils than the Royal Defenders.

Me: I understand professor.

I take the book and then I read everything in it and then I felt a massive and major increase in power! But it was unlike anything I've ever felt! When it was done, my rainbow fire aura had lightning, fire and darkness swirling around it and more. It was over 500 quintillion times more powerful than what I got when we took down Moo.

Me: WHOA!

Valon: Wow! What power!

Me: I feel amazing. Now lets get everyone else and head to Mon World and meet up with the others.

Roman: Lets do it.

We found Alexis, Chazz and Atticus and then I took my sword and cut a hole and opened up a portal and it lead into Mon World and we saw Nico and everyone else.

Me: There they are. Lets go.

We went through the portal.

Part 2: Battle in Mon World

We arrived in the Earth Realm of Mon World and it was amazing and beautiful.

Me: Wow! So this is Mon World.

Jaden: This place is amazing!

Alexis: This is incredible!

Bastion: It sure is.

Nico then saw us.

Nico: Hey guys!

Me: Nice to see you all here.

Mondo: What do you guys think of Mon World?

Me: It's amazing! This place is incredible.

I saw Mondo and Rockna's outfits.

Me: Nice outfits guys.

Rockna: Thanks J.D.

Me: You're welcome.

Nico: Professor Banner, thank goodness you're all right.

Professor Banner: Thanks to J.D.

Me: We have quite a story for you.

I revealed everything that happened with Professor Banner and how and more and everyone gasped in shock.

Nico: You got to be kidding! Professor Banner was also the Seventh Shadow Rider!?

Me: Yeah. We were shocked ourselves. But he was also cursed and it would've killed him in minutes.

Vince: Whoa! And he would've died if it weren't for you curing him.

Laney: It's good you all did.

Lana: Yeah.

But then we heard a sound and we looked up and saw a portal and a lion shape ship came through it!

Nico: WHOA!

Rockna: Oh no! It's Prince Eccentro!

Lola: Who is Prince Eccentro?

Mondo: Our mortal enemy.

Mondo told us all about him.

Prince Eccentro is a young effeminate aristocrat from Europe who wants to take over Mon World. He was born in 1974 and he was trained by Tanaka when his father wanted him to be a bad guy. He is not very threatening due to his eccentric behavior and hysterical persona at times. However, he is the inventor of the hypnotic Skeitso Beam (whether on his Flying Lion aircraft or Teddyarenaut) which he uses to bend monsters to his will. Because of that, he tends to have his evil moments, though he really isn't as evil as he brags himself to be. Everytime Prince Eccentro fails, Tanaka would punish him with back-breaking exercises and/or harsh training that is related to the episode's content. His dream is apparently to become a world famous belly dancer.

---

Me: Whoa! So he's mainly a comic relief villain. He'd make a good candidate for the Masters of Evil.

Varie: He sure would.

The ship landed and out came PRINCE ECCENTRO, GLUKO and BATCH!

---

GLUKO

Eccentro's big-breasted, yet air-headed and friendly underling. She is always spared by Tanaka when it's time for punishment and has an amount of luck. Goruko never seems to get hurt while the rest of her team and the Mon Colle Knights usually does. An English ongoing joke in the series is that during Eccentro's launch sequence in each episode, she asks a very long and logic based question which ends with Eccentro and Batch becoming bored and saying "Never mind, Goruko." In the Japanese version, Gluko speaks in a very polite and respectful dialect whether she's talking to her teammates or her enemies. Goruko also carries around a book detailing about Mon World and his creatures. In a later episode, Gluko ends up adopting a Forest Imp named Impy.

BATCH

Eccentro's tomboyish lackey. She unfortunately gets punished by Tanaka as well except in two episodes. Batch and Eccentro argue a lot, but she always obeys him.

---

Eccentro: Team Loud Phoenix Storm. It's an unexpected and unpleasant surprise.

Me: Prince Eccentro. I've heard a lot about you. You really have a habit of pissing people off.

Eccentro: Indeed.

Lincoln: You two girls are beautiful.

Gluko: Why thank you so much.

Batch: Thank you whitehead.

Tayuya: Ooh. I like her.

Eccentro: Nico, I'm really sorry about what Rotwood tried to do to you and May.

Nico: It's fine. I know you're not like that.

Eccentro: Of course not. I might be a bad guy but even I have my limits!

Me: I don't blame you. But also I sense that you aren't alone.

?: He's right.

A figure popped out and it was Robin's old anti-hero persona, RED X!

---

Red X is a recurring antagonist and anti-hero in the Teen Titans series. Originally an alias Robin used to get closer to Slade, an unknown person took up the Red X identity after stealing the suit and used it to become a professional thief.

He was voiced by Scott Menville who also voices Robin.

Red X started out as an evil alter-ego of Robin so he could get close to Slade and know about his plans. But in a later season, someone stole the Red X suit and decided to wear it and become a thief.

When the Teen Titans first encountered an army of Slade's robots, Robin want to figure out who he was, and what he was planning. So he created an evil alter-ego to figure out Slade, but in the process, Robin almost crossed the line between good and evil, and almost lost his friends.

After Robin quit being the Red X, the suit was never seen for some time. Until someone stole the suit and decided to wear the suit and become a thief. He only stole stuff so he could look out for what he considers as Numero Uno. But when Raven, Cyborg, Starfire, and Beast Boy were kidnapped by Professor Chang, Red X decided to help Robin take out Chang. But he only did this to steal the Xenothium to power up his suit. However Robin anticipated this so he managed to take Red X's belt. X manage to steal one tube of the Xenothium and used it to create a distraction and manage to escape from the Titans.

Red X made another appearance, and became a member of Brain's Brotherhood of Evil. When Ding Dong Daddy manage to steal something precious from Robin. Because it was valuable to Robin, all the Teen Titan villains teamed up and tried to steal it from DDD, while preventing the Teen Titans from getting the Briefcase, including Red X. However near the end of the episode, Red X saw in Robin's eyes that it was really valuable to him and decided to take out the other villains that wanted the briefcase. What happened to Red X is unknown. During the fight between the Teen Titans and the Brotherhood of Evil, Red X wasn't spotted, it's likely that he left the Brotherhood after the Ding Dong Daddy race.

---

Robin: Red X!

Red X: Hey guys. Long time no see!

Me: Been a while Red X. Last time you helped us was in the Battle with Thanos.

Red X: It sure has been a while.

Red X teleported behind me, put a Kick Me sign on my back, and kicked me there.

POW!

Me: OW!

Red X: Didn't expect that, did you?

Me: Very funny. Dark Spicer pulled that prank on me a while back.

I pulled off the Kick Me sign and crumpled it up.

Nico: But also Eccentro you don't know what the full extent of my power is like.

Eccentro: Oh really? Show me.

Whiteout, Saïx and Dr. Light appeared.

Me: Whiteout, Saïx and Dr. Light. Strange seeing you three here.

Saïx: Indeed.

Whiteout: We heard what happened a few hours ago. Are you guys ok?

Lincoln: Yep. We're fine.

Nico: We had an argument before. But we're all cool now.

Dr. Light: Glad to hear it.

Me: You're just in time to see Eccentro shit bricks as Nico shows him how strong he really is at full power.

Nico: Yep. This is gonna be awesome.

Eccentro: This is gonna be good.

Nico: Watch.
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH

The clouds glowed and all the plants glowed as well as the water and sky. Then Nico flared up his Super Saiyan power and then his power was rising exponentially! I formed a power measurement spell circle to show his power and Eccentro was seeing it rise exponentially!

Eccentro: WHOA! (SCREAMING!)

Lincoln: WOW! What power!

May: Incredible!

Eccentro: 912 Trillion and rising!?

Me: And that's just in his Super Saiyan power.

Nico then flared up his Super Saiyan 2 power and it was still going up. The ground was shaking extremely violently as his power was rising faster and faster!

Eccentro: 756 SEXTILLION!? UNREAL!

Me: WHOA!

But that was just for starters!

Nico then went Super Saiyan 3 and his power was still rising exponentially!

Storm Clouds were building over us as lightning struck all over the place with incredible power!

Eccentro: 562 DECILLION!? MEGA POWERFUL AND UNREAL!

Me: HOLY SHIT IS THAT POWERFUL!

Nico then went Super Saiyan 4 and tornadoes of fire landed and burned everything.

Eccentro then was shaking in fear so much that he was literally shitting bricks 100-fold! The power measurement spell circle then stopped and showed the result!

Eccentro: UNBELIEVABLE! 825 DUODECILLION!? HOLY SHIT THAT IS POWERFUL!

Me: UNREAL!

Nikiya: That's Bokrua's full power!? INCREDIBLE!

Nico: What do you think?

May: WHOA! That's incredible!

Laney: No villain is gonna be a match for him!

Vegeta: That is amazing power! Bokrua is an amazingly gifted Saiyan.

We then saw that Eccentro's pants were full with brown shit.

Me: WHOA! Nico's power was so strong that he made Eccentro shit bricks!

Gluko: You were really amazed weren't you your highness?

Eccentro: Shut up!

He then punched Gluko in the face and knocked her down and her glasses were smashed. Lincoln went over to Gluko and comforted her as she was crying and Batch went over to her too.

Batch: After that we're through with you Eccentro!

Eccentro: WHAT!?

?: That wasn't nice huh?

A figure came out and it was FLASHHEAD from episode 30 of Turbo!

When Divatox saw Cassie and Ashley (who was actually a robot) helping Bulk and Skull video tape the tennis lesson, she sent Flashhead to monster accompanied Elgar and some Piranhatrons down to Earth in order to launch an attack at a tennis court. Flashhead first attempted to turn TJ, Cassie, and Ashley but a Piranhatron got in the way and was zapped instead. The rangers morphed and fought off the Piranhatrons which were further knocked down by the villains firing baseballs at the Rangers. He personally fought and thus continued even after the other villains had retreated. However, he fled very soon after and the Rangers went after him. They soon caught up to him, exchanged some garbage dialogue, and pounded him into the ground. Flashhead blasted them down and tied up the team with film tape at which point more Piranhatrons showed up to help. He prepared to blast them into oblivion but they broke free and he accidentally turned his helpers into film reels. The Rangers then took him down with thier Auto Blasters but Divatox made him grow. TJ summoned the Rescue Megazord and Flashhead tried to blast it into oblivion but was destroyed by the Artillery Power. He was succeeded by the Voltmeister.

---

T.J. Johnson: Flashhead!

Flashhead: Been a long time rangers.

Me: I remember you! You were sent to turn the rangers into film reels during a tennis game.

Flashhead: That's right. Mistress Vypra was right about you J.D. You never missed an episode.

Me: It's mutual.

Flashhead: So is this.

Flashhead just trapped me, Lola, Lori, and Lynn in rolls of film.

Flashhead: I wonder what will happen if I use the film with you guys in it.

But then the film glowed and we busted out of the film and were back to normal.

Me: Nice try Flashhead.

Troy: You're gonna like this next Legendary Mode, Devon. We got these Ranger Keys ever since we met you and your team.

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Beast Morphers!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Beast Morpher Rangers. Troy turned into the Red Ranger, Noah turned into the Blue Ranger, Jake turned into the Gold Ranger, Gia turned into the Yellow Ranger and Emma turned into the Steel Ranger!

Me: AWESOME!

Devon Daniels: That is cool!

Orion: It sure is. It's a shame there was no sixth ranger for the Beast Morpher Rangers.

Me: I know. That would've been more awesome.

?: Let me help you all out.

A bright light came and it was a beautiful blond hair angel and she had beautiful white angel wings and a gold dress. It was SPECTRA THE ANGEL OF LIGHT!

---

Lark's sister and Zaha's fiance in the Japanese version (she is Gabriolis' sister in the English dub) who sports a long gold dress and is always barefoot. Spectra is a Light Angel who comes to Gabriolis in his darkest hour to show him what really happened in the past so he may find redemption. She reappeared when Redda was chasing after her near the Fire Angel's castle and was rescued by the Mon Colle Knights.

---

Rockna: Spectra!

She went over and hugged her.

Spectra: It's good to see you again Rockna.

Me: Wow. You are a beautiful angel.

Spectra: Thank you J.D. I had a feeling the mighty Team Loud Phoenix Storm would be coming.

Me: We have a habit with showing up at the right time.

Nico: We sure do.

Me: Lets take down Eccentro.

We powered up and went at them.

Saïx then called out his Pokemon. He had a Lunala, Lunatone and Cresselia.

Carol: Moon Pokemon. Perfect for you.

Squirrel Girl: Time for some nutty action.

Jewel Man: Yeah!

Whiteout: Lets do it.

Kairi: Lets dance in light.

Gravity Man: Yes.

Dr. Light: Lets do it.

Dr. Light called out his Regice, Regirock and Registeel.

Magnet Man: Now that is a good selection.

Dr. Light: Thanks Magnet Man.

Kairi, Magnet Man and Gravity Man fired blasts of light, magnetic energy and gravity and they slammed into Dr. Light and his Pokemon and knocked them out in a massive fiery explosion.

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Kairi: Nice.

Battle 4: Red X

Hunter was facing Red X.

Hunter: (German Accent) You and Eccentro would make a good candidates for the Masters of Evil.

Red X: I'm sure. Lets see what you got.

Hunter: With pleasure.

Hunter unsheathed his fire sword and went at Red X and slashed him all over and kicked him and burned him all over the place. And then he punched him and kicked him all over and knocked him out.

Hunter: Wunderbar.

Battle 5: Flashhead

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Flashhead.

Nico: Now it's gonna get rough.

Troy Burrows: Yeah!

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers fired waves of energy and blasts of power and they slammed into Flashhead and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

Flashhead then fell down and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Nico: Flashhead you have failed this world.

---

Battle 6: Prince Eccentro

---

We regrouped and we were facing Prince Eccentro.

Me: You are gonna be dethroned Eccentro.

Linka: And you'll be my archenemy when you join the Masters of Evil.

Prince Eccentro: I would like that.

Me: Lets dance.

We powered up and went at him and I punched him in the face and kicked him in the stomach and punched him in the face again. Linka fired blasts of lightning and electrocuted him all over. Nico punched him in the face and smashed him in the stomach all over. Cyrenox, Riggan, and Blazvatan blasted and smashed him all over.

Linka: Try this one! RED MAGIC STYLE NINJA ARTS: SLUMBERING DRAGON, SCOURGE OF THE THRONE, BALEFIRE DRAGON, URABRASK THE HIDDEN, VIOLENT ERUPTION, THUNDEROUS WRATH and CRUCIBLE OF FIRE!

Linka fired blasts of red energy and they formed into said creatures and powers from Magic The Gathering!

Edwayl: (Breton Accent) Try this one you bad freak. GREEN MAGIC STYLE NINJA ARTS: GHOULTREE, HARMONIZE, and GARRUK, PRIMAL HUNTER!

Laney: GREEN MAGIC STYLE NINJA ART: PRIMALCRUX RAMPAGING BALOTHS and VEIL OF SUMMER!

Liberty: And this is good magic! DOOMBOLT, CHAINS OF TORMENT, WARPFIRE BALL BLAST, WARPFIRE BREAK, DARK SOUL LIGHTNING BOLT and HOLLOW ENERGY MISSILE BARRAGE!

They fired blasts of green energy and they formed into said creatures and magic and Liberty fired blasts of magic and power and all the blasts and creatures slammed into Prince Eccentro and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Lets see how you like some teamwork!

Huffer: Lets do it!

Kirby: Yeah!

Huffer: YEAH!

Huffer used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Kirby used the Pop Star Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Huffer's strength and Kirby's powers 100-fold.

Aeleus used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Lockdown used the Decepticon Cyber Planet Key and it enhanced weapons 100-fold.

Huffer and Kirby: HYPERNOVA BOULDER MEGABLAST!

They fired massive blasts of light, fire, earth, wind and water and they slammed into Eccentro and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Eccentro was defeated.

The Masters of Evil regrouped.

Eccentro: You know what? I think me and X consider joining the Masters of Evil.

Whiteout: Really?

Eccentro: But after about a month.

Red X: And if we're not caught by the cops by then.

Saïx: I guess that's acceptable.

Dr. Light: I'm looking forward to having you two with us.

Maria: You two be safe, alright?

Red X: Relax. We will.

Red X and Eccentro then teleport out.

Me: We also have a special surprise in store for Eccentro to give him some freedom.

Nico: What is it?

I smiled sinisterly.

At the land of Eccentro, Eccentro's castle it exploded with incredible power thanks to Red X!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

We were watching the whole thing.

Me: Nice! Now for the finishing touch. Charge Superlaser and fire.

Fu: Right. Commence primary ignition.

Fu pressed some buttons and pulled some levers and she pressed a button and fired the superlaser and it slammed into the island and it exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Eccentro's castle was obliterated in an instant.

Me: BULLSEYE!

Mondo: Take that Eccentro!

Lincoln: Good riddance.

Gluko: But thank you for saving me Lincoln.

Batch: Same here.

They both kissed Lincoln and he blushed and glowed bright red like a tomato.

Me: Aww. Now we have the world of Mon World merged with Earth and it is gonna be awesome having both the monsters of Mon World and Monster Rancher help us now.

Nico: Yep.

Mondo: (To the viewers) Now we are part of both Team Loud Phoenix Storm and the powers of the universe. Look out evils of Mon World. We're coming for you.

Me: You said it Mondo. One more thing to clear up though.

I snapped my fingers and erased everyone's memories of everything that happened with Rotwood. Now no one but us and the Masters of Evil remember Rotwood. Rotwood is now a forgotten memory.

THE END

Another Awesome Chapter done.

Mon Colle Knights is one of my favorite awesome shows from my youth and more. It was on from January 7th to December 25th, 2000 and it was awesome! It's like a bunch of shows all together. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Get ready to face a car of unimaginable horror as we take down the Haunted Car from the Goosebumps Book The Haunted Car! It'll be like a battle against the evil car from the 1983 horror movie Christine! Get ready for a revving monster from hell!

See you all tomorrow.

Vengeance of The Car and Christine

At the lake we were there to have some of us turn into awesome species of Pokemon. It was Rice, Georgina, Maxxine and Kendra know what it's like to be awesome Pokemon. Rice was gonna turn into a Tyrannitar, Maxxine was gonna turn into a Metagross, Kendra was gonna turn into a Dragonite and Georgina was gonna turn into a Salamence. Rice had an old red shirt and skirt, same with Georgina, Kendra had a brown shirt and skirt and Maxxine had a yellow shirt and skirt.

By the lake, Kairi and Laney were making an awesome flower ring for Aqua's head. They put it on her head and she smiled and laughed.

Kairi: You look awesome now Aqua.

Laney: You sure do.

Girl Jordan had a ring of flowers around her head too.

Girl Jordan: She sure does. Lincoln made this for me. (Blushes) Since the Royal Defenders Lincoln has me for his girlfriend, I figured why not have our Lincoln be my boyfriend too.

Gluko: That's a really good idea Girl Jordan.

Nico: Yeah.

Laney: That's amazing that the view into that universe brought you two together.

Me: Love works in mysterious ways. But the headache I got after the battle with Amnael was intense.

Nico: I have a feeling that there is more in that book of his than what was originally thought.

J.D. 2: He's right. That whole book not only carried the secret to destroying the Royal Defenders and some of the most dangerous evils in the universe, but it also had a fully detailed chronology of everything that happened in the universe from all over history over the course of 13.7 billion years.

Me: Man no wonder I had a headache the size of The star Betelgeuse.

Nico: Geez.

Skullcruncher: You girls ready to turn into creatures that aren't your monster forms?

Rice: You bet we are!

Georgina: This is gonna be awesome!

Maxxine: It sure will be awesome.

Me: Cool. Ready girls?

Rice: Ready.

Static: FYI, your sizes are gonna increase.

Georgina: Lets do it!

Me: But it'll be only for 15 minutes. Here we go.

I snapped my fingers and the girls were not in pain. They were laughing from pleasure.

Me: Laughter instead of pain?

Nico: Funny.

Rice's skin turned green and she grew taller and her head turned into a dinosaur and her teeth turned into fangs and she grew a tail. She turned into a TYRANITAR! Maxxine got down on all fours and her skin turned dark green and her arms and legs turned into metallic legs and her body turned into a huge shell and her eyes turned red. She became a METAGROSS! Kendra grew taller and she sprouted a tail and wings and her skin turned orange and she turned into a DRAGONITE! Georgina's skin turned dark blue and she grew red wings and a blue tail and her neck grew longer and her eyes turned dark and she had turned into a SALAMENCE!

Cybertron Ransack: How do you girls feel?

Rice: Powerful!

Me: See for yourselves.

I formed a mirror and they saw themselves as Pokemon and they were amazed!

Rice: Wow! I look awesome as a Tyranitar!

Georgina: Same with me as a Salamence.

Kendra: I look cool as a Dragonite.

Maxxine: I look awesome as a Metagross!

Nico: You all sure do.

Bluestreak: Now, to test out your Pokemon forms.

Me: And I have just the targets for you.

I touched the ground and formed training dummies that looked like the villains Ash and his friends have faced on his entire journey.

Rice: Yeah! Lets see what we can do.

They blasted some of the dummies with Hyper Beam and Dragon Breath and the blasts hit them and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

When the smoke cleared, all that was left of the training dummies was a massive flaming smoldering crater in the ground.

Me: Whoa! What power!

Nico: That was epic!

Laney: It sure was.

Sean Bolton: Awesome job babe!

Rice: Thanks Sean.

Me: (Looks at watch) Two minutes left.

Georgina: It was fun while it lasted.

Lana: But you all did have fun though.

Lily: You sure did.

Maxxine: True.

Me: 15 seconds. Boys cover your eyes. And Master Roshi, don't even think about it!

Master Roshi: Aww.

Me: 3… 2… 1… 0.

I covered my eyes and the girls reverted back. The got their skin and arms & legs and hair back but they were completely naked. Maria, Teresa and Leni went over and put towels on them.

Rice: Thanks Leni.

Leni: You're totes welcome Rice.

Me: So how did you girls like being awesome Pokemon?

Georgina: It was awesome!

Maxxine: So much fun.

Lola: Glad you all had so much fun.

Lindsey Sweetwater: That was so cool though.

Nico: It sure was.

Maria: You 4 looked awesome as Pokemon.

Lucy Loud: You sure did.

We later went back inside the estate.

---

Later that night on a dark and creepy night, Nico was walking home after heading to the store to get groceries. He had the groceries in a scroll. He was walking home in the very dark of night and then he heard a car coming down the street.

Nico: Car coming.

But as the car got closer he saw that it looked like a 1969 Lincoln Continental Mark III and it was a nice car. But as he looked inside, he saw that there was no one in the driver seat and that it was driving itself!

Nico: (GASP) A GHOST CAR!

He ran fast and the car followed.

At the estate, I was playing billiards with John and I had a candy cane stick in my mouth to make it look like I was smoking.

Me: Eight ball in the corner pocket.

I hit the cue ball and it hit the black 8 ball and knocked the ball into the left corner pocket.

Then Nico came in and he was sweating and panting like crazy.

Me: Nico what's wrong? You look like you've seen a ghost.

Nico was panting like mad.

Maria: Hey, Nico. Why did it take you a while to get the groceries?

Nico: On my way back, some strange car was stalking me! Luckily, it can't follow me in here.

Me: Was the car being driven by murderers?

Nico: No. There was no one driving the car. It was driving itself. It was an old 1969 Lincoln Continental and it was driving itself.

Me: A car like that that's driving by itself?

Laney: You mean like a ghost car?

Me: Hmm.

I then got an idea.

Me: I think you just found our next target Nico.

I went over to Nico's books and pulled out a book.

Me: The Haunted Car.

Qin: That's a creepy one.

Vince: That one reminds me of the horror movies Christine and The Car.

Laney: Christine is one of my favorite books by Stephen King. That one was scary.

Me: My dad loves Christine. It was made in 1983 and it had a haunted 1958 Plymouth Fury.

Lana: That is scary!

Lola: No kidding!

Lily: I saw Christine and it was awful.

Lucy Loud: So we have to destroy a haunted car possessed by a ghost.

Me: We sure do.

Nico: But this car wasn't like the one in Christine. It was a 1969 Lincoln Continental Mark III.

Me: That's just like the car in the movie The Car. But it says here in the book that the ghost was possessing a 1986 Sports Corvette.

Nico: Big difference.

Lana: Yeah.

Me: But we also have to find the boy that dealt with this car before. Lets head out to find Mitchell Moinian.

We were off to Mitchell's house.

---

Mitchell's house was located on the north side of the city.

We arrived at Mitchell's house and it was a nice house and the lights weren't on.

Me: Looks like he is not taking any chances.

Nico: Yeah.

We went up to the door and knocked on it and answering it was Mitchell Moinian.

Mitchell Moinian: Go away!

Me: It's all right Mitchell, we're here to help.

Mitchell Moinian: Wow! Team Loud Phoenix Storm! It's an honor to meet you guys.

Me: Same to you Mitchell. We came to help get rid of the car that is terrorizing you.

Mitchell Moinian: So, the Haunted Car's back?

Me: Yeah. It was stalking Nico earlier. But we don't know much about it. Can you tell us about it?

Mitchell Moinian: I sure can.

Mitchell told us about the history of the car.

---

14 year old Becka Douglas took her father's car out on a joyride, leading to her death. Mr. Douglas was so distraught that he was desperate to get rid of the car. Becka started haunting the car, and told her twin sister she plans to get revenge for dying so young.

When Mitchell Moinian's dad got the car, Becka started forcing Mitchell to get in so she can kill him. However, she accidentally saves his life by taking him on a ride while his house is catching fire. Because her mission is evil, she melted away.

---

We gasped.

Me: So she died in a joyriding accident.

Lynn: That's awful. But she doesn't deserve to be evil like this for having a good time.

Me: No kidding.

Nico: We have to destroy that car and send Becka to the afterlife.

Me: Yeah. It's gonna take more than a compactor to destroy this car.

Lincoln: Yeah. It's dangerous.

Me: Yeah. This car is just as dangerous as Christine and the Car.

Lisa Loud: Indeed. But we will stop this ruthless automobile nightmare.

Me: Lets get it!

We then waited for the Car to show up and then we heard a car coming.

Me: Stand ready.

And sure enough we saw lights coming and we saw THE HAUNTED CAR!

Nico: That's it! That's the Haunted Car.

Me: It's a 1969 Lincoln Continental Mark III.

Lana: Awesome car!

The Haunted Car pulled up to us.

Becka: Mitchell there you are.

Everyone: It can talk!?

Mitchell Moinian: Becka let us help you get back to the afterlife. You don't need to destroy me anymore. You saved me from a fire and I am thankful for that.

Me: I remember that.

Becka: So the famous Team Loud Phoenix Storm is helping you.

Me: That's right Becka. But what you are doing is wrong.

Lucy Loud: Let us help you be with your family in the afterlife.

?: That's right sister.

Marissa Douglas then appeared. She was Becka's twin sister.

Me: Marissa Douglas.

Marissa: That's right J.D. It's an honor to meet you all.

Me: Same here.

Becka: You stay out of this sister! This is between me and Mitchell!

Me: You want to get to him, you'll have to go through us!

Snake Jailbird, Comic Book Guy and Skinner then came out.

Me: Snake Jailbird, Comic Book Guy and Skinner.

Snake: Yep.

Fiona: This is gonna be interesting.

Snake: (to Nico) Were you surprised the Haunted Car was stalking you?

Nico: I was. I know that you've had some experiences stealing cars.

Comic Book Guy: Well, the Haunted Car isn't like vehicles such as the Batmobile.

Me: She's like Christine and the car in the movie The Car.

?: She sure does doesn't she?

A figure came out and it was the Leader of the Shadow Riders, KAGEMARU!

---

Kagemaru is the main antagonist from the first season of Yu-Gi-Oh! GX and he is the leader of the Seven Stars Assassins.

He was voiced by Michael Alston Baley in his old form and by Marc Thompson in his young form.

Kagemaru was the leader of the Shadow Riders and at some point in the past, a former chairman and creator of Duel Academy. His Shadow Charm was a small ring. In horrible health, he hoped to attain eternal youth by sacrificing Duel Monster Spirits to the Sacred Beasts, gathering the Seven Stars to help him accomplish that purpose.

He was first involved in the series as an unseen figure talking to Professor Banner through his computer screen, telling him that it was an appropriate time to test Jaden in the Gravekeepers world. Banner argued Jaden might not be ready, but Kagemaru said it mattered not, and he simply would have no use if he failed.

He is next seen with the Shadow Riders, asking which one would make the first move, with Nightshroud revealing he would act. After Dr. Crowler loses to Camula, he appears on a screen in Chancellor Sheppard's office, taunting him that two keys have already been lost, and wondering if anymore students would fall to the vampire.

In Titan's flashback in how he escaped the World of Darkness, Kagemaru was shown reaching out to him giving him his item, and promising him freedom if he would serve him and defeat the key holders.

After the seventh Rider, Amnael falls, he finally makes his existence known to Jaden and the others, being air-lifted in via helicopter, in his stasis tube. In the original, he said that he created Duel Academy to have a space full of the fighting spirits of duelists to revive the 3 Sacred Beasts. Many students challenge him to a fight, however he only accepts a Duel with one student - Jaden. During the Duel, He Summons all three Sacred Beasts, and they gradually absorb duel spirits which eventually restores him to a muscular much younger form. Jaden struggles against the Sacred Beasts, but ultimately manages to come out on top. After being defeated, he returned to his aged state, and promised to renounce his former ways and asked for forgiveness, which Jaden was happy to give. Kagemaru was then carried to the hospital via helicopter after Jaden accidentally crushed his spine with a bear hug.

Kagemaru returns to Duel Academy with Sartorius to tell Jaden that they have both had some sort of premonition, feeling that Duel Academy might be in grave danger, theorizing that the Sacred Beasts, Light of Destruction, and Yubel incidents might be related. Both Kagemaru and Sartorius are later present at Jaden's graduation ceremony.

---

Kagemaru: Allow me to introduce myself. My name is Kagemaru and I am the leader of the Shadow Riders.

We gasped.

Me: So you're the leader of the Shadow Riders!

Nico: And you're the one that's responsible for sending them to Duel Academy for the first time!

Hannah Fairchild: But why do you want the Three Sacred Beast Cards?

Kagemaru: I wanted to restore my youth and live forever. But I couldn't get to the Three Sacred Beasts because of the Seven Spirit Gates. So I sent the Shadow Riders to get the keys and the cards to restore my youth.

Me: So you wanted eternal youth and immortality.

Kagemaru: That's right. You see, I am the former chairman and creator of Duel Academy. But because of my horrible health, I couldn't run it like I used to. So I left and formulated a plan to help me live forever. So I can help people become better duelists forever.

Me: You do have good intentions even if they were for the wrong causes. But you should be over 100 years old by now.

Kagemaru: That's because I have this.

He lifted his hand and it showed that he had a dark orb imbedded in the back of his right hand.

Me: A dark orb.

Kagemaru: Yes. It gave me eternal youth and I am now that I am young again, I can help people.

Me: If the Shadow Riders couldn't get the Sacred Beast Cards, you had to get them. Just like that old saying: "If you want something done right, you got to do it yourself."

Kagemaru: That's right.

Tuddrussel: (to Kagemaru) Should've stayed in that glass container. Now, I'm gonna take you out before J.D. and the others get the chance! (punches him in the face)

He knocked down Kagemaru.

Me: Tuddrussel let us handle it!

?: Nice shot though.

A figure came out and it was CONTROLATRON from episode 6 of Beast Morphers!

Controlatron was created by Scrozzle from a puppet within the Crystal Dimension and tasked Controlatron with taking control of Nate in order to create a program to take control of a special new Zord Mayor Daniels/Evox knew was being made (since he was funding it). Controlatron, Robo-Blaze, and Robo-Roxy went to Earth and Controlatron produced an Evox Virus infected hand puppet. Using a hand puppet to control a delivery man called Cole, he delivered the puppet to Nate (who was examining the Beast-X King Ultra Bow) and took him over. He later arrived outside of Grid Battleforce to meet with Nate but the other Rangers found them and a battle ensued which ended with the Rangers falling back and morphing. Nate then summoned Tronics and went into battle with them retreating after the Tronics were destroyed.

In the Crystal Dimension, he used Nate to create the new computer program and, once it was complete, was sent to Earth along with Nate to destroy the Rangers. Devon eventually came out of the building looking for Nate (after he was seen by Ben and Betty) and attacked by Nate who attacked him with his Striker Saber before both morphed. Devon was on his own since Scrozzle sent both Controladrone and Digidrone to Earth in a divide and conquer strategy. Devon called upon his Beast-X Saber and fought Nate in a battle which Nate was winning until Devon threw his Saber at Controlatron, obliterating his puppet and releasing Nate. Devon quickly summoned his Beast-X Visor and activated Beast-X Mode. Controlatron tried to take them out with some energy slashes but Devon deflected them with some spin kicks and Nate stopped them by shooting the Robotron with his Striker Morpher's Striker Beast Blast. Controlatron was then destroyed once and for all by the Cheetah Charge, with his final moments lamenting that he just wanted to entertain.

---

Devon Michaels: Controlatron!

Controlatron: Its been a while rangers.

Me: I remember you! And you are the first of many Robotron's we're going to face. But you controlled Nate and used him to make a device that would destroy the rangers.

Controlatron: That's right. Mistress Vypra filled me in on how you watched us on TV and I must admit that I am impressed.

Me: It's mutual. But you are the first of the Robotron's we are gonna face.

Controlatron: Yep. And I believe you know these faces.

Two figures came out and it was Dash and Kwan! Danny's bullies and most hated enemies in Casper High School.

Danny Phantom: (to Controlatron) You managed to mind control Dash and Kwan?!

Controlatron: Of course I did. Now, I know you really want to destroy me and free them. But do you really want to? Think about it. They don't look like they're in the position to be bullying anyone now. All you have to do is let me live and they'll be out of everyone's hair for good!

Me: As tempting as that sounds, we have to free them from you by destroying you. But it will give us a good workout against them.

Danny Phantom: Look, Controlatron. I really don't like Dash or Kwan.

Controlatron: Glad to hear it!

Troy: But there's no way we're gonna let you mind control them forever. Which is why we've gotta do this!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Race Force!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Japanese Version of the Turbo Rangers.

Then rainbow lights came and it was all of the Dark Signers.

Me: All the Dark Signers this time.

Carly Carmine: Yep. We came to help you guys bring down Kagemaru.

Roman: Lets do it.

Misty Tredwell: This is gonna be interesting.

Me: It sure is. Lets do it!

We powered up and went at them.

Battle 1: Comic Book Guy

Wood Man, Plant Man and Whitney was facing Comic Book Guy.

Whitney: This is gonna be an awesome fight for me.

Comic Book Guy: I will believe that when I see it.

Wood Man: Lets get him!

Plant Man: Yeah!

Comic Book Guy called out his Pokemon and it was a Tyrantrum! Whitney then spread her wings and she flew at him and kicked him in the face and knocked him down. Wood Man and Plant Man fired waves of plants and leaves and flowers and cut him up. Wood Man and Whitney fired waves of plants and cut the Tyrantrum and knocked him down.

Whitney: How about this one? JUNGLE STYLE NINJA ART: BIGGEST SWING IN JUNGLE HISTORY!

Whitney touched the ground and entrapped Comic Book Guy in a huge tree living only his head, hands and feet exposed.

Comic Book Guy: So what happens now?

Whitney: Wait for it.

A jet engine sound was heard and coming right towards Comic Book Guy at an incredible speed was George of The Jungle swinging on a vine towards him and he was going at like 500 miles per hour!

George: This gonna hurt!

WATCH OUT FOR THAT TREE!

Comic Book Guy: OH SHIT.

George then smashed into Comic Book Guy with incredibly devastating force!

CCCCCCRRRRRRRRRRRRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA

---

Whitney: (WINCES) OOOOOOHHHH! That's gonna like leave a mark.

Plant Man: OOOHHH! OUCH!

George: (Weakly) George not feel so good.

The tree then cracked and fell down.

Whitney: TIMBER!

The tree crashed to the ground and Comic Book Guy was so badly mangled up and bruised from the impact that he looked like he got smashed into a mountain. Most of his bones were broken and he was bleeding profusely and he had lots of bruises and cuts and scrapes.

Comic Book Guy: (Stupid talk) Kimiko, would you please read me the story of the bunny?

Whitney: Ouch.

Wood Man: Man that is not gonna feel good in the morning.

Plant Man: No shit. That must've been painful.

Whitney: Smashing head on into a tree like that at 500 miles per hour? There would be nothing left of you.

Wood Man: Yikes.

---

Battle 2: Skinner

---

Dana, Ice Man, Tundra Man and Blizzard Man were facing Skinner

Dana: This is gonna be awesome.

Ice Man: It sure is.

Tundra Man: The show must go on.

Blizzard Man: Lets do it.

Skinner: I agree.

He called out his Mega Hitmonchan. Dana fired blasts of ice at Skinner and so did Ice Man, Tundra Man and Blizzard Man and froze him and Mega Hitmonchan in a block of ice.

Dana: Watch this one. JUNGLE STYLE NINJA ART: GEORGE!

Dana fired a wave of leaves and flowers and it formed into the legendary funny version of Tarzan, George of The Jungle and he swung on a vine and smashed into Skinner head on!

CRASH!

Ice Man: OOOOHHH!

Dana: And watch this one. JUNGLE STYLE NINJA ART: APE!

Dana fired a wave of leaves and flowers and it formed into George's brother and best friend Ape. He smashed and pulverized Skinner all over the place.

Dana: Yeah!

Skinner was knocked down.

---

Battle 3: Snake

Fiona, Elec Man, Fuse Man and Spark Man were facing Snake.

Snake: This is gonna be awesome dudes.

Elec Man: Lets leave a shocking development.

Fiona: Yeah!

Fuse Man: Time for some lightning power.

Spark Man: Yeah!

Snake then called out his Pokemon. He had a Mega Seviper and Mega Arbok and they went at them and fired blasts of lightning and electrocuted them all over the place.

Fiona: Feel the fury of lightning! LIGHTNING MAGIC STYLE NINJA ARTS: HELL'S THUNDER, BALL LIGHTNING, LIGHTNING STRIKE, LIGHTNING BOLT, LIGHTNING REAVER, and LIGHTNING RAGER!

Fiona fired massive waves of lightning and they formed into said creatures and blasts and they slammed into Snake and his Pokemon and electrocuted them all over and knocked them down.

Battle 4: Controlatron

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Controlatron and the controlled Dash and Kwan.

Nico: Lets do it!

Nico went and punched Dash and Kwan and knocked them out, leaving nasty bruises on their faces and the Megaforce Rangers blasted Controlatron all over and obliterated the puppets controlling Dash and Kwan and Controlatron fell to the ground and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Nico: Virus Eliminated.

Troy Burrows: Mega Rangers, That's a Mega Win.

Me: Yeah.

---

Battle 5: Kagemaru

---

Me, Hannah, the Dark Signers and Jaden & his friends were facing Kagemaru.

Me: Time to let our weapons do the talking! I equip myself with DIVINE SWORD - PHOENIX BLADE and SALAMANDRA!

I equipped myself with the Phoenix Blade and a dragon of pure fire formed around the sword blade. Hannah had Uria turned into a Sword and it had a blade of fire, The Dark Signers summoned their Earthbound Immortal Weapons and Jaden and team summoned their weapons.

Jaden: Lets do it!

Alexis: You have tormented the world for the last time!

Bastion: Lets bring it on.

Carly Carmine: Lets get it on!

We went at Kagemaru and slashed and blasted him all over with powerful energy blasts of energy and elemental power and the blasts were really tearing him apart all over the place with incredible power. When he was defeated we saw him age rapidly and disintegrate into dust in an instant.

Me: Whoa! He was much older than we thought.

Hannah Fairchild: How old do you think he was?

Carly Carmine: He looked to be over 150 years old.

Me: I wouldn't say that long. But maybe 120.

Roman: That sounds right.

Misty Tredwell: So that's the end of the Shadow Riders.

Me: Yep. Now we have to worry about the Society of Light. The Battle Between the Darkness of Justice and the Light of Destruction has resurfaced.

Battle 6: Haunted Car

We regrouped and faced Becka the Haunted Car!

Me: It's time to take you apart Becka!

We powered up and I smashed the hood of Becka with devastating force and smashed her headlights and Nico fired energy blades and slashed her tires and Laney fired blasts of fire and they went into her tank of gas and ignited her fuel and she exploded!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMM!

Junda smashed and blasted the car all over.

Lucy Loud: Take this one. DARKNESS STYLE NINJA ART: ANGEL OF DARKNESS!

Lucy floated into the air and spread her wings of darkness and she sang the awesome song Angel of Darkness by Alex Christensen.

Angel of darkness

Angel of darkness

The world is in your hand

But I will fight until the end.

Angel of darkness

Angel of darkness

Don't follow your command

But I will fight and I will stand.

When darkness falls

Pain is all

The Angel of Darkness

Will leave behind

And I will fight.

The love is lost

Beauty and light

Have vanished from

Garden of delight.

The dreams are gone

Midnight has come

The darkness is our new kingdom. Yeah-eah…

Angel of darkness

Angel of darkness

The world is in your hand

But I will fight until the end.

Angel of darkness

Angel of darkness

Don't follow your command

But I will fight and I will stand.

Hunt goes on

Deep in the night

Time to pray

Down on your knees

You can't hide from the

Eternal light

Until my last

Breath I will fight (I will fight…)

Now realize, the stars they die

Darkness has fallen in paradise.

But we'll be strong, and we will fight

Against the creatures of the night.

Angel of darkness

Angel of darkness

The world is in your hand

But I will fight until the end.

Angel of darkness

Angel of darkness

Don't follow your command

But I will fight and I will stand.

Lucy fired waves of darkness and it smashed into the car and exploded with incredible power!

Lana: SUBZERO MEGABLAST BURST!

Nico: NUOVA FIRESTORM BLAST!

Battle Force 5: ELEMENTAL FORCE FIVE MEGABLAST!

They fired blasts of energy and elemental blasts and the blasts slammed into the Haunted Car and completely obliterated it in a massive fiery explosion!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

We regrouped and the Masters of Evil came. Comic Book Guy was a mangled up mess

Nico: Looks like it's a permanent end of the Haunted Car.

Me: Yep.

But that's when Kwan punched Nico.

Kwan: The Haunted Car?! What about me and Dash?!

Dash: (punches Nico as well) Because of all of you, me and Kwan's lives are ruined!

Kwan: Ever since you and your friends befriended Fenton, our lives have gone downhill. And now, look where we are!

Dash: I was the Quarterback for God's sake. But now that's all gone!

Me: You brought all that on yourselves you fuckup jerk.

I punched Dash and knocked out some of his teeth.

Nico: We should give you the Curse of The Cobra and let you die.

Comic Book Guy: We have a better solution then giving these two the Curse of the Cobra.

Vert: And that is?

Skinner: You let us keep Dash and Kwan as test subjects for Power Rangers monsters with mind control.

Kevin (Samurai) That's not a bad idea. I know one Nighlok with the ability of mind control.

Snake: Glad to hear it. Now, let us take these two off your hands.

The Masters of Evil then teleport out with Dash and Kwan.

Me: Good riddance to the Haunted Car.

Laney: Yep.

Mitchell Moinian: (To the viewers) Never drive in cars that are haunted.

Me: Yep.

We went home.

THE END

---

Another awesome Goosebumps Chapter done.

The Haunted Car was a freaky Goosebumps story and it was in every way like in the movie Christine and The Car. Freaky. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the Are You Afraid of The Dark villains The Phone Police and we're gonna make those fraudulent police disband whether they like it or not.

See you all tomorrow.

Crimes of the Phone Police

In the estate Infirmary, I was there to check up on our lightning strike survivor Paula. I had her in a wheelchair and she was getting pushed by me.

Me: How are you feeling Paula?

Paula: Getting better. But I still am a little numb.

Me: Well that's okay. It's gonna take a while for you to get back together though.

Paula: I know. But I saw that I have this.

She showed me her hands and I saw lightning arching through them.

Me: Whoa! You have lightning powers now.

Paula: I have lightning powers!?

Me: I know it's a big surprise but you were given your powers for a reason. With great power comes great responsibility.

Paula: I see. But when I get better, I'll help you guys.

Me: Awesome.

I brought her out and parked her in front of the TV.

Lynn: Hey Paula.

Paula: Hey Lynn. How are you doing?

Lynn: Good. But you look like you're doing great.

Paula: Thanks Lynn. I am healing really fast. My leg is not broken anymore and my burns are almost fully healed.

Nico: That's amazing.

Me: The lightning strike unleashed a huge surprise.

Paula: Watch.

She held out her hand and fired a bolt of lightning and it hit Lincoln's old video game system and destroyed it in a powerful explosion!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

Nico: WHOA!

Lynn: WHOA! Paula that was awesome!

Varie: She has lightning powers now!

Lynn: Yeah!

Lincoln: Looks like we have a new addition to our team of lightning.

Paula: You sure do. Sorry about your game system Lincoln.

Lincoln: It's all right. It's one of my old throwaway game systems and I didn't need it anymore.

Paula: Oh.

Me: I was surprised myself. But when Paula is back to full strength, she will need a lot of training in how to control it.

Fire Man, Aqua, Sora and Kairi then came.

Fire Man: This is the first time any of us have chosen to turn into the opposite gender.

Sora: It sure is.

Kairi: It's gonna be really cool.

Me: Oh right. You guys ready to find out what it's like to switch genders?

Sora: We sure are.

Kairi: This will be awesome.

Me: Okay. But it will only last until dinner.

Sora: Right.

Me: Here we go.

I snapped my fingers and Sora and Kairi were enveloped in a pillar of light.

Rikochet: Are you two feeling any pain at all?

Sora: (Girls Voice) None at all.

Kairi: (Boys Voice) It's amazing.

When the light faded, Sora was dressed in a red version of Kairi's clothes and had shorter hair and Kairi was dressed in a blue version of Sora's Clothes and was taller.

Scavenger: How do you two feel?

Sora: Amazing.

Kairi: This is amazing. I can now do all kinds of stuff that boys do.

Sora: It's amazing.

Gears: What do we call you two when you're like this?

Sora: I'll be called Serah.

Kairi: And I'll be called Kai.

Me: Good names.

Aqua: Looks like you're my little sister till dinner bro.

We laughed.

Later as we were watching TV, we were getting strange reports of numerous kids getting arrested for causing Prank Calls. And numerous kids are gonna be executed for capital punishment for doing prank calls. We had a crooked vigilante cop organization running amok and they were doing all kinds of barbaric unconstitutional acts of evil.

Me: Something is really wrong here guys.

Nico: Yeah these Phone Police are not friendly.

Laney: We have got to stop them or else they will destroy our cities future.

Lana: What are the Phone Police?

Me: Lets see here.

I pulled up the info of the Phone Police.

---

Many people believe them to be just an urban legend. However they very much do exist, they are a secret vigilante police group. They strictly enforce the rules of the telephone often without mercy. They enforce certain rules of using the telephone, to anyone who breaks these rules they will eventually find you and arrest.

Their three main rules are:

1. You don't let it ring for too long.

2. You don't leave it off the hook.

3. You certainly do NOT make prank phone calls!

To anyone whom is caught by them breaking these rules, they will eventually catch the person one way or another. When they capture a person (usually a child) they lock him or her up into a dark jail cell for the rest of their lives and they'll never be seen or heard from again.

When the prisoner is locked away, they use their reality altering powers, to change reality and make it look as if that captured prisoner never existed and is nothing but an urban legend. They'll give the prisoner nothing but a toilet, a bed and a telephone. However. there is a catch: The phone can only take incoming calls.

Also the phone in their cell is slightly enchanted. The phone can't make any outgoing call, but for some reason it can call back the phone number of the person who recently phones them (possibly part of the trap). Since they are so secretive, it can be a little tricky. Therefore, they'll set up a trap. They will have word of their group getting passed around as a myth or urban legend. Which very few people may know at a time, and some may think it's actually a story they made up themselves.

Then they'll pull a little stunt, such as having a captured prisoners phone number added to phone book. The phone number usually has just 6 numbers liked an old-fashioned one and the name and number stand out in big and bold letters.

Then a story about the person and the Phone Police quietly spreads around. Then when an intrigued person who hears the story, (usually a person with a history of making prank phone calls) calls that prisoner, the captured prisoner may begin calling them back repeatedly. Usually screaming for their help to be freed from the jail. This might cause the person to go crazy and visit a phone company. They do this to possibly find why a person from that phone number keeps calling them.

Then when a phone company Receptionist realizes a rule breaker of the phone is present, he or she will press a button and the phone police will be summoned to the basement. The rule breaker will be lured to the basement and then arrested. Then reality will be altered, as if they never existed. Then only them and anyone else who was inside the building at the time will still remember them. Then they will be locked up for the rest of their lives.

It is implied a prisoner can be released if they manage to lure another rule breaker to the Phone Police, as the new prisoner will take the old prisoner's place as an urban legend. What happens to the released prisoners is unknown, it is possible they end up working for the Phone Police.

Sometimes, to avoid suspicions of being revealed to the public (such as when an escaped prison returns home), The officers may pose as something like a pizza delivery man. From a company called Mouse Pizza.

---

We gasped in shock.

Maria: So, this Phone Police even punishes prank callers?

Horsea: That's not good for Bart.

Me: No one is safe from them. But not on our watch. I have an idea. It's really an ambush plan. First we're gonna need the Masters of Evil on this.

Nico: Okay. I'll call Russ Cargill, the Springfield Mafia and Selma & Patty.

Nico pulled out his cellphone and called them and they got to the estate.

Selma: We got here as fast as we could guys.

Me: Awesome. We have a crooked cop organization terrorizing the city.

I revealed everything.

Fat Tony: So we're dealing with Crooked Cops that monitor the phones.

Louie: Not a good sign boss.

Nico: No it's not.

Selma: I have a plan for this.

They revealed that it was an ambush trap. While our usual battles against them happen, Maria can call 911 to report some "riots". But in truth, the riots are the fights that will end by the time the authorities show up. And because this technically counts as a prank call, the Phone Police will come looking to arrest us. And then, all of us can take them down.

Laney: That's genius.

Lisa Loud: I must admit that is a good plan.

Me: Lets do it!

Lincoln: Operation: Phone Police Ambush and Elimination is a go.

Me: Lets go!

We went to the heart of the city.

---

In the heart of the city we had all the streets and everyone in the area cleared and told them to stay in their homes as it was gonna be a brutal fight.

William: You guys remember the plan, right?

Russ Cargill: We do. We use our fights to draw out the Hone Police. Then we take them out.

Fat Tony: Me, Legs, and Louie have experience in dealing with cops.

Me: Awesome.

?: Let me join in too.

A figure came out and it was a Robot Maverick. It was TIDAL MAKKOEEN!

Dive Man: Haven't seen one of you in a while. And you are?

Tidal Makkoeen: Call me… Tidal Makkoeen! (fires Ice Blocks from his mouth at Dive Man)

Lana fired blasts of ice lightning at the blocks of ice and shattered them into a million pieces.

?: Nice shot.

We saw a beautiful princess woman come out and it was the first member of the Society of Light: PRINCESS ROSE!

---

Princess Rose is a representative selected by Sartorius to Duel Jaden in his place. A fan of the classic fairy tale "The Frog Prince", she claims to have the ability to see Duel Monster spirits (manifested as three "princes" named Jeffrey, Roosevelt and Percival in the English dub), but others do not believe her. Jaden, however, notices the spirit of a frog prince watching over her after their duel.

In the original version, Rose is very sophisticated and polite, speaking like a true princess. In the English dub, Rose speaks with a stereotypical Valley Girl accent, using terms such as "diva", "whateve", and "not!".

---

Princess Rose: My name is Princess Rose and it's an honor to meet you all.

Me: (Bows) It's an honor to meet you your highness.

Lola: (Curtsies) Same here.

Me: Are you the first member of the Society of Light that we have to face?

Princess Rose: I sure am. But I don't want to help Sartorius destroy the world. I want to help protect the world and do good.

Me: You have really good intentions your highness.

Lola: You sure do.

Eddy just gave Princess Rose a book of Little Red Riding Hood.

Princess Rose: What's this?

Eddy: Well, I know how much you like fairy tales. So, I thought you might like reading this before we fight.

Me: That's one of my favorite stories from my childhood your highness.

Princess Rose: Thank you.

Misty Tredwell and Carly Carmine then appeared.

Misty Tredwell: So the famous Princess Rose is a member of the Society of Light.

Princess Rose: Misty Tredwell. It's an honor to meet the famous fashion supermodel.

Misty Tredwell: Same to you.

Carly Carmine: I came to help you guys out.

Me: Awesome. Now we got to make this all convincing for our trap to work. Lets do it.

We went at them.

---

Battle 1: Springfield Mafia

---

Sora Takenouchi, Sandpit and Gargoyle were facing the Springfield Mafia

Legs: Get in my way and I'll whack you in the lobonza.

Sora: Get in my way and I'll kick you in the fucking balls.

Legs: What did you say!?

Louie: Legs we got to make it an Oscar worthy act.

Fat Tony: By the way what happened to Sora and Kairi? They look like their sexes are switched.

Sora: It's part of an experiment we're doing.

Gargoyle: They wanted to see what it would be like to be the opposite sex. So J.D. made them switch sexes till dinner.

Fat Tony: Oh I get it.

Sora: Lets go!

The Springfield Mafia then called out their 5 Squirtles and they went at them and punched, kicked and blasted them with fire, sand and darkness and it was intense.

Battle 2: Selma & Patty

Mandee, Caitlin and Dominique were facing Selma & Patty.

Mandee: I'm sensing a strong case of deja vu here.

Caitlin: Me too. It's like you are our former bitch of a best friend Mandy.

Mandee: Except my name is spelled differently and I am much nicer than that fucking bitch Mandy.

Dominique: Good. She can just rot in the Neptune Prison for all I care.

Patty: That's a good comparison.

Selma: It sure does. Lets do it.

Mandee: Lets.

Selma & Patty had their Pikachu come out and they went at them and Mandee kicked Selma in the face and fired blasts of fire and Dominique and Caitlin fired blasts of fire and lightning and they were hitting Selma & Patty and their Pikachu.

---

Battle 3: Russ Cargill

---

Girl Jordan, Oceanus Shenron, Paragus and Splash Woman were facing Russ Cargill.

Girl Jordan: Lets make this a performance worthwhile.

Oceanus Shenron: This is gonna be good.

Paragus: Yes it will be good!

Splash Woman: Yeah!

Russ Cargill: Lets do it.

Russ Cargill called out his Copperajah. It was an elephant pokemon.

Girl Jordan: I never saw this Pokemon before.

Russ Cargill: It's one of the Galah Region Pokemon.

Oceanus Shenron: Really interesting.

Paragus: Indeed.

Splash Woman: Really amazing.

Girl Jordan: Yeah. Lets do it!

They went at Russ and fired blasts of water, energy and lasers and the blasts were hitting him and Copperajah all over the place.

---

Battle 4: Princess Rose

---

Lola and Misty Tredwell were facing Princess Rose.

Lola: This is gonna be awesome.

Misty Tredwell: It sure is.

Princess Rose: And my deck is a Frog Deck. I'm a huge lover of the story The Princess and the Frog and I figured why not make a deck based on that.

Misty Tredwell: That's one of my favorite stories as well.

Lola: Same here.

Princess Rose: Nice to meet some fans. Lets do it. I summon AMPHIBIAN ANGEL - FROG-HAEL, DES FROG, T.A.D.P.O.L.E., TREEBORN FROG and D.3.S. FROG!

She summoned said monsters and she had 3 Des Frogs, 3 T.A.D.P.O.L.E.'s, and 3 Treeborn Frogs.

Lola: This is gonna be a battle with Lizards and Frogs.

Misty Tredwell: It sure is gonna be like that. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL CCARAYHUA!

She summoned the Lizard Earthbound Immortal Ccarayhua.

Lola: I summon FIRESTORM PROMINENCE, RAZOR LIZARD, BALLOON LIZARD, EVIL DRAGON ANANTA, THE TYRANT NEPTUNE, VENOM BOA, VENOM SERPENT, VENOM SNAKE and VENOM COBRA!

She summoned said monsters.

Lola: And we'll be fighting in their landscape. I activate VENOM SWAMP!

Lola activated said field spell and the area turned into a toxic and poisonous swamp.

Lola: We have to make this interesting and convincing.

Misty Tredwell: Right.

Princess Rose: I think it's just wrong that the Phone Police are doing all that. It's horrible.

Lola: I know. Lets do it.

Lola and Misty fired blasts of green and pink fire and the monsters fired blasts and Rose's frogs fired blasts of energy and the blasts collided and exploded all over the place.

Battle 5: Tidal Makkosen

Nico was facing Tidal Makkosen.

Nico: Lets do it.

Nico fired energy blasts all over the place and they hit Tidal Makkosen all over the place.

Battle 6: The Phone Police

Explosions of fire and energy blasted everything all over the place. Maria was making a 911 Call at a local pay phone. She told them that there was a full scale riot going on. The dispatcher heard the explosions and supposed chaos and the cops were on their way.

When we heard sirens coming we stopped and the cops pulled up and we saw The Phone Police!

Me: You got us. It was a prank call.

Ben: Ok. You got us. And now, we're going to jail. Feel free to do so. But before we do, we've got something to say.

Phone Police Officer: What's that?

Tidal Makkoeen: See you in Hell! (blows up)

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!

The explosion killed a bunch of crooked cops.

Gia: You're done controlling phones!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Science Platoon Dynaman!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Dynaman rangers.

Me: The Phone Police is hereby ordered to disband!

Phone Police Officer: On whose authority.

Me: Mine!

I fired an energy blast and it hit the officer and exploded. Killing him.

Me: UNLEASH HELL ON THESE FUCKED UP COPS!

Carly Carmine: You guys are about to be disconnected!

We went at the crooked cops and punched, kicked, blasted and electrocuted them all over the place. We also burned them and froze them. Lola and Carly fired blasts of fire and incinerated them all over the place. Bierk, Skartalas, Iflar, Topar, and Fivarth blasted and smashed and burned many crooked cops all over the place.

Laney fired blasts of fire and Lincoln, Linka, Fiona and Sasuke fired blasts of lightning and electrocuted them all over the place.

Lola: Take this! FIRESTORM STYLE NINJA ART: RED SCORPIONS, NOVAMARINES, and FIRE HAWKS!

Lola fired a massive wave of fire and it formed into armies of said creatures.

Red Scorpions

The Red Scorpions Chapter of Space Marines is known to be composed of conservative Imperial purists who are famed for their complete and utter devotion to Imperial doctrine, past the point where pragmatism or even reason would seem to require otherwise. The Chapter is most renowned among other Astartes for its absolute adherence to every line of the Codex Astartes, which is unheard of in any other Chapter - including the Ultramarines. Its recorded history extends across five Terran millennia, but there are numerous indications that it may extend further than that.

Due to their history of conflict with the Forces of Chaos, the Red Scorpions refuse to deal with any xenos species or any humans that they consider as tainted by mutation of any kind, even Imperially-sanctioned Abhumans like Ogryns or Ratlings. They will obviously not serve with Beastmen, but they also utterly refuse to serve with the few remaining Squats. Equally unique in nature is the frequency with which the Red Scorpions' Apothecaries are present in the Chapter's Tactical Squads as squad leaders in place of a Sergeant.

Novamarines

The Novamarines is a Loyalist Space Marine Chapter and Second Founding Successor of the Ultramarines Legion. An ancient and proud Chapter, the Novamarines are hard-line adherents of the Codex Astartes who consider the writ of this sacred text, penned by their blessed Primarch Roboute Guilliman, to be divinely ordained law. In the past, they have been known to draw blood against those who would stray too far from the Codex.

The Novamarines' virtue and honour are such that they have been held up as an example to other Chapters of what it means to be of the Adeptus Astartes, much like their parent Chapter. They have no known Successor Chapters, at least not officially, but they are believed to have had the honour of their brethren being selected to provide a portion of the gene-seed used in the Founding of several Ultramarines Successor Chapters in the past, notably the Dark Sons and the Angels of Fury. While the Angels of Fury are officially counted as an Ultramarines Successor, they were aided and trained from their inception by the Novamarines.

The Novamarines is one of the proud Primogenitor Chapters, the Firstborn Successor Chapters sired by the Ultramarines Legion during the Second Founding. The Chapter's homeworld of Honourum is to be found in the galactic north of the Ultima Segmentum, a great distance from the Ultramarines' Realm of Ultramar. The region is sparsely populated and its proximity to the Halo Stars means that the Chapter's sphere of influence and area of operations are large indeed.

The Halo Stars, as well as the vast tracts of unexplored Wilderness Space around Honourum, are host to all manner of ancient threats, nascent alien empires and as-yet undiscovered lost human colony worlds from the Age of Strife. As a consequence, the Novamarines have seen action against a wide range of enemies, from terrible xenos monstrosities to isolationist human realms that refuse to bow to the rule of the Emperor of Mankind. Perhaps partly because the Novamarines operated across such a wide area, the Chapter has very rarely gathered all 10 of its companies in one place. As far as can be ascertained, this has not occurred since the 37th Millennium, so active and far-flung are its companies' operations.

As a Primogenitor Chapter of the Ultramarines, the Novamarines maintain close links to the present-day Ultramarines and their other Successor Chapters. The great distance between Honourum and Macragge means that the Chapter is unable to send representatives to the court of Marneus Calgar as often as its brother Chapters, but every Novamarine aspires to make a pilgrimage to the Shrine of the Primarch on Macragge at least once in his lifetime. Those that have done so traditionally mark the fact by adorning their battle helms with a laurel wreath, a mark of honour that the Chapter's Scout Marines behold with awe and dream of one day earning for themselves.

The Novamarines contributed a large force to the continuing battle against the expansion of the T'au Empire during the Damocles Gulf Crusade in the mid-8th century of the 41st Millennium, based far to the galactic south of the Ultima Segmentum. This deployment surpassed the demands of normal operations on the Chapter and took on the dimensions of a full Imperial Crusade, scouring the upstart aliens from several star systems in and around the Lithesh Sector and earning many glorious battle honours in the process.

When the Crusade force was ordered by the Inquisitor Lord Kryptman to redirect to Macragge to face the onslaught of the Tyranids' Hive Fleet Behemoth, the Novamarines sped to the side of their Progenitors. In the aftermath of the Battle of Macragge, the Novamarines' contingent remained in the region for several solar months, rearming and refitting before making for the Jericho Reach.

The Chapter's first battles in the Reach were fought exclusively against the T'au of the Velk'han Sept, which included a series of fleet engagements rimward of the Black Reef. The Novamarines have recently taken losses from which they are rebuilding following a series of less-than-successful assaults on the traitorous human warlords of the world of Iphigenia.

Fire Hawks

The Fire Hawks was one of the Loyalist Space Marine Chapters created in the 36th Millennium during the Cursed 21st Founding.

While the Fire Hawks have always maintained they were forged from the genestock of the Ultramarines, certain defects and variations in the samples of Fire Hawks gene-seed still held in the archives of the Adeptus Terra speak against this. Furthermore, the sons of Roboute Guilliman have never acknowledged any kinship, fueling suspicions as to their true heritage.

They have the unfortunate distinction of being one of the few Chapters of the Adeptus Astartes to have lost not one but two Chapter homeworlds. After being nearly driven to extinction during the Badab War, the Fire Hawks' mobile fortress-monastery, the ancient void fortress Raptorus Rex, was lost in the Warp in 963.M41. It is now believed that the survivors of this disaster became the cursed Astartes known collectively as the Legion of the Damned.

The Fire Hawks was a fleet-based Chapter, though it has in the past ruled over at least two former homeworlds. Today, however, these worlds are blasted wastes, consumed by the wars of the Age of the Imperium. Though no trace of the culture from which the Chapter originally recruited now exists, something of its feudal traditions lived on in the Chapter's rites and character.

The Fire Hawks engaged in the practise of honour duelling, often using weapons heated over ceremonial braziers to settle disputes and lay rivalries to rest. Needless to say, the loser in such a bout was likely to be horrifically scarred, and death was not an uncommon outcome. Another tradition dating back to this lost culture was in the rank titles bestowed upon the Chapter's leaders. Knightly terms were often combined with standard Codex Astartes-compliant titles, creating individuals with a wide range of ranks, such as Captain-at-Arms, Knight-Sergeant or Brother-Ensign.

In temperament, the Fire Hawks were notoriously bellicose, their battle tactics almost entirely concerned with the application of overwhelming force to bring about the total and immediate destruction of the enemy. Despite their brutal approach to war, the Fire Hawks were not mindless berserkers and never threw away their own lives in the pursuit of impossible objectives.

While some allies have denounced the Fire Hawks for this attitude, some coming close to calling them out as traitorous, it was in fact rooted in their overwhelming sense of superiority and self-worth. The Fire Hawks simply refused to sacrifice themselves for anything but the highest cause, and when they committed themselves to battle, the result was the total destruction of all who stood before them.

The Fire Hawks were somewhat unusual in another regard too. When the Age of Apostasy pitched the entire Imperium into an age of civil war and anarchy, most Chapters of the Adeptus Astartes focused on their own missions and refused to take sides. The Space Marines saw any involvement in the countless internecine wars of faith and the absolute, maniacal oppression unleashed upon the worlds of the Imperium by High Lord Goge Vandire as a betrayal of their duties.

The vast majority looked to the security of the regions about their home worlds or continued to prosecute long-standing wars against ancient xenos foes. The Fire Hawks, however, did become involved in the wars of the age. The Chapter fought for the cause of the great reformer Sebastian Thor, and ever since that time has sought to maintain the status quo that settled over the galaxy following his victory over the insane High Lord.

To their last day, the Fire Hawks were tireless in their prosecution of any enemy whose deeds might threaten the Imperium, launching their overwhelming assaults against Renegade Planetary Governors, Apostate Hierarchs, and rogue Lords Militant.

In many cases, the Chapter's leaders took on such causes before any other body beseeched them for aid, regarding the defeat of such Traitors as a matter of honour. Only when the demagogue was slain, his armies scattered, his cities cast down and his people made destitute did the Fire Hawks consider the matter settled.

---

The armies went at the crooked cops and the cops fired their weapons at them. But their weapons were rendered useless as they slashed, blasted and incinerated a lot of cops everywhere.

Matilda: Take this one. MAGIC STYLE NINJA ARTS: ARCANE PHOENIX, UNICORN and PIXIES!

Matilda fired waves of magic energy and they formed into a flock of fiery phoenixes, a stampede of unicorns and a massive army of pixies and they blasted and trampled and incinerated many crooked cops all over.

Laney: Here's one I learned from when Lincoln was playing the Saint Patrick's Day event of Angry Birds Seasons. CELTIC STYLE NINJA ART: GO GREEN, GO LUCKY!

Laney floated into the air and the beautiful lands of Ireland formed behind her as the music from the Angry Birds Seasons game Go Green, Go Lucky played and she fired waves of green energy and it formed into the Angry Birds and they smashed into several crooked cops and smashed them into bloody messes.

Qin: Here's one I learned from when Lincoln played the 2012 Moon Festival Event on Angry Birds Seasons. FIREWORKS STYLE NINJA ART: YEAR OF THE DRAGON!

Qin fired a wave of fireworks energy and it formed into an awesome dragon that shot fireworks into the air and the dragon smashed and blasted many crooked cops all over the place.

Lucy Loud: Time for you to see true darkness. DARKNESS STYLE NINJA ART: WAKE ME UP!

Lucy floated into the air and spread her wings of darkness as she sang Bring Me To Life by Evanescence.

How can you see into my eyes like open doors?

Leading you down, into my core

Where I've become so numb, without a soul

My spirit's sleeping somewhere cold

Until you find it there, and lead it, back, home

Wake me up inside

Wake me up inside

Call my name and save me from the dark

Bid my blood to run

Before I come undone

Save me from the nothing I've become

Now that I know what I'm without

You can't just leave me

Breathe into me and make me real

Bring me to life

Wake me up inside
Wake me up inside
Call my name and save me from the dark
Bid my blood to run
Before I come undone
Save me from the nothing I've become
Bring me to life
Bring me to life
Frozen inside, without your touch
Without your love, darling
Only you are my life
Among the dead
I've been sleeping a thousand years it seems
Got to open my eyes to everything
Don't let me die here
Bring, me, to, life
Wake me up inside
Wake me up inside
Call my name and save me from the dark
Bid my blood to run
Before I come undone
Save me from the nothing I've become

Bring me to life

Bring me to life

Bring me to life

Lucy fired waves of darkness and they slammed into many crooked cops and they were sucked into the darkness of Hell for all eternity.

Brittney: Awesome! That's one of my favorite songs by Evanescence.

Liberty: Awesome technique. Try this one! BLUE SOUL BLAZE TRAIL!

Liberty fired a wave of magic and it flew past many crooked cops and exploded into a massive line of fire and incinerated them.

Pakura: Here's a song for Naruto. SCORCH STYLE NINJA ART: NIGHTS IN WHITE SATIN!

Pakura floated into the air as the beauty of the Sahara Desert appeared behind her and she sang the awesome song of the Moody Blues, Nights in White Satin.

Nights in white satin

Never reaching the end

Letters I've written

Never meaning to send

Beauty I'd always missed

With these eyes before

Just what the truth is

I can't say any more

'Cause I love you

Yes I love you

Oh how I love you

Gazing at people, some hand in hand

Just what I'm going through they can't understand

Some try to tell me, thoughts they cannot defend

Just what you want to be, you will be in the end

And I love you

Yes I love you

Oh how I love you

Oh how I love you

Nights in white satin

Never reaching the end

Letters I've written

Never meaning to send

Beauty I've always missed

With these eyes before

Just what the truth is

I can't say any more

'Cause I love you

Yes I love you

Oh how I love you

Oh how I love you

'Cause I love you

Yes I love you

Oh how I love you

Oh how I love you

Pakura fired blasts of fire and they hit a bunch of crooked cops and they dried up into mummified husks and killed them.

Laney: Wow! That's one of my favorite songs by the Moody Blues.

Naruto: Awesome song choice Pakura.

Pakura: Thanks Naruto.

Nicole: Time for you to see the power of the stars. STAR STYLE NINJA ART: MAJOR TOM COMING HOME!

Nicole floated into the air as the vastness of the stars of space formed behind her and she sang the awesome song Major Tom (Coming Home) by Peter Schilling.

Standing there alone, the ship is waiting

All systems are go, are you sure?

Control is not convinced

But the computer has the evidence

No need to abort

The countdown starts

Watching in a trance, the crew is certain

Nothing left to chance, all is working

Trying to relax, up in the capsule

"Send me up a drink", jokes Major Tom

The count goes on

Four, three, two, one

Earth below us

Drifting, falling

Floating, weightless

Calling, calling home

Second stage is cut, we're now in orbit

Stabilizers up, running perfect

Starting to collect requested data

"What will it effect, when all is done?"

Thinks Major Tom

Back at ground control there is a problem

Go to rockets full, not responding

"Hello Major Tom, are you receiving?

Turn the thrusters on, we're standing by"

There's no reply

Four, three, two, one

Earth below us

Drifting, falling

Floating, weightless

Calling, calling home

Across the stratosphere

A final message, "Give my wife my love"

Then nothing more

Far beneath the ship, the world is mourning

They don't realize, he's alive

No one understands but Major Tom sees

Now the light commands, this is my home

I'm coming home

Earth below us

Drifting, falling

Floating, weightless

Coming home

Earth below us

Drifting, falling

Floating, weightless

Coming home

Earth below us

Drifting, falling

Floating, weightless

Coming, coming home

Home

Home

Home

Home

Home

Home

Home

Home

Nicole fired waves of stars and they all smashed into a bunch of crooked cops and killed them all over the place.

Haiku: Try this one on. This one is for you Hunter & Nemo. DARKNESS STYLE NINJA ART: NEMO!

Haiku's eyes turned into terrifying skulls as she spread her wings of darkness and the darkness of hell burned behind her as she sang Nemo by Nightwish.

This is me for forever

One of the lost ones

The one without a name

Without an honest heart as compass

This is me for forever

One without a name

These lines the last endeavor

To find the missing lifeline

Oh how I wish

For soothing rain

All I wish is to dream again

My loving heart

Lost in the dark
For hope I'd give my everything
My flower, withered between
The pages two and three
The once and forever bloom gone with my sins
Walk the dark path
Sleep with angels
Call the past for help
Touch me with your love
And reveal to me my true name
Oh how I wish
For soothing rain
All I wish is to dream again
My loving heart
Lost in the dark
For hope I'd give my everything
Oh how I wish
For soothing rain
All I wish is to dream again
Once and for all
And all for once
Nemo my name forevermore

Nemo sailing home

Nemo letting go

Oh how I wish

For soothing rain

All I wish is to dream again

My loving heart

Lost in the dark

For hope I'd give my everything

Oh how I wish

For soothing rain

All I wish is to dream again

Once and for all

And all for once

Nemo my name forevermore

Name for evermore

Haiku fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the dark angel Nemo and she had a deadly scythe of black fire and she slashed numerous crooked cops and incinerated them into nothing.

Hunter: (German Accent) Wunderbar!

Nemo: That was beautifully done Haiku.

Haiku: Thanks Nemo.

Hunter: Und it was amazingly well done.

Me: Time for some awesome teamwork!

Fire Man: Lets do it!

Scavenger: Yeah!

Fire Man and Scavenger used the Earth Cyber Planet Keys and Rikochet and Gears used the Velocitron Cyber Planet Keys. They enhanced Fire Man's fire powers, Scavenger's Missile Launcher, Rikochet's Luchadore powers and Gears's strength 100-fold.

Fire Man and Scavenger: FIRESTORM MEGAMISSILE BARRAGE!

Fire Man fired a massive wave of fire and Scavenger fired a massive barrage of missiles.

Rikochet and Gears: PULVERIZING METEOR PINBALL!

Rikochet turned into his Pulverizing Pinball and Gears picked him up and threw him with incredible strength. Sending him flying like a meteor going at 35,000 miles per hour.

Devon Michaels and Aerrow: SKYSTORM CHEETAH BLAST!

Ravi Shaw and Finn: SKYSTORM GORILLA BLAST!

Zoey Reeves and Piper: SKYSTORM JACKRABBIT BLAST!

Nate Reeves and Junko: SKYSTORM MANTIS BLAST!

Steel and Stork: SKYSTORM SCARAB BLAST!

The Beast Morpher Rangers and the Storm Hawks fired waves of energy. The blasts all slammed into numerous crooked cops all over the place and destroyed them all in massive fiery explosions!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMM!

When the smoke cleared, all that was left was the chief of the Phone Police.

Me: Your days of phone punishments are finished forever. Final Smash time!

Lisa Loud: You are an atrocity to the worlds of Telecommunications! PERIODIC TABLE SYMBOL BARRAGE!

Lori: WINDSTORM MEGABLAST!

Leni: GRAVITY SUPERSTRIKE BLAST!

Carly Carmine: HUMMINGBIRD FIRESTORM BLAST!

They fired blasts of energy, wind, gravity and fire and the blasts all slammed into the chief and there was nothing left of the chief but his boots. The Phone Police was all dead.

Nico: Phone Police you have all failed this world.

Everyone then came out and cheered wildly for all of us.

Me: Lets get all the kids that were arrest out of prison.

We went to the headquarters of the Phone Police and freed the kids.

Lisa Loud: It seems that now, we can use our phones safely now.

Selma: And Bart can prank call Moe without fear of being interrupted.

William: Wait. You guys knew that Bart likes to prank call Moe?

Russ Cargill: Relax. We're not gonna tell Moe about that.

Fat Tony: But Bart is gonna have to tell Moe himself eventually.

May: I guess that's fair.

Me: But our phone lines are now safe without those dickheads of the Phone Police ruining us.

Laney: Yep.

The Masters of Evil teleport out. Except for Princess Rose.

Me: Thank you so much for helping us your highness.

Princess Rose: It was no trouble at all J.D. and thank you for saving me from such a dark fate.

Me: It was no trouble at all your highness. We do what we can to keep the world safe from total destruction. But what Sartorius is gonna do will ultimately destroy not just the planet, but the entire universe. We have to stop him at all costs or we have no future.

Nico: That's right. He will pay for his crimes.

Me: And we will be there to make sure that he does.

Princess Rose was amazed by our sheer valor and determination to put an end to the very dangers that the forces of evil pose to the entire universe.

Princess Rose: Thank you all.

She then held out her hand to me and I knelt down and kissed it like how the knights and princes in storybooks. Princess Rose then decided to help us take down the Society of Light with us.

We later went back to the estate.

Lisa Loud: (To the viewers) Now that the battles with the Society of Light are in full swing, we have to be ready for anything when they show up. Now if you'll excuse me, I have to go get a PB&J.

She did so and left.

THE END

---

Another awesome fanfiction and another villain of Are You Afraid of The Dark? destroyed.

The Phone Police were beyond a shadow of a doubt the most crooked cops I had ever seen. I saw the episode The Tale of The Phone Police a long time ago and it was just as awful as those crooked cops that you see in movies. We faced our first member of the Society of Light. Next up is the evil Alexis and she is gonna give new meaning to the phrase Heart of Ice. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the evil mad scientist of Gargoyles, Anton Sevarius, and we're also going to face the evil mad scientist of the air animals, the last of the Paradigm Brothers, Albert Paradigm. Get ready as we kill two more mad scientists.

See you all tomorrow.

End of Mad Scientists

Chapter intro opens with the Sun setting.

Goliath: 1,000 years ago, superstition and the sword ruled. It was a time of darkness, it was a world of fear. It was the Age of Gargoyles.

It was set in the medieval era around 1018 A.D. as Gargoyles were flying all over the skies at night around a castle in Scotland. Viking warriors charged in for the attack.

Goliath: Stone by day, warriors by night. We were betrayed by the humans we had sworn to protect. Frozen in stone by a magic spell for a thousand years.

Goliath came home to find his castle in ruins and on fire and he roared in despair. Later his clan was now frozen in stone for 10 centuries.

1000 years later in the year 2018, a helicopter rises to the castle of the Manhattan Clan that was moved piece by piece entirely to New York City. When the sun was setting, lightning struck all over.

Goliath: Now here in Gotham Royal York…

Their stone crumbled and the Gargoyles woke for the 1st time in 1,000 years!

Goliath: The spell is broken… AND WE LIVE AGAIN!

The adventures of the Gargoyles returned as they embark on different adventures and fight to protect their friends and allies as they did 1,000 years ago in a whole new world, a new century and a new era unlike anything they have ever seen!

Goliath: We are defenders of the night. We are Gargoyles!

---

In the estate, something brutal was happening.

POW! POW! POW!

I was being brutally punched in the face all over the place with brutal force by the younger sister of Sartorius, Sarina. She was infuriated with the fact that I had killed her older brother in what she thought was cold blood when in actuality I did it to save the entire universe and the Earth from his reign of evil and destruction.

---

Sarina is the sister of Sartorius, and the leader of the Light Brigade. She first sent the first two members of her brigade (Frost and Thunder) after Syrus and Hassleberry; in the end, Frost defeated both his partner and his opponents (using a card Sarina gave both he and Thunder that Thunder couldn't use). When Frost returned, he was intending to duel Jaden himself; but Sarina, unimpressed with Frost's close-call victory, sealed him and Thunder in a mirror. She then sent T-Bone and Blaze to find and defeat Jaden; but she sealed Blaze away when they found him, and despite infusing Frost's, Thunder's and Blaze's powers into T-Bone's Deck, T-Bone lost and was sealed away.

After disposing of her subordinates, she challenged Aster and Jaden to a Tag Duel in KaibaLand's virtual system but was ultimately defeated. Sarina then revealed that she wished to save her brother from the influence of an evil aura housed in a Destiny Hero card that was shown to him when they were younger.

In a final act of gratitude she helped those trapped within the virtual world to escape but was left behind in the collapsing program, digitizing herself to act as her brother's "guardian". While no mention of it is made in the English adaptation, the Japanese version further includes a promise by Solomon Muto to speak with Seto Kaiba in the hopes of restoring her consciousness.

Sarina returns near the end of the second year to contribute to the satellite's demise. Afterward she is flown in to Duel Academy via helicopter by Kaiba's associates and reunited with her brother.

She is captured by Nightshroud under unknown circumstances in order to force Sartorius to accept the power of darkness. He corners and duels Jaden in order to save his sister but she appears to Jaden and urges him to defeat her brother.

Jaden does so, overcoming Sartorius' card "Arcana Force 0 - The Fool" that he placed in Jaden's Deck and he is reunited with his sister in the World of Darkness. They are both revived when Jaden defeats Nightshroud. After that, she was present at Jaden's graduation ceremony.

---

Sarina: YOU FUCKING BASTARD! I HATE YOU! I HATE YOU! I HATE YOU!

My aura flared up with incredible force as she viciously and brutally smashed my face in.

Me: I'm sorry.

---

Nico: Ok. Someone needs a time out!

Nico then grabbed Sarina and restrained her. I got up. I was covered in bruises and I had blood pouring out of my nose and I had a black eye and some of my teeth were punched out.

Laney: GEEZ!

Lana: Man J.D. she really did a number on you.

Me: I know. Sarina, listen to me. I am so sorry I killed your brother. But I had to. He gave me no other choice. He was going to destroy the entire planet with the Light of Destruction and he had to pay the ultimate price for his crimes. I'm sorry but he brought all this on himself. We had to stop him no matter what. The entire planet and the entire universe was in terrible danger and it is again now that Sartorius is back. He is going to try to finish what he started in the past and we can't let him get away with it. He has to pay for his crimes just like in the past. I'm sorry I killed him but it had to be done. He was going to destroy the entire planet. He brought all this on himself. I'm sorry.

Nico: That's right Sarina. I'm sorry your brother is dead but he deserved it. Most of us weren't with him at the time and we weren't called Team Loud Phoenix Storm back then. But Sartorius is beyond all hope of saving. Just like he was back then as he is now. He deserves to die just like he did then.

Sarina then realized that we were right and then she broke down crying and fell to the ground in tears. Lori went over and comforted her. The brother Sarina knew was gone. She realized that there was nothing that can be done to save him from the monster that he became. It's just like with Dartz and Marik.

Princess Rose: I'm sorry Sarina.

---

Later, my face was wrapped in casts and bandages.

Amorpho: Are you ready to morph into a Garchomp, Rachel?

Rachel (Animorphs): I sure am.

Me: Okay go for it.

She concentrated and then she started changing. Her arms grew longer and grew blades out of the arms and the hands fused together and formed into claws and her skin turned black and she grew taller and her shirt buttons were flying out.

Raven: I think your buttons are flying off!

Me: They are.

Her legs turned bulky and her feet turned into dinosaur feet and her head turned hammerhead-like and her eyes turned yellow and her teeth turned into fangs and she grew a tail with fins at the end. She was now a Garchomp!

Vortex: How do you feel?

Rachel (Animorphs): Amazing!

Skids: Are there any Team Rocket remnants Rachel can kill?

Me: No. I did some scans and found out that we either killed all the Team Rocket Remnants or threw them in prison forever.

Nico: Good. They deserved it.

Me: Luckily I came prepared.

I touched the ground and formed training dummies and Rachel fired blasts of Dragon Rage fire and the blasts slammed into the dummies and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The dummies were blown into nothing but flaming piles of rubble.

Me: Whoa!

Nico: Intense!

Rachel reverted back and she was human again.

Laney: Awesome.

---

Later as my face was healing, I read today's newspaper.

Me: Hmm. This looks strange. "Detective Matt Bluestone of G.R.Y.P.D. mysteriously disappears. Police in the city believe that it was mad scientist Anton Sevarius behind his disappearance." Anton Sevarius? Lets see here.

I put the paper down and pulled up Anton Sevarius's information.

---

Dr. Anton Sevarius was a recurring villain the animated series Gargoyles and was noted as not only being a mad scientist but being extremely proud of the fact that his immoral experimentation created many strange creatures the more famous being the mutates.

He was voiced by Tim Curry, who later voiced General Von Talon in Disney film, Valiant (which is the DVD trailer for the DVD opening of Gargoyles: Season 2 Volume 1), Scarlet Fever and Nick O' Teen in Ozzy and Drix and portrayed Pennywise the Clown in IT.

After the Manhattan Clan's awakening, he was given two assignments by Xanatos as one of the head scientists at the Xanatos Enterprises subsidiary company, Gen-U-Tech. First, he was assigned to create a clone of Goliath, named Thailog. The second was to design a creature similar to a gargoyle to work for Xanatos. This led to his creating the mutates.

A disguised Sevarius worked with Xanatos to mutate Derek Maza into Talon. While Goliath, Brooklyn, and Lexington were rescuing Maggie the Cat, Goliath knocked Sevarius into a tank full of electric eels, apparently killing him. This led to Talon's enmity toward the Manhattan Clan (since he believed Sevarius was the only one who could cure him).

Sevarius had faked his death, however, and continued to work for Xanatos in secret. After completing the Thailog project, he received an email apparently from Xanatos ordering him to kidnap and ransom Thailog. In reality, the cloned gargoyle planned to kill his three "fathers," Goliath, Xanatos, and Sevarius, but he was defeated.

Goliath later kidnapped Sevarius, forcing him to create a cure for the mutates, Claw, Fang, Talon, and Maggie the Cat. Xanatos broke in to save Sevarius, thereby revealing their true relationship, and making allies of the Manhattan Clan and the mutates. The "cure" Sevarius made has not yet been tested, since the mutates suspected he may have actually tried to poison them.

Dr. Sevarius was next sent to Loch Ness in Scotland to study the Loch Ness Monsters. To that end, he was provided with a submarine in the likeness of the Monsters, and a force of Xanatos' guardsmen. While there, he captured a female Loch Ness Monster. Soon after, when the Avalon travelers arrived, he captured Angela, whom he discovered was the biological daughter of Goliath. He attempted to capture the male Loch Ness Monster, dubbed "Big Daddy," using a tracking device attached to the female and Angela.

However, for his efforts, he and most of the Xanatos guardsmen wound up sinking to the bottom of Loch Ness in the sub, which was damaged by the two monsters.

It is unknown how Sevarius escaped, but after that fiasco, he went to work for Thailog and Demona's corporation, Nightstone Unlimited. He was first hired to create clones of the Manhattan Clan, as well as (unknown to Demona) a perfect mate for Thailog, named Delilah, created from the combined DNA of Elisa Maza and Demona.

Next, Demona assigned him to genetically engineer a deadly carrier virus, called the CV-1000, that she planned to release across the planet. Had she not been stopped by the Manhattan Clan, the virus would have wiped out humanity, leaving only gargoyles alive due to the power of the Praying he hoped to survive her plan is unknown, although he probably had anti-virus prepared for himself.

In his final appearance, Sevarius used the DNA of all the Manhattan clan to create a giant gargoyle named Anton Jr.; however, it ended up petrified by the virus the Clone clan was suffering from. Anton Jr.'s "death" was the only time Sevarius showed any concern for someone.

---

I gasped in shock! Anton Sevarius was one fucked up monster 100-fold!

Me: Just what the universe needs, another fucked up mad scientist running amok. Guys get in here quick!

Everyone came and I explained everything.

Nico: WHOA! Goliath I didn't know that Dr. Anton Sevarius was that dangerous.

Goliath: He is worse than you could ever imagine Nico.

Brooklyn: He's a mad scientist that is worse than Dr. Paradigm.

Me: Lets see if we can find him. Launching our new spy probe.

I pressed a button and it activated a rocket and it launched a cool spy probe that was no bigger than the size of a fly and it flew to an abandoned gasoline power plant on the outskirts of the city. After we had everyone in the world now using clean forms of energy, we shut down all the fossil fuel power plants. Including nuclear power. The spy probe showed us that inside the abandoned Gas Power Plant was Dr. Sevarius and the last of the Paradigm Brothers, Dr. Albert Paradigm! He looked like his brother Luther but with no eye patch and he had no suit on.

Me: That's the last of the Paradigm Brothers we need to take down!

Elisa: So Sevarius and Arthur Paradigm kidnapped Matt?!

Skywarp: Suddenly, them working together makes perfect sense.

Me: Even more crazy is having two fucked up mad scientists working together. Now we can kill two birds with one stone. Lets get them guys!

Goliath and the Manhattan Clan transformed into their Gargoyle Forms and they were ready and we were off. Talon and the Mutates minus Fang came with us to help out.

---

Abandoned Gas Power Plant

---

In the gas power plant, Dr. Sevarius and Arthur Paradigm were working with chemicals.

Dr. Sevarius: Nearly complete. Soon we will have our own army of gargoyles to do whatever we want. This world will be ours for the taking and not even Team Loud Phoenix Storm will be able to stop us.

Arthur Paradigm: Yes and soon I will avenge the deaths of my brothers.

But then a bunch of lasers blasted the beakers and chemicals from out of nowhere and blew them apart and a curtain of the Aurora Borealis appeared on the ceiling as a bunch of fairies were seen in it and they were singing. Lights beamed us onto the floor and we were ready for a fight.

Me: Dr. Anton Sevarius and Dr. Arthur Paradigm. So we meet at last.

Dr. Sevarius: The famous J.D. Knudson and all of Team Loud Phoenix Storm. Welcome.

Arthur Paradigm: So we finally meet J.D.

Me: And you are the last of the Paradigm Brothers we have left to face. Now we can kill both of you. You guys have fucked around with Mother Nature for far too long and it ends now.

Talon: You will pay for your crimes.

Dr. Sevarius: How nice to see you all again Goliath.

Goliath: It'll be for the last time.

Demona: That's right! I won't allow you to mess with Mother Nature again.

Nico: That's right!

Demona: Why would you two kidnap Elisa's partner?

Sevarious: Well, Demona. Allow us to explain it to you. You see, if we could be able to replicate the way some of you change forms at will, me and Arthur would be one step closer to creating a gene slammed Gargoyle that would be able to change forms voluntarily and would be loyal to us. And who better then Detective Maza's own partner, Matt Bluestone?

Fang: And if Matt dies in the process of becoming your gene slammed slave?!

Arthur Paradigm: Well, that's the price of science, isn't it?

Me: It's a terrible price. Because all you 2 do is destroy the rules of the laws of nature for your own selfish and fucked up gains. It ends now.

Captain Cold, Katnappe and Vanitas came out.

Me: Captain Cold, Katnappe and Vanitas.

Captain Cold: I just want to say that the three of us had nothing to do with kidnapping Matt.

Katnappe: We would never use the methods of the Paradigm Brothers. (disgusted) Especially the nudity parts!

Will Vandom: I know. That disgusts us as well.

Vanitas saw my face all beaten up.

Vanitas: Holy shit! What happened to your face!?

Me: Sartorius's sister beat me up because she thought I killed him in cold blood.

Nico: Yeah she was so pissed off at J.D. that she beat him to a bloody pulp.

Naruto: It was in every way like what happened when I got my face beaten in by Karui when I defended Sasuke and his clan.

Katnappe: Man that's horrible.

Me: But I had to kill her brother to save the planet from his evil ways in trying to destroy the entire universe.

A figure came out and we saw that it was another version of Thetis! It was an evil version of her.

---

Thetis is a female youma under the direct control of Queen Beryl in episode 012. Her mission is to help Jadeite gather energy from human beings in order to revive Queen Metallia. She is a very powerful youma who can control seawater. She seemed to have romantic feelings towards Jadeite, and appeared before him at the beginning of the episode with an idea to help him steal energy. Her idea was called "Operation Romantic Cruise," where they would set up a romantic cruise and steal the passengers' energy of love. Although the ship looks beautiful, this is only an illusion; it is really a wrecked vessel. Jadeite disguised himself as the ship's captain, while Thetis was disguised as a crew member. Rei manages to win tickets to board the ship, and she invites Ami. Usagi sneaks onto the ship using her disguise pen, and brings Luna with her.

Once the love energy reached a peak, Thetis and Jadeite asked all of the passengers to go to the reception hall for a special romantic show. When everyone was inside, Thetis transformed into her youma form and began collecting everyone's energy using a disco ball high above the room. The device only gathered love energy, however, so Ami and Rei were unharmed. Thetis sent various monsters (disguised as crew members) to destroy Ami and Rei, but luckily, Sailor Moon arrived just in time. Thetis attacked Sailor Moon and pushed her out of a window, then began attacking her with swirling streams of sea water. Sailor Mars and Sailor Mercury quickly transformed and destroyed the monsters attacking them, then went to help Sailor Moon. They used their "Fire Soul" and "Sabão Spray" attacks to incapacitate Thetis, and Sailor Moon eventually used her "Moon Tiara Action" attack to completely destroy the youma. Once she was destroyed, the ship returned to its normal form, and all of the energy-drained passengers were revived.

In her human form, Thetis has light skin, blue hair, and dark green eyes. She wears a short blue dress with light blue gloves and white shoes. In her youma form, she has chalk white skin, dark blue (almost black) hair, and glowing red eyes. She does not appear to have a mouth, but her jaw moves when she speaks. She wears a blue, sleeveless, skin-tight suit with lavender gloves that reach past her elbows. She also has an elaborate gold headdress.

Shanan: Thetis! An evil version of her.

Lily: What she was like before you saved her planet.

Evil Thetis: (to the Neptune Crusaders) Fancy meeting an entire team of water users.

Maria: You're out of your league, Thetis. Our water powers are way greater then yours.

Qin: What kind of creature is Thetis?

Shanan: She's what's called an Undinian. Undinians are a race of water elementals from the ocean planet Undine III. The planet is a world completely covered in water and the Undinians live in underwater castles and cities. They are a peaceful race and they only fight when absolutely necessary. The planet is located 13,000 light-years away from Earth. They have tremendous power over the water and they are very deadly and formidable warriors in battle. Their world was totally frozen in ice because of Queen Beryl and I thawed out her world and brought it here to our Solar System.

Qin: Wow! So that blue planet in orbit around us is Undine III.

Shanan: Yep.

Evil Thetis: That's right. I'm impressed that you know so much about my kind Shanan. You did free the good version of me from the monster that I turned into and I'm grateful for that.

Shanan: Nice to know that I made an impression.

?: And it will be the last time you fuckmouths.

A figure came out and it was an evil version of Alexis Rhodes! But this time she had White Clothes on and she was overflowing with pure evil!

---

At the beginning of season two, Alexis decides to move into the Slifer Red dorm with Jaden, Syrus, Chazz and Tyranno Hassleberry because Dr. Crowler begins constantly pressuring her into becoming a pop star Duelist with Atticus. So Atticus challenges her to a duel, where if she loses, she and Atticus will become a pop singing group named "Bro-bro and Sissy", if she wins, they will stop pressuring her to become a pop star. She wins, and show cases all of her "Cyber Angels" series. After she tells Atticus to "let go of his dream".

This soon changes when Chazz becomes brainwashed into the Society of Light by Sartorius. Chazz begins Dueling Obelisk Blues to brainwash them into following Sartorius as well, and succeeds by using his powerful "White Veil" card that Sartorius gave him. Thus, Alexis feels it's her responsibility as an Obelisk Blue to Duel Chazz and win against him so she could restore him as well as the other Obelisk Blues back to normal, despite Atticus' warnings. During the duel, she starts doubting her dueling skills because Chazz is outsmarting all of her moves and guesses, thus meeting the same fate as her fellow elites.

Although she remains brainwashed by Sartorius for the majority of season two, she finally begins to show some resistance by refusing to play the "White Veil" card given to her by Sartorius during her Duel against Maitre' D in the Genex Tournament. During that Duel, Chazz, Syrus and Jaden (who are watching) also point out that she is standing up for Obelisk Blues despite that she was now under Sartorious' control in the Society of Light, perhaps suggesting she was trying to break free. Additionally, she vaguely begins to remember the times when she and Jaden were friends when Sartorius orders her to Duel Jaden for his satellite key. However, Sartorius notices this and thus strips Alexis of her mind completely, rendering her a lifeless and empty puppet.

During her Duel with Jaden to get the key for Sartorius, Jaden tries to break Sartorius' control on her and remind her of their friendship by playing cards that Atticus and Chazz would often use ("Swing of Memories" and "Ojama Black", respectively). However, she does not listen to anything Jaden tries convincing her of because her mind was completely stripped by Sartorius, thus she had no memories either. Jaden still manages to win which restores her mind back to normal. Upon being returned, she has no memory of ever entering the Society of Light or being brainwashed but notices that she and Jaden were in a Duel. When she asks Jaden who won, he says she definitely did (as she was now herself again).

Alexis spent the rest of the Genex Tournament recovering from her brainwashing and later witnessed Chazz win the tournament and defeating the rest of the Society of Light: she did, however, point out Chazz having lost to Jaden but he managed to convince her that Duel didn't count as no medals were exchanged. She soon witnessed Blair Flannigan return and challenge Chazz for the last Genex medal she had. Chazz soon beat Blair, though Alexis commented on how close she was to winning and how much she had improved.

Alexis: Another me!

Me: This one has been totally converted and brainwashed into joining the Society of Light!

Nico: That fucking Sartorius!

Me: The darkness will destroy him by the time we're done with him.

Princess Rose: I can't believe that Sartorius is that evil.

Alexis: And is out to destroy the entire universe.

Me: Yep.

Eddy: This bitch is mine.

Eddy fired a blast at White Alexis. But the blast tore open the front of her shirt and revealed her bra.

Eddy: Holy Shit!

Me: Hubba hubba!

Nico: Yowza.

May: Nico!

Nico: Sorry.

White Alexis: WHAT THE FUCK DID YOU DO?!

Eddy: I am so sorry! I didn't mean to do that.

White Alexis: YOU'RE GONNA BE SORRY WHEN I GET MY HANDS ON YOU!

Me: Lets get them!

Vanitas: And I know just the planet for us to fight on.

Vanitas snapped his fingers and we were on a really cool planet loaded with all kinds of sphere cities and they were spectacular cities. We were on the planet of Cannonbolt's species, Planet Arburia. (2016's Arburia.)

---

Arburia is the home planet of the Arburian Pelarotas. It is known throughout the universe for its beaches.

The local Pelarotas usually keep to business as adults, while kids are usually cooped up in class. The young Pelarotas usually make for the beach when class is out, but a few adults stick around for lifeguard duty, while beachgoers enjoy and extreme way of fun. Due to it's beaches, the Pelarotas often have to deal with tourist troubles.

---

Me: Whoa! Look at this planet.

Nico: Where are we?

Vanitas: This is the planet Arburia. It's the home of Cannonbolt's species.

Me: Whoa! So this is the planet Arburia.

Riley: Wow. This planet is incredible!

Ben: I always wondered what this planet looked like. But I was told that it was destroyed when the Big Tick destroyed it.

Me: This must be a different version in our universe than the one you know Ben. But it's still the planet Arburia nonetheless.

Nico: It's amazing.

Shanan: We're located 17,928 light years away from Earth.

Nico: Far.

Laney: But this is really awesome.

Me: Lets get them guys!

Noah Carver: From one smart guy to another, you're going down!

Megaforce Rangers: Go Go Megaforce!

Carly then appeared in a flash of orange light with the Hummingbird Mark in it.

Carly Carmine: Let me help out too.

Me: Thanks Carly.

The Megaforce Rangers turned into their basic mega forms.

We powered up and went at them.

Battle 1: Vanitas

Spiderman, Bounce Man and Toad Man were facing Vanitas.

Vanitas: I take it J.D. is gonna send Sartorius a message to let him know that he will be coming for him in the future.

Spiderman: I think so yes.

Bounce Man: Sartorius is a danger to every living thing in the entire universe and he must be stopped.

Toad Man: That's right.

Vanitas: When the time comes we all will help you all stop him.

Spiderman: Thanks Vanny. How is Comic Book Guy doing?

Vanitas: Much better thank you. Whitney did a number on him with those techniques and I loved watching George of the Jungle all the time.

Spiderman: I can see that. Lets dance.

Vanitas called out his Incineroar and they went at him and punched Vanitas and kicked and smashed him all over and kicked his Incineroar and fired webbing, balls and acid rain at Vanitas and burned him and smashed him and tied him up.

Spiderman: Watch this one guys. SPIDER STYLE NINJA ART: MEGARACHNIDS!

Spiderman fired a wave of dark energy and it formed into the vicious and mean Megarachnids of the planet Murder.

---

The Megarachnids are a sentient race of xenos resembling giant spiders that resided in the early 31st Millennium on the planet Murder, which was also known as Urisarach and One-Forty-Twenty. An extremely hostile alien species, they were an old enemy of the non-Imperial human Interex civilisation who instead of committing xenocide had exiled the surviving members of the species to the world they called Urisarach as an act of mercy. The Megarachnids were stripped of their interstellar travel capabilities but they retained the ability to build weather control devices that created powerful atmospheric disturbances and interfered with radio communications. These appeared in the shape of large "trees" found across the planet.

A campaign of extermination was waged against them by the forces of the Imperium of Man many years later during the Great Crusade after several companies of Space Marines were lost to the Megarachnids' latent hostilities during the initial Imperial investigations of the planet. The war proved costly in Astartes lives, but seemed to be making steady progress by the sixth month. The campaign came to an abrupt end when the Interex arrived to see who was disturbing the planet and first contact occurred between them and the Imperium, as represented by the Warmaster Horus. Whether or not the campaign was continued after the destruction of the Interex by the Imperium in the final days of the Great Crusade is unknown, and the ultimate fate of this species is unrecorded in any existing Imperial records.

They viciously slashed and cut Vanitas all over the place and knocked him down.

Spiderman: Another victory for your friendly neighborhood Spiderman.

---

Battle 2: Katnappe

---

Starfire, Thundercracker and Skywarp were facing Katnappe.

Katnappe: This Sartorius sounds like he's a really dangerous guy.

Starfire: He sure is. And J.D. told me how dangerous the Light of Destruction really is.

Katnappe: What is the Light of Destruction and isn't light supposed to be a good thing?

Starfire: Normally yes but this Light is pure evil. The Light of Destruction is widely feared on my home planet that I come from, Tamaran.

Starfire went over the history of the Light of Destruction and it was not pretty.

---

The Light of Destruction (破滅の光, Hametsu no Hikari) (aka Dark Light) is a malevolent celestial entity that possessed Sartorius when he first came into contact with the "Ultimate-D card" and the main antagonist of the Society of Light arc. Highly virulent and dangerous, the Light of Destruction engenders unholy calamity on the world in the second season and its influence from before the series triggers the conflicts of the third season. Those possessed by the Light often exhibit a glow of light around their bodies. Due to its agenda, the Light of Destruction is ultimately the central antagonist of the Yu-Gi-Oh! GX series.

For billions of years, a white hole released a mysterious energy called the Light of Destruction.

Yubel came into contact with this energy while she was in space, which distorted her sanity although it did not control her, probably because Yubel was a spirit of darkness so being exposed to the malignant entity of light probably had aberrant consequences. Jaden had also always been the individual destined to oppose the Light with Yubel being specifically created to protect Jaden's incarnation, The Supreme King until he was old enough to utilize his latent power to complete his mission.

When this energy reached Earth it caused several calamities such as dictatorships and wars.

Ten years before the events of the second season, the Light of Destruction was released, infecting a card created by Aster's father, "Destiny Hero - Plasma". When The D acquires the card by murdering Aster's father, it possesses him, causing him to develop an uncaring and sadistic alter ego.

Afraid of what is happening to him, The D consults with a fortuneteller named Sartorius. The Light takes Sartorius as his main host instead, but a small portion remains within The D, which helps him to ascend the Pro League and become world champion.

After possessing Sartorius, it sets the stage for the events of the second season by amassing a cult of brainwashed students and acquiring a satellite capable of extinguishing all life on Earth (in the dub, the satellite would cause a mass-brainwashing of all Earth's populace).

It later partially infects Prince Ojin, who had been brainwashed to serve Sartorius in the Society of Light. It is ultimately sealed away, releasing Sartorius from its influence due to the efforts of Jaden and Aster. However, only the portion of it controlling Sartorius was destroyed and the Light still exists in the universe.

Near the end of the third season, Jaden learns that the Light of Destruction made his childhood card, Yubel, even more dangerous than it was before. He is also soon taken to the past where he learned that Yubel was given the mission to protect a young prince, who held the power of The Supreme King, as he fought the light waves of chaos. As a result Jaden decided to fuse with the soul of Yubel, and together they went off to fulfill the mission.

---

Katnappe gasped in horror.

Katnappe: So the Earth is in terrible danger because of Sartorius and the Society of Light!?

Starfire: Yes and we have to stop it.

Thundercracker: If can find the White Hole that is pushing out the Light of Destruction we can destroy it once and for all.

Skywarp: Good idea Thundercracker!

Starfire: Lets dance shall we?

Katnappe: Lets dance.

Katnappe called out her Liepard, Persian and Purugly and they went at her and Starfire punched and kicked her all over the place and fired blasts of starbolts at Katnappe and her Pokemon and Thundercracker and Skywarp fired blasts of energy and the blasts hit her and her pokemon all over and exploded all over.

Starfire: Try this one! TAMARAN STYLE NINJA ART: TAMARAN KINGDOMS!

Starfire fired waves of green energy and they formed into the kingdoms of all of Tamaran's history throughout the entire planets history and they fired energy lasers and blasted Katnappe all over and knocked her out.

Starfire: That is a victory for Earth and Tamaran.

---

Battle 3: Captain Cold

---

Qin, Volcana and Torch Man were facing Captain Cold.

Captain Cold: It's hard to imagine that J.D. destroyed Sartorius before and killed him.

Qin: I know. He's pure evil.

Volcana: No kidding.

Torch Man: Lets do it.

Captain Cold: Lets.

Captain Cold called out his Pokemon. He had a Mega Articuno and a Mega Cryogonal and he had an Articuno and Cryogonal. Qin and Volcana fired massive blasts of fire and Torch Man fired waves of fire and the blasts hit Captain Cold and his Pokemon and burned them and knocked the Pokemon out.

Qin: Try this one! EARTH STYLE NINJA ART: KUNG FU PANDA!

Qin punched the ground and fired a wave of Earth and it formed into Po and the Furious 5 and they smashed, kicked and blasted Captain Cold all over the place with incredible force and power. Knocking him out.

Qin: A smashing victory.

---

Battle 4: Evil Thetis

---

Shanan was facing the Evil Thetis.

Shanan: This is gonna be interesting.

Evil Thetis: Indeed it will be.

Shanan: Lets see how you like this one. The owl is my guide and is the spirit of wisdom and life. OWL STYLE NINJA ART: FLIGHT OF THE OWL!

Shanan pulled out her violin and she was playing Flight of the Owl by Logan Epic Canto. She floated into the air and the majestic beauty of great snowy owl flying across the sky was shown behind her and she fired a wave of ice and it slammed into evil Thetis and froze her solid and knocked her down and she shattered into dust. Killing the evil Thetis.

Shanan: Another enemy of Sailor Moon deserves to be destroyed.

Battle 5: White Alexis

---

Lana Loud, Carly Carmine and Princess Rose were facing White Alexis.

Lana: You are making a total mockery of the Alexis we all know and love!

Carly Carmine: That's right! Alexis is my best friend and you are ruining her image!

White Alexis: I don't give a flying fuck what you think! I will kill both her and Jaden and the Light will prevail!

Lana: This version of Alexis gives a whole new meaning to the phrase Cold as Ice.

Princess Rose: She has no remorse, no guilt, no soul, no conscience, no heart, no empathy, no love. All cold-hearted hatred.

Carly Carmine: She is making me sick looking at her. I think we should fight her with our fists.

Lana: Good idea.

They went at White Alexis and Lana punched her in the face and Carly kicked her in the stomach and punched her in the back of the head and Princess Rose kicked her in the face and stomach.

Lana: Take this one! ICE STYLE NINJA ART: EMPIRE OF THE ICE AGE!

Lana fired a wave of ice and it formed into tall the creatures from the Ice Age and they slammed into White Alexis and froze her in a block of ice.

Carly Carmine: This will hurt! HUMMINGBIRD STYLE NINJA ART: GIANT HUMMINGBIRD!

Carly fired a wave of orange fire and it formed into a kaleidoscope of beautiful giant hummingbirds and they pecked and exploded all over White Alexis.

Princess Rose: This will hurt more. FROG STYLE NINJA ART: BEELZEBUFO!

Princess Rose fired a wave of energy and it formed into a swarm of Cretaceous frogs called Beelzebufo.

---

Beelzebufo ampinga was a particularly large species of prehistoric frog described in 2008. Common names assigned by the popular media include devil frog, devil toad, and the frog from hell.

Fossils of Beelzebufo have been recovered from strata of the Maevarano Formation in Madagascar, dating to the late Cretaceous period, some 70 million years ago (Mya).

---

The frogs bit White Alexis all over the place and Carly and Lana fired blasts of energy and they slammed into the White Alexis and obliterated her in an instant.

Lana Loud: Burn in Hell.

Princess Rose: Yeah!

Carly Carmine: Good riddance.

Battle 6: Anton Sevarius and Arthur Paradigm

---

We regrouped and we were facing both Anton Sevarius and Arthur Paradigm.

Me: It's over for both of you.

Goliath: (to Sevarius) Can you give us one good reason why we should let you live?!

Dr. Sevarius: The world needs my mind!

Me: Bullshit! Not a good reason at all! Lets get them!

We went at them and I punched Sevarius and Paradigm in their faces and Nico and Goliath punched and kicked them in thier faces and stomachs and knocked them all over the place with incredible fury and Carly blasted them all over with blasts of orange fire. Chaor, Wamma, Slurhk, Ulfheddin, and Ri'oha Blasted and smashed him all over with fire and energy. But then we got an unexpected and horrifying shock! We saw Dr. Arthur Paradigm transform! He grew wings and his head turned into that of a vulture and he was now called DR. VULTUOID!

Me: WHAT THE FUCKING HELL!?

Nico: He's now half vulture!

Jet-Vac: Vultures! Nature's cruelest mistake!

Nico: We saw Luther Paradigm turn into a Piranha, Roland Paradigm turn into a Brazilian Wandering Spider and now this!

Me: The Paradigm family has always been considered one of the most fucked up families in all of humanity.

Vince: And that's putting it mildly.

Me: Yep. Hey Vulture Breath, time to turn you into a fried chicken!

Arthur Paradigm: I FUCKING HATE ALL OF YOU!

Our auras flared up with incredible power!

Princess Rose: Whoa! That was intense. I feel stronger than ever before.

Lucy Heartfilia: It's what happens when someone hates us to an incredible degree. We get stronger because of negative energy and it increases our power exponentially.

Princess Rose: Wow!

Nico: It's part of what we do.

I punched Dr. Sevarius in the face and kicked Paradigm in the mouth and broke his beak and he flew into the air and Lucy Heartfilia spread her wings and flew after him.

Lucy Heartfilia: Take this one! CONSTELLATION STYLE NINJA ART: KOPRULU SECTOR!

Lucy fired a wave of stellar energy and it formed into the planets of the Koprulu Sector and they slammed into Paradigm and knocked him down.

Lincoln: Take this one! LIGHT STYLE NINJA ART: NIGHT OF THE AVENGING ANGELS!

Lincoln fired a wave of light and it formed into the angels of vengeance and they went at Dr. Sevarius and slashed and cut him all over the place.

Lincoln: Try this! LIGHT STYLE NINJA ART: AN EPIC AGE!

Lincoln fired a wave of light and it formed into the majestic powers of an epic alternate dimension and they hit Dr. Paradigm and exploded all over the place.

Lincoln: And for this one. SHADOW STYLE NINJA ART: DARTH REVAN!

Lincoln fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the Sith Lord Darth Revan!

---

Revan, renowned as the Revanchist, dreaded as the Sith Lord Darth Revan, and honored as the Prodigal Knight, was an eminent Jedi Knight turned Dark Lord of the Sith until, stripped of his true persona, he returned to the crumbling Jedi Order and helped defeat the Sith Empire he had established.

A human male, and acknowledged as a very gifted and powerful Force-sensitive pupil, he was trained as a Padawan by Kreia and a number of other Jedi Masters, both on Coruscant and at the Jedi Enclave on Dantooine. He appears as the protagonist of Star Wars: Knights of the Old Republic, and the novel Star Wars: The Old Republic: Revan, he later appears as the main antagonist of The Foundry flashpoint in Star Wars: The Old Republic and the titular main antagonist of the DLC expansion pack, the Shadow of Revan.

Due to his actions, philosophies, and involvement in major pivotal events and conflicts of the Old Republic era, Revan is arguable one of the most important characters of the entire Star Wars franchise due to his influence in the Old Republic series as well as his posthumous influence centuries later which would influence the philosophies of the Sith.

He was voiced by Rino Romano in Knights of the Old Republic (2003), and Jeff Bennett in The Old Republic (2011).

Revan, though not known by that name originally, was once a young apprentice in the Jedi Order, being trained first by Masters Kreia and then Zhar Leslin, alongside Alek. Revan had a never-ending desire for knowledge and Leslin believed he could become a great Jedi as a result. The apprentice would study more uncommon Force abilities and he and Alek both became highly regarded Jedi Knights. However, Revan demanded that the Jedi be involved in the Republic's fight with the Mandalorians. He soon gathered a group of Jedi who agreed with him, who came to call him their "Master." Revan led his followers to join the fighting in spite of the Jedi Council being against this. He proceeded to Suuria, having his allies stay there while he went to Onderon and Dxun to find out about the Mandalorian's activities.

However, the Mandalorians ambushed them and took them captive and Revan reported to the Council that he was sensing something disturbing. Despite the Republic entering the Mandalorian Wars, the Jedi Council continued to insist that the Jedi were not to get involved and Revan was sent to rescue the Jedi who'd been captured. Eventually, the Jedi were rescued by Zayne Carrick, a former Padawan who'd been framed for murder by Master Lucien Draay. Revan continued to demand that the Jedi intervene against the Mandalorians and became known as the "Revanchist," the name of his movement. At one point, Ferroh, a Cathar Jedi who followed Revan, told him of how his entire species had vanished. He believed the Mandalorians were the culprits and used his abandoned world to help convince the Jedi to join Revan's movement. But when Revan and Alek were visiting Cathar, the Mandalorians attacked Serroco and Revan felt countless civilians dying. Later on, Revan sent Alek to an auction to bid on powerful weaponized exogorths that Jedi believed could alter the outcome of the war.

Later on, Lucien Draay was made part of the Jedi Council and he continued to maintain that it was wrong for the Jedi to intervene as Revan demanded. The Council demanded that Revan and his followers cease their actions or they would be forced to, sending the order back with Alek, who was now known as Malak. However, Malak was followed by several Jedi Masters, who demanded his group cease their actions. But Revan discovered a Mandalorian mask on the ground and they were suddenly plunged into a vision of the past, where the Mandalorians slaughtered the Cathar people.

A female Mandalorian tried to speak out against Cassus Fett, who was leading the slaughter, only to die with the Cathar. Revan donned the mask, which had belonged to the Mandalorian who had spoken out against the genocide. He took on the name of Revan for the first time and declared he would wear the mask until the Mandalorians paid for their crimes. The Council, while not willing to send the entire Jedi Order against the Mandalorians, decided the war crimes were enough to approve of Revan's followers intervening for the Republic. While they officially disapproved, they no longer wished to stand in the way of the Revanchists. Revan proposed that he and his followers be deputized into the Republic army and the Council begrudgingly agreed, naming him commander of the new Mercy Corps.

Becoming a Sith Lord

Revan and his forces won many victories and soon he was named Supreme Commander, gaining control of a third of the army. However, Revan and Malak started focusing too much on victory without thought to the cost, using tactics just as brutal as that of their enemies. At one point, Revan and Malak found an ancient Rakatan ruin and managed to overcome the droid guardians. But before they headed into the depths, Malak told Revan that entering would risk banishment by the Jedi. He was unfazed by the risk and entered, finding a Star Map that showed part of the way to the Star Forge, a space station that was capable of limitlessly producing the ultimate army. Revan later discovered another Star Map on Kashyyyk, before eventually visiting Malachor V, finding the Sith Academy there. He was drawn to the dark side, also bringing Malak over, and learning from the Sith knowledge at the academy.

At first, Revan did not fully abandon the ways of the Jedi, continuing to fight the Mandalorians along with the Republic. He eventually entered into a long battle on Dxun, suffering heavy losses, and tried to draw the Mandalorians out by attacking Althir III. Revan had a new superweapon built called the Mass Shadow Generator to spring an elaborate trap on the Mandalorian army. He planned to use half of the fleet to lure the Mandalorians into range while his part of the army attacked the flagship. Many of the soldiers and Jedi at the battle were not particularly supportive of Revan and some believed he had done so on purpose to get rid of them.

However, he was delayed from his part by a Mandalorian scouting party, but finally arrived to find battle underway. Mandalore the Ultimate challenged Revan to a duel and he accepted, successfully striking him down. Mandalore revealed he'd been manipulated by a Sith to start the war, as well as told to uncover a Sith tomb on Rekkiad before he'd began his war with the Republic. Mandalore used what was left of his strength to give Revan the coordinates. Revan took Mandalore's mask, shortly before the Mass Shadow Generator was activated by Meetra Surik.

The Mandalorians immediately surrendered and Revan had their army fully disarmed, though he refused to return Mandalore's mask, as it was the mark of leadership amongst them. With no leader, they would never again become a unified threat. Later on, Revan built an assassin droid called HK-47, planning to use him to kill specific targets to avoid more widespread destruction. Revan and Malak refused to answer to the Jedi Council for what had happened in the final battle against the Mandalorians.

They headed into the Unknown Regions claiming they were hunting down remaining Mandalorians. Malak believed they needed to kill Surik, but Revan said she was already dead, before taking his comrade with him to Rekkiad. They found the tomb of the Sith Lord, Dramath the Second, with a datacron inside that confirmed what Mandalore had said. The datacron told them of a planet called Nathema and Revan left the Mask of Mandalore inside the tomb, before heading to Nathema with Malak. They were shocked to discover the planet had no traces of the Force, but learned of Emperor Vitiate, a Sith Lord who had lived a thousand years before. He had united the Sith in a ritual that had wiped out all life on Nathema, while granting him immortality. Vitiate had then become Sith Emperor, before returning to the remnants of the Sith Empire.

Revan and Malak tracked him to Dromund Kaas, finding a new Sith empire had sprung up there. They pretended to be mercenaries and began learning all they could about the empire. Eventually the duo discovered that Vitiate planned to invade the Republic, but decided to take the emperor down themselves instead of warning the Republic. Revan and Malak received aid from Yarri, one of the emperor's Imperial Guard, but she was planning to lead them into a trap.

Upon arriving at the emperor's throne room, they found Vitiate was waiting for them and he used his powers to twist their minds, turning them into full Sith Lords and dubbing them Darth Revan and Darth Malak. He sent them back to the Republic to serve as his vanguard and use the Star Forge to do so, then report back when the Republic was weakened.

Revan and Malak continued to find Star Maps to the Forge and on Korriban, Revan learned more of the dark side while in the tomb of Tulak Hord. He also created a holocron describing his thoughts on the nature of a relationship between Sith master's and apprentices. The two finally discovered the last Star Map in the tomb of Naga Sadow and headed to find the Star Forge in the Lehon system. However, they crashed on Lehon and were taken captive by the Rakata. Revan used the Force to forcibly tear knowledge on how to speak their language from their leader and made a deal with them. In exchange for stealing an ancient tome from a rival tribe, their leader would help Revan and Malak access the Temple of the Ancients, which would allow them to reach the Star Forge. They succeeded in finally accessing the forge with Revan leaving his holocron in the Temple of the Ancients.

Threatening the Republic

By the time they'd gotten to the forge, the two Sith Lords had broken free of Vitiate's control, but they had succumbed to the dark side, the emperor's commands now seeming to be their own will. Revan and Malak declared themselves leaders of the new Sith Empire with Malak as Revan's apprentice.

Using the forces that had followed them to the Unknown Regions, Revan armed them using the Star Forge, also making a new Sith Academy on Korriban. Additionally, the Sith Lord realized that Star Forge had far more uses than just building weapons, taking in whatever was fed into it to recreate the basic elements of the universe, even life. However, Revan realized that the Star Forge had lead to the ruination of the Rakata and only used it to create his military, though Malak saw this as weakness. Revan used his knowledge of the Republic military to devastate their forces as he began his campaign against them. He attacked shipyards and had various political figures assassinated, but did his best to keep the economy and military functional.

Thus, Revan could takeover and rebuild the Republic according to his own will. He formed a partnership with the Czerka Corporation, giving them a trade monopoly with his empire in exchange for their support. Revan also captured and corrupted as many Jedi as he could to the dark side, turning them into Sith assassins to serve his will. However, Malak had grown apart from Revan and eventually openly stated his master was not strong enough to be a Sith. A duel soon ensued that ended in Revan cutting off Malak's jaw, forcing him to wear a metal prosthesis from then on. Later on, he was lured into a trap by the Jedi, attacking a Republic fleet only to be attacked by a Jedi strike team aboard his flagship.

Revan managed to cut down some of them and Malak sensed his master was in danger, but chose to do nothing so that he could take over. Revan was defeated in the chaotic battle that followed, though he killed all but one of his attackers, the leader, Bastila Shan. Shan kept him alive, healing his wounds and forming a Force bond between the two of them. The Jedi wiped Revan's mind, giving him new memories as a soldier from Deralia.

Serving the Republic

Needing to defeat Malak and wanting to know where his fleet was being produced, the Jedi told Shan to draw out Revan's memories, while keeping his identity a secret. He began serving the Jedi and the Republic in his new identity, eventually receiving Jedi training himself to help stop Malak.

However, Revan continually had visions that were actually his former memories and eventually was told who he was by Malak when the two confronted each other. Their confrontation ended with Revan frozen by his former apprentice using the force, only surviving thanks to his Jedi companions. Finally, Revan lead the assault against Malak in the Star Forge and faced him in one final duel. He managed to strike his former apprentice down, who wondered aloud what might have happened if he had been the one captured by the Jedi. Revan apologized for starting Malak down the path of the dark side, but he'd chosen to pursue it. He then returned to the Republic, where he was honored alongside his companions.

In the dark side ending, Revan instead slaughtered his Jedi companions and after defeating Malak, he returned to Korriban, where he reclaimed position of Dark Lord of the Sith, aided by a dark side turned Bastila Shan. Revan used the Star Forge to unleash a limitless army on the Republic, annihilating it, only to mysteriously disappear soon afterwards. His Sith empire began to descend into unrest and found themselves unable to use the Star Forge with Shan deciding that he had never intended for anyone else to use it.

Torment by the Sith Empire and Fracture into Two

However, Revan was eventually driven to head back into the Unknown Regions to seek out a mysterious threat he only remembered vaguely. He was captured by Sith Lords, Darth Nyriss and Scourge, and imprisoned and tortured for months. Revan was eventually saved by Meetra Surik and escaped with her and Scourge, who he'd formed a somewhat close relationship with. Together, they went to confront Vitiate with Revan remembering how the emperor had brought about his own fall to darkness.

But the battle did not end well for Revan and he was imprisoned for centuries with Vitiate trying to mentally take knowledge of the Republic and the Jedi from him while also trying to sway him back to the dark side as the emperor's servant. However, he resisted the Sith's tortures but the process caused his mind and spirit to fracture. Finally, Revan was freed by Republic agents and began pursuing a means of ending the Emperor and the Sith forever. He discovered a cult dedicated to him known as the Revanites, from which he regained his mask, but wanted nothing to do with them, as he was no messiah or prophet.

Revan recovered HK-47, who'd been eagerly waiting for his return, and went to a Ratakan facility known as the Foundry he'd found long before. There, Revan began building an army of assassin droids led by HK-47, but his plans were disrupted by a strike team sent by the Sith. Defeated, Revan attempted to become one with the Force, but only succeeded partially. His light side did so, leaving a Revan consumed entirely by darkness and driven to madness. He assumed command of the Revanites and prepared to wipe out the Sith Empire once and for all, but decided he also needed to get rid of the Republic.

Threat of Dark Revan

Revan completely recreated the Revanites as fanatically loyal servants of his will, including members of both the Republic and the Sith Empire. Revan ordered his servants to create an "Infinite Army", using shards of the Star Forge on soldiers to grant them regeneration and super strength. However, Rian Darok and Darth Arkous were killed when a Republic and Imperial alliance attacked the Temple of the Ancients where the project was being performed.

Revan's ship appeared and he noted his disappointment at the loss of his Infinite Army, but bombarded the temple to try and kill his enemies. Revan continued with his plans, recruiting the Nova Blades pirates to attack Republic and Imperial patrols to try and provoke a confrontation between the two groups. The Revanites would then launch against the two fleets with their own warships, even creating a signal jammer to keep the fleets from contacting one another. Revan soon abandoned the Nova Blades after they'd served their purpose when they were attacked by a group including Theron Shan, Revan's descendant, who was captured by the Revanites. Revan interrogated Shan, trying to convince him to join him, but he refused and was eventually rescued by a rescue team. As he launched his trap on the Imperial and Republic fleets, Revan's jammer was destroyed much to his annoyance as it allowed them to receive warning of Revanite saboteurs on their ships.

Finally, Revan invaded Yavin 4 where the weakened Sith Emperor was supposedly hiding out. His Revanites overwhelmed the Imperial Guardsmen and captured the Temple of Sacrifice where the emperor planned to restore himself using a ritual. Revan was followed by the Republic-Imperial coalition, which sought to also defeat the Emperor. The former Sith Lord's attempt to perform the ritual were disrupted by his enemies and he retreated to a temple where the Emperor's spirit was hiding. He was pursued by the coalition's heroes and fought them, determined to confront Vitiate himself.

Finally, Revan was defeated and shocked and enraged when he realized the Emperor had regained his strength using the chaos from the battle on Yavin 4 and successfully left the planet. Revan was confronted by his spectral light half, who managed to rejoin with his dark side, making them whole again and allowing him to finally become one with the Force.

Legacy

Revan's death did not end his impact on the galaxy and his legacy would live on for centuries long after his death. In the aftermath of the New Sith Wars, the Sith Lord, Darth Bane, came across Revan's teachings and would form his own philosophies when it came to restructuring the Sith after it was destroyed at the hands of the Jedi and Republic once again. This would lead to the creation of the Rule of Two and it would remain the de-facto doctrine of the Sith Order for centuries as only two Sith would exist at a time, a master and an apprentice, and Revan's legacy would remain for years in the form of the Order of the Sith Lords. The Rule of Two would remain in place long after Revan had died, despite the fact that it was violated on several occasions, and it would remain that way until the formation of the One Sith in 30 ABY by Darth Krayt with the creation of the Rule of One, effectively replacing the Rule of Two. Despite this however, Revan's legacy persisted as Darth Wredd, a former One Sith member and renegade Sith Lord, defected from the One Sith and waged his own crusade to restore the Rule of Two, which ultimately costed him his life and the near-extinction of the Sith Order as a whole.

Blood Angels

The Blood Angels are one of the 20 First Founding Legions of the Space Marines and were originally the IXth Legion before the Second Founding broke the Legiones Astartes up into separate Chapters of 1000 Space Marines.

They are well-known across the galaxy for their bloodthirsty nature in battle, and feared for the curse of flawed gene-seed they carry. The Blood Angels are amongst the longest-living of the Adeptus Astartes, with some of the Chapter's Space Marines having served the Emperor of Mankind for over a thousand standard years.

Due to recent events, the Blood Angels' numbers were severely depleted. Under the threat of extinction, and in order to quickly replenish their numbers, the Blood Angels were forced to ask their kindred Successor Chapters from subsequent Astartes Foundings for a tithe of warriors from the related Chapters' pools of Neophytes, their candidate Space Marines.

With these tithes of new recruits, and the recent arrival of the Primaris Space Marines during the Indomitus Crusade, the Blood Angels were able to replenish their losses, though they still face a time of trial like none the Chapter has known since the days of the Horus Heresy.

The Blood Angels are the noble descendants of that most puissant and angelic of the primarchs - Sanguinius. They are perhaps one of the most celebrated Chapters in the entire Imperium, their countless heroic deeds and victories known to untold billions of the Emperor's subjects across the length and breadth of the galaxy. The beauteous, angelic visages of the Chapter's heroes adorn Gothic facades and stained glass windows in a million holy basilicas, and their portraits gaze serenely from endlessly copied and much cherished illuminated tomes.

Yet, hidden from the multitudes, the Blood Angels harbour a terrible curse. When their beloved Primarch was slain at the hands of the Arch-traitor Horus at the very height of the Horus Heresy, every Blood Angel was doomed to share a portion of the pain inflicted upon his flawless form. From that day forth, every Blood Angel has been tormented by visions of the last moment of Sanguinius. The older the Space Marine gets, the more frequent and debilitating such waking nightmares become. Should he not fall in battle, every Blood Angel will one day become so consumed by these soul-searing visions that he will descend into a madness in which he must witness the death of Sanguinius over and over again, ever unable to intervene as the Warmaster enacts his vile treachery.

The very inevitability of their curse ennobles the Battle-Brothers of the Blood Angels, driving them ever onwards to a glorious death in the name of the Emperor and their Primarch. Where lesser men might have surrendered to the dark urgings to shed the blood of the enemies of the Emperor, the Blood Angels have remained pure and noble for ten thousand standard years. Despite this, the Chapter is dying, for each year ever more of its brethren succumb to the so-called Red Thirst - the desire to rend limb from limb those responsible for the death of Sanguinius, and by extension every enemy of the Emperor.

The death of Sanguinius represents one of the most perfidious and tragic moments of the Horus Heresy, for he died at the hands of his brother-Primarch, the Arch-traitor Horus. Although some say that the sacrifice weakened the Warmaster just enough to allow the Emperor to later defeat him at the climax of the Siege of Terra, the death of Sanguinius is mourned to this day, and felt keenly by the Blood Angels, in whose veins his blood still pumps. When war calls and blood is spilled, the Blood Angels are gripped by a fury born of the last moments of their Primarch's life. For some, the thirst is too great and they are entirely overcome by what is called the Black Rage, cursed to end their days reliving their beloved Primarch's death over and over again.

The beatific Sons of Sanguinius are known and celebrated across the Imperium, representations of the greatest heroes of the Blood Angels carved in marble, painted in oils, and sewn in tapestries in a million cloisters and more. Their angel-winged Primarch is an object of veneration on countless worlds, his perfect visage gazing down on the faithful with a mixture of benevolence and pity. The Blood Angels are the inheritors of Sanguinius, and they bring death from above to the enemies of the Emperor.

The Chapter seeks the beauty of perfection in all it does, and in one particular field of warfare surpasses all other practitioners. While all Chapters of the Adeptus Astartes are masters of the Drop Pod and Thunderhawk assault, the Blood Angels have become synonymous with the flawless execution of the aerial assault.

They employ an entirely new pattern of vehicle of mysterious origins: the Stormraven gunship. This vessel appears as a lighter cousin of the Thunderhawk, and while its smaller size means it carries less weaponry and a smaller troop capacity, it greatly makes up for this in speed and manoeuvrability.

While the Adeptus Mechanicus took several standard centuries to examine and debate the use of the Standard Template Construct imprint of the gunship, the Blood Angels saw its worth immediately, and set about introducing it into their armoury.

Lately, the Chapter's Forge has been able to perfect its fabrication methods to such an extent that the gunship is now being used throughout the entire force. While the gunship is only just beginning to enter service in other Astartes Chapters, the Blood Angels are already masters of its use, and they have refined methods of aerial assault others are just beginning to learn.

The Blood Angels' doctrine of aerial assault culminates in savage close combat. Whether they are delivered into battle by Thunderhawk or Stormraven gunship, or in the troop bay of an armoured transport such as a Rhino, Razorback or Land Raider, the Blood Angels are all but peerless in their mastery of close assault. This is in part because the gene-seed of Sanguinius grants his sons an incredibly long life span even for Space Marines, during which endless solar hours of practise and countless battles hone their skills to perfection. Yet, the Blood Angels are not driven towards the fury of close assault by tactical necessity or battlefield doctrine alone.

The Chapter's reliance on blood and the need to cleanse it to keep the Flaw at bay exerts a strange and all but irresistible hold on the Blood Angels. In battle, the Blood Angels are drawn to spill the blood of their foes, and their ordinarily noble countenance can occasionally transform into twisted, rage-fuelled masks of savagery. This is referred to as the Red Thirst, and it is something that every Blood Angel experiences. For many, the Red Thirst is prelude to the ultimate expression of the Flaw, the Black Rage, in which the state becomes permanent and all-consuming.

The Blood Angels and their Successor Chapters are unique in that their gene-seed imposes an unusual, and ultimately tragic, flaw upon each Battle-Brother. For most Chapters, service begins as a neophyte, with the Initiate becoming ever more senior the more battles he survives until the few that remain are granted command of a company, become a specialist such as a Chaplain, or even become Master of the Chapter itself.

The Blood Angels experience an entirely different journey, though few outside of their ranks ever learn of it. The Blood Angels possess an almost supernaturally noble, almost saintly countenance, their features handsome and pure. This is all the more amazing because the Chapter recruits from the short and stunted men of the tribes of Baal, riddled with stigmata, lesions, and carcinoma caused by radiation poisoning. Their dramatic transformation into the saintly Neophytes is only made possible by arcane bloodrites.

Over a lifespan far longer than that of the average Astartes, the Blood Angel hones his skills, yet with each battle he experiences something more of the Flaw, the urge to spill the hot, steaming blood of his foes growing ever stronger. As it does so, the Battle-Brother is driven to spend longer periods of time purging his own bloodstream within the crimson embrace of his transfusion casket. After several standard centuries of service he must spend long solar hours within it, having every drop of his own blood scrubbed clean.

At some point, the Blood Angel is likely to feel the stirrings of something deeper, the rage descending not at the culmination of battle but before it. These are the first echoes of the Black Rage, and while most Blood Angels fall in combat long before succumbing to it, those who cannot hold it at bay are forced to enter the infamous Death Company.

Sanguinius

Sanguinius, also known as the "Great Angel" and the "Brightest One" during his lifetime, was the Primarch of the Blood Angels Legion of Space Marines. He was killed during the climax of the Horus Heresy at the Battle of Terra defending the Emperor of Mankind from the Warmaster Horus aboard his flagship, the Battle Barge Vengeful Spirit.

Though Horus slew Sanguinius, who had once been his closest and greatest friend amongst the other Primarchs, Imperial legend holds that it was the chink in Horus' armour created by the Angel that allowed the Emperor to slay the Arch-heretic and thus prevent Mankind from falling to the corruption of the Ruinous Powers of Chaos.

Lord Commander Dante

Commander Dante, sometimes called the "Lord of Angels" and "Bringer of Sanguinius' Light", is the current Chapter Master of the Blood Angels Space Marines Chapter, and has been the Chapter Master for 1,100 standard years. Dante's Power Armour incorporates a highly ornate golden death mask beneath his Iron Halo, called the Death Mask of Sanguinius, which is said to have been worn by and shaped to match the fear-inspiring features of Sanguinius, the Blood Angels' Primarch, at the moment of his death at the hands of the Archtraitor Horus.

He is believed to be the oldest living Loyalist Space Marine as he is currently over 1,500 standard years old, with the exception of those Space Marines sustained by the cybernetic technology of Dreadnoughts, the use of temporal stasis or other technological means of extending human life. Lord Commander Dante's exact age is unknown, but is approximately 1,547 Terran years.

Following the victory of the Blood Angels Chapter and their Successors in the Tyranid Hive Fleet Leviathan's assault upon their homeworld of Baal, the Primarch Roboute Guilliman, the Lord Commander of the Imperium, declared Dante to be the Regent of the Imperium Nihilus. This made Dante the effective ruler of the entire half of the Imperium cut off from Terra on the other side of the Great Rift.

The Sanguinor

The Sanguinor, also known as the Exemplar of the Host, is a mysterious entity of unknown origin that is associated with the Blood Angels Space Marines Chapter, and has been named after Sanguinius, the Blood Angels' martyred Primarch. Not much is known about his origins, and what information does exist is really nothing more than speculation by the Chapter's Librarium and several Imperial scholars well-versed in the lore of the Adeptus Astartes.

The Sanguinor often appears during the Blood Angels' periods of greatest need, usually during a combat situation. To many among the Battle-Brothers of the Chapter he is no more than a myth, as few ever survive the battles where he has manifested, but the initiates of the Blood Angels' Reclusiam know differently, having kept detailed records of his manifestations down through the centuries. While the Sanguinor's deeds are unquestioned, there has always been much debate concerning his origin and identity.

The members of the Blood Angels' Chapter Council argue that the Sanguinor is the manifestation of Sanguinius' own better nature, his nobility that kept his darkness in check, lost to the Chapter with his death at the hands of Horus aboard the Warmaster's Battle Barge during the climax of the Battle of Terra. The Sanguinary Guard do not believe that the Sanguinor is the Chapter's Primarch but that he is Azkaellon, the original founder of the Sanguinary Guard, who has been preserved beyond time by the divine will of the Emperor.

So great is the Sanguinor's legend that it has long ago passed beyond the Blood Angels Chapter, and has served to exacerbate the discomfort felt towards the Blood Angels by certain sections of the Imperium. The Inquisition's savants have their own opinions about the matter, theorising that the Sanguinor is some sort of psychic construct born of the Warp through the collective desires and needs of Blood Angels Space Marines when groups of them are under extreme duress. Others hold that he is an empyric manifestation of some darker sort. This only further supports the beliefs of some members of the Inquisition that the Blood Angels as a Chapter have come perilously close to mutation, corruption and ultimately heresy.

Whatever the reality of the matter, the Sanguinor is an honoured part of the heritage of the Blood Angels Chapter, as integral to their identities as servants of the Emperor of Mankind as the rest of their traditions and rituals, an honoured figure of hope in a time of darkness and woe.

Planet Baal

Baal is the nominal homeworld of the Blood Angels Chapter of the Adeptus Astartes located in the Baal System of the Segmentum Ultima. Baal itself is a dry, dusty Desert World, scarcely inhabited by anyone other than mutants and feral animals. However its two moons, Baal Prime and Baal Secundus, support notable human settlements and were once "paradises for mortal men" though now they are classified as savage Feral Worlds by the Imperium.

Little is known about the past circumstances of these two moons, but at some time in the distant past, probably during the Dark Age of Technology or the Age of Strife, a cataclysmic conflict arose and led to the widespread use of both viral and nuclear weapons of mass destruction, destroying the ecosystems of both satellites and contaminating their biospheres with intense radioactive fallout, chemical pollution and deadly biological agents.

The mighty fortress-monastery of the Blood Angels, the Arx Angelicum, was built on the desert surface of the world of Baal proper, and since the time of Sanguinius, the Blood Angels have continued to recruit from among the tribes of the people known as "the Blood" on Baal Secundus and Baal Prime, where a human colony was reestablished shortly after the time of the Horus Heresy.

---

The creatures and energy and fire blasted Dr. Sevarius and

Paradigm all over the place with incredible fury and power and burned them all over.

Paige: And now for this one. BLOOD STYLE NINJA ART: RED THIRST!

Paige fired a wave of blood and it formed into the Blood Angels afflicted with the savage red thirst.

---

One of the genetic flaws of the Blood Angels Space Marine Chapter is a vampiric craving for blood, known as the Red Thirst.

The Blood Angels and all the Space Marines of their Successor Chapters generally have pale skin, moderately elongated eye teeth and a strong urge to drink the blood of their enemies which can grow stronger over the solar decades of their service, eventually causing degeneration into uncontrollable madness.

These genetic traits have also been passed on to the Blood Angels' most well-known Successor Chapters, including the Flesh Tearers, Blood Drinkers, and Angels Sanguine.

Deep within the psyche of every Blood Angel and every bearer of their Primarch Sanguinius' genetic legacy is a destructive yearning, a battle fury and blood-hunger that must be held in abeyance in every waking moment.

Few battle-brothers can hold this Red Thirst in check unceasingly - it is far from unknown for Blood Angels to temporarily succumb to its lure at the height of battle.

The Red Thirst is the Blood Angels' darkest secret and greatest curse, but it is also their greatest salvation, for it brings with it a humility and understanding of their own failings which make them truly the most noble of the Space Marines.

The fate of those unfortunates overtaken completely by the Red Thirst is known only to the Chapter itself. There are tales of a secret chamber atop the Tower of Amareo on Baal in their fortress-monastery complex of the Arx Angelicum, and of howling cries that demand the blood of the living, but none are willing to say for certain what secrets lie hidden in that haunted, desolate place.

There have been incidents when the Blood Angels have been stationed on distant worlds where members of the local population have gone missing only to turn up later drained of blood. It is possible that this is the work of cultists seeking to discredit the Chapter.

It may even be that some of the more superstitious local citizens have taken to offering up sacrifices to their godlike visitors. It may also be possible that these folk have been killed by Blood Angels overcome by the Red Thirst.

History

All Space Marines are a dim reflection of the greatness of their individual primarchs, for they are the inheritors of their gene-father's genetic legacy. Unknown to the Sons of Baal, there was a hidden flaw in the genetic matrix of the Blood Angels Legion's gene-seed.

Within Sanguinius' own genotype there was a trait that lay buried and waited to be awakened. During the Great Crusade, this strange affliction began to manifest, affecting some of the Blood Angels Legionaries over the course of several solar decades.

The story was always the same - a warrior of the IX Legion in the throes of battle eventually succumbed to a rage that continued to build and build until his reason was lost. When a Blood Angels battle-brother succumbed to this affliction, his Humanity would be stripped away until only his feral core remained and all the blood-crazed Astartes wanted to do was kill and kill, satiating himself with blood and more blood.

At the end, at the very worst of it, he lost every last piece of himself, until death was a kindness. Fortunately, only a handful of Astartes had been afflicted over the course of two Terran centuries of continuous conflict. Most would perish in battle without anyone taking note of their growing insanity.

But if their degeneration became noticeable, then Sanguinius himself, or the Sanguinary Guard's commander Azkaellon, would usually be the one to end the life of the afflicted battle-brother. Yet, in the closing days of the Great Crusade, the outbreaks of this affliction began to occur more often. Sanguinius feared that, in time, this affliction would grow to encompass every member of the IX Legion.

Sanguinius had been aware of the Flaw in his genome for several years, keeping the truth from the Emperor and his fellow primarchs. He could not speak of this to any of the others, for to do so would diminish his Legion in the eyes of his brothers and the Imperium.

Some of his brother primarchs would see it as a weakness and seek to turn this truth against him. Sanguinius was afraid to confide in his father the Emperor for he could not take the risk of being responsible for the erasure of the Blood Angels from Imperial history like the II and XI Legions.

He was determined to not see a third empty plinth erected beneath the roof of the Hegemon in the Imperial Palace on Terra as the IX Legion's only memorial.

Sanguinius continued to search for a solution but continued to fail in this endeavour. Some of the Angel's sons had learned a measure of the truth, but only Azkaellon, First Captain Raldoron, the IX Legion's Master Apothecary on Baal and a few others were fully aware of the extent of this affliction.

They were united with Sanguinius in finding a way of repairing this flaw, but ultimately this quest proved futile before the tragedy of the Horus Heresy swept away all other concerns.

As a result, from the day of their Sanguination to their death on the battlefield, the Blood Angels and their successors fight not only with countless foes but with a burning urge inside them. This is the Red Thirst, the legacy of their Primarch Sanguinius, that plagues many Blood Angels with visions of death.

In battle Blood Angels can harness these visions to evoke a ferocity that gives the Blood Angels Chapter its reputation for unparalleled brutal assaults. Sometimes, however, the Red Thirst is so overwhelming that the Blood Angels forget their noble heritage and completely lose control over themselves.

It is not unheard of for Blood Angels squads to abandon advantageous positions to engage the enemy in hand-to-hand combat. More often than not these assaults turn out to be so devastating that unprepared enemy forces are simply swept away.

The Red Thirst is one of two genetic flaws to be found in the gene-seed of the Blood Angels and their Successor Chapters. Those who succumb to the Red Thirst or the other known flaw, the Black Rage, are either formed into the Death Company or locked away in the Tower of the Lost on Baal, until they succumb completely to a roiling, uncontrollable insanity.

These traits have also been passed on to the Blood Angels' many Successor Chapters. One such Successor, the Lamenters, managed by unknown means to eliminate the flaws from Sanguinius' gene-seed, but has been stricken by extraordinary bad luck in battle and were nearly annihilated before receiving Primaris Space Marine reinforcements during the Indomitus Crusade.

They bit Dr. Sevarius and sucked out most of his blood.

Liberty: And try this one! NIGHT SOUL QUETZALCOATL BLAST!

Liberty fired a blast of dark magic and it formed into the deadly feathered serpent Quetzalcoatl and it smashed into both of them and knocked them around all over the place.

Me: Time for some teamwork on these two fuckups!

Skids: Roger that boss!

Raven: Lets do it.

Skids used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Raven used the Azarath Cyber Planet Key and they enhanced Skids' Electron Gun and Raven's dark powers 100-fold.

Vortex used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Amorpho used the Ghost Zone Cyber Planet Key and they enhanced Vortex's glue gun and Amorpho's ghost powers 100-fold.

Skids and Raven: DARK LIGHTNING MEGABLAST OF AZARATH!

Skids fired a massive blast of lightning and Raven fired a massive blast of dark energy.

Vortex and Amorpho: STICKY ECTORAY MEGABLAST!

Vortex fired a massive wave of glue and Amorpho fired a wave of ectoenergy.

Devon Michaels and Troy Burrows: MEGA CHEETAH FIRESTORM!

Ravi Shaw and Noah Carver: MEGA GORILLA MAELSTROM!

Gia Moran and Zoey Reeves: MEGA JACKRABBIT EARTHQUAKE!

Jake Holling and Nate Silva: MEGA MANTIS THUNDERSTRIKE!

Emma Goodall and Steel: MEGA SCARAB WINDSTORM!

Robo Knight and Lucy Loud: MEGA LION ECLIPSE!

They fired waves of energy and elemental power. The blasts all combined and they slammed into Dr. Sevarius and Paradigm and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Time to finish you two off. You will soon be joining your brothers in Hell.

Goliath: I've had it with you all for messing around with nature!

Goliath, Brooklyn, Demona, Alicia, Lexington, Broadway, Hudson, Elisa and the Goths of Darkness: DARKSTORM MEGABLAST SUPERSTORM!

They fired waves of darkness and the blasts all combined and slammed into the two crazed scientists and completely obliterated them both in a massive explosion!

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: That's it for those fucked up cretins.

The Masters of Evil came.

Me: Well that takes care of those scientists.

Nico: Yep.

Vanitas: Well, I guess that's the end of the Paradigm Brothers.

Brooklyn: Maybe. But there are still some people out there who got gene slammed.

Katnappe: Well, we actually don't know where to find every one of them.

William: That's fine. We're fine with finding them one at a time.

Captain Cold: Well, if you need any help with that, let us know.

Torch Man: We can do that.

The Masters of Evil teleport out and we were back on Earth.

Nico: Now we have to send a message to Sartorius.

Me: And I know just where to find him. I'll be right back.

I teleported and went to the Obelisk White Dorm and it was now back. I went to Sartorius's room and he was enraged.

Sartorius: THAT FUCKING J.D. KNUDSON! He is ruining all of my plans! I will make him see the light!

Me: And it's only gonna get worse for you from here on out.

Sartorius saw me.

I was then enveloped in a pitch-black aura of darkness and Sartorius was enveloped in a white aura of light.

Me: It's been a long time Sartorius. Almost 3 years have passed since we fought the last time.

Sartorius: It has been a while hasn't it.

Me: Indeed. But I'm not here to fight you. I'm here to deliver a message.

Sartorius: Very well. What is your message?

Me: My message is this: When we fight, you had better come at me with everything you got. Because I'm going to kill you like I did before. And just for the record, I'm not the same as I was when we fought the first time. I'm now far more powerful than ever before and I've gotten much stronger since then.

Sartorius: So you have.

Me: You aren't the first person to try to rule the universe with a sword of injustice. They all failed and so will you.

We looked at each other with incredible fury and hatred. My eyes were filled with the power of the Darkness of Justice and Sartorius's eyes were filled with the Light of Destruction. The skies above Duel Academy and the Ocean stormed up and lightning struck everywhere and waves of water formed everywhere as our power was building at a massive level.

Me: I've spent years preparing for the day I would face you again. I've come a long way Sartorius. And my friends will help me destroy you once and for all.

Sartorius: Then you will join them in the Light.

Me: Darkness will destroy you for good. Keep sending all of your minions one by one because when we fight, you had better be ready.

Sartorius looked at me with overconfidence and malevolence.

Me: You will pay for your crimes just like you did before.

I teleported out.

I was back in the estate.

Nico: How did it go?

Me: He'll be ready for us. War between Darkness and Light is coming.

Nico: This battle could tear the entire universe apart.

Laney: Yeah.

Goliath: (To the viewers) Science is amazing. But people that abuse and tamper with the laws of Mother Nature will be in a lot of trouble when they have to deal with us.

Me: You said it Goliath.

After this whole fight we had the FBI and Interpol placed on High Alert for any mad scientists out there all over the world and in a matter of days, we had them all arrested, their experiments and research and experiments were destroyed and they were either sentenced to prison for eternity or executed by capital punishment.

---

Another chapter all finished.

Anton Sevarius is a really bad mad scientist from Gargoyles and Tim Curry did a great job voicing him. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is a land version of the SpongeBob Episode The Battle Of Bikini Bottom and it's gonna be a battle between clean and filthy as Lana and Lola duke it out to see which is better: Being Clean or Being Filthy.

See you all tomorrow.

The Battle of Royal Woods

In the endless voids of space, the U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix was flying towards a new destination.

Me: Captain's Log, Stardate 2841.2: The U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix is en route to another Earth located in another part of the galaxy that is in danger of being incinerated by a massive and catastrophically destructive super solar flare. Over 6.841 billion people are in danger of being incinerated. Our mission is to save all those people before the sun completely destroys that version of Earth forever.

Nico: This is bad. I remember watching something like this happen in the 2009 movie Knowing. That was so horrifying.

Me: I remember seeing that.

Lisa Loud: That movie was a terrifying movie but it is highly unlikely that our own sun will have a superflare of that kind of magnitude.

Me: You're right about that Lisa. There is no definitive evidence that shows that our Sun has had a Superflare of any kind or size of that magnitude over the course of its 10 billion year history. But if it did. We would have to evacuate the entire planet.

Nico: We sure would.

Laney: Yeah and I remember watching that movie. It was horrible that the planet would be destroyed by the sun like that.

Lucy Loud: It's awful.

Lola: J.D. I am picking up a massive spike in solar particles.

Me: We must be really close. On screen.

The screen turned on and it showed another version of the sun releasing a massive blast of solar energy. We were shocked in horror!

Lola: WHOA!

Nico: What power!

Vince: Scans show that was a 100 billion microtesla megablast of radiation and solar wind.

Me: Unbelievable! This is the first time we've ever seen a Solar Flare of this magnitude. Raise Radiation Shields and set Simultaneous Transporters to full power! Red Alert!

The alarms sounded and we went in and we were orbiting above another planet Earth. The radiation shields were up and we were ready.

Me: Activate transporters.

Nico: Energize!

Sakura Haruno: Energizing.

Sakura activated the transporters and beamed many people on board along with all their things.

Me: Keep those people coming, we got to get everyone and every living thing on the planet out of there.

Sakura Haruno: Right!

The transporters beamed everyone and everything on the planet into rooms, houses and habitats on the ship like mad and we were getting everyone out of there.

I appeared on tv's in their rooms.

Me: People of Earth, do not be frightened or alarmed. We mean you all no harm. We are Team Loud Phoenix Storm and my name is J.D. Knudson, and we came from our Earth to get you to our Earth for safety and a new home. Think of us as a rescue ark for your hour of need. You are all on our ship the U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix. We have lots of colonies set up in orbit around our planet for you all to call home. We are terribly sorry for what has happened to your planet but we're gonna give you all a home again. It's the least we can do after we found out everything that happened to your homes and everything.

Everyone cheered wildly.

After everyone was beamed onto the ship we took off from the alternate Earth and we looked back and we saw in sheer horror as the planet was being completely incinerated in minutes.

Me: My God.

Nico: That is horrible.

Laney: I can't believe that our planet would suffer a terrible fate like this.

Lana: No kidding.

Jared: Yeah.

Me: Good thing we arrived just in the nick of time.

Lola: Yeah.

We left for our Earth and we saw the Earth we rescued all the people from reduced to dust. Should an event like this ever happen in the future, we have to be ready for it. We had to learn from this and be prepared for an event like this should it ever happen to our planet Earth. We must have a planetwide evacuation plan. Cataclysmic events like Superflares, Asteroid Impacts, rogue planets and more, we have to be ready for anything.

---

Later the next day, Jack Spicer woke up and he felt himself tied up and he saw that he was in someone else's basement. He saw a kid in the shadows. Some kid just locked Spicer in the basement storage area of his old hideout.

Spicer: Kid, why the Hell did you just lock me in here?

Kid: You don't recognize me, do you?

Spicer: Uh-no. Why should- (eyes widen) Oh my God. You're the kid from the lobby when I was the hotel doorman.

Max: Yeah. You told my dad on me and got me grounded.

Spicer: Right. Look I'm really sorry, but-

Max: It's too late for sorry. Now you're grounded, monkey.

Spicer: WHAT DID YOU JUST CALL ME!?

Max ignored him and he was playing video games.

Spicer: Come on, kid. I've suffered enough. Let me out of here.

Max: (playing game on phone) Uh, I'm trying to focus on this game.

Spicer: All right. If you don't let me out of here in the next 30 seconds, I'm gonna tell the cops that you kept me prisoner in here and then you're gonna be in more trouble than you- (Max sprays him with water pistol) Hey! Wait. Is this water?

Max: You'll wish it was water.

Spicer: Dude, I got to get out of here. So just tell me what you want, okay? You want money, power, an ostrich?

Max: I want you to suffer the way I suffered.

Spicer: What?

Max: You got me grounded for two days. So that's how long I'm gonna keep you in there.

But then Max's dad came.

French Narrator: (French Accent) 2 days later.

Max's dad: Hello? Max? You down here? (sees him) There you are.

Max: Hi, daddy.

Spicer: Oh, thank God, you're here. Your son, he trapped me and kept me locked in here for the past two days.

Max: Did not.

Spicer: You did too. And he squirted me with fluids.

Max's dad: Is that true?

Max: No!

Max's dad: Max?

Max: Ok, yes.

Max's dad: Okay, that's it. You're grounded.

He grabbed Max by the ear and he yelped in pain as he was being pulled.

Max: Dad!

Max's dad: No arguments. You come with me right now.

Spicer: (they both walk away) Yeah. Ha, ha, ha, ha! Who's grounded now, Maxie? Whoops, you are. It's not so funny when… Wait, wait. No. I'm still locked in here. Somebody help!

Back at the estate we were worried about Spicer.

Me: Where is Jack? He should've been back.

Lisa Loud: I believe that he has been abducted. But luckily I can find out where he is at. [she pulls out a tracking radar] I recently implanted a tracking chip in both our parental units.

[The siblings and us look at Lisa rather suspiciously.]

Lucy: "A tracking chip? You didn't put those in us, did you?"

[Unbeknownst to them, there's a little blinking light emitting from them, indicating Lisa did indeed implant tracking devices on them. Lisa looks at her tracking radar, and sees red dots (which represent her siblings and us) blinking onscreen, prompting her to press a button to make the tracking chips stop beeping. She succeeds, and Lincoln scratches his chin.]

Lisa: [wickedly] Noooo…

I looked at my hand and saw that there was indeed a tracking chip inside my hand.

Me: I was wondering what that little light was inside me. She put tracer chips inside us. Lisa we're gonna have to have a little talk about this when we get back. Lets find Spicer.

We flew out to find him.

We followed his signal and we found him at Max's house and we went down into the basement and saw him tied up.

Me: Jack!

We went over to him.

Maria: Oh my God! Jack! Are you ok?!

Spicer: Boy am I glad to see you guys.

We cut him free.

Me: How did you get like this?

Spicer: That kid I got in trouble at the hotel where I worked at was after revenge and he was gonna make sure I suffered for two days.

Me: That little boy did this to you? How?

Spicer: I don't really know. I was minding my own business walking down the street and then I felt a poke here on my butt and then I was knocked out.

Me: And I think I found it.

I pulled out a small tranquilizer dart.

Spicer: A tranquilizer dart.

I sniffed the needle.

Me: It's full of horse tranquilizer. A big dose of it.

Nico: No kidding. That kid that kidnapped you really has some psychological issues.

Laney: He needs to go to a psychiatric institute.

Lynn: When I get my hands on that fucking parasite, I'm going to rip his fucking head off and then disembowel him and use his intestines as a jumprope!

Lola: Lynn down!

We later left and went back to the estate and got Jack some food and water and a nice hot bath.

Later we were watching TV and Lynn was in deep thought.

Lynn: Hmm.

Laney: What are you thinking about Lynn?

Lynn: Oh I'm thinking about what my evil version of myself would've been like if something else happened to her.

Lynn had a thought cloud appear and we were watching it.

The Loud's were all at the beach and Lincoln was not looking good as he was wearing a squirrel suit.

Lynn: Hey that's the school mascot suit for the Squirrels.

Laney: Yeah.

Dream Lynn: "LINCOLN! KEEP THE SUIT ON! WE NEED IT FOR GOOD LUCK! WE COULD GET EATEN BY SHARKS!"

Dream Lincoln: "Lynn! How can you get sharks in this part of the country!?"

Dream Lynn: "JUST KEEP THE STUPID SUIT ON OR ELSE I'LL KNOCK YOUR HEAD CLEAN OFF! NOW PUT IT ON!"

(Dream Lincoln and Lynn then get into a fistfight until Dream Lincoln grabs her hair and suddenly it comes off, revealing her blonde hair!)

Dream Lynn: "Uh oh!"

Me: Blonde hair?

Nico: Lynn doesn't have blonde hair.

The Dream Loud Family: "Huh?"

Dream Laney: Since when does Lynn have blonde hair?

Dream Lynn Sr: "Junior? When did you dye your hair blonde?"

Dream Lynn: "I… uhhhhh… well… uhhhh… IT WAS LINCOLN'S BAD LUCK! HE CAUSED ALL THIS! HE'S NOTHIN' BUT BAD LUCK! HE'S MAD I TELL YOU! I-

(The family hears sirens and then a police car and a van from the nuthouse arrives. Suddenly Dream Pop-pop and a girl that looks exactly like Lynn, covering herself with a blanket, steps out)

Real Dream Lynn: "THAT'S HER! THAT'S HER, SHERIFF! That's the crazy bitch who locked me up in the basement at baseball camp and stole my life! (to her family) She fooled all of you! I'm the real Lynn Loud Jr.! She's an imposter, a fraud, a fake, and worse, she's no Loud!"

Loud Family: "WHAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA?!"

(Everyone looks at the imposter Dream Lynn)

Fake Dream Lynn: "Yeah?… So?

Lazlo: Where have I seen this before?

(The Sheriff walks over to the fake dream Lynn and puts her in a straitjacket)

Fake Dream Lynn: "What're you doing? HEY! WHAT THE-? GET YOUR HANDS OFF OF ME!

Dream Albert: "Lynn just walked up to my room at the retirement home. I was surprised to see her, I thought you guys went to the beach. So she told me what had happened and I got a call from Mr. Grouse telling me about this Good and Bad Luck hoo-hah. I called the Sheriff to straighten the whole mess out".

Dream Rita: "Oh. (turns to Dream Lincoln) Hey, sorry about that Lincoln."

Dream Lori: "Yeah, we've been really selfish lately".

Dream Luna: "Can you forgive us?"

Dream Lincoln: "Well, I did lie just to get some down time. So okay."

(The Dream Loud Family hugs it out as the Fake Lynn gets dragged away)

Fake Dream Lynn: "I'll get you for this Loud!"

Real Dream Lynn: "That's Lynn Loud Jr. to you!"

(The Fake Dream Lynn gets thrown into the nuthouse van and she shouts as she's dragged away)

Fake Dream Lynn: "I'M A GENIUS I TELL YOU! I'M A GENIUS!

Dream Leni: "Bye Fake Lynn! Well I think this all went well.

Dream Lola: "Leni! We just made fools of ourselves, committed child neglect and forced our brother to wear a stupid costume, and the girl we thought was our sister was actually an imposter that just got hauled off as a deranged lunatic to the funny farm."

Dream Leni: "The Funny Farm? Oh, can I come? There must be a lotta funny things over there."

Dream Lola: "Oh there are."

Dream Lynn Sr: "Well at least things can't get any weirder."

POOF!

The thought cloud vanished.

Lynn: Geez!

Lazlo: That's exactly what happened to Scoutmaster Lumpus before he was taken away.

Raj: (Indian Accent) It was a most unexpected sight.

Clam: Insane.

Me: I think that's how the Bad Luck Karma Nightmare should've turned out.

Nico: Yeah.

Carol: But what that insane version of Lynn did was terrible.

Me: Yeah.

Lynn: But she gave me a really bad name. Good riddance.

Lazlo: But that is a very strong sense of déjà vu of what happened there.

Nico: Yeah.

---

Later Lana and Lola was walking around the park.

Lana: There has to be something fun around here.

Lola: Yeah.

Lana: Hey what's going on there.

They saw a bunch of people wearing historical clothes like in a war from long ago.

Lana: Wow. [walk in the fields]

Lola: Look at these guys!

Lana: Yeah.

Lola: Wow! I like these outfits. Hey, sir, where did you and your friends get your matching outfits?

Bill: Oh, no, these aren't my friends. In fact, I hate just about everyone here, but my love for historical battles is so great, I join these losers every year to re-enact the Battle of Royal Woods.

Lola: The Battle of Royal Woods? Didn't that happen a long time ago?

Bill: Yep.

Lola: I didn't know about that. [Lana and Bill gasp in shock]

Lana: Well, duh, Lola. It's only the most significant event in Royal Woods history! It was long before Royal Woods became Gotham Royal York. A long time ago, the town was divided into 2 groups [shows flashback of a man washing his hands] Those who spent all their time washing their hands like softies [shows a man cleaning his hands]

Nathiel Waters: Clean as a whistle!

Lana: And those who had more important things to do with their time. [a Colonial version of Lana comes out of a bathroom with filthy hands]

Colonial Lana: That looks good enough to me. [walks away]

Nathiel: That is truly disgusting!

Colonial Lana: [comes back after hearing that] Oh, yeah?

Nathiel: You can't go around our town touching things with those filthy mitts!

Colonial Lana: Oh, yeah?!

Nathiel: Yes! [Lana slaps him with a glove and they begin fighting; a battleground is shown, with one cannon being filled with filth, and the other with soap bars]

Red Group: Wash your hands!

Blue Group: Never! [the battle begins with the groups firing at each other. Flashback ends]

Lana: And that's how we won our right to wash as we please. [She shows her filthy hands]

Bill: [disgusted] Oh, that's not what happened. [walks away]

Lola: [looking disturbed] I know you like being filthy Lana but you don't wash your hands?!

Lana: Never have, never will.

Lola: EEEEWWW!

THAT IS HEPATITIS WAITING TO HAPPEN!

Lana: Does that bother you, huh, Lola? [flashback starts] They only had one ice cream cone. [has a scoop of ice cream in his hand]

Lola: Well that's okay. Thank you sis. [licks it off Lana's hand. another flashback, with them eating at a restaurant. swallows food] So, anyway, I said…

Lana: [interrupts] Oh, wait. You've got something on your tongue.

Lola: I do? Really?

Lana: Here, I'll get it. [grabs Lana's tongue and takes a piece of meat off it]

Lola: Thank you. [flashback ends] Frankly, yes, Lana, that does bother me. You know how I like to be clean and perfect.

Lana: I do. But well then I guess we can't be friends.

Lola: I'm your twin sister Lana.

Lana: I know. But still…

Lola: Oh, come on, we can work this out. We'll start a new life, just you, me, and this can of disinfectant spray. [sprays all around her, making a spray house] Come on in, Lana. Here, let me take your pants for you. [takes off Lana's pants, which reveals filth on her arms and shirt]

Lana: No, thank you. [Pulls Lola back toward her by the hand and takes back her pants] I happen to like my various smells and germs.

Lola: But being clean is so much better.

Lana: Well, says you. I like dirty.

Lola: Clean!

Lana: Dirty!

Lola: Clean!

Harold: Excuse us, but we have a battle to re-enact.

Lola: Fine, if that's how it is, then [tears off Fred's red outfit] I am joining the other side!

Lana: [tears off Harold's blue outfit] Fine, me too!

Harold: Ah, come on! Let's go play somewhere else.

[cuts to Lana looking through binoculars; Lola sneaks up on her and gets her "nose"]

Lola: Ha! Got your nose!

Lana: Hey, give it back!

Lola: Not until you wash your hands!

Lana: Oh, yeah? Well [takes Lola's eyes] I got your eyeballs! [giggles as she runs with them, but she soon sees that they are bombs, which squirt water out. Lola gets eyeballs back and laughs.]

[cuts to scene where Lana forms a cannon of ice and she blasts her brain at Lola like a cannonball]

SPLAT!

Lola: [screams] Eww, brain juice!

Lana: [puts brain back in her head] Do you give up yet?

Lola: Sorry, Lana [wipes herself off], but a filthy sister slob like you is no match for a clean-cut princess like me.

Lana: Your dress is starting to falling down.

Lola: Really?

Lana: I'll fix it. [Stretches Lola's dress, filling it up with dirt, then yanks her underwear, making Lola squish up with dirt]

Lola: Satisfied?

Lana: There, you look good now.

Lola: You could use a makeover, though. Ugh, look at those feet.

Lana: Why, what's wrong with them? [shows that her feet are filthy.]

Lola: Don't worry, I'll take care of it. [attacks Lana and starts doing a pedicure on her toenails]

Lana: No! Not a pedicure! [screams] No, no, not that, anything but tha- [screams] Nail polish?! [shows her feet look better]

Her feet are many times better and they have periwinkle blue nail polish on.

Lana: You sick little monster! But my toenails do look good with blue nail polish. Face my morning breath!

[Lana inhales deeply and then exhales her foul breath, making Lola break]

Lana's breath smelled like 1,000 corpses rotting with filth.

Lola: You, little missy, could use some dental hygiene! [pulls out a toothbrush and toothpaste]

Lana: Who, me? My teeth are fine, see? [shows her teeth are nasty and decaying]

YUCK! LANA YOU ARE ONE DISGUSTING KID!

Lola: A little toothpaste, and you'll have teeth like mine. [shows Lola's pearly white perfect teeth.]

DING!

Lola: [Lana screams and runs away, with Lola jumping onto her and brushes her teeth] You got to brush in little circles! [laughs]

Lana: [throws her off] Minty fresh! Taste pit, evildoer! [Lana's armpit hairs fly out to grab Lola and rub her on Lana's armpit, getting Lola's face very filthy]

FOGHORN!

Lola: You're a stinky, stinky girl Lana and I thought Lynn smelled horrible after her games. I think you could use a shot of… this! [shows deodorant spray]

Lana: No! No, not… not deodorant! [Lola sprays the can. Lana screams and runs away, but the spray kills her hairs and the smell.] [sniffs her armpit] My beautiful pit stink, it's gone! The gloves are off now. It's booger time!

Lola: YOU WOULDN'T DARE!

SHE WOULDN'T DARE!

Lana: Oh, yes I would! [Lana picks her nose]

SHE WOULD!

Lola: [screams] Booger! [Screams] [runs to Lynn's Table, with Lana behind her] Run, daddy! Lana is digging for gold! [they run into the kitchen]

Lynn Sr.: Gold?

George: I don't think it's that kind of gold Lynn.

[cuts to the kitchen]

Lana: Ha! I got you now!

Lola: [looks around and sees a knife and two onions] Careful, Lana, I got a weapon! [throws the two onions at Lana's eyes]

Lana: [screams] Raw onions?! [starts crying]

WHAT A BABY

Lana: That does it! [picks up a Burger Patty] See this?

Lola: A burger pattie? What are you going to do, eat it raw?

Lana: Oh, I'm not going to eat it. [pulls it apart and puts the burger pattie on her feet]

Lola: No, not patty socks!

Lana: That's right, dad's precious patties on my stinky feet! [starts stomping around]

Lola: You better stop that!

Lana: [laughs] Stinky, little feet! [stomps and hops around]

Lola: [getting angry] You stop that right now! [She turns red and explodes into flames and inflates angrily]

Lana: Hopping… [Lola blows up and sends Lana flying]… Filth

Bombs! [she lands in a dumpster and gets out] Hey, I got my filth back!

Lana: Not for long, Ms. Stinky-Shorts! You won't have your filth once I use this on you! [shows a soap bar and loads it into a squirt gun]

Lana: [terrified] No, not soap! You wouldn't dare!

Lola: Try me!

Lana: [lifts up the dumpster] Stay back, I'll do it!

Lola: It's too late for that! [Lola starts shooting soapy water out of the squirt gun at Lana, while Lana throws the dumpster at Lola. The blasts of soap and water hit Lana, and Lola laughs in victory, only to have the dumpster fall on her]

SPLAT!

Lana: [now clean] My beautiful filth! It's gone! I'm squeaky clean!

Lola: [climbs out of dumpster and is quite filthy] I'm covered in muck and scum!

Lana: Man, to get my filth back, I'll have to wallow in mud forever!

Lola: It'll take weeks for me to get clean. I'll need twenty baths a day!

Lana: Slather toe jam on my armpits?

Lola: I'll have to disinfect my eyeballs!

Lana: Smear slime on my teeth?

Lola: And dry-clean my uvula!

But then Lana and Lola got enraged with eyes glowing red with rage growling ferociously and they really went at each other with vicious power! They were brutally fighting each other in a vicious fight cloud.

Later at the estate we were watching TV and reading books and then a news report came on.

News Reporter announcer: We interrupt this program to bring you this urgent report!

News Reporter: This just in, two 6 year old girls are going at it and pulverizing each other with dirt and soap. They are getting much of the city covered all over with soap and bubbles and dirt, mud and filth. Someone please stop them.

Me: That's Lana and Lola!

William: Lori! Lynn! You two head out there and convince Lola and Lana to stop this!

Lynn: Why us?

Nico: Well, you two are the other 2 members of the Trinity of Violence.

Lynn: Well you're right about that. Lets go.

Me: And we'll go with you.

We went out to the city and it was a mess!

Nico: What a mess!

Laney: No kidding.

?: Let us help you all.

We turned and we saw RED X, ATOMIC SKULL, BEAUTIFUL GORGEOUS, SKULKER and THE GHOST!

Beautiful Gorgeous

Georgia Calamitous, better known as Beautiful Gorgeous, is the secondary antagonist of The Adventures of Jimmy Neutron: Boy Genius. She is Professor Calamitous's daughter.

She was voiced by Wendie Malick, who also Omnara in Static Shock, and Dr. Price in Batman Beyond.

Gorgeous first appeared in the two-part episode "Operation: Jet Fusion", when Jimmy and his friends, Carl and Sheen, were assigned to save a secret organization's best agent, the boys' favorite actor, Jet Fusion. During their mission, they get rescued after swimming a long time in the Atlantic Ocean by Gorgeous. At first, she acts kindly and flirty with them, but once Carl states they're spies, she reveals her killer personality and tries to murder them, but Jimmy uses a magnet to trap her in her boat as they escape. Later, at Mount Everest, Calamitous reveals Gorgeous is his daughter, and tells her to put Jimmy and Fusion in a trap, but he hypnotizes her into standing still and he and jet make their way out. Gorgeous, when Calamitous awakens her from the trance she was in, is later seen falling down Mount Everest along with her father in a giant snowball, only to fall straightly into a community of police-related monks who arrest both on the spot.

She is later seen trying to actually marry Jet Fusion, much to the boys' shock. However, it is another one of her schemes, this time for Jimmy: she brainwashes Jet Fusion to go berserk every time someone says "I have the ring", and when Jimmy discovers her plan, she, in revenge for hypnotizing her, hypnotizes him too forget his suspicions in order to make him be the one to say the line, so he will be tore to pieces by Fusion, making him the culprit and be arrested. However, Carl and Sheen make him remember Gorgeous' plan and they make the whole church sing "I have the ring", snapping Fusion out of his trance. He then arrests Beautiful Gorgeous again, still feeling a little saddened.

Later, she appears in "League of Villains" as a supporting antagonist where she, along with her father Finbarr Calamitous, King Goobot, Grandma Taters, Eustace Strych, Baby Eddie, Junkman and the three space bandits form the League of Villains to get revenge on Jimmy Neutron for foiling their evil plans. She is first seen in the ship with the other villains saying she broke out of prison and later she is seen still on the ship with the Junkman while the other villains look for Jimmy. Later, when Jimmy is captured by the villains, she is seen in the jury during Jimmy's trial. She and the Junkman are later affected by the love potion and start kissing each other, disgusting the other villains, especially Professor Calamitous. She is finally shown with the other villains being attacked by a T-Rex.

Gorgeous also appears in the crossover game as a playable character. She has become part of the new Evil Syndicate along with Technus, Traloc and Dib, while Plankton still kept his original position. She helps the heroes in assembling parts for the Vessel of Portentia and defeating the Morphoids and their leader, Globulous Maximus. However, she also helps the villains in taking over the Vessel, which is soon destroyed by a now good-willed Maximus, leaving her and the other villains drifting in space.

Red X

Red X is a recurring antagonist and anti-hero in the Teen Titans series. Originally an alias Robin used to get closer to Slade, an unknown person took up the Red X identity after stealing the suit and used it to become a professional thief.

He was voiced by Scott Menville who also voices Robin.

Red X started out as an evil alter-ego of Robin so he could get close to Slade and know about his plans. But in a later season, someone stole the Red X suit and decided to wear it and become a thief.

Red X (Robin)

When the Teen Titans first encountered an army of Slade's robots, Robin want to figure out who he was, and what he was planning. So he created an evil alter-ego to figure out Slade, but in the process, Robin almost crossed the line between good and evil, and almost lost his friends.

2nd Red X

After Robin quit being the Red X, the suit was never seen for some time. Until someone stole the suit and decided to wear the suit and become a thief. He only stole stuff so he could look out for what he considers as Numero Uno. But when Raven, Cyborg, Starfire, and Beast Boy were kidnapped by Professor Chang, Red X decided to help Robin take out Chang. But he only did this to steal the Xenothium to power up his suit. However Robin anticipated this so he managed to take Red X's belt. X manage to steal one tube of the Xenothium and used it to create a distraction and manage to escape from the Titans.

Red X made another appearance, and became a member of Brain's Brotherhood of Evil. When Ding Dong Daddy manage to steal something precious from Robin. Because it was valuable to Robin, all the Teen Titan villains teamed up and tried to steal it from DDD, while preventing the Teen Titans from getting the Briefcase, including Red X. However near the end of the episode, Red X saw in Robin's eyes that it was really valuable to him and decided to take out the other villains that wanted the briefcase. What happened to Red X is unknown. During the fight between the Teen Titans and the Brotherhood of Evil, Red X wasn't spotted, it's likely that he left the Brotherhood after the Ding Dong Daddy race.

Abilities/Equipment

Superior Attributes: Physically, Red X is an accomplished acrobat and martial arts fighter on par with Robin. He has superior/enhanced strength, speed, stamina, endurance, reflexes, and agility. In fact, their combat techniques/proficiency are quite similar, giving weight to the common suspicion that both once had the same tutor (which would be Batman).

Red X Suit Applications: Most of Red X's powers are derived from his suit's belt. The belt relies on power from a (possibly artificial) element called Zynothium. The suit is also fitted with an invisibility or cloaking device, and a teleportation device. The red 'X's located on his gloves can be used to form constructs, such as shurikens, wrist-mounted blades, restraints (by constriction or adhesion), timed explosives, instant openings, or any other conceivable function. Robin noted that he created Red X's main weapon systems as specific ways to beat each of his fellow Titans.

Teleportation Utility Belt: In the episode "X", Robin reveals to Red X that he secretly swiped his belt, to which Red X compliments him before smashing the Zynothium tube he had on the ground, and diving off a nearby cliff of Chang's hideout to escape; however, in Red X's next appearance, he somehow had stolen it back, as he is shown using his suit's powers again. In the episode "Revved Up" he participates in a race set up by Ding Dong Daddy, with the prize being a briefcase containing precious contents to Robin.

Atomic Skull

Atomic Skull is the name of two different DC Comics supervillains, with the first being Dr. Albert Michaels, and the second being college student Joseph Martin. The were enemies of Superman and later the Justice League, and have radioactive powers.

Atomic Skull and Albert Michaels was created by Gerry Conway and Curt Swan, as Joseph Martin was created by Roger Stern and Bob McLeod.

Albert Michaels

Albert Michaels was stricken with a rare nervous disorder, which short-circuited the electrical impulses of his brain, Michaels decided to steal his own inventions from S.T.A.R, and turned them over to SKULL. When he was successful, Michaels quickly became leader. In exchange, SKULL attempted to cure Michaels by implanting a neural pacemaker made of radium in his brain. Unfortunately, the implant malfunctioned, mutating Michael's brain waves into a new form of energy.

The Albert Michaels version (albeit with the appearance of the Joseph Martin version) appears as somewhat of an anti-villain in The New-52 "Prime Earth" continuity, and predominantly appears as a supporting character in the DC REBIRTH "Superwoman" series. This version of Michaels was a STAR Labs scientist who was affected by radiation aboard a crashing nuclear submarine. Despite having murdered multiple people, Michaels is redeemed when Lena Luthor (Ultrawoman) uses her advanced technology to attempt to take control of Metropolis and experiment on its' inhabitants. He forms an alliance with Superwoman, Bizarro Superwoman, and Lex Luthor, to save the city and its inhabitants.

Joseph Martin

Student Joseph Martin was struck by an intense blast of energy from the Dominators' gene-bomb that granted him superhuman strength and caused his flesh to become invisible. Later attacked by some thugs, the resulting head damage caused insanity and he took on the guise of "The Atomic Skull" who was a hero from an old movie serial. He also emitted dangerous amounts of radiation, then later gained the ability to project it as energy blasts. He eventually became an enemy toward Superman.

As Albert Michaels

Albert Michaels can deliver powerful energy bolts through the visor of his mask.

As Joseph Martin

Joseph Martin has superhuman strength, agility and endurance. He has the ability to project blasts of radioactive energy.

The Ghost

Ava Starr, or better known as Ghost, is the main antagonist of the 2018 Marvel film Ant-Man and the Wasp. She is a young woman with the ability to phase and bypass through solid objects due to an overexposure to Quantum energy in a failed experiment. However, her mutation is also a disease that is slowly killing her.

She was portrayed by Hannah John-Kamen, who also played F'Nale Zandor in Ready Player One. As a child, she was portrayed by RaeLynn Bratten.

Ghost is first seen when she spies on Scott Lang and Hope Van Dyne (along with Hope's father Hank Pym) driving away with their miniaturized laboratory, learning of their plan to rescue Hope's mother Janet from a quantum realm. Ghost enters Sonny Burch's restaurant after Hope successfully defeats Burch's men and takes the part he refused to sell to her, and engages her in a fight over the same part. Ant-Man quickly joins in on the fight to prevent Hope from being killed, although the two of them are unable to prevent Ghost from escaping. Outside the restaurant, she forces Hank Pym to give up his miniature laboratory by phasing her fist into his throat, and then makes off with it.

With help from Bill Foster, Lang, Hope and Pym manage to track down Ghost's location, but they are quickly apprehended by Ghost, who promptly reveals her identity named Ava Starr, the adoptive daughter of Bill. She peacefully explains that her father was once a colleague of Hank Pym but was fired alongside Bill, prompting him to run a quantum test that failed and caused an explosion that killed Ava's parents and mutated her molecular structure, giving her the ability to phase through matter and become invisible. For years S.H.I.E.L.D. used Ava as a stealth assassin in exchange of researching a possible cure or her, during which they developed the Ghost Suit which gives Ava some degree of control over her abilities.

However Bill discovered that Ava's powers are actually a deadly disease that will kill her. Foster built a cabin that feeds quantum energy into Ava to stabilize her, but Ava's condition will only worsen over time and the cabin can only do so much to delay the symptoms. Ava and Bill plan to cure her using the quantum machine (with Bill's help) to extract quantum energy directly from Janet. Believing that the plan might kill Janet, Pym refuses to tag along and he, Lang and Hope manage to retrieve the lab before escaping, much to Bill and Ava's distraught.

However, things took a turn for the worst when Burch learned of the trio's location and had his FBI contact Stoltz to inform the FBI, who then arrest Pym and Hope while Lang is forced to escape. This allows Burch to finally get hold of the lab before setting his plan to sell it. Fortunately, Lang broke Pym and Hope free before retrieving the lab and using it to open a portal to save Janet, but Ava arrives to confront them again. Inside the building, she uses the energy that is supporting Janet but is stopped by Ant-Man and Wasp once again. They eventually managed to get back to the real world unharmed, and Janet uses her energy to temporarily cure Ava of her condition. This allows both Bill and Ava to escape free while Burch and his men end up being arrested by the arriving FBI.

With Ava temporarily cured and Burch arrested, Lang and the Pym family decided to work more on the quantum energy in an effort to find a permanent cure for Ava.

Skulker

Skulker is the secondary antagonist in the TV show Danny Phantom. He is a treacherous ghost hunter who hunts down rare and unique things, and sets his sights eventually on Danny. Skulker is actually a small ghost blob who wears a large battle suit.

He was voiced by Mathew St. Patrick until the episode "Life Lessons", where from then on he is then voiced by Kevin Michael Richardson.

Skulker first appeared in "One of a Kind", where he planned to put Danny in a cage, seeing him as a rare exhibit to behold. Many daring chases for the ghost boy results in Skulker taking Tucker's PDA to power up his suit only for him to stick with Tucker's schedule ("… Which I CANNOT reprogram!…") which takes over his armor. However, he still pursued Danny to the Amity Park zoo where he nearly kills Danny (now wanting him dead and hung up his wall) until Danny summons the purple-back gorilla to attack Skulker, in which his battle suit is damaged to reveal it's pilot: a tiny little green blob controlling the suit from its head. In the end, Danny captured him with the Fenton Thermos.

He briefly makes his second appearance in "Bitter Reunions" in which he was hired by Vlad Masters to disable Danny's powers with the power cube, leaving on Vlad's behalf when he angrily dismisses him telling him he didnt free him to kill Danny. (as well as the PDA from the previous episode still stuck to him and still unprogrammable).

Later in "Prisoners of Love", Skulker worked alongside Danny Phantom, Nicolai Technus, The Box Ghost, The Lunch Lady Ghost and Desiree to escape from Walker's ghost jail. Later it is stated in "Public Enemies" that Walker and his goon managed to catch all the escaped prisoner, suggesting Walker and his goons caught Skulker prior to the events of the episode.

In "Life Lessons", Skulker (now free of the PDA) witnesses Danny and Valerie Gray fighting. Seeing both their worth, he hosts a contest to find to see who can survive him long enough to be worthy to hunt. At Nasty Burger, Skulker uses the Box Ghost as bait. In Valerie's apartment, he gives the flour sack to Danny, which causes Valerie to hunt him. Then, Skulker decided to capture both of them, and takes them to his lair. In the end, Skulker gets paralyzed by his own darts.

He returns in "Reign Storm", leading numerous ghosts out of the Ghost Zone to find safe havens in Earth when Pariah Dark is accidentally reawakened by Vlad Plasmius. Afterwards, with Sidney's convincing, Skulker relates the story of Pariah before ultimately rounding up various ghosts to help Danny fight off Pariah Dark.

Later in "Identity Crisis", Danny, Sam and Tucker check out Skulker's file on the Fenton computer hinting Danny might have fought with him since he mentioned sending the hunter back to the Ghost Zone.

Skulker's next appearance is "The Ultimate Enemy" where an alternate future version of him exists in which he has shared a robotic suit with Technus, now calling themselves Skulktech 9.9, with the PDA's influence once again. They are sent back in time by Clockwork in order to prevent Danny Phantom from turning into Dark Danny but fail as Danny manages to defeat them and instead they are taken to Clockworks lair. After Danny is thrown into the Ghost Zone by Dan, they along with, Ember McLain, Box Ghost, Johnny 13, Kitty all gang up on younger Danny in revenge for the misery Dark Danny caused all of them. This causes Danny to acquire his Ghostly Wail and use it on them knocking them all unconscious. As Danny manages to defeat Dark Danny and changed the timeline so he would never turn into Dark Danny, it is possible that Skulker and Technus would never fuse together as well.

In "Secret Weapons", Vlad again hires Skulker to scrounge around Amity Park for various devices, namely bloodstream nanobots from Axion Labs and the Fenton's new "Ecto-Converter" device as well as stealing a rod from Technus. Although Danny tries to stop him, his well-meaning but inexperienced sister Jazz keeps tripping him up and letting "Ghost-X" (what Jazz knows Skulker as) get away.

Later, Danny bumps into Skulker in the Ghost Zone just as the hunter finishes "borrowing" Technus's Electro-Rod weapon. Taking advantage of the chance encounter, Skulker captures Danny and takes him to Vlad.

In "The Fright Before Christmas", Skulker was one of the many ghosts to uphold the law of being friendly towards others during Christmas time, later helping Danny stop Ghostwriter and restore Christmas to normal.

Skulker also had a starring role in the episode "Micro Management". Skulker, armed with a new suit, begins to hunt Danny again while the young hero is busy trying to put up with his "fitness buddy" Dash. However, the three of them wind up getting shrunk when Jack Fenton tries to test out his new "Fenton Ghost Crammer". As a result of being shrunk, Skulker is unable to use his ghost powers, but he is still able to use his weapon-laden suit. In his attempts to squash Danny, Skulker follows him and Dash throughout the Fenton household and all the way into the rooftop Opt's Center, where Skulker winds up in the center's freezer. The cold traps Skulker in ice and ultimately gets him consumed by Jack Fenton, who put the frozen Ghost Hunter into his root beer float.

In "Double Cross My Heart", Skulker briefly makes another appearance (now free from Jack Fenton, in his normal size, and back in his old suit) in which he is confronted by the Guys in White while hunting one of their decoy ghosts. When the GiW catch Skulker, he escapes by ejecting from his battlesuit, which the agents use to help receive information on Danny. Note that this is the first time since Skulker's premier episode (and the only other time throughout the series so far) that he leaves his battlesuit willingly.

In "Kindred Spirits," Skulker makes a cameo appearance in a flashback stealing money from Axion Labs and then attacking Danny and his friends.

In "Girls' Night Out", he's Ember McLain's boyfriend and - because she criticized his hunting skills - tries to catch Danny to impress her, only to be defeated by Jack Fenton, whose competence as ghost hunter arises when his family is in danger.

In "Livin' Large" he teams up with Danny, Johnny 13, and Youngblood to stop the Guys in White from destroying the Ghost Zone.

In "Boxed Up Fury", Danny rescues Skulker from three unicorns that the Box Ghost relased to destroy him for revenge. He, in return, helps Danny out by telling him how to find Pandora so he can stop the madness cause by the Box Ghost.

Skulker's final appearance was in the series finale, "Phantom Planet"; he served as the mouthpiece and de facto leader for the other inhabitants of the Ghost Zone, driving Danny away when he came seeking the help of the Ghost Zone's residents. Seeking aid in turning the planet intangible, to avoid an asteroid strike that would destroy both Earth and the Ghost Zone, Danny (having lost his powers by reversing the accident that granted them in the first place) got caught by Skulker. They all blamed Danny and his friends for it so Danny was then tortured by Skulker and other ghosts, awakening the dormant powers in Danny's white streak of hair, allowing him to transform again and drive them off with his Ghostly Wail.

Danny eventually returns to the Ghost Zone and begins catching ghosts against their will; Skulker frees them and leads a gang-up on Danny, but the young ghost fighter eventually convinces his enemies to help. The ghosts succeed in turning the entire planet intangible, saving it and the Ghost Zone from destruction; with the crisis averted, Danny thanks Skulker, but the hunter only promises that Danny is still his prey-and now that Danny has saved a whole planet, he is a much better prize.

Me: Skulker, Beautiful Gorgeous, Ava Starr A.K.A. Ghost, Red X and Albert Michaels A.K.A. Atomic Skull.

Skulker: It's good to see you all again.

Atomic Skull: It's an honor to meet you all J.D.

Me: Same here Albert. I heard about what happened to you and I'm sorry that happened to you.

Atomic Skull: Thank you J.D. I want you guys to know that I never believed that crap about Luthor's mind inhabiting your bodies.

Haiku: How come?

Atomic Skull: Because even though Luthor's smart, he doesn't have that kind of technology.

Me: Brainiac might but not Lex Luthor.

Laney: That's true.

Danny: (to Skulker) Dude, where have you been the last year? You just went off the grid after we took out Pariah Dark.

Skulker: After what happened with Pariah Dark, I went into hiding. Clockwork's police force has been searching for me and trying to bring me to justice.

Me: So you are now a Ghost Zone Fugitive.

Skulker: Exactly.

Jimmy Neutron: (to Beautiful Gorgeous) I thought you wanted a normal life.

Beautiful Gorgeous: Well, I decided that life these days isn't really normal.

Me: When has life been normal for any of us as long as evil is terrorizing the universe?

Beautiful Gorgeous: True.

Maria: (to Ghost) Didn't Ant Man fight you once?

The Ghost: That's right. I was sent to kill Hank Pym.

Me: I remember reading about that in the Ant Man comic books.

Laney: Bad and didn't you also have an incurable disease that was gonna kill you?

The Ghost: That's right. But I cured myself.

Me: Good. Are you 5 trying out for the Masters of Evil?

Red X: That's right. But after the defeat of the Royal Defenders we're gonna join them for real.

Me: Cool. We'll have 5 more archenemies for us. Awesome.

Red X: Yep. But lets help you all stop Lana & Lola.

Me: Right.

We went to the park and found Lana and Lola fighting.

Lola: Take this you dirty fiend! SOAP STYLE NINJA ART: HOT WATER WITH SOAP!

Lola fired a wave of soapy water and it was at 120˚ Fahrenheit and it hit Lana and drenched her all over and burned her too.

Lana: You fucking little monster! FILTHY STYLE NINJA ART: COLD WATER WITH MUD!

Lana fired a wave of filthy mud and it slammed into Lola and covered her with mud.

Lola: You wretched brat! SOAP STYLE NINJA ART: SPARKLING CLEAN!

Lola fired a wave of soap and water and it hit Lana and made her squeaky and sparkling clean!

Lana: You sick monster! FILTHY STYLE NINJA ART: THROW GARBAGE AT THE SENATE!

Lana fired a wave of garbage and it slammed into Lola and it smelled really horrible!

Lola: YUCK! Try this one! SOAP STYLE NINJA ART: SPARKLY CLEAN THE SENATE!

Lola fired a wave of soap and water and it slammed into Lana and got her squeaky clean yet again.

Lana: You freak of nature! FILTHY STYLE NINJA ART: MUDWASHING!

Lana fired a massive wave of mud and filth and it slammed into Lola and drenched her in filth and crud.

Lola: Oh yeah!? SOAP STYLE NINJA ART: CARWASHING!

Lola fired a massive wave of soapy water and drenched Lana all over and got her squeaky clean again!

Me: Okay this has gone on long enough!

Atomic Skull: I agree.

We went over to Lana and Lola as they were charging at each other and then we grabbed them!

Me: Stop this now!

Lana: NO! I MUST MAKE THAT CLEAN MONSTER PAY!

Lola: I WILL MAKE THAT FILTHMONGER SUFFER!

Lori: Lola get ahold of yourself!

Lynn: Yeah Lola! Stop this pointless fight!

Me: Lola and Lana what are you fighting about here?

Lana: We're fighting because we saw a cool historical battle being reenacted and we joined the fun in a battle between clean and filthy. I chose filthy and Lola chose clean.

Me: One of the oldest battles in the history of humanity: Clean VS Filthy.

Nico: Yep. For thousands of years it was a brutal battle.

Lola: Yeah.

Nico: Guys you need to stop this. It doesn't matter who likes being clean or filthy. You are happy being either clean or filthy. Lana you like being filthy and Lola you like being clean and there is no shame in that.

Lana: I guess you're right. I'm sorry Lola.

Lola: I'm sorry too.

They went over and hugged each other.

Me: Aww.

Lana and Lola saw the 5 new villains.

Lana: Whoa! Red X, Beautiful Gorgeous, The Ghost, Skulker and Atomic Skull!

Lola: Are you five going to join the Masters of Evil?

The Ghost: We sure are. After you guys destroy the Royal Defenders. We heard a lot about what is happening with the Royal Defenders and it's sick that they are demoralizing our enemies.

Laney: It sure is awful.

Lola: Wow.

Nico: But lets get you two home. Thanks for helping us.

Atomic Skull: Anytime Nico.

Me: Looks like we'll be seeing you more often in the future.

Skulker: Indeed.

We left and went back home.

---

Later, Qin was over in the Jupiter Prison to visit Mac's brother Terrence. Ever since Terrence got locked up in the Jupiter Prison, he was beginning to reflect on everything he did to Mac and his friends and that he was a total psychopath to them. Qin got to his cell.

Qin: So you are Terrence. I heard that you hated your own little brother Mac. I came here to beat the living crap out of you.

Terrence: Look, a year ago, I probably would be protesting against this beating. But now, I'm not gonna make excuses. I kinda have this coming. Just make sure Rojo's not in the crossfire, ok?

Qin: I'll make sure I don't accidentally hurt her. And maybe when I'm done beating you up, you can tell me why you and Mac's dad is never around.

Terrence: Oh. Well, sure. I'm surprised you guys didn't ask about it before.

Qin: What happened to your dad?

Terrence: He died in a tragic car accident and it changed me. Me and dad were very close and after Mac was born, Dad went out on a joyride and got into a car crash and died. But after he died I thought it was Mac that caused dad to die and I hated Mac for it. I was really hateful to him and I wanted him to suffer for taking our father from us.

Qin: Was your dad drunk from alcohol or drugs?

Terrence: No. Dad never did drugs or alcohol and he was a good man. But I hated Mac for thinking he was behind dad's death.

Qin: Oh man. I'm so sorry Terrence.

Terrence: It's all right Qin. Also, Rojo told me about what happened with Ra's and Bowser. And I really am sorry about that.

Qin: I appreciate that Terrence.

Eddy: Anything else you want to say right now before we leave?

Terrence: Yeah. Make sure you punch that Kip guy in the groin for me. I tried one of his so called DEO products. I used that stuff and I had to take a shower for 24 hours because of it!

Qin: YIKES!

Eddy: I heard about that DEO stuff. It was said to help get rid of stench but it actually makes people smell worse.

Qin: That's false advertising!

Terrence: Yeah. I heard that he escaped from prison and is now on the run. I heard from one of my friends that came to visit me that he is hiding out somewhere in South America.

Qin: We'll look out for him and send him to prison again.

Eddy: Yeah!

Qin: But we'll give him a big punch to his face for his crimes.

Terrence: Thanks guys. You can beat me up now.

Qin: Okay.

Qin jumped him and smashed her fists into his face and stomach all over and more. Terrence got a taste of justice.

Pirates and Curses of the Sea

A Massive Fight has erupted at the Biker Brawlhouse and inside was me and Nico smashing and bashing the living shit out of loads of biker gangs that go there. They were the meanest biker gangs in the history of the city and we had to stop them.

POW!

Me: You shitfucking freaks!

Biker 1: I'm going to kill you punk!

Me: You guys are the punks!

KICK!

I kicked the biker in the face and sent him crashing into the pool table and Nico bashed him in the head with a powerful punch.

Nico: And you punks have failed this world.

Dark Spicer and Vanitas were helping us and we were really smashing their faces in.

Dark Spicer: Here's your warning biker fuckers, your fucking asses are getting kicked.

Me: Big time you asswipes!

A biker came at me with a tire iron and I ducked and he ended up hitting another biker in the head with it and I kicked him in the face and punched another biker in the face and knocked out all of his teeth. We all smashed them to pieces and the police came and arrested the bikers.

Officer: Nice work guys. We've been after these biker punks for years. Wanted for numerous crimes all over the country.

Me: Happy to help officer.

Dark Spicer: No one messes with our good city while both sides are present.

Me: Yep.

Nico: I hope those biker jerks get what's coming to them.

Vanitas: Yeah.

Officer: Oh they will. They will.

The officers drove off with over 92 biker gang punks and it was the largest number of criminals arrested in Michigan.

Me: We're gonna need bigger prisons here on Earth because we've been on fire these past few weeks.

Nico: No kidding. We can always make more space prisons.

Me: Good idea Nico.

Dark Spicer: We should have space prisons of our own.

Me: That works perfectly. Looks like we're gonna have a lot of competition.

Dark Spicer: Yeah even though we are in a lot of competition right now.

Nico: True.

Me: It was a good workout coming here though. This place is like a magnet for all kinds of biker gangs around the country.

Dark Spicer: True.

Later back at the estate, Stewie was trying out the Questworld Virtual Reality System and he was playing as a knight facing a monster.

But then…

SMASH!

He turned off the system and he saw that he had accidentally smashed a beautiful vase.

OOPS!

Stewie: Oh God the Vase!

Frightwig: (looks at the destroyed vase) Stewie, what did you do?!

Stewie: It was an accident!

Frightwig: That was Rita's favorite vase!

Musa: We have to get this vase fixed before Rita finds out!

Scrapper: What if we buy a new vase? Rita will never know.

Stewie: Good idea.

They got to work and went to the furniture store where they got another new vase just like the vase that was broken. They put it on the pedestal.

Rita: Hey, guys. Where did you go?

Inferno: Um… out for a walk. Yeah! That's right!

Rita: Okay then.

Rita walked away. But she was gonna find out about it sooner or later.

Later it was movie night and we were watching the 5th Pirates of the Caribbean Movie from 2017: Dead Men Tell No Tales.

---

13 years after the events of At World's End, 12 years old Henry Turner boards to the Flying Dutchman and inform his father Will

Turner, that the curse which binds Will to the Dutchman and only permit him to step on land once a decade can be broken by the Trident of Poseidon. Henry intend to recruit Jack Sparrow to help find it, but Will belive is impossible and orders Henry to leave. Will and the Dutchman then disappear into the sea, but Henry vows to find Jack and the Trident.

Nine years later, Henry is a sailor in the British Royal Navy. The ship sails into the supernatural Devil Triangle and stumbles upon the wreck of the Silent Mary, whose ghostly crew led by spanish pirate hunter Captain Salazar attack. Salazar spares Henry's life to deliver a message to Jack: Salazar is coming for him.

In Saint Martin, a young astronomer and horologist named Carina Smyth is sentenced to death for witchcraft but escaped and briefly crosess paths with Jack Sparrow as he and his crew spectaculary blunder a bank robbery. Having suffered a year of bad luck, Jack crew lost faith in their captain and abandon him. Depressed Jack, trades his magical compass for a drink. However, this betrayal of the compass free Salazar and his crew from the Devil Triangle. Carina learn that Henry is looking for the Tridents location and offer to help him using her unknown father's diary. Carina and Jack are captured and face execution, but are saved by Henry and Jack crew, setting sail on Dying Gull. Carina deciphers clues that the stars will lead to an Island where the Trident was hidden.

Meanwhile, Hector Barbossa heard from Mullroy and Murtogg that the revived Captain Salazar had killed several pirates at the seas and had destroyed his fleet. Barbossa manage to talk his way out of being killed by offering to help to find Jack and learn that the Trident could lead him to a new treasure. Salazar agree, wanting revenge on the pirate that caused his demise. Salazar pursues the Dying Gull, forcing Jack, Henry and Carina to flee to an Island, discovering that Salazar and his crew cannot go on land. After saving Jack from a forced marriage, Barbossa allies himself with Jack, returning his compass and restoring the miniaturized Black Pearl, trapped in a bottle from Blackbeard, to its original size. They all continue their journey to the Trident s Island, with Barbossa taking the command of the Pearl once more. During the voyage, Jack and Barbossa realized that Carina his the latter s long lost daugther. Barbossa tell

Jack that he had left her in an orphanage with his diary so she could have a better life and refuse to tell the truth so she will continue to belive that his father was an astronomer. Approaching to the Trident Island, the Pearl evades a Royal Navy warship, which is destroyed by the Silent Mary before the Pearl run agroung on the island. Jack, Barbossa and Carina use the Island magic to part the ocean and open a path to the Trident location on the ocean floor. Salazar captures Henry and possesses him in order to walk on the ocean floor and seize the Trident. Once he does so, Henry is given his body back, and Jack distracts Salazar, allowing Henry to destroy the Trident, breaking all the curses of the seas and restoring Salazar and his crew to life. However, the divided seas begins to collapse in on itself. The Pearl lowers its anchor to lift them to safety, but Salazar pursues them, still hell-bent to killing Jack. Carina realize finally that Barbossa is his father when she spotted a tattoo on his arm identical to the diary cover. Barbossa sacrificed himself to kill Salazar allowing the others to escape alive.

Sometime later Henry and Carina reach Port Royal where Will Turner appear, free from the Dutchman. His wife Elizabeth Swann appear moment later and the Turner family is officially reunited. Henry and Carina start to dating each other. Jack watch the scene from the Pearl before sailing away into the beloved horizon having being accepted by his crew as their captain once again, while also adopting Capitain Barbossa now-homeless monkey.

In the post credits scene, Will and Elizabeth sleep in their bed together, when their room is intruded by Davy Jones.

---

We were amazed and when we saw that Davy Jones might have been resurrected we knew he might be coming back! But when the movie was done we cheered wildly!

Me: Yeah that was awesome!

Nico: It sure was. But Barbossa sacrificed himself to save everyone. He's a true hero.

Me: He sure is. But we also found the key to freeing Luxord from being eternally bound to the Dutchman. We have to destroy the Trident of Poseidon.

Laney: That sounds like a very dangerous weapon from the looks of it.

Naruto: No kidding.

Sailor Moon: A weapon like that would be perfect for Sailor Neptune.

Me: Well Poseidon is the God of the Seas and Neptune is the Roman version of him. Lets see here.

I pulled up the information of the Trident and we were amazed and shocked. The Trident of Poseidon was one of the most powerful weapons on Earth.

---

The Trident of Poseidon, also referred to as Poseidon's Trident, was the mythical weapon of the sea god Poseidon. The weapon of a god, the Trident was used to control the creatures of the sea, including the merfolk, as well as create thunderstorms and strong tidal waves. Near the end of Jack Sparrow's teenage adventures, the Trident fell into the possession of the feared Captain Torrents. After Torrents' death, the Trident was given to a merman named Tonra. Eventually the Trident ended up hidden in Poseidon's Tomb where it was found many years later by Jack Sparrow and Carina Smyth.

Poseidon's Trident contained within it an intense magical energy capable of causing earthquakes, wrecking ships, and even summoning the Kraken. Whomever wielded it also possessed the ability to take control over the race of merfolk. Poseidon had gotten the clever god Hephaestus to create hundreds of giant enchanted gems, all different colors of the rainbow, with each color representing one of the different types of merfolk. Gathering them deep within Isla Sirena, Poseidon created a magical link between the Trident and the gems, giving him the ultimate power over every mermaid, merman, and merchild on the Seven Seas. However, over a thousand years prior to Jack Sparrow's teenage years, the ancestors of Morveren, Aquila, and Aquala managed to get the blue stones locked away in a special chamber designed by the goddess Calypso, making all blue-tailed mermaids immune to the Trident's charms.

Control of the Merpeople

Eventually, Morveren, Aquala, and Aquila managed to steal the trident away from an unsuspecting Poseidon, but instead of freeing the rest of their people, they used it to take complete control over their own race for themselves. The sisters hid the Trident under Poseidon's Peak, the place they kept the spoils of all their greatest wars, but once they learned of a resistance building against them among their people, decided they needed to place it in the care of a human to ensure it would stay out of the hands of other merfolk. The Blue-tails struck a deal with Captain Torrents, in which he would guard the Trident and share sovereignty over the merpeople with them, and they would be able to keep their status. However, once the sisters handed control of the Trident to Torrents, he swiftly made off with it-bent on retaining control of the Seven Seas all for himself.

In Torrents' hands

With the power of Poseidon's Trident, Torrents commanded the merpeople to leave their home under Isla Sirena and pillage and plunder all the oceans of the world, giving him all the loot they found. The Blue-tails commissioned Jack Sparrow with the task of reacquiring the Trident from Torrents, and after an intense duel aboard the Fleur de la Mort, Jack managed to take possession of the weapon and blast Torrents into the sea, where thousands of infuriated merpeople were waiting to devour him. Rather than allowing the Blue-tails to resume their tyranny, however, Jack, taking advantage of his new position as king of the merfolk, chose to free them, putting the Trident in the keep of the merman Tonra and earning the merpeople's immense gratitude and reverence.

Salazar's revenge

At some point after Jack freed the merpeople, the Trident was hidden in Poseidon's Tomb, an underwater grave off the coast of an uncharted island. By this time, those who knew of the Trident believed it could no longer be found. However, it was also revealed that the Trident also possessed the power to break any curse at sea. Because of this, the Trident was sought by several parties: Armando Salazar to have his revenge on Jack Sparrow, Henry Turner to free his father from the curse of the Flying Dutchman, Jack Sparrow to save himself from Salazar, and Hector Barbossa to reclaim control of the seas. With the aid of Carina Smyth and a journal given to her by her father, the island was located and the Trident revealed itself by parting the sea.

However, Salazar managed to claim the Trident first, using it to first free himself from Henry Turner's body after he possessed it. Holding the power of the sea, Salazar used it to torture the pirate by flinging him around in the walls of the sea where his crew tried to drown Sparrow. Eventually, he became bored and attempted to kill Jack. Using a clue from her journal, Carina and Henry deduced that the power of all the curses at sea was contained within the Trident, which therefore had to be destroyed in order to break them. After stabbing Jack Sparrow with the Trident, Salazar was momentarily distracted, allowing Henry to shatter the Trident with his sword. Salazar and his crew were returned to their normal human forms before the sea began collapsing, due to being no longer under the influence of the Trident. With the Trident destroyed, Salazar, once again mortal, died in the ocean while Will Turner was no longer eternally bound to the Dutchman. It is also possible that the Trident's destruction broke the curse over Davy Jones, allowing him to be resurrected.

---

We were amazed at how much power the Trident of Poseidon has and it was unbelievable.

Me: Whoa! That kind of power rivals even the Keyblade.

Sora: No kidding. But we just found the key to freeing Luxord from being bound to the Dutchman.

Me: Yep we have to destroy the Trident. We haven't got a moment to lose. Lets head for our ship!

We cheered and went to the Phoenix Maelstrom.

* * *

We got the Phoenix Maelstrom ready and we set sail. Sora's ship the Leviathan was with us along with the Super Megaforce Skyship. We set sail and we went through the portal into the world of Pirates of The Caribbean. We were in the 18th Century Caribbean.

Me: 18th Century Caribbean.

Nico: Yep.

Me: Okay. Here's my plan. Jack and Carina are about to be executed. So William, Maria, you're going to pretend to be executed along with Jack and Carina.

William: Got it. I think I know where this is going.

Maria: Okay. Lets do it.

We put the plan into action and William and Maria got arrest by the British and they were about to be beheaded by the British.

Prosecutor: How would you and your friends like to die, pirate? Hanging, firing squad, or a new invention, the guillotine?

Captain Jack Sparrow: Guillotine? Sounds French. I love the French! Did you know that they've invented the mayonnaise? How bad could it be? It's the French, eh? [sees what the guillotine actually is] Oh my bad! I change me mind! No, please have mercy for me! I'm a bed wetter! [dragged to base of guillotine] Oh, come on! I mean I have to walk upstairs for this as well for this?

Maria: Get your hands off us!

Executioner: Bring the basket!

Captain Jack Sparrow: Basket? Why?!

Executioner: Strap him down!

Captain Jack Sparrow: Here's an idea, how about a good old-fashioned stoning? I'd kill to be stoned right now! Gets the crowd involved, doesn't it? I should like to speak with Victor in disembowelment! I should like to speak with Vic… [gets put in the guillotine and sees a basket full of heads] I'm not the one, who complain, normally, but this basket is full of heads!

William: It's been nice knowing you guys.

The blade came up and then…

Me: Now!

We flew in and blasted the guillotine and destroyed it.

Me: Ahoy Captain Jack. Looks like we got here just in time.

Captain Jack Sparrow: That you did lads. Thank you.

I cut his ropes and freed him and I fired a blast of fire and ignited the prosecutor and incinerated him.

Me: New advice for you fuckwads, drop dead!

I threw a massive smoke bomb and we escaped and we set sail on our ship.

William: Good plan J.D.

Nico: Genius.

Me: Thanks guys. Better call Luxord.

I pulled out my flute and blew it and called Luxord.

The Dutchman surfaced and Luxord was on it.

Luxord: Ahoy guys!

Me: Ahoy Luxord.

Luxord: Haven't seen you all in a while.

Me: I know. But we found the key to freeing you from the curse that binds you to the Dutchman. We're going to destroy the Trident of Poseidon. It harbors all the curses of the sea and if we destroy it you will be free and you can join the Redemption Squad.

Luxord: (Gasp) Yes! I will be free.

Me: Awesome. Lets go find the Trident and bring an end to this madness.

We followed the Constellation of Carina the Stern and we came across Captain Barbossa and he was now the captain of Blackbeard's old ship The Queen Anne's Revenge.

Captain Hector Barbossa (simply known as Hector Barbossa) is the main antagonist of Pirates of Caribbean: The Curse of the Black Pearl. He makes appearances in most of the franchise in varying capacities, but in general has a redemptive arc. He is Jack Sparrow's former archenemy-turned-friend.

He was portrayed by Geoffrey Rush, who also played Casanova Frankenstein in Mystery Men and Steven Price in House on Haunted Hill.

Before the Curse of the Black Pearl, Barbossa was formerly the Chief mate of Captain Jack Sparrow. But one day Jack and Barbossa found a map to Isla de Muerta where the Aztec Treasure of Cortes was hidden. The crew and Jack agreed to equal shares of the treasure but Barbossa greedily wanted the treasure for himself and the crew. He then tricked Jack into revealing the Treasure's location lying that equal shares included knowing the treasure's location, while planning a mutiny. Jack agreed to say the location but then Barbossa and the crew mutinied and marooned Jack on a deserted Island much to Jack's anger. When they finally found the treasure Barbossa found out about a curse placed on the Aztec treasure by the heathen Gods but believed it to be a "Ghost Story" with the crew and then took the treasure but found after spending it that the curse was real. They were under the curse, which made them unable to taste, feel, smell, or their drinks would not satisfy and living the undead as immortals. The only way to lift the curse is to give back the coins and offer their blood. Bootstrap Bill Turner a crewmate then was infuriated at the crew's betrayal against Jack and sent a coin to his son Will so the crew would remain cursed. In response Barbossa tied a cannon to Bootstrap and threw him overboard the Pearl but only discovers later that Bootstrap's blood is needed to lift the curse.

Ten years later, during the movie, Barbossa and the crew sunk many ships and found most of the coins of the treasure but needed to find the last one sent to Will by Bootstrap. Meanwhile Elizabeth Swann from Port Royal Jamaica had found Will and took possession of the medallion so that James Norrington would not hang Will for piracy. Barbossa sensed the last coin, which released a pulse, and then invaded Port Royal. His crew found Elizabeth who invoked Parley. Barbossa tricked Elizabeth into giving him the medallion in exchange for stopping the invasion after she identified herself as "Elizabeth Turner" believing now her blood can lift the curse. Elizabeth, when Barbossa ordered them to set sail, demanded to be taken to shore but Barbossa refused saying that the part with her being taken to shore was not part of their agreement.

Barbossa offered Elizabeth the next night to dine with him. She refused but agreed when Barbossa threatened her with dining with the crew and being stripped nude. Elizabeth then became suspicious of why Barbossa was not eating but was encouraging her to eat instead. He finally realized she never heard of the curse and told her the story and how he wants to use her blood to lift the curse. Elizabeth ran from him but got cornered by Barbossa and stabbed him in the chest but Barbossa did not die and Elizabeth ran outside and went face-to-face with the crew which were now skeletons. Elizabeth was shocked that the curse was real and Barbossa walked outside in the moonlight which revealed him under the curse. Elizabeth now in deep shock ran into the room and was locked in for the rest of the night.

The next day, Barbossa then took Elizabeth to Isla de Muerta to lift the curse. After a short speech Barbossa then told his crew that they were able to lift the curse and used Elizabeth's blood on the coin. But after a moment after the crew said they did not feel different;

Barbossa shot one of his crewmates and they saw he was not dead. Now enraged Barbossa confronted Elizabeth asking her if Bootstrap was her father. She admitted that he was not but refused to tell Barbossa who Bootstrap's child was. Barbossa slapped her and she fell onto the hill of the pirate's treasure. Barbossa's crew began to blame him for Bootstrap's 'death' by saying every decision he made lead them from bad to worse. Barbossa angrily took out his sword and challenged the crew to fight him causing the crew to stop blaming him. After Jack, Barbossa's pet monkey, screeched in alarm and Barbossa looked where Elizabeth fell, he saw she was no longer there along with the medallion. He ordered the crew to find her but the crew instead brought Captain Jack Sparrow to him.

Unable to believe his eyes, Barbossa asked Jack how he got off the island but Jack says it was because he (Jack) was Captain Jack Sparrow. Annoyed, Barbossa sarcastically said he would not make the mistake again and ordered his crew to kill Jack. Jack however asked if Elizabeth's blood worked. Barbossa ordered his crew to hold fire after realizing Jack knew whose blood they needed. On the Black Pearl Barbossa and Jack had a meeting for negotiations and Jack almost convinces Barbossa to give him (Jack) his ship but Barbossa is angered when Jack gives an offer to negotiate with the crew of the Interceptor for Barbossa's coin return. Barbossa instead orders Jack locked in the brig because that was the same attitude that lost Sparrow the Pearl in the first place.

Barbossa caught up with the Interceptor and during the battle Jack the Monkey brought the medallion to Barbossa and Barbossa's crew won. When Barbossa captured the crew of the Interceptor including Elizabeth, and sunk the Interceptor, Barbossa was confronted by a man who claimed to be Will Turner. Will said he would shoot himself and fall overboard if the crew did not release Elizabeth. Ultimately Barbossa tricks him and frees Elizabeth and Jack Sparrow by marooning them on the same island Jack was on ten years ago assuming that moment would the last of Sparrow. Will and the crew of the Interceptor are imprisoned and Pintel, a crewmate, tells Will the story of why Bootstrap sent the medallion to Will. They arrive at Isla de Muerta and Barbossa plans to kill Will in order to break the curse. When the crew are chanting for the curse to be lifted Jack Sparrow comes to the cave alive and well much to Barbossa's dismay. Barbossa threatens Jack with death after Will but Jack convinces Barbossa that the Royal Navy came to ambush them. Jack convinces Barbossa to kill Will after he defeats the Dauntless (the Royal Navy's best ship) and Jack would give Barbossa 25% of Jack's plunder and a big hat. Barbossa agrees and waits in the cave for the battle to end with Jack and Will. He starts to trust Jack again but this friendship when Jack takes one of the pirates's swords and tosses his to Will and Will duels the pirates left to with Barbossa. Barbossa gets up and duels Jack. After a while of fighting Barbossa tosses his sword away and claims that Jack cannot beat him as he (Barbossa) is immortal. Jack tries anyway, but Barbossa sighs to himself and takes the sword out to stab Jack. But Sparrow enters the moonlight and it reveals he too became a cursed skeleton! He snuck a coin while talking to Barbossa. The duel continues until Elizabeth arrives. Jack cuts his arm and tosses his bloody coin to Will while Will cuts his arm too. Now furious Barbossa pulls out his prized pistol and attempts to shoot Elizabeth. But before he can pull the trigger Jack shoots Barbossa with his own shot that he saved to kill Barbossa for ten years.

Barbossa sneers that Jack wasted his shot but Will says "He didn't waste it!" and returns the last two coins breaking the curse. Barbossa looks at Jack in deep shock and unbuttons his coat and sees blood gushing badly from his chest from Jack's bullet. He looks at Jack and shakes his head shockingly and dies.

Dead Man's Chest

At the very end of Dead Man's Chest, with Jack Sparrow supposedly dead, Barbossa makes a shocking reappearance, having been resurrected by the Voodoo witch "Tia Dalma", later revealed to be the goddess "Calypso" soon he can help them save Jack. Barbossa's cameo in the second movie was a surprise. Because of this, Geoffrey Rush was not credited. In fact, Barbossa was not even included on the front of the second movie's DVD.

At World's End

In the third film, he goes with Elizabeth, Will, and the crew to Davy Jones's Locker to rescue Jack from the locker in order to release her. Near the climax, he helped the pirate face off against Davy

Jones and Lord Cutler Beckett At the end of the third film, it is revealed that Barbossa has betrayed Jack yet again, though this time they merely leave without him from a port in a city area.

On Stranger Tides

In the fourth film, he has become a privateer in King George II's Royal Navy. He seeks to look for the Fountain of Youth. Near the end, he stabs Blackbeard with a poisoned sword and is now captain of the Queen Anne's Revenge, reverting back to being a pirate.

Dead Men Tell No Tales

In the fifth film, Barbossa returns as captain of the Queen Anne's Revenge. He is also revealed to be the biological father of Carina Smyth, an astronomer and horologist who was falsely accused of witchcraft. After being coerced by the notorious Captain Armando Salazar into helping him kill Sparrow, Barbossa soon learns of a powerful weapon called the Trident of Poseidon, that Salazar intends to use to eliminate all pirates of the ocean after killing much of Barbossa's crew. To that end, Barbossa is forced to team up with Jack again to find the Trident and free the Black Pearl from its imprisonment, eventually learning of his true parentage to Carina. In the end following the destruction of the Trident, Barbossa sacrifices himself to kill Salazar and his remaining men to save Carina and the others, allowing himself to be drowned in the ocean. Following the deaths of Salazar and his men, Jack, Carina, and the other pirates mourned for Barbossa's death; even Carina decides to take her father's surname in honor for his sacrifice.

---

Captain Barbossa: Ahoy there!

Me: Ahoy Captain Barbossa!

Captain Barbossa: Long time no see lads. How have ye been?

Me: Good Captain Barbossa. We're going to find the Trident of Poseidon and destroy it to put an end to all this madness and free Luxord.

Laney: We won't let it rule the sea ever again with its magic.

Nico: That's right!

Captain Barbossa: Aye. Let us help ye lads.

Me: Thank you Captain Barbossa.

We followed the signs to the Trident and we got a shock when we found out that Carina Smyth is really the biological daughter of Captain Barbossa and she finally met her father for the first time in her life. It was a huge shock. But we arrived at the sight where the trident was at and we split the sea and went down to the floor and it was incredible.

Me: Wow! It's like when Moses used the power of God to split the Red Sea and help free his people.

Lana: Unbelievable!

Lola: Wow.

Lily: Look.

We saw the legendary Trident of Poseidon and it was a scary trident.

Me: There it is. The Trident of Poseidon.

Laney: That is one scary pitchfork.

Lily: Yeah.

Varie: And we have to destroy it. What a shame.

?: It is a shame yes.

We turned and standing behind us was CAPTAIN ARMANDO SALAZAR, back from the dead!

---

Capitán Armando Salazar is the main antagonist of the 2017 film

Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Men Tell No Tales.

He is a barbaric and merciless undead pirate hunter and the captáin of an undead Spanish Royal Navy ship who is bent on exterminating all pirates in the entire world via the powerful Trident of Poseidon, and killing Jack Sparrow for cursing him and his crew - which caused them to become undead ghosts.

He was portrayed by Javier Bardem, who also played Anton Chigurh in the No Country For Old Men film, Felix Reyes Torrena in Collateral, Raoul Silva in Skyfall and Felix Marti in The Gunman, and Him/God in Mother! (which is also released in 2017).

Armando Salazar was once a captain of the Spanish Royal Navy, who dedicated his life to rid the seas of pirates after his father and grandfather were murdered by pirates at some point in his life. In his quest to exterminate the threat of piracy, Salazar became worse than those he hated, as he slaughtered pirates without mercy and saw them as little better than animals or infections instead of seeing them as people. Such was the case when he and the crew of his ship known as the Silent Mary, were ambushed by a fleet of ten pirate ships. Though outnumbered, Salazar and his crew slaughtered the fleet of pirates, before killing the survivors, even after they had raised a flag of surrender and begged for mercy.

In the chaos that followed, Salazar's noticed a young pirate boy named Jack Sparrow abroad a ship called the Wicked Wench, trying to escape the carnage, while taunting him. Not wanting to miss a single and insolent pirate, Salazar chased Jack into the Devil's Triangle, where the Silent Mary was mangled by rocks within the Devil's Triangle. This causes the powder stored within the ship to ignite and consume the ship with an unrelenting fire, seemingly killing Salazar and his crew.

However, it turns out that as Salazar and his crew's bodies begun to sink to the bottom of the sea, they were suddenly struck by streaks of eerie red light, resurrecting them as undead ghosts by the mysterious supernatural powers of the Triangle, where they were currently trapped. For years, Salazar and his now ghostly crew were forced to remain in the Devil's Triangle, trapped there by its supernatural powers, learning during his imprisonment the name of the man who defeated and cursed him: Jack Sparrow! Salazar vowed he would one day escape the Devil's Triangle and get revenge on Jack for defeating and humiliating him.

Pirates of The Caribbean: Dead Men Tell No Tales

Several years after this battle, Jack has grown up and become a legendary pirate and spent a long time running from the law while Salazar and his men have been waiting to get their revenge on him. They've spend years killing anyone who dares to enter the triangle, with Salazar always letting at least one man live to tell the tale. All Salazar wanted to do was be freed from the triangle so he could find a legendary magical object called the Trident of Poseidon and use it to make himself flesh again and then get his revenge against Jack for making him undead. One day, he spotted a British Royal Navy ship called the Monarch sail into the triangle. Afterwards Salazar and his men attacked the crew, easily slaughtering them all. Suddenly Salazar heard a noise below deck. He walked down to the brig. There he discovered a young boy named Henry Turner locked in a cell. Henry is the son of Jack's old friends Will Turner and Elizabeth Swann and Henry had spent most of his life trying to find Jack so he could help him break Will's curse with the Trident. When Salazar noticed Henry had many wanted posters of Jack, Salazar spared Henry and told him to find Jack and tell him that Salazar was coming for him, to seek his revenge.

Return for Revenge

Sometime after this, Henry has escaped on a piece of driftwood and the Devil's Triangle began sinking into the sea, because Jack giving away his compass for a drink. At last Salazar and his crew were freed from their purgatory. Even though his ship was nothing but a wreck, the Silent Mary was magically kept afloat as a ghost ship. After the crew celebrated their liberation, Armando told them it was time for them to continue their mission and kill all the other pirates in the world; including Jack.

Freed from the Devil's Triangle, Salazar and his men then continued their attacks on pirates, encountering a pirate fleet commanded by Jack's semi-arch enemy Hector Barbossa. Without hesitation, they quickly attacked and destroyed three of Barbossa's ships, always leaving at least one man alive to tell of him. Though the rest of the fleet managed to escape, the message the undead Spaniards sent was clear - the dead have taken command of the sea. Salazar and his men soon encountered Barbossa aboard his command ship, the Queen Anne's Revenge (which originally belong to the pirate Blackbeard), Salazar was ready to destroy with Barbossa on it, however at that moment, Barbossa mentioned that Salazar was looking for Jack. Salazar and his crew then boarded the Queen Anne's Revenge, where Barbossa agreed to help Salazar find Jack in exchange of him sparing his own life. Salazar took Barbossa and his crew abroad the Silent Mary and they hunted for Jack.

Closing In

Later on, Salazar finally spots Jack on another ship called the Dying Gull, so he and his crew attempt to attack. However, Jack, along with Henry and a girl named Carina Smyth (who is later revealed to be be Barbossa's long-lost daughter), escape on a lifeboat to a small island. Salazar and his crew chase the three to the island, but they soon realize that they can't walk on dry land, as evidenced when one of the crew members instantly turned into dust and dies for good after setting foot on dry sand. Salazar then orders Barbossa to go ashore and catch Jack, but Barbossa subsequently decided to help Jack, Henry and Carina find the Trident so he can use it to destroy Salazar and his men for good. Using his sword, Barbossa released Jack's ship Black Pearl from the bottle it was imprisoned in and sailed away on it with the others.

The Black Pearl vs The Silent Mary

Salazar and his crew soon caught on with the Black Pearl, resulting a lengthy, harsh and violent battle between Jack's crew and Salazar's crew. During the battle, Salazar chased and fought Sparrow and tried to kill him, but was forced to flee back on the Mary along with his men when Black rock Island, the island where the Trident, appeared. Before returning on his ship, however, Salazar captured Henry. He then possessed Henry so he could walk on land. knowing that later he could return to normal with the trident, since this artifact had the power to break all the curses of the sea.

Final Death

After Barbossa, Jack, and Carina arrived at Black rock Island, Jack and Carina found the trident in an tomb underwater. Salazar then arrived possessing Henry and attacked them. He engaged Jack in another fight while the crew of the Silent Mary saw them from within the parted sea, the result of the Trident's powers being unleashed. After grabbing a hold of the Trident, its energy released Salazar from Henry's body, and he sadistically began to throw Jack through the water, where Salazar's crew attempted to grab Jack and try to drown him. After toying with Jack for a while, Salazar was about to kill Jack with the trident.

At the moment, the now free Henry then quickly sliced the trident in half with his sword and broke all the curses of the sea, including Salazar's and Will's. Salazar was rendered human again, as he was turned back to his hard flesh form. And so were his crew, but their joy was short lived, as the walls of the tombs were starting to close in on everybody crew.

As Barbossa flies in to save Jack, Henry and Carina by using the anchor of the Black Pearl, Jack, Henry and Carina quickly hop on with Salazar and all of his men also hopping on it, driven by revenge, Salazar leaves all of his crew, including his most loyal crewman Lieutenant Lesaro, to die, except for two other crew members that followed him closely. As Barbossa, Jack, Henry, and Carina climbed up the anchor chain, Salazar, followed by his two crewmen, pursued them and attempted to reach Carina and murder her first.

However, Barbossa, in a valiant and gallant attempt to save his daughter, let go of the anchor and grabbed hold of a blade Jack gave him as he fell down the anchor, he plunged his sword into Salazar's back, causing him to let go of the anchor's chain in pain. Salazar fell down and knocked his two crew members off the anchor, as Salazar screamed in utter horror before he hits his head on the anchor, which kills him this time for good. The walls of water closed in, as Salazar's life-less body, his two remaining crewmen, and Barbossa were washed away by the closing seas.

Me: Captain Armondo Salazar, captain of the Silent Mary.

Armondo Salazar: The famous Team Loud Phoenix Storm. It's an honor to meet the famous heroes of the universe that saved everyone.

Me: Nice to know that we've made an impression on a dead man. We are not gonna let the Trident of Poseidon be used by a scumbag like you to destroy all pirates and rule the Seven Seas.

But little did we know that the Trident was glowing.

Armondo Salazar: I'm afraid you have little choice.

Me: We'll see about that.

The Masters of Evil appeared. It was Zs'Skayr, Hydro Man and Professor Calamitous.

Professor Calamitous: Well look what the cat dragged in.

Me: Professor Calamitous, Hydro Man and Zs'Skayr.

Hydro Man: Nice to see you all.

Zs'Skayr: I hear you're all planning to destroy the Trident of Poseidon.

Sora: Of course we are. By doing so, we'll free Luxord of his curse.

Hydro Man: That might be true. But whether he chooses to stay as captain of the Flying Dutchman is up to him.

Me: That's right.

?: I think it's interesting.

Another figure came out and it was BLAZE! The first member of the Society of Light's Light Brigade!

---

Blaze, known in Japanese version as Honōmaru, is an assassin who escaped Sarina's lair with T-Bone. He revealed to Jaden that he and T-Bone had themselves once applied for Duel Academy but failed their first entrance exam. He was caught and sealed in a mirror by Sarina but he was freed alongside the other Light Brigade Duelists after Jaden Yuki and Aster Phoenix defeated her.

The "Honō" portion of his name in the Japanese version is derived from the word "honō" (炎), meaning "fire" or "blaze."

Blaze's signature card (and also the only one of his that was shown) is "Thestalos the Firestorm Monarch".

Sarina: Blaze!

Blaze: Been a while Lady Sarina.

Me: Who are you?

Blaze: Allow me to introduce myself. I am Blaze, member of the Society of Light's Light Brigade.

Me: The Light Brigade?

Sarina: They are 4 Duel Assassins that were under my employ to help me take down my brother. But they betrayed me.

Sarina went over what the Light Brigade were.

The Light Brigade, known in Japan as the Four Monarchs (四帝, Yon Tei), is a group of assassin duelists in Sarina's service. All four Members decks are centered around a "Monarch". In addition, each member of the Light Brigade possesses some sort of element-based power. Frost, Thunder, T-Bone and Blaze are shown to travel through snow, lightning, earth and fire, respectively; and the four seem to be responsible for using the Duel Spirits of the Monarch cards to create a spiritual barrier around Domino City.

The Light Brigade is introduced as Duel Academy students go on a field trip to Domino City. There, Frost and Thunder duel and Tyranno Hassleberry and Syrus Truesdale, Frost defeating and kidnapping the two after eliminating them and Thunder at the same time. T-Bone later duels Jaden Yuki and loses.

Me: Whoa! These guys sound like they are really dangerous.

Blaze: We are J.D. and we heard so much about you and all of your achievements.

Me: I like your hair though. It makes you feel like you're one with fire.

Blaze: Why thank you.

Eddy threw a water balloon at Blaze.

SPLASH!

Blaze: Hey! I don't really have fire powers. I'm just called Blaze for the Hell of it!

Eddy: (sarcastically) Oh really? Well, my bad!

Me: He really doesn't have Fire Powers. It would be cool if he did though.

Luxord: Uh J.D.?

Me: What is it?

Luxord: The Trident. Look!

We turned and we saw the Trident of Poseidon glowing aqua blue and it floated off its pedestal and went towards Varie. It landed in front of her.

Varie: What is happening?

Me: I think it chose you as its master Varie.

Varie: But how?

Me: I have no idea. But take it.

(IMPERATRIX MUNDI BY JO BLANKENBURG PLAYS AT 1:15)

Varie held out her hand and took the trident and then she was enveloped in a massive flash of aqua blue light and a massive vortex of water exploded high into the sky and it formed into a massive and beautiful mermaid. We heard divine singing as we felt Varie's energy levels skyrocketing at a massive and astronomical level!

Armondo Salazar: What is happening!?

When the light faded we saw Varie and she was forever changed! She had her aqua blue hair in a braided ponytail, she had the kanji for Mermaid of Poseidon emblazoned in the middle of her forehead over a mermaid on the planet Neptune with its astrological symbol.

ポセイドンの人魚

She also had earrings in the shapes of seashells on and her eyes had the waves of the ocean raging in them, she had beautiful aqua blue lipstick on and she had a beautiful blue vest and aqua blue shirt on and she had a blue skirt with shimmering rainbow fish scales on it, she had beautiful aqua blue leggings and she had beautiful aqua blue boots. She also had a beautiful sleeveless trench coat with the constellation of Carina the Stern above the ocean shimmering with the aurora borealis on it and it had the kanji for Varie Knudson, the Cosmic Emissary of Poseidon and Neptune's Ambassador of the Water and the Ocean on the back.

ポセイドンの宇宙使節であり、海と海のネプチューンの大使であるヴァリー・クヌードソン

She also had aqua blue angel wings and she had the Trident of Poseidon in her hands. She was now a SUPER ANGEL 1,000,000 MERMAID OF NEPTUNE!

Me: WHOA! Varie you look incredible!

Nico: Incredible! Varie how do you feel?

Varie: (Divine Voice) I have ascended to new heights and I feel amazing.

Laney: Wow. The Trident of Poseidon amplified her power to J.D.'s power that he got when he and Phoenix merged.

Lana: Incredible!

Lucy Loud: This is amazing. Varie now has total power over the ocean.

Brittney: That's our mom for you.

Nicole: She is really something.

Maria: And it's not just her. Look at me, Luna, Gali, Nokama, Rikki and everyone else.

We saw that all of the Neptune Crusaders all had Sleeveless Ocean Trench Coats. They looked incredible!

Maria: Wow! I look awesome!

Luna: Me too dudes.

Me: Lets get them dudes!

Roman Goodwin then appeared.

Roman: Let me help you guys take down Blaze.

Lynn: Thanks Roman. I'll face Roman.

Axel Brody: Let me help too. Time to fight fire with fire.

Varie: First let me do this. I remove all curses of the sea for all eternity!

Varie fired a wave of energy and it spread all over the world and destroyed all the curses forever.

Luxord felt himself and he was freed from the curse of the Dutchman and Captain Armando Salazar had his life and humanity back!

Luxord: I… I'm free!

Luxord went to me and hugged me.

Luxord: Thank you all so much.

Me: It's Varie you should be thanking Luxord. But you are so welcome.

Lana: Glad you're free Luxord.

Me: Lets get them!

Troy: We've learned a few tricks since we last fought, Hisser.

Megaforce Rangers: Super Mega Mode!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into their Super Megaforce Mode!

Me: Now they have 27+ years of Ranger Powers on them! Lets get them!

Barbossa: (to Salazar) Dead men tell no tales!

We powered up and went at them.

Battle 5: Blaze

---

Lynn, Axel Brody and Roman were facing Blaze.

Blaze: You all will join the power of light.

Lynn: Sartorius will meet his end at J.D.'s hands and pay for his crimes.

Roman: That's right. We won't let monsters like the Society of Light destroy the universe we call home!

Axel: That's right!

Blaze: We'll see. I summon my monster THESTALOS THE FIRESTORM MONARCH!

He summoned his signature monster Thestalos the Firestorm Monarch!

Lynn: Time to fight fire with fire! I summon ROYAL FIRESTORM GUARDS, FIRE PRINCESS, BURNING ALGAE, FOX FIRE, CHARCOAL IMPACHI, TWIN-HEADED FIRE DRAGON, HIITA THE FIRE CHARMER, DARKFIRE SOLDIER #1 and 2, KING PYRON, FIRESTORM PROMINENCE, ELEMENTAL HERO HEAT, ELEMENTAL HERO LADY HEAT, THESTALOS THE FIRESTORM MONARCH, MR. VOLCANO, CHARUBIN THE FIRE KNIGHT, INFERNAL FLAME EMPEROR, INFERNO, INVASION OF FLAMES and LADY ASSAILANT OF FLAMES!

Lynn summoned said monsters in a massive vortex of fire.

Axel Brody: I summon the Volcanic Monsters! I summon VOLCANIC ROCKET, SLICER, SCATTERSHOT, DOOMFIRE, QUEEN, SHELL, BLASTER, and HAMMERER!

In a massive volcanic eruption he summoned said monsters.

Roman: I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL URU!

He summoned the spider Earthbound Immortal Uru!

Blaze: Impressive selection. I didn't know you had a Thestalos the Firestorm Monarch as well Lynn.

Lynn: I may be the volcano emissary, but fire is what I like. I also equip myself with DIVINE SWORD - PHOENIX BLADE and SALAMANDRA!

She activated said cards and she had the Phoenix Blade and a dragon made of pure fire was around the blade.

Axel: I equip myself with SWORD OF DRAGON'S SOUL!

He equipped himself with said card.

Roman: And I equip myself with SWORD OF SPARKLES and SILVER WING!

He equipped himself with said cards.

They went at Blaze and Lynn kicked him in the face and slashed him and blasted him all over with their powers and fired massive energy blasts all over him and they exploded all over the place with fire and energy and burned him all over the place. Their monsters fired blasts of fire and destroyed his Thestalos the Firestorm Monarch and Blaze was defeated. Then they got a shocking sight! They saw Blaze enveloped in a vortex of fire and he was incinerated in an instant. It was Sartorius's way of saying "You are a worthless waste of life."

They looked away from the horrifying sight and there was nothing left of him but a pile of ashes. All that remained of him was his Dragon Duel Disk and his deck.

Lynn: What a heartless asshole! He killed his own comrade in cold blood!

Roman: Sartorius you monster!

Axel: He has no honor at all. All he has is a heart of pure evil. He kills even his own comrades even for the smallest of mistakes.

Lynn: Like Frieza and Orochimaru.

Lynn went over and took the duel disk and she decided to make it her own duel disk.

Lynn: Might as well keep this as a trophy.

Roman: You did good though Lynn.

Lynn: Thanks Roman.

Battle 6: Armondo Salazar

We regrouped and Varie was gonna face Salazar.

Armondo Salazar: You have no idea what you are up against. That trident will be mine and the pirates will all be destroyed.

Varie: I won't let that happen. You are now gonna face the power of a goddess. But first. Trident remove the evil in yourself of the curses you have unleashed unto this world.

The trident glowed and it released a black version of itself and it fell to the ground.

Varie: That version we must destroy. Now lets dance Salazar. I won't allow you to get away with the pain and suffering you've caused to innocent people. You've gone too far. Now you have to deal with me.

Varie flared up her aura with incredible power and went at him with incredible speed and kneed him in the stomach with incredible power! Varie then punched him in the face and smashed his head in with the trident and slashed him in the arm with it and fired a massive blast of lightning from it and electrocuted him all over. Varie then kicked him in the stomach with devastating force and fired more lightning and electrocuted him all over the place. Varie then fired a massive blast of water and it smashed into his stomach and he belched up a tremendous amount of blood and she kicked him in the head and he belched up more blood. Salazar then unsheathed his sword and they clashed with incredible force and power as sparks were flying all over the place and setting some of the ocean floor on fire. He went and slashed at her and she grabbed the sword with the trident and turned it and she snapped his sword in half like a twig.

Salazar: I will never lose!

Varie: You will lose always Salazar. I have fought many pirates before and they were nowhere near this level of power.

Salazar: You make me sick! How can you be so strong and that powerful? You should be weaker than me because I am the strongest of all.

Varie: Y ou act like you know Team Loud Phoenix Storm from the inside out. But your knowledge about us is dangerously lacking. What you don't realize is that the more we continue to fight, the more powerful we become and there is no limit to our power.

Salazar: You are monsters!

Varie: The only monster here is you.

Me: Lets use our techniques, combos and final smashes on the Trident all at once to destroy it.

Sora: But what about Varie?

Me: She has this all under control. Besides, lets let her have her fun in trying out her new power.

Nico: Okay yeah. Lets do it!

Lily: Take this you bad trident! OCEAN STYLE NINJA ARTS: THE GREAT OCEAN, SEA ELVES and SEA OF DREAD!

Lily fired a massive wave of water and they formed into said creatures and oceans.

---

The Great Ocean

The Great Ocean or Great Western Ocean, known by the Lizardmen as the World Pond, is an open sea that separates the Old World, Araby and the Southlands from the New World (Naggaroth and Lustria).

The Great Ocean has many smaller seas connecting to it, such as the Sea of Malice and the Sea of Chill near Naggaroth, and the Sea of Claws, the Sea of Chaos and the Tilean Sea near the Old World. The Great Ocean also surrounds Ulthuan and Albion and connects with the Far Sea and the Sea of Dread at the southern capes of Lustria and the Southlands respectively, two other large oceans.

Sea Elves

Sea Elves are those High Elves of Ulthuan who have taken to trading with the various ports of the Old World and beyond.

The Elves living around the coasts of the Elven Kingdoms have a tradition of seamanship and fighting, and lack the normal Elven disdain of physical labour. Because of this, other High Elves look down on them, thinking them rough and uncouth. They are brave warriors and tireless guardians of the seaways, and it is thanks to them that the sea routes between the Old World and Lustria remain open. These "Sea Elves" as Old Worlders call them, are quite venturesome, and can often be found as merchants and traders in Old World ports. Most of them speak Human languages as well as Elvish, and many have a smattering of the Norse language too. The Elven trading posts of the Old World are run almost exclusively by Sea Elves.

Sea of Dread

The Sea of Dread is a large body of water which lies south of the Darklands, east of the Southlands and west of the Hinterlands of Khuresh. The Sea of Dread joins the Great Ocean at the southern tip of the Southlands, and the Far Sea at the Gates of Calith.

Within the Sea of Dread lie the Dragon Isles which are reputedly inhabited by Lizardmen who have turned feral without guidance from a Slann.

The main naval power is the Chaos Dwarf fleet, who have access to the sea from the River Ruin, though the High Elf Navy maintains a presence as well. The area around the mouth of the River Ruin is extremely polluted.

---

Bai Tza: OCEAN STYLE NINJA ARTS: LEVIATHAN, KRAKEN and ATLANTIS!

Bai Tza fired waves of water and they formed into the legendary ocean legends Leviathan, Kraken and Atlantis.

Maria: Take this! OCEAN STYLE NINJA ARTS: VAMPIRE COAST, DREADFLEET and MERWYRM!

Maria fired waves of water and they formed into said creatures and more.

---

Vampire Coast

The Vampire Coast is the Undead realm of the mad Vampire Pirate King Luthor Harkon on the eastern coastline of the continent of Lustria.

The Vampire Coast is located on the eastern shore of Lustria facing the Great Ocean, between the ruined Temple-cities of Huatl to the north and Axlotl to the south. The land is described as a region of foggy, pestilent jungle and foetid swamps.

Nearby areas are the Pox Marsh, the Jungle of Webs, the Blood Swamps, the estuary of River Qurveza and the volcanic islands of the Fuming Serpent and the Spitting Serpent, although it is not clear how much political control Luthor Harkon actually exerts over all of these lands.

The winds and currents along this coast are incredibly treacherous to unwary vessels, which has allowed Luthor's army to become swollen with the raised corpses of all manner of unfortunate mariners.

This stretch of coastline became infamous as the "Vampire Coast" because any Elven ship which passed too close was destined to meet a dire fate.[2b] High Elf naval captains also report ghostly ships in the fog, and a siren-wail that lures sailors to their doom.

Dreadfleet

As the clock strikes midnight, the Dreadfleet sails forth, its Undead captains eager to slake their unholy thirsts. The warships of the damned emerge from banks of sulphurous fog, illuminated only by the flicker of pallid ghostlights. They draw closer with the sickening slowness of a nightmare. Suddenly, the uneasy murmur of the open seas is split by the thunderous roar of cannon batteries. A low moaning can be heard in the distance, issuing from a thousand ragged throats, a haunting sound that is punctuated by the barked orders of unliving commanders as monstrous warships are brought to bear.

Since his rebirth from his previous life as Nyklaus von Carstein, Count Noctilus has founded his own darkling empire, binding the Shadewraith to his bidding, reanimating the rotting carcass of the Skabrus and striking foul deals with the captains of the Black Kraken and the Curse of Zandri.

For two bleak decades the Undead reavers of Count Noctilus have plagued the oceans of the world. After each raid, the Dreadfleet disappears into its lair as quickly and silently as it appeared, far from the reach of Man.

Merwyrm

Merwyrms are one of the most ancient creatures to be found within the Old World, and like Sea Dragons, Merwyrm are a distant kin to the mighty winged Dragons that once ruled the skies of this world.

Loremasters believe that the Merwyrms' scaled forms once swarmed the primordial oceans of the Old World, but now they are rarely heard of save in the tales of embittered sailors who claim to have lost a ship and crewmates to these beast.

All Merwyrms possess long, almost serpentine and sinuous bodies, covered in scales and corded with muscle, with four stubby limbs each tipped with sharp claws. Unlike Dragons, the more primitive Merwyrms do not possess wings, instead the lashing of their bodies serves to propel them through the deeps at greater speed and is able to make frightening gait across dry ground when their hunger takes them there to pursue prey.

Merwyrms are also hardy and adaptable creatures, with the ability to heal wounds at a tremendous rate at the expense of an ever growing appetite for food. Merwyrms are most commonly found in the dangerous coastal waters of the Sea of Claws, and are bright silver-green and highly venomous. When food is scarce they have been known to assault coastal villages within the Province of Nordland, devouring the inhabitants with ravenous fury. Other rarer sub-breeds are known to exist, such as the albino Pagowyrm which dwells in the frigid seas of Naggaroth, and the legendary black Sciowyrms found only in the deepest ocean trenches. Masters of the primordial darkness that surrounds them in the deeps, they are said to be one of the few creatures that dares to hunt the mighty Kraken.

The Asur are known to call up Merwyrms as servants, similar to Sea Dragons enslaved by their dark kin. One of the most famous is Amanar of Lothern, and Sea Lord Aislinn used a Merwyrm during his campaign in the Sea of Claws. The Asur treasure that the Merwyrms are able to survive on land, unlike other aquatic monsters.

We fired waves of light and fire and rainbow energy and the blasts and energy all combined and they all slammed into the evil of the Trident of Poseidon and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The explosion completely obliterated the Trident in an instant and there was nothing left of it.

Tassanil, Crawsectus, Arrthoa, and Drakness blasted the crew of Salazar all over and slashed and smashed them all over. Varie then slashed Salazar in the chest and plunged her trident into him and ripped out his beating heart and splattering blood all over the place as she had his beating heart skewered onto the trident. She then whistled and called mermaids and they jumped out of the water and ripped him apart as they were eating him all over and they splattered the blood and guts of his crew and him all over.

Varie: That was a good fight.

We all regrouped.

Me: WHOA! Varie you were incredible!

Varie: Thanks J.D.

Me: You really socked it to him. I'm so proud of you.

Varie: Thank you.

We then kissed passionately.

Everyone: Aww.

The Masters of Evil came.

Calamitous: (to Stewie) So, is it true what you said back there? That you broke Rita's vase?

Stewie: Yes. But it was an honest accident!

Zs'Skayr: We know that. But you shouldn't lie to cover up someting like that.

Hydro Man: Yeah. You guys should be honest with each other, Leave the lying stuff to us.

Maria: We'll remember that.

Hydro Man: We'll leave the two lovebirds alone for a bit.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Nico: This was intense!

Stewie: It sure was Nico.

We later went back home and Stewie told Rita the truth.

Rita: Oh Stewie it's all right. Besides you didn't mean to. It was an accident. Besides I came prepared.

She opened a closet and inside it were many replacement vases.

Laney: Wow! Mom you are really prepared.

Rita: That vase breaks all the time and I made many of these just in case for when one breaks.

Nico: Good thinking Ms. Rita.

Lana: Yeah.

Lola: Awesome mom.

Lily: Yeah.

Another awesome chapter done.

Pirates of the Caribbean 5: Dead Men Tell No Tales was one of the most awesome movies ever back in 2017. It was so cool! And I am so glad that Will Turner is free of the curse of the Dutchman and it was awesome. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the 6th Storm Hawks chapter and we're going to take down Snipes and destroy the entirety of the Cyclonians Army recruitment bases. Get ready for a flying adventure as we take on Ravess's brother.

See you all tomorrow.

Ruthless Cyclonian Military Sergeant

Intro opens to show the world and lands of the planet Atmos.

Aerrow: Atmos, world of a thousand mountaintop kingdoms. Each protected by a Sky Knight against the forces of darkness. Beasts, rogues and worst of all: Cyclonians.

The people of the alien world of Atmos are always in constant war with the forces of evil and they are destroying the evil forces that constantly plague its skies. The worst evil of them all is the Cyclonian Empire. A ruthless empire that wants to rule over all of Atmos with an iron fist.

Aerrow: The greatest of all Sky Knights lead the Storm Hawks. His mission, unite the kingdoms and rid Atmos of evil forever.

The Storm Hawks banded all the kingdoms together to try and take down all of Cyclonia.

Aerrow: But he was betrayed…

Ace killed the leader of the Storm Hawks in cold blood.

Aerrow: The Storm Hawks Defeated…

The ship of the Storm Hawks fell to the ground.

Aerrow: And all hope lost.

Ace joined the Cyclonians as Dark Ace.

Aerrow: Until now. I'm Aerrow. The last descendent of the original Storm Hawks and I have been given their mission.

Aerrow landed in front of his friends.

Aerrow: This is my squadron. Finn the Marksman.

His aim is always spot on.

Finn: (Gunfire sounds)

Aerrow: Junko the strongman.

He punches the screen all over.

Junko: Sorry.

Aerrow: Piper the specialist.

Piper: Lets do it!

Aerrow: Stork the helmsman.

Stork: We're doomed.

Aerrow: And of course my copilot Radarr. We're the Storm Hawks. And for us the Sky is Never the limit.

* * *

It was a beautiful day and the sun was shining beautifully and the birds were singing as well as the air smelling great. Nico was walking in the park when he saw a guy harassing a woman.

Jerk: You're a hot lady! You deserve to spend time with a guy like me!

Woman: Let me go, creep!

Nico walked up to the jerk and grab his wrist.

Nico: You heard the lady!

The guy tried to punch him but Nico threw him into a fountain.

Jerk: (gets up) I'm gonna get even with you for this! (runs away)

Unknown to Nico, the jerk was really Frost from the Light Brigade.

Woman: Thank you so much!

Nico: No problem. What's your name?

Ruth: My name is Ruth. Hey aren't you Nico Chan who is always with my nieces and nephews?

Nico: That's me. So you are the Loud's Aunt Ruth. It's a pleasure to meet you.

Ruth: Same to you. J.D. and Lincoln told me so much about you .

Nico: I had a feeling he did. I'm glad I got here in time.

Ruth: Thank you so much though.

Nico: Just passing through.

Ruth: I was on my way over to the estate to visit the family.

Nico: Cool. I can take you there if you want.

Ruth: I would like that.

Nico: Hold on tight.

She took his hand and Nico used Instant Transmission to get them there.

Later we were having an awesome dinner with Aunt Ruth.

Me: It's nice having you here with us Ruth.

Ruth: Same here J.D.

Me: I'm glad we could use this time to talk to you. We found some very horrific revelations about a war that we're going to fight in. It's not pretty.

I revealed everything that happened with the Royal Defenders version of Ruth and it was horrifying for her.

Ruth: So I became a bitter old crow in the universe of the Royal Defenders?

Me: Yeah and we're preparing for a major war against the Royal Defenders and we're gonna make them pay for ruining the reputations of heroes all over the multiverse.

Lori and the Loud Kids all hugged Ruth.

Nico: Cool.

Ruth: Would you be a dear and get me that soda?

Nico: Coming right up.

Suddenly, without warning, Nico hands moved on their own and spilled soda all over Ruth's face.

Lady Deathstrike: Dude, I didn't think you'd snap!

Me: Huh?

Ruth: WHAT THE HELL IS THIS?!

Lynn Sr: Calm down, Ruth. Let me get you cleaned up.

Rita: (to me) Nico, apologize to Ruth right now!

Nico: You guys got it all wrong!

Lynn: Got what wrong? I know Aunt Ruth can be a little too much but…

All of a sudden, my fist ended up punching Lynn in the face as she fell on top of May.

Lola: Nico, just calm down! (Nico end up headbutting her)

And then, Nico flipped the table onto Lori's face.

Lori: Ow! I'm ok!

Me: Something is wrong here.

While this was going on, the door to the estate opened by itself and Frost appeared outside out of nowhere.

I saw the door open and close all by itself.

Frost: (smirks) That'll teach you to mess with me! (walks away)

Zatanna: What just happened?

Ruth: I'll tell you what happened! Your friend Nico just assaulted me and all of you!

Nico: But I didn't do it. You guys have to believe me.

Ruth: Oh, and I supposed your fist just moved on its own and punched Lynn in the face?!

Lynn: C'mon, there has to be a logical explanation!

Me: He's right! He didn't do it. I saw the door open and close all by itself. Someone is out to ruin him. We got ourselves an invisible villain here.

Laney: He's right. I felt some wind blow by me and I saw footprints in the carpet being made by a figure.

Nico: (to Ruth) Look, it's obvious someone made me do all those things against my will. And if you won't believe me, I'll just have to go out and prove my innocence! (storms out)

Cutthroat: Boss, wait!

May: Me, Poliwag, Poromon, Manaphy, Maria, Horsea, and William will go help Nico find whoever did this. If anyone wants to help us with this, they can.

Me: Someone is out to ruin his image and we got to find out who.

But then the alarm went off.

Me: Uh oh. We'll have to worry about it later. We have trouble.

We went to the computer and we saw that there was trouble on Atmos.

Me: Trouble is on Atmos. Lisa, deploy the U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix.

Lisa Loud: Affirmative!

We went to the ship and we saw Dark Spicer and some of the Masters of Evil. We saw Dark Spicer, Robo Blaze, Snake, Firefly, Electro, and Shiv walking towards us.

Tracks: What're you guys doing here?

Dark Spicer: We heard about what happened. So, we decided to help you guys find out the real culprit of this mess.

Me: Thanks Dark. Eddy, you help Nico and some of the girls with whoever is doing this to you. We're gonna go to Atmos and take down more Cyclonians.

Eddy: Right.

Luna: I'll help out too.

Kalin then appeared.

Kalin: I'll help out too. I have a strong feeling it's one of the Society of Light members making Nico seem like a thug.

Me: I understand. Lets roll!

We were off to Atmos.

* * *

The U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix was flying over the lands of Atmos.

Me: Captain's Log, Stardate 2843.9: We are in the skies of the planet Atmos and our mission is to take down more Cyclonians and bring justice to Ravess's evil brother Snipe. We're one step closer to ending the terror of the Cyclonian Empire once and for all. We just have to take down more of her forces and we'll be all set for war. The victory of the TLPS Storm Hawks Coalition is almost at hand.

Laney: So we're going after Ravess's brother Snipe.

Me: Yep. We're gonna put him in prison like we said.

Vince: Good. Snipes is just as dangerous as his sister.

Lana: He sure is.

Piper: I can't want to make Snipes pay for his crimes.

Me: We only have him and Dark Ace to take down and then we set our sights on the rest of the Cyclonians and Master Cyclonis herself and she will pay for her crimes against Atmos.

Aerrow: She sure will. Dark Ace will pay for his crimes against the Storm Hawks.

Me: I will slash his head off and drink his blood.

Lucy Loud: Save seconds for me.

Lisa: Captain. Multiple radar signatures coming in. 190 kilometers west northwest.

Me: On screen.

The screen turned on and we saw a massive armada of Cyclonians and there were so many of them.

Me: Red Alert! All hands man your battle stations! Lets get to our ships.

We got to our ships and we were getting ready to take the fight to them.

We flew out of the U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix and we were ready.

Me: All wings report in.

Vince: Dragon Leader standing by.

Lincoln: Orange Leader standing by.

Carol: Purple Leader standing by.

Lynn: Red Leader Standing by.

Lori: Aqua Leader standing by.

Varie: Mermaid Leader standing by.

Laney: Jungle Leader standing by.

Naruto: Maelstrom Leader standing by.

Lucy Loud: Darkness Leader standing by.

Troy Burrows: Sky Rangers standing by.

Devon Michaels: Beast Rangers standing by.

We were ready.

Me: Lock S-Foils in attack position.

Our ships were ready for battle.

We were flying fast at them.

Me: Accelerate to attack speed.

We flew faster.

Vince: This is it boys.

Me: This is Gold Leader guys. Go weapons hot and fire at will. Keep your senses on full alert for any Cyclonians that are children. Blow their ships up but capture them.

Vince: Roger that.

Our weapons let loose on the Cyclonians and blew so many of them apart in fiery explosions.

KRABBOOOOOMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBOOOOOOOOMMM!

Vince: J.D. I got one on my tail!

Me: I'm on my way partner!

I flew my ship over to Vince's ship as I saw him being tailed by a Cyclonian ship blasting at him.

Me: Sayonara motherfucker.

I fired lasers at him and blew the Cyclonian Ship and the Cyclonians on it to smithereens.

Vince: Thanks man. I owe you.

Me: No problem. Last one to kills some bad guys buys some sodas.

Lincoln: Yeah!

Rey fired blasts of Force Lightning at some of the Cyclonians and blew them apart in fiery explosions.

KRABBBBOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

Naruto: Nice shooting Rey.

Rey: (British Accent) Thanks Naruto.

Laney: Take this dirtbags.

Carol: There's too many of them.

Me: We'll have to take them down with our shinobi techniques.

Naruto: Good idea.

Lucy Loud: I got this. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: JEFF THE KILLER!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the ruthless creepypasta protagonist JEFF THE KILLER!

Jeffrey Woods, also more commonly known as Jeff the Killer, is the titular main protagonist of the Creepypasta short story of the same name by the brother of GameFuelTv. He is a teenage boy who loses his sanity and becomes a serial killer to satisfy his homicidal urges.

effrey Woods started out as a normal suburban teenager, living with his mother Margaret, his father Peter and his brother Liu.

At the age of 13, Jeff and his family moved into a new neighborhood after his father received a promotion at his job. Jeff and his brother were happy about the idea. Not long after settling into the neighbourhood, Jeff obtains an odd feeling in his mind, he dismisses it.

A day later Jeff and Liu get ready for school and go to a bus stop void of others. While waiting for the bus, three kids younger kids; Randy, Troy and Keith approach the brothers and mug them at knifepoint, taking Liu's wallet in the process. Jeff gets the feeling again and proceeds to violently attack the three bullies, incapacitating all three of them and shocking Liu. Jeff and Liu flee from the scene after the school bus nears, they manage to escape and reach school with no suspicion.

While it seemed they were in the clear, the next morning two police officers arrive at Jeff's house and both Jeff and Liu are accused of attacking the trio with no apparent motivation, even after Jeff tries to explain that they were being mugged, the police don't believe him due to witness claims that he fled from the scene. Jeff rightly takes the blame for the occurance and the officers conjure on the spot that he will be sentenced to a Correctional Facility for a whole year, but Liu steps in with a knife in hand and takes the blame for the whole incident, showing cuts and bruises on his arm to prove it. Liu is then taken away in Jeff's place, leaving Jeff into a depression.

After two days, Jeff becomes more and more debilitated with guilt and loneliness. However, on a Saturday morning, Jeff's mother insists that he should go to a neighbor's birthday party as she believes it will make him happy. Jeff reluctantly goes to the party, which shortly takes his mind off of Liu, making him feel slightly better. However, things take a turn for the worse when Randy, Troy & Keith track Jeff at the party and confront him, with anger in their eyes showing that they are wanting an obvious fight. Jeff tries to reason with Randy believing that they are even as he got to beat them and they got his brother sent to the Juvenile Detention Center, but Randy refuses to take solace in this, claiming he doesn't "go for even" but rather goes "for winning.".

Randy then proceeds to brutally attack Jeff whilst Troy and Keith hold the parents and children at gunpoint to prevent them from interfering with Randy's assault, during the fight Randy smashes a bottle of Vodka over Jeff's head, drenching him in alcohol. After Randy incapacitates Jeff, he constantly yells at Jeff to fight back, but after struggling to stand, Randy finally insults Jeff, telling him that Liu will rot in prison and that he should be ashamed of himself that he won't do anything about it.

This infuriates Jeff to get up and pile on top of Randy to the ground, striking a vicious punch to the bully's chest, causing Arrhythmia to his heart, which results in his death. Troy and Keith, enraged by Randy's death, begin to shoot Jeff, they fail to hit him as he runs upstairs. After the two run out of ammunition, Jeff lures them to the bathroom where he mortally wounds them.

During the struggle with Keith, a tub of bleach drenches Jeff, which Keith takes this opportunity to set Jeff on fire by throwing his lighter at him. With the combination of alcohol and bleach drenched on Jeff, it sets him ablaze, making it practically impossible for him to put out the flames himself, Jeff then falls down the stairs of the house and passes out as the flames engulf him.

Jeff wakes up in a hospital room with bandages covering his face and body, unable to move, he is visited by his mother, who informs by him that Liu is being released from jail after witnesses overheard Randy's confession that he was responsible for getting Liu sent to prison. Several weeks later, Jeff's bandages are removed, revealing his deformed face. Jeff's mother is terrified at the sight, but Liu and his father are simply stunned at the sight. When Jeff takes a look at his face in the mirror, he takes a liking to it, and when his family notices the behavior, the doctors mistakenly assure them that it is a result of the painkillers.

When taken home that day, during the night, Jeff's mother wakes up to find Jeff in the bathroom burning out his own eyelids and carving a Glasgow smile up to his cheeks. She realizes that Jeff has gone insane and knows he needs to be killed. When informing Jeff's father, Jeff overhears this and proceeds to butcher his parents. Liu wakes up from the noise and tries to avoid it by trying to go back to sleep, however, Jeff creeps into the room and tells Liu to "Go To Sleep", before plunging the knife into his chest. Liu's fate is then left uncertain.

Jeff then goes on a serial killing rampage, killing those who refuse to sleep at night, Jeff becomes infamously known as the "Ominous Unknown Killer".

---

He slashed and cut numerous Cyclonians all over all at once and blew them apart in fiery explosions.

KRABBBBOOOOOOOMMMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOMMMMM! KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!

Naruto: Nice Shot Lucy!

Me: That was the creepypasta character Jeff the Killer. Very scary internet creation.

Laney: Yeah.

Lucy Loud: Watch this one. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: EYELESS JACK!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the creepypasta cannibalistic serial killer EYELESS JACK!

---

Eyeless Jack is the titular main antagonist of the Creepypasta of the same name. He is an enigmatic stalker and killer who breaks into the protagonists' home to torment and steal from them.

On June 7, 2010, the photograph of Eyeless Jack was posted on 4chan, by a user named Arnon. The title of the post was Nightmare

Fuel, which contained images of disturbing creatures from video games, one of the images featuring the original photo of Jack. The story itself was written on February 25, 2012, by a Wikia user Azelf5000, also known on YouTube as Papa Pinche. On November 21, 2014, the story was officially terminated from Creepypasta, because the writer requested it to be taken down for thinking that since Jeff the Killer was removed, Eyeless Jack should be removed by him before the admins decided what happened to it.

While the story itself is non-canon, the most popular origin story of Eyeless Jack is from the creator of Sally Williams, La Mishi Mishi. Jack Nichols was just like any other average college student. His only real friend was his peer and roommate, Greg. Eventually, he found a sort of friendship with another peer, Jenny, and a small group of her friends. Jack later on discovered that the group turns out to be a cult worshiping a demon named Chernabog, with Jack involuntary made a sacrifice to be a son of Chernabog. Jenny and her friends proceed to blind Jack by pouring a hot, tar-like substance into his eyes, thus killing him in the process. His body is soon possessed, and he butchers Jenny and the others; ripping off their masks, slashing their throats, and disemboweling them. He took their kidneys afterward presumably as a sort of prize, or the fact that it was in some way related to the cult.

In the original story, a man named Mitch moves in with his brother Edwin after his house is foreclosed. A week later, Mitch wakes up with a large gash on his cheek. After going to the hospital, the doctor reveals that Mitch's left kidney had been surgically removed overnight. Around midnight that night, Mitch wakes to see Eyeless Jack over his bed, wearing a blue mask with black liquid dripping from empty eye sockets behind the mask. Mitch manages to grab his camera and take a picture before Jack attacks, clawing at his chest. Mitch escapes and flees into the woods, where he trips and is knocked unconscious.

When Mitch awakens in the hospital, it is revealed to him that Edwin had been killed the previous night. His parents drive him to the house to collect his belongings. When he enters, Mitch sees Edwin's corpse and a small object lying next to it. He observes it find that it is his kidney with a bite taken out of it, covered in a black substance.

---

He slashed and ate numerous Cyclonians and splattered their blood all over the place with indiscriminate fury.

Me: Another terrifying creepypasta.

Hunter: (German Accent) Ja. That was Eyeless Jack.

Laney: Scary!

Lucy Loud: These will scare you. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: CHAOS SPAWN!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the scary Chaos Spawn.

---

A Chaos Spawn is a mindless mutant creature who once belonged to one of the intelligent races of the galaxy and who has become so mutated through his or her servitude to Chaos that he or she has devolved into a twisted and insane abomination. Those seeking immortality and power through the ultimate attainment of daemonhood in service to the Ruinous Powers face the constant possibility of being reduced to Chaos Spawn, either by accumulating too many mutations or being cast aside by their Chaos patrons as unworthy of further advancement because of their consistent failure to serve the will of the Chaos Gods.

More simply, they may lack the inherent qualities required for successful leadership of other Chaos servants and thus be of no further use to their patrons. Chaos warband members who are transformed into Chaos Spawn will either be abandoned by their former comrades or kept as pets or as cannon fodder, to be herded into battle along with the rest of the Lost and the Damned.

Although physically powerful and extremely resilient, Chaos Spawn are insane, mewling creatures with no mental powers or self-awareness. Their former intelligence has been sacrificed to their failed ambition. Many a Chaos Champion of great promise has ended up as a seething mound of bone and blubber, monstrous and screaming with lunatic rage. The Ruinous Powers are generous but erratic with their favours. When blessing one of their followers, a Dark God might make them stronger, tougher, faster, astonishingly beautiful, hyper-intelligent or otherwise improve their lot in the world.

Just as likely, the Chaos God may feel their loyal subject would benefit from their toes falling off, having an eye sprout in their navel or being transformed into a dribbling and imbecilic mountain of flesh. Most Gifts of Chaos take the form of some physical mutation. The more of these gifts a Champion receives, the more potentially disastrous their cumulative effects can be - even the body and genome of a Chaos Space Marine can only withstand so many mutations before he passes the point of no return.

Wishing to see the creations of their god at work, a flock of Tzaangors herds three writhing Chaos Spawn towards the enemy lines.

Any Champion of Chaos, regardless of prestige, can find himself on the road to becoming a Chaos Spawn, for the gods are fickle. A Champion who does not earn himself the ultimate reward of daemonhood will surely become a Spawn unless he dies by some other means first. Such is the fate of the Chaos champion - those that survive are destined either for everlasting, diabolical glory or an ignominious end as a slavering heap of limbs and protrusions.

The outward appearance of a Chaos Spawn is utterly unpredictable and frequently changes over the course of a battle. No two are alike, and their make-up owes as much to the capricious energies of Chaos as it does to functionality. A Spawn may have several sets of limbs, crab claws or tentacles, armour that bulges beneath the skin, tattered and useless wings, clumps of eye-stalks that wave like grass in a wind, a sinewy prehensile neck or a gaping maw of needle-thin teeth. Some Spawn have insectoid bodies or heads, others resemble featureless quivering mounds of inverted muscle covered with spines that drip acidic pus. All, however, are hideous to behold and deadly to face in battle.

They viciously mutilated many Cyclonians all over the place with extreme viciousness.

Sakura Haruno: Whoa!

Lana: Awesome!

Lola: Yeah!

Lucy Loud: Watch this one. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: SLENDERMAN!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the terrifying creepypasta Slenderman!

---

The Slender Man (also known as Slenderman) is a supernatural creature with nebulously defined characteristics and abilities. Slender Man was first mentioned in Something Awful Forum's "Create Paranormal Images". He generally appears (in modern times) as a tall humanoid creature in a black or grey suit, red or black tie, and white shirt. His face is totally white, completely devoid of facial features. He has no hair, and generally has normal-looking bare hands, albeit with fingers longer and bonier than a typical human. Slender Man has been depicted in imagery and literature at anywhere between 6 and 15 feet tall, depending on the situation, though in video he is usually only around 6-7 feet tall. Because of his inexact nature, and differences between accounts, no one has yet determined what, exactly, the Slender Man is. Currently, there are two leading theories as to what the Slender Man may be: the Tulpa Effect and Quantum Theory.

The internet popularity of Slender Man has spawned a massive number of interconnected ARGs, collectively known as the Slender Man Mythos.

In almost every description of the Slender Man, his attributes will vary, sometimes greatly. However, his basic appearance and traits are relatively consistent across different accounts. His appearance has changed over the years, but the most common image - and the most well known in media- is that of an abnormally tall human with long arms and a totally blank face. He is usually portrayed as wearing a business suit, which may be either real cloth, or some form of skin molded to take on the appearance of cloth. If the former, this would imply an intelligent being attempting to try to blend in. If it is the latter, it suggests an extremely adaptive being that evolves to match its environment.

He behaves in what might be seen as a passive-aggressive manner, often stalking targets for years at a time before ever attacking. It's understood that he tends to torture his targets mentally, over long periods of time, using fear and paranoia to drive them to insanity. No one has ever satisfactorily explained the reasoning behind his tactics or the way he chooses his victims, and his purposes and/or motivations have yet to be fully ascertained. He is rarely, if ever, portrayed in a good or benign light and is generally understood to be a malevolent force.

Slender Man is a mystery. He looks like a human being, but doesn't act like one. It is uncertain if he is a social creature, understands human languages or behaviors, or even why humans appear to be his primary targets. It sometimes seems as if he is capable of possessing his targets in some cases. Slender Man's mere appearance provokes fear. This is partially due to his towering height and overall unnerving appearance, and partially due to his behavior, which is almost completely alien. Humans also find it extremely hard to describe The Slender Man: a description in words can be given, but often lack the ability the fully describe the creature. It is believed that Slender Man is from/exists on a fourth dimensional plane, which would account for some of his apparent abilities.

There are two main descriptions of the The Slender Man's behavior. Originally, he was portrayed as being not only malevolent, but also extremely dangerous. He would stalk its targets, impale them on trees, and remove their organs. In comparison, contemporary depictions have turned him into a more passive-aggressive creature. Instead of an active chase, he is more likely to let his prey devolve slowly into madness until they are unable to cope with their situation, often watching from afar as this takes place. If angered, it will charge the aggressor and vanish with its victim to an unknown location. Modern interpretations also show that The Slender Man interacts oddly with electronic equipment and causes massive interference with audio and visual recording devices. Sometimes an individual can determine if The Slender Man is near simply by how certain electronics act. Radios, televisions, and cameras are especially susceptible. How powerful this effect is seems to vary, which could be due either to The Slender Man's state of aggression, or other outside factors that he may or may not be controlling (eg: weather, cell phone signals, etc.)

In almost every contemporary description, The Slender Man is associated with stalking, often for extremely long periods. It is not unusual for a person to be trailed by The Slender Man for hours, days, months, or even years. However, he usually appears when least expected and where the victim is alone and the most comfortable (home, school, work, outdoors, along trusted roads, etc), and often times he also strikes when the target's defenses are down, sometimes to the point where they simply have no will to fight him off any further, making for an easier kill.

One of the most common features of The Slender Man, generally accepted among both fans of the mythos and victims, is that he will target those who reach a certain level of understanding about it. These accounts vary from person to person, but it seems that being a victim of The Slender Man is almost contagious or memetic. One can become his prey by encountering someone he is already chasing. Basic research and even collecting images doesn't appear to incur its notice, someone has to delve into the mythos in an almost obsessive way. A theory sprouts from this, discussing how he could be able to track several victims at once, due to the apparent number of people invested in the mythos. This theory states that he is a sort of omnipresent being.

Abilities

The Slender Man's original abilities included:

selective invisibility (say, to adults or anyone without a camera)

the ability to change height and body shape

the ability to shape its arms into tentacles and/or the ability to sprout tentacle-like appendages from its back and shoulders to be used as additional arms or legs (or simply to instill fear)

Many stories seem to indicate that The Slender Man can control a person's mind, which became the basis for the Proxies in the video ARG, a trend that later spread to Slenderblogs. The Slender Man also originally had stronger connections to children, and many of the original stories revolved around disappearing children or featured Slender Man sightings in photos with children. This was often attributed to the innocence and morbid curiosity of children, which could lead them down the path of discovering the creature.

As more stories came forth, however, the use of tentacles and tentacle-like appendages became less common, and the invisibility was limited or eliminated depending on the storyteller. (On the other hand, some stories took the invisibility even further and claimed it was entirely invisible without the use of electronic devices.)

EMH, TT, ML, and DH all contain some sort of video and/or audio distortion, indicating that The Slender Man has an effect on modern digital instruments. This does not appear in any of the original accounts, but these also mainly make use of photographs and lower-tech video. EMH has suggested that this distortion is the effect of Sigma Radiation, a radiation said to be given off by Slender Man and the Rake. Sigma Radiation is also contagious, as it entered Evan's blood-stream when his arm was brutally maimed by The Rake.

EMH and ML also describe the phenomenon known as "Slender Walking." Slender Walking is a term created to describe Slender Man's apparent teleportation and space-time warping/teleportation between locations. These abilities were seen in early Slender Man accounts, and is one of the most recognizable elements of the mythos. Slender Man's ability to appear - seemingly from nowhere - in a place where he wasn't mere seconds before is one of his most terrifying traits, and EMH mentions the effect of this on a person's mental health.

Certain contemporary views see his movement as either extremely limited or impaired, as if he is incapable of moving his body properly.

It is rarely seen to actually move, and goes from standing still to rapidly teleporting within the blink of an eye. There is no apparent coherency to his movements or position, and he is capable of teleporting several dozen times to various locations in a few seconds. He does not flee, and can be just as dangerous standing still as when obviously teleporting. He is capable of - and often will - stay within several dozen feet of his target, no matter how they try to escape. It seems to be part of his psychological attack to stay just within visual range without actually attacking - the fact that he is there, no matter what, is often described as worse than actually being attacked, the psychological effects often deteriorating the mind of the victim as a result.

He appears to be able to follow any and all targets regardless of where they go, or where and how they hide. It isn't certain how he does this, but he seems able to keep a perfect trace on its targets, often speculated to be a part of his supposed existence as a potentially omnipresent being.

Canon History and Information

The Slender Man has no specifically confirmed history, but contributors to the mythos have placed early sightings of Slender Man-like beings in Germany in the early 1600s and before. Historically, the entity often took on the appearance of a knight or a noble figure. Germanic myths and fairy tales have been cited as containing Slender Man-like creatures as cautionary tales for children.

Photographs from the early 1900s are the first confirmed reports, where images of the Slender Man can be found in old photographs. Reports from this time indicate sightings in America, the UK, and Russia, usually connected to reports of child disappearances.

In the mid-1900s, several run-ins occurred in the war zones in Germany, which is theorized to be The Slender Man's native land. Soldiers were the primary targets here. In America and Canada, there were reports of missing skiers and children, mainly coming from forested and unoccupied areas. He is also held responsible for several strings of buildings burning with no apparent cause, and multiple related deaths. The few survivors of Slender Man attacks, along with accounts left by victims, show the following historic traits:

If the victim was a child, he would often approach them in a friendly fashion at first and attempt to gain their trust.

The adults he stalked have one common trait: they had all been through a terrible tragedy in their life. Interestingly, in many cases the tragedy was originally caused by Slender Man as well.

If the victim was an adult, Slender Man would stalk the victim for long periods of time. This caused an illness that became known as "Slender sickness." Symptoms include massive paranoia, nausea, nose bleeds, nightmares, and hallucinations.

Eventually, The Slender Man would abduct the victim, usually into nearby forest, where they would be killed.

In 'messy' cases, Slender Man may remove evidence of its existence by burning the victim's home, place of work, or school, often causing the death of others in the line of destruction, generally those close to the initial victim.

Originally, Slender Man killed its victims by impaling them on the branches of very tall trees and allowing them to bleed to death. The victim's organs would be individually removed and placed in plastic bags, which were then returned to their original positions in the body. The victims' corpses did not show any sign of a struggle. However, as time has gone on, it would seem that Slender Man has abandoned this practice.

In the late 1990s, the more and more common use of cameras and camcorders allowed technology to shed more light on the creature, and The Slender Man was recorded and photographed stalking potential victims many times. In the late 2000s to early 2010s, several individuals recorded ongoing stalking and attack scenarios with themselves and friends. These video accounts are codenamed Marble Hornets, EverymanHYBRID, DarkHarvest00, MLAndersen0, and TribeTwelve, as well as certain Rivn videos.

New accounts of The Slender Man's powers, abilities, and attacks show some drastic differences from his original behaviors. Gone is the original desire to impale targets on trees, his overtly aggressive attitude, and the tendency to target mainly children. He now appears to target people who encountered him as children, often stalking them for years. It does so in such a way that the target is often unaware of his presence for months, years, or even decades. Typically, the victim won't be aware of its attention until far too late. Because of the somewhat contagious nature of Slender Man's attacks, an initial victim may not even be aware that they are causing others to be targeted, since they may not know that he is stalking them.

The Slender Man's stalking behavior is remarkably passive. He torments an individual by repeatedly appearing and vanishing - usually without harming the victim in any physical way. He invades the mental safety of his prey by appearing inside their house, outside their home, on roads they travel, at their place of work when they are alone or ensuring only the victim can see him, or while the target is sleeping. The sporadic and unexpected nature of these manifestations causes fear and unease, which eventually can grow into incredible paranoia. This period of stalking can last anywhere from several minutes to decades. The longer Slender Man stalks a victim, the greater strain on their mental health, which may be one of his goals.

Prolonged stalking causes what has been named "Slender Sickness," which is both a mental and physical ailment and can cause paranoia, nightmares, coughing and difficulty swallowing, convulsions, exhaustion, vomiting, hallucinations, etc. The physical symptoms naturally affect an individual's mental health, but it is believed that Slender Man exerts a direct effect on the mind as well. However, this phenomenon and Slender Man's control over it have yet to be fully explained.

As mentioned, the behavior of taking organs out or impaling targets appears to have been abandoned. If reports of Slender Man's new modus operandi are to be believed, it now vanishes with his targets, leaving no traces behind. Victims are usually alone when they vanish, leaving no witnesses. What little camera footage has been found is incredibly distorted and it is nearly impossible to even theorize as to what they depict. The victims are almost never found, dead or alive, and it has been speculated that perhaps he does not kill victims immediately.

One of the most powerful new traits Slender Man exhibits is some form of memory inhibition. Like Slender Sickness, this effect can be caused simply by proximity, although it seems to vary as to exactly how powerful. In some cases individuals will forget the past few minutes, but extended contact has led to people awakening in locations they are unfamiliar with, with no memory of how they got there. In some cases, it is believed Slender Man itself will deposit a victim in an unknown location and leave them to awaken after an attack (possibly to continue stalking them further.)

Victims who are stalked by The Slender Man for extended periods show excessive damage to their social life, physical health, and even their careers. Typically individuals will show massive moods swings and constant irritation, lose track of large periods of time, and have difficulty maintain communication with friends or holding down steady work. Memory losses can be as long as several weeks or months, and often an individual awakens and attempts to return to their life only to find it ruined.

These patterns are possible indications that The Slender Man has at least some indication that he has knowledge and experience with how the human mind works and reacts to various stimuli. It is possible that he exploits this deliberately. Abandoning its more blunt tactics of impaling and gutting its victims, it is possible he has moved to more subtle forms of attack, such as invading their mind, surroundings, and thus eliminating any feeling of safety and driving them to insanity in a slow torment.

Relationship with Children

The Slender Man has always had some kind of odd connection to children. In the Original Mythos, its relationship with children is one of its most prominent traits, though no one is exactly sure why. Many theories exist as to why he targets children, including:

He wins over the confidence of children, but adults are repulsed by fear. This theory is one of few that paints Slender Man as a benign element, suggesting that he actually seeks friendship of some kind, and can only find it in children, who - unlike adults - he can get to trust him.

He chooses children because he can take longer to nurture their fear, stalking them for years before attacking them as adults.

He brainwashes children, using them to further his own (unspecified) ends as Proxies.

Children are simply easier for him to hunt.

There are literally dozens of ideas and variations on those ideas, but since no bodies have been found in contemporary tales, and classic tales don't mention the fates of Slender Man's child victims, his oft-portrayed targeting of children is unexplained.

Frequented Locations

The Slender Man is most commonly depicted as being found in deserted and derelict locations, often forested, where he can hunt without his victims being able to get help from other people or emergency services. It shows a preference for forests and dense woodlands, partly because he can easily blend with the trees, and partly because of how easy it is to confuse and terrify victims. He has also been encountered in graveyards, old houses, ghost towns and abandoned mansions, where he lies in wait behind walls and doors to ambush its victims.

Examples of these locations include Slender: The Eight Pages, Slender: The Arrival, and Slender Rising which depict fictional encounters with Slender Man.

Association

Slender Man is associated with several groups, individuals, or creatures.

The least known of these is an unknown organization which tracks and observes and is also possibly involved with Slender Man. The Organization is officially unnamed, though it may be known as Optic Nerve, and appears only in early written accounts. It makes an (assumed) appearance in only one ARG, DarkHarvest00.

Slender Man has links to many Proxies, which are insane individuals under his control or influence. The nature of Proxies, their workings, etc, are unknown, but make appearances in EMH as HABIT, and TT as Observer. Slender Man has also spawned many philosophical and theoretical cults made up of uninfluenced but aware individuals, such as the Novus Ordo Europa in DarkHarvest00.

The Rake is the name given to another mystery creature that is somehow linked or associated with Slender Man. The Rake has a far shorter history, and the only real appearance of association with Slender Man or a Proxy is through the video accounts of EMH.

Slenderman slashed and lashed numerous Cyclonians all over and teleported them to another dimension.

Lucy Loud: You thought that was scary? Watch this one. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: BIOMECHANICAL HORRORS!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into terrifying and ugly freaks of nature and they viciously slashed and mutilated numerous Cyclonians all over.

Lucy Loud: Try this one. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: LAUGHING JACK!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the creepypasta Laughing Jack!

---

Laughing Jack is the titular central antagonist/protagonist (depending on the point of view) of the Creepypasta story of the same name, and its prequel The Origin of Laughing Jack. He is a sinister supernatural clown, often posing as an imaginary friend to his victims, who gleefully guts people alive and usually replaces their disemboweled organs with candy.

Created by a guardian angel, Laughing Jack was initially a colorful jack-in-the-box clown whose personality reflected the personality of his owners. He was later sent as a Christmas present to a lonely boy named Isaac Grossman in the 1800s.

Isaac then abandoned Laughing Jack after being sent to boarding school. Laughing Jack grew monochrome anHallud emotionless as a result of his isolation. Meanwhile, Isaac grew up to become a cold-hearted serial killer who kidnapped, tortured and murdered several innocent neighborhood residents. Although horrified at first, Laughing Jack's personality soon emulated Isaac's evil personality. One day, Laughing Jack was accidentally released and he appeared to be a taller, darker and demonic version of himself. Resentful of his traitorous owner, he tortured and killed Isaac with the same weapons he used on his victims.

As time passed, Laughing Jack visited several other children, most of them lonely or neglected, and pretended to be their imaginary friend. However, he would eventually torture and kill them all, with their souls trapped in the nightmarish realm of an abandoned fairground. To make matters worse, the song "Pop Goes the Weasel" plays in the background forever, tormenting them.

In an unspecified year in the modern era, Laughing Jack visited a lonely suburban 5-year-old boy named James, under the guise of an imaginary friend. James told his mother, but she dismissed it as a "phase". One night, his mother had a nightmare, witnessing the souls of Laughing Jack's past victims in an abandoned fairground.

The next day, Laughing Jack places James' action figures on top of his mother's nightstand, presumably as a way to taunt her. She questions James but he simply tells her the truth, much to her disbelief. Later, James receives a handful of candy from Laughing Jack in the garden. His mother notices this and demands him to tell her how he got it.

James again tells her the truth, but she assumes that one of the next-door neighbors gave him the candy. Laughing Jack eventually kills Fido, the family dog, hangs its body on the kitchen light fixtures, and trashes the rest of the kitchen. He also guts its stomach open and replaces it with candy. The mother witnesses this and takes her son next door, where she called the police. The police dismiss it as a robbery, but the mother refutes their assertions, claiming that all of the doors were locked and none of the windows were open during the incident. She presumes that whoever did this was already inside her house prior to the incident.

They both return home and the mother decides to check on her son via the baby monitor. The mother hears a soft moan and enters James' room, where she sees her son nailed on the wall, disemboweled with his eyes gouged out and tongue and teeth removed. She also sees Laughing Jack, in his true monstrous form, who sadistically cackles at the sight of his "work".

Having enough, the mother grabbed a knife and tried to kill Laughing Jack but he simply vanished into a black cloud. This distracted the mother, causing her to accidentally plunge her knife into James' beating heart instead, killing him instantly. The police arrest her and send her to the Phiropoulos House for the Criminally Insane. She claims that being institutionalized is not that bad, despite noting that somebody (presumably Laughing Jack) keeps playing "Pop Goes the Weasel" outside her room.

He slashed and and mutilated many Cyclonians all over the place with incredible fury.

Lucy Loud: This is gonna be scary. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: BEN DROWNED!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the creepypasta story that looked so much like Link from Majora's Mask, BEN DROWNED.

---

Benjamin Lawman, later better known as BEN and Ben Drowned, is the titular antagonist of "BEN DROWNED", also known as "Haunted Majora's Mask Cartridge" (based on the famous game Legend of Zelda: Majora's Mask), a highly popular Creepypasta series written by Jadusable.

BEN DROWNED relates the story of Jadusable as he buys a second hand copy of Majora's Mask from a shady old man. It is hinted that the copy once belonged to a boy who died, presumably by drowning.

But as he plays, Jadusable soon discovers that the copy is more than it seems. Strange events start occurring to him, things that were never ever coded into the game by the developers of Majora's Mask.

A malevolent mind seems to have possessed the cartridge, screwing with his game (and subsequently his life). The strangest thing is that Jadusable actually has videos to prove it. Is this evil entity actually Ben, the boy to whom the game used to belong? Or is it something else entirely?

The story ends with the mysterious entity, known as BEN (even though it may not actually be Ben's ghost at all), tricking the readers into downloading a file from Jadusable's computer containing BEN, thus allowing it to break free and spreading all over the internet, and specifically on Cleverbot.

The Creepypasta became popular thanks to Jadusable "proving" the veracity of his story with actual recordings of the in-game events that he claimed were happening to him (he did this by skillfully hacking his copy of the game). The high quality of those hacks led many people to start believing the story was real.

It spread rapidly and joined Slender Man, Smile Dog and Zalgo in status. Later on, Jadusable admitted that the story was not actually real, and even made a parody video of it himself called king .

Nevertheless, BEN DROWNED is still a wildly popular Creepypasta and is currently the subject of an ARG (alternate reality game). Jadusable is even developing a video game to complement it.

Ben slashed and smashed the Cyclonians all over.

Lucy Loud: Try this. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: TAINTED PSYKER!

Lucy fired waves of darkness and they formed into the Tainted

Psyker.

---

Tainted Psykers are human psykers - people with a strong psychic affinity to the Warp and able to derive physics-defying power from it - driven mad by constant exposure to this dark force, falling to Chaos and being stripped of all that once made them human.

Most of Imperium is suspicious towards any psykers, and for good reasons. Imperial Sanctioned Psykers pass through the intensive and painful training that renders them (usually) capable of resisting the manipulations of the Ruinous Powers, whereas Unsanctioned Psykers are vulnerable to the taint of Chaos and are hunted down by the Inquisition. Tainted Psykers are consumed by the reality-warping power within them, and during the Chaos invasion of Graia, many such people are possessed to aid the Chosen of Nemeroth.

During the height of battle they explode into powerful Warp portals, allowing daemons and Chaos Space Marines a conduit into this reality. While playing host to these Warp rifts, they are shielded by their immense psychic power, which protects them from all but the most violent of attacks.

---

The Psyker's smashed and blasted the Cyclonian's all over the place and killed them.

Lucy Loud: Try this one. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: MALAL!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the monsters of Malice from Warhammer.

---

Malice is a renegade Chaos God and the Hierarch of Anarchy and Terror who appeared in early editions of the fictional universes of Warhammer Fantasy and Warhammer 40,000 under the name Malal.

Also known as "The Outcast God," "The Lost God" and "The Renegade God," Malice is the embodiment of Chaos' indiscriminate and anarchic tendency toward destruction, even of itself and its own agents.

The nature of Malice's powers is parasitic, as the Renegade God grows in power only when the other Ruinous Powers do. Malice's sacred number is 11 and his favoured colours are black and white.

---

They viciously smashed and blasted the Cyclonians all over with incredible fury.

Lucy Loud: Taste these horrors. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: UNIMAGINABLE HORRORS OF THE WARP!

Lucy fired massive waves of darkness and they formed into the horrors of the Warp.

---

The Immaterium, also referred to as the Empyrean, the Aether, the Sea of Souls, the Realm of Chaos, Warpspace or most commonly, "the Warp," is an alternate dimension of purely psychic energy that echoes and underlies the familiar four dimensions of the material universe.

The Warp is the source of all psychic powers and known instances of so-called "sorcery" or "magic" as well as the home dimension of the powerful entities known as the Chaos Gods and their myriad legions of daemonic servants. In fact, the terms "Chaos" and the "Warp" are often used interchangeably by those aware of their existence within the Imperium of Man.

Superficially, the Immaterium is Mankind's solution to the problem of faster-than-light travel. The Warp functions as the medium for FTL interstellar travel, with voidcraft entering it through the use of a Warp-Drive. They then use their own mundane reaction drive systems and the aid of a psychic Navigator to navigate between its flowing currents of psychic energy, as if they were moving through an ocean.

The psychic energy that makes up the Immaterium is believed to be the direct result of the existence of sentience in the universe, in particular the intelligent species of the Milky Way Galaxy. Considered to be a dark reflection of the material universe, the Warp is an ocean of chaotic psychic energy, raw emotion given physical form.

The Immaterium is also rumoured by many cultures, human and xenos alike, to be the final resting place of the spirits of the dead, and therefore can be considered the "Underworld" of the Warhammer 40,000 universe.

---

The horrors ripped many Cyclonians apart all over the place.

Lucy Loud: And for this horror. NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: ZALGO!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it formed into the H.P. Lovecraft Horror, ZALGO!

---

Za̋’l̇gą̸̀t̷̛ǫ̷́ţh, better known as Z̤â̤l̰̑̃g̛̦ọ̩̇, is an internet phenomenon and a meme-status urban legend often seen as the personification of chaos and evil, in a similarly to the later adaptations of the late legendary horror author H.P. Lovecraft.

Z̤â̤l̰̑̃g̛̦ọ̩̇ lives in a palace of tortured glass, served by legions of monsters forged from the tears of the undead, and each one clad in armor carved from the concentrated suffering from grieving mothers. He also is said to live within all mankind, waiting for the thin glass wall within them to crack, so that he may take over.

Z̤â̤l̰̑̃g̛̦ọ̩̇'s coming is heralded by the fabric of reality itself snarling or screaming "He comes!", and the horrific mutation of web comic characters and fonts. Gaping, toothy maws, stingers, and masses of tentacles are the norm. Invariably, the eyes turning to black slime and run down their cheeks like tears of oil. Font scrambles and loses coherence.

Zalgo smashed and blasted the Cyclonians all over the place with incredible power.

Me: Awesome job Lucy!

Vince: Well done!

We only had Snipe left to face.

Me: Lets take the fight to the ship.

We landed on the ship and stood ready to face Snipe.

Maxxor: (to Snipe) By the authority of the Tribal Alliance, we're taking you down by force!

Snipe: I would like to see you try!

Me: I'm gonna make you eat those words.

Junko: It's smashing time!

Piper: You're gonna get it for your crimes, Snipe!

Snipe: (smirks) Oh yeah? Well, I'm not the one who abandoned my own teammate!

Me: Lets get him!

We went at Snipe and I punched him in the face and Carol fired blasts of atomic energy and the blasts hit him all over and exploded all over. Ere, Kelvedran, Rothar, and Maxxor were smashing and blasting him all over with incredibly vicious power and force.

Laney slashed Snipe all over the place with incredible power.

Vince blasted and slashed him all over the place with incredible power.

Lori: I've literally had it with you. WIND STYLE NINJA ART: SUNAGAKURE NO SATO!

Lori fired a wave of wind and it formed into the buildings of the Hidden Sand Village.

---

Sunagakure (砂隠れの里, Sunagakure no Sato, Literally meaning: Village Hidden by Sand) is the hidden village of the Land of Wind. As the village of one of the Five Great Shinobi Countries, Sunagakure has a Kage as its leader known as the Kazekage, of which there have been five in its history. Being surrounded by desert offers the village a natural deterrent against invasion, as few foreign powers would be willing to endure the sandstorms and water scarcity common to Suna. Sunagakure itself lies in a fortified valley behind cliffs of rock, with passage in and out of the village restricted to a single cleft between two cliff faces, making the area very hard to attack from the ground. The buildings inside seem to be made of clay or stucco, which would help to keep the buildings cool.

The standard attire for Suna shinobi consists of blue or black uniforms underneath flak jackets of various shades of beige to better blend with their natural environment and include shoulders guards. Headpieces consisting of a head-wrap and cloth neck-covers to protect against the harsh weather are popular with Suna shinobi. Many Sunagakure ninja use Wind Release techniques, which they may or may not perform with fans. Shinobi from this village believe that the accomplishment of a mission predominates the lives of the ninja trying to accomplish it. As such, they ruthlessly pursue victory in battle, and even if failure is inevitable they will still try to achieve any success against their enemy that they can. In Gaara Hiden, it has been noted that Sunagakure has been made up of various families, instead of clans.

The sand fell onto him and buried him all over.

Lori: Try this one! WIND STYLE NINJA ART: SASORI OF THE RED SAND!

Lori fired a wave of wind and it formed into the rogue ninja Sasori of the Red Sand.

Sasori (in Japanese: サソリ, Sasori), also known as Sasori of the Red Sand (in Japanese: 赤砂のサソリ, Akasuna no Sasori), is the grandson of Chiyo and a rogue ninja from the Village Hidden in Sand after he killed the Third Kazekage. He served as the main antagonist in the Kazekage Rescue Mission arc.

In the Japanese version, he was voiced by Takahiro Sakurai, and Akiko Yajima as a child. In the English dubbed version, he was voiced by Johnny Yong Bosch, and Kari Wahlgren as a child.

20 years before his introduction in the series, motivated to create works that would last forever, Sasori created a means to convert a human into a puppet body. Sasori used this method on the Third Kazekage in secret as he left the Village Hidden in Sand. Sasori eventually converted himself into a human puppet to maintain his youthful appearance and increase his own offensive capabilities, but retained his heart - the only still-living part of his body - in a cylindrical container in the left part of his chest. Sasori whole body mechanism seems to fail altogether if his core is injured or damaged beyond healing, he seems very suprised as blood leaked out of his mouth while he cannot stop it, and it is shown to kept leaking out. He also cannot move any part of his body when his core was pierced.

Sometime after leaving the village, Sasori joined the Akatsuki and provided the organization with various sleeper agents throughout the five nations. He was originally paired with Orochimaru who he respected as both shared a desire for immortality. However, when Orochimaru left the Akatsuki, Sasori bore a grudge on his former partner's desertion to the point of having Kabuto Yakushi, who he thought was working for him, to spy on Orochimaru. Soon after, prior to being partnered with Orochimaru, he became partners with Deidara.

Accompanying Deidara on his mission to capture Gaara, Sasori uses his sleeper agents in the Hidden Sand Village to cause confusion. Once Deidara captured Gaara, Sasori buys his partner time by fighting Kankuro and poisoning him. After extracting Shukaku, Sasori and Deidara was given a new task to deal with Team Kakashi and Chiyo. While Deidara takes the others away, Sasori battles Chiyo and Sakura Haruno before the former uses the latter as a puppet to shatter Hiruko. Revealed, Sasori reveals the puppet that was the Third Kazekage and uses it to fight his female opponents. But Chiyo counters with Sasori's parent puppets, which she weaponized, before the Kazekge puppet is destroyed. However, Sasori unveils his most powerful puppet: himself as he uses his Secret Red Move: Performance of a Hundred Puppets. Eventually, proving to be hard to killed, Sasori is impaled by his parent puppets into a hug-like pincer move. Before dying, Sasori informed Sakura of his spy Orochimaru's in ranks and the time and place he was to meet him. Sasori's puppet body was later acquired by Kankuro and modified into a normal puppet.

Sasori was later reanimated by Kabuto to aid his replacement, Tobi, in the Fourth Great Ninja War. Though a bit annoyed that only living members of the Akatsuki remained, Sasori enjoyed the benefits of his new immortal body. Assigned to the Surprise Attack and Diversion Platoon, Sasori is tasked with disrupting the Allied Shinobi Forces with his human puppetry of Allied Ninjas and some of the reanimated ninja like Sai's brother Shin. After he is captured by Sai and Shin breaks free of the Reanimation jutsu, Sasori follows suit as he realizes from Kankuro that he was already immortalized by his puppets. As his soul fades, Sasori tells Kankuro to care for his parent puppets so they can be used by future generations.

Sasori sent his puppets and slashed and cut Snipe all over the place with incredible force.

Lori: Take this one. WIND STYLE NINJA ARTS: NAVAJO, APACHE, POWHATAN, ALGONQUIN, CHEROKEE and OJIBWE INDIANS!

Navajo

The Navajo are a Native American people of the Southwestern United States.

At more than 300,000 enrolled tribal members as of 2015, the Navajo Nation is the second-largest federally recognized tribe in the U.S. (the Cherokee Nation being the largest) and has the largest reservation in the country. The reservation straddles the Four Corners region and covers more than 27,000 square miles (70,000 square km) of land in Arizona, Utah and New Mexico. The Navajo language is spoken throughout the region, and most Navajo also speak English.

The states with the largest Navajo populations are Arizona (140,263) and New Mexico (108,306). More than three-quarters of the enrolled Navajo population resides in these two states.

Besides the Navajo Nation proper, a small group of ethnic Navajos are members of the federally recognized Colorado River Indian Tribes.

Apache

The Apache are a group of culturally related Native American tribes in the Southwestern United States, which include the Chiricahua, Jicarilla, Lipan, Mescalero, Mimbreño, Ndendahe (Bedonkohe or Mogollon and Nednhi or Carrizaleño and Janero), Salinero, Plains (Kataka or Semat or "Kiowa-Apache") and Western Apache (Aravaipa, Pinaleño, Coyotero, Tonto). Distant cousins of the Apache are the Navajo, with which they share the Southern Athabaskan languages. There are Apache communities in Oklahoma, Texas, and reservations in Arizona and New Mexico. Apache people have moved throughout the United States and elsewhere, including urban centers. The Apache Nations are politically autonomous, speak several different languages and have distinct cultures.

Historically, the Apache homelands have consisted of high mountains, sheltered and watered valleys, deep canyons, deserts, and the southern Great Plains, including areas in what is now Eastern Arizona, Northern Mexico (Sonora and Chihuahua) and New Mexico, West Texas, and Southern Colorado. These areas are collectively known as Apacheria. The Apache tribes fought the invading Spanish and Mexican peoples for centuries. The first Apache raids on Sonora appear to have taken place during the late 17th century. In 19th-century confrontations during the American-Indian wars, the U.S. Army found the Apache to be fierce warriors and skillful strategists.

Powhatan

The Powhatan people (sometimes Powhatans; also spelled Powatan) may refer to any of the indigenous Algonquian people that are traditionally from eastern Virginia. All of the Powhatan groups descend from the Powhatan Confederacy. In some instances, The Powhatan may refer to one of the leaders of the people. This is most commonly the case in historical writings by the English. The Powhatans have also been known as Virginia Algonquians, as the Powhatan language is an eastern-Algonquian language, also known as Virginia Algonquian. It is estimated that there were about 14,000-21,000 Powhatan people in eastern Virginia, when the English colonized Jamestown in 1607.

In the late 16th and early 17th centuries, a mamanatowick (paramount chief) named Wahunsenacawh created a powerful organization by affiliating 30 tributary peoples, whose territory was much of eastern Virginia. They called this area Tsenacommacah ("densely inhabited Land"). Wahunsenacawh came to be known by the English as "The Powhatan (Chief)". Each of the tribes within this organization had its own weroance (leader, commander), but all paid tribute to The Powhatan (Chief).

After Wahunsenacawh's death in 1618, hostilities with colonists escalated under the chiefdom of his brother, Opchanacanough, who sought in vain to drive off the encroaching English. His large-scale attacks in 1622 and 1644 met strong reprisals by the English, resulting in the near elimination of the tribe. By 1646, what is called the Powhatan Paramount Chiefdom by modern historians had been decimated. More important than the ongoing conflicts with the English settlements was the high rate of deaths the Powhatan suffered due to new infectious diseases carried to North America by Europeans, such as measles and smallpox. The Native Americans did not have any immunity to these, which had been endemic in Europe and Asia for centuries. The wholesale deaths greatly weakened and hollowed out the Native American societies.

By the mid-17th century, the leaders of the colony were desperate for labor to develop the land. Almost half of the English and European immigrants arrived as indentured servants. As settlement continued, the colonists imported growing numbers of enslaved Africans for labor. By 1700, the colonies had about 6,000 black slaves, one-twelfth of the population. It was common for black slaves to escape and join the surrounding Powhatan; some white servants were also noted to have joined the Natives. Africans and Europeans worked and lived together; some natives also intermarried with them. After Bacon's Rebellion in 1676, the colony enslaved Indians for control. In 1691, the House of Burgesses abolished native slavery; however, many Powhatan were held in servitude well into the 18th century.

In the 21st century, eight Native tribes are officially recognized by Virginia as having ancestral ties to the Powhatan confederation. The Pamunkey and Mattaponi are the only two peoples who have retained reservation lands from the 17th century. The competing cultures of the Powhatan and English settlers were united through unions and marriages of members, the most well known of which was that of Pocahontas and John Rolfe. Their son Thomas Rolfe was the ancestor of many Virginians; many of the First Families of Virginia have both English and Virginia Algonquian ancestry.

Some survivors of the Powhatan confederacy have relocated elsewhere. Beginning in the late 19th century, individual people identifying collectively as the Powhatan Renape Nation settled a tiny subdivision known as Morrisville and Delair, in Pennsauken Township, New Jersey. Their ancestry is mostly from the Rappahannock tribe of Virginia and the related Nanticoke tribe of Delaware. They have been recognized as a tribe by the state of New Jersey.

Algonquin

The Algonquins are Indigenous inhabitants of North America who speak the Algonquin language, a divergent dialect of the Ojibwe language, which is part of the Algonquian language family. Culturally and linguistically, they are closely related to the Odawa, Potawatomi and Ojibwe, with whom they form the larger Anicinàpe (Anishinaabe) grouping. The Algonquin people call themselves Omàmiwinini (plural: Omàmiwininiwak) or the more generalised name of Anicinàpe.

Though known by several names in the past, such as Algoumequin (at the time of Samuel de Champlain),the most common term "Algonquin" has been suggested to derive from the Maliseet word elakómkwik (IPA: [ɛlæ'gomogwik]): "they are our relatives/allies". The much larger heterogeneous group of Algonquian-speaking peoples, who, according to Brian Conwell, stretch from Virginia to the Rocky Mountains and north to Hudson Bay, was named after the tribe.

Most Algonquins live in Quebec. The nine Algonquin bands in that province and one in Ontario have a combined population of about 11,000. The Algonquin are original natives of southern Quebec and eastern Ontario in Canada. Today they live in nine communities in Quebec and one in Ontario. The Algonquin were a small tribe that also lives in northern Michigan and southern Quebec and eastern Ontario. (Popular usage reflects some confusion on the point. The term "Algonquin" is sometimes used, such as in the Catholic Encyclopedia, to refer to all Algonquian-speaking societies, although this is not correct.)

Many Algonquins still speak the Algonquin language, called generally Anicinàpemowin or specifically Omàmiwininìmowin. The language is considered one of several divergent dialects of the Anishinaabe languages. Among younger speakers, the Algonquin language has experienced strong word borrowings from the Cree language. Traditionally, the Algonquins lived in either birch bark or wooden mìkiwàms. Today Algonquins live in housings like those of the general public.

Traditionally, the Algonquins were practitioners of Midewiwin (the right path). They believed they were surrounded by many manitòk or spirits in the natural world. French missionaries converted many Algonquins to Catholicism in the 17th and 18th centuries. Today, many of the people practice traditional Midewiwin or a syncretic merging of Christianity and Midewiwin.

In the earliest oral history, the Algonquins say they migrated from the Atlantic coast. Together with other Anicinàpek, they arrived at the "First Stopping Place" near Montreal. While the other Anicinàpe peoples continued their journey up the St. Lawrence River, the Algonquins settled along the Kitcisìpi (Ottawa River), a long-important highway for commerce, cultural exchange and transportation. Algonquin identity, though, was not fully realized until after the dividing of the Anicinàpek at the "Third Stopping Place". Scholars have used the oral histories, archeology, and linguistics to estimate this took place about 2000 years ago, near present-day Detroit.

After contact with the Europeans, especially the French and Dutch, the Algonquin nations became active in the fur trade. This led them to fight against the powerful Iroquois, whose confederacy was based in present-day New York. In 1570, the Algonquins formed an alliance with the Montagnais to the east, whose territory extended to the ocean.

Cherokee

The Cherokee (/ˈtʃɛrəkiː/; Cherokee: ᎠᏂᏴᏫᏯᎢ, romanized: Aniyvwiyaʔi, or Cherokee: ᏣᎳᎩ, romanized: Tsalagi) are one of the indigenous people of the Southeastern Woodlands of the United States. Prior to the 18th century, they were concentrated in what is now southwestern North Carolina, southeastern Tennessee, edges of western South Carolina, northeastern Georgia and northeastern Alabama.

The Cherokee language is part of the Iroquoian language group. In the 19th century, James Mooney, an American ethnographer, recorded one oral tradition that told of the tribe having migrated south in ancient times from the Great Lakes region, where other Iroquoian-speaking peoples lived; however, anthropologist Thomas R. Whyte writes that the origin of the proto-Iroquoian language was likely the Appalachian region and the split between Northern and Southern Iroquoian languages began 4,000 years ago.

By the 19th century, European settlers in the United States classified the Cherokee of the Southeast as one of the "Five Civilized Tribes", because they were agrarian and lived in permanent villages and began to adopt some cultural and technological practices of the European American settlers.

Today three Cherokee tribes are federally recognized: the United Keetoowah Band of Cherokee Indians (UKB) in Oklahoma, the Cherokee Nation (CN) in Oklahoma, and the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians in North Carolina.

The Cherokee Nation has more than 300,000 tribal members, making it the largest of the 567 federally recognized tribes in the United States. In addition, numerous groups claim Cherokee lineage, and some of these are state-recognized. A total of more than 819,000 people are estimated to have identified as having Cherokee ancestry on the U.S. census; most are not enrolled members of any tribe.

Of the three federally recognized Cherokee tribes, the Cherokee Nation and the UKB have headquarters in Tahlequah, Oklahoma, and most of their members live in the state. The UKB are mostly descendants of "Old Settlers", also called Western Cherokee: those who migrated from the Southeast to Arkansas and Oklahoma about 1817 prior to Indian Removal. They are related to the Cherokee who were later forcibly relocated there in the 1830s under the Indian Removal Act. The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians is located on land known as the Qualla Boundary in western North Carolina. They are mostly descendants of ancestors who had resisted or avoided relocation, remaining in the area. Because they gave up tribal membership at the time, they became state and US citizens. In the late 20th century, they reorganized as a federally recognized tribe.

Ojibwe

The Ojibwe, Ojibwa, Chippewa, or Saulteaux are an Anishinaabe people of Canada and the northern Midwestern United States. They are one of the most numerous indigenous peoples north of the Rio Grande. In Canada, they are the second-largest First Nations population, surpassed only by the Cree. In the United States, they have the fifth-largest population among Native American peoples, surpassed in number only by the Navajo, Cherokee, Choctaw and Sioux.

The Ojibwe people traditionally speak the Ojibwe language, a branch of the Algonquian language family. They are part of the Council of Three Fires and the Anishinaabeg, which include the Algonquin, Nipissing, Oji-Cree, Odawa and the Potawatomi. Historically, through the Saulteaux branch, they were a part of the Iron Confederacy, joining the Cree, Assiniboine, and Metis.

The majority of the Ojibwe people live in the United States. There are 77,940 mainline Ojibwe; 76,760 Saulteaux; and 8,770 Mississauga, organized in 125 bands. They live from western Quebec to eastern British Columbia. As of 2010, Ojibwe in the U.S. census population is 170,742.

The Ojibwe are known for their birch bark canoes, birch bark scrolls, mining and trade in copper, as well as their cultivation of wild rice and maple syrup. Their Midewiwin Society is well respected as the keeper of detailed and complex scrolls of events, oral history, songs, maps, memories, stories, geometry, and mathematics.

The Ojibwe people underwent colonization by European-descended Canadians. They signed treaties with settler leaders, and many European settlers inhabited the Ojibwe ancestral lands.

The Indians all slashed and cut Snipe all over the place and more.

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Lady Deathstrike and Cutthroat: SCALDING SUPER CLAWSLASH!

Lady Deathstrike fired blades of energy from her claws and Cutthroat fired blasts of scalding hot steam.

KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Final Smash power!

Aerrow: Lets get him!

Piper: Lets do it!

Lori: I'm going to literally turned this freak into a human pretzel!

Aerrow, Junko, Finn, Piper, Stork and Lori: STORM HAWKS TORNADO SUPERSTRIKE!

Lori and the Storm Hawks fired a wave of wind and it spun Snipe around and made him really dizzy and he fell down unconscious and we tied him up.

Me: That's that.

The Masters of Evil appeared. It was The Bully Trio, Lord Drakkon and the Evil Green Ranger.

Me: Evil Green Ranger, Lord Drakkon and the Bully Trio.

Evil Green Ranger: Yep.

Drakkon: We heard what happened this morning.

Lincoln: I bet you did.

Jimbo: Look, believe us when we say that Nico's innocent! Dark and the others are with him right now to find the real culprit.

Me: We know that as well. You guys missed a really good fight though.

Lord Drakkon: Actually we were watching and you guys did really good.

Me: Thanks.

?: They sure had fun.

A figure came out and it was INVIDIOUS from episode 11 of Super Megaforce!

---

Invidious had a crush with Levira since childhood. He used a love potion that makes one fall in love with the first person he/she sees. However, Levira falls in love with Jake Holling and sends Invidious to capture him. Upon learning that she is in love with the Black Ranger, Invidious goes all out to destroy Jake with his jealousy-fueled fire attacks, but Levira saves him. Jake helps him win Levira's love, and after he is suddenly enlarged by Prince Vekar, Invidious manages to get the villainess to agree to a date, but on one condition - he must defeat the Rangers. After going on the attack again, Invidious is defeated by Legendary Samurai Megazord which sends him back to the Armada Warship in normal size. Though he survives the fight, Invidious loses all respect from Levira, saying she has no time for losers. Invidious was never seen again after that.

---

Troy Burrows: Invidious!

Invidious: Its been a while rangers.

Me: I remember you! You are one of the two monsters the Megaforce Rangers had missed. You made a love potion to try and bring you and Levira together and you went at Jake in a jealous rage. But you were defeated and you survived and ran off.

Invidious: Nice memory. Mistress Vypra was right about you J.D. You have a good memory.

Me: Nice to know I've made an impression. But Troy it looks like you guys have some unfinished business with this one.

Troy Burrows: We sure do.

Invidious: You Rangers are gonna pay for killing Levira! She was my true love and you took her from me.

Jake: FYI, I don't have a thing for her! I like Gia!

Gia: Aw, thanks!

Troy: (to Invidious) Where've you been all this time?

Invidious: None of your business!

Me: Lets get it on!

Invidious: Don't bother bringing out a Ranger Key. I pretty much know all your Legendary Modes by now.

Troy: That's what you think!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Hyperjet Squad!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Jetman rangers.

Me: Lets get them guys!

We went at them.

---

Battle 1: The Bully Trio

---

Sam S.L., Mewtwo and Blackfire were facing the Bully trio.

Jimbo: This is gonna be a good fight.

Blackfire: Lets dance.

Dolph: Yeah!

Mewtwo: Lets do it.

Kearney: And it will hurt.

Sam S.L.: Not for us.

The bullies called out their three Machamp and Sam, Blackfire and Mewtwo blasted them with energy and fire and they hit all of them and knocked them down.

Sam S.L.: Good victory.

---

Battle 2: Evil Green Ranger

---

Mary Jane Watson as the Ultimate Spider Woman and Scream and Toxin were facing the Evil Green Ranger.

Scream: Lets dance.

M.J.: Yeah!

Toxin: This is gonna be good.

Evil Green Ranger: Bring it on.

He called out his Mega Dragonite and they went at them both and smashed them all over the place. Mary Jane kicked the Mega Dragonite and Scream and Toxin smashed their fists into the Evil Green Ranger and knocked him down.

M.J.: That was good.

---

Battle 3: Lord Drakkon

---

Me, Ace and Breach were facing Lord Drakkon.

Me: Now it's three of us against you. The 1-on-1 fights were getting a little dull so we raised the stakes with 3 on 1 fights.

Lord Drakkon: I see. Lets do it.

Ace: Gladly.

Breach: Lets do it.

Lord Drakkon called out his Salamence, Charizard and Flygon and we went at him and kicked him all over and blasted him all over the place and knocked him down.

Me: Good win.

---

Battle 4: Invidious

---

Varie and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Invidious.

Varie: Lets dance slug boy.

Varie the Megaforce Rangers fired blasts of energy at him and they hit him all over and exploded.

Invidious: No! Levira! I'm coming my love!

He fell to the ground and exploded in a massive fiery explosion.

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Varie: In the words of Nico: Invidious, you have failed this universe.

Troy Burrows: Super Mega Rangers, that's a super mega win.

---

We regrouped.

Me: Lets head back to Earth and check on Nico.

Laney: Okay.

We got into the ship and headed back home to check on Nico.

---

French Narrator: (French Accent) 20 Minutes Earlier

---

Nico, Eddy, May, Luna, Poliwag, Poromon, Sarina, Manaphy, Maria, Horsea, William, Dark Spicer, Robo Blaze, Snake, Firefly, Electro, and Shiv were searching for the monster responsible for trying to ruin Nico.

Nico: He's close.

Electro: I see something!

He fired a blast of lightning and he hit something and it was revealed to be FROST!

Frost, known in Japan as Koorimaru (氷丸」 Koorimaru) is one of the four Light Brigade members and is called upon by Sarina to be Thunder's Tag Duel partner against Syrus Truesdale and Tyranno Hassleberry. Unlike Thunder, he values victory above all else, and was not above eliminating his partner from the Duel by betraying him and using "Mirror of Duality" to defeat not only Syrus and Hassleberry, but also Thunder. He was then sealed in a mirror by Sarina when she no longer had any use for him, but is freed alongside the other Light Brigade Duelists after Jaden Yuki and Aster Phoenix defeated her.

The "Kouri" portion of his name in the Japanese version is derived from the word "kōri" (氷), meaning "ice." In the English dub, he speaks with a gangsta rap-like Hispanic accent.

---

Nico: WHOA!

Sarina: Frost!

Nico: He's a member of the Society of Light no doubt.

Sarina: Yes he is. He's the 2nd member of the Light Brigade and he's a total jerk who values victory above all else.

May: So you are the jerk responsible for trying to hurt us!

Frost: That's right! It was because of Nico that I was forced to do it! He threw me into a fountain.

Nico: Because you were harassing the Loud Kids Aunt Ruth you fuckwad!

Maria: Yeah you jerk!

Eddy lit a roman candle and had it go off on Frost.

Frost: What the Hell, man?!

Eddy: Well, your name is Frost, right?

Frost: My name may be frost but I don't have Ice Powers you shitsucker!

Nico: You tried to make me look like a fool and you will pay for it!

Dark Spicer: Here's your warning: Your fucking ass is gonna be kicked!

Nico: Big time!

Nico then punched him in the face and Lana bit him and Kalin, Electro and Maria punched, smashed and blasted Frost all over with incredible power! Dark Spicer turned into Stompasaurus and smashed him all over the place and they all smashed him.

Frost: Why you!? I summon Mobius the Frost Monarch!

He summoned said monster.

Kalin summoned Ccapac Apu and Luna fired a blast of water at Frost and Ccapac Apu blasted Mobius and destroyed him.

and knocked him out and me and everyone else came and we came.

Nico: There's the freak that made me do all that stuff. It's Frost of the Light Brigade.

Me: Well I'll be.

I went over to him and saw a shorted out Invisibility Watch.

Me: An Invisibility Watch. So that's how he made Nico do those assaults unintentionally.

Lori: Whoa! Nico we are so sorry we blamed you.

Ruth: Yeah we didn't know he was with you guys.

Nico: It's no big deal.

Me: Lets capture him so we can interrogate him on what Sartorius is gonna do.

Nico: Good idea.

We tied him up in chains and I gave Luna his Duel Disk.

Evil Green Ranger: Well, that's pretty much another one of Cyclonis' bodyguards down.

Kearny: And you guys proved Nico's innocence.

Lori: Of course we did.

Me: Yep.

Drakkon: Sartorious is gonna have to do better if we wants to take both our groups down.

Nico: (laughs) Of course he is.

Me: But if he tries anything we'll be ready for him.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: Now we have to lock up Snipe.

Aerrow: (to Snipe) I hope getting locked up was worth it, Snipe.

Snipe: The chance to fight you Storm Hawks is always worth it.

Piper: We're flattered.

Snipe: You should be. I've always been fighting all of you ever since you formed your little group. And when I break out, you guys are really gonna get it!

Me: Don't be so sure.

---

In the Neptune Prison, Ravess got a surprise when she saw us bring in Snipe.

Ravess: Oh, Hell no! I told you guys not to put Snipe in my cell.

Nico: Relax, Ravess. We're putting him in a separate one.

Ravess: Oh.

We put him in a separate cell like we told her and he was placed in there forever.

Lori: (To the viewers) Bad brothers and sisters better watch out because we will literally find them and bring them down.

Me: Yep.

THE END

---

Another awesome Storm Hawks chapter down.

2 more villains left. We have Dark Ace and then the grand finale with Master Cyclonis. NicoChan11 and JediAvatarOfShinobi gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the first of three chapters that were given to me by deviantart user Etstheclarencefan. First up is a chapter for the Netflix show Kipo and the Wonderbeasts and we're going to embark on an awesome journey to help Kipo find her father in a post-apocalyptic world of strangeness. And we're gonna go after the leader of the Frog Mob, Mrs. Sartori. we're gonna work our way up one villain in the series at a time.

See you all tomorrow.

Wonderbeasts Age

In Gotham Royal York High School we were getting ready for class.

Me: What do you think the next class is gonna teach us?

Varie: Don't know but it is gonna be good.

Nico: I know.

Toby Tredwell then came up to us.

Toby: Hey guys.

Me: Hey Toby.

Toby: I'm starting my first day here at school.

Me: Sweet! Glad to have you here man.

Nico: Awesome.

Toby: It's gonna be awesome learning here.

Carol: It sure is.

We later went to class.

We were having lunch when all of a sudden Misty came in.

Ace: Hey, Misty. What are you doing here?

Misty Tredwell: Mr. Huggins called me and said that Toby got into a fight at school.

Me: What!? Oh man. We better go see what's up. But I thought Mr. Huggins was the Elementary School Principal.

Nico: He goes from one school to the other on certain days.

Me: Oh that makes sense.

We went to Mr. Huggins Office and we saw Toby in there.

Me: Hello Mr. Huggins.

Mr. Huggins: Hello J.D.

Me: Sorry I don't have any comics this time for you. You know how busy we are saving the universe.

Mr. Huggins: I know and that's all right.

Misty Tredwell: You make comics for him?

Me: He's a huge fan of Lincoln's favorite comic series Ace Savvy and we make our own comics for everyone. It's really good money. We do comics as a way to show prestige to the creator of Marvel Comics, Stan Lee and to the creator of Ace Savvy, Bill Buck.

Misty Tredwell: Wow. (to Toby) Toby. What happened? (Toby doesn't ansswer) Toby, I know you're still having a hard time in school but-

Toby: They insulted you.

Misty Tredwell: What?

Toby: They insulted you.. They said you just dropped dead.

We gasped.

Donald Duck: They must've been talking about how you died temporarily after your duel with Akiza a long time ago.

Me: I've heard about that. Who insulted Misty?

Toby: Jerkhead bullies.

Me: I think I know who you're talking about. Lets get them.

We found the bullies by the lockers.

Me: Hey you jerkoffs!

We walked up to them.

Onslaught: Hey, douchebags. Misty would like to have a word with you.

Bully #1: We can explain-

Misty Tredwell: Let me ask you a question, boys. How much do you love your family?

Bully #2: A lot, of course. I mean, who doesn't?

Misty Tredwell: Then how would you like it if they suddenly died? Here's something to remember, boys. Not everyone has a loving family. In fact, some people are orphans without any fmaily at all. So think about that the next time you open your mouth and say something stupid. Who knows? (looks the bullies straight in the eye) It could be someone close to you that drops dead.

Me: That's right. So you fuckers better apologize to her or you fuckers are gonna wish you were never born! (Cracks knuckles)

My eyes glowed red with incredible fury and the bullies then turned white as a ghost and they shit bricks.

Bully #1: Okay okay! We're sorry! We're sorry!

Misty Tredwell: Good.

Me: Now get lost!

They ran in fear.

Me: Yeah you shitfuckers better run!

Grapple: Principal Huggins, please don't suspend Toby. He was just defending his sister's honor!

Mr. Huggins: I understand. I know just how he feels. I was once in the same situation myself. I saw someone hurting my sister and I fought him and sent him to prison for assault. I won't suspend him this time since it's his first day. I'll let him go with a warning.

Me: Good.

Toby: Sorry sis. I was defending your honor.

Misty Tredwell: I understand bro. Thank you.

They hugged.

Me: Well we should get back to lunch and to class.

Nico: Good idea.

We went back to lunch and class.

---

Later back at the estate in the early morning hours at 1:35 AM, Lincoln was asleep and his was having a horrible nightmare. He was seeing himself fighting the Royal Defenders all by himself in the war against them and he was losing badly. The Royal Defenders had him completely overwhelmed as they were blasting him all over the place with indiscriminate fury at a relentless level as they were punching, kicking, blasting and stabbing him all over and calling him horrible names and tearing him apart at a ruthless level. But then they fired a massive and powerful energy blast at him and when it hit him he woke up screaming!

Lincoln: (BLOODCURDLING SCREAM!) (Panting)

Natilee came in.

Natilee: Lincoln!

Natilee went over to him and sat on his bed.

Natilee: Are you alright?

Lincoln: NATILEE! (CRYING HARD!)

He hugged her and cried hard and he was really scared and frightened.

Natilee: Lincoln it was just a nightmare. It's all over.

Lori and everyone else came in.

Lori: We heard Lincoln scream!

Laney: What happened!?

Natilee: Lincoln had a horrible nightmare.

Lynn Sr.: Oh man.

Natilee: Calm down Lincoln. Calm down. It's all over. Can you tell us what it was about?

Lincoln: (Sniffles) It was the Royal Defenders! I went after them all by myself and they… They… (CRYING HARD)

Natilee: They killed you.

We gasped in shock and horror.

Me: The War with the Royal Defenders.

Nico: My god. That must've been a really horrible dream.

Lana: Yeah.

Lincoln's fiancés came and hugged and comforted him.

Gluko: It's all right Lincoln.

Andrina: Poor Linky.

Earth: Yeah.

Lilly: It's over now.

Natilee drew a picture of what he saw and showed us.

We gasped at what we saw and it was horrible!

Vince: This war is gonna be brutal.

Me: Yeah. Lincoln's nightmare is a warning to show how brutal the Royal Defenders are.

Lisa Loud: Need I remind you all that it is 3:25 in the morning and we haven't gotten the required amount of sleep.

Me: Right lets head back to sleep.

We did so.

---

Later in the morning Lincoln was in terrible shape. He had really bad bags under his eyes and his eyes were really bloodshot and he was shaking with fear.

Me: Oh Lincoln I know you're scared but it wasn't real.

Lincoln: I know J.D. but it's so scary! It felt like I was really there.

Nico: Poor Lincoln. Maybe we should give him the day off to get some sleep.

Me: Good idea. He can't fight bad guys if he's sleepy.

Laney: Yeah.

Clyde: I'll take him upstairs to his room.

Earth: And I'll accompany him to stay with.

Rita: Thank you two.

Lincoln yawned as they took him upstairs to his room to get some more sleep.

But just as he was about to go up the stairs the alarm went off.

Me: Uh oh.

We went to the computer.

Lincoln: Maybe I should go with you.

Me: No Lincoln you get some more sleep.

Lincoln: Yeah you're right.

Clyde: Come on buddy.

They went upstairs and on the computer we saw a strange world in peril. We saw that it was a post-apocalyptic version of Earth that was changed because of a nasty cataclysmic event that forced all the humans underground.

Me: Whoa! We better go check this out.

Lucy Loud: Leave this to me.

Lucy slashed the air and formed a portal that lead to the apocalyptic world and we saw a sight of unimaginable horror. Everything was rotting away and most of it was covered in grass and plants and some of the flowers were huge and more. And walking on the lands were creatures the likes of which we haven't even seen before. The world looks like it was changed into an alien world.

Me: My God. What the hell happened here?

Nico: Looks like the world has been through a nasty cataclysmic event that altered the landscape.

Yuko Tani: It's like what happened in the time I came from.

Numbuh 1: It sure feels that way.

Numbuh 362: What do you think caused the world to change into this?

Katie: We got to find out here.

Me: Lets take a look around.

We walked around and we saw the ruined landscape and it was awful that this all happened to the world. It was an incredible world and the plants were as tall as houses and the insects, fish and animals were now human sized and they rose up to dominate the landscape in our place.

Me: Wow. Where is everybody?

Laney: I don't know. But this reminds me of the movie I Am Legend.

Me: It sure does remind me of that. Except it wasn't a Zombie Apocalypse that did this. This was done by something else.

Linka: My guess is it might've something done by science.

Lola: Zombie Apocalypses are usually done by science.

Varie: Yeah. Remember the Krabby Patty Zombie Nightmare?

Gali: That's right. Sandy made Krabby Patties that turned everyone into burger zombies.

Laney: She sure did.

Lily: That was horrible.

Me: It was.

Then we heard a scream and we saw a girl with pink hair and a girl with a wolf pelt on being attacked by a bunch of anthropomorphic frogs in suits and they looked like something out of the Roaring 20s.

Me: Gangster Frogs!

Rockna: (SCREAMS IN TERROR) FROGS FROGS FROGS FROGS FROGS FROGS FROGS FROGS FROGS FROGS! FROGS! GET THEM AWAY FROM ME!

Lana: Cool!

Me: Lets get them!

We went at the Gangster Frogs and had our swords and powers ready and we saw a frog freak getting its tongue sent out and I slashed its tongue off and kicked him in the face and Nico blasted him with energy and roasted him.

Lana: Aww you frogs are so cute!

Lola: They are so gross!

Frog man: It's Team Loud Phoenix Storm! Lets get outta here! Retreat!

The frog freaks ran!

Me: Yeah you guys have better run!

Kipo: Wow! Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Me: That's right. It's a pleasure to meet you uh…

Kipo: Sorry my name is Kipo. It's really nice to meet you guys.

Me: Same to you.

Wolf: It's a pleasure to meet you guys. I'm Wolf.

Benson: I'm Benson.

Dave: Name's Dave.

Kipo: This is Mandu.

Me: Pleasure to meet all of you. Kipo do you know what happened here and why the world is overrun by anthropomorphic animals?

Kipo: The world was changed because of the Great Mute Outbreak.

Laney: The Great Mute Outbreak?

Lola: What the heck is a Mute?

Wolf: Mutes are creatures changed by an event that changed the planet.

Wolf told us everything that happened.

---

The Great Mutant Outbreak of 2017 was an apocalyptic event that occurred 200 years prior to the start of Kipo and the Age of Wonderbeasts. The outbreak caused creatures to mutate far beyond their original size and intellect, rendering humans comparatively weaker and much lower on the food chain. The humans fled to safety and formed underground communities called burrows. In the wake of the outbreak and humanity's mass exodus from the surface, the newly-emerged mutes assert their power as the planet's dominant creatures, while banding together with their unique mute sub-types. Abandoned remnants of humanity still linger on the surface, either maintained and utilized by mutes, such as motorcycles and other vehicles, or overrun with mutated, deadly flora and fauna.

---

We gasped.

Me: And all this happened back in 2017?

Laney: That's horrible!

Nico: So this world is set in the year 2217.

Lisa Loud: That's 197 years into the future.

Lana: Wow.

Rita: That's amazing.

Lynn: It's amazing that this all happened to the world.

Me: And the surviving humans have been forces to scatter all over the world and go underground? That's horrible.

Vince: Yeah.

Splash Woman: It's awful that this world has been through all that.

Linka: No kidding.

Nico: Yeah. What was the cause behind the Great Mutant

Outbreak? Was it science gone wrong?

Kipo: I don't really know. My father is trying to help bring humans and Mute's together. But he vanished somehow. Kipo told us that the world was overrun with people and Mutes that are out to destroy both sides. She told us about the bad guys out there.

Scarlemagne

Scarlemagne, formerly known as Hugo, is a mandrill mute who once sat at the very top of Las Vistas' food chain using mind control and fear.

Hugo was originally a normal primate that was mutated and raised by Lio and Song in his youth; making him Kipo's adoptive brother. The cruel treatment he endured under the human scientists who commissioned his mutation, and the eventual perceived desertion of his adoptive family, left Hugo with a lasting grudge against the human race. Upon acclimating to the surface world and weaponizing his coercive pheromones, he rechristened himself 'Scarlemagne' and crusaded to reunite the surface under his banner.

A despotic ruler who championed his fellow primates through intimidation and mind-control, Scarlemagne was feared across the surface for the reach and scope of his power. He sought to build a golden city from which he could rule over his fellow mutes, and very nearly succeeded before Kipo and her allies were able to depose him at his own coronation, costing him his captive army in the process. Shortly afterwards, Scarlemagne was captured and imprisoned by the Timbercats.

Scarlemagne was once a regular mandrill and went by the name Hugo. He was one of several test subjects used by burrow residents in order to isolate the mutagen which had affected Mutes and find a way to reverse its effects. Under the care of Lio and Song Oak, Hugo had several different formulas administered to himself which gradually turned him into a Mute, giving him the gifts of speech and human intellect.

Lio and Song were eventually able to isolate the mutagen that had given Hugo these abilities, but soon realized the consequences of what they were doing. They kept Hugo's speech a secret from Emilia and planned to escape the burrow with him as soon as Kipo was born.

Unfortunately, Emilia found out about Hugo's secret after she heard him playing the piano and singing the song 'Play in My Head'. Song and Lio tried to protect Hugo but were unsuccessful. It was then that Hugo's puppet pheromones were discovered when he, in self-defense, splashed some on Zane, a burrow scientist who was trying to get a blood sample from him. Emilia then imprisoned Hugo and forced him to run on a treadmill to harvest his pheromones. Emilia used Hugo's pheromones as leverage in order to force Lio and Song to further their research into developing a Mute "cure".

After Kipo was born, Emilia sought to confront the couple about Song's pregnancy, having found out that they infused Kipo's DNA with a Mute jaguar's DNA. At Song's insistence, Lio was able to escape with Kipo while Song distracted Emilia. During their confrontation, however, Song fell over a ledge, and her Mute genes (which she had acquired from her pregnancy) activated in response to her fear. Song ended up transforming into a six-armed, giant Mega Monkey and caused the destruction of her own burrow. Hugo, at the time, was still imprisoned and was separated from Lio and scarred by the rubble after the burrow was destroyed.

As he ventured the surface, scared and alone, Hugo came across the Goth Apes. Seeing their love of music and similarities to Hugo, he began playing a nearby piano. Gerard, leader of the Goth Apes, told Hugo to battle in order to prove his worth. Losing his initial fight against Porcelaine, Hugo decided to use his pheromones on her in order to throw the odds. After winning, Gerard allowed Hugo to join.

Traveling with the Goth Apes, Hugo came across Lio fighting off some Newton Wolves. As the Newton Wolves were distracted by the Goth Apes looting them, Hugo ran up to Lio and happily reunited with him. Lio explained that when the burrow fell, he barely made it out with the newborn Kipo and had been running from Emilia ever since. Hugo felt betrayed that Lio had not tried to look for him and asked if he could hold baby Kipo. Lio, who was unsure of Hugo's intentions and wanted to protect his daughter, rejected the request, but Hugo aggressively lunged at Kipo's blanket (which was once his) and managed to tear a piece off. Hugo, seeing his sweat pouring on the piece of cloth, stood up and threatened Lio with it while laughing insanely. Lio ran off, abandoning Hugo in his laughter.

Hugo returned to the Goth Apes hideout and threw his pheromones onto Gerard, claiming the Goth Apes as his subjects. Realizing his potential, Hugo declared the surface would have kings once more, and renamed himself Scarlemagne.

Using his pheromones, Scarlemagne is able to take control of everyone around him. He develops a master plan to entrap all of the humans and make them work for him and his mutes to get them back for generations of humans controlling animals.

Scarlemagne gets colder and meaner in his old age, forgetting the sweet monkey that he once was. Scarlemagne manages to find Kipo's old burrow to entrap all of her old family and friends. He makes them his slaves and he makes plans to become the king of the kingdom and have all bow down to him. Scarlemagne plans a coronation ceremony, where everyone will declare their loyalty to him.

Scarlemagne manages to trap Lio, for revenge, and Lio's daughter Kipo. He wants them to publicly declare their allegiance to him as well. Upon realizing that Kipo is a half mute, and when talking to her-he realizes she isn't a monster. She tries to connect with him, reminding him that he doesn't have to be a power-hungry monster to get people to follow him. He can just show kindness and have them follow him naturally. Scarlemagne seems to consider this option, but ultimately decides that he wants to force everyone to follow him because he doesn't trust anyone to follow him of their own will.

At his coronation, he tells the crowd that he will give them a choice - follow him, or be gilded in gold to become a statue. To increase everyone's fear, he starts to flood the statement with melted gold. Kipo and Lio try to fight him to stop the liquid hot gold. Kipo turns into a jaguar to flip over the tree that is releasing the melted gold. Kipo saves the day. Scarlemagne attempts to run away but is knocked out. Lio seems him and runs to get him, declaring that he will not abandon him a second time. With the help of the Timbercats, Scarlemagne is locked up in a cage where he will be sent back to the Timbercats' home to await his fate.

Mrs. Sartori

Mrs. Sartori is a mute frog and the boss of the Mod Frogs. She, along with Kwat and Harris, two other Mod Frogs, are presumably deceased, encased in gold by Scarlemagne.

After Jamack captures Kipo and her friends, he takes them to the Mod Frogs base. Mrs. Sartori then arrives and examines Kipo for proof of her being from a burrow. Mrs. Sartori confirms that Kipo is a burrow girl and congratulates Jamack on a job well done. This congratulation is short-lived, however, when Kipo reveals that before she and her friends were captured, they managed to acquire some Mega Bunny baby fur. The Mega Bunny mother quickly arrives and Mrs. Sartori becomes enraged at Jamack for not noticing such a trick.

After Jamack escapes the Mega Bunny mother, he returns to the Mod Frogs base and finds it a wreck. As punishment for his failure, Mrs. Sartori snips Jamack's tie and kicks him out of the Mod Frogs.

Mrs. Sartori along with the rest of the Mod Frogs were present during Scarlemagne's speech, where he put a bounty on Kipo and her friends.

Zane

Zane is a member of the Human Resistance and a former scientist from the DNA Burrow.

Zane was one of Dr. Emilia's assistants from the DNA Burrow and the one sent to retrive a blood sample from Hugo (Scarlemagne) after his mute capabilities were discovered. Instead, when Hugo splashed his puppet pheromones on Zane in self-defense, he was told to stop approaching the mandrill, then directed into a room, where Dr. Emilia stated he would be held until the effects of the pheromones wore off.

Greta

Greta is a member of the Human Resistance and a former scientist from the DNA Burrow.

Dr. Emilia

Emilia is a human scientist who previously worked with Lio and Song. She's now the leader of the Human Resistance against mutes and the true and current antagonist of Kipo and the Age of Wonderbeasts.

Emilia was the leader of a group of burrow scientists trying to find a "cure" to the mute mutagen and turn all mutes back into animals. She had tasked Lio and Song Oak with isolating the mutagen. Lio and Song were eventually successful when they turned a mandrill named Hugo (later known as 'Scarlemagne') into an intelligent mute. However, the couple decided to keep it a secret when they realized the consequences if Emilia were to learn of their breakthrough.

Unfortunately, Emilia eventually found out and attempted to take matters into her own hands with Hugo. She then learned of Hugo's puppet pheromones when he splashed Zane, a burrow scientist, in self-defense. Emilia would then imprison Hugo and force him to run on a treadmill to harvest his pheromones. Emilia used Hugo's pheromones as leverage in order to force Lio and Song to further their research into developing a mute "cure".

After Kipo was born, Emilia sought to confront the couple about Song's pregnancy, having found out that they infused Kipo's DNA with that of a mute jaguar's. At Song's insistence, Lio was able to escape with Kipo while Song distracted Emilia. Emilia refused to allow Kipo to exist and during their confrontation, Song fell over a ledge and her mute genes, which she had acquired from her pregnancy, activated in response to her fear. Song ended up transforming into a six-armed, giant mega monkey and caused the destruction of the burrow. Emilia was then able to take control of Song by using the supply pheromones she had harvested from Hugo.

Emilia spends many years trying to track down Kipo, the half mute half human, and trying to find a solution so that she can turn all the mutes back into their original selves to restore humanity once more.

Emilia has a group of human followers with her, including Zane and Greta, who help her in her goals. Emilia, by a stroke of luck, manages to find Kipo and convince her to come back to her group's headquarters (by pretending to be a friend, instead of an enemy). Emilia's plan is to use Kipo to defeat the mutants and Scarlemagne and then to eventually kill Kipo.

Kipo and her friends eventually find out that Emilia is not on their side, and they make moves to undermine her. They blow up a nectar bomb to trap Emilia's followers in a tunnel so that they cannot go to Scarlemagne's coronation to hurt the mutants with their sonic transmitter (as animals hate the screeching sounds). Emilia doesn't get trapped in the tunnel and fights Dave, Benson, and Mandu. They manage to get away to go to Scarlemagne's coronation.

After Kipo helps the humans under Scarlemagne's control get away, they go to a tunnel to hide where Emilia is waiting. There, she convinces them to follow her and to help her revert all of the mutes back. She gets their support. Kipo finds out and plans to stop her.

---

We gasped in shock.

Me: Looks like we found another world with a lot of problems. We'll gladly help you all out.

Kipo: Thank you so much.

Me: No problem. Our first target will be Mrs. Sartori and the Frog Mod.

Rockna: FROGS! NO!

Kipo: Whats wrong with her?

Me: Rockna has an extreme case of what is called Ranidaphobia, the Fear of Frogs. Just like how Master Goku is terrified of needles to an incredible degree, Rockna is terrified of frogs.

Kipo: Oh I get it.

Wolf: That is really sad for her.

Me: I know. But she can't help it. Just like a lot of people are afraid of mice and snakes, Rockna can't help it.

Benson: I understand.

Me: Lets find the Frog Mod and turn them into frogs legs!

Lana: As much as I don't like the Frog Mod, I think they are cute.

Me: That's your opinion Lana. Lets get them!

We went out to face the Frog Mod. Kipo, Wolf and Benson were flying with us.

Bai Tza: This is gonna be like facing the Mafia all over again.

Lily: It sure is.

We saw the entire Frog Mod in a beautiful pond house.

Me: Target sighted. Entrance time guys.

---

At the Frog Mod house a frog was talking to the leader MRS. SARTORI!

Frog Mod #1: Team Loud Phoenix Storm is coming to destroy us ma'am!

Mrs. Sartori: Team Loud Phoenix Storm is just a myth. They don't even exist.

But then massive torrents of water exploded out of their pond and the beautiful singing of mermaids was heard and then we came out.

Me: So we're a myth are we? Well here's a news flash frog face, we're 100% real.

Nico: We're going to enjoy turning you all into food for the French.

Marinette: I'm hungry for Frog Legs.

Adrien: Me too.

Mrs. Sartori: So you are real! Well then lets fight!

Maria: (to Mrs. Sartori) Oh, c'mon! Don't you want to exchange witty banter before we take you down once and for all?

Nico: Yeah join the rest of the class.

Me: Lets dance then.

Koragg, Loki and Rich Texan then appeared.

Sarah Gunnerson: Koragg.

May: Loki.

Becky: Rich Texan.

Me: Surprised seeing you all here as well.

Kipo: (to the Masters of Evil) Are you guys the Masters of Evil?

Koragg: Correct. But we are just here for the usual battles. We are not here to help out Mrs. Sartori. She has no honor anyway.

Rich Texan: Too bad you guys are gonna kill her and her goons. I could go for some frog legs.

Me: Don't worry there will be plenty of frogs for everyone.

?: If you live long enough to enjoy them!

2 figures came out in flashes of Blue and Red light and it was the Gemini Twins POLLUX & CASTOR!

---

After consulting with the stars within the Gemini constellation regarding his next target (Hiromi Matsuno), Nephrite decided that the time was right for him to use his two powerful Youma, Castor and Pollux.

While disguised as Masato Sanjoin, Nephrite implanted via his evil crest Castor and Pollux inside the stub of an animator's pencil belonging to Hiromi Matsuno, thereby obnoxiously competing against her friend Kazuko Tadashita as she perfects her animations of Sailor V. Once Hiromi reaches her productive peak, Castor and Pollux immediately emerge from the pencil and drain all of the girl's energy, and Kazuko Tadashita, Rei Hino, Ami Mizuno and Usagi Tsukino arrive to the scene. Kazuko faints, and the girls take the opportunity to transform and challenge the Youma.

Given that Castor and Pollux are bound together by a strong friendship, this gave Nephrite the illusion that this bond would provide them with the power that is "several levels greater than the Sailor Senshi". These Youma demonstrate this power by using the yellow ribbon that they are bound from, as a symbol of their friendship, teamwork and resolve. Whilst the Youma are bound by this ribbon, they are both unstoppable and powerful; as they immediately engage in battle. The Youma Castor first mimics Sailor Mars' Fire Soul attack, followed by the Youma Pollux who mimics Sailor Mercury's Sabão Spray attack. As both these mimicked attacks are aimed towards the Senshi, the trio are confused by the ease in which their attacks were mimicked by the Youma and used against them. Both Castor and Pollux would have actually defeated the Senshi, had it not been for their bickering over who gets to finish off their opponents. The ferocity of their bickering was such, that not only did "they forget about the presence of their adversaries "; they also terminated their friendship, thus causing their tails, which had previously been tied together, to break apart. The distraction created from their bickering, gave the Senshi the opportunity to "mount a counterattack" by pooling their attacks into one into one. Unfortunately for Castor and Pollux, they realised too late that they should have valued their friendship more and, because of their petty squabbling, they are instantly destroyed and the lost energy of Hiromi Matsuno is returned to her. Hiromi Matsuno takes the opportunity to apologize to Kazuko Tadashita for her behavior and together they rekindle their friendship, whilst Nephrite plots his next move for underestimating Sailor Moon and her associates.

William: Oh fuck! Two of you this time?

Castor: Don't underestimate us, Dunbar!

Pollux: Yeah! The two of us are more then capable of beating you and your friends up!

Me: We'll see about that.

Shanan: Pollux & Castor. What a rather unpleasant surprise after all this time.

Pollux: It has been a while Shanan.

Qin: Who and what are Pollux & Castor?

Shanan: They are also known as the Gemini Warriors. Pollux is what called Hyodinite and she comes from the farthest planet in her solar system: Hyodia. Castor is what's called a Pyroninite and she comes from the closest planet in her solar system: Pyronia. Pollux and Castor are called the Gemini Warriors because their planets are sister planets and they are bonded with their tails and their powers are unlocked through them.

Qin: Whoa! That's wicked. So they know the powers of Fire and Ice.

Shanan: Yes.

Pollux: We were really impressed that you know about our kind Shanan.

Castor: Indeed.

?: I am amazed myself.

A figure came out and it was the third member of the Light Brigade: THUNDER!

Thunder, known in Japan as Ikazuchimaru (雷丸) is one of the four members of the Light Brigade led by Sarina. He and fellow member Frost were called upon by Sarina to battle Syrus Truesdale and Tyranno Hassleberry after they kidnapped Solomon Muto and baited them to the top of a large building in Domino City. Unlike Frost, he was more willing to use teamwork to win. He was given a copy of "Mirror of Duality" by Sarina, but could not use it since his Life Points were too low. However, Frost himself played the same card and won the Duel, with Thunder losing all his Life Points along with their opponents. He was sealed in a mirror by Sarina when she no longer had any use for him, but was freed alongside the other Light Brigade Duelists after Jaden Yuki and Aster Phoenix defeated her.

The "Ikazuchi" portion of his name in the Japanese version is derived from the word "ikazuchi" (雷), meaning "lightning".

Thunder travels through thunder, and seems to be in control of the "Zaborg the Thunder Monarch" spirit that presided over the city during his Tag-Team Duel.

---

Sarina: Thunder!

Thunder: Sarina it's been a while.

Me: So you are the 3rd member of the Light Brigade that we have to face.

Thunder: That's right.

Me: I like your eyebrows. They look like true bolts of lightning and your hair makes you bring out the true ferocity of a Thunderstorm inside you.

Thunder: Why thank you.

Eddy: So, you're Thunder, right? Eddy McGee. Nice to meet you.

Thunder shook Eddy's hand but he got shocked by his joy buzzer.

ZZZZAAAAAAAAAAPPPPPPPPPPPPPPP!

Eddy: (laughs) Looks like Thunder just got shocked!

Thunder: It's not that funny.

Luan: (Laughs) Good one Eddy!

Me: That was funny!

Linka: Since Lincoln was supposed to face Thunder, I will face him in his place.

Loki: What happened to Lincoln?

Linka: He had a really bad nightmare about the upcoming war against the Royal Defenders. So we gave him the day off.

Koragg: I'm sorry that happened to him.

Rich Texan: Poor kid.

Devack then appeared.

Devack: Let me help bring down Thunder with you Linka.

Linka: Thanks Devack.

Jake: Time to hop to it!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Nova Flashteam!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Flashman Rangers!

Me: Lets get them!

We powered up and went at them!

Battle 1: Loki

May, Kevin Levin and N were facing Loki.

Loki: This is gonna be good.

May: It sure will. Lets bring the pain.

Kevin touched a piece of metal and he absorbed it and formed his hand into a mace club.

Kevin Levin: Time for some pain.

N: Lets bring it.

Loki called out his Lycanroar and N called out all of his Pokemon and they all went at Loki and May fired her ice ray and ice blasts and Kevin and N smashed and kicked Loki all over the place and knocked him and his Lycanroar out.

May: That was a good fight.

Battle 2: Koragg

Sarah Gunnerson, Concrete Man and Impact Man were facing Koragg.

Koragg unsheathed his sword and Sarah made a sword of crystal.

Koragg: Lets make this a battle of honor and power.

Sarah Gunnerson: I plan to.

Concrete Man: Lets do it!

Impact Man: Lets!

Koragg called out his Pokemon. He had all three Legendary Wolves: Entei, Suicune and Raikou. They went at Koragg and his Pokemon and clashed with him and Sarah fired blasts of rock and earth and smashed him all over and Concrete Man and Impact Man smashed the Legendary Wolf Pokemon all over and knocked him and the pokemon down.

Sarah Gunnerson: How's that for honor?

---

Battle 3: Rich Texan

---

Becky, Bleez and Frightwig were facing Rich Texan.

Becky: Lets make this an epic showdown.

Rich Texan: Yee Haw! Lets do it!

Becky formed a cactus pistol and Rich Texan called out his Meowth.

Meowth 2: Hello to all of you.

Becky: Wow! You have a Talking Meowth as well.

Rich Texan: I sure do.

Bleez: Looks like Jessie and James have a friend for their Meowth to talk to.

Rich Texan: Indeed he does.

Frightwig: Lets do it.

BANG BANG BANG!

Becky fired cactus balls at Rich Texan and they hit him in his butt and it hurt like hell and she punched him all over and Frightwig and Bleez blasted him and Meowth 2 all over and knocked him down.

Becky: That is a good showdown. (Blows smoke out of gun nozzle)

---

Battle 4: Pollux & Castor

---

Shanan, Lana and Lola were facing Pollux & Castor.

Lana: Lets dance you freaks of fire and ice!

Lola: Yeah!

Castor: Bring it.

Shanan fired an energy blast and Lola fired a wave of fire and Lana fired a wave of ice lightning and the blasts combined and they slammed into Pollux and Castor and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

They were completely obliterated in an instant.

Shanan: No more.

---

Battle 5: Thunder

---

Linka and Devack were facing Thunder.

Thunder: Lets dance you freaks! I summon ZABORG THE THUNDER MONARCH!

Linka: Bring it! I summon LIGHTNING CONGER, THUNDER NYAN NYAN, THE CREATOR, LIGHTNING PUNISHER, SANGA OF THE THUNDER, ELECTRIC VIRUS, ZABORG THE THUNDER MONARCH and HAMON, LORD OF STRIKING THUNDER!

Linka summoned said monsters.

Devack: I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL CUSILLU!

Devack summoned the Monkey Earthbound Immortal Cusillu.

Linka: Time to bring down the lightning!

Linka fired a blast of lightning at Thunder and electrocuted him all over and Devack fired a blast of energy and it hit him and exploded.

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!

Linka: Try these on! HELLFIRE STYLE NINJA ARTS: HELLFIRE SCYTHE BLAST and HELLFIRE FLAME BLAST!

Linka formed a scythe of pure fire in her hands and fired blades of fire and she fired a powerful blast of fire.

Linka: And this one. COCYTUS STYLE NINJA ART: COCYTUS ICE BREATH!

Linka fired a blast of ice from her mouth and the blasts froze Thunder in a block of ice.

Linka and Devack won after their monsters destroyed his Zaborg the Thunder Monarch.

Linka: Another member of the Society of Light defeated.

Devack: Yep. Sartorius better start coming up with better plans.

---

Battle 6: MRS. SARTORI AND THE FROG MOD!

---

We regrouped and we were facing Mrs. Sartori and the Frog Mod.

Me: Bring on the frogs legs because I am hungry!

Laney: Lets get them!

We went at the Frog Mod and I slashed a bunch of frogs into pulp and cut a bunch of them all over and Nico fired blasts of energy and Kipo turned into a giant purple jaguar with three tails and she clawed them all over and ripped them to shreds and Lola fired blasts of fire and Edwayl fired waves of green energy and blew the Frog Mods all over and Bai Tza fired waves of water and pulverized them all over the place and smashed them. The Megaforce Rangers were blasting them all over and Unda, Seeryn and Lystone blasted them and turned them into more frogs legs. Clodor, Staluk, Olkiex, H'earring, and Faash blasted and smashed them all over the place and turned them into more frog legs.

Lola: Take this! FIRE STYLE NINJA ARTS: GREAT FIREBALL BLAST, PHOENIX FIREBALL BLAST, and FIRE BREATH!

Lola fired a massive blasts of fire and they formed into huge fireballs, a phoenix and a massive wave of fire and they torched and cooked the Frog Mod all over the place and turned them into plates of Frog Legs.

Laney: Try these on! PLANET STYLE NINJA ARTS: GRAIA, XANA, and MEDUSA!

Laney floated into the air and images of said planets appeared behind her.

Graia

Graia, also known as "The Crown of Miracles," is a major Adeptus Mechanicus Forge World in the Segmentum Tempestus of the Milky Way Galaxy. The planet is home to the Legio Astraman, a Loyalist Titan Legion.

The warriors of Graia reside in a geometrically perfect network of space stations that crests the planet like a glittering diadem. Though the Cult Mechanicus does not make it widely known, this "Graian Crown" is fully capable of traversing interstellar distances. Giant fusion engines allow it to escape its host planet's gravity and move to the nearest Mandeville Point, where it can then travel through the Warp.

Graia was the site of an invasion by over 1 million Orks led by the Warboss Grimskull in the late 41st Millennium in an attempt to seize the Warlord-class Titans being constructed within the planet's famous Ajakis Manufactorum. The invasion was stopped in its tracks by the intervention of the 203rd Cadian Shock Troopers and the 2nd

Company of the Ultramarines led by Captain Titus, and the world was ultimately reclaimed for the Imperium by a full liberation fleet. During the battle, Titus discovered that the Ork invasion had been a cover for the Chaos Sorcerer Nemeroth and his warband of Chaos Space Marines to seize experimental Imperial Warp technology that he intended to use to become a Daemon Prince and transform Graia into a new Daemon World under his rule. Titus successfully slew the Sorcerer but came under suspicion of heresy himself because of his unusual resistance to Chaos sorcery.

Medusa

Medusa, formally Medusa IV, is the Chapter homeworld of the Iron Hands Chapter of Space Marines and of their lost Primarch, Ferrus Manus. The Feral World of Medusa is a harsh realm of perpetual gloom, situated precariously close to the Eye of Terror in the Segmentum Obscurus.

The sun almost never breaks through the dark and polluted sky, as it constantly churns over a land of frozen mountain ranges, interspersed with volcanoes and boiling hot geysers. The landscape is under constant flux, the shifting of tectonic plates forming new mountains and seas, and destroying them as quickly as they are created.

---

They fired waves of energy and they slammed into many frogs and turned into bunches of plates of Frogs Legs and more.

Edwayl: (Breton Accent) I may be part of Ireland but I love frogs legs! PLANET STYLE NINJA ARTS: MACKENSEE, GLADIUS PRIME, and CYPRA MUNDI!

Edwayl floated into the air and images of said planets formed behind her.

Mackensee

Mackensee is a Feral World within the Jericho Reach, far from the salients of the Achilus Crusade.

By all appearances, Mackensee should be a paradise for Humanity. Its climate, gravity, atmosphere, and native life forms are all well suited to Human habitation. Every exploratory craft that has surveyed the world has ranked the planet as an ideal candidate for colonisation efforts.

In spite of that, during the height of the ancient Jericho Sector before the onset of the Age of Shadow, repeated attempts at colonisation all met with disaster. Ironically, the Tyranid forces of Hive Fleet Dagon seem to be having little better luck as they attempt to devour the world for their own purposes.

Legends suggest that psychic echoes of those who first visited the world yet defend it, but xenos forces are at work, attempting to hold the world against any who might take it from them. In truth, it is an Aeldari Maiden World under siege.

Over the course of the 33rd and 34th Millennia, there were at least four discrete attempts to colonise Mackensee. The world's ideal climate, abundant natural resources, and stable planetary conditions all made it an ideal candidate. From an initial review, only its location, far from the more civilised worlds of the Jericho Sector, made it seem like a poor choice.

However, many potential colonists viewed the relative isolation as a significant asset, hoping to find a place where there would be a minimum of oversight and interference.

In each of these instances, the initial landings went well. Colonists quickly established enclaves and began the process of taming the wilderness. By all accounts, the world was receptive to each attempt. Agricultural efforts using plants and animals of Terran lineage seemed well-suited to flourish on this new world.

Reports were sent back to the colony's sponsors indicating that initial signs suggested tithing might begin well ahead of schedule.

None of these attempts reported any unforeseen difficulties, and all noted that they were capable of making use of the world's abundant resources much sooner than expected, minimising the requirements to import additional supplies.

Unfortunately, every one of these attempts later met with disaster. The entire population of the first effort died to a previously unknown native infection, their bodies discovered only when a supply vessel arrived.

The second colony was destroyed when a previously unknown fault-line gave way and the entire enclave sank deep beneath the world's oceans.

The third colony inexplicably vanished, leaving no trace of their existence behind. Repeated investigations into its disappearance have yielded no clues, though ancient records suggest that theorists on many of the worlds within the Jericho Sector had explanations.

There have been no further attempts at colonisation since that time, as the sector began its descent into the Age of Shadow shortly thereafter.

Once the Jericho Sector collapsed, there were few Human institutions capable of attempting to establish a colonial outpost. As the world lacked any known sentient inhabitants, there is no record of any activity on this isolated world.

However, those who dwelt within the region did not completely forget about Mackensee. Several cultures have legends of a deserted Paradise World where people might flee to escape the collapse of their homes.

It is believed that more than one cult leader may even have assembled people and taken their precious resources to lead a colonial expedition to just such a paradise. If so, it is clear that none of these efforts ever amounted to a successful mission.

In all likelihood, such hucksters either stole the assets or were exposed and suffered their just punishments. It is possible that one or more small groups of nobles might have launched an expedition with the last of their dwindling reserves, but if this was attempted it met with failure.

Alternatively, a force affiliated with the Ruinous Powers might have travelled to this world and turned it into a corrupted pit of despair, but no traces of such efforts remain. Ultimately, there is absolutely no concrete evidence that any Human groups have ever successfully established a foothold upon the world.

Instead, by all appearances, Mackensee's natural resources were left fallow for millennia. During this time, even the remains of those who had once attempted to tame this beautiful world deteriorated into dust.

While it is possible that a xenos group might have visited the world at this time, there is no known evidence to confirm their intrusion. If such an effort was made, it clearly met with the same results experienced by Humanity millennia earlier.

In 652.816.M41, a vessel carrying desperate refugees from Pilgrim's Loss arrived in the Mackensee System. The voidcraft represented the last desperate efforts of a small outpost that had fled before the Tyranid forces in that system. Upon their arrival, they were horrified to discover that this world was also under assault by Hive Fleet Dagon.

Rather than attempt to land within the system, they immediately fled once more, travelling this time to Beseritor, where they were able to report the attacks to Imperial authorities - both Pilgrim's Loss and Mackensee were under the influence of the Shadow in the Warp; communication from both locations was impossible.

The Deathwatch intercepted the reports that were sent on to Achilus Crusade High Command. In order to identify the full extent of the Tyranid infestation, Watch Commander Mordigael immediately dispatched a Kill-team on a reconnaissance mission to Mackensee.

By the time of their arrival, it had been more than six solar months since the pilgrims initially visited the world. To their tremendous surprise, they discovered that the invasion force had made very little progress in its efforts.

The Kill-team's visit to Mackensee was necessarily brief. Their mission was to quickly survey the world and identify the stage of Tyranid progress, so that a decision could be made about the viability of future engagements. A consequence of their quick assessment was that they missed a critical point of analysis.

Aeldari Pathfinders - of Craftworld Alaitoc - had actively defended the world from Tyranid assault. Mackensee is a Maiden World, which waits in pristine isolation for the day when the Aeldari might have a need for it.

These Asuryani fulfil their duty to protect the world from Tyranid incursion just as their ancestors defended it against Human colonists.

However, the Aeldari's reserves are limited. It is unclear how long they can resist the boundless hunger of the Tyranid invaders.

Gladius Prime

The main planet of the Gladius System, Segmentum Obscurus, Ixaniad Sector. It was first colonised late in 997.M41

Gladius Prime was known to Imperial scholars as a planet of archeological interest. During its colonization ancient relics were found, revealing hints of a shrouded past. But it was more than relics. Something awakened, an unspeakable horror from an ancient past, and the citizens of Gladius found themselves trapped in a terrible war for survival.

Cypra Mundi

Cypra Mundi is an Imperial Forge World and the primary Imperial naval and military base, or Segmentum Fortress, for the Segmentum Obscurus, the Segmentum Majoris of the Imperium of Man that includes the Eye of Terror.

The Segmentum Fortress is directly overseen by an official of the Administratum with the grade of master.

Located on the northern fringe of the galaxy, Cypra Mundi is also the traditional home for Imperial Navy officers in the Segmentum, who are usually chosen from amongst the aristocracy of Cypra Mundi.

Little is known of the early history of Cypra Mundi, save that it was more than likely discovered and colonised by Mechanicum Explorators during the Dark Age of Technology. Early in the Great Crusade, the armoured formations of the XIII Legion (before it was known as the Ultramarines) halted an Ork advance on the ash plains of Cypra Mundi, and in doing so saved a city of millions from a savage death, successfully bringing another world into the fold of the burgeoning Imperium.

The economies of entire sub-sectors are devoted to supporting the manufacture and supply of the Imperial Navy's warships, principally in regions which serve the greater Forge Worlds such as Mars or Cypra Mundi.

Within its vast orbital shipyards, Cypra Mundi has become notable for manufacturing the Overlord-class Battlecruiser, an oft-difficult vessel to construct, but faithful and fierce in its service to Mankind. The design is an ancient but successful one, and new examples of the class are still commissioned every solar decade or so.

Though extremely rare, Cypra Mundi is also known to occasionally produce capital-class warships for extremely wealthy individuals or dynasties with the financial wherewithal to commission the manufacture of a bespoke cruiser.

When Abaddon the Despoiler launched his 13th Black Crusade in 999.M41, a massive fleet was despatched from Cypra Mundi to reinforce the Imperial Navy, which had been fighting an ongoing battle against the seemingly endless waves of Chaos vessels. The fleet from Cypra Mundi staged at Belis Corona in preparation for a massive Imperial counteroffensive into the Cadian Gate, just outside the Eye of Terror.

Following the destruction of the Fortress World of Cadia by the forces of Chaos during the 13th Black Crusade, the Eye of Terror was no longer restrained by the pylons that had dotted the world's surface. The result was the birth of the Great Rift, a massive Warp rift that spread across the galaxy from the Eye of Terror to the Hadex Anomaly in the Eastern Fringe, essentially rending the territory of the Imperium of Man in half.

To those on the Terran side of the rift in the Imperium Sanctus, it is a tainted scar stretching across the sky. To those unfortunates on the far side, such as Cypra Mundi, in the region now named the Imperium Nihilus or the "Dark Imperium," it is something much worse - the very gates of Hell.

The planets fired waves of energy and incinerated many Frog Mods all over and turned them into frog legs.

Marinette: Big Frog Legs.

Chloe Bourgeois: Good.

Me: Awesome techniques. Lets show them some teamwork!

Wolf: Any last words?

Mrs. Sartori: Go screw yourselves!

Me: Fuck you!

Onslaught: YEAH!

Ace: You tell him!

Ace and Onslaught used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and they enhanced Ace's powers 100-fold and Onslaught's missiles 100-fold.

Donald Duck and Grapple used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and they enhanced Donald Duck's magic and Grapple's rockets 100-fold.

Onslaught and Ace: PSYCHIC MISSILE MEGABARRAGE!

Onslaught fired a number of missiles and Ace made numerous missiles and they went at the frog mod.

Donald Duck and Grapple: MAGIC MEGAMISSILE BARRAGE!

Donald Duck fired waves of magic and Onslaught fired numbers of missiles.

Arkayna and Devon Michaels: DRAGON CHEETAH FIREBLAST!

Zarya and Ravi Shaw: WOLF GORILLA MOONFIRE BLAST!

Piper and Zoey Reeves: PHOENIX JACKRABBIT FIRESTORM!

Emerald and Nate Silva: UNICORN MANTIS EARTHQUAKE!

Me and Steel: MERMAID SCARAB SWARMSTORM!

We fired a massive blast of energy and magic. The blasts all combined and they slammed into the rest of the Frog Mod and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

All of the Frog Mod was destroyed and turned into Frogs Legs and all that was left was Mrs. Sartori.

Me: Time for you to become frogs legs!

Kipo, Wolf and Laney: NATURE AND HUMAN FIRESTORM!

Kipo, Wolf and Laney fired waves of fire and they formed into a Jaguar and smashed into Mrs. Sartori and incinerated her into nothing.

Me: Well that's one enemy down on this worlds hit list.

Kipo: Good riddance.

The Masters of Evil came and we game them lots of Frog Legs.

Rich Texan: Thanks guys.

Laney: Did you guys hear about how Toby beat up those bullies?

Loki: We did. I know we did bad stuff before but Misty being taunted about her previous death was pretty low.

Me: The lowest ever.

Maria: Are you proud of Toby for what he did?

Koragg: Of course. After all, he beat up those bullies to defend his sister's honor.

Rich Texan: But we're not forcing him into battles. Misty will be on our asses if we did.

Me: I don't blame here.

Crow: Yeah, let's try and avoid that.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: Well lets head home.

Kipo: It was awesome having you guys help out.

Me: But if you need us, we'll be in touch.

I handed Kipo a watch and it will call us whenever needed.

Kipo: (To the viewers) Me and Team Loud Phoenix Storm will make all our enemies pay for their crimes.

Me: We sure will.

We went back to the estate.

Video Game Glitches

At the estate, we were playing video games and reading books when suddenly the phone rang.

Me: Oh I'll get it.

I went over and answered the phone and on it was Amanda Waller.

Me: Hello?

Ms. Waller: Hello J.D. It's Amanda Waller.

Me: Oh Hello Ms. Waller. What can I do for you?

Ms. Waller: Nico has been telling me about what has been happening because of the Royal Defenders.

Me: Yeah.

Ms. Waller: Lets talk at my place alone.

Me: Okay.

I hung up and went over to the estate of Ms. Amanda Waller. Once there I was telling her what the Royal Defenders are doing.

Ms. Waller: That IS something.

She went over to the window and looked outside.

Ms. Waller: As you know J.D., I was once in charge of Project Cadmus and it was designed to protect us from the Justice League should they ever have the chance to go rogue like the Justice Lords did.

Me: Yes I remember that. But this is very similar to what happened with the Justice Lords. But the Royal Defenders are like the Justice Lords 100-fold.

Ms. Waller: I know.

Me: But I'm at a total divide with myself. I read a lot about the crimes of the Royal Defenders and they went from heroes to pure evil bad guys. They murdered their own version of their Aunt Ruth in cold blood and they committed numerous atrocities all over the galaxy and have been demoralizing heroes all over. I'm torn between going with our code and throwing the Royal Defenders in prison after stripping them of their powers or breaking our code and killing all of them. I don't know what to do.

Ms. Waller: I understand how you feel J.D. I know it's hard to bring down people you know that resemble your friends. And you do have a good heart. But I would just follow what is good for you in your heart. And you are indeed right. It is hard to kill kids because that would make you nothing more than a barbarian but just go with what you feel is right in your own heart.

Me: You're right Ms. Waller. Thank you. With war with the Royal Defenders looming on the horizon, we have to be ready for anything. But if they push us, we may have no other choice but to kill them.

Ms. Waller: Okay. But I may have a plan that can help you. We can help turn their version of Earth against them. Nico told me that he plans to utilize the same rebel strategy that was used against the evil capitalist company O.C.P. and help the people of Earth rise up against the Royal Defenders.

Me: I remember that.

Ms. Waller: Good. But the best way to stop the Royal Defenders is like you said: Strip them of their powers and throw them in jail. Our scans show that their powers were given to them because of a science experiment gone wrong by their version of Lisa. I have the solution for that.

She went over to a special room and pulled out a special gun. It was a power disruptor ray.

Ms. Waller: This is Superpower Destroying Power Disruptor Ray. It was made by Lex Luthor to try and destroy the Justice League. Now it will be used by used by you to stop the Royal Defenders.

She handed it to me.

Me: Thank you Ms. Waller. I will probably need a huge number of these since this is gonna be an epic war.

Ms. Waller: I'll get all my contacts in Project Cadmus to help you guys take down the Royal Defenders. We'll call this project Project R.D. Liberation.

Me: I like the name. Thank you again Ms. Waller.

I left and told everyone.

---

Back at the estate, I was telling everyone in our briefing room. Vypra and Dark Spicer were with us.

Superman: So Amanda Waller is helping us.

Me: That's right Kal. She agreed to help us take down the Royal Defenders.

Nico: It's good she's helping us. We need all the help we can get.

Me: Ms. Waller is calling on her Project Cadmus contacts to help her out. She is calling it Project R.D. Liberation.

Vypra: I like the name.

Me: I do too. Claire can you call all your old comrades in the Legion Of Doom to help us out with this?

Volcana: I can do that. But it will be tough. Edward Nygma is still shaken up from the Battle with Thanos.

Me: Well try your hardest. Vypra do you know anyone that might be willing to join the Masters of Evil and help us at the same time?

Vypra: I do have some contacts in mind. But finding them will be hard.

Me: I understand.

Nico: I can call on King Kai to ask King Enma to send my people to help me.

Me: Good.

Nico: And I can also call upon all the Cybertronians all over the Galaxy to help us.

Lincoln: That's perfect.

Me: Yeah. We can also call upon all the Digimon too.

Vince: Okay.

Me: Diana can you go to Themiscyra and enlist the help of your mother and all the amazons to help us?

Wonder Woman: I can do that.

Me: Good. John, can you call the entirety of the Lantern Corps to help us too?

John Stewart: I sure can. Leave that to me.

Brittney: I can call upon the Red Lanterns to help us too.

Sinestro: And I'll call the Yellow Lanterns as well.

Me: Good. Bro, we're gonna need everyone in the Five Great Nations to help us too.

Naruto: I'll tell Grandma Tsunade about it.

Me: Okay. Robin, can you call all of the Teen Titans from around the world to help us out as well?

Robin: You got it.

Me: Excellent. We're gonna need all the help we can get.

We called the meeting done.

Later in the Chaotic hub we were talking to everyone.

Sarah Gunnerson: So everyone is gathering a lot of forces needed for the war against the Royal Defenders?

Me: Yep. We need all the help we can get.

Peyton: I hope we get rid of the Royal Defenders soon. Those monsters are bad news.

Maxxor: And even worse news now that they are still growing. When is the projected date for the war?

Me: D-Day is August 29th.

Lincoln: Wow! That only gives us 16 days to prepare.

Me: That's still plenty of time to come up with plans and arm ourselves.

Kaz: That's true.

But then we got a huge surprise. We saw a blonde hair girl come up to us and it was Krystella's twin sister Jycella.

Jycella: Hey there. Team Loud Phoenix Storm, right?

Clayface: Hi, Blonde Krystella. (realizes something) BLONDE KRYSTELLA?!

Me: What the!? (Rubs eyes) Either I'm starting to lose my marbles or either Krystella escaped from jail or she has a clone.

Jycella: No I am not Krystella. My name is Jycella and I am Krystella's twin sister.

Me: Wow. You look so much like your sister.

Jycella: But I'm not like her personality wise. I am what you would call the good version of her where Krystella is my evil twin.

Nico: Wow.

Sarah Gunnerson: Jycella and Krystella have a lot of bad blood between them and they hate each other with a vengeance.

Jycella: Yep. I heard my sister's in prison now.

Lucy Loud: That's right. She's been cursed with the Curse of the Cobra by Vypra, the leader of the Masters of Evil.

Me: And she is scheduled to die in 2 years. Your sister was a heartless sociopath.

Laney: That's right. She hated everything.

Me: Yeah.

Jycella: Good riddance. I hated my sister for everything she is.

Sammy: You're not the only one with twin sister problems. My sister Amy used to make my life a living Hell.

Smokescreen: Me and the other Cybertronians weren't there at the time. But Amy once used a holographic disguise band to make her and Sammy switch appearances in order to ruin her.

Cricket: I tried to stop Amy but she knocked me out easily.

Sammy: Yeah.

Me: Amy hated Sammy with a merciless vengeance and I also found out something very gruesome her father Hank's death.

Nico: What is it?

Me: Amy and her mother poisoned him.

Laney: Poisoned? I thought he had cancer.

Me: He did. But it was the poison that caused his cancer.

I pulled out a bottle.

Me: This was the cause of it. N-Nitrosodimethylamine. It's a carcinogenic agent that is extremely poisonous and causes cancer of the liver. Amy and her mother spiked his food with it and poisoned him. Giving him liver cancer.

Nico: WHOA!

Vince: That is so inhumane!

Laney: So evil! I read about this. The most prominent example is the infamous murders done by Steven Roy Harper.

Me: I know. I read about that. That was done in the late 1970's.

Nico: That's horrible! So Amy went from abusive sister to cold-blooded killer.

Sammy: And I'm glad she's in prison. She can burn in Hell for all I care.

Me: Yeah.

Girl Jordan: Also Jycella, me, Paragus and Oceanus Shenron were the ones who took down Krystella and stopped her.

Jycella: Good.

Oceanus Shenron: Yep.

Jycella: Well, it's a shame that the M'arrillians can't be scanned anymore. But it was either that or let them conquer Perim.

Wildrider: Relax. We managed to use our powers to put in scans of the M'arrillians as well as Van Bloot and his goons into Tom, Peyton, Sarah, and Kaz's scanners.

Me: Yep and you can keep what you scanned. The deal with your sister is off. And we can give you the scans of the M'arrillians too.

Jycella: Thanks guys.

Me: You're welcome.

We got to talking with Jycella and she was awesome. We had her join the team.

Later I was going over the intel I got from our spies in the Royal Defenders and what I saw was not good.

"Here's what I know about the Royal Defenders. Neil Spellman has the spirit of Deathwing and currently so far they've conquered Ephedia plus they seem to have multiple gateways to other dimensions including which how they've acquired many allies. In addition they also have Overwatch on their side plus a guardian named Gyro as well as the Disk Wars Avengers not to mention the Kaiju and a version of the Justice League plus the Cybertronians as well as W.O.O.H.P. and the monsters and demons of World Of Warcraft and the League of Legends. There are also Nether Dragons to worry about as well as The Republic from Star Wars meaning they have Clone Troopers and the Jedi as well, plus the Crystal Gems and oh dear, O.W.C.A. is out of commission as well and it appears that Luna and Lincoln have demonic powers of darkness and ice. Well the Royal Defenders version anyway plus he has Mjolnir as well and now plus a shit ton of artillery as well and then it appears that the Royal Defenders have some kind of immortal council possessing numerous forces such as protooss with druids from Everquest, Zerg from Starcraft, High Heavens from Diablo and lastly the Battleborn. Also Neil Spellman is the headmaster of Ever After High. They have the Kwamis as well plus a Frost Wyrm in addition, another El Tigre not to mention Marceline plus the Teen Titans as well and Ember McLain as well as the Heaven's Devils from Starcraft plus Aegis battlecruisers plus the MCU Avengers not to mention Hollow Cabal who is an extremely powerful Sith Lord as well as Dominator from Wander Over Yonder plus X-Wings plus Crawlers from Command And Conquer and now Penn Zero and Randy Cunningham the 9th grade ninja are in this as well plus Phineas and Ferb as well plus oh my god the Jaegers from Pacific Rim! I found the council! It composes of Orphea ruler of the Nexus, Emperor Valerian Mengsk and Admiral Mathew Horner, High Lord Alarak, Matriarch Vorozun and Stewart Talandar, Brood Mother Zagara and Alexei Stukov, Sally Whitemane, Aurelion Sol, Nasus and Ryze, Ben 10, Charmcaster, High King Alduin Llane Wrynn, Jaina Proudmoore, Thrall and Baine Bloodhoof, Illidan Stormrage, Malfurion Stormrage and Tyrande Whisperwind, Bolvar Fordragon and the Archlich Kel'Thuzad, Doctor Strange, Doctor Fate, Wonder Woman and Queen Hippolyta, Queen Eclipsa Butterfly and Globgore, Winx Fairy Bloom, her sister Daphne and her parents from the kingdom of Domino, Shinobi from Norrisville, Sienna Khan, Marceline the Vampire Queen, Jerry from W.O.O.H.P, Kane from the Brotherhood of NoD, Ladybug, Optimus Prime, Arcee and Starscream, Wander and Lord Dominator, Arceus, Princess Celestia, Luna, Cadence and Twilight Sparkle, Imperius and the Angerus Council, Diablo the Lord of Terror and lastly Gyro's apprentices Pyrrha Nikos and Raven also all the tech seem to have originated from Futuretech and it seems that the cryosphere is responsible for making Luna, Lori and Leni what they are in the first place in addition it seems that occasionally they do game streams such as Minecraft and great scott! Luna has Frostmourne the sword of the lich king then it appears that the Spellmans have Pokemon as well plus the Fairly Odd Dimension in addition. Leni possesses plant powers and found out about demonic powers. It appears that it was the result of the Crown of the Lich King from World Of Warcraft as well as Porkbelly and Yikes! Lori has Volcana's powers plus Wander and Dominator of the royal defenders are getting married. Plus bill cipher is with the Royal Defenders as well and now Gyro of Royal Defenders have located Eda Clawthorne the Owl Lady and is making his way to the Boiling Isles as we speak and is attempting to fight her alone."

Me: WHOA! This intel we got is really something. And we have our work cut out for us when the war breaks out.

Laney: Yeah.

Dipper: They have Bill Cipher in their ranks!? That's crazy!

Me: Bill Cipher? You mean that monster that looks like an Illuminati?

Dipper: That's him.

Nico: This is crazy! And Luna has the powers of the Lich King in her!?

Laney: And even all of W.O.O.H.P. is with them.

Sam Simpson: We would never serve someone as evil as the Royal Defenders.

Clover: That's right!

Marceline: And I am now in the Royal Defenders!? I would never join them.

Star Butterfly: And I don't think any of us on Mewni would join them either.

Me: This really infuriates me. And to make matters worse, they have Ladybug and the Miraculous with them and they aim to kill Hawk Moth.

Marinette: That's madness!

Nico: Total madness.

Me: I think my mind just became clear. We have no other choice.

Nico: You mean?

Me: Yeah. We have to kill the Royal Defenders. But after we turn the entire planet against them.

Laney: Good. Now we have to destroy them.

Lola: Yeah! Those monsters will pay for their crimes!

Scorponok: Boy and I thought Megatron was bad new. They are a total menace to all Cybertronians everywhere.

Terrorsaur: They will be brought to trial for their crimes before we decide punishment.

Me: That is a good approach. We'll defeat them and bring them to trial all over the universe for their crimes.

---

Later at the estate, we were watching Nicole and Lily play video games and Wreck It Ralph and Vanellope were watching too. Nicole and Lily were playing Mario Kart for Switch and it was awesome! Nicole was racing as Mario and Lily was racing as Tiny Kong.

Ralph: Wreck her Nicole!

Vanellope: Yeah!

One lap was left and they were on the Rainbow Track and then Nicole crossed the Finish Line 1st!

Nicole: Yes!

Lily: Wow! Awesome!

Ralph: Way to go Nicole!

Vanellope: Yeah she is good.

Ralph: They don't call her the Goddess of Video Gaming for nothing.

Nicole: But Lily did do really good. She is getting to be just as good as me.

Vanellope: True.

Then the alarm went off.

Me: Uh oh.

We went to the computer and we saw that it was a call from the awesome Video Game police force GLITCH TECHS.

---

In the world of Glitch Techs, Hinobi is a huge gaming and tech that makes massively popular video game consoles. What Hinobi customers do NOT know is that their games sometimes glitch and release dangerous video game creatures into the real world! That's when the company sends the Glitch Techs: a trained support team equipped with an arsenal of fantastic gaming gear designed to capture video game pests and out them back where they belong! Once a glitch is returned, the Techs must remove any evidence it was there - including the memories of any witnesses! Not only do Glitch Techs fight for the safety of the city, but they also work at Hinobi stores, helping customers with tech support and service needs. Enter Miko and high Five - new recruits who fight glitches and reformat witnesses all before the store closes at 5 pm. Talk about a crazy job!

---

Nicole: The Glitch Techs need us this time. Awesome!

Lily: Sounds like they need help dealing with a glitch.

Me: What are the Glitch Techs?

Nicole: They are an awesome video gaming police force. They capture evil glitches that terrorize the world of video games to make sure that they don't cause problems. They monitor the worlds of video gaming and lock up and contain video game pests. Something like computer viruses in games and that sort of thing.

Nico: Cool!

Vince: How do you guys know them?

Nicole: After we got rid of King Candy who was really Turbo, we met the Glitch Force and became really good friends with them. High Five, Miko Kubota, Mitch Williams, Zahra, Nix and Bergy are friends of ours and to the worlds of video games.

Link: That's right. They came to Hyrule once to get rid of some glitches at one time.

Samus: Same to the worlds I went to on my journeys.

Mario: (Italian Accent) I remember-a that.

Luigi: (Italian Accent) Indeed.

Nico: So they know all 39 years of Video Gaming.

Nicole: That's right Nico and it is awesome that they do what they do.

Laney: That is amazing.

Me: Lets go help them out.

We flew out to the heart of the city and we saw a van driving around.

Nico: Is that their van?

Lily: Yeah.

We flew down and they saw us.

Out came Miko and she had beautiful blue hair with a purple streak. And Hive Five and everyone came out.

Miko: Hey guys!

Nicole: Hey Miko.

They hugged.

Five: Lily! Good to see you again.

Lily: Same to you Five.

They high-fived.

High Five (Skylanders): It's really cool that someone here has my name too.

Five: Same here High Five.

Mitch: It's an honor to meet the famous Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Me: Same here Mitch. We were told so much about you from Nicole and Lily.

Ralph: Yeah and she wrecks games like crazy!

Vanellope: They don't call her the Goddess of Video Games for nothing.

Laney: That's right.

Zahra: It's awesome she does what she does.

Lily: She's also my teacher and she is teaching me everything she knows.

Miko: Awesome!

Sandman: So, who's the first Glitch we're facing?

Mitch: He's a really strong Glitch. His name is Tank and he is tough and really bad news.

Mitch showed us a picture of him on his device and he was a dangerous one and he was really bad news.

Me: Whoa! He looks really tough.

Nico: He sure does.

Laney: Yeah.

Lana: But we have faced tougher opponents than him.

Lola: Yeah.

Me: Lets find him and take him down.

Mika: Our best bet is to face him in the Digital Realm.

Me: Lets do it.

We went to the Digital Realm and we saw that we were in an awesome video game and it was awesome!

Me: Wow! We're all inside an awesome video game!

Nicole: We've been in video games before dad.

Laney: I know. It's so cool.

?: It sure is.

We saw a big figure and it was the first of Team Enter Name! TANK!

Tank: So you are the famous Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Nico: Wow you sure are tough!

Stone Man: So, you're a Glitch, huh?

Tank: The name's Tank. And you're about to find out why as I rip you and your friends in half, rock robot.

Me: Not if I smash your brains out.

Nico: We're going to make sure you get smashed!

Number 7, Shiv and Leonard then appeared.

Me: Leonard, Shiv and Number 7.

Teresa: (to Number 7) I had a feeling that you would show up.

Number 7: Well, I am a robot and this is a digital realm.

Shiv: Yeah! It wouldn't make sense if she didn't show up here with us.

Me: I see.

But then another figure came out and it was another one of Sigma's robots.

Miko: Another glitch?!

Shining Hotarunius: Nope! I'm Shining Hotarunius! (fires a horizontal laser attack at Guts Man)

Guts Man punched the laser and deflected it back and it smashed into Shining Hotarunius.

?: Nice attack.

Another figure came out and it was the last member of the Light Brigade: T-BONE!

---

T-Bone, known in Japan as Iwamaru (岩丸) is one of the four members of the Light Brigade. He first appeared when called upon Frost (alongside his partner Blaze) after Frost defeated Syrus Truesdale and Tyranno Hassleberry; Frost intended to use them to drag their unconscious bodies to Kaiba Land to lure Jaden (then Duel him), but Sarina, unimpressed with the close-call nature of Frost's victory, sealed him away in a mirror. Intimidated by Sarina, Blaze and T-Bone left the lair to confront their target: Jaden Yuki. After befriending Jaden and his friends (not knowing their names), Sarina sealed Blaze in a mirror and coerced T-Bone to duel Jaden. Despite having the powers of all the other Light Brigade members bestowed into his Deck, he lost.

Following his defeat, he was sealed in a mirror by Sarina, but was freed alongside the other Light Brigade Duelists after Jaden and Aster Phoenix defeated her. In the English version, he is a rapper wannabe, reflected by his accent and choice of words.

The "Iwa" portion of his name in the Japanese version is derived from the word "iwa" (岩), meaning "rock."

---

Sarina: T-Bone!

T-Bone: Been a while Sarina.

Me: So you are the 4th and final member of the Light Brigade. We defeated your other three comrades.

Miko: (sees T Bone) You know this guy?

Ratchet: No. But we're about to get real familiar.

Me: He's a member of an evil organization that is out to destroy the entire universe. It's called the Society of Light and they are an evil cult that worships an evil force called the Light of Destruction and its goal is to destroy all life in the entire universe.

Nico: That's right.

Miko: WHOA!

Five: I heard you guys are going into war with the Royal Defenders.

Me: Yep. And they pose a very serious threat.

Eddy: Think fast!

Eddy just threw a bone at T Bone.

Eddy: T Bone, meet an actual bone!

BONK!

T Bone: OW! Where'd you even get this?

Eddy: Me and Lana found it at the junkyard.

Me: A real bone? Yuck.

Me: Lets power up and get them!

Troy: Let's take this to the next level!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Secret 5 Force!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Gorangers!

Greiger then appeared.

Greiger: I'll help you guys take down T-Bone.

Lucy Loud: Thanks Greiger.

We powered up and went at them.

* * *

Battle 1: Shiv

---

Sandman, Clayface and Lynn were facing Shiv.

Shiv: Is Lincoln doing all right?

Lynn: He's doing much better. That nightmare he had was awful.

Shiv: I'm glad.

Sandman: Lets take it to him.

Clayface: Yeah!

Shiv called out his Doublade and Lynn formed a sword of lava and they went at Shiv and clashed and Sandman smashed his Doublade with a sand hammer and Clayman smashed Shiv with a mace ball and Lynn slashed him. Burning and knocked him out.

Lynn: Good battle.

---

Battle 2: Leonard

---

Teresa, Arpeggio and Lori were facing Leonard.

Lori: This is literally gonna be good.

Arpeggio: (British Accent) Yeah.

Leonard: Lets dance out.

Teresa: Bring it.

Lori formed a sword of wind and Leonard called out his Mamoswine and Emboar. They went at Leonard and his pig minions and chopped them up into cold cuts and pork cuts and more and Teresa fired sonic blasts and Arpeggio fired blasts of feathers and smashed the Mamoswine and Emboar all over.

Lori: Looks like we have more pork for the homeless.

---

Battle 3: Number 7

---

Edzilla, Stone Man and Guts Man were facing Number 7.

Edzilla: ED SMASH ROBOT!

Number 7: Lets do it.

She called out her Metagross, Magneton and Magnemite.

Stone Man: Lets dance!

Guts Man: Yeah!

They went at them and smashed them and bashed them all over and smashed and more.

Edzilla roared in victory.

---

Battle 4: Shining Hotarunius

---

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Shining Hotarunius.

Nico: Lets dance!

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers fired energy blasts and lasers at him and they hit him all over and exploded.

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBBBOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOOMMMM! KRABBBOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

He fell down and exploded!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Nico: Shining Hotarunius you have failed this universe.

Troy Burrows: Super Mega Rangers, that's a super mega win.

Battle 5: T-Bone

Lucy and Greiger were facing T-Bone.

T-Bone: Lets do it! I summon GIANT SOLDIER OF STONE, DEMIURGE EMA, DUMMY GOLEM, GOLEM SENTRY, GRANMARG THE ROCK MONARCH, MEGAROCK DRAGON, MINE GOLEM, MOBIUS THE FROST MONARCH, THESTALOS THE FIRESTORM MONARCH and ZABORG THE THUNDER MONARCH!

He summoned said monsters. He had 3 Granmarg the Rock Monarch's and 3 Mine Golems.

Lucy Loud: My turn. I summon my monsters of darkness! I summon CAIUS THE SHADOW MONARCH, FUSION DEVOURER, GRAVITIC ORB, VANITY'S FIEND, SUMMONED SKULL, THE END OF ANUBIS, VERSAGO THE DESTROYER, TRIAL OF NIGHTMARE, DARK RULER HA DES. Forbidden Planet (1956) - Robby the Robot

In the 23rd century, the starship C-57D reaches the distant planet Altair IV to determine the fate of an Earth expedition sent there 20 years earlier. Dr. Edward Morbius, one of the expedition's scientists, warns the relief ship not to land, saying he cannot guarantee their safety, but C-57D Commander John J. Adams ignores his warning.

After landing, Adams and Lieutenants Jerry Farman and "Doc" Ostrow are met by Robby the Robot, who transports them to Morbius' residence. Morbius describes how, one by one, the rest of the expedition was killed by a "planetary force" and that their starship, the Bellerophon, was vaporized as the last survivors tried to lift off. Only Morbius, his wife (who later died of natural causes), and their daughter Altaira were somehow immune. Morbius offers to help them prepare to return home, but Adams says he must await further instructions from Earth.

The next day, Adams finds Farman trying to seduce Altaira; furious, he dresses down Farman and criticizes Altaira for her naivety around the crewmen and what he considers her excessively-revealing clothing. She reports the incident to Morbius, claiming that she never wishes to see Adams again, though she later designs new, more conservative clothing to appease Adams. That night, an invisible intruder sabotages equipment aboard the starship. Adams and Ostrow attempt to confront Morbius about this the following morning. While waiting, Adams goes outside to talk to Altaira. He apologizes for his behavior and they kiss. When they are unexpectedly attacked by Altaira's pet tiger, Adams disintegrates it with his blaster.

When Morbius appears, Adams and Ostrow learn that he has been studying the Krell, a highly advanced native race that perished overnight 200,000 years before. In a Krell laboratory, Morbius shows them a "plastic educator", a device capable of measuring and enhancing intellectual capacity. When Morbius first used it, he barely survived, but his intellect was permanently doubled. Morbius takes them on a tour of a gigantic Krell underground machine complex, a cube 20 miles (32 km) long on each side, still functioning and powered by 9,200 thermonuclear reactors, operating in tandem. Afterwards, Adams demands that Morbius turn over his discoveries to Earth. Morbius, however, states that "humanity is not yet ready to receive such limitless power".

Adams orders the crew to erect a force field fence around the starship to prevent further sabotage. It proves ineffective when the invisible intruder returns and murders Chief Engineer Quinn. Morbius warns Adams of his premonition of further deadly attacks, similar to what happened with the Bellerophon. That night, the invisible creature returns and is outlined in the fence's force field. The ship's blaster weapons have no effect and the creature kills Farman and two other crewmen. Morbius, asleep in the Krell lab, is startled awake by screams from Altaira; at the same instant, the roaring creature vanishes.

Later, while Adams tries to persuade Altaira to leave, Ostrow sneaks away to use the Krell educator. He is fatally injured, but with his dying words, Ostrow tells Adams that the great machine was built to create anything from thought alone. He says that the Krell forgot one thing, however: "Monsters from the Id". Their own base subconscious desires, given free rein and unlimited power by the machine, brought about their quick extinction. Adams asserts that Morbius' subconscious mind created the creature that killed the original expedition and attacked his crew; Morbius refuses to believe him.

After Altaira tells Morbius that she intends to leave with Adams, Robby detects the creature approaching. Morbius commands the robot to kill it, but Robby knows it is a creation of Morbius's subconscious mind and shuts down rather than harm him to stop it. The monster melts through the almost indestructible Krell metal doors of the laboratory where Adams, Altaira, and Morbius have taken refuge. Morbius finally accepts the truth. He confronts and disowns the creature, but is fatally injured by the backlash resulting from the confrontation; the Id monster vanishes. Before Morbius dies, he has Adams unknowingly initiate an irreversible chain reaction within the Krell reactors-a planetary self-destruct device-saying that everyone must be 100 million miles out in deep space within 24 hours. At that safe distance, Adams, Altaira, Robby, and the surviving crew watch the destruction of Altair IV. Adams then comforts Altaira by saying that this tragedy will serve as a reminder that, "… we are, after all, not God." The starship departs for Earth.

The Day the Earth Stood Still (1951/2008) - GORT

In 1928, a solitary mountaineer exploring the Karakoram mountains in India encounters a glowing sphere. He loses consciousness and when he wakes, the sphere has gone and there is a scar on his hand where a sample of his DNA has been taken.

In the present day, a rapidly moving object is detected beyond Jupiter's orbit and forecast to impact Manhattan. It is moving at 30,000 kilometers per second, enough to destroy all life on Earth. The United States government hastily assembles a group of scientists, including Helen Benson and her friend Michael Granier, to develop a survival plan.

The scientists travel to New York City to await for the objects collision with Earth. As it nears the planet, the object slows down just before impact. Revealed to be a large spherical spaceship, it lands gently in Central Park and is quickly surrounded by NYPD and heavily armed US military forces. An alien emerges and Helen moves forward to greet it; but amidst the confusion, the alien is shot. A gigantic humanoid robot appears and temporarily disables everything in the vicinity by emitting a high pitched noise before the wounded alien voices the command "Klaatu barada nikto" to shut down the robot's defensive response.

The alien's exterior is found to be a bioengineered space suit, composed of placenta-like material covering a human-like being. After the bullet is extracted during surgery, the being quickly ages into Klaatu, who looks like the mountaineer from 1928. Klaatu informs Secretary of Defense Regina Jackson that he is a representative of a group of civilizations, sent to talk to the leaders of Earth about saving the planet. When Jackson instead sends him to be interrogated, Klaatu escapes and reconnects with Helen and her stepson, Jacob, telling them that he must finish his mission to "save the Earth".

The presence of the sphere and other smaller spheres that begin to appear all over the world cause widespread panic. The military launches a drone attack on the Central Park sphere, but are thwarted by the robot. The military takes a weapons-free approach, cautiously enclosing the robot, soon nicknamed "GORT" (for Genetically Organized Robotic Technology), and transporting it to the Mount Weather underground facility in Virginia.

Klaatu meets with another alien, Mr. Wu, who has lived on Earth for 70 years. Wu tells Klaatu that he has found the human race to be destructive, stubborn and unwilling to change, which matches Klaatu's experiences. Klaatu orders the smaller spheres to collect specimens of animal species, to preserve them for later reintroduction to the Earth. He clarifies for Helen that he means to save the Earth from destruction by humankind. When a New Jersey State Trooper attempts to take them into custody, Klaatu kills him then promptly revives the officer, telling Helen and Jacob that he did this to simply disarm an obstacle to his mission.

Hoping to persuade Klaatu to change his mind about humanity, Helen takes him to the home of Professor Barnhardt, a Nobel Prize winner. They discuss how Klaatu's race went through drastic, collaborative evolution to prevent the demise of their planet. Barnhardt pleads that Earth is at the same precipice, and humanity should be given a chance to understand that it too must change. While the adults are talking, Jacob calls the authorities to come and arrest Klaatu.

While the military is examining GORT, the robot transforms into a swarm of winged, insect-like, nano-machines that self-replicate as they consume every man-made object in their path. The swarm soon devours the entire facility, emerging above ground to continue feeding.

The military capture Helen while Klaatu and Jacob escape on foot. As they travel, Klaatu learns more about humanity through Jacob. When Jacob contacts Helen and arranges to meet at his father's grave, the Secretary sends her to try to change Klaatu's mind. At the grave, Jacob is heartbroken that Klaatu cannot resurrect his long-dead father. As Helen and Jacob have a tear-filled reunion, Klaatu's cumulative observations of humans convince him to stop the swarm.

Granier drives them to the Central Park sphere, but the swarm has reached massive proportions. Klaatu trudges through the swarm to the sphere, touching it moments before his own body is consumed. The sphere deactivates the swarm, saving humanity, but at the expense of electrical activity on Earth, per Klaatu's warning that there will be "a price to the [human] way of life." The giant sphere leaves the Earth.

Robot Monster (1953)

Evil robot Extension XJ-2 (Barrows), referred to as just Ro-Man (and resembling a gorilla in a diving helmet), has destroyed all human life on Earth with a Calcinator death ray, except for eight humans that remain alive. The survivors are: a Professor (John Mylong) - whose name is never mentioned - his wife (Selena Royle); their two daughters, Alice (Barrett) and Carla (Pamela Paulson); their young son, Johnny (Gregory Moffett); the Professor's assistant, Roy (Nader); and space pilots Jason and McCloud (neither of whom are seen or heard). Both pilots depart in a rocket-ship for an orbiting space platform. All eight have developed an immunity to Ro-Man's death ray, having received an experimental antibiotic serum developed by the Professor.

Ro-Man must complete the destruction of all humans, even if it means his physically killing them one by one, before his mission to subjugate the Earth is complete. After fruitless negotiations, Ro-Man destroys Jason and McCloud's spaceship, along with the space platform. He later strangles Carla, then tosses Roy over a cliff to his death.

Ro-Man's mission is waylaid, however, when he develops an illogical attraction to Alice and cannot bring himself to eliminate her. Great Guidance (referred to as "The Great One"), leader of the Ro-Man Empire, destroys both Johnny and Ro-Man with a Calcinator blast. The Great One continues the genocide with: Cosmic June Rays, which cause prehistoric reptiles to appear (stock footage from the movie 1 Million Years B.C.); and Psychotronic vibrations which "smash the planet Earth out of the universe".

But Johnny is alive, having just awoken from a concussion-induced fever dream. Up to now, all that has happened has just been his nightmare. His sisters, their mother, and the two scientists - whom the family met while picnicking in Bronson Canyon - rejoice at finding him. Johnny and his family invite the scientists home for dinner; they accept.

Suddenly The Great Guidance, his arms raised in a threatening manner, walks out of the cave

The robots smashed and blasted Tank all over with incredible power and energy and more and pulverized him all over the place.

Shanan: And try this one! ALIEN STYLE NINJA ART: MUDOKONS!

Shanan fired a wave of energy and it formed into the Mudokons.

---

The Mudokons are a highly spiritual race who are native to the continent of Mudos. They were once considered the supreme race on Oddworld, before being enslaved by the Glukkons. The majority of the Mudokon population is now born in captivity and are forced to work in Glukkon factories.

Mudokons are the main protagonist race in Abe's Oddysee (and its remake), Abe's Exoddus (and its reimagining) and Munch's Oddysee (alongside the Fuzzles and Gabbits).

For centuries, the Mudokons were the supreme race of Oddworld. The Mudokons were known for their prowess above all of the other races and species in Mudos. Centuries prior to becoming an enslaved race, the Mudokons excelled in religion, art, philosophy, politics, architecture, and military. Thousands of years ago, the Glukkons were said to have been close allies of the Mudokons. After a long period of peace, a moon appeared in the skies of Mudos which the Mudokons proclaimed to be known as the Mudokon Moon.

The Schism

Shortly after the appearance of the Mudokon Moon, the Mudokons established an omen which declared their species as the Chosen Race. Outraged by this, the Glukkons closed off their relations with the Mudokons. This event marked the beginning of a period known as the Age of Alchemy in which the Glukkons tried to disprove the Mudokon belief of being the supreme species. During the Age of Alchemy, the Glukkons formed their own isolated society in which they spent their lives indoors and refused to see the sky or accursed Mudokon Moon that disgraced them. As time passed, they gradually abandoned their spiritual ways until they became one of Oddworld's most prominent industrial races.

The Decline of Mudokon Society

As Glukkon society continued to flourish, the Mudokons started to work with the Glukkons in creating the forerunners of the products manufactured today. Over time, the Mudokons were belittled or oppressed by their Glukkon collaborators and became a species enslaved by their former allies. During their enslavement, the majority of the Mudokon species forgot their long-treasured heritage. The structures that remained from the once proud Mudokon race are either abandoned, being reclaimed by nature, or desperately being maintained by the few Mudokons who still practice their ancient traditions.

The Rise of the Messiah

Within the confines of the Glukkon food processing plant RuptureFarms, a single young Mudokon had a revelation after years of unquestioned loyalty to the Glukkons. The young Mudokon was known as Abe. Abe was waxing the floors of a corridor and stumbled upon leaked information from the RuptureFarms' CEO, Molluck, and fellow officials in the conference room. The Glukkons claimed that they were in danger of bankruptcy, due to the decline in RuptureFarms product sales caused by a decrease in healthy livestock. As a desperate last resort, Molluck unveiled a new product called Mudokon Pops, a new meat product made of Mudokon meat. Shocked by this discovery, Abe made it his goal to escape RuptureFarms. Upon escaping RuptureFarms, Abe met a native Mudokon shaman known as Big Face at the Monsaic Lines. Big Face stated that Abe was the Messiah who had returned to restore the Mudokon way of life outside of slavery and save the rest of the Mudokons from RuptureFarms. He then told Abe that he had to pass a Mudokon test of fate, which required him to travel through the Scrab homeland of Scrabania and the Paramite homeland of Paramonia. After passing these tests, Big Face was convinced that Abe was the Messiah and branded his hands with the mark of both creatures; giving him the ability to transform into Shrykull, one of the Mudokon demi-gods.

Reconstruction of Mudokon Society

After the destruction of SoulStorm Brewery, the Mudokons started to gradually rediscover their once lost heritage. Though their society and culture hasn't achieved the grand scale that it was once recognized for, the growing race managed to successfully establish most of their lost religion as well as the associated traditions. With the help of the native population of Mudokons led by Big Face, the Mudokons began to train spiritual successors of the once fearsome Mudokon warriors including Mudarchers and Tomahawkers. Once their race gained a stable foothold as a new-found civilization, Abe and a group of his many followers established the Mudokon Resistance

The Second Idea for Etstheclarencefan is done. GlitchTechs from Nickelodeon and Netflix was awesome! It was awesome how they went into the worlds of video games to take down glitches of all kinds. NicoChan11, JediAvatarOfShinobi and Etstheclarencefan gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys. Next up is the third and final idea of Etstheclarencefan: Hilda and we're going to learn so much about her adventures in Trolberg and take out any enemies if there are any.

See you all tomorrow.

Trolberg Adventures

In Gotham Royal York Mall, we were going on another awesome shopping spree.

Me: So far things have been quiet.

Lori: I know.

Nico: But we have to be ready for anything whenever evil rears its ugly head.

Laney: Yeah.

We got a lot of bags full of clothes, jewelry, accessories and more. Even toys and comics.

Lynn: I can't wait to try out my new baseballs and all that.

Lana: I can't wait to splash around in the mud with these.

Lily: This is gonna be good.

Me: I see something coming.

We saw two shark gene-slammers coming and they had really long hair.

John Bolton: Hey it's Rox and he has a friend.

Patrick Star: (sees Rox and Roxie) Hey, look! Sharks with hair!

Rox: Hey what's up guys!?

Me: Wow. You two are half bull shark. Really cool.

John Bolton: Good to see you again Rox. It's me Ripster. Me and my siblings were turned back into human thanks to J.D. here.

Rox: Wow! It's an honor to meet you J.D.

Me: Same to you Rox. Who's your friend?

Roxie: I'm Roxie. My real name is Melanie Kresnik.

Me: Pleasure to meet you.

Jaime: Good to see you again Roxie.

Roxie: Same to you Jaime.

Me: We have good news for you guys. Dr. Paradigm is dead.

Rox: He is!?

Roxie: So Paradigm's dead?

Shadow Man: Yep. Where have you two been while we've been hunting for them?

Rox: We were out on concerts while traveling the world.

Nico: I see.

Me: And it's not just Dr. Luther Paradigm we killed. We killed his brothers too.

Trudy Bolton: We found out that he had 2 more brothers that specialized in Land and Air animals.

Me: Yep. The 3 Paradigm Brothers were the mad scientists of the 3 great powers of the animal kingdom. Land, Air and Sea.

Olga: They got a lot of us and ruined our lives.

Dayna: Yeah.

Rox: Whoa! It's good they are all dead.

Me: Yep. We killed all three of them and after we killed Dr. Anton Sevarius and Dr. Arthur Paradigm, we had the FBI and Interpol put out on the alert for all mad scientists around the world and in a matter of days they were either arrested and thrown into the Enceladus Prison for Mad Scientists or executed by capital punishment. And we destroyed their research and experiments.

Rox: Good riddance.

Me: Yeah.

Lola: Yeah. But if the Paradigm brothers ever come back, we'll Hakai them out of existence forever.

Roxie: I hope you do.

Me: Same here.

Rox: By the way can you revert me and Melanie back to human again?

Me: I sure can. We can even give you all the ability to transform at will like we did with John and many others.

Stacy Bolton: It's true. We have the power to transform at will now.

Qin: Yep.

Rox: All right!

Me: But we better do it back at the estate. I don't want anyone to see you all transform back and half naked.

Roxie: Good idea.

We went back to the estate and we put our stuff in our rooms and in the living room we got ready for the reversion.

Thunderblast: FYI, the reversions are going to hurt. So, feel free to scream in pain.

Me: Thunderblast no.

Thunderblast: Sorry.

Me: Okay are you two ready?

Rox: Ready.

Roxie: Lets do it.

Me: Okay. Boys cover your eyes.

They did so.

Me: Precautions. Here we go.

I snapped my fingers and covered my eyes and Rox and Roxie were in excruciating pain. They had their skin revert back and muscles shrink and their heads reverted back and their teeth reverted back to human and their hair stayed. Their bodies were back to normal and they were human again.

Windcharger: How do you two feel?

Melvin: Better than ever!

Melanie: I feel human again.

Maria: You are human. See?

Maria formed a mirror and they saw that they were human again but they were half naked.

Melanie: Whoa! (Covers her chest)

Maria: Lets get you some new clothes.

Leni: We totes know what to do.

Teresa: Follow us.

Melanie: Okay.

They followed Leni, Teresa and Maria up to Leni's room and they got some new clothes. In Leni's room, Melvin was given a blue skull shirt with an awesome lightning bolt striking it and he had new awesome stretchy aqua blue pants and boots and he had an awesome sleeveless trench coat with the ocean and a bull shark on it and it had the kanji for Melvin Kresnik, Bull Shark of Strong Bloody Justice on the back.

Jaime: It's the fashion trend we have here in Team Loud Phoenix Storm. It's really stylish and shows how much we stand out.

Melvin: I got to admit we look awesome. Thanks for the clothes.

Leni: You're totes welcome.

Maria: We still have all of the Paradigm Brothers mess to clean up.

Teresa: And revert back and help.

Melvin: Well we'll gladly help you all out after everything you've done for us.

Melanie: That's right.

Jaime: Thanks guys.

Later we were over in a city called Trolberg and it was a beautiful and awesome city.

Me: Wow. So this is Trolberg.

Natilee: I've heard a lot about this city dad. It's said to be home to a lot of mysteries and legends from myths in European myth and folklore.

Laney: Cool!

Edwayl: (Breton Accent) This is amazing lads. I've heard so much about all this.

Lana: This is gonna be awesome.

Luna: It sure is dudes. We came here to meet my penpal Hilda. She is a really strong and adventurous girl with a heart of gold. She and her friends know a lot of legendary creatures that live here.

Me: This we got to see. I know so much about myths and legendary creatures from folklore and myth.

Lana: Cool.

Lola: This is gonna be awesome.

We arrived at her house and rang the doorbell. Answering it was Hilda. She was an 11-year-old girl with greenish-blue hair and she had a red sweater, yellow scarf, blue skirt and red boots and she also had a beret hat on.

---

From when she was a baby up until the start of the series, Hilda lived with just her mother in a house in the wilderness. Growing up there made her quite adventurous.

Her peaceful life ended however when the Elves decided to have the two humans evicted from the valley. Thankfully, one elf, Alfur came to her aid and helped Hilda meet both the Elf Prime Minister and Elf King to try and settle the conflict. At the same time, Hilda met the giant Jorgen, who was looking for his missing friend. Hilda eventually managed to get the two together again when it turned out the mountain next to her house was the giant Jorgen was waiting for. Sadly, Jorgen accidentally destroyed Hilda's house, just when she managed to arrange a truce with the king, forcing her and her mom to move to Trolberg.

In Trolberg, Hilda and Johanna moved into a new house. After an adventure in which she met The Great Raven, Hilda joined the Sparrow Scouts and made her first human friends; David and Frida. During their first badge challenge, for which they had to clean up and improve a section of Trolberg Park, the three friends accidentally dug up some sleeping Vittra, mistaking them for weeds, and had to rescue them from getting ground to mulch.

Living in Trolberg also meant Hilda had to go to school for the first time. She had at first quite some trouble adapting, which lead to friction between her and her teacher Mrs. Hallgrim, who considered her to be disruptive. Incidents included; Hilda asking a question without raising her hand and at the wrong time (namely a history related question during science class), refusing to participate in a troll drill since the procedure (duck under a desk, similar to an earthquake drill) wouldn't help during an actual troll attack, and making a philosophical question that addresses a math problem involving apples after school was already over and her classmates had left. During Parent's Night at The Ahlberg School however, Hilda proved her true value when she helped save the school from an angry Troll by returning the Troll's baby (that David had accidentally brought with him as part of his rock collection). After this, Mrs. Hallgrim warmed up to her.

When David became the victim of a Marra that kept giving him nightmares, Hilda helped him out by trading places with him and making a deal with the Marra that she would leave David alone if she could endure the nightmares the Marra came up with. While Hilda proved difficult to scare, the Marra eventually found something to use against her; her inability to ride a bike. David, not wanting Hilda to make this sacrifice for him, and offered to take the Marra back. This fortunately caused the Marra to lose interest in them both. After this, Hilda asked her friends to help her learn to ride a bike.

In "Chapter 7: The Lost Clan", Hilda, Frida and David discovered the long lost Bragga Family of Elves living in Trolberg City Park when Hilda suggested they should try to find a rare Blue Nettle for their botany badge. David was taken hostage by them, forcing Hilda and Frida to ask Alfur for help (With Frida first signing the paperwork so she could see Elves). Alfur told the two girls about the ancient conflict that lead to the Bragga being banished from the northern counties and tried to end their exile with a new contract, only to learn the Bragga had sworn off all forms of paperwork. Instead, they demanded that Alfur would settle the old conflict by combat. Hilda agreed to this and even offered to help Alfur fight, but Frida interfered and suggested to find a solution that could benefit everybody. At her request, Alfur, Hilda and Frida sought out a Lindworm and had her destroy the contract; the only way to render any Elf contract void. Thus, the exile of the Bragga was ended.

In "Chapter 8: The Tide Mice", she successfully auditions for the Warblers, and becomes a singer in the choir. She also discovered a hidden section in the Library, where she found a spellbook with a ritual for summoning Tide Mice. She used this to give David (who likewise wanted to join the Warblers, but kept failing his auditions) and Johanna (who had to take a job at the hardware store due to lack of any assignments) some luck. It worked, but she failed to properly read the entire section and thus didn't realize the Tide Mice would eventually give David and Johanna's souls to her. Thanks to Frida and Alfur, she discovered her mistake and was able to reverse it with a counter-ritual, which she had to perform during a concert of the Warblers.

In "Chapter 9: The Ghost", she became Frida's campaign manager when Frida tried to run for class president. That same episode, she and David discovered Frida's secret; she is not as perfect and neat as she appears. Her bedroom was always tidy because a ghost, Craigie Williams, cleaned it for her. When he stopped doing so since his, and Frida's favourite book went missing, Frida's room quickly became a pig pen. This shattered Frida's confidence. Determined to help her friend, Hilda (with the unwilling help of David) tracked down Craigie Williams, who suspected his sister Engilbjort had taken the book. The three kids fought her for it but lost. Hilda was able to make Engilbjort surrender the book by preventing her from going back into her grave at sunrise, only to discover the book she had taken was not the one they had been looking for. This made Hilda feel like she failed Frida as a friend. She tried again to lift Frida's spirits, but the girl angrily lashed out at her and David. This was too much, even for Hilda, and she left embittered, her friendship with Frida severely strained.

In "Chapter 10: The Storm", a severe snow storm struck Trolberg. During the storm, the weather broadcast by Hilda's favourite meteorologist Victoria Van Gale was interrupted, causing Hilda to think her hero was in trouble. Along with David and the Great Raven, she visited Victoria at the Trolberg Weather Station. There, she learned Victoria had managed to make a weather machine and had accidentally lured dozens of Weather Spirits to Trolberg, which were causing the storm with their arguments. Hilda convinced Victoria to try and use her machine to blow the storm away from Trolberg and Victoria agreed, but it failed and her machines overheated. Out of other options, Hilda and the Raven confronted the arguing Weather Spirits, with Hilda offering to moderate their debate. She succeeded in getting them to calm down, thus saving the city from getting completely covered in snow. Back at the Weather Station, David informed her of the truth; Victoria had captured a baby Weather Spirit. This shattered Hilda's image of her idol, and she proclaimed Victoria to be a mad scientist.

When the baby's father attacked the weather station, Hilda freed the baby. As the father and child reunited, the entire building was destroyed, but Hilda was fortunately saved because the adult Weather Spirit carried her outside. She fell off her however and ended up in the woods far away from Trolberg. Here she met the Wood Man again, who was playing cards with four Elves and a Forest Giant and asked for his help to return to Trolberg. She also had an elf named Barch send her mother a message by email to tell her she was fine. The Wood Man first deliberately lost Hilda to the giant so she could help him reclaim some of his stuff from the Giant's tree. After escaping the giant, the two of them ended up in a magical house that tried to keep them, prisoners, while simultaneously giving them everything they wanted. Alfur, Twig and the Great Raven also ended up here and got trapped as well, until Hilda figured out how to overload the house by asking for too many things at once. The house then created a doorway back to Hilda's house in Trolberg, allowing the five friends to escape.

As the end of the year approached, Hilda got quite nervous about the fact that she had not earned any Sparrow Scouts badges, and was afraid to tell this to her mom. Around the same time, she and David tried to reconcile with Frida, who had made a new friend named Kelly, and Hilda met a homeless Nisse named Tontu, whom she tried to help find a new house. She first invited him to come and live in her home, but this led to a violent fight between Tontu and another Nisse who already lived in Hilda's house. The fight resulted in Johanna banishing Tontu.

During the end-of-year camp of the Sparrow Scouts, David and Hilda met Tontu again in the Huldrawood. When they tried to bring him some snacks that night, they came across the Marra and discovered Frida was now with them (since Kelly was also a Marra). When The Black Hound] that had been stalking Trolberg for some time now also showed up, and Kelly tried to use Frida as bait for the beast so she herself could escape, Hilda rescued Frida. This finally restored their friendship. Frida even promised to help find Tontu and to help Hilda get at least one badge before the ceremony. This, unfortunately, failed again since Hilda got distracted while looking for Tontu, with the only silver lining that she eventually found him.

During the badge ceremony, the Black Hound showed up again, as it turned out it knew how to use Nowhere Space, the place where Nisse usually live. Hilda only escaped thanks to Tontu. The Hound chased the two throughout Nowhere Space, back to Hilda's house. There, the other Nisse came to their aid and discovered the Hound was none other than his old pet Jellybean. Realizing that the hound was not evil, just lost and scared, Hilda convinced her mom to help lure him out of the city before the Trolberg Safety Patrol could capture him. The plan almost failed when Jellybean jumped onto Johanna's car, causing it to go out of control, but the two Nisse saved everybody by briefly transporting the car into the Nowhere Space of the outside world.

At the end of season 1, Johanna gave Hilda a homemade badge to make up for her not having any proper ones and apologized for pushing her so hard to earn badges. Tontu came to live with Hilda in her home.

Graphic novels

In the graphic novels "Hildafolk" through "Hilda and the Black

Hound", Hilda's life is in many ways identical to the animated series; like her befriending Alfur and Jorgen, being forced to move to Trolberg after her house is destroyed, meeting the Great Raven, joining the Sparrow Scouts but failing to get any badges the first year, and meeting Tontu.

However, the events depicted in "Chapter 4" to "Chapter 11" of the animated series never happen in the graphic novels, and there are some notable differences between the two continuities. In the graphic novels, Alfur never moved with her to Trolberg, and Hilda had less trouble adapting to Trolberg, being eager to go explore the city while Johanna was reluctant to let her explore the city on her own. She is also less fequently seen with her friends David and Frida than in the animated series. In the graphic novels, Hilda is more prone to getting lost, whether she is in the wilderness or Trolberg. In "Hilda and the Bird Parade", she admitted to her mom she actually liked being lost.

In "Hilda and the Stone Forest", Hilda frequently goes on adventures without her mothers knowing, and uses various excuses to cover them up. She is finally caught by Johanna after secretly taking Frida for a flight with the Great Raven, and grounded for the first time in her life. When she was still grounded on the night of the Bird Parade, she tried to blackmail Tontu into letting her into Nowhere Space, but Johanna caught her in the act. In the struggle that followed mother and daughter were send to the Stone Forest. Here, they had to work together to escape the various trolls and other dangers, but got unexpected help from a female troll and her child Baba. With their help, and that of the Great Raven, they were able to escape and return to Trolberg, where Hilda decided she had enough adventures for now.

The troll however had seen how Johanna cared for Hilda, and used a changeling spell to make her daughter and Hilda swap places. Hilda thus became a troll, living in the stone forest. While she enjoyed her new freedom and the powers that came with being a troll, she longed back for her old life. A troll named Trundle promised to help her if she would find a way to release him from the cave he had been trapped in, and to retrieve a red orb for him from the ruins of the castle of the Mountain King. Hilda did as asked. When both Hilda and the now human Baba were reunited with their real mothers, the spell was lifted and they became their old selves again. Only now did Hilda find out Trundle had tricked her; he was the mountain king, and now that he was free and had his eye (the red orb) back, he planned to attack Trolberg and wake up Amma, the mother of all Trolls. Trundle was killed in a confrontation with the Trolberg Safety Patrol, and Hilda was able to convince them not to harm the other trolls since that would wake up Amma. After the adventure, Hilda and the trolls remained in contact, with Baba sometimes visiting Hilda's house, and Hilda sometimes going out into the wilderness with Baba and her mom.

Hilda: (British Accent) Wow! Team Loud Phoenix Storm!

Me: You must be Hilda. It's a pleasure to meet you.

Hilda: It's an honor to meet you guys!

Me: Same here.

Frida: (British Accent) It's a real honor to meet you all J.D.

Me: Same here Frida.

David: (British Accent) We heard so much about all your adventures and they are some of the most amazing we've ever seen.

Edwayl: We don't like to brag lad. But they are some of the most amazing we've ever seen.

Laney: We've been to so many planets and more.

Lana: We sure have.

Johanna: (British Accent) I saw most of them all over the news and all that.

Hilda: I heard you all faced a ruthless monster named Thanos.

Me: That was one of our most devastating battles.

Laney: Yeah but we lost two good friends of ours. Ra's Al Ghul and Bowser.

Johanna: Oh my. I'm so sorry guys.

Bowser Jr.: It's all right. Papa would want me to keep fighting for what is right.

Lola: Yeah.

Johanna: I'm glad.

David: We also heard you all have to go and face a parallel universe version of yourselves.

Me: Yeah. That's a big war we have coming up and it's not gonna be pretty.

Laney: They are pure evil and we may have no other choice but to kill them.

Lucy Loud: Yeah. It's gonna be a rough battle. So we have to be ready for anything they have.

Lynn: That's right. Those lowlifes will pay for their crimes against the universe.

Lincoln: Yeah.

Hilda: I'm glad you're all here though. I need your help with something.

Me: What can we do to help you?

Hilda: The elf prime minister and his army of elves are coming to destroy the entire city of Trolberg and they won't stop till they do.

Me: You called the right people Hilda. We'll gladly help you out.

Frida: Count us in too.

David: Yeah!

Johanna: I'll gladly help out too.

Me: Awesome. Lets get those elves. Hilda can you lead us to where they are?

Hilda: Sure thing.

Hilda got on her gear and she lead us to the elves and they were inside a small cave.

Hilda: Be careful guys. They are a dangerous and elite force that are very dangerous.

Me: Okay. We'll take our chances.

I fired an energy beam and it hit a bunch of elf houses and destroyed them in fiery explosions

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBOOOOOOOOMMMM!

Cavalry Elf: WE'RE UNDER ATTACK!

Cavalry Elf 2: It's Team Loud Phoenix Storm! They're here!

We stood ready to fight them!

Shadow the Hedgehog: You want to destroy Hilda's house? You'll have to get past us first!

Me: And that won't be easy.

Nico: You elves have failed these lands.

Prime Minister Elf: Prepare for battle!

We saw hundreds of thousands of cavalry elves ready for action.

Me: Bring it.

The Masters of Evil came. Dark Spicer, Dark Laser and Myotismon appeared.

Me: Dark Spicer, Myotismon and Dark Laser.

Dark Laser: Fancy seeing all of you here.

Dark Spicer: (to Hilda) Here's your warning: Your ass is about to be kicked!

Hilda: Not if I kick yours first!

Frida: So you guys are part of the Masters of Evil.

Myotismon: That's right.

Nico: They are our frenemies and they give us an awesome challenge.

Laney: They sure do.

?: I have a challenge I can give too.

A figure came out and it was BOB BANTER!

---

At some point, Bob was defeated by the brainwashed Chazz Princeton and became one of many Obelisk Blue students to be drafted into Sartorius' Society of Light.

Bob left a message in a chat room seeking romantic advice for when confronting someone out of your league. The message was found by Syrus Truesdale who showed Bob's request to Jaden. Jaden mistakenly interpreted it as someone seeking Dueling advice, responding that all he must do is have confidence in himself. In truth, Bob held strong feelings for Alexis Rhodes and had been saddened by the fact that she considered him uninteresting. (In the Japanese version, she often forgot his name, calling him various other wrong names such as "Akihabara-kun" and "Ueno-kun", both of which are districts in Tokyo.)

Nonetheless, after seeing Jaden's advice, Bob sought out Alexis to express his love and bumps into Jaden, Syrus and Tyranno Hassleberry on the way. When Alexis appears she forces Jaden and Bob into a Duel. Despite Bob's genuinely harmless personality, their duel carried the same stakes as Jaden's other Duels with a Society of Light member; that if Jaden loses, he must join the cult.

Because his Deck quizzes the opponent, Chazz thought Bob had found Jaden's weakness- forcing Jaden into having to use his mind when he normally relied on instincts. However, after many rounds of difficult questions and tasks, Jaden managed to win, to the disappointment of Alexis and Chazz. During the Duel, Bob eventually realized that Jaden was the one who replied to his message. Because Alexis still regards him as being a nobody, he begged for more advice from Jaden, who fled from him claiming to be a Dueling expert, not a romance expert. (In the Japanese version he called Jaden "Aniki!" meaning "big brother," the same affectionate honorific Syrus and Hassleberry also used for Jaden).

---

Jaden: Bob Banter!

Me: I remember seeing you when we took down Sartorius the first time.

Bob Banter: It's good to see you again J.D.

Me: Same to you Bob. You look much better in White than in Blue.

Bob Banter: Thanks.

Alexis: I thought it would be the last time.

Laney: Do you know him Alexis?

Alexis: I sure do. He has a huge crush on me and he wanted to ask me out on dates more than anyone.

Me: Wow. Sorry to disappoint you Bob but Jaden and Alexis are now boyfriend and girlfriend.

Bob Banter: I know. And I couldn't be happier. But I was sent to challenge you all.

Me: I see.

?: I was sent to destroy you all!

A figure came out and it was PETASOS!

Shanan: Petasos!

Petasos: Nice to see you again Shanan. For the last time.

Shanan: You Edenians sure are persistent when you fight.

Qin: What are Edenians?

Shanan: Edenian's are Nature Elementals that are from the jungle planet Eden Prime. It lives 36,500 light-years away from Earth. The planets atmosphere is poisonous to human life. Edenian's are completely one with nature and they can control all the plants and the animals around them.

Qin: Wow!

Hilda: That is amazing!

Shanan: And it's not just for show. They use these powers to kill.

Petasos: I wonder how I'm gonna kill all of you.

Star Man: Well, you probably can't kill us with your animal control ability. There's hardly any around here.

Me: Yeah.

Bob Banter; (Eddy aims his blaster at him) You know how my deck works. You want to attack me? Then you have to answer a trivia question!

Eddy: Alright. What do I have to answer?

Bob Banter: If there was a train coming from Quahog and another train coming from Springfield, at what point will they intersect?

Me: That's a brain twister question.

Eddy: Yeah but I know the answer. There are no trains in either Springfield, Oregon or Quahog, Rhode Island because both cities are completely destroyed.

DING DING DING!

Bob Banter: Really? I didn't know they were both destroyed?

Me: It's true. Both cities were completely destroyed over the course of a year and a half to two years ago. We blew up Springfield with a 250 megaton Nuke and blew up Quahog with a M.O.A.B. bomb. They are now nothing more than craters in the ground.

Bob Banter: I see.

Dark Spicer: I have two new aliens for you to see.

He then turned into a mutant version of Crashhopper and he had purple skin and spines were coming out of his back and he had wings that looked like those of a cicada and he had ugly antennae and he had spines on his huge legs.

Jumpsmash: Meet Jumpsmash!

Shanan: A mutant Orthopterran. Good choice.

Wood Man: We haven't seen a new alien of yours in a while.

Jumpsmash: I know. But I haven't gotten rusty!

Jumpsmash's thick legs got bent as he jumped forward before he tackled into Wood Man, sending him flying back.

We grabbed him.

Me: Wow! That one packs a punch!

Dark Spicer: I know. Watch this one.

He then turned into another alien. It was a mutant version of Arctiguana and it had red skin and had icicles on its back and it also had endothermic fire on his hands and feet.

Freezemodo: I call this one… Freezemodo!

Shanan: A Mutant Polar Manzardill. Interesting.

Killer Frost: This might be one of the only two ice aliens that you have.

Freezemodo: Three if you count Cold Death's Ultimate form. And I haven't even shown that to you guys yet.

Freezemodo fired a long-range freeze ray from his mouth at Killer Frost.

Lola fired a massive wave of fire and it slammed into the blast and turned it into steam.

Emma: Here's a question for you. Which Legendary Mode are we gonna use this time?

Bob Banter: How should I know?

Gia: Here's the answer!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Mighty Morphin!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Mighty Morphin Rangers!

Myotismon: I have just the planet for us to fight on.

He snapped his fingers and we saw that were in a huge and vast forest planet and we saw that there were three suns in the sky. We were on the jungle planet FLORS VERDANCE!

---

Flors Verdance is the home planet of the Florauna.

Flors Verdance is a lush green world of grass, trees, and other living plants.

Due to the three suns that orbit this planet, Flors Verdance's weather cycle changes rapidly and life spans cycle seasonally.

---

Me: Wow! Look at this planet.

Nico: Wow! It's a jungle planet.

Myotismon: This is the home planet of Wildvine, Flors Verdance.

Me: WHOA! So this is Flors Verdance.

Laney: It's an amazing jungle planet.

Ben: I've always wondered what the homeworld of Wildvine was like.

Me: It's awesome and the trees here are huge!

Lola: I didn't know the forests on this planet go on like this.

Shanan: It's magnificent though. We're 2,634 light-years away from Earth and it's breathtaking.

Sam Manson: This is amazing that Wildvine's world can be covered in plants like this.

Me: Yeah and it's in a Triary Star System.

Lisa Loud: A most magnificent piece of astrological wonder.

Misty Tredwell and Toby appeared.

Misty Tredwell: We'll help you guys out.

Toby: Lets do it!

We powered up and went at them.

---

Battle 1: Myotismon

---

Nico, Vegeta and Shadow the Hedgehog were facing Myotismon.

Nico: This is gonna be different now Myotismon.

Myotismon: I wouldn't have it any other way.

Vegeta: Lets get him Bokrua!

Shadow the Hedgehog: Yeah!

Myotismon: Why did he call you Bokrua?

Nico: That's my birth name on the planet Vegeta. My Earth name is Nico. Vegeta calls me Bokrua.

Myotismon: I see. Interesting name.

Myotismon called out his Lunala, Woobat, Zubat and Golbat and they powered up and went at him.

Nico: Take this one! FINAL SHINE ATTACK!

Vegeta: FINAL FLASH!

Shadow the Hedgehog: CHAOS SPEAR!

Nico fired a massive blast of green energy and Vegeta fired a wave of yellow energy and Shadow fired a blast of orange energy.

Myotismon: (ECHOING) CRIMSON LIGHTNING!

Myotismon fired a wave of red lightning and his Lunala fired a wave of moonlight energy, his Golbat, Zubat and Woobat fired waves of Hyper Beam energy and the blasts combined and slammed into each other and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

When the smoke cleared, some of the forest was turned into a flaming searing crater. Myotismon was still standing.

Nico: Very impressive.

Myotismon: Just like old times huh.

Nico: Lets see if your bat familiars can withstand this.

He formed a powerful pitch black ball of energy and it was surging with red lightning.

Nico: ELECTRO ECLIPSE BOMB!

Nico fired a ball of powerful black energy.

Vegeta: Try this one. BIG BANG ATTACK!

Vegeta fired a powerful ball of white energy.

Shadow the Hedgehog: CHAOS CONTROL!

He fired a massive ball of chaos energy.

Myotismon: (Echoing) GRISLY WING!

He fired a massive wave of his bat familiars and his pokemon fired massive energy blasts. The blasts combined and slammed into each other and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The explosion was so powerful and so devastating that the massive mushroom cloud from the explosion could be seen for hundreds of miles. When the smoke cleared, Myotismon was knocked out and so were his Pokemon.

Nico: Wow! That was intense.

Vegeta: It sure was Bokrua.

Shadow the Hedgehog: I haven't gone all out like that in a long time.

Nico: No kidding.

---

Battle 2: Dark Spicer

---

Eddy, Star Man and Flash Man were facing Dark Spicer.

Dark Spicer: I heard about what happened with Nico and that Frost guy.

Eddy: Yeah that bearded jerk nearly ruined him.

Dark Spicer: Almost like how Rotwood did it.

Star Man: Yeah but we were on to him.

Flash Man: Yep.

Dark Spicer: It's good you guys stopped him.

Eddy: Anko is interrogating him right now as we speak.

Dark Spicer: I see. What is the goal of the Society of Light?

Star Man: To destroy the entire universe.

Star Man went over the agenda of the Society of Light and it was not pretty.

---

The Society of Light (光の結社, Hikari no Kessha) was a cult in Yu-Gi-Oh! GX, led by Sartorius, who was influenced by the Light of Destruction (破滅の光, Hametsu no Hikari). They serve as the central antagonists of the series' second arc, intent on the planet's destruction.

On the surface, the agenda of Sartorius and his organization appears to be world domination starting with Duel Academy by expanding their syndicate, but Sartorius evidently wishes to put his stalled fate back into motion through the powers of Jaden and Aster. His ultimate goal is to put an end to the "age of darkness" by destroying the planet to restore balance to its imperfect state, and create the world, or on a greater scale, the universe anew. Members are brainwashed into the Society's fold by losing to Sartorius or one of his representatives in a Duel, using Sartorius' own mystical powers of fate-prediction and his talent for pushing an opponent's buttons to make them lose faith in their own lives and convince them that joining the Society is a much more preferable alternative.

Duelists reined into the Society in this manner are usually very devoted to its goals and have a deep obsession with the color white because of the fact that they were brainwashed upon their defeat. Essentially, the truth of their obedience is clouded behind the Society, Sartorius, and the lies they are told; they often reject outright or even forget parts of their pre-Society past the more they're in it and ex-members often can't remember anything that they did in the Society beyond the Duel that forced them into it after they're broken free. Only those with incredibly strong wills or those under the influence of outside forces can escape the Society's hold and at its basic level Sartorius' mind control is not necessarily absolute; with some Duelists, aspects of their old personalities can shine through on occasion although this can be rectified should Sartorius exercise more strength in using his powers. The signature card used by the highest ranking members is "White Veil", which represents their belief in the "light of truth." Upon joining, most members become openly obnoxious and arrogant, convinced that their force is unstoppable and that Society members are more important.

Shortly after the second year begins, Chazz is defeated by Sartorius and coerced into joining the organization. From then on, he serves as means of converting the top Obelisk Blue students and by episode 70 most of have been defeated and have "seen the light." In protest, Alexis Duels with Chazz only to become a member herself upon her loss.

During the field trip to Domino City Sartorius confronts Seto Kaiba and requests the use of KaibaLand. Once his request is granted, Jaden and Aster are lured into the virtual world by his sister, Sarina. Upon learning of their victory, Sartorius suddenly becomes more interested in leading them towards their respective dooms. As his sister alludes (states explicitly in the Japanese version), the universe's threat lies in the Wheel of Fate (Wheel of Fortune), a metaphor for both Sartorius' destiny and the weapon of mass destruction he would later obtain.

In episode 82, Chazz begins recruiting top students of Ra Yellow for the Society of Light which leads Bastion to challenge Sartorius to a Duel. Sartorius sends Chazz in place of himself and Bastion allows himself to be defeated in order to become a member of the organization. Two episodes later, under Sartorius' request, Chancellor Sheppard invites Prince Ojin of the Misgarth kingdom to participate in the Genex Tournament. Sartorius thus acquires the control switch for the most dangerous mind-control satellite known to the world (S.O.R.A. in the Japanese version; ソーラ, Sōra), along with the two keys for its activation by defeating him in a Duel. To prevent his evil side from instigating world destruction, Sartorius approaches Jaden and Aster and gives them the keys. In response, his evil personality assigns more Dueling assassins to win the keys back but is unsuccessful.

In episode 97, Pegasus reveals the origins of the Society of Light. In the dark recesses of space, several hundreds of millions of years ago, a white hole released the dark matter of a black hole as well as a great energy known as the Surge of Light (光の波動, Hikari no Hadō), which bombarded the Earth throughout the course of history, propagating wars, disasters, crimes, and dictatorships. The "Ultimate D-Card" created by Aster's father was corrupted by such energy and caused both Sartorius and Pro League king, The D, to develop split personalities. Because of its infectious properties that rival the powers of the Egyptian God Cards and Sacred Beast Cards, as well as his concern that Aster will be harmed should it ever arrive in his hands, Pegasus wishes to seal the card away before it brings an end to the world.

In episode 100 Aster breaks into Obelisk Blue looking for Sartorius and finds him waiting in the Society of Light's private Duel field, the Great White Temple (ホワイト大神殿, Howaito Dai Shinden). Intending to keep his promise of saving Sartorius from his destiny of becoming a destroyer, Aster considers relinquishing his key to Misgarth's satellite but is persuaded by Jaden to do otherwise. Recognizing the present Sartorius as an impostor posing as his dearest friend, he wagers the key in a Duel but despite help from Sartorius Good personality The Light of Destruction unleashes "Arcana Force EX - The Light Ruler" to end the Duel.

Following Aster's defeat Jaden takes his place to determine the fate of the world by Dueling Sartorius. While the battle is taking place, Chazz successfully reverts all of the Society of Light's members back to their former selves with the assistance of a group of Obelisk Blue students thereby releasing Duel Academy from the Society's grip. Having obtained both keys due to a blunder on Jaden's part, Sartorius takes complete control of Ojin and orders him to the fire the mind-control satellite. Although it does cause some damage to the planet's surface, Sarina hacks into the satellite's programming to disable it allowing both "Elemental Hero Neos" and Tyranno Hassleberry to destroy the satellite. Shortly afterward, Jaden defeats Sartorius and the portion of The Light of Destruction possessing Sartorius is sealed away forever.

Dark Spicer was horrified!

Dark Spicer: This is bad! We have to stop Sartorius at all costs.

Star Man: It's not gonna be easy though. Sartorius is a dangerous force that must be destroyed at all costs or we have no future.

Dark Spicer: We'll help put a stop on his plans somehow. Whatever it is.

Eddy: Good. We need to stop Sartorius if we're ever going to save the entire universe from total destruction.

Dark Spicer: I know.

Eddy: Lets dance.

Dark Spicer called out his Houndoom and they went at him and punched and kicked and blasted him all over the place and more with incredible fury and power and knocked him down and out.

Eddy: Nice.

---

Battle 3: Dark Laser

---

Sabrina Mason, Kitten, Jinx and Rey were facing Dark Laser.

Rey: (British Accent) I have some new powers for you Dark Laser.

Dark Laser: Can't wait to see them.

Rey ignited her new yellow bladed lightsaber.

Sabrina Mason: Is that a new Lightsaber Rey?

Rey: It sure is. I constructed it to carry on my own legacy of the Jedi.

Kitten: It sure looks cool. A yellow bladed lightsaber is perfect for you.

Jinx: Definitely.

Rey: Thank you.

Sabrina Mason: You're welcome. Kitten, Jinx.

She gave them new lightsabers. Kitten's was pink and Jinx's was purple.

Jinx: Our own lightsabers. Awesome!

Sabrina Mason: I made them for you.

Kitten: Cool!

Jinx: Lets get him.

(DUEL OF THE FATES THEME PLAYS)

Dark Laser called out his Pokemon. He had a Lunala and a Mega Darkrai. They went at him and clashed powerfully with incredible power. Sparks were flying all over the place and setting much of the area on fire. Sabrina fired blasts of Force Lightning and electrocuted Mega Darkrai all over and Jinx fired blasts of energy and they hit Lunala and knocked it down and Sabrina fired force blasts at Dark Laser and Kitten smashed him with a powerful force blast and Rey slashed him all over and cut him all over and fired Force Lightning and electrocuted him all over and knocked him out.

Sabrina: Jedi win.

Battle 4: Bob Banter

The battle or should I say game show with Bob Bantor is on. Misty, Toby, Alexis and Lori were facing him and I was watching.

Alexis: Ok, Bob. Since you have a crush on me, why don't you answer one of my own questions?

Bob: Sounds good to me!

Alexis: What was the most deadliest Duel Monster we've ever faced?

Bob thought hard but he couldn't think of anything.

Alexis: Time's up.

Me: The deadliest monster we have ever faced was the Great Leviathan.

Bob: That giant dragon we saw when you guys were facing Dartz?

Me: That's the very one. He was gonna annihilate the entire human race and wipe out mankind. A true Harbinger of Armageddon.

Bob: Whoa! That was intense. I remember watching that with everyone. That was an unbelievable fireworks show.

Me: It was.

Bob Bantor: Toby for your challenge you have to hold your breath for 1 minute.

Me: Whoa! 1 Minute!?

Toby: No problem.

Me: I can't even hold my breath for even 30 seconds let alone 1 minute without my face turning blue.

Misty Tredwell: Me neither.

Toby took in a deep breath and the clock counted.

---

French Narrator: (French Accent) Sixty Seconds Later

---

Toby released his breath and panted hard.

Me: Wow! That's impressive.

Misty Tredwell: He sure did it.

Alexis: Very good.

Bob Banter: I'm amazed he could do that. Here's another question, Lori. What are the names of all the HERO type monsters in Jaden Yuki's deck?

Lori: I don't think I can tell you all their names in 10 seconds.

Bob Banter: I'm making the time limit 5 minutes.

Me: That's manageable. Go for it Lori.

Lori: Okay here goes. Lets see. He has Elemental Hero Avian, Elemental Hero Burstinatrix, Elemental Hero Clayman, Elemental Hero Sparkman, Elemental Hero Bladedge, Elemental Hero Bubbleman, Elemental Hero Necroshade, Elemental Hero Wildheart, Elemental Hero Electrum, Elemental Hero Flame Wingman, Elemental Hero Mariner, Elemental Hero Mudballman, Elemental Hero Neo Bubbleman, Elemental Hero Rampart Blaster, Elemental Hero Shining Flare Wingman, Elemental Hero Steam Healer, Elemental Hero Tempest, Elemental Hero Thunder Giant, Elemental Hero Wildedge, and then he got his Neo Spacian cards which gave him Elemental Hero Neos, Elemental Hero Aqua Neos, Elemental Hero Dark Neos, Elemental Hero Flare Neos, Elemental Hero Glow Neos, Elemental Hero Grand Neos, Elemental Hero Prisma, Rainbow Neos, Elemental Hero Darkbright, Elemental Hero Magma Neos, Elemental Hero Marine Neos, Elemental Hero Plasma Vice, Elemental Hero Steam Healer, Elemental Hero Storm Neos, Evil Hero Infernal Gainer, Evil Hero Infernal Prodigy, Evil Hero Malicious Edge, Evil Hero Dark Gaia, Evil Hero Infernal Sniper, Evil Hero Inferno Wing, Evil Hero Lightning Golem, Evil Hero Malicious Fiend and that's all I can remember.

Bob Banter: Wow! That's really good memory!

Me: There's 274 HERO cards and the number is still growing.

Bob Banter: Wow! That's incredible!

Me: It's the largest archetype in all of the Duel Monsters Universe. Really loaded.

Alexis: I didn't know there were that many HERO cards in Jaden's deck.

Toby: Amazing!

Misty Tredwell: It's my turn to ask a question. What's Green Lantern's real name?

He was stumped.

BUZZZ!

Me: Times up. There are lots of Green Lanterns and they are on the planet Oa. There are lots of Green Lanterns from all over the galaxy that are stationed on the planet Oa.

Bob Banter: Wow! That's incredible.

Me: When you have been to many places all over the universe you tend to know how much there is all over the cosmos.

Misty Tredwell: He's right.

Bob: I don't understand. You guys are always reckless in battle. You shouldn't be able to answer my trivia questions correctly!

Me: Because we have to also use our brain power to win at battles sometimes. But also you give awesome quizzes and they were really fun.

Alexis: He's right.

Bob Banter: Thanks.

Me: Now we have to face the Cavalry elves.

---

Battle 5: Petasos

---

Shanan was facing Petasos.

Shanan: You don't love life at all.

Shanan fired a wave of fire and incinerated Petasos in an instant.

---

Battle 6: Cavalry Elves

---

We regrouped and we faced Cavalry Elves.

Me: You Elves will never get to Trolberg as long as we're present!

Elf: Then we'll kill you first!

Me: Bring it!

We went at the elves and I punched them in their faces and I fired waves of fire and burned them all over and Misty fired waves of green fire and incinerated them all over and Lana fired waves of ice and froze them. Takinom, Kopond, and Titanix blasted and smashed the Elves all over the place with incredible force and fire and smashed and burned them all over the place. We were blasting them all over with fire and energy and lightning and electrocuting them all over the place.

Me: Lets see how you elf douchebags like this! NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: VOMITFLOOD OF PAZUZU!

I vomited a massive wave of green disgusting vomit and it smelled like a million dead corpses from Hell and it splattered all over the elves and dissolved them.

Laney: OH YUCK!

Luna: METAL STYLE NINJA ART: SLIGS!

Luna fired a wave of metal and it formed into the Sligs from Oddworld.

---

Sligs are a sentient species found on Oddworld, serving as security and personal assistants to the Magog Cartel. Even though Sligs generally enjoy what they do, they are essentially still slaves to the Magog Cartel. The Slig queen provides the cartel with her young and any Sligs that do not perform to acceptable standards are sent to face her wrath.

---

Will: LIGHTNING STYLE NINJA ART: LIGHTNING OF JUPITER!

Will fired a massive wave of powerful lightning and it was over 500 billion volts of electricity.

Hay Lin: WIND STYLE NINJA ART: AMERICAN CIVIL WAR!

Hay Lin fired a wave of wind and it formed into the armies of the famous battles of the Civil War.

Lucy: NIGHTMARE STYLE NINJA ART: HAN SOLO TORTURE!

Lucy fired a wave of darkness and it hit the elves and the darkness was torturing them like Han Solo was tortured in Star Wars V in 1980.

The blasts all slammed into the elves and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Time for some teamwork!

Windcharger: Right boss!

Patrick Star: This looks like a job for Starfish Man!

Patrick turned into his Starfish Man costume from SpongeBob Squarepants and the Creature from the Krusty Krab.

Lily: Nice costume Patrick.

Patrick: Thanks Lily.

Windcharger used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Patrick used the Animatron Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Windcharger's magnet powers and Patrick Man's belch and dirt powers 100-fold.

Thunderblast used the Earth Cyber Planet Key and Shadow Man used the Gigantion Cyber Planet Key. They enhanced Shadow Man's dark powers 100-fold and turned Thunderblast's rocket launcher into a bigger rocket launcher.

Frida: Yeah!

Hilda, Johanna, Frida, David and Luna: LEGENDARY SPIRIT MEGABLAST!

They fired waves of energy and they formed into legendary creatures and they slammed into the elves and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The elves were totally obliterated and dead. We were then back on Earth.

Nico: That's it for those bad elves.

Bob: Well, I guess I should be taking my leave. But before I do, I have on last question to ask you guys.

Johanna: What's that?

Bob: (serious for once) Do you guys really think you'll be able to take the Royal Defenders down without killing them?

Me: Yes we will! We're going to kill the rest of them and throw their Luna and Lincoln in jail forever.

Bob: That's what I like to hear!

He left.

The Masters of Evil came.

Myotismon: You know, Bob's last question is actually a trick one.

Maria: Well, we're deciding on what to with the Royal Defenders once we defeat them.

Dark Laser: Well, I think maybe we should make the war earlier then August 29.

Kitten: That's actually a good idea.

Dark Spicer: Either way, we'll back you guys up all the way when that day comes.

Flash Man: Thanks guys.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: This was an epic battle.

Laney: It sure was.

Hilda: It was so awesome helping you all.

Luna: Glad you had fun dudette.

Hilda: (To the viewers) Learning about legends is fun but be careful with who you run into out there.

Laney: You said it.

We had Hilda, David and Frida join us and so did Johanna and they now live at the estate.

THE END

---

Another awesome chapter done.

This was the 3rd idea given to me by Etstheclarencefan and it was awesome! There are new episodes of Kipo, Glitch Techs and Hilda coming soon and they are all still fairly brand new. When new episodes come out we'll have new chapters later on in the future. Hilda was an awesome show based on a book and it was awesome. NicoChan11, JediAvatarOfShinobi and Etstheclarencefan gave me the ideas for this. Thanks guys and thanks Etstheclarencefan for giving me the ideas for your three chapters. Later on this September is Etstheclarencefan's fourth idea Amphibia and that one is gonna be interesting. Next up is where we take on that giant turnip and the farmer from Codename Kids Next Door's Operation: T.U.R.N.I.P. I hope you all like turnips because we're going after one ginormous turnip and we're gonna make it into a giant bowl of soup.

See you all tomorrow.

TURNIP MAYHEM

At the Neptune Prison for Traitors we were there to have Jycella talk to her evil twin sister. Vypra was with us.

Jycella: So my evil good-for-nothing sister is here.

Me: Yep. We put her and Klay in here after we killed Van Bloot.

Vypra: Yep. She is one bad girl that deserves to die the most horrible way possible.

Laney: She deserves it after all the pain and suffering she caused.

Nico: She and Klay have failed this universe.

We walked up to Krystella's cell and she was now in a black prison jumpsuit and was looking at a timer counting down the number of days she has left. She had a little over 22 months left.

Krystella: Well, if it isn't my goody two shoes sister.

Jycella: You're not my sister. That girl that I knew died a long time ago.

Blizzard Man: You stopped being Jycella's sister the minute you allied with Van Bloot!

Me: That's right! You deserve to be locked up in here after all the pain you and Klay both caused with Van Bloot.

Laney: Yeah! Also what made you think that Necrafa was going to return?

Krystella: She will return. Very. Much. Alive.

Kwame: You must think it's funny making us believe that Necrafa is going to come back.

Krystella: (chuckles) Oh, who said we were joking?

We looked at her.

Krystella: Ok. So maybe, you morons could be able to take Necrafa down. But Vitog is gonna return eventually!

Demolishor: (to Tangath Toborn) Isn't he the reason you went back to the Spiritlands?

Tangath Toborn: That's right.

Me: And I resurrected you.

Armada Hoist: We have a little present from Sarah to you, Krystella! After all, what goes around must come around to bite you in the ass!

Sarah and Tom threw a huge bucket full of pigs blood all over Krystella and it splattered her all over from head to toe in pigs blood. YUCK!

Carrie White: (LAUGHS) That is too funny!

Sarah Gunnerson: That's for splashing me all over with Pigs blood you bitch!

We laughed at her and humiliated her all over.

Laney: (Laughs)

TOTAL HUMILIATION!

We later left the prison.

---

Back on Earth at the estate, we were later in the training yards and we were facing training dummies that move while testing out some of our new powers and they looked like the Adult Villains that Yuko and Lola all killed.

I fired a blast of energy at a dummy that looked like the Delightful Children From Down The Lane and it hit it and exploded in a powerful flaming explosion and Laney and Lola fired blasts of fire at the dummies that looked like the Common Cool and the Toiletnator and blew them apart in fiery explosions and Lincoln fired blasts of lightning at the training dummies of Father and the P.T.O.O.E.Y. Squad and Mr. Fibb and Mr. Wink and they exploded into fiery explosions. Varie and me fired energy blasts and lightning waves at a bunch of dummies and destroyed them. The Kids Next Door were also blasted them all over with their powers and weapons and blowing them apart in massive fiery explosions and they were gone.

When the training dummies were destroyed we were seeing them burn.

Me: Wow. That was awesome.

Numbuh 1: It sure was.

Me: Looks like our powers and weapons have gotten stronger.

Numbuh 2: Yeah!

We went back into the estate for lunch. We went and got some food for us.

Jared: (Humming)

Jared went to get some water from the sink faucet and then out of the faucet came some turnips.

Jared: Jackpot in turnips!

He got a bowl and put them in it and began eating them.

Numbuh 5 went and got some water and she saw the tank filling up with turnips.

Numbuh 5: Ooh. Numbuh 5 hates turnips.

Laney: I don't like turnips either.

Lori and Leni were eating some of them.

Lori: I don't mind them.

Leni: They are totes good for you.

Lisa Loud: Perhaps there is some burgers in the…

She opened the fridge and a massive flood of turnips came exploding out.

Me: WHOA!

We saw a huge avalanche of turnips take them to the window.

Me: Are you guys all right?

Lisa Loud: I think so.

Numbuh 5: Well that explains where the turnips are coming from.

We saw a massive giant root pipe and it had a bunch of smaller roots pumping turnips into our food supplies and into other houses.

Nico: Whoa! That's a lot of turnips!

Jared: My favorite vegetable!

Lola: That Turnip Farmer is causing trouble again!

Then the alarm sounded.

Me: Uh oh.

We went to the computer and on a hologram was Numbuh 1.

Numbuh 1: J.D. we need you guys in Sector V's briefing room immediately!

Me: We're on our way Nigel!

We went to Sector V's briefing room and Numbuh 1 came out.

Numbuh 1: I suppose you know what's going on.

Lola: That turnip farmer is back!

Yuko: That's right.

Me: You guys dealt with this problem before?

Lola: We sure have J.D. When we were Team Adult Genocide we took down this turnip farmer and stopping him from poisoning kids with Turnips.

Lola told us what the Turnip Farmer was and what his giant turnip was like.

---

Turnip Farmer

The farmer started growing an enormous, oversized turnip on his farm in order to win at the next county fair. The turnip grew sentient and started burrowing its roots throughout the nearby town and into the Sector V Treehouse. When Sector V encountered the farmer, Numbuh 3 confused him for her grandfather. He went on ignoring the kids and their big battle with the turnip, only caring about watering it to grow larger. But when Numbuh 1 kicked the giant turnip into the sea, the farmer jumped right after it and later watched it attack a passing cruise ship (Operation: T.U.R.N.I.P.).

Giant Turnip

It was grown by an elderly man, in an attempt to win a ribbon at the county fair. Numbuh 3 refered to him as her Grandfather although Numbuh 1 assured her he isn't her grandfather.

Sector V first encounters the Giant Turnip when turnips start appearing throughout the treehouse. They then attempted to fly down the Turnip's roots using the P.I.P.E.P.O.D.. The Turnip traps most of Sector V and they attempt to summon H.I.P.P.I.E.-H.O.P. for help, however that too is destroyed by the giant turnip. The turnip is eventually defeated but not through the use of 2x4 technology but by the power of Numbuh 1's legs as he kicks the turnip, breaking a critical root which leads to the turnip falling over and into rolling into the ocean much to the dismay of "Grandpa" (Operation: T.U.R.N.I.P.).

---

Me: So this Turnip Farmer is the source.

Jared: And I have the perfect solution for this giant turnip problem.

Jared pulled out a newspaper and showed a picture.

Jared: The annual giant vegetable recipe contest. Grand Prize is $827 Duodecillion Dollars and a trip to Walt Disney World.

Nico: Whoa! That's awesome!

Numbuh 1: Indeed. Lets do it!

Ashley: Lets take down that overgrown vegetable.

Me: YEAH!

We were off to take down that giant turnip. I was riding my Rapidash and everyone else was flying. By following the roots of the turnip we were lead to a huge farm near the ocean and we saw THE GIANT TURNIP! It was a massive turnip as big as a 5 story building!

Nico: WHOA! That turnip is huge!

Laney: That has to be the biggest turnip in the world.

Lincoln: It's massive!

Numbuh 5: It's just as big as what we remember.

Lola: No kidding.

Lizzie: How are we gonna stop it?

Numbuh 3: Look! It's grandpa!

We saw the turnip farmer!

We went over to him.

Me: So you are the one responsible for this huge turnip.

Farmer: Purty ain't she?

Jared: You made a really awesome turnip. (Eating Turnips)

Farmer: Somebody sure likes my turnips.

Jared: (Eating) I'm a vegetarian. I eat only plants.

Raythor: (to turnip farmer) Hey! Move your giant turnip out of here!

Nico: Yeah!

Farmer: Try and make me.

Then we felt the ground shake.

Lola: Uh oh. Look!

We saw the roots come alive and they turned into tentacles as the giant turnip roared ferociously!

RRRRRRROOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Oh Shit on me sideways.

Sarah Gunnerson: Not good!

The Masters of Evil then appeared. In flashes of Red, Orange, Blue and Purple light came Roman and Rex Goodwin, Kalin and Carly.

Carly Carmine: Hey guys.

Roman Goodwin: This is a huge turnip.

Me: It sure is. We haven't faced you guys in a while.

Kalin: I know.

Carly Carmine: I know. It's not my turn. I came to help you all take down the next member of the Society of Light.

Me: That makes sense.

Roman: So, Frost still isn't talking, huh?

Gabriel: We've tried to getting information out of him. But he still won't crack.

Me: He is one tough nut to break.

Kalin: (smirks) Why don't you let me interrogate him? I did help defeat him after all.

Me: Sure Kalin. If Anko's methods won't get through to him maybe you can.

?: (Italian American Accent) Let me help you all out.

A figure came out and it was my friend at Duel Academy, Lorenzo!

---

Lorenzo, known in Japan as Ryusei Gin「銀流星」(Gin Ryūsei) is the former world champion of a "Shooting Game" arcade game and a member of the Society of Light, who is employed by Alexis Rhodes and Chazz Princeton to Duel Jaden Yuki. Although he is defeated by Jaden, he comes to understand his opponent's definition of a fun Duel. Sartorius punishes Lorenzo for his failure, taking complete control of him and his future and leaving Lorenzo's hair stark white, which Chazz describes as being "reborn".

---

Me: Lorenzo!

Lorenzo: Bada-bing. Good to see ya again J.D.

Lori: You know him?

Me: He's one of the kids who rooted us on during the battle with Dartz and we knew each other when we celebrated Dartz's defeat. White looks really good on you though.

Lorenzo: Fuggedaboutit.

Lana: Why is he talking like that?

Me: He talks in a stereotypical Italian Mafia type accent. I found out as we were talking that he is not only a champion at an awesome arcade game, but his father works in the Italian Mafia, the most dangerous kind of Mafia in all of Europe.

Lorenzo: That's right.

Nico: We took down a lot of gangsters over the years.

Naruto: Yeah.

Lorenzo: (sees Eddy aiming his blaster at him) What the Hell are you doing?

Eddy: Showing you how ammo works in the real world. Bada bing! (fires blaster)

The blast hit him in the leg and blew his pant leg off.

Me: Nice shot.

?: That was a good shot.

A figure came out and it was OCTOPLANT from episode 41 of Mighty Morphin Power Rangers!

---

Using a plan seemingly conceived by Goldar, Rita planned to plant the Octoplant in the ground and defend it until it could fully mature, grow as big as the planet Earth, and crush it until it explodes with her tentacles. Squatt was sent to plant it and did so although only after some shenanigans with Bulk and Skull. Although the Rangers saw him and tried to stop him, he had already planted the seeds and the Putty Patrol arrived, allowing him to escape. Before hatching, her tentacles grew and attacked people throughout Angel Grove Park and eventually found Jason alone. He morphed to fight the tentacles but was lifted into the air and strangled, almost to the point of death. Luckily, he was saved by the other Rangers who cut the vine with their Blade Blasters Blade Mode. However, to prevent the Rangers from destroying the seedling, Rita sent Goldar, Scorpina and the Putties to keep them occupied. The plan worked and the plant grew into the Octoplant monster who Rita immediately made grow. Trini and her exchanged insults, Octoplant calling her a puny animal and Trini calling her an "overgrown petal pusher", before the Rangers called their Dinozords. The monster blasted the Zords but they survived it and formed the Megazord. The monster shrugged off multiple punches from the Megazord and knocked it back. The monster then wrapped up the Megazord with a giant green tentacle and blasted the formation whilst it was helpless. Although they survived it, Jason announced that their main power was shot and another blast would be the end of them before the Octoplant charged. Unfortunately for her, they called on the Power Sword which cut through the vines and the Rangers rolled away from the charging monster. The monster got distracted when she gazed at her own reflection in a glass building and the Rangers took advantage of the opportunity and powered up the Power Sword. The monster heard it being energized and turned but was too late to prevent her own death.

---

Jason Lee Scott: Octoplant!

Octoplant: Its been a long time rangers.

Me: I remember you! Rita made you to grow to as big as the planet Earth so you can crush the planet like a grape with your tentacles.

Octoplant: Good memory on you. Mistress Vypra was right about you watching all of us J.D.

Me: Never missed an episode.

Maria: (to Octoplant) You know what sucks? That you were one of the only two female monsters in the first Power Rangers season.

Me: Yeah. The second being Madame Woe.

Octoplant: Well, if the gender of most monsters were female, Power Rangers would entirely be for girls, now wouldn't it?

Me: That is true.

Nico: I honestly thought that wasn't very fair that the men monsters should fight more often than woman.

Laney: Yeah.

Octoplant: Nice to know that we agree on something.

Lana: Yeah.

Orion: Let's cut this turnip down!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Sun Flare Squad!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Sun Vulcan Rangers!

Me: I'll face Lorenzo with Carly and Lisa and then we'll regroup after our battles to take down the turnip.

Nico: Right!

Me: Lets go!

We powered up and went at them.

---

Battle 1: Roman Goodwin

---

Miranda, Raythor and Bertrand were facing Roman.

Bertrand: We haven't faced each other in a while.

Roman: I know.

Raythor: It has been a while. Usually you're helping us take down the Society of Light members and the Shadow Riders.

Roman: That is true. Lets dance. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL URU!

He summoned the Spider Earthbound Immortal Uru!

Raythor: Nice! Lets see how he likes this! I summon TRIDENT DRAGON, RED-EYES DARKNESS METAL DRAGON, GENESIS DRAGON, and BLUE-EYES ULTIMATE DRAGON!

He summoned said monsters and they were awesome dragons!

Miranda: Awesome dragons Raythor.

Raythor: Thanks Miranda. Dragons have always been my favorite creatures.

Miranda: I can see that. I summon SORCERER OF DARK MAGIC, THE STERN MYSTIC, LEGENDARY FLAME LORD, A MAN WITH WDJAT, CHAOS COMMAND MAGICIAN, BREAKER THE MAGICAL WARRIOR, NIGHT WING SORCERESS, MAGICIAN'S VALKYRIA and DIVINE GRACE - NORTHWEMKO!

She summoned said monsters and they were awesome Spellcasters.

Bertrand: Good selection. I summon LIGHT AND DARKNESS DRAGON, CURSE OF DRAGON, GANDORA THE DRAGON OF DESTRUCTION, FIVE-HEADED DRAGON, RAINBOW DRAGON and BLUE-EYES WHITE DRAGON!

He summoned said dragons and they were awesome!

Roman: Amazing selection. And I'm sorry to disappoint you but aside from Carly the rest of us don't have any Pokemon yet.

Bertrand: Quite all right. Shall we dance?

Roman: Lets.

Roman sent out his Ariados, 6 Spinarak and 2 Galvantula and they went at him and Bertrand punched Roman in the face and Raythor punched him in the stomach and Miranda turned into her spider form and smashed him all over. Roman got up and fired a wave of red fire and Bertrand fired a blast of red energy and the blasts collided and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The monsters fired energy blasts and more at Uru and the blasts hit him all over and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

They punched him and knocked him and his Pokemon down.

Bertrand: Good victory.

---

Battle 2: Kalin

---

Harley Quinn, Giganta and Morpheus were facing Kalin.

Morpheus: It has been a while.

Kalin: I know. We've been so busy making sure that the Shadow Riders and Dartz's former minions don't destroy the Earth that it's unbelievable.

Harley Quinn: And now we have the Society of Light to deal with.

Kalin: Yep.

Giganta: Lets do it!

Kalin: Yeah! With our fists.

Kalin called out his 5 Ursaring and Scolipede and Giganta grew to the size of 50 feet and Harley Quinn had her hammer ready and they went at Kalin. Kalin fired blasts of blue fire and Morpheus fired waves of blue energy and the blasts collided and exploded!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!

Out of the explosion came Harley Quinn as she bashed his face in with her hammer and Giganta smashed him with her huge fist and they knocked him and his Pokemon down.

Morpheus: Awesome victory.

Battle 3: Rex Goodwin

Brittney, Gabriel and Nathalie were facing Rex Goodwin.

Rex Goodwin: It has been a while since we fought last.

Brittney: It sure has been a while.

Gabriel: But it's nice to see you back in the game.

Nathalie: It sure is.

Rex Goodwin: Indeed. Lets do it.

Brittney flared up her black aura and Gabriel and Nathalie transformed into Undertow and Pride Bird! Rex sent out his Ho-Oh, Fearow, and Mega Ho-Oh and they went at Rex and Brittney punched him and fired a blast of purple energy and Red fired a wave of purple fire and the blasts collided and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!

Out the explosion came Nathalie and she fired feathers of energy and Gabriel lashed Rex all over with his whip and the feather hit him all over and knocked him and his Pokemon out.

Brittney: Good battle.

Battle 4: Lorenzo

Me, Carly Carmine and Lisa Loud were facing Lorenzo.

Me: This is gonna be good.

Lorenzo: You're going to love the monsters of my deck. I summon the ships of the Bacterian Empire Ships! I summon B.E.S. ASSAULT CORE, B.E.S. BIG CORE, B.E.S. BIG CORE MK I, B.E.S. BIG CORE MK II, B.E.S. BIG CORE MK III, B.E.S. BLASTER CANNON CORE, B.E.S. COVERED CORE, B.E.S. CRYSTAL CORE, and B.E.S. TETRAN!

He summoned said monsters and they were really the giant boss ships from the popular 1985 game series Gradius!

Me: WHOA! Your deck is based on the awesome boss ships from the 1985 game series Gradius.

Lorenzo: That's right. It's my favorite game series and it's the game that I was the world champion at.

Me: Wow. That game has been very popular for over 35 years and it was awesome. I used to play that game constantly back when I was younger. Even when I was away from home I would play it at awesome restaurants and arcades.

Carly Carmine: That's so cool!

Lisa Loud: Indeed it is. I must admit you do have one amazing arsenal of duel monsters.

Lorenzo: Why thank you.

Me: You have really good taste in video games Lorenzo. You and my daughter Nicole would get along great. Then I will summon the good ships like those in the game. I summon VICTORY VIPER XX03, JADE KNIGHT, FALCHIONβ, GRADIUS, and LORD BRITISH SPACE FIGHTER!

I summoned said monsters and they were awesome starships.

Lorenzo: Mama mia! You have the Gradius good ships.

Me: Yep. Can't have the bad ships fighting us alone. Also you are in for a real treat. Lets use our starships to take them on.

Carly Carmine: Now you're talking! We just built our own starships for the Masters of Evil should we really need them.

Me: This we have to see.

Carly pressed a couple of buttons on her Duel Disk and we heard what sounded like a TIE Fighter coming and we saw that she had an awesome TIE Phantom Ship! It was black and had orange lines all over it and it had the head of Aslla Piscu on the top of the triangle structure and the other two wings of the ship were Aslla Piscu's wings and it also had the tail feathers of Aslla Piscu on the back. It also said Carly Carmine's Phantom Hummingbird Cruiser.

Me: Whoa! Carly your ship is a modified TIE Phantom V38.

Carly Carmine: Yep. We went to the junk yards of the planet Jakku and found it and we got a lot of parts and old ships to use for our starships there. Figured we could use them for making our own starships for future battles.

Me: Awesome!

Lisa Loud: A most impressive piece of machinery.

Carly Carmine: Thanks.

Lorenzo: Mama mia that is amazing.

Me: And there's this.

I pressed a couple of buttons and my X-Wing Spacefighter came and Lisa pressed a couple of buttons on a remote and a BTL-S8 K-Wing Assault Starfighter came.

Lisa Loud: K-Wing Starfighter. Advanced heavy hitter machinery.

Me: Awesome. Lets do it!

We got in our ships. We were ready and we flew into the air with my Gradius ships following.

Me: Here we go girls.

Lisa Loud: Lets rain down the pain.

Me: FIRE!

We fired lasers and energy torpedoes and blasted the ships all over the place and blew their cores apart and destroyed them. We landed and the Gradius ships were now ready.

Me: YEAH!

Lorenzo: Mama mia! How could I lose?

Me: But we did get to live one of our favorite games.

Lorenzo: That is true.

But then Lorenzo felt something take over his mind and he clutched his head in agony!

Me: Lorenzo, what's wrong!?

Lorenzo: NO! SPARE ME MASTER SARTORIUS!

Me: Fight him Lorenzo! Fight him!

Lorenzo was then enveloped in an aura of white light and his hair turned white. Sartorius then started to speak to me through him.

Sartorius: (Through Lorenzo) Lorenzo is now gone.

I flared up my pitch black aura of the Darkness of Justice.

Me: You make me sick Sartorius. You're a heartless fucking bastard! Taking away your own comrades free will like he was some kind of slave!

Carly flared up an aura of orange fire.

Carly Carmine: You make me sick Sartorius!

Lisa had her aura of the Darkness of Justice!

Lisa Loud: You are nothing more than an absolute tyrant!

Me: Let Lorenzo go!

Sartorius: Never. He's mine now. I warn you J.D., sooner or later you will join us and see the light and you will be part of a great cause.

Me: Don't count on it you fuckwipe. Your future for when we face you is death. The Darkness is coming for you and you will pay for your crimes.

I fired a wave of dark energy and it hit Lorenzo and removed the Light of Destruction from him and returned him to normal. Breaking Sartorius's control over Lorenzo.

Lorenzo was free but he was dangerously weak.

I went over and picked up Lorenzo.

Me: You're gonna be all right Lorenzo.

Nico came over.

Nico: What happened?

Me: We beat Lorenzo and Sartorius tried to take away his mind forever with the Light of Destruction. I used the Darkness of Justice to remove the influence of Sartorius and the Light of Destruction. He's very weak after what happened. You take him back to the Infirmary so he can rest. He's gonna need it.

Nico: Got it.

Nico took Lorenzo and used Instant Transmission to get back to the estate and he put him in the infirmary to rest and went back to us.

Nico: Okay he's in the infirmary. Nurse Santiago and Robot Lori are gonna take care of him along with Ratchet.

Me: Good.

Carly Carmine: Sartorius needs to be stopped.

Me: And he will be stopped as long we have anything to say about it.

---

Battle 5: Octoplant

---

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Octoplant.

Nico: Lets burn this overgrown weed.

Troy Burrows: Yeah!

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers fired waves of fire and energy and they slammed into Octoplant and she exploded in a massive fireball of incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Nico: Octoplant, you have failed this universe.

Troy: Super Mega Rangers, that's a super mega win.

---

Battle 6: Giant Turnip

---

We regrouped and we were facing the Giant Turnip as it roared ferociously.

Me: Lets turn this Turnip into soup!

We went at the Turnip and fired powerful blasts of fire and energy and burned it all over and smashed it all over the place and more and we were cooking it. Illexia, Aszil, Rothar, Swassa, Lystone, and Lomma were blasting it with fire and energy and cooking it all over as it roared in pain.

Numbuh 362: The turnip's almost done!

Me: Lets use some teamwork on it!

Kwame: Lets use our powers of teamwork.

Demolishor: Lets do it!

Demolishor and Blizzard Man used the Earth Cyber Planet Keys and they enhanced Demolishor's lasers and Blizzard Man's Ice Powers 100-fold.

Armada Hoist and Kwame used the Earth Cyber Planet Keys and they enhanced Hoist's weapons, strength and lasers and Kwame's Earth Powers 100-fold.

Demolishor and Blizzard Man: SNOW LASER MEGABLAST!

Demolishor fired finger lasers and Blizzard Man fired Snowflame Ice Shuriken.

Armada Hoist and Kwame: LASER EARTH PRISMSHOT!

Kwame formed a powerful crystal and Hoist fired a laser barrage.

Sailor Moon and Devon Michaels: MOON CHEETAH LIGHT BLAST!

Sailor Mercury and Ravi Shaw: MERCURY GORILLA TSUNAMI!

Sailor Mars and Zoey Reeves: MARS JACKRABBIT INFERNO!

Sailor Jupiter and Nate Silva: JUPITER MANTIS THUNDERSTRIKE!

Sailor Venus and Steel: VENUS SCARAB HEART SHOT!

The Sailor Soldiers and the Beast Morpher Rangers fired energy and elemental power blasts.

The blasts all combined and they slammed into the turnip and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: Time for some final smash power! Lets grill this turnip!

Lynn: Leave this to me.

Lynn then used her earth powers to make a huge Waterford Crystal Pot and it was ready for serving.

Numbuh 3, Numbuh 1, Numbuh 362, Katie, Numbuh 83, Numbuh 84 and Yuko Tani: INFERNO SLICE AND DICE SOUPSTORM!

They fired a massive wave of fire blades and they sliced the turnip into a million pieces and chunks and we added broth, herbs and spices and flavors and the soup was ready! The turnip roots were destroyed when the Turnip was destroyed.

Me: It's ready!

Farmer: NO! MY TURNIP IS GONE!

Numbuh 1: Well we did say we were gonna chop your turnip into little bits and serve it to you in a huge bowl of soup.

Me: And now you are going to prison for your crimes farmer.

We arrested him and sent him to the Saturn Insane Asylum's KND Adult Villain Section. The Masters of Evil came.

Rex Goodwin: Why did you put the turnip's remains into a soup?

Numbuh 84: Simple. We're gonna use the soup in a fair that we plan to enter.

Roman: Really? Well, alright then.

Kalin: Can we have copies of the soup after this fair of yours?

Giganta: I think we can arrange that.

Me: Yep.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

We later took the soup to the fair and it won 1st place and we won the money and the trip to Walt Disney World. We saved the tickets for another time down the road. Later at the infirmary Lorenzo was waking up and he was really weak.

Me: How are you feeling Lorenzo?

Lorenzo: (Weak) What happened? Where am I?

Me: You're in our infirmary. Nico brought you here after our battle. Sartorius tried to enslave your mind and take away your free will. You are still weak after I removed Sartorius's influence from you. You'll be like this now for the next couple of days.

Lorenzo: Bada bing. My head hurts and my body is weak.

Jaden: You'll be better soon.

Me: But you have some visitors here.

The Springfield Mafia came in and they had bouquets of flowers and books with cards in them with them.

Fat Tony: It's good to see you again Lorenzo.

Lorenzo: Don Tony, Legs, Louie? It's good to see you too.

Louie: We were told everything about what happened and we were worried about you.

Legs: Yeah your father is one of our friends and we couldn't pass up seeing you to check on you.

Fat Tony: Your father is one of my best friends and I wanted to make sure you were okay. Just because I am a mob boss doesn't mean I am totally heartless.

Lorenzo: I'm touched. Gratzi.

Fat Tony: You're welcome.

I left to have them catch up.

Numbuh 362: I'm glad we've seen the last of that farmer.

Me: Yeah.

Numbuh 362: (To the viewers) Even though the Kids Next Door hate vegetables, they are still good for you and you need to have them every day. Always eat your vegetables even if they are disgusting.

Me: That's right.

We had a good rest of the day.

THE END

---

Another awesome Kids Next Door chapter done!

Operation: T.U.R.N.I.P. is one of my all time favorite episodes. I never really liked turnips that much in real life but they aren't one of my favorite vegetables either. I don't hate turnips as much as Brussels Sprouts but they are supposed to be good for you. NicoChan11 gave me the ideas for this. Thanks man. Next up is the awesome and really funny show Kick Buttowski and we're going to help Kick and recruit him and deal with his evil bully brother and an additional villain, Gordon Gibble and make that cheating arrogant punk pay. And we're going to bring Kick and Kendall Perkins together. Better watch out Brad because we're going to smash your head in and make you pay for being a bad brother.

See you all tomorrow.

Kicking Butt with Kick Buttowski

We were over in a town in Massachusetts called Mellowbrook. It was one of the states that helped start our country and it was a beautiful place.

Ice Man (Mega Man): So, this is Mellowbrook, Massachusetts?

Me: Yep. It's in one of the states that helped start our country.

Nick F.: Loaded with history.

Rachel S.D.: It sure is.

Nico: It sure is cool here.

Me: You should see what it looks like during the Fall turn. It's amazing with all the colors and all that.

Naruto: Awesome.

Laney: It's amazing.

?: Team Loud Phoenix Storm!? Wow!

We saw a little kid that was dressed like a little version of famous daredevil stunt man Evel Knievel. It was Kick Buttkowski.

Me: Wow! Are you Kick Buttkowski?

Kick: I sure am. Kick Buttkowski, suburban daredevil. It's nice to meet you guys!

Me: Same to you Kick. We heard that you are the strongest daredevil ever and like to take things to the extreme.

Kick: You know it. It's awesome that you all are good at what you all do. You are the strongest and most powerful heroes ever.

Nico: We have that kind of reputation.

Me: You also look like world famous daredevil stuntman Evel Knievel.

Kick: I sure do. He's my hero and every day I do all kinds of death-defying daredevil stunts that people think are crazy and all that.

Me: Wow. Evel Knievel was very famous because of doing all sorts of famous daredevil stunts. He did it all.

Kick: He sure did.

Nico: Yeah. His stunts were awesome. But not nearly as crazy and awesome as yours.

Kick: Thanks Nico.

He saw that we had Dark Spicer, Electro, Robo-Blaze, Robo-Roxy, Firefly, Shiv and Snake with us.

Kick: Aren't they part of the Masters of Evil?

Dark Spicer: That's right. It's not our turn today so we have a day off to spend to help out Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Kick: I see.

Me: They are our frenemies and they give us a really good challenge.

Kick: Cool.

?: Hey Dillweed!

We then saw a big boy coming and it was Kick's evil and abusive older brother, BRAD BUTTOWSKI!

---

Brad is one of Kick's most common antagonists (like Kendall Perkins but Ms. Chicarelli and Gordie Gibble are the worst). He bullies Kick, and is left in charge of him and Brianna when their parents are out. Brad has very poor hygiene, and thinks he is popular (but this is not the case). He is presumably 14 years old as he is still taking his driver's test. He mainly tries to ruin Kick's plans and stunts but on occasion either helps him (willingly or not) or just ignores him. Brad is hopeless with girls. It is shown in "There Will Be Nachos" that he has bad dance moves. Most episodes featuring Brad have him in an antagonistic role against Kick. They fight, usually pretty violently, though they're more destructive to their surroundings rather than to each other. In "Tattler's Tale" it's revealed that Brad and Kick both enjoy their fights with each other and will go to great lengths to cover it up from their parents, suggesting they are friendly fights.

In "A Very Buttowski Mother's Day", Brad is convinced that he has "second place" in his mother's heart, and so tries to ruin Kick's present's to get "first place". Brad is usually seen hanging out with his friends Horace and Pantsy. They tend to act as his lackies, performing whatever task he asks of them; why they tolerate this is unknown.

---

Kick: Oh no. Brad.

Lori: Who is he?

Kick: He's my mean jerk of a brother and he hates me.

Brad picked up Kick.

Brad: Prepare to die you little puss face!

He pulled his fist back and just as he was about to punch him, I tapped him on the shoulder and he saw me.

Me: Leave him alone you fuckwipe!

POW!

I punched Brad in the face and knocked out most of his teeth and sent him crashing into a bunch of trashcans.

Robo Blaze picked him up and pointed his sword at Brad's throat. For a minute, it looked like he was going to kill the bully.

Robo Blaze: (puts his sword away) You have a 4 minute head start to get out of here. Next time we see you, you'e going to share the fate as another bully who shared your first name.

Brad Buttowski: And the next time I see you all, I'm gonna finish what Rotwood and his goons started! (runs off)

April O Neil: You sure that was the right decision?

Robo Blaze: He's a bully with no powers. He's not worth our time.

Devon: So why do I get the feeling your decision's gonna bite us in the butt?

Me: He will suffer for it.

Kick: Let me treat you all to lunch at Food N Fix after I have you all meet my mom and dad.

Me: Sure.

We went to his house and it was a nice place.

Me: Wow. Your house is really nice Kick.

Kick: Thanks.

We met Kick's mother and father.

Mr. Buttowski: It's such an honor to meet you J.D.

Me: Pleasure to meet you too Mr. Buttowski.

Lynn Sr.: Wow! You're voice sounds so much like mine.

Mr. Buttowski: Wow! We sound exactly alike.

Me: You two sure do sound alike.

Mrs. Buttowski saw Dark Spicer and some of the masters with us.

Mrs. Buttowski: I'm not sure how I feel about 6 villains in my house.

Me: It's all right Mrs. Buttowski. They are with us because it's their day off. The Masters of Evil are our frenemies. Half friends, half enemies and they give us one awesome challenge.

Mrs. Buttowski: I see.

Laney: They are good challenges.

Kick: But we're also having problems with our crabapple next door neighbor Ms. Chicarelli and she is really bad news.

He told us what she is like.

---

Ms. Chicarelli is Kick's next door neighbor who really hates kids because as shown in Tattler's Tale, she gets all the kids in trouble. She is one of the main antagonists on the show. She loves peace, silence, brutality, and a world without kids. She has a dog called Oskar. In "Tattler's Tale", she tells Kick's mom lies about him because she hates him and wants to see him punished, but the kids make a polite look to make her look crazy.

---

Me: Whoa! She's a pathological liar and she would be someone that the Kids Next Door would despise.

Laney: She's a bad neighbor.

Lana: Yeah we should take her down next time.

Numbuh 1: This Ms. Chicarelli would be perfect for the new prison we built for evil adult villains.

Donkey Kong: I agree. Bad neighbors like her deserve prison.

Kick: Yeah. She hates me more than life itself and wants nothing more than to get me in trouble. She really hates all kids and gets them all into trouble.

Me: She is one fucked up crabapple.

Varie: No kidding. I think she needs to be locked up in a mental hospital.

Me: Lets see here.

I pulled up her brain scans and it showed that she was already at 7,652% Insanity!

Me: WHOA! She's already at 7,652% insanity.

Mr. Buttowski: I didn't know our next door neighbor had insanity problems!

Lola: We'll deal with her later.

Nico: Yeah.

Kick: How about I take you all to Food N Fix?

Me: Thanks Kick.

We went to the awesome Food N Fix and it was not just a restaurant but it was also a skateboard and bike repair shop.

Me: Wow.

Kick: Welcome to Food N Fix!

Runamuck: Nice restaurant.

Vince: And it's also a bicycle repair shop. Cool.

Bart Simpson: I would love to come here.

Later we were having a really good lunch and it was really good food and the Cheetah Chugs were delicious. Kick's best friend Gunther was with us and he was really hungry.

Me: (Gulping down drinks) Mmm. Good drinks.

Mary K.: (Gulping Down drinks) They sure are delicious. My aura is powerful because of them.

Lana: Wow.

Kick: So you guys are going into war against an evil version of yourselves from another universe?

Me: That's right. They call themselves the Royal Defenders and they are a superhero team like us gone bad.

I went over what they were and what they were doing and more and it was not pretty. They were shocked.

Kick: That is terrible!

Gunther: I can't believe that the Royal Defenders are that dangerous.

Laney: Worse than you could ever imagine.

Me: And our latest intel shows that they are heading to the planet Gemina to recruit their version of the Mysticons.

Zarya: Not good. That means we're gonna have to fight their version of the Mysticons.

Me: Yep. And now it's really personal. We moved the date for when we go into war to August 21st. Now we are really pissed.

Kick: (to Luna and Lincoln) Look, I get it. You two are doubting yourselves as heroes because of your Royal Defenders counterparts. But you know the difference between them and you guys? You two still have your humanity.

Luna: That's true.

Lincoln: Yeah and the Royal Defenders versions of us gave that up a while back.

Me: And now they will pay for it.

Lana: Big time.

Electro: (sees a nearby laptop) Guys, you might want to take a look at this.

We looked at the laptop and saw online Brad doing something very bad.

Brad: (moons me mockingly) Look at me! I'm J.D. Knudson. Blah blah blah! I like beating people up mercilessly! Blad blah blah!

Homer: (laughs) I remember when I did that to Burns!

Red Alert: Homer, you're not helping right now.

Me: GRRRRRRRRRR!

I clenched my fist so tight that I break the skin and blood pours out through the gaps of my fingers and drips onto the floor and burns through the floor.

Lori: Well, I guess we know who's really to blame for this video!

Lori, Lynn, and Lola then glared at Robo Blaze.

Robo Blaze: (sheepishly) Um… whoops?

Me: Knock it off guys! Lets go make that fuckwad pay!

We went after Brad Buttowski and we saw that he wasn't alone. He had evil rich kid and arrogant cheater GORDON GIBBLE with him!

---

Gordon "Gordie" Gertrude Gibble is a rich, spoiled kid who is a BMX legend, who has broken records and is one of the main antagonists in the show. He is another of Kick's and Brad's nemeses. He has perfect hair, expensive clothes and top of the line equipment. He is always followed by the DiPazzi Twins, who will always do whatever he says without question.

Little is known about Gordie's childhood because he has only appeared in nine episodes. But it is known that his parents love him a lot and spoil him too much.

He refers to his father as "Daddy" and they are close. As seen in "Kart to Kart", his dad lets him buy the Go-Go-Go Kart World and in "A Cousin Kyle Christmas", he buys Gordie all of the puppets in "Stringzeez for Christmas". In "Goodbye, Gully", his father had enough of him antagonizing Kick and after he destroys his own creation, he cuts Gordie off from the fortune until he is responsible and forbids him from picking on the boy.

* * *

Me: Brad! No one humiliates me and gets away with it!

Gordon: (mockingly) Careful, Brad. If we're not careful, these stupid heroes might get everyone around us Akumatized like they did in Paris!

Gabriel: There's just one problem with that accusation. I don't have Nooroo anymore. So Akumatizations are impossible now.

Me: That's right you fuckups!

But then we heard chanting and we heard that it was an angry mob that was out for blood! They were all armed with Pitchforks and Torches.

Mob: KILL BRAD AND GORDON! KILL BRAD AND GORDON! KILL BRAD AND GORDON! KILL BRAD AND GORDON! KILL BRAD AND GORDON! KILL BRAD AND GORDON!

The mob had them surrounded and we were ready to smash their fucking faces in.

Gordon: You all should be going after Kick and Team Loud Phoenix Storm! Why are you all going after me and Brad!?

A girl named Kendall Perkins appeared.

* * *

Kendall Perkins is the former class president of Kick's class and used to be anti-heroine in the show. She originally dislikes Kick Buttowski for his daredevil personality, except in some episodes like in "Dancing With The Enemy", and "Hand in Hand".

Not too much is known about Kendall's early life or of her family. Her father, Mr. Perkins, is an actuary as shown in "Father From the Truth". It is hinted that Mr. Perkins is associated with Mellowbrook Elementary since in "Snowpocalypse!", she wants him to open the school even while it is snowing in Mellowbrook (and he did it). Her mother, Mrs. Perkins will never appear on the show [2] because she lives in a different town [3]. It was also confirmed by Sandro Corsaro that Kendall has an older sister and although she is mentioned by Kendall in "Pinch Sitter", she won't appear in the show herself due to it ending although a background character with her planned design does have a cameo role in some episodes.

School Life

At school, Kendall can be considered a "princess" - she is the class president of Kick's class (until "Poll Position"), often gets almost perfect/perfect marks and is also the smartest student in the entire school (even smarter than Ronaldo). But despite all this, Kendall can get rather… lonely. She doesn't have many friends, due to her mean and bossy personality. In "Dancing With The Enemy", however, her talent for dancing managed to attract many fans.

Future

It is possible that Kendall may marry Kick when they become adults, since both are hinted to have a crush on each other. Or, she may marry Ronaldo, since she actually dates him. However, since KB: SD has not been renewed for a third season, it's highly likely that any romantic relationships in the show will be left unresolved. Despite this, when asked what will become of Kick and Kendall, Sandro Corsaro replied on his Twitter page that we "can't have one with out the other" (meaning that we can't have Kick without Kendall and vice versa). Also when asked if their love/hate relationship would remain unresolved Corsaro replied, again on his Twitter page, that Kick and Kendall "will always have a connection" (but to what extent is not expanded upon). When asked what the future would hold for the two characters on his Facebook page, Corsaro replied "Somehow, I think they both end up pretty happy in life :)". When asked if the two would be together (again on his Facebook page), Corsaro replied "Maybe… you never really know what the next day can bring;)".

In "Snowpocalypse!", she is able to force Kick and the rest of her classmates to go to school, much to his and their displeasure (their school is the only one on earth without a snow day, thanks to Kendall). However, it has been shown on a few occasions that they seem to have what amounts to a romantic liking for each other.

---

Kick: Kendall?

Kendall: Hey Kick. I got word about what Brad and Gordon were gonna do. So I rallied the town together and turned them against them.

Me: Very clever.

Kendall: It's an awesome honor to meet you Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Me: Same to you Kendall. Now we can make these fuckwads pay!

Ms. Chicarelli: You sure your trap you bad kid!

Me: You shut yours you fucked up crabapple! Officers arrest that woman and put her in a mental hospital.

Officer: With pleasure.

Ms. Chicarelli was arrested and sent to an insane asylum.

The Masters of Evil then appeared. We were facing Devack, Greiger and Misty Tredwell.

Me: Devack, Greiger and Misty Tredwell.

Greiger: That's right.

Misty Tredwell: (to Kick) You've been warned, Kick Buttowski. We're about to kick your ass!

Dark Spicer: (Offended) (Sad) Hey! That's my line!

Misty Tredwell: Well someone has to say it when it's not your turn Dark.

Dark Spicer: That's true.

But then we saw a little girl that Sailor Moon's little brother Sammy knows and she had a little cute and pretty doll with her. It was Sammy's little friend Mika Cassidy.

---

Mika Cassidy is a girl from Crossroads Elementary who is good at making dolls. She is also friends with Serena's brother Sammy. She gave Sammy a doll she made that won first prize in a competition, but when other boys were teasing him and he tried to give it back, he accidentally dropped it and broke it. As she was making a new doll, Neflite appeared as Maxfield Stanton and implanted Jumo's essence in her doll, turning her evil and making her work on her dolls more, being quite mean to her mother and Sammy. When her energy reached its peak, Jumo appeared from the doll, but was destroyed by Sailor Moon. Mika then created a doll of Sailor Moon and gave it to Sammy after he apologized to her.

---

Sailor Moon: Mika! What are you doing here?

But then a portal opened and out came Sailor Moon's brother Sammy!

Nico: Sammy!?

Sammy: Mika! What is wrong with you? Why are you behaving like this?

Me: What?

Shanan: Oh no. She's under the influence of the Dark Kingdom.

Shanan saw the symbol of the Negaverse emblazoned on the doll in the middle of its forehead.

Shanan: It's that doll! It's poisoned her mind with darkness.

Me: Not good! Mika you got to snap out of it. That doll you have is poisoning your mind and turning you against everyone!

My voice got through to her.

Me: That doll you have is possessed by an evil force. You have to get rid of it now.

Mika snapped out of it and then we got a really big surprise and shock! We saw her forehead glow with the astrological symbol of the planet Wayungkulit, a doll planet located 85,000 light-years away from Earth and it is a beautiful world.

Shanan: That symbol! That's the symbol of the planet Wayungkulit.

Nico: Wayungkulit? The Java puppet shows of Indonesia?

Shanan: That's right. But this is different. Wayungkulit is a doll planet and it's very beautiful. It's the Dollhouse Planet of the galaxy.

Sailor Jupiter: So Mika is the Sailor Soldier of the planet Wayungkulit?

Sailor Saturn: How is that possible?

Laney: We have an interplanetary Sailor Soldier.

Lincoln: Look at the doll!

We saw it glow and a shadow formed and out of it came a figure. It was the doll monster JUMO!

---

Jumo is a Negamonster sent by Neflite to gather energy for the Negaverse. Like Dream Dolly, she has the appearance of a doll. She appeared in Sailor Moon Episode 15, Dangerous Dollies.

Her essence was implanted in a doll made by a girl named Mika.

Once her energy reached its highest point, Jumo appeared from the doll to take her energy. Sammy tried to fight her, but she knocked him out. Sailor Moon battled Jumo. After the arrival of Sailor Mercury and Sailor Mars, Sailor Mercury discovered that her right ankle was her weak point. Before Sailor Moon could attack, Jumo began to strangle her, until Tuxedo Mask arrived. Sailor Moon then hit her ankle with Moon Tiara Magic, destroying her.

---

Me: WHOA!

Shanan: A Wayungkulian was making Mika behave like that!

Jumo: I'm impressed that you know about what my kind is Shanan.

Nico: She's a living puppet doll.

Shanan: Not just any living puppet doll. She's what's called a Wayungkulian. They are the inhabitants of the planet Wayungkulit and some of them are really bad news. Normally all Wayungkulians are really peaceful. But there are some that are dangerous and filled with hatred. They possess incredible fighting prowess and they are that dangerous.

Qin: Whoa! They give dolls everywhere a really bad name.

Lasher: (to Jumo) You're one Ugly Doll!

Jumo: I think that name is already taken.

Jumo fired one of her arms and it went at Sailor Moon and slashed her right arm! Badly. She was bleeding really bad as blood was pouring out of her arm.

Varie: Oh man!

Varie went over to heal her.

Me: Get ready for a big fight.

Jake: You think your daredevil stunts are awesome, Kick? Wait until you see this!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: RPM!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the RPM Rangers!

But then we saw a flame of white light appear and it was WHITE CHAZZ!

---

In the beginning of the second year, Crowler arranges for Chazz to duel Reginald Van Howell with the condition that should he win, he would be able to return to Obelisk Blue. Throughout the duel, Reggie insulted Chazz and his Ojama monsters, but despite this, he proved his strength and won, giving a speech on how no matter what his dorm, he would always be better than Reggie. Because of this, all the Slifer students, convinced he did like the Slifers, began rooting their appreciation despite his protests: in turn, Crowler announces Chazz had chosen to stay in Slifer, much to Chazz's distain. As a result of this, Chazz began renovating the dorm's interior to build a luxurious room just for him: this caused him to room with Jaden and Syrus until Tyranno Hassleberry moved in. When his room was completed, he moved in along with Alexis who took up residence in the dorm, much to his delight.

Before Jaden left, Chazz Duels Sartorius for the opportunity to rise to the Pro-Leagues, but loses. As a result, he joins the Society of Light, acting as Sartorius' means of converting the top students of Obelisk Blue and Ra Yellow. In the Japanese version, his nickname becomes White Thunder (ホワイトサンダー; Howaito Sandā). However, his love for Alexis Rhodes still continues, much to his embarrassment. He, whenever possible, humorously tries to convince Syrus, Bastion, Tyranno Hassleberry, and Alexis to join the Society of Light, eventually defeating both Alexis and Bastion, thus forcing them to join. After beating Bastion, Chazz discards his Ojama cards, considering them to be too weak.

After seeing Chazz's ruthlessness when he defeats Pro League Duelist Gelgo during the Genex Tournament with the new White Knight (白騎士団, Shirokishi-dan) Deck given to him by Sartorius, Jaden Duels him with the cards that he himself once used: The Ojama Trio. During the match, Jaden shows Chazz his old black uniform, and Chazz eventually regains his senses, tearing off his white coat to don his signature black one once more. Chazz, back to his old self, retrieves the Ojama Trio to destroy "White Knight Lord", the card representing Sartorius' evil, but in doing so, willingly loses the Duel to an effect of "White Knight Lord". Again in the Japanese version, following the battle, he dons his former outfit, revived as Black Thunder (ブラックサンダー; Burakku Sandā), though others continue calling him by his first nickname in the series. After his defeat in the English version he realizes that while he was in the society he defeated Alexis and vows to rescue her from the Society of Light.

After Chazz realizes he was blinded by Sartorius' powers he had no memory of the earlier parts of the Duel, in fact when Chazz saw "Ojama Yellow" on Jaden's side of the field because of the fact he couldn't remember the time he spent in the Society of Light he thought Jaden stole his Deck. Also it's revealed that as a Slifer Red Chazz acts more like a slob because when he was still his old self he used his old black jacket to wipe up food from the cafeteria. It's also revealed that unlike he is made to believe Chazz harbors a great deal of dislike for the color white.

Chazz, with the assistance of the remaining Obelisk Blue students, takes on the Society of Light's members to make amends, winning their Genex Medallions in the process. They successfully return most of them to their former selves, releasing Duel Academy from the Society's grip, but before Chazz is declared champion of the Genex Tournament he is challenged by Blair Flannigan, who had come back to Duel Academy in hopes of officially entering Slifer Red. He defeats her, and is therefore allowed to return to Obelisk Blue. In the end, he still returns to Slifer Red after he is accidentally drenched in paint while the Obelisk Blue students are re-painting the Obelisk Blue dorm. Alexis believes it is because he doesn't want to help re-paint the dorm.

Unfortunately for Chazz, Blair took up residence in his room and kicked him out, forcing him to bunk with Jaden once again.

Me: WHOA!

Chazz: That's me!

White Chazz: I'm what you would be if you would see the light.

Me: So this is the result of Sartorius brainwashing Chazz. I got to admit though Chazz you would look good in white.

Chazz: I guess so. But this white version of me is evil.

Eddy: Chew on this.

Eddy just threw Cheeta Chug at White Chazz's jacket, staining it.

White Chazz: MY JACKET!

Eddy: (mockingly) Aw! Do you need a tissue to wipe that off?

Me: Ooh burn!

Brad: I hate all of you!

Our auras flared up with incredible force.

Me: Thanks for the power boost jerk.

Brad: YOU ALL MAKE ME SICK! I SHOULD BE THE HERO BECAUSE BRAD RULES!

Devack activated his audio recording function on his duel disk and he was recording everything Brad and Gordon said when they weren't looking and they were broadcasting it to the whole town. They were really ranting up a storm and calling Kick the most worthless human being ever and how he should've never been born at all and thst he was nothing but a worthless mistake that should've never been born at all and he was calling everyone in the town that likes him a bunch of fucked up idiots and shitfaced freaks and moronic fuckwads! He also said that he would kill everyone!

Devack: (smirks) That's it. Keep ranting, you two. You don't even know it but you're already sealing your own fates.

Brad: (to Kick) You might have everyone else fooled, Kick! But not us! Let us tell you what we think of you. You're an idiot and a waste of space that no one would ever miss! Everyone might like you now. But that's only because they feel sorry for you!

Gordon: In fact, why don't you just jump off a cliff? You'll do everyone a favor. Including Ms. Chicarelli!

We gasped!

Gordon: AND YOU ALL ARE THE MOST WORTHLESS AND MOST PATHETIC PILES OF WORTHLESS SHIT THAT HAS EVER WALKED THE FACE OF THIS WRETCHED PLANET! I SHOULD TAKE A GUN AND KILL ALL OF YOU AND SEND ALL OF YOUR FUCKING ASSES ALL OFF TO HELL!

Brad: YOU ALL MAKE ME SICK! I WAS THE CENTER OF ATTENTION BUT YOU ALL TOOK IT AWAY FROM ME AND I HATE YOU ALL MORE THAN LIFE ITSELF! I HATED KICK BECAUSE HE WAS ALWAYS BETTER THAN ME AND I MADE HIS LIFE ONE HELLUVA NIGHTMARE AND I WANTED NOTHING MORE THAN TO KILL HIM BECAUSE HE'S A FUCKING DILLWEED THAT DESERVES NOTHING MORE THAN DEATH!

Everyone in the town gasped and they were horrified that they would say such horrible things!

Me: Are you guys done?

Gordon: Not yet.

For over 76 minutes we had to listen to them rant and rave about how big of a menace Kick was and how he and his friends all ruined their lives and how worthless everyone in the whole town was and how they are nothing but a bunch of worthless fucked up douchebags and brainless shitbrains and they don't care about anyone. Brad and Gordon's rants were so explosive that we saw their faces turn red, sparks flying out of their heads and smoke coming out of their ears. I did brain scans on them and it showed that their insanity levels were rising fast! They were now already at 6,923% insanity and rising.

Brad: Okay now we're done.

Me: Good. Lets destroy them!

Dark Spicer: Here's your warning you two: YOUR ASSES ARE GONNA BE KICKED!

Brad and Gordon gasped in shock and we went at them! Kalin appeared to help beat White Chazz.

Greiger called out his Pokemon and he had 5 Wailord's and 2 Mega Wailords!

Boris: 5 Wailords and 2 Mega Wailords.

Clawful: I had a feeling you would choose whale Pokemon because of Chacu Challhua.

Greiger: What can I say? I love whales.

Ultra Humanite: They are the gentle giants of our planet.

Boris: Lets roll!

They went at Greiger and his Pokemon and blasted them with indigo fire, psychic energy and water blasts and they slammed into them and drenched and burned them all over the place and Greiger was knocked down from the blasts and out.

Devack: I have a live feed function on my Duel Disk that broadcasted that whole conversation they were saying to the whole town.

Phage: Wow!

Dante: That is genius!

Lasher: So that's how you incriminated Brad and Gordon.

Devack: And they never saw it coming.

Dante: Sneaky and clever.

Lasher: It sure is.

Devack: I have new Pokemon for you to see.

Devack called out his 3 Monferno and he also had 2 Mega Infernape.

Dante: 3 Monferno and 2 Mega Infernape. Awesome choices.

Lasher: Figured you would have monkey Pokemon because of Cusillu.

Devack: Indeed.

Dante: And apes are an important part of Human Evolution because we evolved from them.

Devack: That's true.

Dante: Lets dance.

Dante, Lasher and Phage fired blasts of fire and blades of energy and they smashed into the Pokemon and knocked them and Devack down.

Kalin: It sure is. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL CCAPAC APU!

He summoned the Giant Earthbound Immortal Ccapac Apu.

Sam S.L.: Lets do it!

Sam fired a massive blast of fire and Luna fired a wave of water and Kalin fired a wave of blue fire and the monsters and Ccapac Apu fired energy waves and powerful blasts of fire and energy and they slammed into White Chazz and his monsters and obliterated them in an instant leaving nothing of him left.

Sammy: How do you know my name Sailor Moon?

Sailor Moon: Because I know you Sammy.

She took off her Tiara and revealed herself. Shocking Sammy.

Sammy: Serena! Big sis, you are Sailor Moon!?

Sailor Moon: That's right little bro.

Sammy: Wow! Sis this is incredible! My own big sister is also the famous Sailor Moon!

Shanan: Big surprise huh? Secret identities are practically done now. Sammy, Sailor Moon is also the princess of the Moon Kingdom. But there is a dark story behind it.

Shanan went over the terrible history of the Moon Kingdom and more and Sammy and Mika were shocked.

Sammy: Whoa! That's terrible! And Queen Beryl was the monster that destroyed the Moon Kingdom?

Shanan: That's right and we killed her. But you have to keep Sailor Moon's identity a secret. If Queen Beryl's forces found out about her being Sailor Moon, they would do anything they can to kill her.

Sammy: I will. Thanks Shanan.

Shanan: You're welcome.

Battle 6: Brad Buttowski

We regrouped and we were facing Brad Buttowski.

Kendall: I didn't think you'd ever do that with Team Loud Phoenix Storm's equipment.

Trojanware: I couldn't at first. But now I'm able to since they fully trust me!

Police Officer: You 2 are under arrest!

Gordon's dad: You are a mistake Gordon! I can't believe you of all people, my own son and flesh and blood, would be this evil. Especially to someone like Kick and to the entire town he lived in! You are going to prison for a long long time and consider yourself no longer part of our family ever! You are hereby disowned and disinherited!

Gordon gasped in shock! Gordon lost his family and his last name and he was stripped of his inheritance and he will now be forever broke, homeless and penniless.

Mrs. Buttowski: Bradley Elizabeth Buttowski, you are in so much trouble young man! You being a bully and a monster is completely unacceptable! Kick is not the one that is a mistake Brad, you are! You are hereby disowned from our family!

The Masters of Evil came.

Ultra Humanite: (to Devack) That was very clever on how you used the live feed function on your Duel Disk to broadcast evidence of Brad's true nature.

Devack: Why, thank you.

Me: It was pure genius.

Misty Tredwell: I actually remember that function exposed Sayer before.

Yusei: Don't forget that I was the one who did it.

Snake Man: That's true.

Me: And you sent Sayer off to Hell.

Greiger: (to Kick) Kick, tell us if that next door neighbor of yours is giving you problems.

Kick: Don't worry. I will.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

We had Kick and his friends and family all joined us in Team Loud Phoenix Storm and it was awesome. We deleted the video of Brad humiliating me and more.

Kick and Kendall are now boyfriend and girlfriend and it was adorable.

Kick: (To the viewers) Don't be like my former brother or you will answer to us.

Me: Yep.

Kick threw up the goats.

See you all tomorrow

Night of the German Chocolate Monster

At the estate, Kick Buttowski was showing us his most amazing daredevil stunts. He was working on some awesome stunts that many people would find extremely dangerous for us to even attempt and they were awesome.

Me: WHOA! Look at Kick's stunts.

Nico: Wow!

We saw Kick going down a roller coaster ramp and he was doing a crazy slam dunk from 100 feet away after jumping through a ring of fire on his skateboard.

Laney: WHOA!

He did his stunt and we were really amazed!

Nico: WAY TO GO KICK!

Lana: That was awesome!

Lola: Yeah!

Luan: YAY KICK!

Kendall: That's my boyfriend.

Lily: He sure is an awesome daredevil.

Lori was really impressed.

Later the next morning we saw Lori about to attempt a VERY insane stunt.

Shadow the Hedgehog: Guys, what's Lori doing?

We saw Lori about to do an upgraded and deadlier version of the stunt kick pulled. She was gonna do a slam dunk on a bike through some loops, jumping through a ring of fire, over a shark tank, over a pit full of ferocious monsters, a pit full of broken glass, razor sharp metal and nails and a pool full of sulfuric acid!

Me: WHOA! This is gonna be nuts!

Nico: THIS IS INSANE!

Lori: Watch me guys!

Spirit Elephant Ranger: Is Lori trying to get herself killed?!

Lori went down the ramp and through the loops. Then she jumped through the ring of fire and jumped over the shark tank as a shark bit her in the butt and then she jumped over the pit full of ferocious monsters, the broken glass and metal pit, and the pool full of acid and then she jumped off the ramp and smashed into the basketball hoop!

SMASH!

Me: (Winces) OOOOHH!

Nico: That's gonna leave a mark!

Naruto: No kidding.

Laney: Ouch!

We went over to Lori and helped her. Varie was healing her all over.

Motormaster: Lori, what the Hell were you thinking?!

Lori: I was literally thinking that maybe I'm not living life to its fullest!

Lily: Big sis, SpongeBob and Patrick once were thinking like you when they saw Larry doing some amazing stunts. But he meant to live life to the fullest and not maim yourself into mincemeat.

Rodimus Prime: Lori, you have wind power, can turn into Lori Volcana, you got kids through a dream, and you're getting married to Bobby in the future. And yet, you think you're not living life to its' fullest?

Me: Yeah Lori you have a lot of awesome friends, a lot of popularity and don't let it go to your head like certain bitches we know and all that and you have a lot of great family: Me and your siblings. You need to enjoy life to the fullest with everything you have and currently have.

Lana: Yeah Big sis.

Kick: But I got to admit Lori, you did a really awesome stunt back there.

Kendall: Not bad for someone who's 17 years old.

Bobby: You got that right.

Rita: That's right sweetie. I once went through the same thing you did.

Me: Really Ms. Rita? You went through a mid-life crisis yourself?

Rita: I sure did. I did all the things I thought I wouldn't do because I missed out on them as a kid.

Lois Griffin: That happened to me too Rita. It was rough for me too.

Lana: Wow. I didn't know that happened.

Stewie: Oh god I remember that.

Brian: Yeah.

Lola: Weird.

Me: Wow.

Lori: Wow. I'm sorry I hurt myself guys. But I will try to live life to the fullest.

Spirit Elephant Ranger: We're glad Lori.

Me: But you did do good on that daredevil stunt for your first try Lori.

Didn't know you had it in you.

Bart Simpson: You did really good though.

Lori: Thanks guys.

Lynn: But next time Lori stick to smaller things like eating hot sauce on sandwiches like me.

Lori: I will Lynn.

Me: That starts you off easy.

We laughed.

---

Later that night we were walking through the city coming home after one awesome night of fighting crime.

Me: Well we stopped numerous gangs from taking over the city and brought them to justice.

Laney: Yep we sure did.

Katie: It was a good day for us.

Lana: It sure was.

Me: Hey look there.

We saw Clayface looking at a statue of a man and we saw that it was a normal citizenfrozen in something.

Me: Whoa! This guy is frozen solid.

Astro Man: Clayface, have you been fighting crime without us?

Clayface: Of course not! If you look closely, that's chocolate, not clay.

I sniffed it and took a piece of the statue off and ate it.

Me: (Eating) Mmm! This chocolate is really delicious!

Laney, Qin, and Mary tried a piece.

Mary K.: Mmm! It sure is.

Qin: This is really good chocolate!

Laney: Yummy.

We heard the statue crack open and the man's head came out.

Me: Sir are you all right?

Man: Yeah. I'll make it.

Me: What happened to you? Do you know what or who did this to you?

Man: I don't really know. It looked like a kid and he was made of pure chocolate.

Me: A kid made of solid chocolate? That's unusual.

Man: He spoke in a German Accent and he said that he was looking for someone named Abigail Lincoln.

We gasped in shock and horror.

Me: Oh shit! Heinrich Von Marzipan has returned!

Qin: But I thought he was dead! We saw him fall into that chocolate volcano!

Laney: We got to get over there.

Me: But first lets get you unfrozen.

I fired a blast of fire and melted his chocolate off.

Man: Thanks J.D. You better hurry.

Me: Right. Get home safe.

Man: Will do.

Me: Lets go!

We flew and ran fast!

When we approached the estate we saw the KND Sector V treehouse totally entombed in chocolate and we heard laser blasts and more coming from Sector V Treehouse.

Me: We got to hurry!

We flew into the treehouse and we saw Sector V fighting HEINRICH VON MARZIPAN and he was made of pure chocolate!

We gasped in total shock!

Me: What in the 9 fucking levels of Hell!?

Qin: My God! Heinrich is that really you!?

Laney: What happened to you!?

Spicer: Heinrich Von Marizipan?! My God! What have you done to yourself?!

Numbuh 5: Yeah! You've become a monster!

Numbuh 2: WHAT!? That monster is Heinrich Von Marzipan!?

Me: Yeah. But how can you still be alive!?

Heinrich: (German Accent) Ooh. You noticed. WELL IT'S ALL YOUR FAULT!

Lana: How is it our fault!?

Me: The chocolate volcano did this to you! But how? We saw you fall right into the Chocolate Lava. You should be dead.

Michelangelo: Yeah you should've been melted into nothing because of that!

Heinrich: That's right! I would've been dead. But I am not!

---

Heinrich: (Narrating) Because you showed up at ze jungle's chocolate volcano and insisted on thwarting mein glorious plan to make chocolate bunnies from real bunnies!

Heinrich fell from the cliff of the volcano.

Heinrich: I fell into the Choco-Lava and fused with it.

He fell into it with a huge splash.

He crawled out a changed kid.

Heinrich: When I finally crawled out, I was forever changed.

He was now a living creature made entirely out of pure 100% chocolate!

Heinrich: All ze beautiful things became chocolatey at mein touch. It was like ein dream come true.

He discovered that he had the ability to turn anything he touched into chocolate. Giving him amazing superpowers centered around chocolate. It was like an endless buffet of chocolate for him.

FLASHBACK PAUSES

Heinrich laughed.

Heinrich: I actually thanked you for what happened to me!

FLASHBACK RESUMES

Heinrich: (Narrating) But many weeks later, I was taken over with a more powerful desire than I have ever encountered before. I desperately wanted to have ein cheeseburger!

He was hungry for one and he went to a local fast food restaurant and chocotized the people in front of him and he got a cheeseburger. He laughed in hunger. He took it.

Heinrich: But when I went to take a bite…

He picked it up and it turned into chocolate!

Heinrich: CHOCOLATE! It was ze same with everything! French fries, soda pop, schinkewurst, mayonnaise…

FLASHBACK ENDS

Heinrich: Everything became chocolate!

Me: Really tasty chocolate.

Mary K.: Yeah.

Me: But we're just amazed you are still alive.

Henrietta Von Marzipan: (German Accent) Und I'm finally seeing what I look like as a boy because of those caramels.

Laney: It's like we're seeing a split personality.

Me: But now it's time to bring you down chocolate boy.

Hunter: (German Accent) Ja! Und you give chocolate lovers everywhere a really bad name!

Me: That's right! And we're going to eat you! (Licks lips)

Krusty, Cantwell and Carly appeared.

Krusty: Hey hey kiddies! (Goofy Laugh)

Bart: Hey Krusty.

Sophie Krustovsky: Hey Daddy.

Krusty: Hey sweetie.

Carly Carmine: Hey guys.

Cantwell: Before you guys say anything, we had nothing to do with this chocolate monster's plans!

Bomb Man: We know you didn't.

Krusty: That chocolate sure looks tasty though.

Me: It is really tasty Krusty. And you are right Ms. Cantwell. You didn't do this. It was our doing this time. It's a really complicated story.

I went over everything that happened when me, Qin, Numbuh 2 and Numbuh 5 stopped Heinrich's plans to turn real bunnies into chocolate bunnies.

Krusty, Cantwell and Carly were shocked.

Carly Carmine: Whoa! That's rough!

Krusty: Whoa! I didn't know that happened to you.

Numbuh 2: Yeah it's a weird mission. But I would've loved to get some chocolate pudding back then.

Me: I'm sorry we didn't get any Hoagie. But those jokes you said were really funny.

Luan: (Laughs) They sure were.

Krusty: I love your material kid.

Funny Bone: He is just as funny as me.

But then a figure came out and it was HEAT BOT from episode 25 of RPM!

---

After Tenaya 7 managed to sabotage General Shifter's Hyper Bot from becoming the next Venjix body, she took her Heat Bot to Corinth to attack the new Fuel Depot. The bot tried to heat the depot up, but the Rangers arrived to stop him. While Gold, Silver & Yellow fought the Grinders, the others battled the Heat Bot. He was too much for the Rangers to handle at first. Even once Gold and Silver joined in the Heat Bot still managed to escape.

Later the bot returned and tried to heat the depot up so that it would explode, but the Rangers fired the RPM Enforcer on it. When that didn't work, the Gold & Silver Rangers used their Freeze Mode of their Cloud Hatchets to freeze the Heat Bot in ice.

The bot remained frozen until Kilobyte arrived and released him. The bot grew giant sized immediately after and the Rangers went to the SkyRev Megazord. When the bot's heat was too much, the Red Ranger called for the Paleozord. He used the Mammoth's ice breath to freeze the bot, and then destroyed him with the PaleoMax Megazord.

---

Dillion: Heat Bot!

Heat Bot: Been a while rangers.

Nico: Whoa!

Me: I remember you! You were sent by Venjix to attack the Fuel Depot. The rangers tried to stop you but you were too hot for them to handle.

Heat Bot: Indeed I was. Mistress Vypra was right about you J.D. You have a good memory on you.

Me: Indeed.

Heat Bot: So now, you Rangers know the truth about Evox and Venjix.

Scott Truman: If you're talking about the fact that they're both one in the same, then yeah. We figured that out.

Me: That really shocked us. We had no idea that Evox was Venjix reincarnated.

Ziggy: Yeah.

Heat Bot: Ever stop to think that if you Rangers had finished Venjix off properly, he wouldn't have resurfaced as Evox? That being said, everyone Evox has ever hurt is because of the 7 of you.

Me: Hey they had no idea that Venjix would return as Evox. This was something they did not expect.

Devon Daniels: That's right.

But then we saw a massive bright light and we saw an alien flying saucer land outside of our estate.

Me: Aliens from another planet.

We went down and saw it open and we saw a creature came out.

Me: This is a Close Encounter of the Third Kind.

Lana: Wow!

Out of the ship came Sartorius's extraterrestrial agent of the Light of Destruction, THE ALIEN OF LIGHT!

---

The Alien of Light (光の宇宙人, Hikari no Uchūjin) is an extraterrestrial representative of the invasion of Neo Space by The Light of Destruction. Its Duel with Jaden Yuki is arranged by Neo-Spacian Aqua Dolphin to serve as a test of the boy's abilities to wield the abilities of The Gentle Darkness.

After arriving on the planet where Jaden and Aqua Dolphin where waiting (via UFO), it immediately challenged Jaden to a Duel. During the Duel, it would often show confusion because of many of Jaden's new cards (such as "Dandylion" and "Fluff Token") were "not in the monster database". Eventually, Jaden Summoned "Neo-Spacian Aqua Dolphin" and "Elemental Hero Neos". He then used the effect of "Aqua Dolphin" to destroy the cards in its hand, thus decreasing the ATK of "Candelato, the Beast of Light" to 0, allowing for him to attack it with "Neos" and win the Duel. As its Life Points decreased to 0 it blew up.

---

Alien of Light: (Mechanical Voice) Greetings to all you humans.

Me: Whoa! Who are you?

Alien of Light: I am the Alien of Light. I was sent by my master Sartorius to fight you.

Shanan: Oh shit! I didn't expect Sartorius to have one of you under his power.

Qin: What is he?

Shanan: The Alien is Light is really what's called a Mekahikarian. They are a race of sentient robotic aliens from the planet Mekahikaris located in the farthest galaxy in the universe: Galaxy MACS0647-JD. It's located 13.3 billion light-years away from Earth.

Everyone: Wow!

Me: That far away!? That's incredible!

Laney: Unbelievable!

Lana: Wow!

Alien of Light: That is indeed correct Shanan. I am a Mekahikarian. My race is one of the most advanced in the galaxy that I have come from.

Nico: That's incredible!

Shanan: It sure is. And we are in luck. According to the space scanners I found out that the galaxy MACS0647-JD is located right next to the white hole that is supposedly pushing out the Light of Destruction.

Me: Awesome! When we face Sartorius we can destroy that white hole with our new prototype superlaser.

Nico: Good.

Alien of Light: Indeed. Now we fight.

Me: But first.

Me, Bella, Riley and Ben scanned him with our Omnitrix's and got his DNA.

Lana: Cool.

Eddy threw an E.M.P. bomb at the Alien of Light.

Alien of Light: Your weapons are pitiful!

Eddy: Wait for it.

The E.M.P. bomb exploded.

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMMM

The Alien of Light exploded into nothing. All that was left of him was his duel disk arm and his deck.

Me: Nice work Eddy!

Luan: Way to go.

Me: Wow! That was an Electromagnetic Pulse Grenade. How did you get one of those Eddy?

Tuddrussel: I gave it to him for something like this.

Me: Way to come through Tuddrussel. Another member of the Society of Light defeated.

I picked up the deck the Alien had and kept it as a trophy.

Me: So much for him.

But then I saw his pieces move and he was pulling himself back together.

Shanan: They can regenerate too.

Devack then appeared.

Devack: Let me help out.

Starfire: Me and Shanan will help Devack face the Alien of Light.

Shanan: Lets do it!

We turned our sights to the Masters of Evil and Heinrich.

Me: Lets power up!

We did so.

Emma: You may be sweet on the outside. But you're rotten on the inside!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Alien!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Aquitar Rangers!

We went at then Masters and Heinrich.

Ms. Cantwell: So I get to fight stupid Lisa again.

Spicer: Why do you hate Lisa so much!?

Lisa Simpson: She hates me because I'm prettier than she is.

Sideshow Bob: (British Accent) Now that is just absolutely wrong. I have never judged anyone on how pretty they looked or how they are different from everyone else. But Lisa is a very smart and talented young lady. How do you think she and her brother Bart took me down so many times in the past when I was still trying to kill him before Springfield was destroyed?

Ms. Cantwell: Wow! Lisa and Bart took you down that many times?

Sideshow Bob: I've had a long history with Bart before Springfield was destroyed.

Spicer: I remember hearing about that.

Lisa Simpson: I know.

Ms. Cantwell: I didn't know about that. Lets do this.

She called out her Pokemon: A Lucario and a Regice.

Lisa Simpson: A Lucario and Regice. Good choices for you.

Ms. Cantwell: Thank you Lisa.

Lisa, Sideshow Bob and Spicer fired their blasters and powers and they smashed into Ms. Cantwell and her Pokemon and exploded!

---

Haiku, Astro Man and Galaxy Man were facing Carly Carmine.

Haiku: Your kids are growing fast Carly. They are already now 5 years old and are playing duel monsters with their new Earthbound Immortal Cards. And they made decks centered around them. They are reading books at the 12th grade reading level and are really smart too.

Astro Man: Yeah they are just learning everything fast.

Carly Carmine: I heard. I'm so proud of them.

Galaxy Man: We all are. You gave birth to three prodigies.

Carly Carmine: Do they know about them being Twilight Signers?

Haiku: They sure do and they understand what they can do.

Carly Carmine: Wow. Lets do this.

Carly called out her 2 Vivillion, Butterfree, Beautifly and her Cutiefly and Ribombee.

Carly: Yeah.

Haiku held out her hand and Carly got up.

---

Battle 4: Alien of Light

---

Shanan, Starfire and Devack were facing the Alien of Light.

Shanan: I don't need duel monsters to know how to destroy you.

Devack: This will be awesome.

Starfire: Indeed it will.

Alien of Light: As you humans say: Bring it On!

Shanan: With Pleasure!

Shanan, Starfire and Devack fired waves of energy and yellow fire and the blasts combined and slammed into the Alien of Light and completely obliterated him in an instant!

Shanan: In the immortal words of Nico: Alien of Light, you have failed this universe.

Devack: You said it.

---

Battle 5: Heat Bot

---

Nico and the Megaforce Rangers were facing Heat Bot.

Nico: Since you are an anthropomorphic Space Heater, lets see you handle these flames.

Nico used Nuova Shenron's fire powers and fired a massive wave of fire and it slammed into the Heat Bot and was overheating him with fire burning at 10,832˚ Fahrenheit and the Megaforce Rangers fired energy blasts and they combined with Nico's fire and the Heat Bot exploded in a massive fiery explosion!

KRABBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

He was reduced to a pile of flaming rubble.

Nico: Heat Bot you have failed this universe.

Troy Burrows: Super Mega Rangers, that's a Super Mega Win.

---

Battle 6: Chocolate Heinrich

---

Heinrich: Bring it on Liebchen!

Me: Nothing hurts cooking more than burned chocolate.

Lana: Yeah.

Lola: Marshmallow guns ready!

We pulled out Marshmallow blasters.

Me: Why are we using marshmallow blasters?

Numbuh 5: I dealt with Heinrich as a chocolate monster before and marshmallows are his weakness. Same with extreme heat.

Nico: Very clever.

Me: Lets get him. FIRE!

We fired marshmallows and fire blasts and they hit him all over the place and weakened him substantially.

Me: Lets see what monsters the Alien of Light had. I summon DIFFERENT DIMENSION DRAGON, D.D. CRAZY BEAST, D.D. SCOUT PLANE and CANDELATO, THE BEAST OF LIGHT!

I summoned said monsters and they were awesome!

Laney: Cool!

Lisa Loud: A most impressive selection.

Me: Yeah and Candalato is based on the unit of luminosity, Candela.

Clyde: What is Candela?

Me: It's the unit of luminsity that shows how bright the light is. Like how bright a flashlight is.

Clyde: Cool!

Me: Get him monsters!

They fired blasts of energy and more and they hit Heinrich all over and exploded. Gintanai, Siado, and Malvadine fired blasts of fire and more and burned him all over.

Me: Lets bring out the heavy artillery with our teamwork!

He told us that Sartorius was building powerful satellites that will spread the Light of Destruction all over the Earth which will ultimately destroy the entire planet. But we already knew about that. Frost was sent to the Neptune Prison and now we knew what Sartorius was gonna do and after the war with the Royal Defenders we had to stop Sartorius at all costs or we have no future. No one in the entire universe will be safe from the evil light. With only 4 days left till the war begins, we have to be ready for anything.

---

Another awesome Kids Next Door chapter done.

Operation: C.H.O.C.O.L.A.T.E. is one of my all time favorite episodes of Codename: Kids Next Door and it was amazing that Heinrich came back as a creature of living chocolate and it made him sweet on the outside but rotten on the inside. But at least he's gone forever. NicoChan11 gave me the ideas for this. Thanks man. Next up is the awesome 2013 show Max Steel and get ready for an awesome interstellar adventure as we meet Max Steel and his awesome friends as we help them take down the evil pollution freak of nature Toxzon and make him pay with his life.

See you all tomorrow.

The Awesomeness of Max Steel

We were over at the picturesque city of Copper Canyon in Virginia and it was a beautiful and amazing town at the peak of prosperity. It was amazing.

Elec Man: So this is Copper Canyon?

Me: Yep. It sure is. Wow. It's amazing that this city can be so beautiful.

Nico: It sure is. We're here to meet my friend Max Steel. He and I go way back.

Me: Cool.

Nico: It was before I joined Team Loud Phoenix Storm. I was one of Max's partners in helping him deal with some of his most dangerous enemies.

Nico told us his history about Max and more.

---

During the Makino invasion of Planet Tachyon, an Ultralink warrior named N'Baro Atksteel X377 (Steel) had begun to doubt the ways of his master. He witnessed several Tachyon warriors fight against the invasion and is intrigued by their heroic actions. He witnesses one of the warriors, Ja'em Mk'rah, fend off the attack from a Worm Link using his T.U.R.B.O Energy. Hesitantly, he closes in and prepares to Utralink with the warrior. Before he can do so, Mk'rah prevents him doing so and questions why his people are being attacked. Steel replies to him and simply states that it is within an Ultralink's program to absorb and expand, for the glory of their master, Makino. Ja'em Mk'rah questions Steel further, and Steel comes to the conclusion that the Makino's destructive ways are wrong. Steel wonders what he can do against Makino but is struck down by the Worm Link. The Worm Link prepares to attack the Ja'em Mk'rah, but before it has the chance, Steel Ultralinks with him to save his life.

The Ultralinking process knocks the Worm Link away and gives Mk'rah new armor. Steel disengages from Mk'rah's chest and each of them relay their names to each other. However, it was too late to save the Planet Tachyon, as Makino had already begun the planet-linking process using his Alphalink. Ja'em Mk'rah and Steel were forced to evacuate and planned to arrive at Makino's next target.

When the pair eventually arrived on Earth, Ja'em Mk'rah took on the name James (Jim) McGrath. They created the top secret organization known as N-Tek alongside Miles Dread, Forge Ferrus, and Molly McGrath to defend Earth from the forces of Makino

During the first Makino invasion of Earth, Jim and Steel successfully defeated Makino's troops alongside the forces of N-Tek.

After the invasion, Molly and Jim became married and had a son named Maxwell McGrath. Later, N-tek began to work on a T.U.R.B.O powered weapon called the Turbo Star which would be used to defeat Makino should he ever return to Earth. However, during one of the tests, Miles Dread (one of N-Tek's founders) used a device that he had constructed to absorb Jim's T.U.R.B.O Energy for himself. But it goes horribly wrong as it triggered a massive explosion. The blast teleports Jim into deep space and sends Dread across the planet as well as all the pieces of Turbo Star. The blast also leaves Steel disabled for the next 16 years.

Years later, Jim McGrath and Molly McGrath's son, Maxwell McGrath, begins to generate T.U.R.B.O. Energy (since he is half Takyon) after moving to the city of Copper Canyon. The energy he produces is very unstable and could overload and kill him. Max is introduced to N-Tek, where he is placed into a chamber to keep his power under control. But his powers quickly begin to overload him, damaging the chamber. As he tries to escape, he unintentionally reactivates Steel, who, like his father before him, Ultralinks with him. Together, they form the powerful Max Steel.

Over time, Max and Steel became good friends and gained a symbiotic bond with each other. They learned to live, work and fight together. Using their powers for good, they fight villains such as Miles Dread and later The Elementors, Extroyer and Toxzon, as well as save the lives of many people including Max's closest friends

Sydney and Kirby.

During Season 2, Max Steel has gained newfound fame within his city Copper Canyon. A statue was built (that was later destroyed) to commemorate his heroic deeds and actions. A film and video game were based around him as well. Max Steel also gains new Turbo Modes to fight against powerful new villains such as Metal Elementor and Makino. In the Season Finale, Max Steel successfully defeated Makino alongside his father, Jim McGrath, and finally puts an end to his evil actions. After Makino was defeated, Max Steel continued being a superhero within Copper Canyon.

During the events of this film, it is revealed that Makino is still somewhat alive, as his core is still functioning. He proposes a competition and sends a message to every remaining Ultralink on Earth (including Steel), that states that someone will gain his power and become Makino's heir by claiming his headpiece.

Max Steel as well as the remaining Ultralinks, enter Makino's mind in order to complete the challenges ahead of them. Max Steel passes all the challenges, and defeats the other Ultralinks in the process but not before Max and Steel split up. Max was about to successfully obtain the headpiece while Steel witnessed the creation of Makino. However, Max gets possessed by Makino and is transformed into his new host.

Makino, now reborn and more powerful then ever, uses his new abilities to transform into Turbo Annihilation Mode in order to destroy the Earth. However, Steel manages to save Max once again, by Ultralinking with Jim and also showcase some of their Turbo Modes.

Once Jim is defeated, Steel manages to help Max with their link and ultimately Max breaks free from the villain's control and the Steel links once again with him. Makino, who saw Jim unconscious in the ground, links with him and creates a new version of Turbo Annihilation Mode. Max and Steel then decided to use Turbo Titan Mode to defeat Makino once again. After defeating the villain, Max Steel decides to throw Makino in the Sun, presumably destroying him once for all.

After Makino's defeat, a new enemy named Morphos arises, who is actually a old project of N-Tek built to defeat Makino if the Turbo Star had failed. The villain managed to adapt and easily overcome Max Steel's abilities.

With N-Tek and Max Steel out of the picture, Dread decides to have revenge on Molly. Meanwhile, Jim teaches Max to harness a new power: the ability of fusing two Turbo Modes at once. When fighting Morphos, Max Steel decides to fuse Turbo Spike Mode and Turbo Cannon Mode. The fusion of the modes successfully defeat Morphos and Max Steel is once again thanked by Copper Canyon citizens, but especially by Sydney, who foreshadows that she has discovered that Maxwell McGrath is Max Steel.

In the sequel, Morphos returns more powerful than ever after being betrayed by his own creator. He pretends to become the new hero of Copper Canyon to gain the trust of Copper Canyon citizens and achieve his plan of conquering the city. After capturing Toxzon, the Elementors and Extroyer, Morphos is supported by many authorities on Copper Canyon and eventually becomes the new president of the city.

When Max suddenly receives an emergency call from Dread, he goes turbo and decides to check out Morphos' "home". There, the hero is attacked by few clones of Morphos and later on, by the villain himself. After the mutant defeats both Max and Dread, Copper Canyon's police tries to arrest them since they attacked the president. At the same time, many people were watching Max and Dread about to be arrested. When Dread gets angry, he destroys few police cars and eventually escapes with Max Steel. Later on, they are both forced to team-up thanks to Morphos, who had mutated everyone in the city into monsters like him.

After his father is transformed into a monster, Max is forced to make an alliance with the rest of the villains besides Dread. They go to the center of Copper Canyon and fight off the mutated citizens of Copper Canyon. Morphos proved to be a way too powerful to Max and the villains to defeat, and he is forced to activate the Turbo Chamber within his father's ship, where he used his Turbo Pulse and his T.U.R.B.O. Energy to revert the mutation of the citizens. In the process, Max ends up unlocking Turbo Exo Strength Mode, which he uses to defeat Morphos once for all. Once Morphos is defeated, the other villains are free and Dread ultimately betrays Max Steel, but luckily he is stopped by Sydney when she shot him with her blaster. Max and Steel then return to being the rightful hero of Copper Canyon as they fly over the city in order to stop Extroyer from robbing a bank.

There is been two years since the Morphos incident when a new enemy named Mortum arises with the intent of getting the Connect-Tek. While Max was playing soccer with Alex and other few people, he sees the Daedelus Platform falling down. Max decides to go turbo and check out if there is someone there.

After arriving and activating his Turbo Hammer Claw Mode, Max and Steel realizes that there is no one there, but there is traces of Transdimensional Energy. Suddenly, Steel receives an emergency call from World 31 and they decided to check it out. After arriving, Max Steel sees Extroyer and his clones attacking the base. They activate Turbo Stealth Mode and there they find out who Mortum is. They later on met Rayne, who is Berto's younger sister, and C.Y.T.R.O., who later on gains his own artificial intelligence (A.I.). After Extroyer's clones finds out about the group, they are forced to escape.

In a mountain, Max and Steel see the devastation that the villains were causing on Copper Canyon. Upon analyzing Makinian texts from the World 31 base, Max believes that the Connect-Tek may be on the Ice Box, a facility that stores Makino technology in low temperature. Eventually, the group finds the Connect-Tek and a informational video featuring Jim explaining the capabilities of the device. The moment is interrupted when Alex (who was being identified as a threat), arrives and reveals that he is with part of Jim McGrath's Connect-Tek sword.

Suddenly, the Elementors appear and the group is forced to retreat to the base. The villains eventually managed to invade the base and attacked the group. Max Steel and the group later on goes to the Connect-Tek's chamber. There, the hero discusses with both Alex and Rayne to power up the device. Max Steel finally activates the Connect-Tek and Team Turbo is created.

Max and his Team Turbo invade an abandoned warehouse while searching for villains. Upon seeing that nobody was there, Max sees few energy squares emerging from the ground and he assumes that it was a trap. As these squares got closer and closer, Max activates his Turbo Strength Mode and tries to stop them alongside with his team, but the trap deactivate their Turbo Modes and make they faint.

Max, who was tied, wakes up in a mysterious white room alongside with his unconscious friends, few Nexus Agents managing computers and Terrorax. Upon seeing the villain, Max asks who he was, but he doesn't say his name and reveals that he knows about Max's secret identity and Steel's real name. Terrorax then unlink Steel from Max's chest and starts to torture him with lasers until he generates a small portion of T.U.R.B.O. Energy, which is transferred to a cube. While Max screams in pain, Terrorax declares that the hero is not useful anymore and commands his allies to electrocute Max's team and torture him even more. Upon seeing his friends hurt, Max gets extremely angry to the point of making him generate a new kind of T.U.R.B.O. Energy. Max then releases a large wave of his energy that makes the electronic devices explode and ultimately blows up the room. Max's body is left in Copper Canyon's canyons, where he left to perish.

Eventually, Max wakes up thanks to a calf. Upon seeing the animal, he gets scared and falls from the border of the canyon. He punches the rocks and in the process discovers the first traces of his green T.U.R.B.O. Energy. Afterwards Steel contacts him and asks to rescue him. After doing so, the Ultralink tries to link with him, but he fails and they are forced to go on feet to a T.U.R.B.O. Energy laboratory located on Copper Canyon. There, he meets Rayne, C.Y.T.R.O., and Alex and they eventually find the laboratory.

Max starts to train his brand new green T.U.R.B.O. Energy, which at first was hard due to the fact that he wasn't used to not use Turbo Modes in battles. Eventually though, Max masters his new powers. He later on talks with Steel for more information about his new green energy. Steel gives a explanation of why he started to generate that variation (thanks to Terrorax, who made Max generate so much energy to the point he unlocked a new version) and reveals that he can't link with him anymore. At first, Max gets shocked, but he says that no matter how things change, there will be always Max and Steel. He agrees and said they couldn't change their name after all the merchandise and advertisement. Their conversation is interrupted when Alex and Rayne comes to the room and confirms that Rayne had found who supposedly set the trap on the abandoned warehouse.

It turns out that it was Dr. Prometheus Halifax, the owner of the Halifax Industries. Max decides to go the building, but first Steel introduces the group to the Steel-Tek, a new technology created by him that would adapt with Max's new green energy. Max also seemed to love the Cyclo-Spin Bike, which he used to go to the building. There, the team was split: Max and Alex would check the building while Rayne and C.Y.T.R.O. would go to the top of it to find collect information.

There, Max finds armed soldiers and the duo activates stealth mode. They are unnoticed by the guards and reach the elevator, where they temporarily get stuck. Eventually, they reach a room where Prometheus was waiting for them. Upon he saw Max, he says that they already knew that he was there thanks to his extensive research involving T.U.R.B.O. Energy emissions. Max says that he did knew his voice, but not him. The villain equips himself with a technological armor and puts on his demon mask, thus revealing to be the mysterious man who took away Max's blue energy. Upon seeing this, Max gets shocked. Terrorax proceeds to inject on himself Terror Energy, which he claims to be superior and more glorious than Max's energy could ever be. He transforms into a monster and the duo is forced to fight.

Max was doing few maneuvers in the sky with his Turbo Jet Pack Mode and decides to surf on the ocean and activates Turbo Wave Rider Mode. After surfing the waves, he meets his Rayne, Alex and C.Y.T.R.O. and asks if Steel wanted to go to the beach, but he refuses. The group then see a big wave coming on their way and Max gets excited. However, the water suddenly disappears and the wave turns into a tsunami. Max commands to C.Y.T.R.O. and Alex to rescue the people from the beach, Rayne to freeze the water with her Turbo Ice Storm Mode while him would save the people from the tsunami. Eventually, Max manages to save them and finds

C.Y.T.R.O. and Alex on the beach. Unfortunately, Rayne had failed in contain the tsunami and it was about to destroy half of Copper Canyon. C.Y.T.R.O. sees a building under construction which they could use as a dam. After doing so, it turns out that the Elementors were behind the tsunami.

Team Turbo fights against the Elementors for a while and in the process, Max gets a message of Steel while their base was blowing up thanks to Terrorax, who had invaded the base to steal the Terror Energy Generator. Max gets worried and shortly after the Elementors retreat. Max and Team Turbo goes back to the base, where he realizes that Terrorax and his minions were behind the explosion and says that him and his team should be ready for anything. Later on, after Terrorax rises once again, he hacks all electronic devices on Copper Canyon and reveals that his ship, the Pantheon, was approaching to the city to force people join the Nexus legion, or otherwise, the city and its population would be annihilated. Upon seeing that, Max decides to go to the Pantheon with his team, but they are interrupted by Team Terror, who attack them on the way.

Max's team is mercilessly taken down by Team Terror while Max was restrained by Monstro's clones. He attempts to go Turbo, but fails and gets ultimately angry and deliberately overload himself to destroy the creatures. After he wakes up, he gets shocked by seeing that Alex had been turned into a bionic panther thanks to a bite from Night Howl and realizes that Rayne and C.Y.T.R.O. had been captured by Team Terror. Max goes to his base and Steel asks why he had brought a "cat" to their hideout, but Max replies by saying that a "weird Night Howl" had bitten Alex and transformed him into a panther.

Steel analyzes Alex and says that were bio-nanites mutating his slowly mutating his cells and that if they weren't destroyed, Alex would stay on that form forever. Max suggests the creation of anti-nanites who would search and destroy the bio-nanites. Eventually, after some research, Steel reveals that Max had to obtain a portion of Night Howl's Terror Energy and use his Green T.U.R.B.O. to eliminate the corrupted cells. Max later on activates Turbo Sniper Mode to invade the Pantheon. He shoots a blast of Green

T.U.R.B.O., which temporarily opens the shield of the ship, and activates Turbo Rocket Launcher Mode in order to get into the ship.

There, Max individually takes down each member of Team Terror. After obtaining the Terror Energy from Night Howl, Max concentrates his Green T.U.R.B.O. to cure Alex. It works and the duo goes to the prison, where Rayne and C.Y.T.R.O. were waiting. After they are freed, the Elementors, now charged with Terror Energy, suddenly appears and Team Turbo activates their Turbo Modes to battle. Max says that they were about to teach them a lesson, but before he could finish his sentence, Water Elementor tosses him out of the Pantheon with his water bazooka. Luckily Max activates Turbo Mountain Attack Mode and eventually goes back to the ship.

On the top of the Pantheon, Max contacts Steel and asks how he would shut down the ship, and Steel leaves a container with the Exo-Suit, a large morphable vehicle that Max uses to implant magnetic polarity inverters on the exponential towers of the Pantheon, which would make the ship run his Green T.U.R.B.O. rather than Terror Energy, consequently shutting down the ship. In the process, Terrorax suddenly shows up and realizes that Max was attempting to ruin his plans. Max temporarily manages to take him down with missiles, but after implanting the last inverter, he finds Terrorax, who transforms into a dragon-like creature. He claims that the era of Nexus would start after Max's death and they start to fight.

After fighting for a while, Terrorax confesses that Max's powers were indeed formidable and asks why destroy it when he could join Nexus. He proceeds to fly on Max's direction and puts his right hand on his face, which makes Max see a vision of what a world dominated by Nexus would be. In this vision, the world fell on chaos and anarchy, Max's friends were killed by Nexus' soldiers and he sees him, Terrorax and Nexus ruling the humanity together while various Nexus agents were glorifying them. Afterwards, Max gets extremely angry and shouts "No!" and states that that battle was about to end. He runs to Terrorax's direction and stabs him with the spinning wheels of his vehicle. With another blow, Max destroys Terrorax's body, but he survives as a mini-dragon and attempts to escape, but Max launches few missiles on him, which makes him fall in a Green T.U.R.B.O. current and burn to ashes.

Afterwards, Max's team appears and the Pantheon goes down. Max escapes and activates Turbo Wave Rider Mode and rides the sea with his friends, thus commemorating their temporary victory over Nexus and his legion.

We were amazed!

Laney: Wow! Max is really amazing!

Shanan: He sure is. I read a lot about the Tachyons. They were one of the most amazing warrior races in the universe and known as the preservers of peace.

Nico: That's right.

Me: Does Max's friends know about him being Max Steel?

Nico: They sure do.

?: Hey there!

We saw Max Steel!

Max: Nico it's been a long time!

Nico: Hey Max!

They did an awesome fist pump and high five and lightning came out of their hands.

Nico: It's great to see you again Max.

Max: Same to you Nico. It's been so long. I heard you now joined Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Nico: I sure did. I am now second in command of the team.

Max: Awesome!

Me: It's a pleasure to meet you Max.

Max: Same to you J.D. It's so awesome to meet you. I love all your adventures and they are awesome. But how can I be sure that you are REALLY J.D. Knudson?

Me: Oh man! Don't tell me that you've been reading those Superior Spiderman Comics as well.

Max: I sure have. How did you know that?

Me: We've had encounters like this before.

Max: Wow. But just in case.

Max just gave me some spicy wings.

Me: What's this?

Max: Spicy wings for you to eat. If you like them, then that proves that Luthor isn't controlling your bodies.

Nico: My favorite.

Steel (Max Steel): And if you don't like them, then me and Max are gonna make you return Team Loud Phoenix Storm to their rightful bodies!

Sunny: (to Superman) Clark, Luthor doesn't like spicy food, does he?

Superman: No he doesn't thankfully.

I ate the wings and belched out fire.

Me: Mmm! Delicious.

Max: You're clean.

Me: Thanks for lunch though.

Yoshi: Look, to reassure you guys, how about we go to N-Tek to get our brains scanned?

Me: Yeah.

Steel (Max Steel): That won't be necessary. I have brain scanning technology on me.

He scanned us and it showed that it was negative.

Steel (Max Steel): You're all clean.

Me: Good. Just for the record, Lex Luthor is dead. He died of extreme Kryptonite Poisoning on his way to a prison on the very farthest outskirts of the universe.

Nico: It's true Max. Before I joined Team Loud Phoenix Storm, J.D. and team defeated him and sent him away. But his disease killed him.

Superman: That's right. Lex Luthor may have been smart in all the fields of technology. But mind control was not one of his fields of work.

Me: That's right Kal. That's more like Brainiac's department.

Max: Wow. I see. Also I heard from all over that you guys are going into war against the Royal Defenders.

Me: You heard right Max. The Royal Defenders are an alternate universe version of us. Except for one huge difference. They don't have me, Nico, Vince or everyone else to keep them in line. They are essentially us gone bad.

Superman: We've had an encounter with something like this before. Have you ever heard of the Justice Lords?

Max: I sure have. That's just terrible that they would cause all that in their universe.

Me: Yeah. But we put an end to them and locked them up.

Max: I'm just glad the Royal Defenders haven't met a version of me where they come from.

Notacon: You think they're bad now? They killed their version of Ruth!

Me: That's right. We gathered a lot of intel on them and they have recruited many people and are demoralizing people left and right. We have to stop them by any means necessary.

Dead End: The end will come for the Royal Defenders soon enough. And then, no one will even remember them except us.

Roger Smith: How about I run them over with my limo?

Klaus: (German Accent) These aren't people who stiffed you out of your money. These are fucking heroes turned tyrants!

Me: That's right and we have to stop them at all costs. That's why we're going into war against them. To make sure that they never terrorize their universe ever again.

Rubberband Man: Can we see where you go to school, Max?

Max: Sure.

We went to Max's awesome school and it was really cool.

Me: Wow. So this is Copper Canyon High School.

Nico: Just as awesome as I remember.

Max saw the wedding ring on his finger.

Max: Nico are you now married?

Nico: I sure am.

Nico: Wow! Congratulations buddy. Who's the lucky girl.

May: You're looking at her. My name is May Chan.

Max: It's a pleasure and congratulations to you both.

May: Thanks Max.

Me: We're so happy for both of them. Just like Vince and Carol, Tara and Beast Boy and Sora and Kairi.

Kairi, Carol and Tara showed their rings too.

Max: Wow! You guys are very lucky.

Sora: Luck has nothing to do with it.

Kairi: But thank you.

Max: Sydney is an awesome girlfriend to me now. Ever since we rescued my father.

Nico: Your father is alive!? I thought he was dead?

Max: A lot of things have happened since you were gone Nico.

Kup (to Max): Does Sydney know about your superhero life?

Max: She does and she is now the most awesome girlfriend ever to me now.

Me: Cool.

Sydney Gardner then came.

Sydney Gardner: Hey Max. Wow! Team Loud Phoenix Storm. It's such an honor to meet you all.

Me: Same to you Sydney. It's a pleasure to meet you as well.

Nico: Good to see you again Sydney.

Sydney Gardner: Nico! Wow! You are looking good.

Nico: I sure am. I'm now second in command in Team Loud Phoenix Storm and J.D. is like an awesome brother to me as well.

Me: Yep.

Sydney Gardner: Cool!

But then Nico got grabbed by none other than Dean and Jake, two bullies that Max knew.

Dean: (to Nico) Some hero you are!

Nico: Excuse me?

Jake (Max Steel): If you had just killed Toxzon with Max Steel, then he wouldn't still be causing destruction!

Time Force Dash: Why don't you jerks lay off?!

Nico: (guilty) No, guys. They're right. I didn't kill Toxzon before. Everyone he's ever hurt is because of me.

Me: Who the heck is Toxzon?

Max: You guys would hate him. He's one of my most dangerous enemies.

Max told us everything about Tytus Octavius Xander A.K.A. Toxzon.

---

Toxzon, formerly known as Tytus Octavius Xander, was one of Max Steel's enemies introduced on Season 1. He was a mentally unstable scientist who supposedly would create a cure for all toxins, but instead he was turned into a mutant with the ability of controlling toxins and create toxic monster minions named Goopanoids. Toxzon was voiced by Andrew Francis, and debuted in Cleaning House.

Toxzon made his first appearance in the episode Cleaning House, appearing as a man named Tytus Octavius Xander. When he was fired of THI by Molly McGrath, he tried to get revenge on everyone, but when Max Steel appeared, Fishy was in danger and he tried to save him when he fall on toxic waste, which caused a mutation on his armor and structure. He later fought against Max but ultimately lost and escaped with Fishy, promising revenge against humanity.

In C.Y.T.R.O Attacks!, he controlled Berto's new and updated C.Y.T.R.O. to steal a very dangerous and potent bomb called Tox-

Bomb from N-Tek's Chemi-Vault, as his new plan of contamination. When Max found Toxzon's hideout, Berto managed to control C.Y.T.R.O. again, later launching a new and powerful weapon to Max Steel called Turbo Blaster, that defeated Toxzon, whom later was captured when was trying to escape. At some point, he was later neutralized.

In Supermania, Toxzon escapes from N-Tek's prison, and he absorbs a new toxin, with the plan of contaminating Copper Canyon's water supply by spreading his poison in the sky, creating a Acid Rain. Later, Toxzon managed to create the Acid Rain and new powerful Goopaniods, but Steel eventually found a way to stop the rain, by neutralizing Toxzon, which consequently would neutralize the rain. He later escaped, and possibly went to the sewers.

In The Secret Admirer, Toxzon turned some persons into Toxic Zombies for weeks. As a part of his plan, he sent flowers to Molly McGrath, and when she smelled the flowers, a toxin went inside her and controlled her to go to Toxzon's secret hideout. There, through a machine, he created a female version of himself, named Toxziana, together, they started to attack Copper Canyon, and Max Steel and N-Tek appeared. When Toxzon destroyed some Jump Jets and the fall on the water, he followed them, and when he was deep in the water, Forge warned him that he was in salt water, which destroyed Toxzon's toxin, making him get weak and sink in the water. Fishy scolded him for not knowing that, but the glass broke and Fishy start to float in the water, while Toxzon was sinking deep in the ocean.

In Gone Fishin', Toxon starts to contaminate the oceans, mutating the fishies into toxic beings like him. When Max Steel, alongside with N-Tek, was investigating the ocean, a giant piranha cam in their direction, and Toxzon saves him, later saying that he wouldn't stop until he gets Fishy back. In N-Tek, Max Steel and Berto tried really hard to create a new copy of Fishy that would looks like the real one, and when they reached the result and showed to Toxzon, he eventually recognized that wasn't Fishy and destroyed it. He started to attack the N-Tek Agents with his new and enhanced Goopaniods, but he stopped when Ferrus gave him the real Fishy, who convinced Toxzon to absorb all the toxins from the ocean, making him more powerful than ever. Toxzon attacked Max Steel and sunk him in the ocean, and went to Copper Canyon, but Max came back with a glass tank, which later locked Toxzon there. After all, Toxzon was happy with Fishy's companion.

In Pick Your Poison, N-Tek, for the first time, was in disadvantage against Ultimate Elementor's combined attacks, and decided to get Toxzon's help. Though that firstly Toxzon wasn't expecting to help N-Tek, Steel eventually managed to convince him. He wanted to meet Ultimate Elementor personally, and when Max Steel found him, he got a sample of him, which later made Toxzon create a successful sample that would stop Ultimate Elementor. In a fight against Ultimate Elementor, Max Steel managed to launch the sample on Elementor's head, temporarily paralyzing him, while Toxzon revealed that the serum was actually a hypnosis serum, which successfully hypnotized Ultimate Elementor, that freed Toxzon from the giant container. He absorbed the toxin residing on Ultimate Elementor, and got a new mode, however, when he was trying to defeat Max Steel, he activated a new Turbo Mode that eventually managed to defeat Toxzon and Elementor, that turned to its normal form. Since Elementor was normal, he started to attack Toxzon and followed him, for everything that he done for them.

On Season 2, Toxzon appears less times than the previous season, appearing again in the episode Toxic Relationship. When he was stealing information from a laboratory, a Makino Ship came, and launched an Ultralink that would intentionally link with Toxzon, but it eventually linked with Fishy, when Toxzon tried to escape, failing miserably. Upon the transformation of his beloved Fishy, now Plaztek, Toxzon tried everything to get him back, and ended up helping Plaztek in destroying the world with the intention of deceive him. When Max and N-Tek forces came, they started a big showdown, where Toxzon betrayed the alliance with Plaztek and tried to get Fishy back from what it costs, but he got unconscious after being hit by Plaztek, who was later perforated by Max Steel's Turbo Drills. Toxzon later woke up, seeing Plaztek fall down in the ocean, and jumped in the water in his last attempt of helping and freeing Fishy, but Toxzon is forced to go, since he could die if he stayed with Fishy. He later promised revenge against Max Steel.

In Digital Meltdown, Toxzon tried to avenge Fishy with his voice recognizer, since he would be able to identify Max Steel's voice in the popular video game of Max Steel. When he finally identified their voices, he later made an Ultralink link with the device that emulated the video game, creating Avatak, who was captured by him and forced to play in the video game. With Elementor's hypnosis serum, Toxzon forced the players, which were on a competition, to play the game and defeat Max and Steel, everything in a rush, since there was a countdown of 15 minutes. When Steel was defeated in the game, Max managed to defeat Avatak by using a bug in the game, also killing him in the real life. Toxzon later angrily threw the video game out of the sewers.

Later, with Fishy's loss, Toxzon started to slowly decay, as seen in A Germ of an Idea. When Jason Naught infected the Daedelus Plataform with a electronic virus of Toxzon, Max & Steel are forced to invade Toxzon's secret hideout. There, they see what happened with him, and take him to N-Tek, since he was the only which knew how to disable the virus. However, Toxzon was incapacitated of answering anything, and Max and Steel were forced to enter on his body, where they injected a substance that woke up Toxzon. He later helped N-Tek, and disabled the virus of Fishy, later being arrested to the prison of N-Tek.

Later, on The Final Countdown Part Two, he is briefly seen in the prison alongside with the other villains. However, when the Alphalink start the process of absorption on Earth, the bars of the prison are disabled, and he escapes of there alongside with the other villains. Since then, his whereabouts were unknown.

Toxzon reappears with a blimp that he built, trying to infect Copper Canyon with dangerous pollutants, until Max and Steel comes. Eventually, the blimp is taken down by Max Steel, but Morphos manages to stop the blimp, later gaining a fame between Copper Canyon citizens, who referred him as a hero. Morphos manages to absorb Toxzon's powers and he is the first to be arrested to the prison.

Eventually, after Copper Canyon was entirely mutated into mutants similar to Morphos, Toxzon, alongside with other villains, were freed from the prison and later team-up with Max Steel in order to stop Morphos once for all. Toxzon fought against some of Morphos' henchmen and managed to defeat some of them. When Toxzon tried to stop Morphos, he used his own powers against Toxzon, declaring that he knew his intentions of wiping out the humanity.

After Morphos was defeated with Max's Turbo Exo Strength Mode, Toxzon escapes with other villains and his whereabouts were unknown.

After two years since the events of Maximum Morphos, Toxzon is recruited by Professor Mortum to find the powerful Connect-Tek. At first, Toxzon was curious about how Mortum managed to find N-Tek's secret bases and was skeptical about Mortum's plans at first, but he later on decides to work with him.

When the Elementors were fighting over each other because of the Connect-Tek, Toxzon suddenly appeared and released a toxic gas that knocked them down and he stole the Connect-Tek and N-Tek's technology and ultimately escaped shortly after Max woke up.

Upon seeing Tempestra and La Fiera unconscious, Max decided that it would be best to fight against Toxzon and his minions on his own. After fighting against few Goopanoids, Max comes across Toxzon, who is quickly defeated by him.

Later on, Toxzon teams-up with the Elementors and Extroyer and he fights against Max Steel, who was using his brand new Turbo Prime Mode. Toxzon launches various corrosive Goopanoids on Max, yet he manages to dodge most of them. Eventually, Max launches a T.U.R.B.O. Energy wave on Toxzon's direction, which he tries to avoid, but it ultimately hits him and damages his armor. It is unknown if he survived.

Toxzon only made a cameo appearance. His helmet and hoses were seen being stored in a room on Team Turbo's base, suggesting that he was dead or either cured from his mutation.

We gasped in shock!

Laney: He's a freak of nature and a monster!

Me: That guy is fucked up six ways to Sunday!

Vince: He sure is. Now we have to make sure he pays.

Dean: Oh man! Team Loud Phoenix Storm!? I didn't know Nico was with you guys now.

Me: It's all right. But at least now we can help Nico finish what he started with Toxzon and kill him.

Lana: That's right!

Kwame: We don't ever tolerate anyone hurting our planet and he will pay for it just like our enemies did.

Wheeler: That's right.

Linka (Captain Planet): (Russian Accent) He will pay for his crimes just like our enemies did.

Lincoln: They sure will.

But then we got a call from Gaia.

Gaia: Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

I knelt down.

Me: Lady Gaia. What's wrong?

Gaia: Toxzon is causing trouble by the piers of Copper Canyon. You have to stop him at all costs.

Me: We're on our way!

Max: Wow. Who was that?

Me: That was Gaia. She's the Spirit of the Earth and the embodiment of our planet. We helped her and the Planeteers kill all their enemies last year in one of the most charitable weeks we've ever done for the planet.

Max: Wow!

Sydney Gardner: Wow! That's incredible!

Dean: It sure was. I've read all about that in the newspapers and you guys did awesome then.

Jake (Max Steel): You sure did.

Nico: Thanks guys.

Me: Now we have to go kill Toxzon. Here's what we do.

We huddled and I revealed my plan.

---

Later at the pier, Max was confronting Toxzon and he was amazed that he was still alive.

Max: I'm amazed you're even still alive Toxzon.

Toxzon: Too bad you won't be alive when I'm through with you. I will make you pay for what you did to fishy.

Max: Not if I kill you first.

But then a huge tree grew in an instant and the singing of fairies was heard as leaves were falling.

Toxzon: Trees and fairies? (laughs) Looks like your friends aren't coming!

Steel (Max Steel): They're just a little late. That's all!

Max: (telepathically to us) Guys, I don't hear any Phoenix Cries. What's going on?

Giant pods came down from the tree and opened to reveal us and we were ready.

Me: Sorry we're experimenting with entrances to add variety. Our Phoenix Cry entrances were getting predictable.

Max: Oh.

Toxzon: So you all are Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Me: That's right Toxzon and now we're going to kill you.

Nico: (to Toxzon) I should've killed the last time we fought before I joined Team Loud Phoenix Storm!

Toxzon: (smirks) But you didn't. And everything that's happened because of me is on you.

Me: We're going to finish what Nico started and make sure you die.

Toxzon: (Laughs Insanely) I will…

I fired energy blasts at him and blasted his suit apart in various places and he revealed his face and he was infuriated.

Me: You make me sick Tytus! Prepare to die!

Ebon, Chalmers and Wiggum appeared.

Me: Ebon, Chalmers and Wiggum.

Wiggum: It's good you're here.

Max: Are you guys part of the Masters of Evil?

Ebon: We sure are.

Me: They give us one helluva challenge and we became friends with them. We call them our Frenemies. You heard of what happened after the Battle of Thanos?

Max: I sure did. That was a terrible battle.

Me: Yeah. One of the most devastating battles in the universe. We suffered 2 casualties: Ra's Al Ghul and Bowser.

Max: I'm sorry.

Me: Yeah. The Masters of Evil filled in for the Legion Of Doom after they disbanded.

Nico: Yep.

Chalmers: (to Max) Did Nico tell you that he got married to May and they had kids?

Max: He did. I'm happy for him.

Wiggum: That's good. After this, you should meet said kids.

Max: We will.

Sydney Gardner: I bet they are really cute.

Wiggum: They are adorable.

?: I bet they are.

A figure came out and it was VAMPIRUS from episodes 23, 24 and 25 of Season 3 of Mighty Morphin!

---

Vampirus is a monster. Vampirus hatched out of an egg that was place along with Tenga eggs. It was sent after Ninjor in an attempt to claim the Temple of Power, but his attack only made Ninjor angry and Vampirus was beaten by Ninjor's Samurai form before he was destroyed by the Ninja Megafalconzord.

He alongside Artistmole later appeared as a divide and conquer attack devised by Rita Repulsa and Lord Zedd.

---

Ninjor: Vampirus!

Tommy Oliver: Not this freak again!

Me: I remember you! You were sent after Ninjor to claim the Temple of Power.

Vampirus: That's right. Mistress Vypra was right about you J.D. You did watch us all on TV.

Me: Never missed an episode.

Vampirus: (to Ninjor) You and I have a score to settle, Ninjor! And this time, your Samurai form won't be enough to save you!

Me: Not if Nico and the Megaforce Rangers have anything to say about it.

?: We'll see.

A figure came out and it was WHITE BASTION! This was Bastion Misawa brainwashed by the Light of Destruction! Except he had white hair and an Obelisk White Uniform.

* * *

At one point during the second year, angered by the fact that he was not considered for entry into the Society of Light, Bastion challenges Sartorius to a Duel in order to prove his strength and disband the Society. Chazz, however, takes Sartorius' place, and although Bastion has the means of being victorious, Sartorius takes advantage of his self-doubt and desire to be accepted, convincing him to intentionally lose to Chazz and finally join the organization.

Following his conversion, Bastion is relegated to the sidelines, watching helplessly as other Society members are given the opportunity to Duel Jaden and convert other school members into their group, while he himself is assigned no such tasks. He tries to show loyalty to the society by bleaching his hair white, but nobody notices him. When the Genex Tournament started, he tried to challenge Prince Ojin to a battle, but Sartorius battles the latter instead. After weeks of such torture, as well as a conversation with Dr. Eisenstein, he becomes "enlightened" about his worth as a Duelist and as a person and leaves the Society of his own accord to pursue his goals.

* * *

Bastion: That's me!

Laney: Another Bastion!?

Me: Wow! You look really good with white hair Bastion.

Bastion: It does suit me but I would never join an evil cult like the Society of Light.

Lana: Thank goodness.

Max: Who is the Society of Light?

Me: They are another one of our most dangerous enemies. They are a malevolent cult that is out to destroy the entire universe. They worship an evil entity that has caused nothing but eons of pain, death, chaos and destruction. The name of that entity is the Light of Destruction or the Evil Light. It's a malevolent force that is out to destroy the entire universe and it has been brainwashing numerous kids in Duel Academy.

I went over the history of the Light of Destruction and the Society of Light and Sartorius and Max was horrified.

Max: They are THAT dangerous!?

Me: Yes and they are going to destroy the entire universe if we don't stop them.

Sarina: That's right Max. Sartorius is my brother and the man I knew as my brother is dead. He died long ago.

Me: Yeah. I killed him before and now we're going to kill him again.

Max: Wow.

Eddy just gave White Bastion a piece of paper with an equation on it.

White Bastion: What's this?

Eddy: An equation for you to solve.

White Bastion: (looks closely) This isn't an equation! It's just a bunch of random drawings!

Eddy: (laughs) Looks like your tic-tac-toe drawings came in handy, Lumpy!

We laughed.

Ed: It sure did!

Me: Lets power up and take it to them!

Max: You got it! GO TURBO! STRENGTH!

Max turned into his hulking super strength suit and it was awesome!

Me: WHOA! Max you look awesome!

Nico: I'll never forget seeing this.

Max: Thanks guys. Lets get him!

Carly, Dark Spicer and Greiger appeared as well and so did Carly's kids.

Me: Hey Carly. Hey Greiger.

Carly: Let us help you guys against White Bastion.

Greiger: It'll be a good opportunity for us to see Carly's kids use their Earthbound Immortals.

Me: Sweet! Lets get them!

Troy: You're not the only one who can power up, Max.

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Ranger Mode: Techno Bionic team!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Bioman Rangers.

We powered up and went at them!

---

Battle 1: Ebon

---

Lily Loud, Rubberband Man and Inque were facing Ebon.

Rubberband Man: It's gonna be good facing you brother.

Ebon: Same to you Adam.

Inque: Lets do this.

Lily: This is gonna be awesome.

Ebon called out his Gastly, Haunter and Gengar and they went at them and Lily fired waves of glowing water and Rubberband Man smashed Ebon with incredibly powerful superpunches and Inque lashed his Pokemon and knocked them down and Lily's water knocked out Ebon.

Lily: How's that for victory.

---

Battle 2: Wiggum

---

Wiggum was looking for his opponent. When suddenly, swinging on a rope came his opponent, Homer Simpson as Pie Man! And with him was his sidekick The Cupcake Kid!

Pie Man: Feel the frosting of Pie Man!

Cupcake Kid: And his trusted sidekick The Cupcake Kid!

Dash and Notacon were helping them take on Wiggum.

Wiggum: Bring it dessert boy.

Notacon: Lets dance!

Dash (Time Force): Bring it.

Wiggum sent out his Mamoswine and Emboar and they went at Wiggum and his Pokemon. Homer threw a pie and it splattered in Wiggum's face and exploded and Bart fired cupcake bombs and they hit Wiggum and exploded!

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOMMM! KRABBBBOOOOOOOOMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOMMMMM!
KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOMMMM!
KRABBBBOOOOOOOOMMMM!

Dash and Notacon fired waves of energy and they slammed into Wiggum and his Pokemon and exploded all over them and sent them crashing into the walls. Knocking them out.

Pie Man: Don't do the crime if you can't to the Key Lime!

Cupcake Kid: Yeah!

---

Battle 3: Chalmers

---

Winx Club Stella, Michael Morningstar and Sunny Tennyson were facing Chalmers.

Stella (Winx Club): Time for you to know the light of good.

I formed a bow of fire and it had an arrow of pure atomic energy.

Me: ATOMIC STYLE NINJA ART: THERMONUCLEAR ARROW OF DEMISE!

Nico fired a Kamehameha Wave and I fired the arrow and the blasts hit Toxzon and once they were far out across the ocean they exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The explosion completely obliterated Toxzon in an instant and there was nothing left of him. Not even an atom. We saw a massive mushroom cloud and we saw that it was a massively powerful explosion.

Nico: Unbelievable. Toxzon you have failed this universe.

Me: Yes he has. But he is gone for good. His energy signal is gone forever.

Laney: Good riddance.

Toxzon's evil spirit then appeared.

Nico: You will never be welcome on our planet again.

He held out his hand.

Nico: HAKAI!

Toxzon glowed purple as he screamed in excruciating pain as he was being completely obliterated. He was erased from existence for all eternity as if he was never born at all.

The Masters of Evil then came.

Ebon: Good riddance to him.

Nico: Yep.

Ebon: (to Sydney Gardner) So, is Max planning on proposing to you?

Sydney Gardner: We're not at that stage in our relationship yet.

Chalmers: Well, that's fine with us.

Wiggum: (to us) Looks like another addition to our ranks against the Royal Defenders.

Maria: I know. I'm liking our odds already.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: It was awesome to help you Max. But we're not out of the woods yet. We need all the help we can get to combat against the Royal Defenders and we could use the help of N-Tek.

Max: I'll see what I can do. But we'll gladly help all of you against them.

Me: Thanks Max.

Max Steel: (To the viewers) We need a lot of help to take down the Royal Defenders. But now my enemies are also Team Loud Phoenix Storm's enemies as well. So look out enemies. We're coming for you.

Me: That's right.

We went back home. With 3 days left till the war, we had to be ready.

THE END

---

Another awesome chapter done.

Max Steel is an awesome series! It was awesome back in 2013 and more and it was awesome how Max Steel went from normal boy to alien powered superhero. NicoChan11 got me into it and he gave me the ideas for the chapter. Thanks man. Next up is where we capture the nefarious traitor of the Kids Next Door, Numbuh 12 and ever since the events of Operation: S.L.U.M.B.E.R. she remained at large and now we will finally bring that brat in and decommission her forever. That traitor will pay!

See you all tomorrow

The Kids Next Door Traitor

In the estate we were watching TV and reading books. Tomorrow was the eve of war and we had to make sure that we were gonna be ready for anything.

Carly Douglas was tutoring a rather unlikely guest.

Spicer: What kinda homework you doin'?

Carly Douglas: I'm not. I'm tutoring a kid who lives near us.

Tundra Man: Oh, that's so nice of you.

Carly Douglas: Well, his dad is paying me.

Spicer: Good, 'cause you owe me 24 bucks for the pork roast. (pokes her)

Carly Douglas: (laughs and pokes back) Stop. Stop it!

Me: Yeah you owe that money porker.

Carly laughed.

Max Terrence: (comes in) Hey. The soap in your bathroom smells awesome.

DUN DUN DUUUUUUUUUUNNNNNN!

Spicer: (screams in shock) Him?! You're tutoring him?!

Carly: Yeah, that's Max Terrence.

Spicer: I know that's Max! Max is evil! (points chair at Max Terrence)

Carly: (takes chair) Jack!

Spicer: He's my arch-nemesis who's not in the Masters of Evil! Once, he tried to hit me with a racquetball racquet, and then he tried to smack me around, and then another time he locked me in the basement and squirted me with a suspicious liquid!

Carly: Suspicious liquid?

Max Terrence: I never did that stuff.

Spicer: Just back the fuck up! (points blaster at him)

Carly: (pulls Spicer away) What the Hell is the matter with you?!

Spicer: You've let my enemy penetrate my inner sanctum!

Carly: He's a nice kid.

Spicer: No. He's gonna do bad things to me!

Carly: You need to go take a hot bath or something.

Spicer: Bath?

Me: Hey what's going on here?

Spicer: That kid Max is evil. He's the kid I told you about that kidnapped me after I got that job as the Doorman.

Me: I see. I do sense evil in him.

Spicer: Yeah. He tried to kill me and I got him grounded.

Me: He just will never learn.

---

Carly: (sits back down) Sorry, Max. Where were we?

Max Terrence: Nine hundred divided by 12.

Carly: Right, and the answer is…

Max Terrence: Seventy-five?

Carly: Perfect!

Max Terrence: Yay, I'm learning!

Carly: Okay, let's check out your homework assignment for tomorrow.

While Carly's back is turned, Max makes an evil face at Spicer.

Spicer: Carly! (points at Max)

Carly: (alarmed) What? (sees Max with innocent expression)

Spicer: Nevermind!

Spicer opened a kitchen cabinet and the door fell off. Annoyed, Spicer tried opening the fridge and the door to that fell off as well

Spicer: (in realization) Max!

Max Terrence: (appears behind Spicer) Hello.

Spicer: Ah! (points blaster at him) All right, you son of a bitch. You are in major trouble for this. (Max sprays him with dog poop and runs off) Carly! (tastes dog poop and is disgusted) Oh, why did I taste it?

YUCK!

I gave Max the finger gesture for I'm Watching You.

Spicer comes in with his goggles covered in red slime.

Carly Douglas: What happened?

Spicer: You wanna know what happened? That little pimple filled my goggles with red slime.

Stacy Bolton: Eww! What is that?

Spicer: I wish I knew. (about to taste it)

Carly: Don't taste it!

Spicer: Right. It's so gross!

Max Terrence: Want me to get you a paper towel?

Carly: Aw.

Spicer: Don't go "aw!" He did this!

Max: I did not!

Carly: Stop picking on him. Just use your other goggles.

Spicer: This is pretty much the only goggles I own.

Carly: Fine. Then me and Stacy will go get some paper towels. Then I'll go get it. You need to calm down and take a bubble bath or something.

Spicer: You know bathing isn't the answer to everything.

Carly and Stacy went upstairs. But not before Stacy gave Max a glare.

Spicer: All right, Max. Now you listen to me. I know what you are. You may have Carly fooled, but I know exactly what you-

Max pulled Spicer to him, throws him to the floor and starts beating him up.

Carly Douglas: (comes back down with Sunstorm) Here's some paper towels (sees Spicer on the ground) Why are you on the floor?

Max Terrence: (innocently) Maybe he had a stroke.

Spicer: (gets up and starts dragging Carly) Come with me!

Carly: I'm not finished tutoring Max.

Spicer: This will just take a second.

Carly: Jack!

Spicer: Don't protest.

Carly: Spicer!

Spicer: Just come on! (Sunstorm follows them)

Carly: (they go into Lisa's room) I have to finish my tutoring session with Max!

Spicer: Shh. Look at this. (gestures to screen)

Carly: Is this Lisa's room?

Sunstorm: It is. She can view anyone from her through video cameras throught the estate.

Carly: Okay, I really don't have time to-

Spicer: Watch this. Take a look at what happened downstairs two minutes ago.

Carly: I don't want to.

Spicer: Just watch it!

Carly: Ok!

She saw the footage and was shocked at what she saw.

Carly: That lying little brat!

Spicer: You see? He grabbed me, pulled me over the couch and then wailed on me.

Me: What a jerk!

Sunstorm: You gotta start working out.

Spicer: That's not the point! (to Carly) Now you know I was right. He's evil and I want revenge!

Carly: No. I know how to get him back. Trust me.

Spicer: Okay.

Carly: (squeezes his arm) You do have to start working out.

Spicer: Stop squishing it.

Me: Lets go crack that kid.

---

Carly Douglas: Hey, Max, sorry to keep you waiting.

Max Terrence: Oh, it's okay. I Drew you a flower. (shows her picture)

Carly: Aw. You are so sweet. Anyway, since you've got your big test on Monday, we should go over the new international math laws that were just passed by the UN.

Max: International math laws?

Carly: Uh-huh. They made some changes, so we gotta make sure you understand all the new rules. Now, the biggest news is, they've created a new number.

Max: A new number?

Carly: Yep, between five and six. It's called derf.

Max: Derf.

Carly: Right. And it looks like this. (shows him drawing)

Max: Huh.

Carly: That's a derf. See?

Max: Oh.

Carly: So, now, it goes: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, derf, 6, 7, got it?

Max: I think so.

Carly: Good. And so then it goes: 13, 14, 15-and what's next?

Max: Derfteen?

Carly: Wow. You catch on fast.

Max: Thanks.

Carly: So, if we take 12, and multiply that by 81, and then divide it by two, we get…

Max: Four hundred and derfty-seven?

Carly: Awesome! (high fives Max)

Max was ready for his test.

Me: (In my head) You're guaranteed for failure.

* * *

Later Mr. Terrence and Max came in.

Carly Douglas: Hi, Mr. Terrence. Hi, Max.

Mr. Terrence: Carly, I just wanna let you know that we're not gonna continue with the tutoring. Max failed his math test.

Carly: I'm sorry to hear that.

Mr. Terrence: Oh, no. It's not your fault.

Blurr: What happened?

Mr. Terrence: He made up some fake number called derf.

Carly: (innocently) Derf?

Max Terrence: I learned it from you.

Mr. Terrence: Okay, that does it, Max. If you're gonna blame Carly for your failure, I'm gonna ground you for three weeks.

Max: Dad!

Edward (Camp Lazlo): Mr. Terrence, you know, when Camp Kidney was in danger of closing down one time, me and my friends were going to be sent to Math Camp for the rest of the summer.

Mr. Terrence: Math camp?

Max: Math camp?

Edward: Yes. Here's a brochure. (shows them brochure)

Mr. Terrence: Ooh, Camp Addemup. This looks perfect.

Spicer: (smirks) Enjoy your summer, Max.

Blurr: Don't be a stranger.

Mr. Terrence: Let's go, son.

They left.

Me: Good riddance to that brat.

---

Later me and Captain America were watching 2016's Captain America: Civil War and I was beginning to see some similarities with the movie and the Royal Defenders. Captain America facing his own fellow heroes is very identical to what is gonna happen during the war with the Royal Defenders.

Me: Wow. Steve this is exactly like what's going to happen when we fight in the war. It'll be like we're going up against our own friends.

Captain America: It sure will be like it. Except these are our friends turned evil.

Me: Yep.

Later me and Qin were watching a recap of our incredible battle with the Justice Lords from the events of Not a Better World and it was an epic fight we did.

Me: The Justice Lords were a worthy adversary.

Qin: It's hard to imagine that the Justice Lords were the Justice

League turned evil. And all because their Lex Luthor killed their version of The Flash.

Me: No kidding. And the catalyst that turned the Royal Defenders bad was the Bad Luck Karma Nightmare that happened to their Lincoln.

Qin: Wow.

Me: And to add more fuel to the fire, they didn't have me, Nico, Vince or any one of us to keep them in line.

Qin: It's horrible that they are that evil.

Me: I know. But war is only 2 days away and we have to be ready for them.

Qin: How are we gonna present the Declaration of War to them?

Me: That part is easy. Me and Nico are gonna go over to their universe to pretend to fight the Royal Defender and show everyone their true colors so we can have everyone on their Earth turn against them.

Qin: I like it.

Me: Cool.

Qin: When do you present the Declaration of War against them?

Me: Tomorrow. August 21st is D-Day and we're going to make those monsters pay for their crimes. (Eyes glow red) They have plagued their universe for far too long.

Qin: I agree.

---

Later after lunch we got word that Former Kids Next Door Operative turned Traitor, Numbuh 12 is back and she is causing trouble at a park.

---

When the Teen Ninjas attacked, she betrays the KND and gives the Kids Next Door Code Module to Cree, stating that she was almost thirteen and believed that she would have to start working for the teens sooner or later, thus making her the youngest person to work for the teens. Numbuh 86 claims that she was her "only real friend".

She also had a cameo in a flashback in Operation: M.A.U.R.I.C.E., appearing as a younger version of herself with pigtails rather than a ponytail.

---

Numbuh 3: So that traitorous Numbuh 12 is back!

Numbuh 23: I can't believe she was our friend. She is a monster that must be stopped!

Numbuh 4: And she used us to get to the Code Module.

Laney: Numbuh 12 must be really dangerous.

Lily: Yeah I've heard about what she did.

Lola: I remember too. Numbuh 12 is a traitor and she was a spy working for Father the whole time.

Me: Now that Father is dead, we can deal with her.

Numbuh 4: I say we walk over to where she is and kill her!

Numbuh 3: Look, I'm a little mad at Numbuh 12 for betraying us. But I don't want her dead!

Lynn: Kuki, we're gonna have no choice but to kill her. And it's too late for us to stick by our code now. We've already killed Morbucks, Icky Vicky's friends, and the Delightful Kids. One more kid dead won't hurt!

Eddy: Look, if you guys can't come up with a solution, then I know who can.

Eddy left.

Me: Eddy where are you going?

Eddy: To visit my brother in prison.

Me: Okay.

Lori: Why is he visiting his brother?

Me: To get advice.

Luan: I'll go with him.

Me: Okay Luan.

---

At the Georgia State Penitentiary, Tyrone McGee, who had been sitting in prison and working out while serving his prison sentence was approached by the guard in his cell.

Guard: McGee you have a visitor.

Tyrone: Okay send them in.

The guard opened his cell door and in came Eddy and Luan.

Eddy: Hey Big Bro.

Luan: Been a while.

Tyrone: It sure has been a while. Have a seat.

They sat in chairs in his cell.

Eddy: You've been working out bro.

Tyrone: I sure have. Hitting the machines.

Luan: We can see that.

Tyrone: Did you come here to gloat, pipsqueak?

Eddy: Nope. That's not why I'm here.

Tyrone: Lemme guess. You wanna rant out towards me whatever you're feeling right now?

Eddy: Sort of.

Tyrone: Ok. I'll bite.

Eddy: Everyone's out there discussing on whether or not to kill this kid. Because she betrayed some of my friends. It made me think of you. You betrayed the trust that I had in you before. That's pretty much why you're in here.

Tyrone: (guilty) Eddy, the only reason why I'm here is because I wasn't a better brother to you.

Eddy: I won't deny that.

Luan: Me neither.

Tyrone: But I did save you and your two friends from being raped.

Eddy: Well, that's true. But while you were busy coming up with ways to beat me up, me, Ed, and Double D were running for our lives from the Vengeance Express.

Luan: Yeah and it completely destroyed much of Atlanta.

Tyrone: I know. Makes me wish I spent more time being a good sibling to you.

Eddy: Well, you can be a better brother to me when you get out. (smiles) If you want.

Tyrone: (smiles back) You know what? I'd like that.

They got up and were ready to leave.

Tyrone: And Eddy? Killing a kid isn't very heroic.

Eddy: Thanks. You just gave me the answer I needed.

Tyrone: I'm glad bro. And Luan take good care of Eddy.

Luan: You have my word Tyrone.

They left.

---

Later Eddy and Luan came back and they told us everything that Tyrone told us.

Me: All right we'll do it Tyrone's way. We won't kill Numbuh 12. We're gonna have her decommissioned just like we intended to do. Lets get her!

We went out to the park and we saw Numbuh 12 blasting kids with lasers and we landed and Numbuh 3 kicked her in the face and knocked her down and she saw us.

Numbuh 12: YOU!

Me: That's right!

Numbuh 12: I am no longer part of your stupid organization anymore Kuki! So get in my way and I will kill you!

Cree: (to Numbuh 12) Look, Numbuh 12. I know you've been gone for a while but the Teens and Kids are cool with each other now. And as your Teen Superior, I order you to turn yourself in!

Numbuh 12 then laughed malevolently!

Cree: What's so funny!?

Numbuh 12: You are not the boss of me! I make my own rules! And I am my own person.

Webstor, King Hiss and Technus then appeared.

Me: Webstor, King Hiss and Technus. You are the only members of the Masters of Evil left to face.

Technus: That's right. Way to keep track.

Webstor: (to Eddy) Did you real get advice froom your brother?

Eddy: Yes. I did. And it's because everyone else couldn't come up with what to do here.

Technus: At least you didn't bust him out.

Me: That's true.

Eddy: Yeah it is.

Me: That kid right there is a traitor to the TLPS-KND Federation and we have to stop her and decommission her.

King Hiss: We know. She is really dangerous.

?: She is a dangerous one.

A figure came out and it was TECHNICLON!

* * *

Techniclon is one of the Seven Shadows. She can fire missile capsules containing leeches and catch attacks inside a test tube to reflect them back at her opponents. She appeared in Sailor Moon Episode 25, Too Many Girlfriends.

After she was imprisoned in the atmosphere, she was reborn inside Rita, one of the crystal carriers. Zoicite extracted the crystal and turned Rita into Techniclon. She fought the Sailor Scouts, reflecting Sailor Jupiter's attack at Sailor Moon and Sailor Mercury, but was eventually healed by Sailor Moon using Moon Healing Activation, killing Techniclon while healing Rita unharmed.

* * *

Nico: Who are you?

Techniclon: My name is Techniclon and I am the champion of the Negaverse.

Maria: (to Technicion) Why do they call you Technocion?

Technocion: Well, why don't I show you?

She fired energy draining leeches at Maria and just as they were about to get on her, Maria's aura destroyed them.

Shanan: I didn't expect Queen Beryl to have a Sciencsapien in her forces.

Qin: What are Sciencsapiens?

Shanan: Sciencsapiens are a science warrior race from the laboratory planet Chemitra. They are said to be the most scientifically advanced race in the universe and they are always trying to unlock the very secrets of the universe. But Chemitra was under attack by another warrior race that decimated the planet and annihilated much of the Sciencsapiens.

Techniclon: That's right. Very impressive that you know about my species and home planet Shanan. I heard that you know so much about the universe.

Shanan: I sure do.

?: That is very impressive.

A figure came out and it was high class attorney HOWARD X MILLER!

---

X (エックス, Ekkusu (also known as Howard X Miller in the English dub) is a Pro Duelist hired by the Society of Light to duel Jaden, outranking Aster Phoenix in the Pro League (in the dub, he is Sartorius' lawyer, and claims he dreamed of being a pastry chef when he was a child). He successfully reduces the cards in Jaden Yuki's Deck to zero (twice), but ironically loses when he's unable to draw due to the effect of the "Neo-Spacian Glow Moss" that Jaden Summoned on X's field, causing him to Deck Out instead of Jaden.

---

Laney: And who are you?

Howard X Miller: Allow me to introduce myself.

He gave me a business card.

Howard X Miller: Howard X Miller, attorney at law.

Me: I thought you looked familiar. I saw you on TV in commercials. You are a very successful attorney.

Howard X Miller: That's right. It's an honor to meet you J.D.

Me: Aren't you also Sartorius's lawyer?

Howard X Miller: That's correct.

Me: And you also look and sound like the famous late actor Paul Lynde.

Vince: Wasn't he the famous actor from the 1960's show Bewitched?

Me: That's right. And you being Sartorius's lawyer makes you one of the members of the Society of Light.

Howard X Miller: I do look and sound like him don't I? And yes you are right.

Me: You sure do.

Eddy just gave Howard a piece of paper.

Howard X Miller: What's this?

Eddy: That would be me suing you.

He was suing Howard for $100 Nonillion in gold and cash and mountains of jawbreakers of many kinds of jawbreakers from all over the world like he had in his fantasy story in Rock A Bye Ed. Howard snapped his fingers and paid him in said settlements.

Me: Sorry about that. We don't have time for a trial like that. We're going into war in a couple of days with an evil Parallel Universe version of us.

Howard X Miller: I see.

Me: Anyway lets get down to fighting!

Emma: Let's teach this kid the true meaning of friendship!

Megaforce Rangers: Legendary Mode: Dino Thunder!

The Megaforce Rangers turned into the Dino Thunder Rangers!

Me: Lets dance.

Rex Goodwin then appeared.

Rex Goodwin: Let me help you face Howard X Miller.

Me: Thanks Rex.

We went at them.

Leni: This is totes gonna be awesome.

Xion: It sure is.

Karai: (Japanese Accent) It will be fun.

Lucy Loud: Ha. Wicked.

Battle 4: Howard X Miller

Rex Goodwin, Brittney and Luan were facing Howard X Miller.

Brittney: It doesn't feel comfortable with me that I have to fight a well respected attorney who has done so much for the laws of justice.

Howard X Miller: I know. I'll just summon my monsters and you can fight them.

Luan: That works.

Howard X Miller: Good. I summon LEVEL POD and TRAP SLUZER!

He summoned said monsters.

Brittney: Time to fight with zombies. I summon RED-EYES ZOMBIE DRAGON, ZOMBIE TIGER, SPIRIT OF THE PHARAOH, RETURN ZOMBIE, VAMPIRE GENESIS, ZOMBIE MASTER, THE LADY OF WIGHT, PLAGUE WOLF, NIGHTMARE HORSE, SOUL-ABSORBING BONE TOWER, DOOMKAISER DRAGON, VAMPIRE'S CURSE, BLUE-BLOODED ONI, GOKA, THE PYRE OF MALICE, ZOMBIE MAMMOTH, IMMORTAL RULER, FIRE REAPER, HELA, GENERAIDER BOSS OF DOOM and YELLOW-BELLIED ONI!

She summoned said monsters.

Brittney: And we'll be fighting on their home turf. I activate ZOMBIE WORLD!

She turned the area into a world full of zombies and horror.

Luan: WHOA! This is terrifying.

Rex Goodwin: It sure is. I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL

WIRAQOCHA RASCA!

He summoned the Condor Earthbound Immortal Wiraqocha Rasca!

Luan: Now for me! I summon THE AGENT OF CREATION - VENUS, and THE AGENT OF JUDGEMENT - SATURN!

She summoned said angels and she was ready!

Brittney: Lets dance.

Brittney, Luan and Rex and their monsters fired blasts of energy and fire at Howard's monsters and blew them apart. They won. They decided to let Howard go because he is a well respected attorney and it wouldn't be right to throw one of America's citizens of justice into the clink. Brittney may have a heart of darkness but she is not a stone cold monster.

Shanan: You give science a really bad name.

Numbuh 12: I was never your friend! I only became your "Friend" to gain your trust and get the Code Module!

Laney: You fiend!

Lola: Yeah!

Me: Prepare for some serious hurt! (Cracks Knuckles)

We went at her and I kicked her in the face and kicked her in the stomach several times and Numbuh 1 punched her all over and Numbuh 3 kicked her and smashed her face in with cinderblocks and Numbuh 4 gave her a nasty wedgie. Numbuh 86 and 23 smashed and kicked her all over the place and more. Numbuh 12: YOU MAKE ME SICK!

Nico: Numbuh 12 you have failed the Kids Next Door.

Me: Adios muchacho.

I pulled a lever and a plunger latched onto Numbuh 12's face and sucked all of her memories of the KND and everything she did out of her mind. When it was done 2 minutes later she couldn't remember anything.

Me: Now to send this monster to her parents.

We sent her to her parents and told her mom and dad everything and they grounded her for being a bad kid.

King Hiss: Good riddance to that traitorous kid.

The Masters of Evil teleport out.

Me: Well that's it for Numbuh 12. Now we have to get ready and be prepared. War is coming.

Numbuh 86: (To the viewers) We have finally gotten rid of Numbuh 12 and she will never be welcome in the KND ever again.

Me: She will never be welcome anywhere.

Nico: Yep.

Me: Now we have to get ready for war.

With 2 days left till war comes, we had to be ready for anything that comes.

THE END

---

Another awesome fanfic done.

Numbuh 12 is a dangerous kid. After the events of Operation: SLUMBER she deserved to be decommissioned and all that. NicoChan11 gave me the ideas for this. Thanks man. Next up is the calm before the storm as we get ready for the ultimate war against the Royal Defenders. We're also going to explore the past of Starfire and see what happened to her before she joined the Teen Titans. It's gonna be awesome.

See you all tomorrow.

Prelude to War - Starfire's Past

August 20th, 2020

It was the day before War and me, Nico and some of the team and the Masters of Evil were on our way to the universe of the Royal Defenders to give them our Declaration of War.

Me: Those Royal Defenders will pay for their crimes.

Nico: Yes they will. Tomorrow.

We dropped out of faster than light travel and we arrived at the universe the Royal Defenders were in and we saw their version of Earth.

Nico: Wow! The Royal Defenders version of Earth looks so much like our Earth.

Me: Except it is a total dystopian nightmare because of those tyrannical Royal Defenders.

We entered the planet's atmosphere and we landed in the middle of their city of Royal Woods. We saw that it was futuristic as well like our city but not nearly as advanced as our version.

We got out and we saw the Royal Defenders and everyone in the whole city was with them.

RD Lincoln: And just who the hell are all of you?

Me: Greetings Royal Defenders. I am J.D. Knudson, Leader of Team Loud Phoenix Storm. We come from another universe.

RD Lincoln: Ah yes. We've heard so much about all of you and all of your accomplishments. You are widely known across the multiverse.

Me: Not to brag but yes.

RD Luna: So what brings you all to our universe?

Me: We came here to deliver a declaration. I am hereby declaring war on you all.

Everyone in the Royal Defenders Royal Woods gasped in shock.

Me: We got word of your activities in our universe and saw your crimes and we will not tolerate your crimes across this universe any longer!

Nico: That's right. You all have tormented this universe for far too long.

Me: You aren't the first person to try and rule the universe with a sword of injustice. They all failed and so will you.

Everyone was shocked that I would speak such "Nonsense" about their heroes.

RD Lincoln: Why fight us when you can join us in our perfect world.

Me: Not gonna happen. This world is a dystopian nightmare and you rule with fear. And I don't tolerate tyranny or any other crime of that magnitude. That's why we're declaring war on all of you. To stop you from hurting anymore heroes and making people suffer.

We looked at each other with incredible hatred.

Me: We've spent months preparing for the day we'd face you all when the time comes. We've come a long way, Royal Defenders.

Nico: When the time comes, you all will face us and until then, you had better be ready for me when we unleash our full power.

RD Luna Frost: Figures you'd all say that.

RD Lincoln: We put away all the criminals in Royal Woods. But that wasn't enough. Me and Luna have stopped being the hypocrites who believe they're doing the right thing by promoting a world that wasn't perfect to begin with yet they kept letting the REAL evils of the world live over and over again. And as for you guys, you're all done. You had your chance to join us but it's all over now.

Nico: (sighs) Anyone tell you how delusional you guys are?

With lightning speed, RD Lincoln grabbed Nico by the neck, lifting me up.

RD Lincoln: BE CAREFUL HOW YOU TALK TO US.

Eddy: What do you think you're gonna accomplish by fighting us now?

RD Luna Frost: We're going to end this.

Vypra: No. If you were going to end this, you would have killed us already. You could have used one of your ships to launch a missile at us, or have one of your tech guys cook up something. If you were going to end this, you wouldn't need to be here.

Me: That's right. You guys are nothing but murderers and tyrants.

Firefly: Heard you guys killed your version of Ruth.

RD Luna Frost: We had a good reason to! She-

Robo Blaze: She was still your family even after what happened to you two. Go on, Luna. Justify her fate. Justify Black and White's. The Disk Wars Heroes'. Phineas and Ferb's. Penn Zero's. And I take it you plan to take Hawk Moth out as well, right? Go ahead and justify the many lives you've hurt. Tell the world why those people had to suffer for the 'greater good.'

Everyone heard us talking and they were appalled.

Sora: We know what you guys are trying to do. You think we can stop you, and I believe somewhere deep down, you guys want us to.

RD Lincoln: (punches Nico into a tree) SHUT UP!

Luan: (Nico got back up) That would be easier, wouldn't it? If we just shut up? If we just powered up and repeatedly blasted you guys, over and over again?

Fiona: (sarcastically) Well, we're sorry to be so anticlimactic, Lincoln. Especially after all you've done, and everyone you hurt, but we're not going to do that. We're not going to fight you because we don't think there's a way to beat you without killing you and Luna.

Snake: And we're not like you, dude. We're not tyrants.

Me: That's right. We have love, honor, family and friends and you take everything like that for granted. You are heartless fiends that care about no one other than yourselves. Nothing but a bunch of fucking disposable freaks of nature.

Kalin: You know what to do, Morpheus.

Morpheus: Right. (presses button)

All of a sudden, the TV screens were filled with all the good times RD Lincoln had with his family before the Bad Luck Travesty.

RD Lynn: (on screen) Lincoln, we're always going to be a family no matter what, right?

RD Lincoln: (on screen) That's right! No matter what happens, I'll always love you and the rest of our family. That's a promise!

RD Luna Frost: Stop it.

Electro: Unity and Justice.

RD Luna Frost: We're not playing this game with you guys!

Lynn: You guys failed to keep them united.

Me: Big time.

RD Lincoln: WE FAILED?! YOU GUYS FAILED EVERYONE! YOU LET CRIMINALS GO TO JAIL KNOWING DAMN WELL THEY COULD EASILY BREAK OUT AND KILL OVER AND OVER AGAIN!

Shiv: Are you talking about us? Because J.D. and the others took out the more dangerous villains out there.

Lola: And justice? Do you honestly believe you're bringing justice to everyone by doing this? Is this what you honestly think they want?

RD Lincoln: WE'RE DOING THIS FOR THEM!

Dark Spicer: No. You and Luna stopped doing heroic deeds the moment the Bad Luck Travesty happened. And then, you two lost your humanity completely.

Me: That's right! You all make me sick!

Nico: Guess we'll end this before the war even begins. (holds out his hands) HA- (RD Luna Frost freezes his hand)

RD Luna Frost: (raising Nico over her back in a torture hold) No. You're right. We're not going to kill you guys. But we can't have you in a position where you can hurt us or end up making decisions that harm the Multiverse anymore.

Nico: Don't you dare!

But it was too late. RD Lincoln slammed Nico's back down over his version of Mjolnir. Nico screamed in pain and anguish as Nico felt his back snap before he was dropped to the ground.

RD Lincoln: I'm sorry. But you guys are just too dangerous.

RD Luna Frost: Stay down. Lincoln made sure to put all his might as he could to break your back. I'm honestly surprised that you're still conscious. But it makes no difference.

RD Lincoln: We're putting you away with them. You're all going away with all the other villains. Accept it.

Lincoln: No way in Hell! I'd never do what you just did to even the worst of villains!

Me: Me neither!

RD Lincoln: (pins Nico down with his foot) STAY. DOWN. Stop trying to fight us!

Nico: (grins) I wasn't… I wasn't trying to fight you. I was trying to distract you.

RD Lincoln and RD Luna Frost turned and saw the citizens of Royal Woods looking at them horrified.

RD Luna Frost: What- What did you do?"

Nico: We did what we always do, Luna. We found a way to thwart you guys. Now, everyone knows your true colors. But no one has to be afraid of you guys. Not anymore.

RD Luna Frost: (slams her palm into Nico's back) YOU'RE GONNA PAY FOR WHAT YOU DID!

Nico: I want you to remember this moment, Lincoln. I want you to never forget this moment. The day when you and Luna resorted to torture for the 'greater good.'

RD Lincoln: I didn't… I didn't mean to…"

Nico: No. That's right, Lincoln. It's not your fault. You just find someone else whom you can easily stick the blame on. You're no longer a hero, Lincoln Loud. You're just another villain now. And like a majority of villains, you're going down.

Gabriel: NOOROO! DARK WINGS RISE!

Gabriel turned into Hawk Moth!

RD Lincoln: (to Gabriel) So, you were Hawk Moth all along, huh? Well, after I'm done here, I'll pay your version on this world a visit and end him for good!

Before he knew what was going on next, Gabriel grabbed RD Lincoln by the neck, and slammed his head into his face. The result gave RD Lincoln a pain unlike anything he had felt before. Gabriel pulled away to look at RD Lincoln. RD Liincoln was dazed, his nose broken and bleeding from both nostrils.

Gabriel punched RD Lincoln in the chest, and the corrupted hero fell to the ground.

Gabriel: I'm VERY disappointed in you. (gets down on his knees and pounds RD Lincoln in his face) NO MORE. DO YOU HEAR ME?! YOU DON'T GET TO HURT THE PEOPLE WHO REDEEMED ME ANYMORE!

When he was finished, Gabriel got up and knelt next to me.

Gabriel: Nico. I'm going to have to carry you. But bear with me. It's going to hurt.

Nico: Don't worry. I'm okay.

He got up and was better than ever thanks to Sabretooth's Accelerated Healing.

?: And I have seen enough!

We saw a hooded figure punch RD Luna and knocked her down.

We went back to the ship.

Me: Be ready for a huge fight. Because we're going to unleash Armageddon 100-fold.

We got into the ship and took off and the hooded figure handed me a detonator.

Me: What's this for?

Figure: Press it.

I pressed the button and then massive fiery explosions blew apart much of the city. We saw the Royal Defenders weapons repositories, ships and Future Tech Industries explode into massive explosions of fire and then we saw powerful crystals spread energy all over the city.

RD Lincoln: Don't let them get away! Blast them!

But just as they were about to blast us, their powers didn't activate and nothing happened.

RD Lola: Our powers! They're not working!

We left for our universe.

May: I didn't expect that to happen.

Maria: What were you guys expecting? For your warning to play out just like the ones to Sartorious, Phobos, and Nerissa?

May: I don't know.

Red X: J.D., I know I told Robin this before. But you take life way too seriously.

Me: Eh, it's a living. But their powers have been neutralized.

The figure revealed himself. He was a black hair kid with an eye patch and a scar was over his right eye and he had blue clothes and a symbol on his shirt was the Anti-Royal Defenders Symbol.

Ed Cowart: My name is Ed Cowart and I'm the leader and reconnaissance gatherer for the Anti-Royal Defenders Movement.

Me: Pleasure to meet you Ed.

Ed Cowart: Same to you J.D. When I got word about the Royal Defenders and what they were doing over the last couple of years, I formed a huge resistance designed to take down the Royal Defenders. But realizing that we were not gonna be strong enough to take the Royal Defenders down ourselves, I decided to get help. I had heard about all of your achievements and sent you guys all that intel from the shadows to help you guys know who is in the Royal Defenders forces.

Me: So you sent us all that intel on the Royal Defenders.

Ed Cowart: That's right. To help you all get ready for the war.

Me: We greatly appreciate it Ed.

Ed Cowart: Think nothing of it. Me and my team planted bombs inside the weapons repositories and ships of the Royal Defenders as well as Future Tech Industries to reduce their power. And what neutralized their powers were special Power Disrupting Amplification Crystals. They enhance the Power Disruption fields 100-fold and neutralized the powers of the Royal Defenders making them completely powerless. But it will only last for five days.

Me: That is perfect. It'll give us plenty of time to defeat them.

Nico: That's right. Now we have a huge window of opportunity.

Lori: Very ingenious!

Lisa Loud: Indeed.

Me: We owe you big time Ed. Now we must gather our forces. It's time to prepare for war. In 24 hours, we attack!

Everyone cheered.

---

We arrived at our Earth in our Universe and we went and gathered all of our forces. Volcana went around the world looking for her former comrades in the Legion Of Doom. She went and got Gorilla Grodd, Bizarro, Copperhead, Doctor Spectro, Evil Star, The Key, Tala, Weather Wizard, Javelin, Neutron, Parasite, Devil Ray and more. Volcana also brought The Shade out of the Yin-Yang Dimension. Then she went to Arkham Asylum and went to the cell of Edward Nygma A.K.A. The Riddler.

Volcana: It's been a while Eddie. Almost 9 months since the Battle with Thanos.

Riddler: I know.

Volcana: Are you still shaken up?

Riddler: Slowly getting better but it's gonna take a while.

Volcana: I know. But we need your help Eddie. The reason we came here is because we're going into war against a version of Team Loud Phoenix Storm from another universe. They are mocking and disgracing all heroes everywhere and we are going into war to stop them.

Riddler: Really?

Volcana: Yes. We saw them ourselves and they weren't nice at all. They killed practically every single bad guy on their Earth and it is horrible at what they do.

Riddler: That's terrible! All right. I'll gladly help you out.

Volcana: Thanks Eddie.

Riddler came with her.

Nico was talking to King Kai in the Otherworld.

Nico: And that's the story King Kai.

King Kai: I see. I can't believe that the Royal Defenders are causing that much trouble in Universe 23. It's good you're all going over there to stop them.

Nico: Thanks King Kai. I came here to recruit my Saiyan People for the war. We need all the help we can get.

King Kai: I understand. Lets head to King Enma.

They went to talk to King Enma and they told him everything when they got there.

King Enma: So the Royal Defenders of Universe 23 are causing a lot of trouble?

Nico: That's right King Enma and we need all the help we can get to stop them. We're going into war to bring an end to their reign of terror.

King Enma: I understand. In this situation bringing back some of the Saiyans is against the rules. But in this kind of situation we can bend the rules.

He called in some of the Saiyans and he saw King Vegeta, Fasha, Shugesh, Bordos, Tora, Bardock, and even his own dad Keshum and the Elite Saiyans.

Nico: Father, King Vegeta. It's good to see all of you again.

Keshum: Same to you my son.

King Vegeta: We heard about what's going on. We'll gladly help you all out.

Shugesh: You can count on us to help you out.

Nico: Thank you all.

Pikkon then appeared.

Pikkon: Let me help too. I helped Goku when he was here in the Otherworld. He's my Partner.

Nico: You must be Pikkon. It's a pleasure to meet you.

Pikkon: Same here Nico.

On Tamaran, Starfire was gathering all of her people for the war against the Royal Defenders and they agreed to help out.

Zuko called all the Benders of all 4 Nations and they agreed to help out as well. Superman called the Justice League and Captain America and Iron Man called all the heroes of Marvel. The Lantern Corps all gathered. And we called in all the Digimon, all the Sky Knights of Atmos, the soldiers and warriors of Gemina, and many more. Vypra even called in some favors from villains of Marvel, DC Comics and more that have potential to join the Masters of Evil. She even called in the Penguin and Superman even called the heroes of The Incredibles. Optimus Prime and Nico then called all the Cybertronians from all of Cybertron to help. Naruto went and called in all the Shinobi from all over the 5 Great Nations to help and Star

Butterfly called her friends all over Mewni. Rex called in his E.V.O. Friends and Jake Long called in all the dragons and his friends and more. Bai Tza called out her brother Tso Lan and in exchange for helping us in the war she would give him his freedom.

I then called an emergency message in Washington D.C. to tell the world about what is going on.

Me: Attention citizens of the world. This is a Code X12Ω Emergency Message from J.D. Knudson of Team Loud Phoenix Storm. I apologize for bringing alarm to you all but a few days ago, we found out that there is an evil parallel universe version of us that is terrorizing another version of Earth and plunging it into the grip of fear and demoralizing heroes from all over the multiverse. The name of the evil version of us is called the Royal Defenders. They are a tyrannical version of us and less than 4 hours ago we went to their Earth to deliver a Declaration of War against them and in 20 hours, we're going into war against them and making the Royal Defenders pay for their crimes. We are gathering our forces as we speak to combat their forces. We have had a spy working among them that has been helping us gather intel on them to use against them and their forces. This spy also destroyed most of their artillery and vehicles for their forces and used a powerful Power Disruption wave to neutralize their powers for 5 days. Tomorrow morning at 10:00 AM we're going into war against them and we're going to make those monsters pay for their crimes against the multiverse and the planet!

Everyone cheered wildly when they heard me say that.

Our forces have all been summoned.

---

At the estate we had everyone there. But before going into war, we had one loose end to tie up.

Me: Before we go to war, we have to stop Sartorius's satellites from spreading the Light of Destruction.

Nico: That's right. We have to destroy the satellites in orbit to stop them from destroying the world.

Me: And the only person that has the keys is Prince Ojin. He also is in charge of activating the satellites.

Vince: So we have to find him and fast.

Me: We will.

Laney: What does it say about Ojin?

Me: It says here that he is the prince and heir to the throne of a small kingdom in Northern Europe called Misgarth. They are also the command center for the satellites that Sartorius will use to destroy the Earth with the Light of Destruction.

Nico: We have to stop him!

Me: And we will. Dark Spicer told me that he is gonna blow those satellites out of the sky with a superlaser that he built. When Eddy gets the keys, Dark Spicer will destroy the Satellites.

Nico: How does he activate the satellites?

Me: Ojin will activate the satellites with two keys that have to be turned at the same time in a Nuclear Football. The satellite activation box has the same sequence as a Nuclear Football used to arm a nuclear warhead.

Nico: Very interesting.

I then sensed something.

Me: Uh oh. Ojin is coming. I sense that he's outside. Lets get him!

We went outside and in the training yards we saw PRINCE OJIN!

---

Ojin came to Duel Academy seeking information about the "Destiny Hero" cards. He was initially going to Duel Jaden Yuki, but instead he Dueled against Sartorius in the Genex Tournament, as Sartorius had claimed that he was linked to the cards. He gloated that he would defeat Sartorius with one attack, but was defeated himself before Sartorius' first turn even came. Upon his defeat, he fell under Sartorius' influence and provided him with the control switch for his laser satellite cannon, SORA. He returns later in the tournament to retrieve one of the switch's keys given to Jaden by Sartorius' good personality, but fails despite aid from The Light of Destruction. While Jaden and Sartorius face one another in their final Duel, Ojin falls under Sartorius' control once again, and is successful in arming the satellite cannon.

Ojin is aided by his trusted secretary Linda, who has served Ojin since his childhood while she then served as a maid in his parents' house. They shared a special bond that provoked Ojin into taking the blame of breaking his father's scepter so as to save Linda from being fired. But because he had no other friends he often cried at night when he went to bed, and Linda was aware. When Ojin lost to Jaden, he felt abandoned by his so-called friend Sartorius, but Jaden made him realize that Linda had always been by his side as his true friend, and Ojin apologized to Linda for never realizing how much they meant to each other.

He is later chosen by Sartorius, possessed by the Light of Destruction, to turn on the satellite. Linda and Tyranno Hassleberry chase after him but are too late.

His name is meant to be a pun, as "ōjin" is the Japanese word for "royal person".

---

Me: Prince Ojin!

He saw us and with him were Chazz Princeton's former lackey's Taiyou Torimaki and Raizou Mototani!

Taiyou: Chazz!?

Raizou: Chazz!?

Chazz: Taiyou!? Raizou!? What are you two doing here?

Me: You know those two Chazz?

Chazz: I sure do. They were two of my partners before you guys changed me into a better person. You guys remember that I was a mean and bad son of a bitch?

Jaden: You sure were Chazz.

Me: And that was because of your evil brothers.

Taiyou: Chazz!? We didn't know that you joined Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Raizou: Yeah this is a big change for you.

Chazz: I moved on guys.

Me: I thought you two looked familiar. You helped root us on in the battle against Dartz and I talked to all of you during that party. But I didn't know Chazz knew you.

Taiyou: Small world huh?

Raizou: Good to see you again J.D.

Me: Same to you.

Prince Ojin: So you are the famous Team Loud Phoenix Storm. You are just in time to watch as I help bring the world into the light.

Me: You don't know what you are doing Ojin. If you activate those satellites you're going to destroy the entire planet!

My Darkness of Justice Aura flared up.

Prince Ojin: Oh I know exactly what I'm doing.

He had a white aura flare up and it showed that he was infected with the Light of Destruction.

Prince Ojin: And I'm helping everyone see the light.

Just as he pulled out the keys to the box, Eddy pinned Ojin down and tried to get the Satellite Keys.

Eddy: Gimme those keys!

Ojin: Never!

Me: Hold him down guys!

Alexis and Jaden did so and Chazz went and stopped Taiyou and Raizou from getting near Ojin.

Eddy grabbed the keys and gave them to me.

Me: Sorry Ojin, but we won't let Sartorius destroy the planet we call home on our watch. I killed him before and we will kill him again.

Eddy then just gave Taiyou and Raizou atomic wedgies.

Taiyou: Ow!

Raizou: Hey!

Eddy: That's been a long time coming!

Me: Nice one.

Dark Spicer: (On a radio) Dark Spicer to J.D. Do you copy?

Me: J.D. here.

Dark Spicer: I have the satellites in sight. Shall I fire the superlaser?

Me: Yes. Fire.

Dark Spicer had the satellite locked on target and he had his finger over a red button.

Dark Spicer: Make… My… Day!

He pressed the button and it fired a powerful beam of black energy and we saw the Beam hit the satellite in the sky and it exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Me: BULLSEYE! Target destroyed. Good job Dark.

Dark Spicer: Thanks man. Now go get Ojin.

Me: With pleasure.

We then set our sights on Ojin. Me, Roman Goodwin and Faye Carmine were facing him.

Me: It's over Ojin.

Prince Ojin: I think not. I summon my monsters. I summon SATELLITE BASE, SATELLITE CANNON and SATELLITE CANNON BALSAM!

He summoned said monsters. He had 3 Satellite Cannons. But we didn't see them.

Me: Where are your monsters?

He pointed up to the sky and I pulled out my binoculars and I saw his monsters and they were in the sky and they were huge! They were giant satellites.

Me: WHOA! Big satellites. I summon MALEFIC TRUTH DRAGON, RAINBOW DRAGON, BLUE-EYES ULTIMATE DRAGON, and PHOENIX REBIRTH DRAGON!

I summoned said monsters.

Taiyou: I summon ORACLE OF THE SUN!

Raizou: I summon ELECTRIC SNAKE!

They summon said monsters.

Roman: I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL URU!

He summoned the Spider Earthbound Immortal Uru!

Faye Carmine: I summon EARTHBOUND IMMORTAL

HUACACHINA KON, SIMORGH, BIRD OF DIVINITY, THE ATMOSPHERE and ROC FROM THE VALLEY OF MIST!

She summoned said monsters and we were ready.

Me: Lets get him!

We went at Ojin and he went at us and I punched him in the face and Faye fired a wave of white fire and it hit him and exploded!

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!

Roman fired a wave of red fire and I fired a wave of black fire and the blasts hit Ojin and exploded!

KRABBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM

Faye: Try this one! HERON STYLE NINJA ART: FLIGHT OF THE GREAT BLUE HERON!

Faye fired a wave of white fire into the air and it formed into a white majestic Great Blue Heron and it slammed into Ojin and exploded with incredible power.

KRABBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Ojin was defeated and knocked out and the Light of Destruction left him.

I stood with my aura of darkness flared up and it was really radiating so much virtue and justice.

Me: Sartorius, I know you're watching me and I sense that you are going to face us next. Consider this my final warning, nothing you send against us will stop me and when we finally fight, believe me you will answer for your crimes. I will make sure that you suffer and you will pay for all the people that you've hurt and poisoned with your lies and your evil in the name of your sick ambition to destroy the entire universe! I'M COMING FOR YOU SARTORIUS AND I… WILL… KILL YOU!

We had defeated all of Sartorius's minions and now all that's left was to finish Sartorius for good.

Me: Shanan when we get back from war, I want you to find that white hole so we can destroy it once and for all.

Shanan: Roger that dad. I will do my best.

Me: Good. We have 18 hours till the war begins. Lets head to the simulator so we can get ready. I have just the adventure in mind for this.

Nico: Lets do it.

We went to the simulator.

---

We got ready in the simulator. The first few parts are gonna be us watching. We're going to see what Starfire's past was like when she was captured by the Gordanians.

The Simulator activated.

Opening shot: Earth, seen from far away in outer space. The camera tilts down through the starry vastness and stops on a rather unpleasant-looking red spaceship out for a cruise.

Shanan: That's a Gordanian Ship.

Nico: It sure is.

(Its fuselage is in the shape of a large rounded disc, with a narrow spindle topped by a circular projection standing dead center on the upper surface; the bridge. Several spikes extend from the diameter on either side, while two larger ones point straight ahead to flank the main gun.)

(Cut to a closed steel door inside and zoom in slightly to the sound of a drawn-out, muffled, blood-curdling scream. It opens to expose a corridor, along which two winged reptilian humanoids with long tails march into view away from the camera. Each is armed with a long spear; cut to a profile of the pair as they advance into view and pan to follow them. The scream has trailed off into a feral growl and the pounding of distant fists against a wall, and the two creatures continue their patrol. They bear a distinct resemblance to Trident, though their coloration and facial features are somewhat different and their eyes are totally red. Behind them, we can see three glass-fronted holding cells that contain one familiar face each. In the first is a beast who looks very much like Plasmus' original, two-eyed form; the second is home to the roaring space creature that drove the Titans crazy in "Stranded"; and the third pens in a Locrix, one of the aliens Val-Yor pledged to wipe out in "Troq." The two guards are Gordanians; recall that Starfire mentioned their attacks on Tamaran at the start of "Sisters.")

(Now they approach the closed door at the far end of the corridor, which opens to reveal two more posted at a steel-fronted cell with spears crossed. The screams come louder and more intense now; close-up of the door, being pounded hard enough to shake the camera. The very angry occupant is locked behind it, and only a small window slot allows visual contact between the two sides.)

Me: Whoa! Someone is really pissed off in there.

Nico: No shit.

BLAM! BLAM!

(Cut to a pan across the four Gordanians, now all standing at the ready.)

Gordanian 1: The door will hold?

Gordanian 2: It must! (More hollering and banging.)

Shiv: Those are the Gordanians?

Me: Yep those are them. Ugly freaks aren't they?

Gordanian 3: The alien will be delivered on schedule. Lord Trogaar has commanded it.

(Close-up of the slot, zooming in slightly as the door tries to do the mambo; back to the four.)

Gordanian 4: And if this thing gets loose?

Gordanian 1: Then Zorg help us all.

(Extreme close-up of the slot; another piercing scream, the glass cracks, and two burning green eyes rise into view behind it. The guards take a few steps back, bracing themselves for anything and everything, and they get it when one last yell rings out and the door blows outward off its hinges.)

Me: WHOA! That is one pissed off alien.

(Close-up of the steel panel as it crashes to the deck, then tilt up to the stunned foursome and cut back to the open door. The camera zooms in very slowly on the total blackness within the cell; after a very long second or two, the eyes blaze up again and their owner steps out into the light on the start of the next line.)

(The voice and hair mark her as Koriand'r, but a vastly different one from the sweet-natured girl we know. One, she is dressed in the same fashion as her sister Blackfire; black clothing, armored undergarments, metal-colored accents. Two, she wears a face-framing crown similar to the one she was given to wear to her wedding in "Betrothed." Three, her hands and forearms are encased in thick, rigid cuffs connected at both ends. Four, she is, for lack of a better term, just plain boiling mad.)

Koriand'r: Zengtha ru maka! Kek zengtha ror!

(She lunges at the camera. Snap to black when her eyes fill the screen.)

(Opening shot: a long shot of the manacled Tamaranean, charging on with a steadily building roar in her throat. When she gets within striking distance of the four Gordanians, a distinct height mismatch becomes evident, with her on the short end of it. However, this does not stop her from swinging both forearms in a wild roundhouse and knocking one of her captors to the wall.)

Me: WHOA!

Nico: What did she say?

Me: Lets see.

I turned on my translator.

Koriand'r: Zengtha ru maka! Kek zengtha ror! (I will not be held captive ever again!)

(Another big swing dispatches two more; she then tries an uppercut against the one left standing, but he blocks it with his spear and tries a counterattack. He gets nowhere with it, but she slips in a hit that breaks the shaft in two and follows it with a kick to the head. The now-senseless enemy is driven into a control panel on the wall; as he slides down, red lights and sirens start up, triggered by the hit.)

Koriand'r: (whispers viciously) Heska vo. (I'm outta here.)

(Cut to the exterior of the ship, the camera positioned just below its equator. A section of the lower hull blows apart while the fighter flies out through the smoke and flame. An instant later, she has put lots of distance between herself and the Gordanians and made a beeline for Earth.)

(Dissolve to a nighttime overhead view of Jump City Bay and the island on which Titans Tower should be situated. The fact that it is not here gives the first indication that we are not in the present day, but at some point before the Titans' first meeting. Koriand'r's appearance and demeanor now begin to make more sense, in light of the background established for her in the comics. As part of a peace treaty between Tamaran and the Citadel, whose forces had invaded the planet, she was forced into exile as a slave. At some point she fell into the hands of the Gordanians, who trafficked heavily in such captives. Furthermore, the crown marks her lineage as heir to the throne.)

(Pan to the city proper and cut to one street, the camera well above ground level. Sirens wail in the distance; tilt down to frame the street, where a figure runs along the sidewalk and ducks into an alley. A close-up reveals a bulging sack in his hand; a burglar on the run from the police. He looks back toward the mouth of the alley, just in time to see the squad cars race past, and the camera pans slightly to fully frame the sack as he eyes it smugly and walks farther along. Before he can get ten steps away, though, a shadow passes quickly over him; he stops.)

Burglar: Huh?

(With his free hand, he pulls out a crowbar and brandishes it uncertainly. Cut to his perspective, looking up toward the sky and panning from one side to the other and back to the center. Something flashes down from the rooftops on this last movement and resolves into a birdarang, giving away Robin's presence on the scene. Back to the burglar, who loses his hold on the crowbar when the projectile clangs into it.)

Burglar: (stammering and backing up) I don't want trouble, okay?

(A black blur drops into view behind him, at the far end of the alley, and he turns this way to find a pair of pinpoint eyes staring at him from the shadows. They belong to a large bat, one of a thick knot that wings toward the camera with a great squeaking commotion. Throwing his arms up to protect his face, the burglar stands his ground as they flap past. The next voice, deadly serious throws a whole new scare into him, and the camera cuts to the source, mostly hidden in the darkness, on the start of the next line.)

Robin: You should've thought of that before you committed the crime.

Me: Wow! That's you Robin.

Robin: It sure is. I came to Jump City after finding out that Bruce was a jerk.

Me: Wow.

(He advances implacably toward the camera before sprinting in. Letterbox view, top two-thirds of the screen: his high kick finds the chin and slides the burglar back five yards or so. The man runs back toward the interloper; in fullscreen, Robin backs up a bit and blocks the wild punches arcing toward his head before delivering a chop to the breadbasket and a kick to the chest. Down goes the burglar, but the Boy Wonder does not let it rest; he bounds up a wall and pushes away for a boost upward. This move carries him over the criminal's shoulders, and he grabs them for a solid body slam.)

[Animation goof: His gloves partially disappear for a moment during this sequence.]

(Even this is not enough, as Robin drags the human punching bag up off the ground and throws him into the wall, where he slides down, half knocked out.)

Burglar: Hey! This isn't your town! Aren't you supposed to be with-?

Robin: (moving closer) Just moved here. And from now on, I work alone.

(A reference to the end of his partnership with Batman, who trained him as a crime-fighter. The sound of something zooming overhead draws his focus away from the beatdown, and the camera shifts to show a bright green streak slicing through the night sky above the buildings. It traces an arrow-straight path parallel to the alley and disappears behind the buildings on the far side of the street. Well after it has dropped from sight, a muffled explosion is heard and the pale emerald glare plays up from ground level.)

(The young hero's masked eyes narrow for a moment; he then regards the collapsed petty thief as the camera zooms in slightly. Cut to the end of the alley from which Robin emerged, the sound of a rope or lash whistling out briefly before he sprints off in this direction. When the camera pulls back slightly, the burglar is brought into frame-now securely bound, hanging upside down, and with absolutely no clue as to what has just happened to screw up his night. Robin hoists himself over a wall at the dead end and is gone.)

Koriand'r: Slopforn ivortmat! (She slides down the slabs and advances, scaring people off.) Slopforn! Ond gudshik zerrole!

(She growls at a fellow trying to hold his camera straight and take a picture; when the shutter clicks and the flash goes off, she recoils from the glare with eyes squeezed shut. A moment later, she reopens them, still blazing as strongly as ever, and starts swinging her arms every which way with a fresh yell. Most of the onlookers back up even farther than they already have; she pounds the pavement hard enough to put a pothole in it, and an overhead shot of the area shows everyone now breaking for cover.)

(At ground level, the shackled newcomer charges o.c.; a yell, a flash, and she has rendered an unfortunate taxi fit for the junkyard with one blow. Other strikes ruin a bank of pay phones, a bench, and a streetlight or two, and several pizza joint customers stare from the relative safety of the second-floor balcony as it trembles under their feet. When the assault finally stops, Koriand'r stands quietly amid the havoc she has just wreaked in this end of Jump City. Next, she lifts her arms and strains to pull them apart, but with no luck. Evidently, she had no malicious intent, but was simply trying to get free of those enormous cuffs.)

(After a moment's rest, she looks toward the front door of the pizza joint and the camera zooms in on it. There is a pillar here, supporting the leading tip of the balcony. She hurls herself at this and hits it hard enough to buckle and crack it; spectators at the railing can barely stay on their feet due to the resulting vibrations. Back to ground level, where the column's concrete outer layer has crumbled away to reveal the dented steel core, but the alien's bonds are still intact.)

Koriand'r: (swings on each word) Zop! Yark! Mesnef!

(The column buckles farther and farther on each hit, and the last one causes it to give way significantly. With the support compromised, the balcony fractures along the edge where it joins the rest of the building; the people here are thrown to the railing as it tilts toward the street. However, the combined effect of all these bashes on Koriandr's manacles is nil. She catches her breath and raises her arms for one more swing; cut to a close-up of a birdarang in flight. The light glints off one wing, the Tamaranean rushes forward, determined to free herself or die trying, and the airborne weapon bangs squarely into the side of her crown and knocks her completely off balance. Stopping near the column she has just pulverized, she glares back toward the source with a threatening little growl and a pair of eyes that could double as lighthouse beacons for their brightness.)

(Cut to behind her. Across the street, standing on the roof of a parked car, is the spiky-haired deadeye who stopped her cold. A close-up shows him with arms tucked into his cape, which is draped around his shoulders; he throws it back and braces for action.)

Robin: Who are you?

(Instead of answering, she comes up into a leap that carries her all the way across the street, leading into an asphalt-wrecking downward swing. He jumps clear in the nick of time and touches down in a backward skid, but one roundhouse after another forces him to keep bobbing and weaving. As the fracas works its way down the street, the camera cuts to just inside the mouth of an alley. A blue-cloaked figure, its hood up, stands with its back to us and watches Robin leap high over Koriand'r and sling a handful of grenades. These explode in her face, after which the camera cuts to a close-up of the figure; it is Raven, of course, and her impassive face is barely visible in the alley's shadows.)

(Out in the street, the smoke from Robin's grenades cannot quite hide the luminous green pinpoints of the fighter within it. The column evaporates to expose her fully; close-up of Robin, whose eyes suddenly bug out in surprise as he gasps softly, then back to Koriand'r. Hooking one foot under the chassis of a nearby car, she effortlessly kicks it up several feet so that it rotates to point its nose toward the ground. When it is an inch short of splattering its innards across twenty yards of asphalt, she boots it toward Robin, who throws himself flat to avoid catching it with his face. The car sails in a low, level, lightning-fast trajectory down the block and explodes against the building at its end, and Robin stands up to eye the spot.)

Robin: (to himself) Hmm. Stronger than she looks.

(He faces forward, eyes popping again; cut to his perspective just as Koriand'r pastes him hard across the jaw. A flash, and he skids all the way to the trashed pizza joint, only to find her jumping in for another hit even before he can get to his feet. Nothing but air this time, as he dives away, pulls out his fighting staff, and extends it to full length. This time he is the one on the offensive, landing a head shot that propels his adversary into a car parked fifty yards or so away. He steps up; close-up as he brandishes the staff again, but it suddenly crumbles in his hands, having been shivered by that crushing hit.)

Robin: Huh?

(The supremely furious Koriand'r extricates herself from the fresh wreckage, then throws Robin a malicious little smile while working her head around to loosen up her neck.)

Koriand'r: Zota.

(And here she comes for another jumping strike. Before she can reduce the Boy Wonder's skull to powder, though, a green bighorn sheep bounds into view and rams her broadside at full speed. Beast Boy has arrived at just the right moment, and he resumes human form and salutes Robin. He wears the outfit he sported while working with the Doom Patrol, as seen at the start of "Homecoming", the black/magenta outfit of today, black boots trimmed with magenta, the magenta/gray hood and mask. As in the start of that episode, he appears somewhat smaller and lighter than we have come to expect, and he sounds rather younger as well.)

Beast Boy: Ex-Doom Patrol member Beast Boy, sir! How can I help? (His eyes suddenly pop.) Wowzers! You're Robin, aren't you, sir?

(He has let the salute slip in his excitement, but now reestablishes it.)

Robin: Well, you can start by not calling me "sir."

Me: Wow! Beast Boy I didn't know you were part of the Doom Patrol.

Tara: That's a big revelation.

Beast Boy: It sure is but no one ever asked.

(Cut to an extreme close-up of the back of his head and track slowly around it. The green youth's eyes have again gone as wide as saucers and are now shining with the purest admiration; sparkles hover around his smiling face, and that hand is still plastered to his eyebrow.)

Beast Boy: Well, let me just say that it's a real honor to be-

Robin: Beast Boy, was it?

Beast Boy: Yes, sir?

(Robin points off to one side; cut to Koriand'r, who has recovered from the bighorn charge and is straining to lift something over her head. A longer shot reveals that she has picked up a bus, which she slings toward the two boys. They bolt in opposite directions and are replaced by a broad figure in a gray hooded sweatshirt and black pants, whose back is to the camera. Pull back to just in front of Beast Boy, the new arrival visible in profile at a distance. The bus hurtles squarely into his face; instead of being mashed into hamburger, the figure catches it and digs in its heels. Slowly but surely, the vehicle is brought to a stop and lifted by the bumper, and the camera cuts to a close-up of the advertisement on the side as it is bucked up out of view.)

(The movement exposes the figure in enough detail to allow a positive ID. Although the sweatshirt's raised hood casts the top half of the face in shadow, the glowing red left eye gives it away as Vic Stone, soon to be known as Cyborg. One swift heave dumps the bus off to one side, throwing up plumes of dust that clear to fully reveal him and the dark gray gloves he wears.)

Vic: Yo! Who's here messing up my neighborhood? (Beast Boy slides up.)

Beast Boy: (points ahead) She started it!

(Long shot of Koriand'r, standing amid the new stretch of debris and walking up after a moment's pause. The old resolve returns to her steps and face as she approaches, and she brings both arms up and delivers one thundering blow to the pavement; all three boys are nearly dumped flat by the tremors. Cut to ground level, just behind her feet, as the hand ends of the restraints fall free at last, dented and smoking.)

(Head-on view of her legs, tilting up slowly to her face; the forearms of her cuffs are still firmly locked on. When she points her hands straight ahead, the energy of her hitherto pent-up starbolts flickers to life. The trio starts in surprise, whereupon Koriand'r uncorks a machine-gun fusillade that punches into their position and throws up enough smoke to hide them entirely from view. One long, tense moment later, they charge out of the haze and she starts strafing the block.)

(One by one, the boys race through the hail of green blasts, Beast Boy nearly getting his foot shot off in the process. Now Koriand'r's starbolts rip into the surrounding buildings, parked cars, a neon billboard, and everything within at least half a mile. The final salvo fills the screen with smoke and flames, which drift away to expose her in close-up. After a few seconds to catch her breath, she slumps to her knees; pull back down the street, where Robin has taken cover behind the smashed bus, now set on fire due to the starbolt barrage. A shift frames Beast Boy and Vic hunkering down as well.)

Vic: Girl's gonna wreck the whole city.

Me: Whoa! So that's how you met Cyborg.

Beast Boy: Yep.

Robin: I won't let her. (socks his fist into his palm) I won't lose this fight.

(They come out running, but get barely ten yards down the street before a black energy barrier springs up to stop them. A longer shot behind the group shows it in full: the gargantuan, screeching bird-shape of Raven's "soul-self." Back at the scene, another wisp rises from the sidewalk behind them and resolves into her form.)

Raven: Maybe fighting isn't the answer.

(They turn toward her; cut to her feet and tilt up to her face before cutting to a close-up. She glances off to one side and dispels the apparition, leaving Robin with a clear view of the kneeling Koriand'r; smoke is still drifting up from her hands where they touch the pavement.)

Robin: Stand down.

Vic: What do you think, you the boss or something?

Robin: Just give me a chance.

(He starts forward; cut to a long profile shot of the battle zone as he crosses toward Koriand'r, then to her. Once he has closed in to within a few feet, she hauls herself up and swiftly moves toward him with fists charged, spooking him into a retreat of several yards.)

Koriand'r: Gokta!

Robin: (calmly) Easy. My name is Robin, and I don't want to hurt you. (eases his hand to his utility belt) I just want to help.

(Extreme close-up of the hand and the belt, then his perspective of the mean teen fighting machine holding him at point-blank range. She is close to the end of her rope, judging by her increasingly shallow breathing. There is the sound of a tool being pulled out.)

Koriand'r: Gokta! (leans in) Gokta buhovna!

(Pull back to frame him; the fists are now almost right in his face, but the steely vigilante does not even blink. What he does do is hold up a lockpick.)

Robin: It's okay. Look.

(Cut to an extreme close-up of the high-voltage eyes, zooming in slightly, then to a shot of Robin's confidently smiling face and raised hand. Another zoom, after which the camera pulls back to frame both. She cools off, eyes and hands, as he gently pushes her arms down and puts the lockpick to work; for the first time, he can see every detail of the unsmiling countenance, half-shadowed by her crown. After a few seconds of tweaking, she looks down and the camera cuts to ground level as the shackles fall free and thump down between the two pairs of feet. Robin pulls one of his out of the way to keep the things from breaking his toes.)

[Animation goof: Her boots are violet rather than black in this shot.]

(Koriand'r massages her freed wrists wonderingly.)

Robin: There. Now maybe we can be-

(He gets no farther, as she drags him to herself with one hand and kisses him long and full on the lips, causing him to drop the pick. Close-up of the two heads against a glowing white field, then dissolve to a longer shot against the normal background as she lets him go. Her eyes have stayed closed throughout the embrace; when she opens them again, they have resumed their green glow. The next two things she does catch Robin even more off guard than the kiss. One, she shoves him in the chest hard enough to drop him on his back. Two, she starts speaking English, having instantly learned it in the same fashion as her counterpart in the comics.)

Koriand'r: If you wish not to be destroyed, you will leave me alone!

(Despite his generous act, she is still nearly as fired up as she was at the start of this episode. She takes off, gaining enough altitude to disappear into the night sky, and the camera tilts down from here to frame one very confused future Titan. Beast Boy, Raven, and Vic, equally puzzled, gather behind him; there is a long silence, which Beast Boy breaks.)

Beast Boy: (smiling, to Vic) So… I'm Beast Boy. Who are you?

(A close-up of the pizza joint's beat-up front entrance, the camera tilted several degrees off the horizontal. Cut to the bus Koriand'r and Vic threw around, then to a long shot of the foursome in the shot-up street.)

Vic: Well, whoever she was… (Close-up.)… the girl sure knows how to make an impression.

Beast Boy: I think we made a pretty good impression. Crazy space girl's gone, the city's saved, mission accomplished. Right, sir?

Robin: Seriously, stop calling me that.

Beast Boy: (salutes) Roger.

Robin: (walking off) Looks like we're done here. I appreciate the help.

Raven: You're gonna track down the alien?

Me: That's how you all met Raven.

Raven: Yep that's how they met me.

Robin: I have to find out if she's a threat.

Vic: (aside) More like find out if she'll give him another kiss.

(Beast Boy runs after the departing teen, who stops at his approach.)

Beast Boy: Hey, sir… uh… I mean, Robin? Do you maybe-?

Robin: Sorry. I just went solo. I'm not really looking to join a team. (Off he goes.)

Beast Boy: Need a sidekick?

(Nothing doing, so he turns back toward Raven and Vic and gets an idea.)

Beast Boy: You guys want to get a pizza? (Funny sidelong glance from Raven as Vic leaves; he slides up.)

Raven: I shouldn't.

(She heads off as well; Beast Boy looks toward Vic and runs over.)

Beast Boy: Just you and me, then, huh? Cool. (circles him) I-I haven't really had anybody to hang out with since I quit the Doom Patrol. This is gonna be fun. Can we play video game-?

(His last word is cut off when he runs flat into the back of the big man, who has suddenly stopped dead. Close-up profile of the hooded head, which he finally uncovers, then cut to behind him. The back of his cybernetic cranium stands revealed in full detail for the first time, and he turns to throw a healthy dose of irritation at the camera.)

Vic: There! Take a good, long look! I had an accident, and now, I'm a monster, all right? A cyborg!

Me: How did that happen to you Victor?

Cyborg: I was blown up in an accident while visiting my parents in their lab. My father put cybernetic parts on me to save my life.

Tara: Wow!

Me: That's hefty. And Beast Boy how did you get your powers if I may ask?

Beast Boy: When I was born I was diagnosed with a rare and incurable disease called Sakutia. It's also known as Green Fever.

Me: Hmm.

I pulled up the info on it.

---

The virus attaches itself to a victim's DNA, enabling the host body to instinctively rewrite their own genetic code. Typically, a host relies upon primitive instinct when affecting such a change, rendering them capable of shape shifting into a wide variety of forms (usually animals). Sakutia victims suffer from one other noticeable side effect - their hair and skin turns permanently green in hue. The virus aggressively overtakes a host body and is lethal within forty-eight hours. To date, there have only been seven documented cases of genuine Sakutia. Mutated strains of the virus have been shown to prolong life beyond the forty-eight hour expiry time, and carriers of the virus have demonstrated other "changeling" characteristics as well.

Approximately thirteen years ago, Doctors Mark and Marie Logan, along with scientist Samuel Register, established a small research camp in the region of Lamumba. The Logans' young son, Garfield, contracted the Sakutia virus and grew ill, nearly to the point of death. The Logans managed to save their son by developing a serum that mutated Garfield's infected genes. The virus was no longer lethal, but Garfield was left with permanent green skin, and he developed the ability to shape-shift into any species of terrestrial animal. He soon became an adventurer known as Beast Boy.

Years later, Dr. Samuel Register voluntarily infected himself with a strain of the Sakutia virus in the hopes of mutating the strain even further. His goals were to isolate the Sakutia infected cells and manipulate them in the hopes of creating an army of animal men, which he could control. He relocated to San Francisco, California and began inoculating several local children with the mutated Sakutia. The children transformed into many species of green animals and began rampaging through the streets. This frenzy drew the attention of the Teen Titans. Beast Boy confronted Dr. Register and found a means to return all of the children back to normal.

---

We gasped in shock!

Me: Whoa! And only 7 cases of this virus were reported around the world!? That's only a tiny milli-fraction of the entire population and the incidence rate must be astronomical.

Beast Boy: It was. But I was given a serum from a very rare Green Monkey and it cured me and gave me my powers.

Me: WHOA! So that's how you became Beast Boy.

Laney: That is so cool.

Lana: It sure is.

(In the comics, the accident in question occurred while he was visiting his parents' research lab. His father grafted an extensive array of robotic parts onto his body in order to save his life. Now the camera pulls back to show Vic, née Cyborg, leaning hard into Beast Boy's face.)

Beast Boy: Cyborg? Cool! (jumps on his shoulders) You're like Robot Man 2.0! (He keeps zipping about.)

Cyborg: (flatly) You're a weird, little dude, you know that?

(Beast Boy has referred to one of his former Patrol teammates, the half-ton android with a living brain implanted into its systems. After a bit more inspection, he dismounts and laughs a bit.)

Beast Boy: You called me "dude." (Cyborg puts his hood up and leaves.) Okay, so… see you later. Right, dude? (Overhead view.) Dude?

(No answer, but he has no time to try again; a huge round shadow advances over the entire area and he looks up toward its source after a moment.)

Beast Boy: DUDE!

(Cut to ground level and tilt up to the sky. The Gordanian ship from which Koriand'r escaped in the prologue has come looking for her; it passes over the city, then reaches the bay and cruises by the future site of Titans Tower. A hatch opens on the underside, from which a large cylindrical capsule launches toward the water, and it embeds itself more or less vertically in the island's rock. A prominent flange encircles the upper end. Cut to Beast Boy and Cyborg.)

Cyborg: Looks like Space Girl has friends. (Pull back; Robin joins them.)

Robin: Or enemies.

(A bolt of energy shoots up from the exposed end of the capsule and splits into two at the source. These sweep down to left and right and disappear as a colossal hologram appears between them. Though static ripples up and down, it can be discerned clearly enough as a Gordanian with a rather fearsome-looking crown/helmet on its head. This is Trogaar, the ruler who ordered Koriand'r to be delivered to wherever the others had been taking her in the prologue.)

Trogaar: People of Earth! We come to your planet hunting an escaped prisoner, a very dangerous prisoner.

(Cut to a slow pan across the three boys; Raven has now joined them as well.)

Trogaar: (from o.c.) Do not interfere, and we will leave your city with only minimal damage. (Back to him.) But if you attempt to assist her… (Big static blip.)… your destruction will be absolute.

(His image disappears, and the two split beams flash back up, merge together into one, and retract into the end of the capsule. Cut to a long shot of the wide flange near the top, the camera positioned so that this stretch of the vessel fills the screen, and zoom in to the sound of machinery warming up. A hatch can be seen between the joined metal surfaces, running around the entire circumference.)

Cyborg: That's a big ship.

(Cut to just inside the hatch, which opens to give the massed Gordanian troops a full view of Jump City Bay and the shore. Back to Cyborg, panning quickly to Beast Boy.)

Beast Boy: And those are some scary-looking aliens.

(And here they come, gliding out in all directions with the help of their wings. Back to Beast Boy, panning quickly to Raven.)

Raven: They told us not to interfere.

(Several fly low over the water as the camera tilts up slightly to show them catching up to the main body of soldiers. Back to the four teens; Robin finds himself on the receiving end of inquiring glances from the other three.)

Cyborg: You're still going after her, aren't you?

Beast Boy: Can we come, too?

Robin: (smiling) I suppose I could team up, just this once.

(Smiles of varying widths from the others, after which all but Raven set off. Close-up: she looks after them, then down toward her feet with considerable trepidation.)

Robin: (from o.c.) You in?

(She snaps to; pull back to show the boys eyeing her from just a few yards off. Long pause before she turns partly away.)

Raven: I'm not the hero type. Trust me. If you knew what I really am… (completes the turn)… you wouldn't want me around.

Robin: I know enough.

(With her trademark hint of a smile, she turns to face him again. From-the-ground view of the sky between two buildings; a squad of Gordanians flies past the full moon, and one steps into view near the camera. Cut to an extreme close-up of a spear point being raked across a surface to slice it open, then pull back to show its wielder atop a parked car, ripping the roof. He wrenches up the corner of the sheet metal; pan across the street, where other vehicles are receiving similar treatment and worse. No sign of the fugitive is found, whereupon a line of troops directs the spears ahead and fires a fusillade of energy bolts. The junk in an alley is promptly blown to kingdom come, and one soldier jumps close to inspect the spot while another waits a short distance away. There is a brief exchange in their native tongue, which sounds something like a cross between a low moan and a horse's neigh, and the advance man shakes his head; nothing here either.)

(The shooters leap up and o.c.; behind them, Robin, Beast Boy, Cyborg, and Raven poke their heads out from a neighboring alley. Cut to inside.)

Robin: (softly) All right. We need some way to track-

Raven: She's near.

(Three puzzled stares come her way as a big sweat drop slides down the back of her head.)

Raven: (hastily) I can sense things.

Beast Boy: I'll see if I can pick up her scent.

(He does a quick change that drops him out of sight; tilt down to ground level, showing him now as a sniffing bloodhound. While he tries to uncover a lead, Cyborg rolls up the right sleeve of his sweatshirt, revealing the circuitry of that bionic forearm for the first time.)

Cyborg: There's a sonic analyzer built into my arm. (Close-up of a display on it; he continues o.c.) If she's around, I'll hear it.

(A tap opens the panel; pull back again.)

Robin: Good. (Beast Boy resumes human form.)

Beast Boy: I've got her trail!

(He turns back into a canine and drops out again. Close-up of the forearm panel, whose display now shows the dancing spikes of a cardiac rhythm as it makes itself heard.)

Cyborg: (from o.c.) And I can hear her heartbeat.

(They run off down the alley, which empties onto the next street over. Dissolve to a from-the-ground view of the sky in that area and tilt down to a video store; the one Control Freak terrorized, or rather will terrorize, in "Fear Itself." The front entrance has been blasted apart, and the edges of the jagged hole are still glowing red-hot. Cut to the candy counter inside; the lights are out, indicating that the place is closed for the night, but Koriand'r steps into view nevertheless. Having shot her way in, she helps herself to a bucket of popcorn and sweets, and the camera cuts to an extreme close-up of her mouth as she licks her lips hungrily.)

(The first bit of Earth cuisine she decides to sample is a chocolate bar; just before she bites down on it, cut to behind her. The empty wrapper is tossed away, up comes the bucket, and an instant later; it, too, has been cleaned out and dumped. Now Koriand'r proceeds to wolf down snacks fast enough to put any competitive eater to shame; cut to ground level, the camera pointing past her feet, as the four young searchers approach cautiously. Beast Boy has resumed human form, and Cyborg has covered his forearm again.)

Beast Boy: Uh… (Close-up.)… those taste better without the wrapper.

(Behind the famished escapee. She tips down a little more popcorn, wipes her mouth, and gives him a funny glowing look over her shoulder before wheeling to face the quartet. A snarl escapes her lips as she warms up a starbolt in each hand, scaring everyone quite a bit and eliciting a round of gasps.)

Robin: It's all right. We're friends, remember?

(Letterbox, top half of the screen: the two sides face off.)

Koriand'r: Friends? (advancing; they back up) Why? For what purpose did you free me? (Fullscreen.)

Robin: Just… trying to be nice.

Koriand'r: "Nice." We do not have this word on my planet. Closest is "rutha." (Extreme close-up of her eyes.) Weak!

Cyborg: Well, around here, "nice" means "nice." (Letterbox, as before.) And if you want us to keep being nice, you better tell us why the Lizard King took you prisoner.

(Fullscreen close-up of her; she cools down her hands and her eyes, and the camera pulls back a bit.)

Koriand'r: Not prisoner. I am… prize. The Gordanians deliver me to the Citadel, to live out my days as their servant.

Raven: And the Citadel are…?

Koriand'r: (bitterly) Not nice.

Me: The Citadel are dangerous aliens that I destroyed ages ago.

Shanan: I remember that.

Robin: (crossing to her) Then you're not going with them. (as Beast Boy joins him) Not if I have anything to say about it.

Beast Boy: Um, don't you mean "we"?

(The spirit of fresh camaraderie is very rudely interrupted when something explodes just o.c., hurling everyone to the floor. When the smoke clears, several Gordanians are standing just outside a freshly blown hole in the wall; pull back to frame the five new acquaintances sprawled everywhere. Cut to them.)

Gordanian 5: (from o.c.) Seize her!

(The platoon charges in on feet and wings to carry out that order, and the gang of five rises to meet them. Long shot of the area as the two groups charge toward one another, then cut in close again. The big man is first to get in some licks, followed by Beast Boy as a rhinoceros. One monster right hook is enough to prove just how much potential Koriand'r could have as a boxer, while Robin uses his staff, a replacement for the one he broke earlier, to dent a few skulls. Last but not least is Raven, whose telekinetic powers assert themselves by hurling a gang of Gordanians backward. Fade to white.)

(Snap immediately to the street just outside the video store. A patch of wall explodes outward, upsetting any number of parked cars, and the solid jet of swirling dust clears to reveal Koriand'r backing up in midair. Her arms are crossed in front of her head, having been raised to block the hit that drove her through the masonry, and she lowers them to toss off a few amped-up sliders. Three soldiers are flying up toward her; one is knocked down by her shots and another peels off, but the third closes in for a fight at close quarters. It ends in a hurry with her being knocked straight down to the pavement out in front, which cracks badly under the impact as the hitter drops toward her.)

(Tilt up from her to him, warming up the spear point for a blast to the head; next, the camera cuts to her and then Robin, staff to spear with another Gordanian. The Boy Wonder throws a quick look in her direction and pitches his enemy away, bowling over the one that has her bracketed for good measure. Now the young royal warrior allows herself a smile, but the moment is cut short when two of her captors barrel toward Robin.)

(In a flash, Koriand'r is airborne again and charging straight at the pair. Robin cuts the legs out from underneath one while she shoots down the other and gains a bit of altitude to continue the offensive. Here comes Cyborg, grappling with one of his own; the long tail whips around an ankle and he is suddenly tumbled onto his back, a charged spear aimed right at his chest. He manages to roll out of the way an instant before its bolt tears up the blacktop, and a neat bit of acrobatics carries him clear of the next few shots. However, he immediately finds himself caught in a vicious crossfire that throws up enough smoke to hide him from view altogether.)

(As the view clears, an extreme close-up of part of Cyborg's bionic limbs is revealed; pull back/tilt up to frame all of him. The sweatshirt, pants and gloves have been blown to pieces, exposing his new and improved self from head to toe, and he throws an angry look straight ahead before jumping back into action. Gordanian blasts sing out as he pulls back one fist; it comes down exactly on the shooter's spear shaft and snaps it like a twig. Next, he lifts the enemy high overhead and hurls him into a flying squad to ruin whatever is left of their day.)

(A salvo laces into the street, working its way toward him; cut to the attackers, a fresh trio of Gordanians on the wing. Their offensive has the cybernetic teen off balance for a second before he is airlifted out by Beast Boy, who has become a pterodactyl. As the pair sail past, a streetlight is pulled loose under Raven's control; cut to her, concentrating hard for an audience of Robin and Koriand'r. The pole's swing knocks all three foes out of the park.)

(Cut to a pan down the street, which is now littered with prone and tumbling Gordanians, and stop on a great many upright troops at the end of the block. Most of them lift off; the few stragglers direct a pained look at the camera, "is it too late to go AWOL?", before following suit. Ground-level view of the sky; the group is not moving to attack, but instead bailing out with their hides still in one piece. At the scene of the free-for-all, the five victors gaze up after them, Beast Boy in human form again.)

Koriand'r: I believe your expression is "thanks."

Cyborg: (eyeing his shredded clothes) Aw, man, my suit!

Beast Boy: So? You look way cooler without it.

Cyborg: Yeah. Like I'm taking fashion advice from the guy in the goofy mask.

Beast Boy: (crushed) Goofy? My mask is cool. Isn't it? Raven?

(She and Cyborg shake their heads grimly. Close-up of the hooded green teen.)

Beast Boy: (pulls at the bottom edge of his mask) But… what about my secret identity? (Pull back; Cyborg has shed his tattered civvies.)

Raven: What secret identity? You're green.

Beast Boy: (thinks very hard) Uh… mmm… uh, uh… oh… hm.

(He pulls off the headgear, and Robin and Koriand'r cross to the trio.)

Robin: This isn't over. (Close-up of him.) Now that we've interfered… (Pull back to frame her.)

Koriand'r:… Trogaar will strike harder. It is only a matter of-

(On the second half of this, the beams from the island-mounted communicator flash into the sky and Trogaar's static-distorted image towers over the skyline. Both turn to it after she cuts herself off, and the camera tilts up slightly to frame all of it.)

Trogaar: Fools! The Earth scum were warned. Your insolence will be punished. (Close-up.) Your city shall be destroyed!

(As a fearful crowd stares up at the projection, it winks out and the ship sails in. Close-up of the main gun in front; it angles itself downward, the broad muzzle glowing at its center, and warms up. At ground level, all five fighters are trying to sort this out. Close-up of Raven.)

Raven: Great.

(Opening shot: the Gordanian ship, ready to fire on any part of Jump City it deems unworthy of staying on the map. Pull back; it has the quintet dead in its sights.)

Beast Boy: So, after trashing a pizza place and a perfectly good video store, now we've managed to make a humongous space gecko mad enough to vaporize our entire town?

Cyborg: (sourly) Go team.

Koriand'r: (to Robin) All the fault is yours! (Sight gag: her head grows.) I commanded you leave me alone, but you insisted upon the being nice! (Her head shrinks; his grows.)

Robin: My fault?! (Gag ends.) You blast me, you kiss me, (Sparks fly between their eyes.) but you never stop to mention that they have a gigantic particle weapon?

(Cut to Beast Boy, Cyborg, and Raven. A shouting match between the previous pair is heard under the next lines, and the camera zooms in on the one quiet teen during the argument.)

Koriand'r: (In the background) Nomosguoguomuozog! GUO ZOG!

Robin: (In the background) I CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHAT YOU'RE SAYING!

Beast Boy: We are doomed! (to Cyborg) I can't believe I let you talk me into this!

Cyborg: Say what?! I was ready to walk before you-

(Raven has begun to concentrate as best she can by this time, and now, she speaks up.)

Raven: QUIET!

(Her yell echoes in the silent street and shuts everyone else up very quickly. Four pairs of angry eyes are turned her way for some moments before she comes up with any more words.)

Raven: (waving timidly) Hi.

Robin: Look. It doesn't matter how we got into this mess. We're in it, and we will get out of it, together.

(Cut to Koriand'r, who nods in agreement, and pan across Cyborg and Raven as they do likewise. The camera stops on Beast Boy, whose mouth has curved up into the mischievous smile that will become a staple of his over time, and then cuts back to Robin.)

Robin: Come on. We've got a city to save.

Me: Now lets go!

We went into the Simulator.

KRABBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

A massive fiery explosion exploded high above the Gordanian ship as a phoenix cry was heard and energy blasts fired from the explosion and blew out the engines and sent the ship crashing into the ground of the city.

We landed by the newly formed Teen Titans.

Me: Sorry about the entrance like that. We like to make entrances like that.

Robin: I see.

Me: We should introduce ourselves. I'm J.D. Knudson and we are Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

Robin: It's an honor to meet you.

Me: Same here Robin. Princess Koriand'r I'm sorry about what happened to you on Tamaran but we are your friends and we will help you in every way we can. First lets deal with the Gordanians and make them pay for their crimes.

Raven: Gladly.

Dark Spicer turned into Trojanware.

Trojanware: Hey, Skulker. Mind I merge with you?

Skulker: Go for it.

He merged with Skulker and turned his armor into an awesome suit and it was awesome!

Me: WHOA! That is cool!

Laney: It sure is.

Linka: Lets go make those lizards pay.

We went at the damaged Gordanian ship and went in and we were firing blasts of energy, elements and more at them and killing them all over until we saw LORD TROGARR!

---

Trogaar is a one-shot villain in the Teen Titans series. He is notable for being the first villain that the Teen Titans defeated and the one who is responsible for the Teen Titans being formed. He is a Gordanian prison ship ruler who brought Starfire to Earth. Trogaar serves as the main antagonist of Teen Titans origin story episode Go!.

He was voiced by Gary Anthony Sturgis, who voiced Ebon in Static Shock, The Destructinator in Wishology and the Phantom Virus, in Scooby Doo and the Cyber Chase.

After Gordanian invasion of the planet Tamaran, which ended with the planet's princess, Koriand'r, or Starfire, was taken prisoner, Trogaar was given the task of delivering to the Citadel so she can live out the rest of her life as a slave. However, a furious Starfire escaped from Trogaar's ship despite his soldiers' attempt to stop her, and fled to the nearby planet Earth. Trogaar then had his ship follow to the town of Jump City where she landed, then he planted a device on a small island, that projected a hologram of him that he used of the broadcast a message to the people of Jump City. The message told them about they are looking for Starfire, saying that she is a dangerous prisoner, telling them not to interfere and they will leave the city with only minimal damage, but he also gave a warning that if they help Starfire, their destruction will be absolute.

Despite Trogaar's threat, Robin, Cyborg, Beast Boy, and Raven located Starfire, and helped her fight of Trogaar's soldiers when they attempted to recapture her, before they returned to Trogaar's ship. Trogaar then became enraged by this, and decided to destroy Jump City as punishment for helping Starfire, using the weapon on his ship to do so. However, Robin, Starfire, Cyborg, Raven, and Beast Boy snuck aboard Trogaar's ship to stop him from destroying Jump City right when the weapon was fully charged

They defeated most of Trogaar's men before Cyborg and Starfire fought Trogaar before overpowered them. When Trogaar and his men surrounded Robin, Cyborg, and Starfire, Raven used the full extent of her powers and destroyed Trogaar's ship leaving his men unconscious. However, Trogaar was still standing and attempted to attack her and Beast Boy, but was knocked out by Cyborg using his newly created sonic cannon.

Afterwards the five heroes formed the Teen Titans, but it is unknown what happened to Trogaar and his men.

Robin: (Gasp) Jason Todd!?

Red Hood: A younger version of me!? Wow. Who would've thought that I would be the notorious Red X.

Red X: Surprising isn't it?

WAR WITH THE ROYAL DEFENDERS

August 21st, 2020.

In the Team Loud Phoenix Storm Estate, I had everyone gathered and I was wearing a general uniform and everyone was ready. Today was D-Day for us at Team Loud Phoenix Storm estate. Today we were going into war against the forces of the Royal Defenders of Universe 23 and it was gonna be a long and brutal battle. I had all my forces gathered and we were ready for the battle that will decide the fates of both universes.

Me: All right people listen up. Today we are going into war against the evil forces of the Royal Defenders. They have caused so much trouble over the years and we will not stand by and watch as they make countless innocent people suffer and be oppressed. Three weeks ago I found this universe through the use of the internet and it was thanks to the Anti-Royal Defenders Movement leader, Ed Cowart, that he provided the intel needed to take down the Royal Defenders for good. When we go to Earth of Universe 23, we're gonna go in there with everything we got. We will not rest until the Royal Defenders are defeated and thrown in jail like the scum they are. And this is for all you new people. I have one rule. Everyone fights and no one quits. You don't do your job and you will be sent back to the ship for the remainder of the battle. Do you get me?

Everyone: WE GET YOU SIR!

Me: Welcome to the Roughnecks.

Nico: Knudson's Roughnecks!

Everyone: (SPARTAN GRUNT)

Me: Good. Now we leave in one hour. I have a speech first. This war will change us forever. When I got word about what the Royal Defenders, I vowed to make them pay for their crimes against their world and have them dismantled so their world can be reset. Now we have a chance to do so. It begins as a whisper, a promise. I vowed to help the people that the were being oppressed by the Royal Defenders so that they would be freed. The lightest of breezes dances upon the cries of billions of people being oppressed by the Royal Defenders. A wind of freedom, a wind of justice and a wind of Vengeance. Now we have a chance to return their world to what it was before the Royal Defenders ruined it along with the lives of countless others across their universe. We will not let the people's cries of their world go unanswered and we will make sure that they are saved by people that know love, compassion, hope, Justice and virtue. The Royal Defenders have none of all that. They are monsters with no love for anyone but themselves and when we visited their world to deliver our declaration we showed everyone their true colors and made everyone see them for what they really were: Monsters with no hearts, no remorse, no compassion, and no conscience. Only Hatred. No more. This war will make sure that the Royal Defenders suffer for their crimes. And we're going to see that through. Ever since we became Team Loud Phoenix Storm, I vowed to uphold the laws of virtue, love, justice and hope with honor and compassion. I have known most of you since I moved here in 2016 and afterwards and I am proud and honored to have you all as part of my family and you all are like brothers and sisters to me and I am proud of all of you in coming so far with me. Now lets show those rotten Royal Defenders what we're really made of and show them how to use their powers the right way and show them our way of fighting!

Everyone cheered wildly!

Me: Lets get ready for battle!

We went to get ready.

Maria went and got the statues of Bai Tza's siblings.

Maria: (to the statues of Bai Tza's siblings) Alright. We've decided to let one of you out. But the vote has to be unanimous. So, who will it be?

Shendu: Tso Lan.

Maria: And the reason for that?

Shendu: He has always been the most level-headed out of all of us.

Xiao Fung: I agree for once with Shendu.

Po Kong: Same with me.

Hsi Wu: As do I.

Dai Gui: We vote for Tso Lan to be released.

Tchang Zu: Yes and it will be good.

Maria: Awesome. One of these days we'll free all of you so you can have a chance of redemption as well.

Tso Lan: Thank you Maria.

Maria snapped her fingers and freed Tso Lan from his statue prison and he was ready to help us.

We got our powers and weapons ready and more. We were ready.

Me: All right are we all ready?

Everyone: Ready!

Nico: Vert. Arkayna. Dante. Aerrow. Zick. Yusei. There are still some bases of the Royal Defenders still active. The groups that you guys are in need to take them out before the war starts.

Vert: Yes sir Nico!

Me: Lets do it guys. We're coming for you Royal Defenders!

We got into our ship and left and everyone cheered us on as we flew out into the stars with Faster Than Light travel.

* * *

In the Royal Defenders Universe, the Royal Defenders gathered everyone together for the biggest war ever.

RD Lincoln: Team Loud Phoenix Storm is coming.

RD Luna Frost: Team Loud Phoenix Storm. They've incited insurrection.

RD Starscream: That was their mistake. We need to make sure nothing of them remains!

RD Lincoln: I made them safe. Shielded them. But are they grateful? Do they appreciate my protection? No… They whine. Complain. Side with those criminals. [stands up] If they prefer chaos, I'll give it to them. Starting with Royal Woods. I'll flatten all of it. Set an example. Then I'm finding the dimension Team Loud Phoenix Storm came from. They'll pay for interfering.

RD Frida Suarez: Wait. We're wiping out entire cities? Invading worlds in other dimensions?!

RD Lincoln: You have a problem, Frida?

RD Frida Suarez: Well, yeah… It's crazy. It's going too far.

RD Bill Cipher: This world proved that it can't handle itself. This is the only way to keep things in check.

RD Luna Frost: And you better watch your tone, Suarez. I'm still mad at you for pissing me off the other day.

RD Frida Suarez: That has nothing to with this. There have to be limits. Even on us. Especially on us!

RD Lincoln: That's enough.

RD Frida Suarez: You've clearly lost your mind! We can't do this. All because your sisters mistreated you because they thought you were bad luck!

That was the last straw. RD Lincoln grabbed RD Frida by the throat. She tried to get his hands off of her but it was too late. RD Lincoln snapped Frida's neck and dropped her to the ground.

RD Lincoln: Anyone else?

RD Arkayna: No. We're good.

RD Lincoln: Stewart. Stargirl. Make sure our latest prisoner doesn't escape. Luna. Arkayna. Cipher. You're with me. Starscream. Gather the rest of the Cybertronians here.

RD John Stewart: Yes sir.

RD Lincoln: Nothing is gonna stop our spree of justice enforcement.

RD Luna: Team Loud Phoenix Storm is coming and we will unleash hell on them.

RD Lincoln: Let them come.

WAR IS UPON THEM!

RD Luna went to get Frostmourne and she then was visited by the spirit of her deceased Aunt Ruth that she killed in cold blood.

Ruth: Can you feel it my niece? Closing in all around you. Team Loud Phoenix Storm is coming for you and they will make sure you pay for your crimes. The sins of the past have finally caught up to you. You will be called to account. For all the atrocities you've committed, the unspeakable horrors you've let loose upon this world, and the dark ancient powers you've all enslaved. Though my soul was one of the first to be devoured by all your evil, there are countless more bound within this blade and they cry out for release. Look now to your defenses my niece, for Team Loud Phoenix Storm is marching right up to your doorstep and they are gathering right at your gates.

Ruth and the spirits vanished and RD Luna grabbed Frostmourne.

RD Luna: Let them come. Frostmourne hungers.

The U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix was flying through the voids of space.

Me: Captain's Log, Stardate 2847.6: The U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix is en route to the planet Earth of Universe 23 to invoke a terrible war against the evil forces of the Royal Defenders, a merciless parallel version of us that rules its universe with an iron fist and with fear and oppression. We are going to make sure that they pay for their crimes against their universe and throw them in prison in our universe.

King Vegeta: So what are we gonna expect when we get there?

Me: A lot of horrible things your majesty. It's a world that is being oppressed by the Royal Defenders and we have to stop them from ruining everyone's lives with fear.

Nico: That's right. Thanks to our declaration of war, we neutralized their powers for 5 days.

Ed Cowart: Yep. I built the power disruptor amplification crystals and helped neutralize their powers. Of course I had a little help.

Me: Who was it that helped you Ed?

Ed Cowart: Amanda Waller helped me.

We were shocked.

Me: (Chuckles) That sneaky woman. Remind me to thank her for this later.

Nico: Noted.

Vince: So how are we gonna get to universe 23?

Me: We have to go through a interdimensional plane called The Warp. Lets do it.

I activated the FTL engines and we were going through a very strange and terribly unusual place called The Warp!

---

The Immaterium, also referred to as the Empyrean, the Aether, the Sea of Souls, the Realm of Chaos, Warpspace or most commonly, "the Warp," is an alternate dimension of purely psychic energy that echoes and underlies the familiar four dimensions of the material universe.

The Warp is the source of all psychic powers and known instances of so-called "sorcery" or "magic" as well as the home dimension of the powerful entities known as the Chaos Gods and their myriad legions of daemonic servants. In fact, the terms "Chaos" and the "Warp" are often used interchangeably by those aware of their existence within the Imperium of Man.

Superficially, the Immaterium is Mankind's solution to the problem of faster-than-light travel. The Warp functions as the medium for FTL interstellar travel, with voidcraft entering it through the use of a Warp-Drive. They then use their own mundane reaction drive systems and the aid of a psychic Navigator to navigate between its flowing currents of psychic energy, as if they were moving through an ocean.

The psychic energy that makes up the Immaterium is believed to be the direct result of the existence of sentience in the universe, in particular the intelligent species of the Milky Way Galaxy. Considered to be a dark reflection of the material universe, the Warp is an ocean of chaotic psychic energy, raw emotion given physical form.

The Immaterium is also rumored by many cultures, human and xenos alike, to be the final resting place of the spirits of the dead, and therefore can be considered the "Underworld" of the Warhammer 40,000 universe.

Hydro Man: WHOA!

Vince: What is this place!?

Me: This is the Warp.

Liberty: Wow! So this is the Warp. It's terrifying.

Me: It is. This place is also known as the Realm of Chaos. It's an alternate dimension of pure psychic energy.

Hunter: (German Accent) Oh mein gott. I didn't know it was real. I thought it was all in that game.

Edwayl: (Breton Accent) Wow. It's amazing lads.

Alex T.: (Greek Accent) It sure is.

Laney: It's incredible.

Linka: Yeah.

Me: And as we travelled through this plane, we found out something strange.

Vince: What is it?

Me: Look.

I pointed to something and we saw with our very own eyes, OROCHIMARU, locked forever in a prison crystal of psychic energy and he was screaming in excruciating agony.

Vince: Orochimaru!?

Naruto: I thought he was Hakaied out of existence!

Me: He was. But we found out that when someone is Hakaied, instead of erasing them from existence for all eternity, they are forever banished here to the Warp where they suffer and burn for all time.

Lily: Whoa!

Lana: Yeah.

Joe Swanson: That sounds too cruel if you ask me. And that doesn't make any sense. Whenever someone is Hakaied, they should've been erased from existence forever.

Me: That was my first thought too Joe. But now we know that the Warp will make sure that they don't ever come back. I found out that the Warp will keep anyone here for all eternity. And there is no escape for those that are banished here.

Nico: Good.

Me: We're almost there guys. Battlestations! Red Alert!

The sirens sounded and everyone got ready.

Me: Okay Yusei get ready to move.

Yusei: Right.

We saw the Earth of the Royal Defenders and we saw the entire planet completely under siege as massive explosions were blowing much of the planet apart.

Lightning struck ferociously in the voids of space as the U.S.S. Valorous Phoenix came out of the portal and fired lasers, missiles and powerful super laser blasts at the massive ships the Royal Defenders had. Blowing them apart and destroying much of their fleet.

Me: We're clear of their fleet.

Yusei and his group teleported.

In a warehouse, RD Star Girl and John Stewart were tormenting RD Sunder.

RD Star Girl: This is your final chance to accept Lincoln's amnesty, Sunder…

RD Dimension Sunder: Get "re-educated" in your boot camp… become a puppet… like you?

RD StarGirl zaps RD Dimension Sunder with her staff.

RD John Stewart: The Boss is bein' generous. I wouldn't be. Lincoln and most of the others were traumatized by the Disk Wars incident several months ago.

RD Dimension Sunder: I had nothing to do with that…

RD John Stewart: Doesn't matter. You're still on the wrong side of the law.

RD Dimension Sunder: Tell this… to your boss… [spits at them]

RD Star Girl continues to torture RD Dimension Sunder with her staff. Suddenly, a radioactive beam hits her, stopping the torture. They both saw Atomic Skull's team walking up to them.

Atomic Skull: Ok, torture is something the Justice League don't do. Even to guys like Sunder.

RD John Stewart: Fancy seeing you here, Atomic Skull. Thought Zatanna and Dr. Strange took you out before.

RD Star Girl: Something's not right… He's Joseph Martin. Yet…

Charmcaster: Stand down. You're done here.

RD John Stewart: You guys must be with Team Loud Phoenix Storm.

RD Star Girl: You feel their pain? Not yet…

She zaps Yusei's group with her staff and they fall to the grund.

RD John Stewart: After we're done with Sunder, how 'bout we go talk to Lincoln and the others?

Yusei: I summon Stardust Dragon!

Stardust Dragon appears and punches John Stewart, knocking him to the ground

RD Star Girl: Enough. You're all under arrest!

Huntsgirl kicked her and knocked her out.

Huntsgirl: Sorry. But we're resisting arrest.

They tied up RD John Stewart and Star Girl and took their staff and ring.

RD Dimension Sunder:… Damn… Scum… [Yusei frees him] You shoulda killed me. [Huntsgirl tries to give him a hand but he refuses] Get off me!

Maggie: Look, we're not with them-

RD Dimension Sunder: Whoever you are… They know you now… They catch you… You have the stones to refuse their amnesty?

Maggie: We'll take them down. We've handled worse.

RD Dimension Sunder: We'll see about that.

Yusei: (contacts Nico) Nico, the bomb's in place.

Nico: Great! Meet us back to where we are and we'll detonate them together.

Yusei: Got it. (hangs up) Alright, Sunder. You're coming with us to-(sees that Sunder's gone)

Maggie: Well, I guess it can't be helped.

They head back to where we were gonna land.

---

We were landing.

Me: This is it guys. Today is D-Day.

Dark Spicer: Guys, if this is really it, if we do die here, it's been an honor fighting alongside you guys.

Turbo Man: We feel the same way.

Dora (Danny Phantom): You've all went from bitter enemies to the closest frenemies we've ever had.

Me: Thanks Dora.

We landed and the ship opened and we saw the Royal Defenders Royal Woods. I looked out at their version of the city of Royal Woods.

Me: This is what we think of your oppression.

I formed a bow of fire and it had an arrow of atomic energy.

Me: ATOMIC STYLE NINJA ART: THERMONUCLEAR ARROW OF DEMISE!

I fired the arrow and it went at the city of Royal Woods and it exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

The entire city was up in flames as a massive flaming mushroom cloud formed and it blew much of the city apart in a raging inferno of power.

Me: Nice!

Nico: Nice shot J.D.

Me: Thanks man.

The Royal Defenders all came out and they were ready to face us and they were extremely pissed!

RD Lincoln: Do you have any idea what you all have just done to us!?

Me: What else? We're stopping you from hurting so many people ever again!

RD Lincoln: Don't you guys get it? We perfected this world.

RD Luna Frost: So many lives lost because heroes like us held back. When we should've used all our power.

Nightbird: To do what, exactly?!

Arcee: To control? To corrupt?!

Me: To enforce oppression and tyranny?! I don't think so!

RD Lincoln: We could've kept our family together! Kept them perfect despite all of that arguing!

Qin: I lost my family too, Lincoln!

RD Luna Frost: But you weren't the one who caused them to be lost!

Me: Shut up! We end this now! Prepare for the biggest asskickings of your lives!

We powered up! I was now in my Super Angel-Ebonwu-Phoenix 1,000,000 Elemental Moonlight Phoenix form and Varie was in her Super Angel 1,000,000 form and we all transformed into powerful forces.

Dark Spicer: Here's your warning…

Maxxor: By the authority of the Tribal Alliance…

Tommy Oliver: It's Morphin Time!

The Power Rangers all transformed!

Dark Spicer: Your fucking asses are about to be kicked!

Maxxor: And you you are hereby placed under arrest!

Jason Lee Scott: All right, Red Rangers. Let's Morph!

The Red Rangers all morphed. It was all the red rangers from over the course of 27+ years.

Me: (Divine Voice) You have caused terror for far too long!

Varie: (Divine Voice) Never again!

Me: CCHHHHHAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAARRRRRRRGGGGGGEEEEEE

We ran fast at them and war was on!

RD Lincoln: CHAAAAARRRGGGGEEEEEEE!

We all went at them and the battle that will decide the fate of Universe 23 has begun!

Battle 1: Vypra, Luan, William, Dr. Light (JL), Fire, Stitch and Shego vs RD Girl Jordan

Vypra, Luan, William, Dr. Light (JL), Fire, Stitch and Shego were facing RD Girl Jordan.

Luan: I don't know what you were thinking becoming Lincoln's girlfriend here in this dimension but it ends now!

Fire: That's right! You make our Girl Jordan look bad!

RD Girl Jordan: You guys will never get to Lincoln!

Vypra: We'll see about that!

Dr. Light (JL): Lets get her!

Stitch: Yeah!

Shego: Bring it on!

William: Yeah!

They went at RD Girl Jordan and Vypra punched her in the face and Fire fired blasts of green fire at her and burned her all over and Luan fired waves of light and burned her in blasts of rainbow energy, and William and Stitch fired blasts of lightning and energy from their blasters and burned her all over and Dr. Light burned her by blasting her with light rays and Shego fired blasts of green fire and burned her all over.

William: Try this one on. ECLIPSE STYLE NINJA ART: SLEEPING SUN!

William floated in the air and the image of the 1999 Total Solar Eclipse appeared behind him as he was singing Sleeping Sun by Nightwish.

The sun is sleeping quietly

Once upon a century
Wistful oceans calm and red
Ardent caresses laid to rest
For my dreams I hold my life
For wishes I behold my night
The truth at the end of time
Losing faith makes a crime
I wish for this night-time
To last for a lifetime
The darkness around me
Shores of a solar sea
Oh how I wish to go down with the sun
Sleeping
Weeping
With you
Sorrow has a human heart
From my god it will depart
I'd sail before a thousand moons
Never finding where to go
Two hundred twenty-two days of light
Will be desired by a night
A moment for the poet's play

Until there's nothing left to say

I wish for this night-time

To last for a lifetime

The darkness around me

Shores of a solar sea

Oh how I wish to go down with the sun

Sleeping

Weeping

With you

I wish for this night-time

To last for a lifetime

The darkness around me

Shores of a solar sea

Oh how I wish to go down with the sun

Sleeping

Weeping

With you

He fired beams of sunlight and moonlight and they hit RD Girl Jordan and exploded with incredible power!

KRABBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

Luan: Nice one William! Watch this one! LIGHT STYLE NINJA ART: WHO WANTS TO LIVE FOREVER!

Luan floated into the air and beautiful curtains of light formed around her as she sang Who Wants To Live Forever by Dune.

There's no time for us

There's no place for us

What is this thing that builds our dreams, yet slips away from us

Who wants to live forever

Who wants to live forever…?

* * *

There's no chance for us

It's all decided for us

This world has only one sweet moment set aside for us

Who wants to live forever

Who wants to live forever

* * *

Who dares to love forever

Oh oo woh, when love must die

But touch my tears with your lips

Touch my world with your fingertips

And we can have forever

And we can love forever

Forever is our today

Who wants to live forever

Who wants to live forever

Forever is our today

Who waits forever anyway?

Luan fired waves of light and they formed into beautiful angels of light and virtue and they slammed into RD Girl Jordan and exploded.

Vypra floated into the air and waves of light and darkness formed around her as she sang Live to Tell by Madonna.

I have a tale to tell

Sometimes it gets so hard to hide it well

I was not ready for the fall

Too blind to see the writing on the wall

A man can tell a thousand lies

I've learned my lesson well

Hope I live to tell

The secret I have learned, 'til then

It will burn inside of me

I know where beauty lives

I've seen it once, I know the warm she gives

The light that you could never see

It shines inside, you can't take that from me

A man can tell a thousand lies

I've learned my lesson well

Hope I live to tell

The secret I have learned, 'til then

It will burn inside of me

The truth is never far behind

You kept it hidden well

If I live to tell

The secret I knew then

Will I ever have the chance again

If I ran away, I'd never have the strength

To go very far

How would they hear the beating of my heart

Will it grow cold

The secret that I hide, will I grow old

How will they hear

When will they learn

How will they know

A man can tell a thousand lies

I've learned my lesson well

Hope I live to tell

The secret I have learned, 'til then

It will burn inside of me

The truth is never far behind

You kept it hidden well

If I live to tell

The secret I knew then

Will I ever have the chance again

A man can tell a thousand lies

I've learned my lesson well

Hope I live to tell

The secret I have learned, 'til then

It will burn inside of me

They laughed.

Vypra: (Laughs) That was a good one.

---

Little was known about Bill before his time in Gravity Falls, although there are hints about his past, including the statements made by the show's creator himself. Trillions of years prior to the events of the series, Bill Cipher lived in a second dimension, however he despised living there and described it as a world of "flat minds in a flat world with flat dreams." Bill eventually burned it along with everyone he's ever known, including his own parents, before taking over a boiling, shifting intergalactic foam between dimensions-a lawless, unstable crawl space known as the Nightmare Realm, and becoming a leader of a gang with many monsters who obeyed his will. Unfortunately, the Nightmare Realm was fated to eventually self-destruct due to it's lawlessness and lack of any consistent physics or rules. After learning about a prophecy that stated he could merge the Nightmare Realm with the third dimension, Bill manipulated countless humans over the time in order to become a physical being and liberate that dimension as well. That said despite his deparved nature, Bill did have some fondness for his world, and wanted to restore it for selfish reasons.

In the episode "Weirdmageddon: Part 1", Bill reveals he has been trapped in a decaying dimension, "waiting for a new universe" to call his own, for one-trillion years (this dimension was later stated by Bill to be the 2nd Dimension). Ford Pines, Bill's main enemy, stated in an earlier episode that he's older than the Milky Way (which is 13.2 billion years old). Assuming that he's old enough to have recalled one-trillion years of mental torment, this would mean he's older than our dimension by at least 987 billion years. In that same episode, Bill also referred to the populace of Gravity Falls as "single lifespanned", meaning he may have had numerous lifespans, and he may have either lived through those 1 trillion years in different lifespans, or he may have had lifespans before his time in the dimension. Other than his possible age, his "early life" (if whatever he is even has a definitive "life"), is completely unknown. One could assume that's he's been tormenting various dimensions for millions of his debut in the episode Dreamscaperers, Bill Cipher made a cameo in the background of numerous episodes as drawings on the walls, card backings, and even in a single frame of the opening sequence, and being alluded to by series creator Alex Hirsch for the length of the season, before finally debuting in the penultimate episode.

In that episode, the first season's main antagonist, Li'l Gideon, summoned him using a ritual found in Journal #2 to have him steal the combination to Stan Pines' safe via invading his mind. Bill made a deal with Gideon, saying that if he found the memory containing the combination, Gideon would help him with his plans, probably by Bill possessing his body. Later on, after the protagonists found their own way into Stan's mind with Journal #3, they met Bill where he warned them to keep out of it, and showed his strength by blasting a hole in Dipper's chest, sending Mabel a few seconds into the future, and blinking two characters she was thinking about into existence before flying into the shack in Stan's mind. The trio followed him to try and find the memory before he could, and when they did Soos offered to destroy it with his strength, but revealed he was actually Bill in disguise, who took the memory to read it to Gideon.

However, Mabel and Soos caught up with him while Dipper looked for a personal memory, being able to knock the memory into the Bottomless Pit from the episode of the same name through one of Stan's other memories. Seeing this, Gideon called off the deal and switched to "Plan B", which enraged Bill to the point of growing into his 'angry form' and surrounding the room in flames, cornering the protagonists atop a giant stone Stan, where he tortured them by making them experience their worst nightmares. After killing Mabel's two dream characters and threatening to do the same to Mabel and Soos, Dipper arrived just in time, having been taught by Stan in the personal memory that they can do whatever they can think in the Mindscape. They then used this to fight and overpower Bill.

Before they could defeat him though, Bill teleported them all to a blank white space, proving he was still far more powerful. But instead of killing them he stated he was impressed by them, letting them live since they might be useful later. He gave them a warning that a darkness was approaching and that everything they cared about would change. He promptly teleported away, saying he'd be watching them until then.

Bill later returned in the Season 2 episode Sock Opera, where he offered to help Dipper find the password to The Author's laptop in return for a 'favor'. Dipper denied his offer and Bill disappeared, telling him he'd be back when he was ready to change his mind. He later reappeared when Dipper failed too many times to guess the password, forcing the computer to erase all its data after a countdown. During the countdown, Bill returned in front of Dipper, stating Dipper looked desperate and reprised his offer, taking advantage of Dipper's desperation and telling him that he only wanted a puppet. Dipper tried to resist, saying the puppets were for Mabel's sock puppet play, but Bill was able to convince him by asking him what she had done for him lately, reminding Dipper of how much he's sacrificed for her without her doing anything in return.

Dipper finally agreed to the deal, only for Bill to remove his soul from his body and possess it, making Dipper the 'puppet'. He then smashed the laptop and proceeded to express his joy and 'test' his new body by slapping it in the face. Upon being asked why he had broken his word, Bill revealed that Dipper was getting too close to major secrets and that he didn't need the boy getting in his way. He then left to destroy Journal #3 to stop him for good. After Mabel unknowingly told 'Bipper' (a term used referring to Bill Cipher when he possesses Dipper) she was using the journal as a prop in her play, he convinced her to let him play a part in it in order to get closer to the book. Dipper followed him there though and was able to tell Mabel what happened, and she went to get the book.

However she was confronted by Bipper, who threatened to drop Mabel from the catwalk and ruin her play if she didn't hand over the journal. Mabel almost gives him the journal and he asks her who would sacrifice everything they've worked towards for their sibling. Mabel responded by telling him Dipper sacrificed for her, and returns it by throwing the play. Mabel and Bipper had then fought onstage, with him easily overpowering her. However, she exploits Dippers body's weaknesses, such as the fact that he hadn't slept in more than 50 or so hours and is able to defeat him. With the body exhausted to the point of unconsciousness, Bill is thrown out of Dipper's body and Dipper takes it back. The twins share a moment, but Bill possesses one of the sock puppets, telling them they can't stop him. Mabel sets off the fireworks used in her play, destroying the puppet and forcing him once more into retreat.

Bill appeared a third time for a short cameo at the end of "Northwest Mansion Mystery". After Old Man McGucket fixed the laptop and warned Dipper that the end of the world was coming and that they had to stop it, the screen panned off to a tapestry with a black and red Bill on it gazing over a burning landscape, alluding that Bill was what was to cause the apocalypse.

While not specifically present, Bill was clearly referenced numerous times in the episode "A Tale of Two Stans", first when a younger Fiddleford McGucket spoke the ominous phrase "When Gravity Falls and Earth becomes sky, fear the Beast with just One Eye", and again when Ford, Stan's brother, inspected his shape out of suspicion of him being possessed by Bill, notably by checking the give away eye shape with a flashlight.

He then made another direct, though off-screen appearance at the end of the episode "The Stanchurian Candidate", when Gideon attempted re-summoning him from his prison cell to strike another deal, possibly to destroy the Pines family in exchange for a host to possess in Gideon.

Bill finally made his third appearance in the episode "The Last Mabelcorn", where he came to Ford in a dream, establishing their past relationship and warning Stanford that he was coming. In response, Stanford had Mabel retrieve Unicorn Hair in order to cast a spell that would protect the Mystery Shack from Bill Cipher. In the meantime, Stanford showed Dipper a machine that would scan their thoughts and shield their minds from the demon as a last resort in case Mabel failed. Curious of Ford's thoughts and his history with Bill, Dipper attached the machine to Ford in his sleep and saw that he was dreaming of Bill and Ford making a deal. In his horror, Dipper also knocked over the curtains on the walls, revealing the room to have once been a shrine to Bill as many paintings of him hang from the walls and statues of him stand in the corners. Because of this Dipper believes Ford to be possessed by Bill, or worse, in league with him, to the point of almost using the Memory Eraser on him. Ford proves he's still on their side though and reveals his history with Bill. Apparently, Stanford hit a roadblock in his research of Gravity Falls, but found writing in a cave depicting a being of knowledge that could help him, leading him to summon him.

Bill first appeared to Stanford in a dream, where he seemed to be affable and friendly, offering a game of chess and "Dream Tea". Bill lied to Ford, telling him he was a muse that chose a brilliant mind to inspire every century. In his flattery Ford made a deal with Bill, that in exchange for total access to Ford's mind Bill would help Ford by telling him to build the portal. But when McGucket was sucked into the portal (in Journal 3 it is revealed that McGucket saw Bill Cipher removing his exoskeleton to feed), Bill's true plans were revealed and the triangle exposed as a malevolent, insane monster. It is learned he was going to use the portal to open a gateway between the Nightmare Realm he exists in and the physical world, allowing him to achieve physical form and unleash his fellow demons, in his own words "teach this dimension how to party". It is also revealed that Bill is older than "anything in our universe", and that Bill had been manipulating history by making deals with people throughout time, apparently for the sole purpose of one day creating the portal. Ford tells Dipper this is why they must protect the Dimensional Rift, and that if they worked together they could be the last people to be tricked by Bill. After the spell is successful, Ford tells Dipper that anyone inside the bubble surrounding the shack would be safe from Bill's influence. However, Bill is watching them from his dimension, and decides that if he can't affect anyone in the Mystery Shack, he would have to look for his next pawn on the outside as a series of images of the rest of the cast flash over his eye.

Bill next appeared in "Dipper and Mabel VS The Future", where he possessed Blendin Blandin in order to have a vessel to destroy the rift. Using Blendin, he convinced Mabel to steal the rift for him by promising her that he can extend summer for her with it for as long as she wanted. As it turns out, the rift is in Dipper's backpack (which Mabel took by accident). Upon receiving the rift from Mabel, Bill promptly smashes it on the ground, opening the gateway to the Nightmare Realm. Leaving Blendin's body, the episode ends with Bill laughing triumphantly at Ford and Dipper as he makes his entrance into the world and ignites "Weirdmageddon".

In "Weirdmageddon - Part 1", Bill finally attains a physical form and frees Teeth, Pyronica Paci-Fire, 8 Ball, Amorphous Shape, Keyhole, Kryptos, Hectorgon and Xanthar from his dimension. He then wreaks havoc on the town of Gravity Falls and turns it into an apocalyptic, nonsensical wasteland while declaring that he intends to do this to the entire universe. Dipper and Ford then enact a plan to take out Bill with a quantum destabilizer, but fail due to the abnormal environment. After being captured by Bill, Ford is offered the chance to join him, but is turned into a golden backscratcher by the demon after refusing. Dipper tries to stop Bill, but his lack of information of the dream demon causes him to be easily defeated. Bill then proceeds to burn all three journals and mocks Dipper of his effort of being a hero, saying that those who try to become heroes always end up destroyed by Bill himself. Bill then sicks his henchmen, 8-Ball and Teeth, on the boy to eat him and flies up to his new, floating castle to party with his crew. After three days of non-stop partying, Bill is confronted by Time Baby and his police force, who came to arrest him for both using the body of Blendin Blandin for his scheme and to stop his plans for good. Unfortunately, Bill is unfazed and promptly kills Time Baby and his police squad by disintegrating them, much to the shock of Blendin, who escapes away.

Meanwhile, Dipper, after escaping from 8-Ball and Teeth, is on the search for his sister, Mabel, who Bill imprisoned in order to honor his deal with Gideon (who he also broke out of jail). After a confrontation with Dipper and Wendy, Gideon calls upon Bill's minions to take them and Soos to the dungeon in Bill's castle. After being convinced by Dipper that Mabel will never love him and that he can't force her to, a newly reformed Gideon decides to help aid in his former enemy's cause by giving him the key to Mabel's imprisonment bubble. He and his prison goons then leave to confront Bill and his minions.

In "Weirdmageddon 2: Escape From Reality", Bill have captured much of Gravity Falls' residents and petrified them to form his own throne of human agony for his enjoyment. He taps a fork on Golden Ford to grab the partying monsters' attention, and announces that they will now unleash their chaos on the whole world. As all other monsters take to the skies to spread destruction, they slam into an invisible forcefield without warning, much to Bill's complete anger. He figures out that their chaos has formed a barrier around Gravity Falls, the only area they can currently reside in, meaning that they can't spread their destruction throughout the world. Upon learning of this, Bill realizes that this might be more difficult that he thought. Paci-Fire complains that he broke something, and Bill angrily retorts, "WALK IT OFF!".

Upset by this turn of events, Bill considers getting Ford 'out of retirement', believing that the latter may have the answer to breaking down the barrier. He then finds out from Keyhole that Gideon and his goons let Dipper, Wendy, and Soos into Mabel's bubble. Bill simply laughs, explaining how the bubble is his most diabolical trap of all. He tells Keyhole to fetch Gideon and his goons as he prepares to expand his world upon Earth, and later, the universe. After Gideon and his goons are caught, Bill proceeds to punish Gideon by locking him up in a bird cage and forcing him to cute dancing non-stop in sailor's suit while the prison goons end up being petrified and added into Bill's throne, much to Gideon's dismay.

In "Weirdmageddon 3: Take Back the Falls", Bill releases Ford from his frozen petrified state to gain knowledge about the forcefield that's keeping him in Gravity Falls. Ford admits that he knows of a certain equation that will collapse the barrier, but angrily refuses to tell it, knowing that it would result the end of the world. Bill establishes that he comes from a flat dimension which at some point he somehow destroyed his home dimension, including his family (hinted back in the 2015 Bill Cipher AMA on Reddit). Ford refuses to cooperate with him, which instantly tests Bill's patience. Bill starts torturing Ford in order to get the answer to his dilemma, though Ford stands his ground despite the painful torture. As soon as the Pines family and their resistance group made a giant robot to fight their way to the Fearamid, Bill orders his henchmaniacs to fight the resistance, but they fail as the townspeople worked together to take down most of the henchmaniacs. As Ford compliments Dipper and Mabel for a job well done, Bill finally decides to torture both kids in order to coerce Ford into giving him the equation to collapse the barrier. He takes matters into his own hands and tries to destroy the robot, but with no success, due to the Mystery Shack being protected by unicorn hair that Dipper and Ford enforced back in "The Last Mabelcorn". The robot tears out Bill's eye, where he complains to the resistance on how long it will take for it to regenerate, which allows the twins and several citizens to arrive to the Fearamid and release all the petrified citizens (including Ford, Gideon, and the prison goons). Unfortunately, as soon as Bill regenerates a new eye, he instantly finds the robot's weak spot and uses it to take down the robot easily.

The Pines family unites with some of the other townspeople in order to learn about Bill's weakness. They learn about the Bill Cipher Wheel and tried to use in order to defeat Bill for good, but it fails, as Stan refuses to hold hands with Ford due to bearing a grudge and holding some resentment for his twin brother over the whole portal incident. This allows Bill and his remaining henchmaniacs to finally gang up on against the townspeople. After trapping Ford and Stan, Bill transforms Soos, Wendy, McGucket, Pacifica, Robbie, and Gideon into tapestries in his lair when they try to gang up on him. Dipper and Mabel risk their lives by angering Bill with their pranks in order to distract him, and he transforms into a horrifying multi-tiered being in his rage to hunt them down once and for all, while Stan and Ford try to figure an alternative solution.

When Bill finally captures Dipper and Mabel, he ponders on who to kill first, which finally forced a desperate Ford to surrender himself and reluctantly propose a deal: he will let Bill get access to his mind for the equation to collapse the barrier in return for letting the twins and his brother go free. Bill gladly accepts the deal and instantly leaves his physical form to enter Ford's mind. However, it turns out Ford and Stan switched clothes and imitated each other, and Bill ends up in Stan's mind, where Stan taunts him for falling for the trick. Realizing this, Bill angrily calls off the deal, implying that he will kill both Stan and the kids in order to demoralize Ford into giving the equation to break the barrier. However, anticipating that Bill would double-cross them, Stan allows Ford to reluctantly use the Blind Eye Society's mind-erasing weapon to wipe out Stan's memories to defeat Bill for good. As such, Bill gets locked within Stan's mind as the dreamscape and living room of the Mystery Shack burn in flames thanks to the mind-erasing weapon. Bill at first, expresses his delight that he took over Bill's mind, but he soon realilzes he gets conned. After trying to call off the deal, a terrified Bill pleads for mercy by appealing to Stan's greedy nature with riches and power, but Stan angrily refuses by pointing out that Bill has harmed the Pines family too much to deserve any mercy. As Bill begins to glitch, he furiously cries out at Stan and rushes at him, but Stan retaliates by calling out Bill for his actions towards his family before punching Bill directly in the eye, obliterating the screaming dream demon and shattering him into pieces, erasing him from existence and ending his reign of terror just before Stan's memories are completely wiped out. In an ironic twist, Bill ended up the one who was deceived.

Right after, everyone that Bill transformed into tapestries are free as Weirdmageddon immediately soon winds to an end when both the Henchmaniacs and the chaos are forcibly sucked back into the Nightmare Realm, from where they had came. The entire valley and town of Gravity Falls is then restored as everything returns back to the way it was before the whole tragedy even began. Shortly after, the only thing left of the event was Bill's petrified body that was seen lying isolated somewhere deep within the woods and is now one with nature itself. Whether Bill's petrified body was left there forever to be claimed by the weeds of the forest or was recovered by someone is beyond anyone's speculation.

Following his demise, Ford and the Twins soon find Stan out in the open, but sadly, he has no idea who they are, Ford then explains to them that Stan bravely sacrifice himself to defeat Bill, in order to save them and everyone else. However with the help from both Dipper and Mabel Pines, they were able to restore their loving uncle as he slowly remembers more and more about himself and his family. Sometime after the event, things have fully returned to normal in Gravity Falls, Oregon. Stan had already recovered from his amnesia and the Pines family were declared heroes.
